The current epidemic of influenza in Britain has hurt the Government, for it is widely attributed to the lack of meat. The Government has offered many excuses, and has pooh-poohed the notion that lack of meat harms the national health. Nevertheless, Britain is suffering worse from the 'flu than the rest of Europe, and the British meat ration is only 12 grams a day; authorities on nutrition on this continent regard 70 grams of meat a day as the proper amount for good health. We do not pretend to offer an opininon on this dispute. It does not really matter whether the British get enough meat or not under present conditions; if they believe that they are being starved into ill-health, they will certainly revenge themselves upon the people who do their marketing for them — their Government.

* * *

It may be said with much justice that no other Government could have done better under the circumstances. That, again, does not matter in a time of political crisis. The present discontent of the British people came about under the Labour Government, and if they are sufficiently aroused, it is against the Labour Government that they will revenge themselves. The Labour Government has taken very wide powers, and it has not been able to lighten the burden of the British people; there is strong suspicion that some of those powers are not being intelligently used, and that is a grievance to many Socialists, as well as to Tories of the deepest blue. The approaching Spring may bring the gravest crisis the Attlee Ministry has yet faced and it will not be brought about by greater matters of foreign policy, but by millions of poorly-filled dinner plates.

Peterborough Not On The List

It looks to us as though an influenza scare was being whipped up in Canada, and we are sorry to say that some newspapers are doing a great deal to create needless public concern about it. These panicky papers have published lists of Ontario centres where influenza exists, with whatever information they can discover about the spread and vigiur of the disease in those places. We are happy that Peterborough does not appear on those lists, and we hope that it will not do so.

Let no one suppose that we do not believe that there is such a thing as influenza, or that we consider it a trifling illness. Do not imagine, either, that we think that a disease will go away if you pretend that it does not exist. But we do believe that irresponsible talk about an epidemic of influenza, and a daily harping on the number of cases to be found in Ontario, disposes many people to think that they have influenza when there is nothing wrong with them but fatigue, a hangover, or the predictable consequences of an ill-spent life.

We can all do much to stave off influenza and kindred ills by getting plenty of sleep and rest, eating sensibly, avoiding conditions which might bring about chills or colds, and generally taking reasonable care of ourselves. Whatever the physicians and psychologists may say about the matter, we are persuaded that fear of a disease helps to bring it about, and that a cheerful and relaxed attitude toward life contributes to good health. As the compiler of the Book of Proverbs said, about 350 B.C.: A merry heart doeth good like a medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the bones.

British Rations

Because there has been some discussion in our Letters to the Editor about British rations during the past fortnight, we are glad to be able to give authoritative information about them. Here is a list of the foods which are rationed in Britain, with the weekly amounts granted to each citizen, except where otherwise specified. Our informant is the United Kingdom Information Office:

BACON—4 oz. (none for vegetarians)

BANANAS—As available. (Provided only for people over 70, expectant mothers and young people under 18)

CHEESE—3 oz. (12 oz. to agricultural and certain other workers in places where there are no restaurant facilities; also vegetarians)

FATS—10 oz. (Butter 4 oz., Margarine 4 oz., Cooking fats 2 oz.) Margarine may be taken in place of all or part of the butter allowance. There is a special allowance of 14 oz. to vegetarians, consisting of 4 oz. butter, 8 oz. vegetable margarine and 2 oz. vegetable cooking fat.

MEAT—Adults 10d. (including 2d. worth of canned corned beef).
—Children under 5 years 5d. (including 1d. worth of canned corned beef).
—Expectant Mothers 1s. 3d. (including 3d. worth of canned corned beef).
—Miners working underground, 2s. 4d. (including 2d worth of canned corned beef).

EGGS—Normal allowance, 1 egg for each ration book.
—Expectant Mothers, 2 eggs.
—Babies between 6 months and 2 years 3 eggs.
The Ministry of Food has announced that eggs will be unrationed in the Spring.)

SUGAR—10 oz.

CANDY—20 oz. every 4 weeks.

TEA—2 oz. (3 oz. for people over 70.) (Children under 5 get no tea.)

The extent and sufficiency of these rations may be judged by our readers. We point out, also, that in order to get rations it is usually necessary to queue in a shop for them. This information may also give pointers to readers who send food parcels to friends in Britain.

A Glimpse Of The Obvious

Within the past week we have read three articles appearing in contemporary newspapers and magazines which offer the opinion that children become delinquents when they are unloved; children from homes where affection is freely offered do not become delinquents, the writers agreed. Now it appears to us that this point of view needs some examination; we do not believe that children who are loved never go wrong. But we are ready to admit that they are less likely to do so than unloved children. But why treat this as a new discovery? It appears to us to be a glimpse of the obvious.

Of course children need love. Without it their world has no foundation and no meaning. But why confine this assertion to children? Everybody needs love. It may come in a family relationship, or in marriage, or in a circle of friends, but everybody seeks it, and people who are happy are usually people who have found it. Without affection the heart starves; it must receive it, and also—this is very important—it must also give it.

Children who are not loved may go wrong. And love does not mean simply care, or supervision; to "do one's duty" by a child in matters of physical well-being is not enough; it must have affection, as well. And that affection must be freely offered; too many parents refrain from showing affection toward a child in ways which the child can fully understand.

Adults who are not loved may go wrong, as well. It has been wisely said that far too many women in Canada are secretly in love with their husbands; it might be said with equal justice that many men conceal their affection from their wives. Many marriages go on the rocks because the parties concerned have forgotten that affection must be nurtured if it is to be kept alive, and that dullness, indifference and downright stupidity in the marriage relationship will kill it as surely as adultery.

We cannot understand why people interested in the welfare of children insist upon their need for affection as though it were something new. The need for affection is universal, and although people who have it may go to the bad, they have at least one strong influence in their lives which works against such a fate.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Toronto crime report says that a purse was snatched by a youth with long hair hanging over his face. Probably he wanted a dollar to get a haircut.

Promoting National Smile Week an American committee lists as worthy of imitation the smiles of President Truman, Vice-President Barkley, General Eisenhower, General MacArthur, Winston Churchill, Joe E. Brown, Ginger Rogers and Mona Lisa. Oh, come!—Why omit the Who-wants-a-nice-raw-carrot smile of Sir Stafford Cripps, and the rogue-pogue twinkle of Joe Stalin?

Debate On Troops To Europe

by SEBASTIAN HAFFNER

THE great American debate about the "troops to Europe" issue, which had seemed at an end after General Eisenhower's report, has suddenly revived with Senator Taft's speech of Feb. 9, and will reach its climax with the public hearings of almost all major national military and political figures before the joint Foreign Affairs and Military Services Committees of the Senate this week and next.

To understand that debate, it is first of all important to know quite clearly what it is not about. The following measures are all bi-partisan and non-controversial.

1. Rearmament. There is no opposition at all to President Truman's defence budget of 50 billion dollars this year, and 140 billion dollars in the three years from July 1950 to June 1953. The whole country stands solidly behind the policy of industrial remobilization and rearmament.

2. Conscription. There is no opposition to the principle of conscription and the term of two and a quarter years military service. The only question under debate is whether universal military service should start at 18 years, as asked by the Administration, or at 18½ or 19 years. This is a separate and relatively minor issue.

3. Military aid to America's Atlantic allies. There is no opposition to this in principle, and so far no objections have been raised against the proposed figure of ten billion dollars for the purpose in the coming budget year. (This is three times the current amount of Marshall Aid, double the amount of Marsh Aid in its first year.) Detailed objections may still be raised when matters come to the appropriation stage, but the question as such plays no part in the present debate.

4. America's obligations under the Atlantic Treaty. There is no doubt at all that America will go to war "within the hour" if any one of the twelve Atlantic Treaty nations should be attacked in Europe. Nor is there the slightest inclination in any responsible political quarter—Government or Opposition—to weaken in this policy on account of American-European disagreements about China policy. The two issues are kept rigorously separate.

5. Finally, it can be regarded as common ground between Government and Opposition that "some" American troops should be stationed in Europe.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE issue under debate is whether the Administration should have full powers to station as many American troops in Europe (or elsewhere) as it thinks fit at any particular moment, or whether the sending of additional American troops overseas in peacetime should be controlled by Congress and, in the particular case of General Eisenhower's command in Europe, limited to fixed proportions of American to European troops (one American to six or nine European divisions) and/or to fixed proportions of the American army (20 per cent.).

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS issue is of extreme, although perhaps temporary, importance to the security of Western Europe in the near future. It is generally agreed that the most critical period in Western Europe will be the next 18 months. During that time every extra division of whatever nationality that can be stationed in Europe may make the difference between peace and war, and, in case there should be war, between successful defence or loss of the continent.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Administration is keeping mum about its military plans. But it is generally believed that during these 18 months it intends to send American divisions to Europe as soon as they are ready. The numbers most frequently mentioned in private conversation are four in 1951 and four in the first half of 1952 (in addition to the two now there). This would represent a ratio of about one American to three European divisions — double what the Congressional opposition would at most agree to. If there is no war in the next 18 months, the proportion of American to European troops may well drop later on, and the question become academic. But in the next 18 months it is of vital importance.

THE strength of the Opposition's case should not be underrated. Senator Taft's speech of last Thursday was a masterly performance. The Senator avoided all the isolationist, defeatist or anti-allied arguments which had at other times been put forward by other Republican speakers or by himself, and concentrated on three points, all of which made an undoubted impression:—

1. That the Administration, by claiming the right to send young conscript American soldiers anywhere in any numbers at any time without asking anybody's permission, was acting like a "plain dictatorship". To appreciate the strength of this point one has to put oneself in the place of American parents in the Middle West or the Far West who suddenly face the probability of seeing their 18-year-old sons not only conscripted but stationed for a year or more in strange countries 5,000 or 6,000 miles away, practically on the other side of the earth, without their having any say in the matter.

2. That the political status of General Eisenhower's command was "hazy and undefined", and that nobody could say clearly who was giving orders to General Eisenhower. Were American soldiers to be put under the indirect authority of foreign governments over whose policy America had no control?

3. That the creation of a permanent international army in Europe went far beyond the original content of the Atlantic Treaty and was a major new act of foreign policy (in Walter Lippman's words, "in substance, even if not in the form, a treaty"), which should constitutionally be submitted to the Senate.

✧ ✧ ✧

AGAINST this attack, the Administration is in the curious position of not being able to appeal to the country in the big and open way in which it launched, for example, the Marshall Plan or the Atlantic Treaty, because by doing so it would give its case away. Its case is precisely that this is not a new departure in American foreign policy—that the creation of a combined force in Europe was implicit in the Atlantic Treaty, and that the President's right to assign American troops to it is implicit in his powers as Commander-in-Chief.

LEGALLY and constitutionally, this is probably quite correct. Politically, it is a somewhat invidious position, which puts the Administration under a moral handicap. It looks like taking shelter behind legal niceties to avoid taking the case to the people. But this weakness is counter-balanced by two factors which work strongly for the Administration.

One is that the unanimous opinion of all the eminent and trusted service figures in the country backs the strategic reasoning behind the Administration's policy. This is likely to come out strongly in the Senate hearings this week. And it is generally accepted that Congress is not really fitted to override the Pentagon (U.S. Defence Headquarters) and the General Staff on military questions and to make strategic decisions itself—as it would practically have to do under Senator Taft's programme.

SECONDLY, by his move of last Thursday, Senator Taft has sharply split his own party. Governor Dewey — still the formal head of the party—came out flatly against him over the week-end and his authority will certainly influence the vote of a number of Republican Senators. Many observers here feel that Senator Taft's speech was as important in its internal political aspects as in its international ones—that it was, in fact, the first shot in the campaign for the Republican nomination for next year's Presidential contest.

It is well-known that several Republicans, headed by Governor Dewey, want to "draft" General Eisenhower as Republican candidate next year, and it is believed that General Eisenhower may this time be ready to accept the candidature which he refused in 1948. If he succeeds in his task of making the Atlantic community militarily secure in the next 18 months, he would be a very strong candidate indeed. It is, however, equally well-known that Senator Taft is also strongly in the running for the Republican candidature. Being the more experienced politician and the safer party man, he would probably be preferred by a good many Republican party organizers to General Eisenhower.

THIS puts him in a position of almost personal rivalry to Eisenhower and imparts a "Taft versus Eisenhower" aspect to the whole controversy, which was very noticeable in the overtones of the Senator's speech last week. It is not an aspect which helps Senator Taft, for there is no doubt that in terms of personalities, the broad and warm humanity of the General, added to his prestige as a victorious war-leader, carries far more weight with the country than the intelligence of the prim Senator.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALTOGETHER, the expectation is that the Administration will be in the end win its case—"in the end", meaning about four to six weeks from now. Nor will these four to six weeks mean a great loss of time in practical terms. Small-scale American reinforcements, in the form of additional tank and anti-aircraft battalions, are already arriving in Europe all the time. Whole new divisions would at the moment not be ready to go anyhow.

Letters To The Editor

AGREES ON HOPE REPORT

Sir: Your editorial in Wednesday's edition regarding the government of this province and the Hope report on education should draw the commendation of all your readers. You stated very tersely the real difficulty in the way of progressive action in the field of education in this province—that is, intelligent and serious consideration on the part of our political leaders. I am quickly forced to the conclusion that the level of intelligence among the Hope Commissioners is far higher than the level of intelligence displayed on the floor of the Legislative Assembly. Though we have been unable as yet to read the Report this conclusion predisposes us in its favour. Is there something about a political career that distorts a man's sense of real values?

(REV.) E. S. LINSTEAD.

JUSTICE AND MERCY FOR ANIMALS

Sir: A recent editorial says in part: 'Fox hunting is not, in effect, any more cruel than any other form of hunting".

A form of hunting in which an animal is chased for hours until it is exhausted and can be torn to pieces by dogs, is certainly more cruel than a hunt in which an animal is shot after, at the most, a reasonably short pursuit.

Actually, of course, it is difficult to understand how civilized man can find pleasure in killing.

Animals and birds must, in certain circumstances, be killed. So must surgeons perform amputations. But did you ever hear of a surgeon who spent his vacation cutting off legs, whether necessary or not, solely because he enjoyed doing it? Of course not.

Yet we deliberately conserve animals and birds—even raise them especially—so that we can have the pleasure of killing them.

Man is the most deliberately destructive force in the world. He has finally "advanced" to the stage where he may destroy even himself.

Isn't it time we admitted there's something wrong somewhere? We might try making a genuine effort to become truly civilized. Even one nation honestly dedicated to the attainment of justice and mercy for all creatures could, I am convinced, regenerate our small world. The force of its example would encourage and inspire confused and anxious peoples everywhere.

Yours very truly,
A. F. DAVIES.

EXHIBITION GROUNDS A NUISANCE

Sir: Now that the Council has given away Nicholls Hospital, surely they have time to turn their attention to some thing else.

As long as they can exappropriate any thing they like why not take the Exhibition Park? Use the east side for Community Centre and the west side for the new Collegiate School.

The Exhibition grounds were all right where they are 50 years ago but we have grown some in that time. The place is certainly an eye sore and a disgrace to the city as it is now. A high board fence and have to go blocks out of your way to get any place in the heart of the city.

I remain, Sincerely,
MARJORY REID.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts. His ways are always grievous; thy judgements are far above out of his sight. (Ps. 10; 4, 5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. (Rom. 8: 5-7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom. But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish. For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. (James 3: 13-17.)

Taxing Chinese Farmers From 10%-80% Of Crops

By STANLEY JOHNSON.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP).—Communist China got 41.4 per cent of its 1950 revenue in the form of farm products taken from the peasants, a UN survey showed Monday. The rest came from taxes on private business and profits from nationalized industries.

The Red regime spent 38.8 per cent of its income for military expenditures.

The survey, first comprehensive report of Chinese conditions published in the west since the Communists took over, said a new tax law came into effect last summer under which the government takes 10 per cent of a poor peasant's crop, 15 per cent from middle peasants, 25 per cent from rich peasants, 50 per cent from landlords, and 80 per cent of the crop of "very rich" peasants harvesting 6,000 bushels of grain or more.

The UN said its figures came from official reports of the central people's government of the People's Republic of China, published in Communist Chinese newspapers.

Inflation Licked

It said the "hyper-inflation" which confronted the Communists when they came into power early in 1949 was licked by March 1950. It gave the credit to Peipings budget policy. This made tax collections more efficient, increased tax rates, collected profits from nationalized industry, instituted drastic government economies and forced savings.

Beginning in March, 1950, the government was able to begin fundamental institutional changes in the framework of the Chinese economy.

The report listed these as:

1. Government control, planning and co-ordination of public utilities, heavy industry and some finishing processes. Other than this, no direct controls have been placed on private industry except that individual capital is restricted to consumer-goods industries.
2. Centralized distribution through government trading companies. Their main function was listed as: (a) Bulk purchase from producers; (b) Exchange of goods between farm and city and regulation of the relationship between agricultural and industrial products; (c) Regulation of supplies throughout China to prevent local shortages; (d) operation of government retail stores; (e) Control of imports and exports.
3. Agrarian reform. The report says this ranges from rent reduction in the south and southwest through land redistribution in central China to collective farms in the north. The north is where the Communists have been in control longest.

The UN survey said the trend was to the extension of co-operatives based on continuation of private ownership rather than to government - owned collective farms.

Richmond Loses Court Appeal

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP)—The Ontario Court of Appeal Monday dismissed the appeal of William J. Richmond, of Bexley township, east of Lake Simcoe, against a conviction on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Richmond was sentenced to two months by a Lindsay magistrate last October, the term being increased to three months when Richmond appealed in Victoria County Court.

Monday the court cut the sentence to two months.

Evidence showed that Richmond and his wife had purchased $704 worth of liquor—116 bottles of whisy and 99 two-dozen bottle cases of beer—in the three months preceding a police raid. Police found eight automobiles parked outside the Richmond home an d21 persons inside, most of them drinking.

Richmond maintained he and his wife had drunk all of the liquor they purchased except some they gave to visiting friends.

Eighth Of Pupils And Workers Down With Flu

By The Canadian Press

Influenza—haphazard in its spread across Canada—appeared to be waning in most sections of the country today.

Ontario was the latest and hardest hit of the 10 provinces but even there the epidemic was believed to have reached its peak. One in eight workers and pupils were reported stricken with the disease.

Possibility of renewed outbreak was suggested by Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health in Edmonton, who said the present mild spell might tend to increase the chance of catching the disease.

The mild weather is general over most of Canada and is expected to continue for several days at least.

The type of flu has been identified as "Prime A," which caused thousands of deaths in the United Kingdom and other European countries in recent months.

Montreal Worst

It has taken its greatest toll in Montreal where 127 persons are reported to have succumbed to the disease since Christmas. However, in almost all cases the deaths have been confined to older persons or young children.

Most people stricken with the flu tend to become quite sick for a few days but usually have the strength to overcome the effects of the illness.

No country-wide estimate of the number of cases has been made, chiefly because an undetermined number of persons never report their illness.

Individual reports, however, indicate that the number of victims in Canada must be in the hundreds of thousands.

Toronto, for instance, had 140,000 cases at latest reports. The figure of one in eight for the province's school and working population would mean something like 500,000.

20,000 Ill

In the area around Kelowna, B.C., 20,000 persons are reported ill with flu. In Manitoba nine deaths have thus far been attributed to the disease and there have been another 12 in Ontario.

In Sydney Mines, N.S., more than 900 pupils have been absent from classes and as a result the schools have been ordered closed. Saint John, N.B., reported 1,500 students away. Two hospitals in St. John's, Nfld., have been closed to visitors and one school there has closed four of its classrooms.

The epidemic is reported easing off in many centres, including Montreal.

But in such Ontario centres as London and Windsor it is still spreading.

Not Involved

TOKYO, Feb. 20 (AP) — Informed sources said today an investigation requested by the British government has disclosed that no British warships or troops were involved in an allied amphibious operation Feb. 14 on the Korean east coast north of the 38th parallel. The sources said the investigation of the land—on two islands opposite the port of Wonsan by South Korean marines—was carried out in anticipation that questions on the action would be asked in the British House of Commons.

Get 10-Cent Raise

GUELPH, Feb. 20 (CP) — Unionized city workers Monday night were given a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase, pensions similar to those of police and firemen, and three-week vacations after 25 years' service, in recommendations approved by city council.

ON THE WAY TO PARIS—Gen. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower on board the SS Queen Elizabeth is today bound for Paris, where the general assumes command of the 12-nation Atlantic Pact army.

Urges Provinces Name Senators

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP)—A 73-year-old British Columbia Senator suggested Monday night Canada's provinces should be given the right to choose one-third of the Senate membership on short-term appointments to broaden political thought in the Upper Chamber.

Senator J. W. de B. Farris, one-time attorney-general of British Columbia and still a practising lawyer, made his suggestion at the close of a two-hour speech on Senate reform.

Senator Farris said if the present system of government appointment of Senators for life was continued, it might well be that re-election for the Liberal government would mean an all-Liberal Senate. The standing now is 80 Liberals; 11 Progressive Conservatives, 11 vacancies.

Appointments by the provinces, Senator Farris said, would bring in representation of such parties as the CCF in Saskatchewan and the Social Crediters in Alberta. He suggested this would be a good thing.

He was against formation of a Senate committee to study reform, however, because every "demagogue in Canada" would want to come to testify.

Student Drinking To Be Investigated

TIMMINS, Feb. 20 — (CP) — Mayor Philip Fay said Monday night he will confer with members of the High School Board about a students' drinking party which has resulted in suspension of five players from the senior basketball team.

The drinking was said to have taken place aboard a bus carrying the senior and junior basketball teams back from games at Kirkland Lake. Two teachers accompanied the group.

He said he would ask the town police department to determine how the students got the liquor.

It is announced by Wood, Gundy & Company Limited that Mr. F. B. Jacob of their Toronto staff will represent their firm in the Counties of Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Haliburton, Peterborough, Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington. Mr. Jacob brings to his new position with Wood, Gundy & Company Limited 10 years' experience in the Head Office of that company, during which time he was closely associated with the underwriting of municipal securities.

Employees Return Without Pay Increase

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 — (CP) — Winnipeg employees of General Steel Wares Ltd. returned to work Monday without the wage increase for which they struck last week.

Labor Minister C. E. Greenlay said Saturday that the 11-cent-an-hour pay increase given the company's employees in four Eastern Canada plants does not apply to Winnipeg employees because they work under a separate agreemnt.

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 20 (Reuters)—Roman Catholics in the Soviet Baltic Republics—Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia—must get "entrance tickets" from the police before they may visit their church, reports reaching Vatican radio said today.

Hospital Fire

APSLEY, Feb. 20 (ENS). — Fire of unknown origin slightly damaged furniture in the nurses' sitting room at the Red Cross outpost hospital at Apsley Saturday afternoon. Nurses extinguished the fire with water and wet towels before the fire department arrived.

Tenants Meeting To Protest Ultimatum

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 20 (CP) — Tenants of houses owned by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation have called a meeting Thursday to protest against "buy or else!" ultimatums said to be contained in a circular letter mailed to tenants by the federal agency.

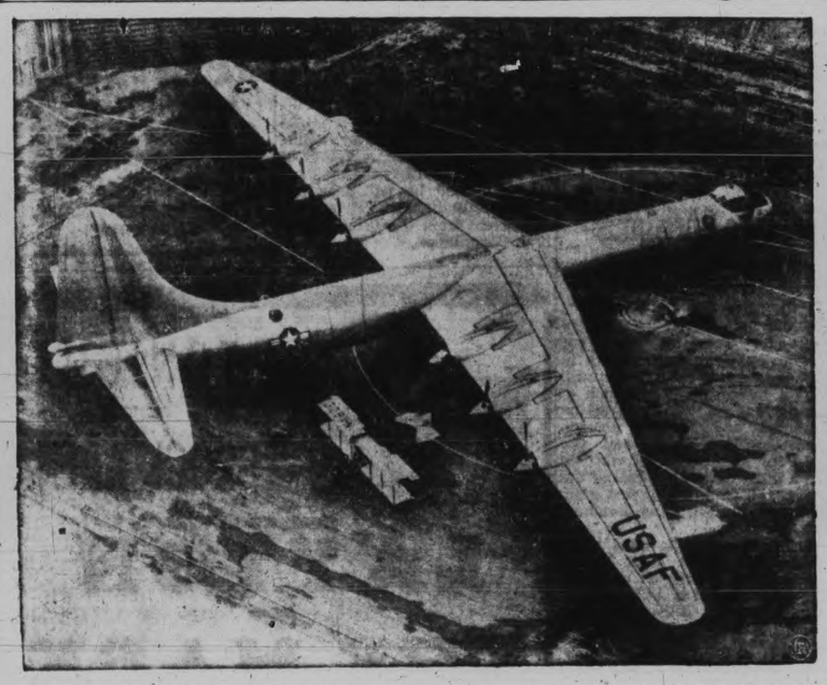
The letters were criticized at city council Monday night by Ald. George R. Inglis and others. Mayor Ernest Hawkins said that the ultimatum meant that tenants, most of them war veterans, must either buy their homes or move out, thereby sacrificing any improvements they may have made to their dwellings.

Winter temperatures in Labrador are no more severe than in Western Quebec.

THIS IS

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

PUBLIC MEETING — COLLEGIATE AUDITORIUM



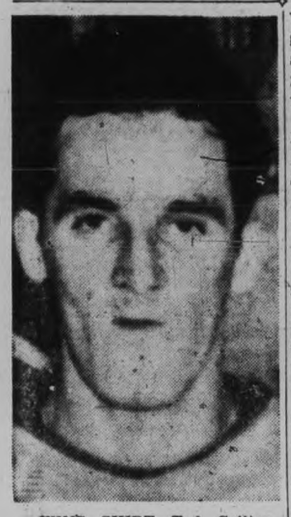
Thursday, Feb. 22 8.30 p.m.

SPEAKER:

THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE J. KEILLER McKAY

Supreme Court of Ontario

ENTERTAINMENT



THE "'BIG PUSHER" AND ITS GRANDDAD—Two pusher-type airplanes got together at San Diego, Calif., to give up this graphic picture of 40 years of progress in aviation. The Consolidated B-36D bomber—the big punch of the Strategic Air Force—has six pusher-type and four jet engines, for a total of 42,000 horsepower. The 1912 Curtiss-type biplane has an 80-horsepower engine.

Petes Smear Gans, 20 To 1 To Almost Clinch Top Spot

Smearing Gananoque 20 to 1 here last night, the Petes just about clinched top spot in their OHA senior "B" race, needing but one more point to make it a certainty. A small crowd saw the one-sided tilt as the Jopling bunch gained ample revenge for a loss last week in Gananoque, humbling the visitors in every frame. It was 4-1 in the first and 9-1 going into the third-period slaughter-house, an 11-0 affair. The Petes drew the only two penalties of the clean tussle.

WINS SHIRT—Ted Collins, hard-working forward for the Petes, won the shirt last night for his efforts here as the homesters humbled Gananoque 20-1 in their last meeting of the puck season.

The Gans were outskated, outplayed and just plain "out" all the way, as the Petes made them look like a bunch of jittery juveniles. They tried hard and were minus several players—the Petes were without Jake Wade—and their goalie knocked out a flock, but the homesters had far too much. It was good senior "B" hockey against indifferent intermediate play. The Gans probably were below par, too, from the long trip just as the Petes were last Friday down there.

Outplayed Them

For a space in the first frame it looked like the visitors would make a game of it as half the period had passed before the Petes got a goal. But they clearly outplayed the Gans in this heat and started to make a runaway of it in the middle stanza. The third was just a case of boom-boom-boom. The Petes passed well as the scoring summary shows in the assists, they shot hard and checked well, with big Jack Davison tossing the body early and often to show up the opposition. The game was well handled, too.

Freddy Garvey led the victors at bat with three goals and four assists for seven points. Gus Leonard and Chum Fryia were right behind with six each, while Don Floyd looked smart in a five-point effort. Junior West, Ted Collins and Jack Mortimer were other stars on the attack with four points apiece, Arn Dugan having two, as one each went to Honey Tompkins, Ron Horton, and Earl Leonard. For the Gans Godwin got the lone marker, aided by Hastie. Teams:

Gananoque — Goal, Parrish; defence, McCarney and Woodman; centre, Tindal; wings, Steele and Jackson; alternates, Hastie, Brown, Fair, and Godwin.

Trent League Starts Playoffs

TRENTON, Feb. 20—At a meeting of the league executive and team managers of the Trent Valley Hockey League held at Batawa it was decided to start the playoffs this week.

The northern division has completed its schedule and the first-place Peterborough Brintons will clash with the third-place Stirling Chevies in a two-out-of-three series. Marmora and Norwood finished in a fourth-place tie and will play a two-game total-goals series to decide which team will meet Campbellford in the other semi-final bracket.

Th semi-final winners will clash in a three-out-of-five series to decide the northern division crown.

The southern division has postponed games to clear away before the playoffs commence Friday. Trenton Taximen, Belleville Merchants, Frankford-Bata Combines and RCAF Trenton Flyers are assured of making the playoffs but the postponed games will have an effect on the final standing.

The first and third-place teams will clash in a two-out-of-three series, as will the second and fourth-place teams. The winners will clash in a three-out-of-five series to decide the southern division championship.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Ere discussing the more seasonable subject of hockey, here's a ball item from the Oshawa sheet: "The Oshawa Merchants are advertising in the St. Louis Sporting News again this year. Last year they must have obtained good results from their ad, and so are trying the idea again. The one this season asks for a playing manager with Class 'B' experience or better." Which indicates that amateur senior ball up this way must be on a par with minor pro baseball below the border. It also hints that playing manager Sherry Rowland—the big firstbaseman—may not be back with the Merchants this season.

OMHA playdowns commence here Thursday night in bantam, midget and juvenile against Oshawa teams. Johnny Godfrey is coaching the local juvenile IOOF-ers, with Junior West assisting him, and Jim Foskett the manager. Players on the team from the Clapper crew are Laverne Jones, Ken Pammett, Leo Sullivan, C. Ferguson, John Cupoli and I. Killen; Trojan representatives include: Paul Doris, Carl Brioux and Ron Dunn; with IOOF puckists being: Morris Bryan, Garv White, Marv Buchan, Mike Gooley, Arch West, Jack Kimble, Jack Church, Ab Caravaggie and Spin Hope. Return tilts in Oshawa on Saturday morn.

It's Petes Vs. Eagles

Next big senior "B" puck clash here is tomorrow eve when Petes play Eagles. That'll pack 'em in. The clubs are fighting it out fiercely now for the top two places in order to make that playoff series for Allan Cup contention, starting Feb. 28. It's a "must" for Eagles who are being crowded hard by the third-place Nylons, so they'll give the loop-leaders a terrific battle. You can't afford to pass this one up, folks—and it possibly could be the last time this year these classy outfits will meet. Though we hate that horrible thought, as they always serve up a close, sizzling struggle when facing each other. It's their last meeting of the schedule.

* * * * * *

Looking over the scoring record, we see where Arn Dugan of Petes and Bill Crowley of Eagles are tied for top honors with 61 points apiece, but Dugan has played in 31 games and Crowley in just 27. Other high scorers for Eagles are Joe Rochetta with 57, Andy Milne 53 and Bert Hill 41. Other high snipers for Petes are Jake Wade and Junior West with 45 points apiece, Fred Garvey with 44 and Chum Fryia, who has 43. After the long schedule winds up next Monday here, we'll run the complete lists of both local senior "B" squads in scoring. The above figures do not include last night's game as this para was written ere the tussle.

Petes Gain Vengeance

Gananoque players and fans felt pretty cocky last Friday at home as they blanked the Petes, but the latter certainly rubbed it into the Gans with a vengeance here last eve. Just a 20-1 drubbing! This time it was the visitors who were short-handed and mighty tired after the long trip—and this time it was the Petes who played hot hockey. They really fattened up the scoring averages and just about put the clamp on first place in the senior "B" race for sure. A clean tilt, well-handled, but much too one-sided to be exciting—and that's why more than 1800 fans stayed away. From now on (the saints be praised) we should see some interesting senior "B" hockey up this way after a near famine for weeks.

Recreation Director Alex Sinclair advises us that none of the local amateur boxers will take part in Oshawa bouts this week. "They're not in top shape yet," he said, "and we won't let any boy box who isn't in perfect condition." The club has a lot of boys interested, training at the Ashburnham Hall, with up-to-date equipment, but twice now they've lost good instructors to government service, Ron Menzies and Louie Carveth. So they need another capable instructor in the manly art ere they can take part in inter-city bouts. There must be such instructors available here. If interested, contact Alex Sinclair.

Scott's Corners Jrs. Win 7-1 From Cavan

SPRINGVILLE, Feb. 20. (ENS)—Scotts Corners junior and senior hockey teams won and tied Friday night against Cavan juniors and seniors. The juniors won 7-1 and the seniors tied Cavan seniors 2-2.

For the juniors, Stevens scored three, Waite two, Minnie and Hall, one each. Scriver scored the single for Cavan.

D. West On Top Of IOOF With 38 Points

Dean West edged Bob Wyatt for individual scoring honors in the junior "B" hockey race just finished.

Final statistics give West 38 points in 24 games, four in the final game the only one Wyatt missed, due to a shoulder injury. The smooth centre star scored 21 goals and served but 10 minutes in penalties.

Brian Robinson, Ray Douglas, Ab Buckton and Dean Wasson were the others who took part in all 24 games. Bill Stewart and Kenny Floyd were sinless over the route, the former having no penalties in 22 games and the latter none in 17.

West, Wyatt and Morrow lead the league with a combined total of 101 points, 47 goals and 54 assists. Dean Wasson, hard-hitting defenceman, leads the league penalty parade with 98 minutes. Complete league statistics will be released later.

Flick Leading In OHA Majors

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP). — Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen are still in the cellar spot of the Ontario Hockey Association major series but that's not bothering their star forward, Billy Flick.

Flick increased his league scoring lead last week and now is five points ahead of teammate Mickey Roth.

A record of 23 goals and 30 assists makes up Flick's total of 53 points. Roth has 20 goals and 28 assists while Johnny Conick of Hamilton Tigers is in third place with 16 goals and 28 assists for 44 points.

The two top teams in the major series—Toronto Marlboros and Toronto St. Michael's—have only two players each in the top 10 scorers. Reason is that they play fewer games, doubling up on all inter-team meetings, to make them four-point affairs.

Defensive Records

However, the league-leading St. Michael's are represented in defensive records with Phil Hughes continuing to lead with a record of 3.17 goals against him a game. Ed Rafferty of Marlboros is next with 3.41.

In the OHA Junior A race, the scoring leader still is Lou Jankowski of the sixth-place Oshawa Generals. He has 50 goals and 48 assists for 98 points, two head of Ken Laufman of fourth-place Guelph Biltmores.

Glen Hall of Windsor Spitfires, tied with Barrie Flyers for first place, is top man in the goaltending department with a goals-against average of 3.0. Don Lockhart of the Junior Marlboros, who led the goals-against department a week ago, now is in second place with an average of 3.03 goals against him a game.

Central Squad Ousts Queen Mary Team

Central defeated Queen Mary 6-3 yesterday at the arena after a four-way tie in fourth place in the intermediate section of the Public School Hockey League. Confederation finished first with 11 points on five wins and a tie, King George having four and two ties for 10 points. King Edward are third with five points, while Central, Queen Alex, Queen Mary and Prince of Wales have four points apiece. So, Prince of Wales meets Queen Alex in another sudden-death game, winner of that to play Central in a sudden-death tilt to determine which team goes into the semi-final playoffs.

For Central, Dinsdale had three goals and an assist, as Naish, Armstrong and McInroy each counted a goal and an assist, Lloyd also aiding on one. Haig tallied two for Queen Mary, and Atkinson got the other as their side bowed out. Teams:

Central: Tetlock, Naish, Armstrong, Kelly, Baker, D. Lustic, Dinsdale, Lloyd, McInroy, Sorrie, Pollock, J. Lustic, Menzies.

Queen Mary Welsh, Atkinson, Haig, Lincoln, Brown, Dafoe, Dobbin, Dunn, Mann, Brisbois, Staves, Jobbitt, Harris.

Referee, J. Barnard.

Senior "B" Standing

With each team having 36 OHA senior "B" scheduled games to play—one of Nylons-Queen's remaining tilts being a four-pointer—the present standing is:

	P.	W.	L.	T.	Pts
Petes	32	22	9	1	45
Eagles	32	19	17	2	40
Nylons	31	19	11	1	39
Belleville	31	12	19	0	24
Queen's	29	5	24	0	10

CURLING NOTES

By HERB MARTIN

We were asked had our club ever been represented at the Ottawa bonspiel before? Off-hand we would say no. This rink of Dr. C. Clark's is playing there this week—he has with him Dr. M. McCartney, A. Jones and A. W. Smith.

A number of men's rinks from Orillia are coming down on Friday night for a friendly game.

The first round of the annual Sturgeon Trophy—mixed rinks—will be held on Saturday evening March 3. Only one lady skip or vice with one lady second or lead will be allowed on each rink.

And curlers, when you are curling, remember this is Brotherhood Week.

Caccavella Hits 793 For Leading Triple

Tic Caccavella led in threesomes this week in the City Bowling League with a 793 roll as Godfrey LaPlante was tops in singles with 325. He was followed by Frank McCormack with 322, Mel Akers 305 and Vern Ferguson 303. Other good triples were: Frank McCormack 779, George Walton 777, Jack Wade 775, Jim Conlin 770, G. LaPlante 756, Fred Martin 737, Gene Reynolds 734, Doug Abraham 726, Stan Murdufi 719, Roy Suddards 717, Vern Ferguson 717, Dootch Vitarelli 708, Mel Akers 704, and Jack Playford 703.

McGillis led in team scores with 3,481 as Esquires hit high singles of 1,354. Cavanagh's pulled to within two points of top place, held by Shockey's — last year's champions — by blanking Swartz, as Esquires pulled an upset in whitewashing Bond's. The others were 4-2 wins for Moore's, Fashion-Craft, Shockey's and Sunocos over Campbell & Best, Dunn's, McGillis and Clapper's in that order.

UTS Firsts Drub Lakefield Team 8-1

TORONTO, Feb. 20—University of Toronto Schools Firsts drubbed Lakefield Preparatory School, 8-1, in an exhibition hockey game at Varsity Arena Monday.

Centre star Don Cossar led the inners with a sensational four-goal display. He was also credited with an assist. Teammate Ross Holden counted two while Tom Riley and Joe Walker netted one each.

The victory was sweet revenge for the local pucksters, who dropped a 4-1 decision to Lakefield on the latter school's home ice two weeks ago. That game was one of the two which UTS has lost this year.

Just Like Christmas For Argonaut Team

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP) — It was just like Christmas Monday night for Toronto's Big Four Argonauts, Grey Cup victors in 1950 and team of the half-century.

At a memorial dinner each of the players got three crests—the dominion and Eastern Canada championship badges, and the Big Four emblem—wrist watches and a large framed portrait of the mud-caked team taken just after beating Winnipeg Blue Bombers last November.

Argos also got the good news that Coach Frank Clair would sign a new three-year contract this week and that U.S. imports Ulysses Curtis, Billy Bass and Marvin Whaley had been signed for 1951.

Among the 400 guests attending was Mayor Don McKay of Calgary.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the sponsoring International Boxing Club said he will seek approval of the fight as a championship event from the Illinois Athletic Commission.

Demaret Fights $500 PGA Fine

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 20 (AP) —The newest and probably the most serious controversy in professional golf reached its showdown today.

Jimmie Demaret, the colorful Texan who is doing all the talking, champed over a fine of $500 levied by the PGA tournament committee, because he and eight other American golfers went to Mexico and played in the Mexican national open. It was in defiance of a PGA order.

Vic Ghezzi was fined $350 but it was in absentia. He still is in Mexico to play some exhibitions. Three other golfers who accompanied Demaret here by plane to see about playing in the Houston open starting Thursday—Morris Williams, Jr., Slan Dudas and Ansel Snow—were fined $200.

Four others—Al Besselink, who went to Florida; George Kinsman Jr., Willie Polumbo and Nick Lazor, who are expected to arrive here today or Wednesday by automobile—also were stuck $200 apiece.

Demaret let out a loud bleat. He wouldn't even accept the notice from Howard Capps, PGA tournament supervisor, said he would sue the PGA "if I'm fined a nickel."

Rookie Celebrates Return With Goal—Gives Wings Tie

DETROIT, Feb. 20 (CP). — Marcel Pronovost, a six-foot 175-pound defenceman from Shawinigan Falls, Que., celebrated his return to the National Hockey League Monday night by scoring his first goal in big league competition.

The 20-year-old rookie who has shuttled back and forth in the Detroit Red Wings farm system, came up with a goal just 32 seconds from the end of the game to give the league-leaders a 2-2 tie with Boston Bruins before 11,241 fans.

It was the second game for Pronovost since being brought up from the minors last week. Earlier this season he went 21 games without a goal for Detroit.

The tie increased Detroit's first-place lead over Toronto Maple Leafs to five points and gave the Bruins sole possession of third place, one point ahead of New York Rangers.

After a scoreless first period, Detroit took the lead at 2:42 of the second with a goal by Jimmy Peters from George Gee. Less than four minutes later Lorne Ferguson tied it up on a passing play with Paul Ronty and Johnny Peirson. Milt Schmidt set up Woody Dumart's goal early in the third period, giving the Bruins a 2-1 lead.

Then Pronovost's goal from a pileup in front of Jack Gelineau tied it up. Gord Howe and Sid Abel got assists.

Detroit-Toronto Battling For Top Place

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (CP). — With interest split between the Detroit-Toronto battle for top National Hockey League honors and a three-way contest for third and fourth playoff spots, the results of last week's games may have set the pattern for the remaining five weeks to play.

The official statistics of the league released today showed Red Wings and Leafs far enough ahead of the pack, up to and including Feb. 18 games, that their only worry appeared to be which could finish on top.

Leafs combined two wins and a tie to climb to within four points of Wing's 78 last week. Detroit's record was made up of 34 wins (one in their game last week), 11 losses and 10 ties; Leafs' was 31, 12 and 12.

Boston, tied in third place last week with Montreal, remained there with 49 points. But New York's two wins and two losses were enough to boost Rangers into a two-way tie with Bruins.

Detroit and Boston each added a point to their standings with a 2-2 tie Monday night. That put Wings five points up on Leafs and gave Bruins sole possession of third place with 50 points.

In Fourth Place

Meanwhile, Canadiens, who lost one and tied one last week, sank to fourth place with 48 points.

Chicago still was deeply mired at the bottom with 34 points.

The individual scoring races followed the same pattern, at least in the first four places.

Detroit's Gordie Howe and Sid Abel held down first and second places again with 67 and 51 points respectively. Howe has 30 goals and 37 assists and Abel, 20 and 31.

Tod Sloan and Max Bentley of Toronto were tied in third place with 49 points apiece.

Maurice Richard, who usually accounts for a big share of Canadiens' scoring, sank down to fourth in the individual standings with 48 points. But he remained the top goal-producer with three more than Howe.

Toronto netminder Al Rollins was the only one to improve his shutout record last week, adding one to make it three in 29 games. He and Leafs' other goalie, Turk Broda, still have the best combined average, 2.04. Detroit's Terry Sawchuk remained second with a 2.11 average.

Toronto's Gus Mortson and Maple Leafs finally got together in the worst-penalty department. Mortson made his first appearance as the league's bad man with 128 minutes in the cooler while Leafs season total was 695 minutes.

Peewees At Norwood

NORWOOD, Feb. 20 (ENS). — Hawks beat Bruins 5-0 in peewee hockey play here; Smith scoring two as Burtt, Ranson and Hinds scored. An assist each went to Ranson and Smith. Leafs beat Wings 2-1 on goals by Paxton from Telford, and Rusaw, with Miles tallying for Leafs. Teams.

Black Hawks—Goal, W. Ranson; defence, Hanson, Burtt; centre, H. Scott; wings, McNeely, Johnson; alternates: Mackie, G. Millett; Ranson, Morgan, Bongard, D. Smith, Hinds.

Boston Bruins—Goal, D. Nolan; defence, Ferguson, Brown; centre, M. Millett; wings, Redden, R. Millett; alternates, Chappell, Leeper, Heffernan, Honey, R. Stewart, J. Stewart.

Leafs: Goal, K. Thompson; defence, Rusaw, Gordon; centre, Cassidy; wings, Smith, D. McManus; alternates, Hannivan, J. Anderson, R. Paxton, Shorten, Mullins, Telford.

Red Wings: Goal, H. Thompson, defence, Bedore and Miles; centre, M. Johnson; wings, R. McManus, Golloher; alternates, Terrian, Shorten, Long, B. Thompson, Scott, Fredericks and Kavanagh.

Etcher Captures Scoring Crown

LINDSAY, Feb. 20 (CP). — Fred Etcher, Oshawa Bees' lanky playmaker, won the Central Ontario OHA Junior B League scoring championship by chalking up 17 goals and 25 assists for 42 points in 24 games.

Despite injuries late in the schedule Etcher held on to edge out Darcy Campbell of Port Hope Panthers who had 15 goals and 23 assists. Peterborough's Bob Wyatt finished third one point behind Campbell while linemate Dean West copped fourth with 19 goals and 15 assists for 34 points.

The league's leading goal-getter Bud Downey of Port Hope, who fired 22 in 24 games tied for fifth with Vic Corley of the league winning Lindsay Kinsmen. Jerry Desjardines, shifty centreman of the Belleville Rockets, finished eleventh with 24 points.

Labor Force May Recruit Retired Men

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

This column Monday dealt with the proposition that, despite present high production, we are capable of much greater production if we are forced to it.

In this connection, the February issue of "Canadian Business" published by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, points up that, aside from development of technical efficiencies, there is available a far greater number of hands to go to work than is generally realized.

The publication, in effect sets it out as follows, using Bureau of Statistics figures:

The labor force has not only failed to keep pace with increases in population, but has also failed to keep pace with the growth of that sector of the population which is over 14 years of age.

The group now in the labor force includes housewives, students, retired persons and persons not able to work. It would appear that there are more of these four classes now than there were two years ago. As things tighten up, it is to be expected that considerable numbers of these will be forced or persuaded to go to work. High wages and good employment opportunities near home will persuade some women to leave their kitchens, elderly men with small pensions and savings to leave their easy chairs, and students to forsake their books for the shops.

Elderly Men

Of the classes of possible recruits mentioned in the foregoing by Canadian Business, perhaps the most interesting from a long-range point of view is the one described as "elderly men with small pensions."

So much thought has been devoted to making it possible for a man to retire at a certain age that it is sometimes overlooked that he may not wish to reire.

He may wish to have the right to do so, but, once retired, he will often be happier working.

Right now many firms are experiencing fast staff turnover in junior jobs because the youngsters they hire find more inviting opportunities elsewhere. They might get better jobs done and more stability by hiring oldsters.

Suit Over Rainmaker

SHANDAKEN, N.Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—This community has filed a $167,500 flood damage claim againts New York City charging that Dr. Wallace E. Howell, the Manhattan rainmaker, precipitated a devastating storm last Nov. 25-26, causing damage to bridges and roads. Last Friday two other upstate towns, Margaretville and Fleischmanns, filed a joint $1,000,000 claim against the city, charging it with negligence in rainmaking. The new claim was disclosed Monday.

Don't Believe Federal Aid For Education Good Thing

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP)—Members of the Commons do not agree that federal aid to education would be good for Canada.

This was made clear Monday in a four-hour debate on a private member's resolution urging the government to consider "means of expanding and equalizing educational opportunity across Canada by the granting of financial assistance to the various provinces for that purpose."

The resolution, sponsored by R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon), drew support from the majority of Liberal, Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit speakers. But it was opposed by George Murray (L—Cariboo), Jean Francois Pouliot (L—Temiscouata) and Joseph Harris (PC—Toronto Danforth).

The debate was still in progress at adjournment of the first private members' day of the session. No one spoke for the government. The bill now is considered "talked out" and goes to the bottom of the list of private members' bills. However, because the session is only in its early stages, it is likely the resolution wil reach the top again at which time debate can be resumed.

Cigarette Question

Before turning to education, members defeated by a vote of 98 to 42 a motion calling for establishment of a committee to study the whole cigarette question.

The motion, sponsored by the Rev. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William), said the committee ought to study the cigarette's "effect on moral, mental and physical health, especially teen-agers and unborn children' as well as fire hazards.

Today, members will debate a resolution to a bill that would give the government broad standby powers to impose controls should they become necessary.

In the education debate, Mr. Knight, a school teacher, said that for the third session he was calling for federal aid to education. Universities were in need of help, but assistance was needed particularly by public and high schools.

Money was needed for both teachers and facilities. It was a sad commentary on the situation that less than half enough people to meet future needs now were training as teachers.

There was only one source of real help—the government. The government should help to make the same learning facilities available from coast to coast.

Cant Afford It

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) said provinces and municipalities cannot afford the present heavy burdens of education. Federal aid could be given without trespassing on the rights of the provinces.

F. D. Shaw (SC—Red Deer), a former school teacher, said there were various ways the government could help the provinces. It could provide grants and it could set up a fund from which the provinces and municipalities could borrow at a low rate of interest. The government could remove taxes that bear heavily on school boards.

David Croll (L—Toronto Spadina) and Dr. Pierre Gauthier (L—Portneuf) said they favored federal aid providing there was no interference with provincial rights over education.

Mr. Murray said he was opposed to the resolution, but felt the government could extend some help, particularly in technical education. The government could encourage mining schools at universities to train men to find strategic minerals. Mr. Harris said he agreed with Mr. Murray.

Mr. Pouliot said that under the constitution parliament has no control over education. It would have no control over any grants made to education. He was opposed to parliament making grants over which it had no control.

Other speakers called for establishment of national scholarships for needy, worthy students and argued that the federal government could assist education since it subsidized gold mining and the coal and steel industries.

Nation's Business

Joseph Noseworthy (CCF—York South) said education has become "the nation's business. Education made for better citizens, and it was important to Canada that its youth get every possible educational advantage. Inequalities would continue as long as the Federal government stayed on the sidelines. Education would continue to be determined by the prosperity of the individual province or community.

The proddings of two clergymen-members and a bit of manoeuvring in the front benches finally forced the House into a record vote on Mr. McIvor's resolution urging establishment of a House committee "to consider the entire cigarette problem."

It is not too often that private resolutions attain the dignity of forcing a formal vote of the House, but this one did. Other topics discussed during the day included education and symbols to denote Canadian nationality.

Quotes Doctors

Mr. McIvor quoted doctors as saying smoking injures the throat, destroys the appetite, can cause gastritis and ulcers and harms growth and the heart. Smoking had caused cancer. Some people believed there was connection between an increase in smoking and increase in pulmonary cancer.

The Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC—MacLeod) reckoned he doesn't have any rigidly strict scruples on this matter. He didn't smoke himself but didn't object if others did.

All the same, he saw merit in the resolution. Cigarettes were making such inroads on social life that some sort of educational program should give people the facts if cigarettes were bad for them.

He wasn't sure they were bad but if they were some effective organization should make that known.

2½ Billion Gal. Over Auburn Dam In Day

Despite Thaw, Rains No Danger of Flooding In Kawarthas-Trent

A lot of water has gone over the dam, especially during the recent mild spell, and Monday's rainfall didn't help matters any. For instance on Sunday, when it wasn't raining but only melting, approximately 2,484,000,000 gallons of water flowed over the Auburn dam in 24 hours.

Unamazed, a Trent Canal official said that the rate of 4,600 cubic feet a second of water over the dam Sunday was not uncommon for this time of year, with all the mild breaks in the weather. They try to maintain a flow of 2,500 cubic feet per second but the weather forces them to allow a greater flow. The volume of water can be determined in two ways: first, by the number of logs in the dam and the depth of water going over; second, by the output of the power house in electricity.

The official added that Monday's rainfall of .39 inches fell on ground saturated with water and will flow off into the creeks and rivers into the lakes. Most of the extra water will be pushed straight through.

Only Slightly Higher

Despite mild spells and rainfalls the Trent official said that the water in the Kawartha lakes is only slightly higher than average.

"The lake levels are just about as they should be, according to daily checks," he assured.

At the present time there is more water going over the local dams than the power plants can use.

Between January 1 and March 15 the water depth in the lakes and the snow depth throughout the area are closely watched by the Trent Canal department. Starting in January they open the various dams gradually lowering the water in the lakes preparatory to the spring breakup which usually is around March 15. They lower the lake levels to take care of the flood peak during the spring run-off to prevent flooding.

At the same time the Canal men have to provide for the power plants along the system. They try to keep the flow even, so that the power plants are at a capacity output, without wasting any water. Sometimes during mild weather this wastage cannot be avoided.

Annual Snow Survey

At the end of February an annual snow survey will be conducted throughout the area to determine the runoff of water to expect in the lakes. This survey will decide whether more water should be drawn from the lakes. The northern staff take snow sample depths, figure the amount of water and what percentage will flow off into the lakes and rivers.

"There's never been a year yet that we've had to worry about the Kawarthas filling," the official concluded.

Scouting Insures Democracy: General Spry

Scouting is an insurance safeguarding our democratic way of life, stated Major General D. C. Spry at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club held at the Empress Hotel Monday. Major General Spry is the Chief Executive of the Boy Scout Association of Canada, which has its headquarters in Ottawa.

General Spry asserted that all the military equipment in the world would be useless in the next ten years unless enough people in our population and the other democratic countries of the world are convinced that our way of life is worth fighting for. And, more important, they must be confident of this as a result of experience.

"The training and experience in democratic administration and living, which scouting gives to youth, is a major contribution to the political stability of our country," continued the speaker. "Through the organizational setup of scouting, boys learn not only the technical aspects of democratic government, but come to apply the democratic technique in day-to-day problems."

Successful Training

Explaining some of the unique features of this boys' organization, Major General Spry stated that scouting has been able to fight a winning battle against prejudice by successfully mixing boys of different races and religions in the single unit of a troop.

Another part of scouting's contributions to society is its fight against juvenile delinquency which it has been waging in this country for 43 years.

"I have had policemen all over the country tell me that they rarely have scouts or ex-scouts on their hands for delinquency or misdemeanors," he stated.

Scouting also helps young new Canadians when they settle in this country by organizing special units for them which are provided with manuals written in their native tongue.

"The case for scouting in your community can best be presented by stating that it develops the kind of men you would like your sons to be and the kind of men you and I might have been," concluded the speaker.

Major General Spry was introduced by G. E. Groombridge, Boy Scout District Commissioner for Peterborough, and thanked by Charles Forsyth.

Gerald Grady, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the Rotarians on behalf of Brotherhood Week, now being observed in Peterborough. Special entertainment was provided by Frank Oldfield of Toronto, who sang three solos accompanied by Harry Northrop.

The following guests were introduced by Ernie Johnson: Frank Oldfield, Toronto; Dr. Max Longfield, Bethany; Dr. Bill Earl, Omemee; Russell Baer, G. E. Groombridge, P. Dominic, B. I. Burgess, J. McLeod, Dr. Perry, H. Wooden, M. Welch, Art Rose, Bill King, G. Carruthers, W. S. Shiner, E. J. MacDonald, Fred Ford.

Schoolchildren Went Along Though Council Met At Hotel

Twenty-five boys and girls of Grade 7 of King Edward School, accompanied by their teacher, Mr. James Burns, found themselves in unusual circumstances as a juvenile group of the audience at the meeting of the city council in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel Monday night.

Mr. Burns had previously arranged for his class to attend this meeting, and when the council accepted the dinner invitation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and acceded to the suggestion that the regular session of the council take place after the dinner, the school children went along for that latter event.

They also enjoyed the entertainment of the Hillbilly Jewels, a young radio group who delighted the rather strange assembly of members of the council, heads of several of the civic departments, the Jaycees and their other guests and a delegation from the Women's Civic Study Group.

Th Jewels are: Miss Vivian Brown, Joe Brown, Frank Sayburn and Randy Stewart. They are a versatile quartette of young instrumentalists and vocalists and pleasing personalities accompanying their playing of bass fiddle, violin, guitar and piano accordion, with an interesting freedom of switching from one instrument to another.

The council in the official functioning lost none of its dignity in transition from its own chamber, and proceeded about its business with an audience larger than any nominations meeting of recent years.

Gesture Of Appreciation

At the outset, Mayor Swanston said it was an innovation from custom.

"We have come here as guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in appreciation of the good work it has ben doing for the city as a whole and in getting out the vote at the municipal election time," His Worship said.

"We also recognize their assistance in the tuberculosis campaign and their contribution in the city clean up work. This is their Good Government Week, and tonight is its climax. I am glad to see the Ladies' Civic Study Group and others, especially Mr. Burns and his pupils from King Edward School. All this helps to make our citizens more civic minded."

At the close, Mayor Swanston thanked the Jaycees for their invitation, "and speaking for the members of the council I want to wish you every success in the work you are doing."

Gerald Grady, president of the Junior Chamber, was chairman of the preliminaries, finally introducing the municipal feature for a radio broadcast of part of the council's session.

All In Order

Mayor Swanston occupied a chair on the platform of the Kawartha Room, and the members sat at tables of desk size in the identical order of their places in the council chamber. They were from left to right: Aldermen T. D. Miller, John A. Dewart, P. J. Anglesey, J. E. Gillespie, Hugh F. Waddell, Norman Graham, Herbert Young, A. B. Burrows, H. T. Rehill and E. C. Braund.

In the order of business there was no deputation to be heard, and the council proceeded through the reading of communications, adoption of committee reports, reading of bylaws and finally general business.

Present with the council were City Clerk E. A. Outram, City Solicitor W. F. Huycke, K.C., City Engineer A. E. Chalmers and City Treasurer A. S. Couper.

WELCOMES NEW KC

Mr. Justice Ferguson on Monday afternoon received the letters patent, making Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw a King's Counsel. He congratulated Mr. Bradshaw on his honor, effective December 21.

Council Asked To Clear Hughes From School Site

Board of Education is becoming concerned about the continuing occupation by Thomas Hughes of the house on his property, Monaghan Road south, which the city is taking steps to expropriate for the site of a new Collegiate Institute.

Their letter to the council Monday night raised the question of when the house would become vacant.

The Board is proceeding with plans for the new Collegiate, and they are hoping to begin work early in the spring. But, Mr. Hughes is still in residence, and the Board suggests that to get rid of the house would probably take a month from the time they obtained possession.

The Board is asking the council whether they can get Mr. Hughes out of the way so they can proceed with their preparations for building.

Mayor Swanston said that after the meeting Monday night he would discuss this enquiry informally, and it was assumed that council probably would consult Mr. T. J. Carley, KC, who is being retained to represent the city in the expropriation proceedings. They were set down for Feb. 14 but had to be postponed.

ELIAS WAGAR FUNERAL

Mr. Fred Watson, an evangelist from Toronto, conducted the funeral service Monday at Belleghem funeral home for Elias Wagar, former teacher at Queen Mary school for 29 years, who died Friday. Pallbearers for the funeral were Archibald Burley, William Root, Cecil Parrington, Isaac Elliott, William Steel and Arthur Aseltine. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Year's Course To Be Given Postal Men

Postmaster-General Deputy Regards Building Essential

The new post office building to be built at Peterborough will be used as a staff college for the training of postal officers, W. J. Turnbull, deputy postmaster general of Canada, told a meeting in Montreal today of the Montreal office of the civil service commission of Canada.

In a speech prepared for delivery this afternoon, according to a Canadian Press dispatch, he said junior personnel joining the service will have to take at year's course at Peterborough, involving at least two months as a letter-carrier—one month in the winter and one in summer—a period of sorting mails and another period at the money order wicket.

The post office will have the most modern equipment, including a machine called a transorma which checks the speed of output in the sorting of mail.

Gordon K. Fraser, MP for Peterborough West, told the Examiner today by telephone from Ottawa that in view of the ban on federal building and the steel shortage, the Peterborough post office would probably not be started for some time.

"Very Essential"

Mr. Fraser said he had spoke to Mr. Turnbull, who said he had tried to get the Department of Public Works to go ahead with the building, but that he had been unsuccessful. Mr. Turnbull said the building is listed as "very essential" by the postmaster general's department, said Mr. Fraser.

"The first transforma, a mechanical letter sorter, to be set up in Canada will be installed in the new Peterborough postal-customs building," G. E. Macklem of Ottawa, district inspector of post offices, told the Examiner at the local post office today.

"There are one or two of those machines in use in London, England," Mr. Macklem said. "They are a Swiss invention, and I believe there may be one or more on the continent. I understand that, as others of these machines may be later obtained for our own Canadian post offices, members of their staffs would be sent here to learn their operation.

This is a machine of quite a size, and I know that the Peterborough plans provide for it. It is a modern facility in the sorting of mail."

The method of its operation is too intricate to try to explain in any detail.

The statement by the Deputy Postmaster, W. J. Turnbull, confirms information which was given to the Examiner months ago by Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., to the effect that the new post office in Peterborough was to include features which would make it virtually a model or proving ground for the practical work of the department elsewhere.

Testing Office

The transforma is one important mechanical development which is to be incorporated in the postal equipment here. Mr. Macklem's definite reference to it confirms the information received from Mr. Fraser that the new Peterborough office is to become a testing office for new mechanical postal facilities.

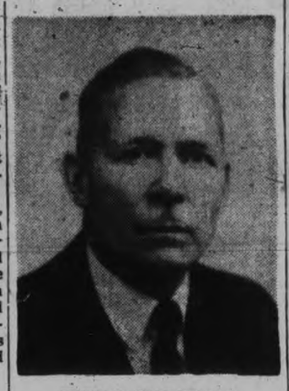
Mr. Macklem was accompanied by C. E. McClure, Ottawa, district training and welfare officer.

ADDRESSES SO-ED

Professor O. M. McConkey of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph will speak to the So-Ed members Wednesday night on "Soil Erosion Around the World in Relation to Conservation in Canada." After the interest groups Alex Sinclair, recreation director, will conduct progressive games at the YMCA.

Popular Personnel Officer Fred C. Marshall Dies Suddenly; Was Ardent Conservationist

One of the most popular employees of the Canadian General Electric Company, Frederick Charles Marshall of 285 Reid St., died suddenly at his home on Monday evening. As a member of the personnel staff with the special job of suggestions investigator for the past 14 years, "Fred" Marshall was known to at least half of the company's 4,800 employees, fellow workmen said.



He was born at Round Lake, near Havelock, 62 years ago, son of the late William Henry Marshall and Mary Jane Seeney and has lived in Peterborough since 1927. Prior to that time he was a corporal with the famous old Royal North West Mounted Police and was stationed at various times in Yorkton, Saskatoon and Canora, Saskatchewan.

Attended Coronation

He was also one of the 50 picked troopers chosen to attend the coronation ceremonies of the late King George V. A brother, William Henry Marshall of Lindsay, predeceased him in 1950.

Mr. Marshall leaves his wife, the former Marguerite E. Webster and two daughters, Miss Phyllis Marshall and Mrs. Charles Sumbler (Grace), both of Toronto. There are two sons F/O Allan Marshall, public relations officer, RCAF, at present stationed in England with the Red Indian Squadron, and Warren Marshall at home. Mrs. John Eaton (Mary) of New Hampshire and Mrs. R. Hoard (Margaret), of Peterborough, are sisters of the deceased and three brothers live in Alberta, John, Frank and Thomas, Henry in Washington, D.C., and George in Toronto.

Mr. Marshall was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, of the LOL. Duke of Manchester Lodge, and of the Peterborough Lodge of the Masonic Order. During the First World War, he served with the Alberta Dragoons and was a member of the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Legion. He was also current president of the Kawartha Conservative Association, past-president of the Peterborough Humane Society and past-president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association.

His Cedar Lake Project

One of the projects nearest to his heart, now in the embryo stage of development, was the Cedar Lakes Public Park, which his committee hope to see opened this summer. The park project was the result of "Fred's" unselfish thinking that the outdoors should be developed for public recreation rather than private enterprise. He was also an ardent hunter and fisherman.

Funeral will be held from the Comstock Funeral Home to St. John's Anglican Church for service on Wednesday at 230 p.m. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate and burial will be at Emily Cemetery.

HURRELL DODDS

Dodds Appointed Legion Secretary

Hurrell Dodds, former Alderman and recent canditdate for mayor in the past civic elections, has been appointed secretary-trasurer-manager of Branch 52, Canadian Legion. He succeeds John Rogers who resigned early last week.

A veteran of the First World War, Mr. Dodds has been a member of the Canadian Legion since 1919. For a number of years he has been chairman of the Legion hall trustees. He is also a member of the Lions club.

Mr. Dodds retired last autumn from the appraising staff of the customs house in Peterborough. He was first elected to the council six years ago, was chairman of the Board of Works for three years and was chairman of the property and parks committee in his latest period of municipal service.

As energetic chairman of the building committee of the Civic Arena he was one of the chief persons responsible for pushing the project to a successful conclusion.

High Meat Price "A Crime" Butcher Bewails

"We're selling round steak at 98 cents a pound, and it's a crime," said a meat retailer today.

"And, we're not making a penny. We should be getting around $1.10—imagine that for a round steak."

He was almost apoplectic in resentment, and he put a lot of zing into the four-letter word qualifying the kind of crime he considered that peak of pricing.

"And, it is likely to go higher. I saw a woman go out the other day with a roast of beef, maybe four pounds, and it ruined a five-dollar bill.

"It's not so long ago, say seven years, that round steak was 19 to 25 cents.

Housewives are inclined to blame the retailer for these prices.

A prominent grocer mentioned today the recent issue of coupons which were given cash value in purchases of certain goods.

"A woman would have to pay out $8 to get advantage of coupons last week amounting to $1.70," he said. "But, coffee went up 10 cents a pound last week, to $1 a lb; soap flakes at $1.06 a package are up 70 to 76 cents a case; tea is one dollar a pound.

"What I'm coming at is that prices go up, the 'cash coupons' are distributed, and you hear some women say they are waiting for more coupons—holding off buying in the expectation that there will be a further issue of them."

Move To Form Joint Board With County

Aldermen Want Body To Consider Issues Like Market Removal

Peterborough county council will be invited by the city council to appoint a joint public relations committee to deal with matters affecting both municipalities.

This proposal by Ald. J. A. Dewart, seconded by Ald. A. B. Burrows, at the city council meeting Monday night evolved mainly from a reference by Mayor M. J. Swanston to the plans for transfer of the outdoor market to a new site on the west side of George St., between Rink and Townsend Streets.

In the press and in conversations with some citizens of both the county and city, Mayor Swanston said, the question was being asked: "What is being done about the new market?"

"I think some members of the council are being blamed more or less unfairly in this matter," His Worship said. "It is something that was passed by the council a year ago. Recently, it has been suggested that if the property committee would ask the county council to name the reeves of four or five townships adjacent to the city to act on a combined committee, we might arrive at a solution of the future market, and have it as a county and city market."

"We have the meters ready to be set up, but producers who are using the market say that if they have to leave it there will be no building on the new property. They feel that if the city and county go into this, some suitable arrangement could be made."

Other Matters, Too

Ald. Dewart said he was inclined to go further than the market question.

"There are many matters concerning the people of the county as well as the city, from time to time, and the factor of public relations becomes very important. From our experience we know that the city and county encounter things that affect them in common.

"If we could have a public relations board composed of members of the county and city councils, then any matters concerning both should be discussed by that board before any action should be taken in regard to matters which tend to provoke misunderstanding and hard feeling."

Ald. Dewart said he would be glad to move that Mayor Swanston take steps to approach the county council with that in view.

"Among the people I have talked to," Mayor Swanston said, "I found a feeling that Peterborough has outgrown the market in its present position. At the same time it is felt that a market should be established, and should be for producers who grow their own products."

The motion, seconded by Ald. Burrows, was unanimously adopted.

100 Calls Each Day Jangled To City Police Desk In 1950

Phone calls poured into the city police department at the rate of about 100 a day during 1950.

In all, 36,105 were recorded by the desk sergeant of his stand-in. The calls were about everything from reports of shootings to requests for the correct time.

Women complained of children playing on their lawns, or playing a game of baseball on the street. Saturday nights they phoned and screamed into the phone their husbands were drunk and were beating them up.

Report Accidents

Men phoned and reported they had just had an accident with someone else who was in the wrong. Solicitous friends phoned and asked how Bill came out in police court. Bill was charged with being drunk and was probably fined $10 and costs.

When the police were not busy responding to phone calls, they were looking after lost children—52 in 1950. In their free time they checked doors of stores and buildings in the downtown area and found 130 of them not properly locked.

During the summer they visited and checked 293 vacant houses. The owners had gone on holidays.

On top of this, police opened the cell doors to 577 men who had no place to spend the night and wanted to come in out of the cold or wet.

THIS IS TIMMY OF 1951, a crippled child symbolizing the Ontario Society for Crippled Children's Seal Campaign for funds which will be held February 25 to March 25. This year's Timmy is six-year-old Dennis Gibbon of Welland, Ontario, who has been paralysed from the waist down since birth.

Easter Seal Fund Campaign Has Crippled Child Symbol

Dennis Gibbons, 6, of Welland, Ont., has been chosen to be Timmy of 1951 symbolizing the Ontario Society for Children's Easter Seal campaign for funds which will be held this year from February 25 to March 25.

This year's Timmy is paralysed from the waist down and will be all his life. He was born with a gap in his spine.

When Dennis was born, his family were living in Timmins and his father was in the Canadian Army at Camp Shilo out west. Two days after this event, Dennis' father was notified to rush to Timmins. Doctors had found a small bulb the size of a five-cent piece in his son's back called a spina bifida. Dennis wasn't expected to live very long.

Dennis lived but other troubles soon followed for the Gibbon's family. Mr. Gibbons broke his back in a parachute jump and Timmy's grandmother died of a stroke when she heard that another of her sons, Donald, had been killed in France. In addition, Timmy's mother had to return to the hospital for an operation.

Timmy's father recovered from his back injury and the family moved to Welland where Mr. Gibbons works in a steel plant.

To Toronto

When Dennis was four he couldn't even crawl. However, the family doctor interested some friends and Timmy was sent to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, where an operation was performed. He was also fitted with leg braces and learned how to walk on crutches. He goes back once a year for a check-up.

Dennis also attends school. He is taken to school and brought home in a car provided by the Rotary Club in Welland.

The 1951 Easter Seal Campaign for funds will be conducted in Peterborough by the Rotary Club.

3 Stars Admit Plot Complicity

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP). — District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said today that three Long Island University basketball stars have admitted complicity in a gambling plot.

Hogan said the trio plotted to arrange the point spreads in a number of LIU games this season.

He said they would be arrested on bribery charges.

Hogan identified the three as Adolph Bigos, 25, team captain, of Perth Amboy, N. J.; Le Roy Smith, 21, of Newark, N. J., and Sherman White, 22, of Englewood N. J.

Hogan made his announcement at 5:30 a.m. EST, just 13 hours after he and his aides began questioning the trio Monday afternoon.

He indicated that several games other than those played this season also were involved.

The three LIU players, all seniors, have "admitted that they took money for 'shaving' points on games," Hogan said.

The district attorney added that they operated through Salvatore T. Sollazzo and a former LIU player, Edward Gard, "to set up betting crews on certain games."

City Carpetball

The league schedule: Quakers No. 4 vs Glens No. 6, LOL No. 2 vs Legion No. 3; Legion No. 5 vs Legion No. 7; St. Luke's No. 1 vs Fire Hall No. 9; St. George's No. 10 vs SOE No. 8. These are the last scheduled games for this season.

Legion No. 7 met St. Luke's at the washrack and the first game was tied twice, in the 3rd and 9th frames, with each team coming from behind once to deadlock it and the difference between defeat and victory was settled in the last three ends by the Big Bens scoring a total of 4 to take the game 12-8. In the second game the East City Midgets tried hard and if they had scored doubles instead of the singletons they tallied in the 9th, 10th and 11th ends, victory would have been theirs, instead of an 11-9 loss.

King Billie met the league-leading Glens in two close battles. The Glens were the victors in the first game 11-5 but King Billie came back to take the other 11-6.

The Firemen visited the "Old Citadel" and with their high pressure hose had the "Guardians" bewildered and they lost the first breach 17-5. The defence of the last stronghold was going badly for the Sons when in the final frame they counter-attacked and scored a big 5 to hold the second line by a 12-8 score.

Legion No. 7 and Legion No. 3 met in battle and the first game saw Legion No. 7 coming from behind in the 4th and 10th frames to tie it up, but the Legionnaires had sufficient left to take the last two ends and the game 12-9. The second game saw the Big Bens score the most singles in the first six frames and a big 5 and then coast to a 17-4 victory. Games not reported: St. George's No. 10 vs Quakers No. 4 and St. Luke's No. 1 vs Legion No. 5.

The Gracie Memorial Doubles first round, last heat, results: Bromley and Ralston hung a skunk on Amyotte and Clapham in their first game 12-0. And No. 17 were eliminated in two straight by a 10-5 score. Read and Garrette got the first game 10-4 from Smelt and Gracie; Gracie and Smelt came back to take the second by a 12-8 score, but Read and his partner broke through in the final game to win by 10-3 to move in to the next round.

The match that completed the first round of the doubles was won in two straight by D. Pilling and Schweirs, by scores of 8-7 and 9-6, from Fullbrook and Brand.

First heat of the doubles second round to be played Wednesday, February 21, is: Palmer and Leether vs Harrison and Whitehead; also Lundy and Cummings vs Bromley and Ralston at 7:30 p.m. sharp. Read and Garrette vs D. Pilling and Schweirs; also Robinson and McPhee vs Nicholas and Gimblett Sr. at 9:00 p.m.

For Wednesday, February 28, there will be a slight change in one game due to an earlier default. The final match of the second round between Rusaw and Douglas vs McLean and Hopgood; also J. Wilson and T. Nice will start the third round against the winner of Read and Garrette vs D. Pilling and Schweirs, that is the change, both games at 7:30 p.m.

Don't forget to turn in the cups and shields to the secretary immediately or leave them at Bennett's Gift Shop.

The second round of the President's Cup playdowns was completed when St. George's No. 10 won two out of three to eliminate SOE No. 8 by score of 3-10, 12-2 and 11-3.

The semi-final brings together St. George's No. 10 and LOL No. 2.

Referees should be appointed for both the semi-finals and final rounds of the President's Cup.

Don't forget that invitation to attend Knox Men's Club tournament Friday, Feb. 23.

Standing up to February 17:

The Glengarries still hold their slim lead as the race nears the finish wire and the pack hangs on in a finish so close that each ball delivered at the "kitty" from here on in carries with it the differenec betwen leadership and the also rans.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Slamming Johnny Greco of Montreal returned to the ring Monday night for his first fight in a year and pounded out a decision over Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia. The Montreal crowd booed the decision.

Giosa, who holds a knockout victory over Greco, weighed 143¾, and Greco, 148. A crowd of 6,563 contributed a gross gate of $15,088.

The main bout was a slow-moving affair and the crowd continually urged them to slug it out. Greco appeared to get the judges' nod on the basis of his aggressiveness.

At Chicago, George Chenier, Canadian champion from Toronto, Monday suffered his first defeat in the national billiards championships.

Benny Allen of Kansas City put Chenier off the undefeated list with a 150-69 decision in four innings. Allen had a high of 106 in handing Chenier his first setback in four matches.

The American-owned jumper Arctic Gold, from the stable of John Hay (Jock) Whitney, became a joint second favorite Monday night for the Grand National Steeplechase.

At a bookmakers' callover of odds at the Victoria Club the six-year-old horse was quoted at 100 to 9 for the 4½-mile race at Aintree April 7.

Whitney's jumper didn't figure in the first Grand National callover a week ago, but shot into prominence today after it was announced by trainer Gerald Balding that Arctic Gold would be a definite starter.

The box-office appeal of former heavyweight champion Joe Louis was attested Monday with announcement that the 16,000-plus seating Cow Palace was sold out for his 10-round fight Friday night at San Francisco with Andy Walker of San Francisco.

Promoters said gate receipts would gross approximately $90,000, with a top ticket price of $7.50.

Don Newcombe, Brooklyn pitching star, Monday weighed in at 244 pounds as the first Dodger batterymen arrived at training camp.

Newcombe lost five pounds working out with catcher Roy Campanella at Hot Springs, Ark. He claims he is only four pounds over his best pitching weight.

The New York Board of Higher Education Monday night barred for the present any future scheduling of Municipal College basketball games in Madison Square Garden.

The rest of this season's scheduled games are not affected.

The board ordered a committee to look into every phase of recent game fixing at the Garden.

YPU Speaker

SPRINGVILLE, Feb. 20 (ENS) — Guest speaker at the YPU meeting Sunday evening was the Rev. E. S. Linstead, who spoke on the Waldensians, the Christian puritans of Italy. Lila Seymour read the scripture and Dianne Cullen sang a solo.

'Flu Changes Fight

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP). — Influenza has forced a change in plans for next Tuesday's eight-round lightweight fight here between Solly Cantor and Allan McFater. McFater has been temporarily floored by flu and won't be able to make the fight, scheduled as the headliner of a card at Maple Leaf Gardens. Another opponent will be found for Cantor.

Rain Ends Match

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 20 (Reuters)—The English cricket tourists today dismissed Victorian country districts for 97 and replied with 64 for no wickets in their rain-curtailed match at Euroa, Victoria, which ended in a draw. There was no play Monday in the two-day match because of rain, and it brought an early close today.

Quick and tasty Chateau dishes!

Chateau Omelet... Take an omelet (light and fluffy, please) and give it a heart of mellow-mild Chateau Cheese. The filling's a snap! Just cut up a half-pound package of Chateau, melt it in top of double boiler (it melts as easily as it slices or spreads). Then blend in a half cup of milk. Chateau adds taste-tempting goodness and protein nourishment to any meal.

Chateau-Burgers . . . Broil thin hamburgers a few seconds on each side. Slide into split buns. Top with slices of Borden's Chateau and pop under the broiler. Serve immediately. Get the handy half-pound package. Since Chateau is not a sliced cheese you don't have to expose the whole package for one slice. It stays covered, stays fresh.

Entertained Class Members

King's Own Class of St. James United Church entertained the members of the Cheerful Workers' Class Monday for a social evening in Wesley Hall. A lovely devotional period was in charge of Mrs. G. Harris and Mrs. L. Gibson who used as their theme "temptation," a timely topic for the Lenten season. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Gibson who also read a portion of scripture from Mark. Several hymns were sung with Mrs. F. W. Craik accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Harris presented the topic and Mrs. K. Sloane gave a reading. A film called Jungle Bread was shown. Mrs. C. Murduff conducted two contests and the prizewinners were Mrs. A. E. Prest and Mrs. N. Gilders, Miss M. Bowers and Mrs. Webb. Lunch was served by the executive committee and a social hour enjoyed. Thanks to those taking part in the program was extended by Mrs. G. Rowe and Mrs. Craik. Mrs. W. Atkinson, president of the visiting class, thanked the hostesses.

Dinner Meeting Held By St. Paul's Aux.

Evening Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held the monthly meeting Monday. The ladies met at 6.30 o'clock and enjoyed an appetizing dinner, ably arranged by social convener Mrs. Hawthorne and committee.

Afterward the meeting got under way with Mrs. J. McLeod, president, in the chair. Devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. Hawthorne. Mrs. R. H. McIlmoyle read the report for 1950 to be submitted at the annual meeting of the church, which outlined the activities of the auxiliary during the past year.

Mrs. H. G. McKenzie, president of the Fraser Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church, was the guest speaker of the evening. She was introduced by Miss Verna Johnson. Mrs. McKenzie brought an inspiring message to the meeting, telling the need of missions and reasons why members should devote time and efforts to the cause. Miss M. Nesbitt moved a vote of thanks.

Mrs. Elsie Flett, president of Music Teachers' Association, favored with two piano solos.

Plans were discussed for the annual spring tea to be held in May and the thankoffering meeting in March. Miss Pearl Reid was at the piano for the closing hymn.

Mrs. Alice Leach Is Hostess Dinner Meeting

Semi-annual gathering of the Life Members Club of the Local Council of Women took place Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Leach, 137 Stanley Ave. Arrangements for a delicious dinner to be served were carried out by social convener Mrs. M. H. Drysdale.

A business session for the election of officers was called to order by retiring president Mrs. H. Tremain who spoke of the members who were absent because of illness and paid tribute to their work in the Council.

A new list of officers was presented by Mrs. Allan B. Mann and accepted. Mrs. F. Merrett then performed an installation ceremony.

Mrs. A. Leach is the new president for a two year term; Mrs. C. G. Collins the new vice-president, and Mrs. Jacob Low new secretary. Mrs. J. M. Manning is continuing as treasurer. Mrs. Merrett was named program convener, Mrs. Drysdale, social; Mrs. K. Simpson, visiting; Mrs. W. H. Morton, transportation.

First item of new business was the appointment of Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser as the first honorary president of this Club.

An invitation to hold the annual picnic at her summer home was extended by Mrs. Collins and the date will be set later. It was decided to send cards and flowers to members who are ill.

Welcomed to the Club were the newest life members of the Council, Mrs. E. B. McWilliams, and Mrs. W. C. Steinkraus who were introduced by Mrs. H. T. Rehill.

Entertainment of the evening was arranged by Mrs. Rehill and Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy.

British Women Meet Call For War Preparedness

By MURIEL NARRAWAY.

LONDON — (CP). — For the third time in a half-century, the women of Britain are meeting the call of preparedness for war.

Throughout the country women from all walks of life are reporting daily to women's voluntary organizations and local council offices, offering their services for civil defence.

Many volunteer for "welfare," a new section of civil defence added since the days of the Second World War. This covers such varied duties as care of the homeless, supervision of public shelters, emergency cooking and feeding, manning mobile kitchens, canteens and rest centres.

At a mass meeting in London, Home Secretary Chuter Ede outlined the many ways women could help build a co-ordinated civil defence network that would meet emergencies of war.

Need Training

"To carry out the tasks of civil defence," he said, "women must be trained; trained not only to do their individual jobs, but also to be ready for any emergency. They must be ready to prevent themselves from becoming casualties, to assist others who may be suffering and generally to help themselves."

Sections of the civil defence corps include rescue work, ambulance, hospital, pioneer (including debris clearance, demolition, and decontamination) headquarters and wardens' staffs.

The prevailing world tension has brought a sharp rise in civil defence enrolment from a September total of 62,000 to 117,000 in January, including 50,000 women. This, however, is still far below the target level of 600,000.

Aid Recruiting

The women's voluntary services are aiding the recruiting drive by urging their own members to volunteer for civil defence while retaining membership in the volunteer organizations. This has added about 12,000 to the civil defence forces.

Training now is in full swing in more than 400 centres throughout Britain. At least one-third of the total civil defence membership has already completed the first 10-weeks basic training.

This program provides instruction in the art of self-protection and assistance to others. Courses in teamwork follow with specialized training in duties to which the recruit is best suited.

Fire-fighting and knowledge of atomic warfare are top priorities in present instruction plans. Special training grounds are also being set up throughout the country to provide practical experience for rescue teams.

Although the direct concern of the home secretary, civil defence is primarily a local responsibility. Specially trained mobile columns however, will be dispatched when necessary to any centre in need of extra help.

In the words of Chuter Ede: "Each village or street must be able to look after itself."

Fashion Flashes

THE TRUMPET line has invaded the spring suit field, as was only to be expected. Grayed putty gabardine makes an attractive, double-breasted suit, the tint buttons in five double groups. Buttons also trim the pointed collar revers. The slim skirt breaks into low front fullness for the trumpet line.

✧ ✧ ✧

JUST NOW the shops are showing some beautiful fabric-trimmed felts. A rippled bicorne, in coffee cream fur felt, has its brim faced in matching satin and has a sheer veil with an embroidered border.

✧ ✧ ✧

EARLY EASTER will bring out full-length coat ensembles with furs, say those that know. A handsome ensemble consists of a capelet coat is violet woollen over a white and violet taffeta print dress. Dress is slim, with a big self bow at the low neckline.

✧ ✧ ✧

A DRIFT of white fox is a favorite evening dress device for southern wear. Snowy white fur is used for a smartly worked bolero-length cape jacket, the fur sewn on double white silk chiffon. The skins are horizontal across the back, and continue around to the front in curved effect.

✧ ✧ ✧

NO MATTER what colors are being touted, a dramatic handling of white and black is always sure to be the most effective. Handsome for late afternoon and evening wear for a southern resort wardrobe is a full-length boxy coat of white wool fleece with deep cuffs of black fox.

✧ ✧ ✧

PEERING AHEAD for a survey of next summer's beach wear, we find terry cloth well forward in the picture. One house shows a smart get-up consisting of a loose, hip-length coat of black terry cloth and matching "little boy" shorts. With this there is a halter and sash of pink cotton, border-printed in back.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE'S NO END to the variety of the topper, which, season after season and year after year, continues to start at every price level and for every type, taste and occasion. Navy fleece is used for a smart fingertip topper for spring. It has a mandarin band collar, double-breasted closing, dropped shoulders and tapering hemline. It looks very, very new and different.

✧ ✧ ✧

A WEALTH of charming new blouses will help to keep the skirt and blouse costume still in big demand. Sheer iridescent chambray, in frosted jewel tones, is used for a softened shirtwaist with dropped shoulder and short, puffed sleeves. Rhinestone-centred pearl buttons add dash.

✧ ✧ ✧

NATURAL-COLOR wool jersey has been worked into an ever-so-smart dress that falls in easy folds from neck to hem. Folds are held at the waist with a red cobra belt. Long sleeves and pockets are hidden in the skirt folds.

GABARDINE COAT-DRESS with a trim. This is one of the many smart career girl styles for spring.

DOROTHY DIX

Mother Backs Up Children Lowers Father's Authority

DEAR MISS DIX: My sister and her husband are having difficulties over their children. He is a successful man, a good father and devoted to his children. Like any father who undertakes to keep up with children, he occasionally has trouble with them. Nothing serious, just the usual conflict with youngsters. He handles such matters wisely and kindly, and in a few minutes it is all over and the children are hanging around their father, for they are very fond of him. But my sister always throws herself into the dispute on the side of the children. She protests the father's discipline and tries to make them feel that they are being persecuted. Naturally, my brother-in-law resents his wife's attitude. He is losing respect for her, and I can see that they have begun to drift apart. Can you suggest a remedy? A READER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: My opinion is that your sister is committing a crime, for which she will have to pay, in all probability, by losing her husband and having her children grow up into being the wild youngsters who bring shame and sorrow on their parents. But I have a remedy to suggest whereby she may be brought to see what a mistake she is making. Nothing can cure a silly mother of her silliness.

Why Fathers Give Up

We often wonder why fathers take so little active part in rearing their children, and why, when they see their children ruined by a foolish mother, they don't do something to avert the tragedy. The answer is furnished by such women as your sister. Every time father tries to correct little Johnny and make Mary behave, mother rushes to their defense. A scene ensues that leaves the child triumphant in its naughtiness and father and mother not on speaking terms for days.

The man knows that his wife is wrong; that she is fostering every bad trait and weakness in the child's character; that she is alienating the child from him, making him believe that father is a cruel tyrant, who makes him go to school when he doesn't want to, and who won't let him have three slices of pie, and that mother is his only friend. But after a few battles royal with senseless mother love the man gives up trying to have any authority over the children and sacrifices them to peace in the family.

But it doesn't make him love the wife who is ruining the children whom he loves as well as she does.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a junior in college and have a love problem. He is the nicest man in the entire world, has the most charming manners and is the most perfect gentleman in every way, but he is married. He says he respects his wife and they get along well together, but he does not love her as he loves me and he wishes to marry me some day. Am I foolish to spend my young life waiting for a man who is tied to another woman? Should I try to break up this romance where it is? CAROL

ANSWER: Just sit down and try to figure out what a girl gets out of a romance with a married man, and as you evidently lack the knowledge of life to do so I will give you a few pointers.

On the credit side of the ledger you can write down a sense of adventure that gives you a thrill. It makes you feel sophisticated to have a married man for a boy friend instead of some decent lad whom you have known all your life. And it tickles your vanity to think that you have the power to take a man away from his wife.

On the debit side there is the loss of your good name, for everybody believes the worst of a girl who has a married sweetheart. There is the chance that you will be named as a corespondent and dragged through a divorce trial. If you are just enjoying a flirtation you pay for it by lessening your chances of making a good mariage for few men want a wife who has been talked about with a married man. And if you really love the man you go through all the tragedy of hopeless waiting for a man who cannot marry you, or if he does marry you, you have it always on your conscience that you helped to break up a home and orphaned little children. Flirting with a married man is playing with fire. Don't do it. You are sure to get your fingers burned.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a boy 15 years old and in high school. My 17-year-old sister is a pest. She is always lecturing me about my telling dirty jokes. Do you think there is anything wrong in telling dirty jokes? TOM

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think it is perfectly disgusting. There is no surer way to judge a person than by his conversation, and no decent individual could listen to your vulgar, obscene stories without knowing that you are lacking in every instinct of refinement.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline (no-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store

Swing Is Easy For Hazel Scott Classics Too

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK (AP). — Hazel Scott, that handsome singer with the sultry voice, admits that she gets a little embarrassed with herself as a musical authority when she startts "swinging" the classics, but she can't resist the temptation. Her audiences happily endorse her yielding mood.

Miss Scott, who varies her career between concert performances at Carnegie Hall and such Broadway appearances as when she sang "Franklin D. Roosevelt Jones" in the musical revue, "Sing Out The News," says she really doesn't like to "swing" the classics. But, she says, she can't help herself.

"During my early musical education I sang the classics as a phase of my training to be a singer in all fields of music," she said. "I studied so thoroughly that I almost determined to change my career to becoming a classical singer.

Audience Loved It

"However, in 1940 I was doing a 'long hair' concert at Carnegie Hall and the Symphony Orchestra was playing Franz Liszt's 'Second Hungarian Rhapsody' and I suddenly started 'swinging' it. That tought me a lesson because the 'long hair' audience loved it."

Her improvisations with the classics allow her a program of many facets which appeals to all types of musical tastes. In playing—she is a talented pianist—an orthodox classic in a serious manner, she may suddenly interpose a few bars from a song in a current Broadway musical hit.

Throwing a bit of Irving Berlin or Cole Porter into the middle phrase of one of the classical composers is one of her specialties. Her musical imagination in infinite.

Studies Audience

"I change my programs according to the moods of my audiences," she said, "and I don't follow any specific rule except that I always do a classical number as my first encore.

"Recently I have been touring the veterans' hospitals. When I first started they wanted me to play and sing at the head of each hospital ward, as if I were in a theatre playing from the stage. But I changed to a better idea. Now I move my piano from bed to bed and sing a special song for each individual boy, some song that he likes personally.

"In one hospital I was playing for one boy whose wound had left him paralyzed in the legs. He said he wanted to hear boogie-woogie, so I gave him boogie-woogie with everything I had. Finally the nurses started running over. That young man had started moving his toes in time to the boogie-woogie and was kicking his covers off his feet."

Off again on another concert tour, Miss Scott is stopping in Philadelphia February 26 to participate in a concert for Robert L. Smith, a quadruple amputee from Korea. Next fall she goes to England, Scotland, France, Scandinavia and Israel for concerts before she returns to sing again on Broadway next Christmas.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"Junior loves to see Grandpa snore in the tub!"

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Fish Cooking Techniques Gained on Atlantic Coast

The wanderer who came back home after living in an Atlantic coastal fishing village for two years, was so glad to be here. She learned some new fish cooking techniques that partially made up for her two solid years of homesickness though.

She says that we here at home are not remotely acquainted with the art and pleasure of fish cooking.

The few recipes that I am passing on to you today are the ones that are specials from fish cooks who were her next door neighbors. They gave them to her as parting gifts, for they are cherished and treasured and only given to beloved and trusted friends.

Believe it or not she gently requested me to write to these ladies before using them in this column. I have done that and have their gracious permission to use them today.

I am a fresh-water Canadian, and after trying these fish dishes have to bow to the Maritimers' superior treatment of ocean fish.

✧ ✧ ✧

Baked or Steamed Fish Loaf

This is made from raw fish and if it is steamed it is similar to the way Norwegian cooks prepare it.

Grind any kind of raw white fish through finest knife of grinder or pound it to a pulp. Put it through twice if it is not smooth the first time. Heat together over very low burner 2 cups soft breadcrumbs and 1½ cups milk, and stir until the mixture leaves sides of pan. Mix the moistened crumbs with the fish pulp, and 2 beaten eggs and 4 tablespoons soft butter or margarine. Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice. If to be baked pack into greased small loaf pan, and cover tightly with parchment paper tied down. Stand in pan containing warm water and bake at 300 deg. Fahr. about 45 or 50 minutes or until loaf is "set." Or if desired bake in individual ramekins.

If to be steamed pack into baking powder or lard cans or proper steaming mould and steam for 1 hour. Serve sliced with Sauce Allemande: Melt 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, add 3 tablespoons flour and stir until mixed. Add 2 cups of boiling water OR better still fish stock. (Maritimers boil the bones from boned-out fish to have this stock on hand.) Stir until thick, and smooth. Beat two egg yolks and pour some of the thick sauce over them, then pour yolks into sauce and stir over very low heat 2 minutes. Add1 tablespoon lemon juice and ½ teaspoon salt and shake of pepper and paprika.

✧ ✧ ✧

Baked Crumbed Fillets with Sauce Tartare

Any fillets will do but this is super for halibut.

Cut fillets into serving pieces. Put 1 tablespoon salt in 1 cup milk. Dip pieces of fish in milk, then in very fine dry crumbs. Place on ungreased pan. Sprinkle with cooking oil or melted butter. Bake at 500 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes for a 1-inch thick fillet. Do not overbake. This will easily lift to hot platter and is golden brown all over.

Sauce Tartare: To one-half cup mayonnaise (not salad dressing) add 1 tablespoon each chopped dill pickle, green onion, parsley and capers. This sauce is excellent with any crumbed fish.

Write to me if you would like more of these Maritimers' recipes.

6—In Memoriams

FLEETWOOD—In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Charlotte T. Fleetwood, who passed away one year ago today.
Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile,
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright.
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do.
No thought of self, but of "the other"
I know He said "Well done, dear mother."
—Always remembered by Helen, Harold, Lenore, Jerry and Barrie.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Edward Maudsley, who passed away February 20, 1947, four years ago.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by husband, and daughter, Lillian, Ross, Carol and Bob.

MAUDSLEY — In loving memory of Charlotte Maudsley, who passed away February 20, 1947.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true;
There is not a day dear mother,
We do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by Tom, Audrey and Dale.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of [illegible] E. Maudsley, who passed away four years ago, Feb. 20, 1947. [illegible] memory is as dear today. [illegible]s in the hour she passed away.
—Ever remembered by son Edward and family.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Edward Maudsley.
Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To the grave not far away,
Where we laid our dear mother
—Always remembered by John, Eve-
Just four years ago today.
Lyn and grandson Jack.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of Charlotte Maudsley, who passed away Feb. 20, 1947.
The depth of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Sadly missed by sons and daughters.

Buses Involved In Two Accidents

Two minor accidents involving city buses were reported to police Monday afternoon.

In the first accident, a bus driven by William Storey, 751 Brown St., met in collision with a car driven by James Shearer, Belleville.

The bus, travelling west on Charlotte St., stopped at Park St. for the traffic lights. When the light turned green, Storey started to make a left turn. At this point he met in collision with the Shearer car, also proceding west but headed straight out Charlotte St.

The left front corner of the bus and the right rear corner of the car collided. Little damage was done to either. Traffic Officer Gordon Trennum investigated.

The second accident also took place on Charlotte St., about a block east of the first one.

Ivan Cunningham, 732 Third St., driver of the bus stopped behind two cars. He took his foot off his brake pedal and the stop light on the rear of the bus went out.

Allan Downes, RR 1, Pontypool, driving a truck behind him had been stopping. But when he saw the brake-lights of the bus go off, he thought the bus was going to go ahead, and took his foot off his brake pedal. He banged into the rear of the bus.

No damage was done to the truck, but some damage was done to the rear of the bus. Traffic Officer Harold Mesley investigated.

Fix Store Loot Value At $959

Loot taken by thieves the night of Feb. 15 from the Firestone store on Charlotte St. was found to amount to $959.50 when a check was taken. It is still not known whether any tires and tubes were taken as well.

A list of the articles stolen has been compiled and Chief Constable John Thompson has asked citizens who come across any articles fitting the description to notify his department.

The articles are: two .22 calibre pump automatic Browning rifles, one .303 Lee Enfield rifle, one blue Firestone underdash car radio serial No. 7851, one Firestone custom car radio serial No. S58795, two radio aerials, three Remington auto home razors, three True Temper cast master fishing rods, two scotch plaid car rugs and fishing tackle, including lines, plugs, reels and other assorted tackle amounting in value to $342.85.

The thieves emptied the fishing plugs from their boxes and dumped them into a carton to take them away.

Peterborough's fire loss in 1950 was $55,698.03 as tabulated in the annual report of the fire department.

The January report from the fire department was received from Assistant Chief Stewart Foster. Loss was $1,521.03 on buildings and $1,045.75 on contents.

One of the paragraphs was that Fireman C. Bennett reported off duty Jan. 10 with cracked vertebrae in the neck. He returned on Jan. 19, but reported off again on Jan. 22 from the same cause and was still off duty at the end of the month. Others off duty during the month were: Fireman P. Nicholson, Inspector J. McFarlane and Fireman T. Nice.

Pleads Guilty To Taking $886

COBOURG, Feb. 20 (ENS)—Robert May of Port Hope pleaded guilty to converting $886 of his firm's money to his own use when he appeared in court Monday.

May, a salesman of the company, was remanded out of custody to appear one week later and the magistrate suggested that he contact the bonding company as to restitution.

The offence covered from January last year to the end of the year. The accused said that before the charge was laid, the bonding company wanted $500 paid in cash and the rest at $35 a month and when he couldn't raise the down payment, the company laid a charge.

Obituary

JAMES W. ((WALLY) CROOKSHANKS

The Rev. D. P. Morris of Bridgenorth United Church officiated today at the funeral service for James W. (Wally) Crookshanks of Bridgenorth at the Belleghem Funeral Home. Mr. Crookshanks died Sunday after an illness of several months in his 57th year at his residence.

For the past 20 years he has lived in the Peterborough area. He was with the British American Oil Company, and formerly connected with the company in Stratford and Chatham. He was a member of the Bridgenorth United Church.

Mr. Crookshanks was the son of Thomas Crookshanks of Stratford and the late Mary McKee. He is survived by his wife, the former Frieda Maude Jobe, a son John, a brother Thomas of Stratford, and four sisters, Miss Evelyn Crookshanks of Toronto, Mrs. J. Beer (Elizabeth), England, Mrs. A. Hackett (Lillian), and Miss Elinor Crookshanks, both of Stratford, and his father.

Pall-bearers were: Joseph Mortimer, Richard Robinson, Marcus Fowler, James Preston, Samuel Bell, and Wallace Nichbills.

Use Bloodhounds

PALERMO, Sicily, Feb. 20 — (Reuters) — Police used bloodhounds to track down and arrest Guisto Bonanno, an outlaw who escaped 12 years ago from a jail where he was serving a life sentence, it was announced Monday. Bonanno, suspected of aiding Sicily's bandit king Salvatore Giuliano, will be charged with murder, armed robbery, extortion, membership in armed bands and illegal possession of weapons. His three sons were also arrested.

WEARYING, WASN'T IT?—Night hours appear to have Ch. Bang Away of Sirrah Crest down. The disinterested titleholder is owned by Dr. and Mrs. Rafael G. Harris, handled by Nate Levine.

Solution Near In Problem Of Cobourg School Location

COBOURG, Feb. 20 (ENS). — Progress towards settling some of the difficulties in connection with the proposed east end site for a new public school, was made last night with the receipt at the council meeting of a resolution from the public school board.

The board requested the closing of the unopened road allowances of Campbell, Major and Fraser streets east from D'arcy to Major and that a new street be opened across lots 6, 39, 50 and 83 from D'Arcy to Major streets and of 66 foot width.

Council agreed to Mayor Burnet's suggestion that the town solicitor ascertain if W. J. Carey, owner of the land, would make a deal so the town could get enough land to widen the street to 66 feet, an additional 14 feet being needed.

Council passed a resolution sponsored by Reeve Roy Dodge that a letter of sympathy be sent to the family of ex-mayor Jack Delanty. Council also decided to ask the Public Utilities Commission, of which Mr. Delanty was a member at the time of his death, for a suggestion as to whom the council would appoint to finish out the term.

Two petitions for sewers, one on Buchanan street and the other on Bond street, were referred to the clerk to check the names and to the town engineer to examine the requests.

A letter from the parking meter company, which had offered a new type head, said that the new heads would cost $10 each or a total of $1,500 payable 50 per cent of receipts to the company and 50 per cent to the town, until paid for. It was decided to ask the company what allowance would be made for the old heads on which payment is still not complete.

A request from a number of insurance agents asking that the business of writing insurance on municipal holdings be spread around to all agents rather than the present method of letting it to two agents who in turn spread the commission among the other agents. It was felt by some of the agents that mere receipt of their commission share did not given them the company recognition they would receive if they wrote their own insurance.

On motion council referred the matter to the agents asking them to arrive at some definite plan of dividing up the business.

Concert Fees At Low Level

Albert Robinson, New York representative of Community Concerts and campaign workers who held a dinner meeting at the Empress Hotel Monday night that despite other rising prices, concert artists' fees had not risen. This made it possible, he said, for the Peterborough Concert association to keep its subscription rates at the same low level as other years; $5 and tax of 50 cents for adults, $2.25 and tax of 25 cents for students.

The dinner inaugurated the annual subscription campaign to Community Concerts. Mrs. Thursa Williamson, campaign secretary, noted that already, before the campaign had begun, more than half the seats were booked by repeat subscribers for next season. She warned that all present subscribers should renew before Wednesday evening, when their preferential treatment would be voided and bookings would be thrown open to new subscribers. The waiting list is already impressive, Mrs. Williamson said, but owing to removals from town, it was hoped to accommodate many new members.

The artists for next season will be selected at a meeting of the directors at the end of the week. Their selection will be based on the preferences shown by the ballot taken at the last concert.

Artist Management

Mr. Robinson spoke briefly on the "management" of artists. He impressed on his audience that artists employ management; it is not management (the Community Concerts impressarios) who employ the artists. He remarked in passing that the Lowenguth String Quartette, scheduled for the third Peterborough concert of the current season, but which, ensemble, had a bad accident near Rochester, N.Y., last month, preventing their appearance in Peterborough, had not lost their valuable instruments. The Amanti instruments had not been damaged at all.

Mrs. W. B. Brown, president of Peterborough Community Concerts, conducted the meeting. Campaign headquarters are in the YMCA (Murray St. entrance) The telephone number has been advertised.

Rams Bus

CUBA, N.M., Feb. 20 (AP)—A gasoline transport trailer ripped through the side of a passenger bus in a snow storm Monday and killed five persons. The accident happened as the transport and the bus crossed a narrow bridge at the foot of a hill 1½ miles northwest of Cuba.

Market Hall To Get New Oil Heaters

Purchase of three Quaker oil burners from Gibbons and Knox for $359.43 to heat the market hall was authorized by the council Monday night, in adopting the report of the committee of the whole.

There was a conditional clause: "providing necessary arrangements can be made with the Fire Department for the storage of oil." The recommendation also approved rental of "the space made available by dispensing with the need for storage of wood at the bottom of the entrance stairs."

Retain Services

Another recommendation was that "in view of Mr. T. J. Carley's experience and success in expropriation proceedings for the city, his services be retained in the Hughes expropriation which is coming for hearing before Judge Smoke."

Installation of a Bell Telephone automatic dial system in the new city hall of departmental intercommunication as recommended by the architects, Marani and Morris, was another recommendation the council adopted.

JAYCEES' SPEAKERS

During this week, the Peterborough Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are in charge of publicity for Brotherhood Week, are providing speakers to give short addresses on this topic at all the service club and other meetings in the city.

LAST YEAR

While citizens splash through ankle-deep water in some parts of the city, none of them are concerned with last year's weather. On Feb. 20, 1950, the mercury was down to an uncomfortable 19 degrees below zero. This morning the thtermometer read 35 above.

CHIEF BELL RESIGNS

Chief Constable Bay M. Bell of Havelock has given up his job as policeman of the village. His resignation was accepted last week by the village council. He is continuing his duties, however, until a new policeman is appointed. Mr. Bell has bought a fuel supply business in the village.

STOP, CAUTION, GO—

Aylmer street's third set of traffic lights are now flashing out orders to motorists. Monday morning the red, yellow and green lights were turned on to regulate the flow of traffic at the Aylmer-Hunter Sts. corner. As yet the lights at Monaghan Road and Charlotte St. have not been turned on.

Open House At Collegiate

The doors of PCVS will be thrown open to the students' parents and the public in general Wednesday afternoon. From 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. C. S. Browne, principal and this staff, assisted by the PCVS Home and School Association, will be holding Open House.

At 3 p.m. the students will be excused from their classes to show their parents throughout the school. Besides seeing the various departments such as the vocational, commercial, home economics and academic, the people will witness some of the extra-curricular activities.

The Girls' Choral Club, under conductor-teacher, Melvin J. Curtis, will be rehearsing for the Toronto Kiwanis Music Festival which it has entered this year. In the gym the three boys' basketball teams will be opening the lakeshore semi-finals with Lindsay collegiate. The PCVS Home and School association women will sell tea and home cooking in the home economics department to raise funds for their scholarship, awarded annually at PCVS, and other school activities.

Penny-A-Day Drive In Schools

The "Penny-a-Day" drive in connection with the Red Cross and Community Fund campaign will be held in all the city schools February 23 to March 2—a week ahead of the chest drive. The objective this year is again $500.

Clare Collins, a member of the community chest committee, is in charge of the penny drive and has sent letters to all the school principals with instructions for this year's collection.

The teachers' aid has been solicited in the drive and it has been stressed that the pupils' contributions should be earned and not given to them by their parents.

Containers Provided

Small cardboard containers are being provided to facilitate the collection of pennies and Ernie Reid of the Utilities Commission will call at each school during the drive to pick up the day's contribution. The total amount collected will be posted in a downtown store.

Four of the six children will be chosen to present the pennies to Ross L. Dobbin, chairman of the cummunity chest committee at the opening dinner of the community drive which will be held March 2.

The total amount collected last year was $528.05. Amounts collected in each of the schools were: Sacred Heart, $23.87; Kind Edward, $30.38; St. John's, $8.23; Confederation, $33.57; Grove, $9.80; May's, $10.77; Prince of Wales, $43.72; Queen Mary, $88.77; Parkhill, $5.93; St. Peter's, $47.08; St. Anne's, $23.71; St. Mary's Convent, $18.17; Collegiate, $69.15; Queen Elizabeth, $7.05; Queen Alexandra, $26.00; King George, $29.46; Immaculate Conception, $18.06; Central, $34.33.

This year St. Alphonsus School will be included in the campaign.

Parking Meters Gross $2,132 In January

Parking meters took a toll of $2,132.56 in January as compared with $2,004.59 in January last year. City Clerk Outram's records now show four yearly columns of meter collections. Total to the end of January from May 12, 1947, was $101,261.35.

Total receipts last month through the Clerk's office were: licenses, $898.25; police court fines, $696.50; miscellaneous, $601; rest room money, $69.50; parking meters, $2,132.56; total, $4,394.21.

Joyce Beggs Plays In 'Harvey' At Queen's

Joyce M. Beggs, a former PCVS student and presently attending Queen's University in Kingston, starred in the Queen's Drama Guild's production, "Harvey," which ended Monday. While at PCVS Miss Beggs acted several roles in the Senior Dramatic club's annual presentations.

In the play, "Harvey," Miss Beggs played the part of Veta Simmons, ultra-conventional sister of the courtly and lovable alcoholic, E. P. Dowd, by Peter Macklem of Kingston. Critics said that Miss Beggs played with excellent characterization as well as poise and understanding. She made a decided hit with all three audiences on Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Appointed Historian

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Feb. 20 (AP)—Roy Lamson, Jr., Williams College English professor, has been appointed historian to supreme headquarters Allied powers, Europe, under Gen. Eisenhower's command, it was announced Monday. Lamson, who returns to the army as a lieutenant-colonel, will write the history of the S.H.A.P.E.

Better Than Fines

KOEGE, Denmark (CP). — Children who break traffic regulations here are ordered to go to the police station where they have to read the highway code and then write an essay on the subject.

Light Revue Has Premiere

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—(AP)—A light and sometimes gay musical revue such as those which ordinarily pop up in the summer straw hat theatres arrived a bit ahead of time Monday night with the premiere of "Razzle Dazzle" in the Hotel Edison's Arena theatre.

This is one of those playhouses in-the-round where the stage is placed in the centre of the theatre and the audience is seated on the four sides of the performance.

With sketches and lyrics by Mike Stewart and music by a half dozen composers, "Razzle Dazzle" is a diverting if not too impressive showcase for the 15 actors and actresses who alternate between playing principal roles and doing singing and dancing bits in the chorus ensembles. A few more humorous sketches would help the show a great deal.

One of the leading roles in the show is played by Dorothy Greener, who is making her Broadway debut in "Razzle Dazzle." She was assistant music editor of the Hartford Times for four years before she decided to become an actress.

Lee Goodman, James Jewell, Barbara Hamilton of Toronto and Jet MacDonald are others in a fairly good cast which has had some Broadway stage experience, although most of the players were recruited from television show ranks.

PLOT STRATEGY—Section leaders of "Snuffy Smith's Snow School" plan a night attack before a tent in a battle bivouac area. The winter indoctrination school for reservists at Wainwright Camp in northern Alberta. The tent is unique in that four of its five occupants are served hot tea in their sleeping bags each morning. There is room for only one man to dress at a time and first man up prepares breakfast for the others. Left to right, are: Sgt. H. Weiss, Wetaskiwin, Alta.; Lieut. F. A. Vye, Lieut. H. O. Schoenig and WO2. G. J. Smith, all of Victoria, and, standing, Sgt. R. G. Gordon of Vancouver.

Police Investigate Series Of Car Thefts

BRANTFORD, Feb. 20—(CP)—Police are investigating a series of unusual thefts here.

Four automobiles have been removed from their position on the street since Jan. 3. Two have had all their windows smashed, chrome work broken steering gear torn off, every glass in the dashboard smashed and upholstery torn.

Another was burned and another stripped. In most cases all police can see is "senseless" damage.

Three youths have been charged with wilful damage and theft and several others have been questioned.

Must Be Stronger

GLASGOW, Feb. 20 (Reuters)—Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the Conservative party, said here Monday night British diplomacy must be backed by more arms to negotiate effectively. "The Soviet Union understands strength. Her policies since the war show that unfortunately she understands very little else," he told a meeting of the combined unionist associations of Glasgow.

Skating Star Signs

COBOURG, Feb. 20 (ENS). — A contract has been signed with H. Kiraly, European skating star, now with the Oshawa Figure Skating Club, whereby the artificial ice arena here will be used as a skating school during July and August of this year. About 100 skaters from various parts of Canada and the United States will be here for the school. A similar one was held last year at Cobourg.

CHAMPION SKINNER — Champion skinner of small fur-bearing animals in northern Ontario is Elgin McKee of Metagama, north of Sudbury, Ont. He is shown at work on a beaver at the convention of the New Ontario Trappers Association. McKee set a record of seven minutes, 24 2-5 seconds in dethroning Jack Burnham of St. Charles. He also bested his father, George McKee, the 1949 champion, who finished third.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 25c at any druggist.

French Novelist Gide Dies In Paris

PARIS, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Andre Gide, 81, famed French novelist and winner of the Nobel Prize for literature in 1947, died Monday night.

Gide had been ill with pneumonia for several days.

Gide's daughter and son-in-law were at the bedside when death came.

Gide, considered by many French critics the foremost writer of his time, shocked and fascinated two generations with his literary probings of morality and immorality.

Deeply religious in his background, he won the Nobel Prize for literature after publishing books in which he seemed to defend theft, murder and homosexuality. Most Frenchmen, however, value his novels like The Counterfeiters, The Immoralist, and Pastoral Symphony much more for the classically beautiful writing than for his unorthodox moral ideas.

During a literary career that began in 1891 and continued to the end of his life he came to be recognized as a master of prose forms. He produced criticisms, plays, translations and newspaper editorials as well as novels.

A published author at 22, Gide continued in a checkered ideological course through more than 70 volumes, including a running series of autobiographical essays covering his adult life from 1889 to 1942.

He wrote an impassioned appeal for Communism, then, following a disillusioning trip to Moscow, an equally fervent repudiation of the Soviet system. An enemy of all dogma, he was unable to accept the dogmatic Communist line.

Gide was born in Paris, November 22, 1869, the son of a law professor at Genoble and Paris Universities.

Gave Wine To Baby

CARDIGAN, Wales —(CP)—A father who gave his 19-month-old son a half-pint of port wine to drink was bound over in a local court.

"WING THING" BEATS DARIUS GREEN—Rolo Ewers, wealthy La Junta, Colo., inventor, realized a 50-year dream when he flew his "wing" a distance of 150 yards at an altitude of 30 feet, all under power of his own muscles. The 30-foot wing—built for $100—gets its power when the pilot bounces on a sponge rubber cross below the "cockpit." Said Ewers after his flight, which was his first trip off the ground in "any kind of flying machine: "I don't care what the world thinks. We've done it, that's all." Fate was less friendly to the poetic hero Darius Green ("and His Flying Machine"), who cracked up in a heap.

'Do-si-do' your partner . . .

Did you know that the familiar call; "do-si-do" had its origin in the French expression "dos-a-dos"; meaning "back-to-back"?

Many square dances and calls were adopted from the lands of our forefathers: You can learn many of these for yourself—by writing for the FREE booklet "How to Square Dance." It's packed with easy-to-follow square dance calls, instructions and how-to-do-it pictures.

Square dancing is fun : : : and it provides recreation and wholesome exercise for all. It's another Canadian Way to Good Health!

Doesn't Approve Of Biographer

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP) — Senator J. W. de B. Farris (L, British Columbia) Monday night criticized Prof. Stewart Dawson, of the University of Toronto, the man assigned to write the memoirs of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, as a harsh critic of the Senate.

Speaking in a Senate debate on reform, he quoted from a book by the political-economy professor which said the Senate should be lifted "from the deadly effects of a life term."

This professor, he said, had backed up his arguments by "quoting from a columnist."

Senator Farris did not identify the columnist. He added that former Prime Minister King probably had made more appointments to the Senate than any other prime minister, but Prof. Dawson was the man who was to write his memoris. In doing so Senator Farris hoped that the professor would "show more capacity for conclusions based on facts instead of newspaper clippings and—what do you call them — newspaper columnists."

Man Stabbed Uncle Arrested

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP) — Lawrence Marcovitch, 20, was stabbed to death about midnight Monday night in a gypsy fortune telling establishment on midtown Kensington Avenue.

His uncle, Archie Marcovitch, was arrested and, police said, he will be charged with murder today.

Police said the stabbing was the climax of a family quarrel. They said Lawrence was stabbed in the chest and was rushed to hospital where he died a few minutes after being admitted.

His mother, Katherine, was also taken to hospital suffering from shock.

ICE AND INFLUENZA—These fishermen had to cope with more than ice and cold on the last voyage—a minor influenza epidemic broke out while they were on the Grand Banks. They are shown casting lines ashore over the ice-encrusted rails of the Lunenburg schooner Bessemer as she arrived in Halifax. The Bessemer carried a crew of 27 and they landed 100,000 pounds of cod despite the flu.

Steel From Old Vessels Said Going To Red China

By FRED HAMPSON.

HONG KONG, Feb. 20 (AP).—Hong Kong is becoming a break-up yard for dozens of ships.

At least half the scrap steel derived from them is finding its way into Communist China. But dealers say a lot of it also is going to Japanese shipyards, thus benefitting countries on both sides of the iron curtain.

Salvage men are reaping a neat profit. Some dealers along Liachkok Bay, on the Kowloon side of Hong Kong harbor where most of the old ship hulls are being cut up, say that prices have trebled in the last three months.

A survey showed that the hulls belong to private persons, mostly Chinese. The Hong Kong government says it has no control over such dismantling or the sale of scrap. A spokesman said no government owned ships are being broken up for scrap.

Some private operators of China coastal ship lines say the Communists have made it so difficult to maintain trade that ship owners have taken their older vessels out of commission to be broken up. At present prices older ships are worth more for metal.

Considerable Resentment

There is considerable resentment here that so much vital material is getting into Communist China. Many people, especially Britons and Americans, think the government should put an embargo on steel shipments.

One shipping man said Britain herself needs or soon will need this steel in her own rearmament program.

From the purely local point of view, this new industry has been a blessing, since it has absorbed many unemployed and is eliminating many maritime eyesores.

Music Education Costs Said Declining

TORONTO (CP).—In spite of general rising prices the cost of a musical education for Ontario towns is dropping, Major Brian McCool of the Department of Education told the women's committee of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

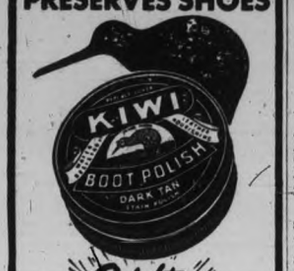
Assistant to Dr. G. R. Fenwick, Director of Music for Ontario, McCool was given $10,000 a year to spend on Ontario concerts. This year he is doing the job with $8,000.

He organizes groups of musicians, or individual artists, and sends them to other cities and small towns. This gives Canadians with musical talent a chance to become known and affords them a higher profit from tours booked by the Department of Education than they could gain from regular booked tours.

Residents in Fergus, for instance, recently paid 50 cents each to hear a program of four outstanding Canadian artists.

Praises Orchestra

Referring to instrumental concerts, Maj. McCool praised North Toronto Collegiate Orchestra as an example of what young Canadians can do. It has visited Beamsville, Dunnville and North Bay.



Thirty-three schools in Ontario are supplying secondary school pupils with free music lessons provided they have average percentages of 65 per cent. This stipulation arose when more applications for the lessons were received than could be accommodated.

Maj. McCool said the Department is working on a four-point program for its musical education in schools: administration of lessons, teacher training, inspection and propaganda. Teachers, he said, are doing wonderfully. "After three years' training they can teach all instruments of strings, brass and woodwinds."

423 Connections To City Sewers

The Peterborough Plumbing Inspector, A. G. Metheral, reported that he issued 647 permits during 1950 to cover all sorts of plumbing installations, from laundry tubs to dental cuspidors.

In his annual report to the City Council, the plumbing inspector said 423 new connections were made to the city sewer system, 305 of them from houses. Thirteen connections were made when cesspools were done away with and another 21 replaced septic tanks.

Mr. Metheral carried out 1,981 inspections of work done. He gave water tests to 949 of the new pipes laid and 578 smoke tests.

He found unsanitary conditions in 58 old plumbing installations. Four have not yet been corrected. Thirty-eight of 347 defects he found in new work have yet to be corrected.

He added that he collected $271 for the city fo rextra inspections he made.

Tropical Isle Up For Sale

SYDNEY, Australia (CP). — A tropical island is for sale, off the coast of Northern Queensland.

Dr. Alex Horn of Toowoomba, a former owner, describes it as "one of the finest islands on the coast." He says "You can live there and be completely self supporting. The fishing is wonderful and at high tide the sea is only 20 yards from your front door."

And besides that, anything earned on the island is free of Australian income tax.

Dr. Horn sold the island two years ago because he had no patients there. The present owner is asking about $18,000 for it.

Belmont Women Plan Handicraft Show

HAVELOCK, Feb. 20 (ENS)—The Belmont Women's Institute met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Scott with the president, Mrs. Charles Ellis, presiding.

It was decided to hold a hobby handicraft display at the March meeting at the home of Mrs. Randle Vansickle, prize-winning articles to be sent to the district annual meeting in June for district competition.

During the program period Mrs. William Harris gave a two-minute talk on the motto "Give sympathy, not criticism." Two mouth organ selections were played by Mrs. William Smith, who joined Mrs. Frank Elmhurst and Mrs. W. Anderson in a musical number with the mouth organ, violin and piano. Mrs. Elmhurst also gave two violin selections with Mrs. Anderson as accompanist. A Valentine quiz was won by Mrs. George Wright. Community singing was enjoyed with Mrs. Anderson at the piano.

Tea hour hostesses were Mesdames A. Keene, H. Salter, George Scott, Gordon Newton.

Martin-Lewis Hottest Team In Film Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 20 (AP) The two hottest names in the movie busines stoday are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. I braved a lunch with them to find out why.

I do mean braved. It is well known that the two Zanies will do anything for a laugh. I wasn't surprised when they retied my bow tie, stole sips of my tomato juice and handed out a variety of insults.

Their boss, producer Hal Wallis, seemed fairly tolerant as Jerry called him "Mr. Wayliss" and gave him a mock shave with a table knife. I'm not sure whether Paramount boss Y. Frank Freeman was amused when Jerry asked, "Are you going to wash my car?" Or when he said to Freeman, "How come you never talked to me before 'At War With The Army'?"

The latter film is what has made Martin and Lewis hotter than an arc lamp. A comic trifle turned out for $355,000, it is expected to bring in more than $4,000,000. Many observers have offered explanations for this phenomenon and so I asked the boys for theirs.

Want To Laugh

"I think it boils down to one thing—people want to laugh," answered Jerry, the skinny, crew-cut member of the team.

Someone else offered an explanation given by a veteran movie man:

"This is something unique in movie teams. You not only have a comic who is funny and has a boyish quality, but you also have a straight man who can sing and has a romantic appeal."

This was before Dean arrived for lunch and Jerry had some glowing words for his partner. "Dean is more than a straight man," he said. "He also has a great sense of comedy. In some of our routines, he gets at least half the laughs. Sometimes in night clubs we switch the act entirely and he does my lines and I do his."

Dean arrived and offered a similar explanation for the film's success, adding: "There are other reasons why the picture has done so well. It's topical. And it has the funniest man in the world—Jerry Lewis."

His remarks carried out what Jerry and I had been discussing earlier. I mentioned that every film team had broken up at some time or other.

"Not this one," Jerry replied. "We respect each other too much. For my part, Dean is one of the finest guys I've ever met."

Arrest 6 Boys

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP)—Six boys, ranging in age from 11 to 14 years, were arrested Monday on charges of indecently assaulting two young girls at the emergency housing centre in nearby Malton. Police said two incidents, one involving an eight-year-old and the other a five-year-old, were "common knowledge" at the centre. Both occurred two weeks ago. The boys will appear in Brampton court Wednesday.

Exceed Objective

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP)—The United Church of Canada exceeded its 1950 objective of $3,000,000 for missionary work and maintenance, it was reported Monday by the Rev. Danzil Ridout. The amount raised by United Churches across Canada was $3,009,564—largest amount collected for missionary and maintenance enterprises since church union. In 1949 the church raised $2,706,114 and 10 years ago the amount was $1,451,609.

Train Older Men For New Jobs Labor Asks Ontario

TORONTO, Feb. 21. (CP)—Retraining of Ontario workers to fill the skilled and highly-paid jobs now going to tradesmen brought in from Europe was proposed to the Ontario Cabinet today by the Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL). The Federation in its annual brief to the Cabinet said such a retraining program could be arranged by the province with Federal assistance. It said men to be retrained might be found among Ontario's older workers.

The brief of the 175,000-member Federation said the shortage of skilled help was responsible for a suggestion by the Federal Immigration Department that Europe be combed for skilled tradesmen.

It said the shortage was a result of the lack of effective apprentice training in Ontario, scarcity of jobs during depression years and the movement of workers into the armed services during the Second World War.

"These workers now are men with families and cannot start at apprentices' wages to make up for the opportunity that was denied them," the brief said.

Other Requests

The federaion also urged revisions of the Ontario Labor Relations Act; further legislation to bring the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Act into harmony with proposals submitted recently by Mr. Justice W. D. Roach of the Ontario Supreme Court, who conducted an inquiry into operation of the act; a new hours of work and vacations with pay act to provide a 40-hour work week and three weeks' paid holidays after 10 years' service.

It said labor should be represented on any proposed rent control boards. It called on the government to abandon any thought of imposig a provincial sales tax.

The brief was presented by George Burt, of Windsor, newly elected president of the federation; S. S. Hughes and Arthur Williams, vice-presidents; and W. F. Cleve Kidd, secretary-treasurer. The officials were accompanied by representatives of the federation's affiliated unions.

The brief protested against managerial control of existing accident prevention associations.

'Apparently accident prevention is an exclusive concern of management," the brief said. "Apparently the monetary cost of accidents is more serious than the physical injuries themselves."

Expect To Call P.O. Tenders This Summer

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP) — Plans are being drawn up for a new post office in Peterborough which will be used as a staff college for training headquarters personnel from Ottawa, government officials said today.

The plans, being drawn up by the Peterborough firm of Blackwell and Craig, will be submitted to the public works department "probably in time for tenders to be called this summer," a works official said.

Post office officials said they could give no indication of the size or probable cost of the building.

Apart from filling a long-standing need for new postal facilities in Peterborough, the new building will be used as the centre of a new policy of giving all headquarters personnel training in field work.

Take Year's Course

New personnel joining the service will have to take a year's course at Peterborough involving at least two months as a letter carrier and periods of mail sorting and serving at the money order wicket.

In addition, between 300 and 400 men now at the headquarters staff in Ottawa will take the field course, probably in groups of 15 or 20 at a time.

W. J. Turnbull, Deputy Postmaster General, said Peterborough was chosen as the site for the new centre "because it's reasonably close to Ottawa and is getting a new post office."

Experiment Fails To Save Life

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21 (AP) A woman whose blood stream was channelled into a kidney taken from the body of a traffic accident victim died today eight hours after an unprecedented experiment to purify her blood and save her life.

The experiment failed shortly after noon. The kidney was removed from the body of Wayne H. Deveney, 30, killed before 4 a.m. today.

Less than an hour later the blood of the woman patient — identified as Mrs. Richard Irvine, 32, Philadelphia — was flowing through the borrowed kidney.

Robert E. Nicholson, managing director of the hospital, said it was the first time the technique was used on a human being.

Mrs. Irvine was the mother of three children.

Smuggled Anti-Freeze Kills 50 On Freighter

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21. — (AP).—Officers of a navy-chartered freighter today said anti-freeze smuggled from Korea's Hungnam beachhead killed perhaps 50 United States soldiers and crew members aboard evacuation ships.

Capt. J. A. Roy of Mobile, Ala., said two evacuated soldiers and three crew members of his ship, The Tainaron, died after drinking the poison solution in the December evacuation.

Other Tainaron officers said an army investigator told them:

Anti-freeze for the troops' vehicles was smuggled aboard several evacuation ships. About 50 soldiers and crew members died after drinking it. Scores of others were made violently ill.

The story came out when a life insurance examiner questioned Tainaron officers about deaths of the civilian crew members.

Offer Short-Term Commissions In Army

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP)—The army, switching policy to meet expanding defence needs, today offered short-term active service commissions of three, four and five years for officers up to and including the rank of major.

Usually, when an officer is appointed to active service with the army, he joins for as long as he is needed. Defence Minister Claxton said the new plan has been started because more and more officers are required in the expanded defence program.

London's Rainy Spell Broken, Tops Records

LONDON, Feb. 21 (Reuters)—The sun peeped out over London today to break a rainy spell which beat all records.

Clerks worked in their shirt sleeves, umbrellas were left at home for the first time for a week, and spring seemed on its way.

But not far from the sunny capital rain was still falling in the Thames Valley, with the river two inches up in places. Flood waters, built up over a week, were still flowing over 10 counties.

Rainfall so far this month — 4.43 inches against a normal average of 1.54 inches—has broken all known records for 100 years. The previous record was 4.13 inches recorded in 1879.

A Nice Break

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP). —A £10-a-week radio engineer who became a Peer last August was notified today that he has inherited an estimated £408,928 ($1,226,784) estate and Ravensworth Castle at Gateshead. He is 26-year-old Lord Ravensworth, who succeeded to the Peerage after the death of his uncle, Baron Ravensworth, 48, in a car crash.

Red Army Blocks 2 Attempts To Cross Han River

TOKYO, Feb. 21. (AP) — Allied forces flattened out the Reds' Wonju bulge in Central Korea today, but in the West the Communists blocked two new Allied attempts to cross the Han River.

A driving, relentless rain turned the whole Korean battlefront into a mud puddle.

Field dispatches said the rain-soaked UN soldiers, bogged down tanks, filled foxholes and deepened the miseries of the front.

Red mortar fire—"the heaviest and most accurate I've ever seen," said one commander—drove back an armored patrol to the south bank of the Han River seven miles east of Seoul.

Heavy Resistance

Five miles downstream from Seoul, heavy resistance checked a South Korean patrol trying to cross the Han.

American and British troops mopped up Red stragglers south of the river.

On the East Central front, United Nations troops thrust forward against light opposition. On the West Central front, advance patrols were moving ahead north of Chipyong, where a French-American force last week smashed a massive Red counter-attack. Scattered in an arc north of the Wonju salient were 40,000 Communist troops who had pulled back from the attack to lick their wounds.

4 Shots Fired At Man In Bed

TORONTO, Feb. 21 —(CP)—Frank Perri, 63, accused of shooting at his nephew, died in hospital today from what police said was a self-inflicted head wound.

Earlier police said a warrant had been issued for Perri, charging him with attempted murder after four shots were fired at John Travolo, 50. Travolo, in bed at the time of the shooting, was unhurt.

Police said Perri, who came here two days ago from Vancouver, was taken to hospital with a head wound, apparently self-inflicted from a 38 calibre revolver.

Travolo told police he wasn't on speaking terms with his wife and he believed his uncle was trying to settle the spat. Four bullets were fired in the shooting.

Inspector Felix Connolly said Travolo's action in rolling out of bed and "pretending to be dead" saved him from injury.

Jury Verdict In 15 Minutes Frees Oshawan In Fatality

It took a petty jury less than 15 minutes to decide Tuesday afternoon that 20-year-old Allan Dillon of Oshawa was not guilty of either manslaughter or dangerous driving in the death of Claude Lindstrom, 43, Scarboro, last November 17.

The accident occurred when Dillon, driving a dump truck loaded with six tons of asphalt, emerged from the Chemong turn and crashed into Lindstrom's car going west on Highway 7 toward Lindsay.

Lindstrom was instantly killed. His wife Edna sustained a severe head cut and additional cuts on her legs. The third occupant was a friend of the couple, John W. Dexter, 26, of Levack. His injuries required overnight attention in hospital.

Dillon, a former resident of Maynooth, was defended by T. J. Carley, KC. He freely admitted that he knew he was required to stop at the intersection and that Lindstrom had the right of way. But he said his hydraulic brakes failed on the downgrade when he tried them 200-250 feet north of the intersection.

Though he saw the Lindstrom car rounding the curve of Highway 7, going west, he didn't know for sure if the driver intended to continue on toward Lindsay or turn up the Chemong road.

Last Minute Swing

At the last moment he swung the heavy truck right. The front section of the truck missed the car and the point of collision was back on the left side of the truck, presumably at the front corner of the steel and wood box.

The top and left side of the 1936-model sedan was sheared away. And both Lindstrom and Dexter were thrown out on the highway. Mrs. Lindstrom, who was sitting between the men, was left dazed and bleeding in the wreck.

The dump truck ran across the highway and plowed into the south ditch. Dillon emerged uninjured from his wrecked vehicle by winding down a cabin window.

Ban Sale Of New Cars At Inflated Price

United States Sets Dollars-and-Cents Ceilings On All Used Cars

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The U.S. Government today banned the sale of new cars at inflated prices in the used car market and set dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on all used cars.

The regulations, announced by the office of price stabilization, are efective March 2.

Bruce Morris, chief of the agency's automobile pricing division, said the move was designed to halt a "widespread" flow of new cars into the used car market and to prevent used cars from selling above new car prices.

Both practices occurred during the last war.

The price schedule of used cars, under the ceiling, will be based on prices listed in guide books used by used car dealers as a yardstick of values.

OPS listed five standard books used in this connection and said that they will be recognized as the official source of dollars-and-cents prices for used automobiles.

Some Dealers Cheating

Morris explained that since automobile prices at the manufacturer's level were frozen on Dec. 18, some dealers have been selling new cars in the used car market at prices above the retail list price.

Today's action states that not only must dealers use guide book prices as ceilings on used cars but that, in any cases where guide book quotations on a used car are higher than the list price of the automobile when new, they must not charge more than the new car list price.

Morris explained this provision in the following manner:

One used car guide book quotes a price of [illegible] for a 1950 4-door Chevrolet sedan. The factory delivered new car list price on the same vehicle is carried at $1,450. Thus a dealer would not be permitted to charge more than $1,450 for the car under normal circumstances.

Police Officers Deny Making Rush Complaints

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 21 (CP) —Denials by ranking city police officers of testimony given earlier by Police Chief A. E. Knight continued today in the provincial inquiry into the dismissal of Allan J. Rush from the London police force. The former detective was elected London's mayor after he was dismissed without being given a reason last July.

Sgt. Pat McKinley said today he had never directly told the chief that Rush had visited patrolmen on their beats and discussed the controversial evaluation plan. He said he had informed Chief Knight of certain "rumors" and had pointed out his information was second hand.

He said that Chief Knight had never at any time asked him for a report or a complaint in writing against Rush and that he had never offered one.

Said Men Contacted

He reported to Chief Knight that acting Sgt. Len Elgie had told him (McKinley) that men had said they had been contacted. He repeated this statement under persistent questioning by Supreme Court Justice W. D. Roach, presiding at the investigation.

Sgt. McKinley testified that he allowed Sgt. Elgie, then a constable, to address his shift of men in the police station prior to their going on duty. He said Elgie spoke in favor of the evaluation plan. He conceded he was on duty at the time.

A main point of the chief constable's indictment against Rush was that he had spoken to men on duty to speak about the evaluation plan. The chief said he was informed of this by Sgt. McKinley.

The inquiry took an unexpected turn Tuesday.

In a crowded courtroom two high city police officials denied that they had made complaints against Mayor Rush while he was serving on the force.

Police Chief A. E. Knight had said earlier in the hearing before Mr. Justice W. D. Roach that complaints made by the two officers about Mayor Rush's work were the basis for his dismissal from the force.

Inspector of Detectives William Snell denied clause by clause the series of charges attributed to him by Chief Knight.

He said he had never had reason to complain about Mayor Rush. He described the ex-detective's work as "excellent."

Former Inspector George Tomblin, until last year chief of the London morality squad, told the inquiry that not only did he not complain about Rush, but that he recommended that Rush be-

CCL Launches Drive For Funds For Asia

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor announced today it is launching a campaign to provide funds for leadership training in trade unions of southeast Asia.

The step is in line with a policy declaration passed at the CCL annual convention last September advocating action to meet the threat of Communism.

Canadian unions of the United Steelworkers of America already have launched a drive for $25,000 to be used for trade union educational purposes in southeast Asia, the announcement said. This fund will form part of the CCL donation, which will be spent through the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

Countries expected to benefit from the plan include India, Pakistan, Burma, Indo-China and Malaya.

Britain, US Propose Plan To End India-Pakistan Feud

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Feb. 21. (AP)—Britain and the United States today called on India and Pakistan to end their feud over control of the princely state of Kashmir. The two Western powers introduced a resolution in the United Nations Security Council aimed at demilitarizing the disputed Himalayan territory and carrying out a plebiscite which the UN first ordered in 1948.

The sponsors feel that, with all Asia in a state of unrest, it is vital to heal the sore splitting the two non-Communist countries of the Indian sub-continent.

Under the resolution the council would:

1. Appoint a U.N. representative to supervise demilitarization and the plebiscite.

2. Authorize the U.N. representative to "take into account the possibility" that armed forces of U.N. members might be used to keep the peace when rival India and Pakistan armies are withdrawn from Kashmir before the plebiscite.

Minor Partitions

3. Suggest that some border areas might want to split off from whichever country Kashmir votes to join and link their future with the other. It says such minor partitions might be possible.

4. Call on India and Pakistan to agree to impartial arbitration by a panel appointed by the international court of justice if the U.N. representative is unable to effect agreement between them.

India and Pakistan have fought over Kashmir since they gained their independence from Britain in 1947. The early stages of the struggle were marked by bloodshed but the U.N. managed to get agreement on a cease fire as of Jan. 1, 1949.

Indian troops are in control of most of the country; Pakistani forces garrison the rest.

Pakistan charges that India has refused to agree to a plebiscite because most of Kashmir's population are Moslems and would probably vote to join Moslem Pakistan. India has denied this.

Railway Union Considers Offer

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP). — British rail union leaders met today behind closed doors to consider a wage offer the Government hopes will head off a general strike on the state-owned lines.

Already more than 3,000 men had left their jobs at nine depots in Manchester. Another 12,000 were engaged in a slow-down in London, Birmingham, Bristol, Southampton and Liverpool.

The railways employ about 600,000 workers.

The railway executive, which runs the lines, has offered a blanket wage increase of five per cent. It would cost £7,000,000 ($21,000,000) a year. The various unions involved are holding out for 7½ to 15 per cent.

The unions say the basic minimum wage now is only the equivalent of £6 9s 3d a week.

Increase Offer

It was reported unofficially that the executive increased its offer slightly during a long huddle with union officials Tuesday.

Meanwhile, work returned to normal on the docks of London, Manchester, Glasgow and Liverpool, crippled Tuesday by a wildcat strike of nearly 20,000 men.

The stoppage was in protest against the arraignment of seven dockers accused of engaging in a conspiracy to incite illegal dock strikes. More than 18,000 dockers went on strike temporarily last week.

Leaders of the unofficial walkout have asked the dockers to go out again next Tuesday when the court hearing resumes.

Bus Line Issues Writ Against CPR

SUDBURY, Feb. 21 (CP) — Nickel Belt Coach Lines, Sudbury has issued a writ against the CPR in a claim for an unstated amount in property damages arising from the Feb. 9 accident in which the company's bus was struck by a CPR passenger train. Nine persons were killed and 30 others, all aboard the bus, injured.

The wri was filed specifically against the CPR and two employees, F. Dowdall, engineer on the passenger train, and W. Zahavich, fireman, both of North Bay.

According to documents filed in connection with the writ, the suit is for "damages for negligence of the defendants in the operation of a railway train at Coniston, Ont., on Feb. 9, 1951."

Driver of the bus, Edouard Carriere, 24, has recovered from injuries and is again driving a Nickel Belt bus.

The bus company, which provided bail of $3,000 for Carriere, who faces a charge of manslaughter in connection with the mishap, has stated that it attaches no blame to the driver and believes he took all precautions in crossing the railway tracks. Carriere will appear in court April 17.

Howe Hints Cut In Car Output

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 — (CP). — Trade Minister Howe said Tuesday the government is considering a reduction in the production of passenger cars to curb civilian demands on steel.

He said the reduction likely will be put into effect as soon as Canada and the United States reach agreement on an army vehicle to be produced in Canada for both Canadian and US defence forces.

He said other reductions in civilian use of steel will follow and likely will parallel action taken by the United States.

In Washington the National Production Authority ordered a 20-per-cent reduction in the use of steel for passenger cars and consumer durable goods.

Mr. Howe did not disclose what army vehicle is under joint Canada-US consideration, but it appeared to be a new jeep which already has been announced by Defence Minister Claxton, who said recently orders for this vehicle when produced in Canada likely will reach $36,000,000.

Special Taxes On Farm Land Too High, Ask For Relief

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP). — The problem of farmers having to pay higher taxes to provide educational and social services for non-farming families in farming areas on the fringes of cities and towns came up Tuesday at the annual convention of the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities.

Delegates proposed that farm land be relieved of taxation that goes to support education, welfare and firefighting and police services in mixed rural and urban municipalities.

The proposal was contained in a resolution put forward by Reeve W. H. Westney of Pickering township, who said the farmers' share of such costs is out of line.

Reeve Westney said that in Pickering township, in the Oshawa area about 20 miles east of Toronto, 50 per cent of the total assessment is levied on the farm group, which forms only 26.7 per cent of the township's population.

W. M. Abraham of Chatham said that, in a township bordering on Chatham, the urban population which is 42 per cent of the total, pays only 12 per cent of the tax. Three other townships bordering on that city were in similar circumstances.

"There is no question that rural districts bear the heaviest load of taxation," Mr. Abraham said.

RAF Makes Aviation History By Doing Crossing In 4 Hours, 40 Minutes

Plane Chops Nearly Hour Off Other Records Despite Bucking Headwinds, Startling Contrasts To Earlier Flights

GANDER, Nfld., Feb. 21. (CP) — The world's first jet bomber, the British-made Canberra, roared in for a landing at this western "cross-roads of the world" today to establish a trans-Atlantic speed record. Sqdn.-Ldr. A. E. Callard of the RAF brought the streamlined plane in for a touchdown at 1:25 p.m. AST, to end a flight of four hours and 40 minutes that made aviation history. Bucking headwinds from Aldergrove, Ireland, the twin-jet plane flew the Atlantic without a hitch, chopping nearly an hour off previous marks.

It just failed to arrive—by local time—before it started, since Atlantic Time is three hours behind Greenwich Mean Time. Besides the skipper, it carried a two-man crew—Flt.-Lt. E. A. J. Hasket, navigator, and Flt.-Lt. A. G. R. Robson, radio man.

Fastest previous times for the trip were in the easterly direction—taking advantage of winds. Capt. Charles Blair, an airline pilot, flew from New York to London in seven hours and 48 minutes a month ago. A Mosquito bomber flew from Gander to England in five hours and 10 minutes in wartime and a Royal Dutch Airlines Constellation did the trip in five hours and 28 minutes in December, 1949.

The crew members had little to say after their touchdown today except "lead us to the coffee."

Their flight was in startling contrast to early horse-and-buggy attempts to fly the ocean from east to west. It was first made by the German aircraft Bremen, April 13, 1928. The Bremen took off from Dublin and was forced down on Greenely Island in the St. Lawrence river.

The first east-west solo flight was made by the Australian Jimmy Mollison in 1932. Mollison flew a single-engined Puss Moth from Ireland to Pennfield Ridge, N.B., in about 36 gruelling hours.

The first trans-Atlantic flight in either direction in a heavier-than-air machine was achieved by John Alcock and Arthur Brown in a British Vimy Vickers in 1919. Alcock and Brown flew from Newfoundland and landed at Galway, Ireland.

Charges Detective Checking Hockey Club

ELMIRA, Ont., Feb. 21—(CP) —Mayor C. E. Gibson said today Walkerton hockey officials had sent a private detective here to investigate members of Elmira's hockey club.

"We think it's a somewhat low, underhand way of going about it," said Dr. Gibson, a dentist and manager of the town's hockey club.

The mayor said the Elmira club had been served with a protest against three of its players but the protest probably will be dropped. He said the Walkerton club probably spent the fee for the detective "needlessly" because Walkerton eliminated Elmira in the third and deciding game of the Intermediate B Ontario Hockey Association playoffs Tuesday night.

Clarence Schmalz, manager of the Walkerton club, said at Walkerton he didn't care to discuss how his team conducted its business.

Top U.S. Officials For Defence Boost Seaway

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) —Top United States defence officials—civilian and military — today threw their support behind the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

Defence Secretary George C. Marshall testified he spoke for the defence department and the joint chiefs of staff.

Defence mobilizer Charles E. Wilson told the House of Representatives public works committee the project is both "vital" and "urgent."

John D. Small, chairman of the munitions board, enlarged on testimony given by Marshall as it related to work of his organization.

Marshall said the defence department and joint chiefs of staff based their support "on the advantages to national defence that this project offers."

Must Have Ores

Wilson said plans now call for expansion of the U.S. steel industry so it will be producing 130,000,000 ingot tons a year by 1960. This expansion will be useless, he said, if ores cannot be obtained to keep the facilities operating at capacity.

With U.S. supplies of iron ore dwindling, the country "must look elsewhere for the readily expandible supply that we must have in time of emergency."

Wilson, who in the past has openly opposed the seaway, added:

"These are the fundamental considerations that have brought me to the conclusion that the St. Lawrence seaway—in addition to its undoubted general contribution to our transportation system —is essential if we are to put our steel production—which is to say our entire mobilization effort — on a solid and secure foundation."

Wilson added that the power to be provided by the dual-purpose development is also essential to defence production."

Declare State Of Emergency

WELLAND, N. Z., Feb. 21 — (Reuters)—Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland announced tonight that the government has declared a state of national emergency because of the Dominion's dock strike.

All ports in the country were still idle today. The strike began Sunday, waterside workers demanding a pay increase of from 4s 3d. to six shillings (60 to 84 cents) an hour.

The employers have refused to pay more than four shillings an hour.

Threaten Jail Term Inciting Disobedience

LONDON, Feb. 21 (Reuters)— The government today threatened to jail anyone inciting military reservists to disboey call-up orders.

The move follows circulation of a chain-letter urging 235,000 wartime service men to ignore recall for 15 days' training this summer.

Attorney-General Sir Hartley Shawcross told parliament last week that he believed the chain-letter was sent out by a Communist-run organization.

A new government bill, sent to the House of Commons for approval, lays down penalties up to two years' imprisonment or a £500 ($1,500) fine for incitement to disaffection.

CCF Raps Ontario For Not Using Kennedy Proposals

TORONTO, Feb. 21. (CP) — A 3½-year-old report on Ontario forestry problems can still stir heated debate, the Legislature learned Tuesday. F. O. Robinson (CCF-Port Arthur) tangled with the Government over its implementation of Maj.-Gen. Howard Kennedy's 1947 Royal Commission Report on Forestry. The Government had "studiously avoided" carrying out the report's recommendation of 12 forest operating companies to control timber and pulpwood cutting, he said.

The Lands and Forests minister, Harold Scott, read a 35-page report on forest, crown land and wildlife administration. In it, he said that a large number of the 72 recommendations made by Maj.-Gen. Kennedy were in force "in whole or in part."

Today the legislature, in the regular Wednesday "private members day" instituted by Premier Frost, will consider bills proposed by opposition members.

Don't Approve Methods

The premier, interrupting Mr. Robinson's speech during Tuesday's Throne Speech debate to answer points raised, said the government was in full agreement with the aims of the Kennedy report but not with some of its recommended methods.

Mr. Frost termed "a highly-doubtful experiment" the report's proposal to establish forest operating companies in Northern Ontario.

The CCF party supports the idea of harvesting sawlogs and pulpwood by the forest operating companies, Mr. Robinson said. Existing contracts with private companies to cut on crown lands would be terminated and replaced with an authority which would end wasteful competition.

The companies would be in a position to institute new methods, such as using poplar and birch for pulpwood. Pulp and lumber companies had been "running the show long enough," he said.

The lands and forests minister said that new lumber and paper mills had been encouraged by the province's new export policy stopping export of unprocessed wood.

Limit New Mills

The policy would "largely, if not completely" halt the export of pulpwood and lumber unless the current forest inventory showed standing forests that would be wasted if wood were not sent to United States factories for a time. Size of new sawmills was being limited to prevent overcutting and formation of ghost towns.

Two former ghost towns, Espanola and Sturgeon Falls, had been rehabilitated, Mr. Scott said, while the province had promoted three big new pulp mills at Marathon, Long Lac and Red Rock.

The five-year forest inventory was almost complete, with more than 75,000,000 acres covered these were being included in long-range forest management plans.

Recommendations of the Kennedy report which had been put into effect, the minister said, included integration of operations by pulpwood and sawlog operators and establishment of an advisory committee on lands and forests.

Seeks Balance

The government opposed any policy to remove forest lands from crown ownership, Mr. Scott said. His policy sought to balance forest yield with forest growth.

His department, he said, employed more graduate foresters—140—than any state service in North America, and operated the largest forest fire-fighting organization in the world.

The fire force handled an average of 1,200 forest fires a year and confined 80 per cent of them to less than five acres. During the last 10 years, there were only two seasons when more than two-tenths of one per cent of forest area was burned over.

Study should be made of road needs in sparsely-settled northern areas. Conversion to standard highways of 20,000 miles of connecting roads, which the government was asked to take over would cost $500,000,000.

Mr. Robinson said Canada was "too eager" to export natural products in a raw or unfinished state, without using Canadian industries.

Ireland Faces Early Election

DUBLIN, Feb. 21 (AP).—Political writers are talking about the possibility of a general election in the Republic of Ireland this year.

Although the coalition government headed by personally-popular Prime Minister John Costello has given no indication that it intends to quit before its five-year term is up in 1953, the compromise cabinet is suffering from stresses and strains which threaten to tear it apart.

To combat rising prices and bring stability out of a growing inflationary situation, Costello's government instituted price freezes last Dec. 2.

It has been branded as a pre-eminently labor action penalizing the rest of the community. Manufacturers, the importers and shippers and everyone else concerned with the world market complain bitterly.

Pleads Guilty Gets Seven Days

Aubrey Fallis, 527 Romaine St, pleaded guilty in police court Thursday to drunk driving and was sentenced to seven days in jail.

Constable Grant Gillespie testified that about 1.20 a.m. Feb. 18 he was driving south on Aylmer St. with Constable Jack Wilson. At Sherbrooke St. he saw a car ahead of them driving from side to side. They followed it south to Rink St. and then west to Park St. before they were able to draw alongside and stop the car.

Fallis was behind the wheel drunk and half asleep. The constable said Fallis staggered as he got out and smelled strongly of liquor.

On the way back to the police station in the police cruiser, Fallis dozed of a couple of times.

Because he had already spent one day in jail, Fallis asked if his sentence could be dated back.

The magistrate said this could not be done and commented that "the current style in Toronto is 10 or 15 days." Fallis' car was impounded three months.

Careless Driving Charge Fine Totals $22.35

Convicted in police court today on a charge of careless driving, Morley Sucee, RR 11, Peterborough, was fined $10 and $12.35 costs.

"I don't see what defence there could be against this charge," Magistrate W. R. Philp KC said after hearing the evidence.

Constable Andre Dalton testified that shortly after midnight the morning of Feb. 3 he investigated an accident at Aylmer and Edinburgh Sts. The intersection is on a hill. Edinburgh St. rises steeply to the west and Aylmer St. inclines less steeply to the north.

The constable said he found both cars south of the intersection on Aylmer St. Sucee's car had just reached the south edge of the intersection after the impact. He had been driving north on Aylmer.

The other car, driven by Clarence Spencley of Lindsay, was facing toward the southwest about 11 feet south of the intersection.

Spencley said he had been driving west on Edinburgh up the hill. He could not see clearly through the frosted side window so he stopped when he reached Aylmer St. and rolled down his window.

He saw no traffic coming and started up. But because of snow at the intersection his wheels did not get traction and they spun as he inched forward. When he was about four feet into the intersection he saw the Sucee car at the bottom of the Aylmer St. hill.

He soon realized he would not be able to get across the intersection, so he turned down the hill to the south hoping to move faster downhill and get clear of the other car.

But the Sucee car hit his left side between the front and rear fenders.

Sucee said he was driving up the Aylmer St. hill. He was about 30 feet from the intersection before he saw the other car. He said he put on his brakes but they did not hold.

He said he couldn't see anything east of the intersection as he approached it because of the steep grade down. He had been driving about 25 miles an hour up the hill. Spencley put the speed of the Sucee car at about 40 miles an hour.

northeastern Korea all day Tuesday. Other allied naval forces bucked strong shore batteries around Wonsan on the Sea of Japan coast for the seventh straight day.

The U.S. cruiser St. Paul stood off Inchon port on the Yellow Sea and poured heavy fire into Red concentrations north of the thawing Han river around Red-held Seoul.

In their first big lunge since Gen. MacArthur ordered his troops to resume the initiative, allied troops swept northward 10 miles and captured Chunchon town.

Chunchon is 10 miles north of Chechon, objective of a Communist slash a few days ago on the east central front. The area has been a no man's land.

No Resistance

The US Eighth Army communique Wednesday said the Allied troops had encountered no enemy troops in the northward thrust.

Field dispatches said the Reds were pulling back so fast that they were leaving equipment and their dead in the snow.

A US 10th Corps spokesman said there was evidence of a hasty enemy retreat on the central fronts.

The last heavy Communist resistance ended late Tuesday north-east of Chechon, a road hub 20 miles south-east of Wonju.

American patrols ranged as much as 10 miles north-west and four miles north of Wonju.

Red forces hold Hoengsong, another key town 27 miles north of Wonju.

UK Troops Advance

On the west central front, British troops pushed eight miles north of Kyongan in an area 10 miles east of wrecked Seoul.

Low clouds and rain failed to slow the Far East Air Force B-29s in their radar-aimed blows at Communist supply routes.

For the seventh straight day the Superforts hit rail and highway targets along the Korean east coast. The Okinawa-based Superforts dropped 140 tons of bombs on Hamhung.

Rail and highway bridges between Tanchon and Cho also were bombed.

Police Officers

come inspector of the morality department on his (Tomblin's) retirement.

The present inquiry arises from the dismissal of Rush by the police commission last year. Rush attempted unsuccessfully to learn the reasons for his dismissal. Toward the end of 1950 he ran for the office of mayor and was elected, thus becoming a member of the police commission. Still unable to get the story behind his dismissal, he went to the Attorney-General and the inquiry was ordered.

Received Complaints

Chief Knight testified Monday at the opening of the inquiry that he had received complaints from Rush's superiors and that he presented these complaints to the police commission, which acted upon his recommendations and fired Mayor Rush.

Two police commissioners, County Judge Ian MacRae and City Magistrate Donald B. Menzies, said Tuesday they had accepted Chief Knight's statement and fired Mayor Rush because of it.

Under questioning, they admitted they had not checked or attempted to verify the chief's indictment of Rush—either by calling in the alleged complainants or confronting Rush with the statement.

Mr. Justice Roach expressed the opinion at Tuesday's sitting that the section under which Rush was fired did not give the commission authority to dismiss the detective without giving him any reason.

The police commissioners said they thought the section—No. 13 in the Police Act—had contained the necessary authority. They added that once they had decided on their course of action they intended pursuing it to the end and continued to deny Mayor Rush any information about his dismissal.

Churchill Fails 5th Attempt Topple Attlee

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Labor Party Tuesday night defeated by seven votes a Conservative motion censuring Prime Minister Attlee's government for its handling of the African peanut-growing scheme. The vote was 302 to 295.

The motion in the Commons was the fifth try this month by Conservative leader Winston Churchill to overthrow Attlee's government.

Churchill demanded that the House of Commons reject a government bill to write off a loss of £36,500,000 in a venture by the government's Overseas Corporation to raise peanuts on a gigantic scale in Tanganyika.

The government bill proposed to spend £6,000,000 more, but on experimental projects alone, and turn the scheme over to the Colonial Ministry. The Food Ministry had supervision of the original plan to clear thousands of acres in Tanganyika to grow peanuts for food fats.

Conservative Capt. Harry Crookshank said the government's plan to put the new arrangement in force on April 1—April Fool's Day—was appropriate.

Proved Failure

Food Minister Maurice Webb said the government had to admit its plans to mass-produce fats from African peanuts had proved to be beyond attainment. But, he added, the scheme might pay its way in time and to abandon it would mean loss of many tangible assets. The Overseas Corporation, he said, was now experimenting with cotton and tobacco.

The Conservatives previously had failed this month to overthrow the Attlee government on the issues of nationalization of the steel industry, its management of the rearmament effort, the meat shortage, and the coal shortage.

Find New Volcano In South Pacific

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — (CP) — Mariners in the South Pacific always have to be on the look out for something new. One island has risen above the sea and then disappeared again half a dozen times since it was charted. Now a new volcano, 500 feet high, has suddenly appeared out of the sea.

Mathew Island has until now been a tiny rock rising from the Pacific 150 miles east of New Caledonia and known only as a sanctuary for sea birds. When the ship Kelvinbank passed on its last voyage, however, it was found that a new peak had risen alongside. The first sign of anything unusual was a yellowish discoloration of the sea which was noticed the day before passing the island.

An examination of the new peak from the sea indicated that it probably had a big crater in the centre. Sulphur deposits could be seen around it and steam was rising from among the rocks.

Plan To Bar Reds In Co-Operatives

LONDON Feb. (CP)—Britain's big co-operative organization may call upon its 10,000,000 members to sign a declaration apparently aimed at Communists.

A proposal slated for discussion at the party's annual conference during Easter week would stipulate that members do not belong "to any organization which sponsors parliamentary or local government candidates in opposition to the candidates either of the co-operative party or of any other party with which it has an electoral arrangement."

The proposal is regarded as specifically framed to exclude Communists.

The co-op party, operating through some 1,030 retail societies, strongly supports the Labor government.

Diplomatic Effort

STOCKPORT, England (CP)— A boy of 14, on probation, bought a calendar to present his probation officer. The calendar bore the message: "It is a mistake to suppose that men succeed through success. They much oftener succeed through failure."

BACK FROM KOREA—Capt. R. C. Nunn, chaplain of the 2nd Battalion, PPCLI, is home in Scotland, Ont., after contracting virus pneumonia in Korea. The United Church of Canada minister said the one thing Canadian troops in Korea want is "solid action." 'There's nowhere to go for recreation," he said. "So the boys think they'll get their recreation in solid action."

LOCHNIVAR ROMANCE between Costa Kephaloyannis and his 19-year-old Cretan bride, Tassoula Petracogeorgi, came to a sad end recently with the bridegroom fined and sentenced to jail for two years. He kidnapped Tassoula at gun point last August and was convicted of carrying arms without a permit.

National Groups Boosting Canadian Education Drive

OTTAWA — (CP) — The greatest army this country has ever amassed — more than 3,000,000 strong — will shoulder weapons next month to get you to join in making education in Canada "everybody's business."

This strictly civilian exercise will be known as Canadian Education Week, March 4-10, from coast to coast, in cities, towns, villages and cross-roads, this campaign question will echo down the streets:

"What are you doing in your community, in your province, in your Canada, to strengthen education?"

Some Canadians, deep in thought over looming higher taxes and unprecedented peacetime defence expansion, will shrug the question and the campaign off without a thought.

Catch Significance

Others will catch the significance of the campaign. It is important in the light of the darkening threat to democracy and the need to be vigilant of the right educate our children as we please.

That, too, is the way the spokesmen for some 3,000,000 Canadians feel. Twelve diverse national organizations—including labor and management — have linked their efforts to join in sponsoring this, the greatest of all drives to get Canadians to think about meaing of a democratic education.

Variety Of Features

Schools will be thrown open to visits by parents. Special poster contests will be held among the pupils. Sermons on education will be delivered from the pulpit. In many communities lectures and tured. The radio will carry special tured. The radio will carry special programs, and movie houses across the country will show film strips devoted to education.

One of the chief "weapons" the sponsoring organizations will use to make education "everybody's business" is a little, photo-filled pamphlet. It stresses the fact that education in a democracy reaches beyond the school it permeates the home, the community, industry and the fighting forces. It brings opportunity for widespread progress. But it stresses this point, too—there still is room for improvement.

Disturbing Facts

In a bright little statistical outline, it illustrates some disturbing facts: only 68 out of every 100 children who start school finish elementary training; only 12 complete senior matriculation and only one takes a university degree.

Forces behind the campaign include:

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Association for Adult Education, Canadian Congress of Labor, Trades and Labor Congress, Canadian Education Association, Canadian Federation of Agriculture, Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation, Canadian Legion, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Canadian School Trustees Association, Canadian Teachers Federation, National Council of Women.

U.S. Makes Plans For Big 4 Paris Meeting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) —The United States is making detailed plans for a Big Four deputies meeting in Paris next month, even though officials believe Russia may veto the whole project.

The United States Britain and France are insisting that, as a condition to the Paris session, Moscow must be willing to talk about its own military power as a major cause of tensions in the world.

In a note delivered to Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky by the three Western ambassadors in Moscow Monday night, and made public Tuesday night, the Western governments sought to ease the way for Moscow's acceptance of this subject but authorities agreed the sugar-coating was thin.

What the note said in substance is this: Russia is maintaining "huge armaments," as are the satellite countries and Soviet Eastern Germany. The existence of these forces and Russia's aggressive policies are responsible for world tension and for the need of the Western countries to build up their own forces.

Mentioned Aarmaments

However, the notes continued, in previous exchanges Russia admitted that a number of questions other than Germany might be talked about. The Kremlin specifically drew attention to the question of armament.

The notes said the West therefore "assumes that the Soviet government does not object to the representatives of the four governments" preparing for a future Big Four foreign ministers meeting a program "which will cover the causes of tension in Europe, including the existing level of armaments; problems affecting Germany; the Austrian peace treaty."

If Russia agrees with the basis thus outlined for a meeting in Par's, the United States suggested that the meeting be held March 5. If the Russians are willing to go through with the session on the conditions specified, all they have to do is send word to London, Paris and Washington, that their delegation will be on hand. They would thus agree to discuss the arms race without specifically having to say so.

But in view of Russia's unwillingness to agree to this subject in previous exchanges of notes, and of Prime Minister Stalin's attack last week on Prime Minister Attlee of Britain for depicting Russia as a vast military power, authorities regard it as entirely possible that Moscow will turn thumbs down on the whole project.

Prices Climb Strongly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP). — Prices climbed strongly as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Trading was moderately active and volume for the first three hours of 1,132,000 shares was about 158,000 shares more than the same period yesterday.

Industrials advances ranged to more than a point. Papers and steels led with a wide list of issues ahead and utilities, agricultures, refining oils, liquors, manufacturing companies and retail stores showed a majority of gains.

Canada cement was a standout with a $2.50 jump to $65.50.

Base metals climbed slowly with small advances. Consolidated Smelters paced the group with a ⅝ increase and Waite Amulet, Steep Rock, International Nickel, Labrador, Noranda, Falconbridge and Normetal were higher.

Western oils advanced over a broad front.

McIntyre jumped $1.50 in an otherwise firm senior gold list. Junior producers were mixed with price changes limited to pennies.

185 Family Cases Supervised By Children's Aid Society

A total of 185 family cases involving 468 children were under the supervision of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society during the month of January, Miss Rachael Young told members of the Board of Directors at their meeting Tuesday.

Miss Young also stated that 178 children in foster homes and in the Children's Home and 54 unmarried parents cases were supervised during the month.

"Nineteen of the family cases came to us during the month," Miss Young explained. "Three of these came under the Matrimonial Causes Act, five were delinquencies of children, inadequate supervision of children in three cases, mental defectiveness and inadequate medical care in one case and drink and martial strife in one."

Five children came into the care of the society. Four of these were requests for adoption of children by relatives and one child was given temporary care pending further study of the case.

54 Boarding Homes

"At the present time, we have 54 boarding homes and 46 homes where children are on free home basis or adoption and placed by the society," Miss Young told the members. "We have 71 children in pay care, an increase of nine over one year ago."

Three unmarried parent cases came to the attention of the society. There were 29 hearings in family court, 12 of which were in the juvenile division.

During the month the society made 400 visits and held 188 office interviews.

Says Chinese Reds Keep Invasion Plan

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 21 (AP)—Vice-Admiral Arthur D. Struble, whose United States seventh fleet guards Formosa, today said the Chinese Communists all along have indicated their intention to invade the island—and there's no sign they have given up the plan.

Flying into Taipei for a four-day visit, Struble told correspondents that large-scale Communist operations against Formosa would depend to some extent on the weather, and "during the present weather the threat has declined."

Struble said the Nationalists have a larger naval potential than the Chinese Reds have and, from the naval viewpoint, are capable of conducting invasion operations against the mainland.

Here's Why You Need Aspirin When You Have A Cold
—To Feel Better, Fast!

At the first sign of a cold—before you do anything else—take two ASPIRIN tablets with a full glass of water. Here's why: When you have a cold, it's almost invariably accompanied by a headachy, feverish feeling and muscular aches and pains. And it's very important to your well being that you treat these distressing symptoms with a medication that will relieve them . . . relieve them quickly. By taking ASPIRIN at the first sign of a cold, you'll get this important relief.

No matter how you try to stop or shorten a cold, authorities will tell you that this is sound advice.

FEEL BETTER FAST

And when you take ASPIRIN, you'll discover why millions have followed this advice with remarkable results. For ASPIRIN works fast. It actually goes to work in two seconds. And this is one reason why it brings you amazingly quick relief from these painful cold symptoms.

This two-second speed is something you can see with your own eyes by dropping an ASPIRIN tablet in a glass of water and "clocking" its disintegration.

WHAT TO DO FOR SORE THROAT

When your cold causes a sore throat, gargle with three ASPIRIN tablets dissolved in one-third of a glass of water. This makes a potent medicinal gargle that almost instantly soothes tender throat membranes, relieves pain and irritation.

Besides being effective, ASPIRIN is also gentle. Its single active ingredient is so gentle to the system that it is regularly prescribed, even for small children.

Keep ASPIRIN handy. When you buy, get the 100-tablet bottle which gives you ASPIRIN for less than a penny a tablet.

Because no other pain reliever can match its record of use by millions of people, without ill effect, one thing you can take with complete confidence is

Would The 'Utility' Scheme Work?

A rumour from Ottawa suggests that the Dominion Government is toying with the idea of trying the scheme of 'utility' goods, which was used in Britain during and after the war as a method of saving scarce materials and controlling prices. We hope that the plan will not be tried because we do not think that it would work in a country at peace, and because we believe it to be a type of economic manipulation which should be avoided if possible.

* * *

Britain set up the 'utility' scheme in 1941, and this is how it worked: manufacturers of many kinds of goods which were in heavy demand were compelled by law to make up a certain percentage of their stock in what were called 'utility' patterns; these were simpler than ordinary goods, for the maximum materials to be used in them were specified by law; they sold at prices fixed by law. Thus there were 'utility' clothes, boots, furniture, household linen and most other necessary articles. They outsold non-utility lines many times over, for although they were plain, they were cheap compared with non-utility goods. If the manufacturer could not produce them at the price decreed by the government, he was given a subsidy to help him to do so.

* * *

The objections to this scheme, as we see it, are these: in order to make it work, extremely rigid manufacturing controls would be necessary, and such controls could not be enforced without a big staff. And yet, with 'utility' and non-utility goods on sale at the same time, there would be no truly effective price control; and as the utility goods would always be in great demand, they would also be in short supply, and there would be dissatisfaction over the scheme. Furthermore, the British government found that the scheme would not work without subsidies for the manufacturers; what is the real advantage to taxpayers in a scheme which demands a big government staff, and subsidies as well? It would simply be taking money out of one pocket in order to put it into another.

* * *

Would such a plan work in a country at peace—for we are at peace, even though we have troops in Korea, and are spending great sums on armaments. Controls of all kinds are unpopular, and can be tolerated only when they are necessary. At present the nation's supplies of money are constantly on the increase; is it good economics to make goods cheaper, and scarcer at the same time? Let us profit by the experience of Britain in this matter: the 'utility' scheme worked there under the pinch of necessity, and it cannot be said that it worked particularly well. The necessity does not exist here, and such a plan would merely act as another evasion of the law of supply and demand—a law which no amount of official manipulation has even been able to revoke.

How To Kill A Newspaper

The Peron government of Argentina has just finished a classic demonstration of the manner in which a dictatorship can kill a newspaper which is unfavorable to it. The newspaper in this case was La Prensa—in its way, one of the most remarkable newspapers in the world. In a country never distinguished for the moderation or responsibility of its press, La Prensa had dignity and integrity; it devoted large sums of money to cultural interests, and gave unusual publicity to cultural matters; no artistic event of first-rate importance anywhere in the world was without its correspondent from La Prensa. In politics the paper was of independent liberal views, and understandably it could not approve of the doings of General Peron. The paper did not attack him: it printed very full accounts of government activities, and left its readers to form their own conclusions.

In the early days of his regime General Peron was not subtle in his dealings with La Prensa; in February 1946, when he was elected president, his goons (called descamisados, or "the shirt-sleeved ones") tried to burn the newspaper building. This failed, but soon La Prensa was ordered to pay a tax on newsprint, traditionally tax-free, which was made retroactive for several years. Then the government ordered a halt in the installation of a new rotary press. None of these plans killed the paper.

General Peron is the idol of the Argentinian trade unions. He went to work through them. Recently two government-controlled unions made fantastic wage demands on La Prensa; one of these was the news-vendors' union, which demanded 20 per cent. of all revenue from classified advertising, and the right to handle all copies of the paper, making it impossible for anyone to subscribe to it or have it delivered by mail. La Prensa refused the demands, the unions called out their men, and the paper ceased publication.

This leaves Argentina with only one independent paper, La Nacion, and its days appear to be numbered. Tyranny and a free press cannot exist in the same country. Fortunately it is not always tyranny which wins the fight.

Tone-Poem On Influenza

The 'flu has hit Montreal rather hard; in fact, in some schools and offices there, a third of the drones have been absent because of a malady labelled heavy cold, fever, or influenza of the British type. Toronto, our other big metropolis, has fortunately not been struck down by 'flu, not yet. When Toronto gets the 'flu, it gets it bad. We are not thinking only of 1918.

There was a bout of 'flu at the beginning of the thirties which singularly moved a Toronto doctor, Dr. Forde McLoughlin. Dr. McLoughlin, something of an amateur musician, laid aside his stethoscope and took up pen and tune and wrote a Tone-Poem, called Influenza. This musical effluvium was presented to the Canadian Medical Association in 1932.

Every cloud has a silver lining. Since the innumerable instrumental pieces labelled Bumble-Bee, Fireflies, Mosquitoes et al., dispose sensitive people to get rid of such beasties—to prevent more such musical parodies—perhaps Dr. McLoughlin's Influenza - A Tone-Poem has spurred the C.M.A. to discover the virus of influenza and get rid of that disease. Certainly it is not a subject on which we ourself can become musically lyrical.

Why Shouldn't The Bible Be Hard To Understand?

We agree with the Ottawa Journal that the reports on the new translation of the Bible which is in progress in the U.S.A. are depressing. The principal object of the translators, it appears, is to make the Bible easily understandable by modern readers. We cannot see the need for this, for in our opinion the Bible is already easily understandable by any modern reader who cares to use his head, except in a few passages which modern scholarship has shown to be mistranslations. It would be easy to publish these mistranslations, with corrected versions, in a pamphlet, and it would sell in great numbers.

A published example of the new translation gives us a poor opinion of it. In the parable of the Prodigal Son, "portion of goods that falleth" is to become "share of property that falls." "Wasted his substance with riotous living" will be "squandered his property in loose living." That fine passage, "he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat; and no man gave unto him," becomes "he would gladly have fed on the pods that the swine ate; and no one gave him anything." The modern translation has a taste like sawdust, after the mouth-filling phrases of the Authorized Version. And that is an important point, for the Bible was translated to be read aloud, in churches; private study came later. Who wants to hear such namby-pamby stuff as we have quoted above read to him in church?

What if the English of the Bible is sometimes difficult for the indifferently educated reader of today? Let him sweat a little; let him use his dictionary; let him work to find out its meaning. If he does not know that "prevent" in Bible English means "go before," it will do him no harm to find it out. Nobody in his right senses suggests that the plays of Shakespeare, which are sometimes a little difficult for modern hearers, should be boiled down into a feebler English.

It is no argument to say that the Authorized Version is a translation from Greek and Hebrew. It is also a great English prose work, and he who idly monkeys with that noble prose in the hope of luring a few semi-literates to read the result is wasting his time. People who comprehend no language but that of their own time and their own little section of the world are in danger of hellfire, anyhow. Anyone whose religion is too feeble to stand up to a little work in studying the Bible in the Authorized Version does not need a new translation; he needs a new heart and a new soul. And if the boneless prose we have quoted above from the new version impresses him as high-toned and worthy of the Word of God, he needs a new vocabulary as well.

NOTE AND COMMENT

An official of the Ontario Barbers' Association says that there is a crying need for properly trained barbers. With haircuts going to $1 it is nice to think that the man knows what he is doing.

The Calgary aldermen want special stickers to be placed on their automobiles, so that they will be exempted from ordinary parking restrictions. Funny how, in spite of all our Canadian enthusiasm for democracy, village grandees pop up with these notions from time to time.

Adventure and Scholarship

THE FAR LANDS, by James Norman Hall (McClelland & Stewart, Ltd.).

THIS new book by James Norman Hall is not, I am sorry to say, comparable to the stories he has written in collaboration with Charles Nordhoff. Or perhaps I should say it is not the usual rugged and adventurous style we have come to expect from him. "The Far Lands" holds none of the essential villiany of "Mutiny on the Bounty" nor the desperation of "Men Without Country": it is set in a slower pace altogether and is more of the romantic type of South Sea novel.

The story in this book is built from a legend of the Polynesian people—the history of their discovery and settlement of their islands. Why the Tongan clan left their native land and sailed "en masse" in search of a better land promised to them by their God is not known, but as people all over the world since the beginning of time have been leaving their native lands in the hope of finding something better, it makes a very natural beginning to work from. The Tongan clan numbered over 800 people and they set out in search of their future paradise in nice ships. Considering the primitive times they lived in the discomfort of this can be imagined and it is not surprising that only four ships were finally dragged out of the sea and onto the Island of Kurapo by the Koro clan. All the survivors were in the last stages of exhaustion when rescued and they were cared for well enough but it soon became apparent that the two clans would always be opposed to each others' ideals; the Koros only permitted the Tongans to remain on an isolated portion of the island and only as long as they built sea crafts of war for them. The Koros worshiped a war god and the Tongans a peace god.

After growing to manhood on the island the son of the Tongan chief falls in love with the daughter of the Koro chief and violates the laws set upon his people in his determination to win her. The consequence is, of course, either war with the Koros or another exodus. Which they chose and how they follow their choice it would be unfair to reveal. Anyone interested in the legends of the South Seas or in this story as far as they can grasp it from this reviewer's brief outlines should be allowed to discover the ultimate adventure for themselves. Personally I found the story ponderous and definitely not up to the author's usual standard. S.S.T.

THE SCHOLAR ADVENTURES, by Richard D. Altick (Macmillan).

WHAT does the word "scholar" mean to the average reader? A learned man, but also a somewhat comic figure—a drudge, concerned about trifles. It is Mr. Altick's concern in this amusing and instructive book to show us that scholars have adventures which make them travel, make them work as detectives and diplomats, make them sometimes do things which are not entirely on the right side of the law. Scholars, he tells us, can have just as much fun as anybody, and more than most.

The book is full of good stories. The tale of the discovery and acquirement of the long-lost Boswell papers is re-told here. So is the story of the death of Christopher Marlowe, a mystery for two centuries. There is an excellent chapter about literary forgeries—not the production of fake manuscripts, but the more subtle production of fake first editions We are told of the curious bowdlerization carried on by Hawthorne's wife, who would not even allow her husband to say in his personal diary that he "got into bed"; he had to say "I composed myself to sleep"; this throws some light on the strange mustiness of even the best of Hawthorne's work. We are given some new light on Burns and De Quincey. And to mention these things is hardly to scratch the surface of a book which is full of interest for bookish people. Scholars do have adventures; some of us will envy them their excitements as we read this book.

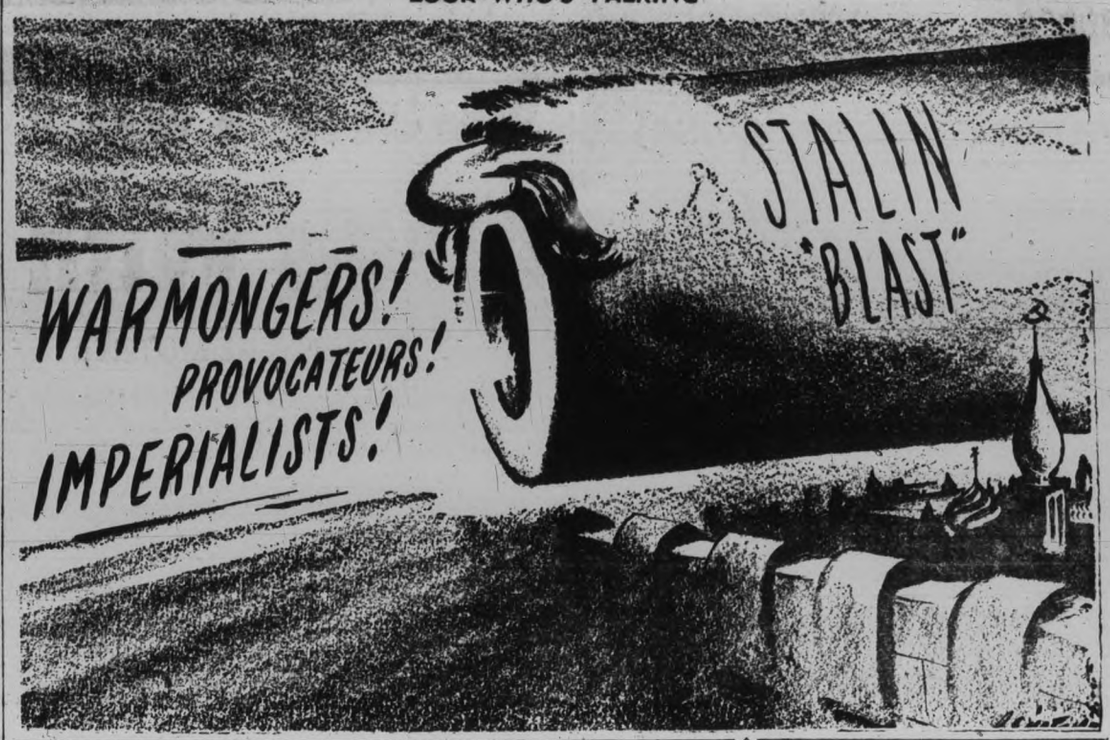
GOETHE AND SCOTT, by G. H. Needler (Oxford University Press).

IT is a personal privilege to note in this column the publication of Professor Needler's monograph on Goethe and Scott. Although this reviewer is not competent to discuss except superficially either the German poet and philosopher, or Sir Walter, he appreciates that here, in this 140-page offshoot of ripe, imaginative scholarship is a Canadian contribution to the bicentenary observance of Goethe's birth in 1749. He is also delighted in this evidence that Professor Needler's mind and pen continue along scholarly byways even though he has long retired from his University of Toronto chair. Professor Needler's last disquisition, in my recollection, concerned Champlain's exact route through the Kawarthas. My first vicarious acquaintance with Doctor Needler (who is, incidentally, a Millbrook man) was through his rhyming translation of the Niebelungenlied, dated New York, 1904.



The present monograph is an episodic treatise on all, surely, that there is to know about the relations between Scott and Goethe, literary and personal. Dr. Needler nets the two great men together with learned guile, and the thread, it seems, is Byron. Scott revered Goethe; Goethe finally came to call Scott "the richest, most skilful and most celebrated story-teller of his century". Incidentally, both men died the same year, 1832. It is good to sense again through these pages the international world of men of letters. Although neither Scott nor Goethe travelled greatly, they are cosmopolitan. Although both are national writers, they both belong to the international realm of philosopher, poet and story-teller. The book has an interesting appendix of parallels between Scott and Goethe. THE PORTABLE COLERIDGE, edited by I. A. Richards (Macmillan).

SOME figures in literature attract us by their personalities as much as by their thoughts; Dr. Johnson and Lamb serve as examples. There are other writers about whom it is better not to know too much, and Coleridge is one of these. He was a depressing man, involved in endless muddles and miscarriages, but as a writer and thinker he has few peers in English letters. This selection from his work, in the now familiar Portable format, includes the best of his poetry, a large part of the Biographia Literaria, some of his political and literary journalism, and a good selection from his notebooks and letters. So far as the present reviewer is capable of judging, this excellent selection is well edited; the preface, with its biography of Coleridge and its critical estimate of his work, is brief and is written with a degree of honesty which is not as common in this sort of work as it should be. The volume forms an admirable introduction to a somewhat neglected great figure in English literature. R.D.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING

A Policy of Panic

By BERTRAND RUSSELL IN THE NEW YORK TIMES

I HAVE been much struck in recent conversations with Americans by the fact that all considerations of wise strategy have been swept away in many minds by considerations which appear to them to be "moral." If you say that the war against China cannot be brought to a successful conclusion except by an enormous war effort and that such a war effort diverted to the Far East is almost certain to involve disaster in Europe, you are likely to be met by mere abuse.

If you are a Democrat you will be told that all Democrats and New Dealers are traitors, as has been proved in the case of Alger Hiss. If you are an Englishman you will be told that the British government is Socialist and that there is no real distinction between a Socialist and a Communist. If you are a Frenchman you will be told that you are only out to save your own skin.

If you are a German you will be told that as soon as Western Germany gets a chance it will unite with Eastern Germany and Russia to wreak vengeance upon the Western World. In this torrent of vituperation the strategic question is lost sight of and it comes to be thought that rhetoric is an adequate substitute for military wisdom.

I do not, of course, wish to suggest that all Americans are in this irrational frame of mind. But, unfortunately, those who think in this way have vigorous and unscrupulous leaders who realize the usefulness of mass hysteria in internal party politics. We used to think it a peculiarity of the French that in moments of danger they exclaimed: "Nous sommes trahis!"—"We are betrayed!" In the old days we considered this pecularity not very admirable. It has, however, ceased to be a national peculiarity of the French.

THERE are now in America two large groups, one of which is occupied in proclaiming treachery everywhere, while the other is occupied in frantic and terrified efforts to prove that it is not guilty of treachery. In bringing and rebutting the charge of treachery, both sides have been driven to actions plainly contrary to the national interests.

It is not only externally that a policy of panic is leading America astray. Internally also, the atmosphere of suspicion is poisoning public life and impairing the efficiency of the war effort. To everyone who is not American, the hostility toward Mr. Acheson appears absurd, and those who most prominently display it seem quite obviously less wise in their policy than he is.

I do not, of course, deny that the fear of treachery is rational up to a point. Crypto-Communists in the United States, in Canada, and in Britain have been guilty of quite definite traitorous actions, and no sensible governmen can ignore the danger which is presented by the existence of men willing to behave in this way. But here again the acts inspired by panic fear are not those which would be inspired by a rational apprehension of the danger.

Recent American legislation, though based on the principle that all Communists are scoundrels, assumes as a matter of course that they will not be guilty of perjury, and that they can be kept out by the simple process of admitting only those who swear that they are not Communists.

American legislation has always had a surprising belief in the efficiency of oaths. For many decades it has been impossible for an alien to obtain a United States visa until he had sworn that his purpose in visiting America was not the assassination of the President. It was, apparently, assumed that any man who had this purpose would, of course, avow it honestly.

THE inquisition which has been instituted recently, not only by the State Department, but by many private firms, not only into the politics but into the private lives of applicants for employment, is frequently vexatious and insulting. But what is more to the purpose is, that while it is calculated frequently to exclude honest men, it is by no means proof against the cleverness of professional spies.

Perhaps the most serious damage which is being done by the present witch-hunt to the interests of the United States and of the free world in general, is in the sphere of scientific research. Able men of science in America are avoiding public employment because of the intolerable inquisition to which they are subjected, and because of the danger that they may be smirched by wholly mistaken rejection on some utterly ridiculous ground.

One of the hopes of the free world has been that Russian scientific technique would fall behind, owing to the fact that Russian scientists have to profess agreement with all Stalin's fads. This ground for hope will be very much diminished if American scientists have to profess agreement with the fads of Senator Joseph McCarthy.

If, in the next war, America is not found to have the technical superiority in atomic warfare that it had in the last war, it will be very largely the result of the excessive inquisition that has grown up during the last few years as a result of fright.

DELIVER THE PERSONAL MAIL

Sir: Just to give the buses a rest I would like to speak of our mail delivery. If it is found needful to have only one mail delivery a day, why do they not deliver our mail instead of turning it into an advertising job? On a special birthday in my family I was disgusted in only receiving one card from the mail carrier. I asked him if he was sure that was all. He said you will no doubt get more tomorrow. But tomorrow was not the birthday. But I received two envelopes containing coupons for soap and soup. Why do not the manufacturers hire some of the young men around the streets and pay them to deliver these coupons? Does the government need the revenue from this mail? I realize a postman can only carry so much, but why cannot that be the mail that a person is really waiting for? After all, we get the soap and soup news on our radio.

I have always been very willing to help anything that was needful, but I certainly think this mail business is the bunk. Cut out all cheap magazines and advertising through the mail and give us our personal mail.

I beg to remain,

A Reader of Your Very Good Paper.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness! No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on....

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Matt. 6: 22-25, 33.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. (Matt. 7: 21.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God....

Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good (Rom. 12: 2, 21.)

Young Actors Rapped For Hairdos

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21 (AP). —A top beauty expert of Hollywood today rapped the younger crop of male actors for their "sloppy" hairdos.

"They're messes, all of them," axclaimed Patricia Stenz, who operates what appears to be filmdom's only male beauty salon. Her specialty is restoring and treating hair, and her customers have included Dick Powell, Gary Cooper, Fred MacMurray, John Lund, Jose Ferrer and Mel Ferrer..

"I just shudder when I see some of the young actors," she shuddered. "They look awful and they're ruining their hair.

"Farley Granger is one of the worst. He wears sideburns and lets his hair dangle over his forehead. I suppose he thinks it looks cute. I think it only makes him look unkempt.

"On the other hand the girls cut their hair so short they look like boys. The sexes are getting out of balance."

John Derek also looks in need of a good combing, she added. As for Burt Lancaster—"he looks as though he had just stepped out of a shower and run his hand through his hair."

Miss Stenz blamed the increase of baldness and scalp falsies to improper care of the hair. She cited these causes: harmful hair tonics and shampoos (those containing acids or alkalis); failure to clean the hair properly (it should be done twice weekly); harmful haircuts (she disapproved of the crew cut, except for army men); improper diet.

Capsule Review

"Royal Wedding" is a musical delight. Thanks to some imaginative directing and three or four inspired musical numbers, the MGM musical factory has turned out one of its best productions. The plot is slim—about a brother and sister dance act with romantic complications. Fred Astaire and Jane Powell are given free reign for their unique talents and come through handsomely. Peter Lawford and Sarah Churchill supply the romantic interest.

Decide Bevan Will Be Keeping Place In Attlee Government

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Feb. 21 (CP)—Correspondents who started to write the political obituary of Aneurin (Nye) Bevan can put their notes back in the bottom drawer, labelled "hold indefinitely."

Sick as he seemed a couple of months ago, Britain's new labor minister now is definitely restored to his usual robust health. Once again Nye ranks close behind Prime Minister Attlee and Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison as the Labor party's top personality.

The change has been wrought largely by a single speech. Last week Bevan stood up in the House of Commons without a note and delivered an address which even the Conservative press applauded. Praise came unexpectedly, too, from Winston Churchill, long Bevan's arch-rival.

Towards the end of his address Bevan mentioned Churchill and the Nazis in the same breath. Softly, Churchill interposed:

"I had nothing to do with the Nazis. Do not spoil a good speech now."

Way He Said It

As in all Bevan's speeches, it wasn't so much what he said as the way he said it. He also contrived to speak refreshingly on a topic which usually depresses orators — Russia. Somehow he made the Soviet colossus seem less dreadful than people imagine.

"I do not believe that a nation, however large its manpower, coldly contemplates launching 25,000,000 tons of steel per annum against the combination of 140,000,000 tons per annum," Bevan said.

At another point: "One has only to read a Communist thesis today to see that it has not changed in the 100 years since Karl Marx wrote it, and I am a considerable student of Karl Marx."

This blunt speaking from the man generally accepted as the leader of Labor's left wing (excluding the pacifist elements) was welcomed by most newspapers. Although Bevan has never belonged to the group of apologists for Russia, most people were glad to have him reaffirm his position.

The reception accorded Bevan's latest parliamentary effort contrasts strangely with the way political pundits were talking before he switched from the health ministry to replace George Isaacs as labor minister.

Marvel And His Manager Beat Layton In Main Bout

The Masked Marvel, with an assist from his masked manager, won the main mat bout at the Brock Arena last night over Lord Athol Layton. The deciding fall came in seven minutes and the big crowd didn't like it—even the police being pushed around briefly. After a rough go, the pair wound up on the arena floor outside the ropes and Athol chased the Mask around the ring part way. The Mask's manager—sitting outside at a corner — then tripped Layton as the Marvel climbed back in time to beat the count, but Layton couldn't make it.

Athol took the second and equalizing fall in 13 minutes with a rolling reverse body scissors and shoulder stand. He went 258 pounds and had reach and speed over the 246-pound Mask, but the latter was rugged and used illegal tactics throughout. He had Referee Bunny Dunlop busy all evening yanking him off grips and even clouting him once. He yanked hair, used choke holds, threw fists and applied leverage by the ropes, though Athol balanced a lot of that stuff up with some judo work, slicking his hand hard at vulnerable spots. He had the crowd with him all the way.

Won The First

The hooded one took the first fall in 17 minutes with a series of rolling front headlocks—the "chancery" for fans who recall Frank Gotch and Farmer Burns. Right from the start, the Mask played it in mean fashion and was in trouble with the referee frequently. He rasped eyes on his manager's corner advice, swung his fists after pulling Layton down by the hair and in general softened him up, though at times having to run for cover when his lordship started swinging those long arms. They dished up a lot of action and some mat tactics before the unpopular fall, Layton playing it clean all through.

Popular Pat Flanagan, at 228, earned the semi-final in 21 minutes over 252-pound Lee Henning, who replaced Hi Lee (away on a court case in New York) as the referee disqualified Henning. It was a case of Dunlop getting in the middle of a slugfest and it happened that Lee's fist clouted him, so he disqualified him. Bunny was sore at the rough Henning most of the time and it was mutual. The tricky Flan got away with plenty, too, but Henning used his usual underhand grapple formula from start to finish in a rough go, throwing the book at his lighter but faster opponent. Bun jerked his hair often to break illegal grips.

Newcomer Good

Sonny Kurgis, 232, from Ohio, got a popular prelim win in 23 minutes over tough Jack Wentworth the 223-pound Alabama wrestler. He won it with an airplane spin and slam after some hot action. Sonny, a newcomer here, has been in the mat game since his return from army service in Europe at the end of the war. He showed a lot of stuff against a so-so opponent and indicated he could open it up more against a tougher rival. Kurgis was tossed out of the ring a number of times as Wentworth shot the works, but he couldn't match Sonny in wide-open and smart grappling. They really turned it on in heated action all over the ring and out of it as the fans roared before the final fall came to the applause of the customers.

Lindsay Edges Oddfellows To Open Playoffs

Over 1,100 junior hockey fans saw a great display in Lindsay last night as Kinsmen and Peterborough Oddfellows opened their best-of-five semi-final series for group honors.

Kinsmen edged Bun Kingdon's fighting crew 5-3 but only after a gruelling two-way struggle decided after almost nine minutes of withering overtime when it became apparent the breaks would decide the issue. To defenceman Sherwington goes the credit for the pay-off tally at 8:29 as he snared a loose puck to Wasson's left close in and whisked a short ankle drive to the far corner as the home crowd raised the roof. Sinclair's final tally with seconds to go was simply anticlimax.

Thrilling Game

It was the most thrilling duel of the season to date between the two well-matched clubs. Despite rather soft ice, it was a fast wide open battle with little to choose in play over the route though Oddfellows held a fair edge in the first frame as Stewart and West scored glittering goals to put Links in the van.

Kinsmen came strongly in the second period and despite two miscues to Links earned an edge in play in the first half and fired home three markers as Sinclair, Corley and Hall each found the range in the first 12 minutes of play. Oddfellows were not to be denied and evened the score with a smart comeback. Douglas with Armstrong and Doris turned the trick on a scramble, the former potting the disc at the three-quarter mark.

Scoreless Third

That was all for regulation time as the teams fought through a blistering but scoreless third chapter in which five penalties were handed out by referees Crombie and Calhoun who worked well in this game. There were 14 penalties, all minors in the game and though rugged it was a cleanly played contest.

Bob Wyatt, star right-winger on Oddfellows' leading scoring line this season, started but was forced to retire after one period due to a recurrence of his recent bad shoulder injury. He should be much improved for Saturday's second game at Civic Arena.

For the winners the work of Karrys, Corley, Schinkel, Baker, Hall, Glen Vasey and Powell was noteworthy with McGuire good in the nets. For Oddfellows, Bill Stewart, Dean West, Ray Douglas, Jim Morrow, Lefty Doris, the Robinson brothers and Ab Buckton all worked like troopers up front as did Wyatt until his forced retirement. The whole team worked hard.

M. Selkirk Rolls 317 In Girls' City Loop

Marg Selkirk rolled 317 this week to lead in singles in the Girls' City Bowling League as teammate Isobel Bullock led in triples with 752. Towne Togs swept honors with 3,218 pinnage and an 1,184 single game effort. The blind score of 599 was split by J. Brockley and M. Barringer with 597 and J. Snape with 601. Cards and Collis blanked Arcos and Curtins, as 2-1 wins were marked by Togs, Dickson's and Aces respectively over Marines, Brintons and Sevenaires. Standing at the end of the second section shows Togs with 41 points, Cardinals 40, Marines 36, Curtin's 30, Arcos 27, Collis 25, Dickson's and Brintons 24, Aces 16 and Sevenaires 10.

Good singles rolled included: V. Weir 251, B. Morrow 256, I. Bullock 257 and 260, M. Knights 260, J. Brockley 261, D. Martin 262, G. Milliken 264 and 283, L. Vincent 271 and 272, M. Sanderson 276 and L. McClelland 300. Good triples were: E. Penrose 613, G. Milliken 624, D. Martin 632, B. Morrow 639, L. McClelland 641, P. Richardson 647, M. Sanderson 706, L. Vincent 741 and M. Selkirk 750.

Lakefield Boys Win

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 21 (ENS)—Lakefield opened their OMHA second round juvenile C playdowns with a 7-5 victory over Sunderland. They trailed 2-1 in the first period, broke even in the 2-2 second heat, and led 4-1 in the third to tote a two-goal margin into the return game. It was fast and fairly clean play, with Lakefield drawing five of the seven penalties. Sunderland had a record of 14 straight victories, but the Lakefield boys finished strong in a fine effort to crack their streak in the 15th tussle.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Probably the biggest hockey crowd of the season will see whether Eagles have their old fighting spirit or not when they clash tonight with the Petes at 8.30 in Civic Arena. Last meeting in the senior "B" schedule for them and second last game for both teams. Eagles were always known as a scrappy squad who never were beaten till the final gong. They'll need all that tonight against the league leaders. The Magee men must win it or they won't finish in second spot—Nylons being but a point behind 'em now and having a soft four-point game coming up with Queen's. A loss for Eagles tonight would knock that playoff series between Eagles and Petes right out the window.

* * * * * *

Even as Eagles' victory tonight won't make them a cinch for the second rung as it's a dogfight right to the windup Monday, but at least it would keep 'em in the race. The Petes need but half a game — in other words a draw—to clinch top place. So, don't think these old rivals won't be tearing into each other. After watching weak squads like Queen's and Gananoque here recently, it'll be a pleasure to see two hustling outfits of the class of the local crews in important action again. Highly important, and Petes will miss Jake Wade plenty if his cut ankle isn't ready this eve. This melee (just possibly their final meeting of the whole spring season) should jam the arena to the rafters.

OMHA Play On Tap

On the morrow the minor puckists take over at the arena in three provincial playdown games. Oshawa teams form the opposition to our bantam Trojans, midget Marines and juvenile Oddfellows, commencing at seven bells. Return games of the points-to-count series in the Motor City on Saturday. This triple-header means plenty and should be well worth seeing, as the cream of the PMHA crop give it all they have in a battle for survival. By the way, Les Mountney is looking for applicants for that city and district hockey skating race the middle of March at a big PMHA night here. The Swanston Trophy and good prizes are offered.

* * * * * *

To score goals in hockey one must shoot at the net. That ought to be self-evident, but you often see puckists shoot into a corner or several feet away from the net to the back wall, especially in ganging attacks. Coach Joe Primeau of Toronto Leafs lists two fundamentals in Leafs' fine power play when the other side is shy a man. His players must take passes in close on the move—no standing passes—to keep defenders from getting set; and he orders them to fire right at the net. He reasons that a defender involuntarily will look back quick to see if the goalie stopped the shot, thereby giving an attacking player a chance to step around him. That's NHL thinking and should be good enough for the amateurs.

Kin Captures First

It's one down and four to go for Bun Kingdon's junior "B" Oddfellows in group semi-finals. They dropped the opener in overtime last evening in Lindsay, the Kinsmen counting a pair in the extra inning for a 5-3 victory. A grand game before 1,100 fans, fast and rugged but kept under control with 14 penalties passed out. Bob Wyatt had to retire after a period with his sore shoulder, but hopes to be ready for the all-important return playoff here Saturday night. West, Stewart and Douglas scored for the IOOF-ers, as Doris, Armstrong, Brian Robinson and Morrow each earned an assist. Whole crew clicked well, but Lindsay had that little extra punch at the windup. It's still just a tossup between two evenly-matched and scrappy young squads, and the Links are likely to tie the series up Saturday.

Skull-duggery was afoot, and a foot nearly skulled Lord Athol Layton, in the main mat bout at the Brock last eve. Seems his nibs was out of the ring a-chasin' the Masked Marvel around, when the Mask's hooded manager (sitting at a corner) stuck out a foot and tripped his ludship. Well, sir, that did it. Ref Bun Dunlop was counting 'em both out, but the Mask hopped back in time to beat the 10-count. The sprawled Layton naturally couldn't make it and he lost. The many fans were furious and kept the police busy restoring order, but that's how it ended. Layton's man Gerald threatened to take it to the Ontario Athletic Commish. Pat Flanagan won the semi-final o'er Lee Henning, as sonny Kurgis got the prelim against Jack Wentworth.

Hither And Yawning

Hugh Graham, captain of Varsity's wrestling team, has entered a big invitation college meet at Cleveland on March 9-10.... Towne Togs led the way this week in the Girls' City Bowling League with 3218.... Each senior "B" puck club plays 34 (not 36) games in the schedule; the intermediate Gans played just 10.... Bowmanville trimmed Lindsay Muskies to make it two straight in their best-of-five intermediate semi-finals.... Port Hope downed Cobourg 6-4, the Pavs now leading two games to one.... Prince of Wales and Queen Alex have their intermediate school sudden-deather tomorrow.... EPHL games listed for tonight: Hastings at Millbrook, and Warsaw at Keene.... Otonabee tilts Friday: Assumption at Downer's Corners, and Keene at Westwood.... TVL-ers are set now for playoffs.... Mild weather is forcing postponements around the district.... Lakefield juves won their OMHA opening game 'gainst Sunderland 7-5.... Toar Morgan has pulled stakes at Lindsay and returned to live in his native Tennessee.... Don't lay too much on tonight's game here, as it'll soon be time to file those tax returns.

Curling Notes

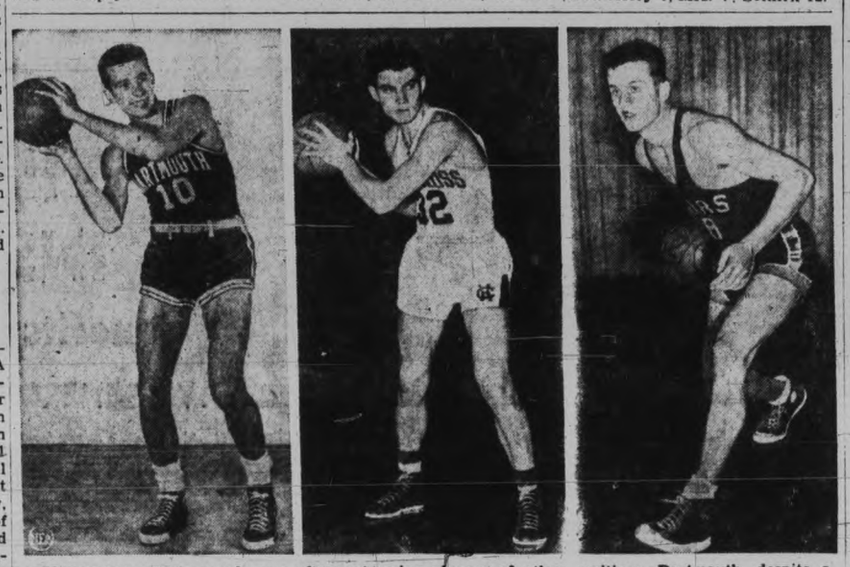
By HERB MARTIN

The bonspiel committee would like a few more rinks for their all-day open merchants' bonspiel next Wednesday.

Have you entered a rink for Saturday's 'spiel?

Tonight—Neill Trophy and vice-skips' games.

We read on the notice board: "Ladies, get your man." Could this be leap year? Or is it referring to the Sturgeon Trophy mixed rink bonspiel?



A tip—Don't stand around watching other games, concentrate on your own, and your curling will improve.

Cobourg Pavs Bow 6-4 In Group Final

COBOURG, Feb. 21 — Port Hope Redmen threw a monkey wrench into Cobourg Pav's plans for a three-straight triumph in the Lakeshore Hockey League Intermediate A first-round finals here when they won 6-4.

Ports earned the win as they outskated the Pavs all the way and never let them start after two first-period goals had put Cobourg behind.

Bill Douglas, Port Hope defenceman, was the big gun as he bumped and slammed the Pavs around, including former Galloping Ghost teammate Bob Cooper. Cooper, a Cobourg standout in the loss, dueled right back but could not prevent Douglas from rapping home two goals to tie with Legrow for Port Hope scoring honors. Boom Boom Baker, defence mate of Douglas, was also in the limelight as the big pair made the Pavs slow down noticeably at the blue line. Kaufman and Kelly were the other Port scorers. Only bright spot in the thoroughly grounded Pav Flyers was Cliff Maundrell's two goals and an assist scored despite constant pressure by the Redmen. Ferguson and Cooper counted the other Pav markers.

Guelph With 4 Men Ill Defeats Stratford 7-5

By The Canadian Press

Guelph Biltmores, who surprised quite a few people last year when they came from nowhere to take the Ontario junior hockey title, are making their move earlier this season.

The Bilts, who finished well down in the league standings in 1950 and proceeded to knock off highly-touted opposition in the playoffs, currently have designs on first place in the 10-team OHA junior A loop.

If they make the top, it will have been a long, uphill climb. Six weeks ago, Guelph was tied for fifth place, 10 points behind the leaders. Since then, Biltmores have won 10 and tied four against two losses. Now they're in third place, four points out of the driver's seat.

You've got to give Guelph marks for gameness. They've been short as many as five regulars in recent games due to the infuenza epidemic and injuries. Yet they haven't let up in their drive.

Short Four Players

Four regulars were still out of action Tuesday night when the Bilts moved into third place by edging Stratford Khoehlers 7-5. That left them two points ahead of second place, but Barrie Flyers stayed another game ahead by whipping St. Catharines Teepees 6-2 to break a first-place tie with the idle Windsor Spitfires.

In the night's third game, Galt Hawks dimmed the playoff hopes of Toronto St. Michael's College by defeating the ninth-placers 6-4.

Chuck Henderson led the convalescent Biltmores to victory with three goals, the last being the clincher in the final minute of play. Herb Dickenson added a couple and Andy Bathgate and Ken Laufman had one apiece.

George Aitken netted a pair for Stratford, while Guy Henri, Gord Myles and Ray Ross got one apiece.

Real Chevrefils was a three-goal man for Barrie, with Leo Labine getting two and and Jerry Toppazzini one. Bibber O'Hearn and Skip Teal counted for St. Catharines.

Gives Galt Edge

Ken Wharram's second goal put Galt ahead for keeps in their see-saw tussle with St. Michael's, which was tied no less than three times. Johnny Sleaver also notched a pair for the winners, while Don Hogan and Len Cooke fired one apiece. Dan MacDonald scored two for the Irish. Bill Lee and Mike Ratchford completed their total.

"ROCKET" NIGHT—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, high-scoring right winger of Montreal Canadiens, was showered with $7,000 worth of gifts on "Rocket Richard Night" at the Forum. More than 15,000 fans turned up to see Richard presented with a new car for which they subscribed. Mrs. Richard holds a bouquet of flowers presented to her by little Andree St. Gelais, daughter of Jean St. Gelais, president of Alouettes-Canadiens-Royals Booster Club, who organized the "night".

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

As a direct result of dropping attendance in the National Hockey League, a tendency to cry "Wolf" has developed among the sports experts. Indiscriminate use of such headlines as "Is Hockey Dying?", has contributed little more than added fuel for controversy. But the answer to the 'declining interest' problem in hockey can probably be found in the game itself. Let's examine the pros and cons.

Pro and Con:

In the Good Old Days (we're told) hockey players went a full 60 minutes and usually finished the evening full of vigor and vitality. "No wonder hockey today is passing out," states an ancient fan. "Why, the boys who are playing now turn blue in the face after three minutes of play!"

Others chant: "They ruined hockey when they put the Red Line into the game."

These and a dozen other opinions are trotted out each time a new prophecy of doom strikes at the game through the sport pages. And yet, it was to please the fans that the game was speeded up to the point where it requires 18 players to maintain the constant action, drive and excitement necessary to attract the multitude. The Red Line was created to determine 'off-side' passes and do away with the older system of long-distance passing which, all too often, was utilized as a measure of easing the pace. Constant substitution and changing lines 'on the run' are two other methods which have assisted greatly in speeding up the sport from a spectator point of view.

As to the claim that few modern players could play the 60-minute game, it is only necessary to point out Milt Schmidt of Boston, Ted Kennedy of the Leafs and a dozen others specializing in 'hell for leather' hockey. These men could certainly play alongside Babe Dye, Cyclone Taylor or any other oldtimer you choose—but, admittedly, they would have to 'pace' themselves to last the route. Therein lies the story, we think.

In the older days the game was a slower affair—with the accent on individual style and method. Today the fans are treated to 60-minutes of 'all out' hockey, played by men, continually fresh, aided by renovated rules and systems. If hockey is slipping, it can't be through lack of colour. The answer may possibly lie with the 70-game season. That's an eternity—when suspense is what is for sale.

Eligible Bachelors:

In case some of our feminine readers would care to know, there are only 35 single men in the National Hockey League. The fact that the married players now outnumber the bachelors to an overwhelming extent may possibly help to explain the growing tendency to mayhem current in the N.H.L.

Although we have not always managed to keep an accurate check on the statistical side of the bouts, it appears that the married men have easily held their own. No doubt practice helps. Actually, the fact there are more married men playing professional hockey than single may also account for the high casualty list among referees. Few husbands have much patience for interfering 'third-parties'. For what it's worth we gladly pass this last observation along to Referees Bill Chadwick, Hugh McLean, Red Storey, etc.

War Amps' Key Tag:

Ever lose your keys? Well, I did last year, but within two days the postman dropped them in my mailbox, thanks to the tiny license plate supplied to me as a motorist by the War Amputations of Canada. This year again the War Amps are sending car owners a similar key tag. 25¢ is a mighty small charge for this wonderful service so be sure to mail those two-bits as soon as you receive your key tag from the Key Tag Service, 740 Bay St., Toronto. You'll be getting A1 protection for your keys as well as doing your bit to help those brave fellows who did so much for you.

Two Rookies Meet Head-on In Vezina Race

By MEL SUFRIN,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

A couple of fellows who learned to play hockey in Western Canada will face each other tonight in what is shaping up as one of the neatest little dramas of the National Hockey League season.

The principals are Al Rollins, part-time goaltender for the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs, and Terry Sawchuk, who tends goal for the league-leading Detroit Red Wings.

The stakes: first place in the league, and the Vezina Trophy, awarded annually to the league's least-scored-upon goalie.

At the moment the Red Wings have a five-point lead on the Leafs in the standings, but Toronto has had five fewer goals scored against it so far this season. The Leafs have played one game less than Detroit.

Both Rollins, a 24-year-old native of Vanguard, Sask., and Sawchuk, born little more than 21 years ago in Winnipeg, are rookies. Both would like to turn the feat of winning the coveted Vezina Trophy in their first NHL year.

Shares Duties

However, while Sawchuk is the lone Detroit goalie, Rollins has been sharing duties with Turk Broda who, incidentally, is another westerner. He comes from Brandon, Man.

The Vezina Trophy is awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team with the fewest goals scored against it during the regular season.

With this fact in mind, the Leafs have had the idea of arranging things so that Rollins and Broda will play in an equal number of games, which would mean they would share the trophy and the money that goes with it if the team wound up the season with the fewest goals against it.

But there's a problem. Rollins, who has played 28 games to Broda's 27, is doing so well that the Leaf hierarchy hesitates to take him out.

"How can you take him out when he's winning?" asked Conn Smythe, Leafs' general manager. "The team comes first with me every time. Sure I would like to have Turk and Al share the Vezina Trophy, but Rollins has been going so well I don't see how we could replace him, at least until he is beaten."

Rollins has been beaten only twice in the last 18 games and his goals-against average of 1.89 is best in the league.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Chris Newton of Toronto won the Canadian lightweight boxing title 24 years ago tonight, beating Cliff Graham, also of Toronto, in a 10-round bout there. Newton lost the title two months later to Leo (Kid) Roy at Montreal.

Strong Alberta Folds Before Manitoba Rink

NELSON, B.C., Feb. 21 (CP) —Mighty Alberta crumbled Tuesday night in the Canadian high school curling championships, going down to defeat for the first time, and the result was a three-way tie for first place at the end of sixth-round play.

Tied for first with five wins and one loss apiece are Alberta, Saskatchewan and Quebec.

Alberta was beaten 13-6 by Manitoba.

Gary Thodes Saskatchewan rink smothered New Brunswick 14-6; Ontario trounced Nova Scotia 9-5; British Columbia defeated Northern Ontario 12-8 and Quebec took Prince Edward Island 13-9.

Consistent play Tuesday by the Quebec rink brought the quartet up as a strong contender.

Lindsay Minors Stay Unbeaten

LINDSAY, Feb. 21.— Lindsay Bowlaways and Indians continued unbeaten in OMHA playoffs with wins over Cobourg Lions and Aurora Flyers. The juvenile B's trimmed Cobourg 7-2, while the Midgets blasted Aurora 9-2.

Bernie Brown with two goals and two assists paced the Bowlaway Lanes to victory. Duane Sinclair notched a pair and John Dainard, Ross Lockwood, and Glen Cain clicked for singletons. Dutch Boswell and Neil Cane were the Lions marksmen.

The undefeated and unscored-on midgets, who scored up 46 goals in three games, saw two goals go past goaler Reg Truax, but led by Tommy Hutton with four markers, Lindsay overwhelmed the Aurora kids. Art Truax sank two and Jack Graham, Bill Burns and Thorn Freeman one each. Edwards and Wilson counted for the losers. The second game of the goals-to-count series will be played in Aurora Thursday night.

Hershey Bears Whip Providence Reds 8-3

HERSHEY, Pa., Feb. 21 (CP)— Hershey Bears climbed two points closer to the top rung of the American Hockey League's eastern division Tuesday night by whipping Providence Reds 8-3 in the leagues only game.

The Bruins now are 10 points behind the division-leading Buffalo squad, who have 72 points. The loss left Providence in third place a scant two points ahead of Springfield Indians.

Kingston Horse Wins

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP). — Nicodemus, owned and driven by Sted Craig of Kingston, won both heats of the fifth and featured race, a classified pace, on Tuesday's harness racing program at Dufferin Park. Oro Bee, owned by L. McEwan of Weston, Ont., and driven by Keith Waples, and Todd Benedict owned by Frank Plaunt of Brantford, and driven by John Mullin, divided the fourth and secondary feature, also a classified pace. Each won a heat.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 35¢ at any druggists.

Peace Council Fights Rearming

BERLIN, Feb. 21 (AP)—The "World Peace Council," opening a three-day session in East Berlin, today called on world Communism to oppose rearming of West Germany and Japan.

The pro-Kremlin council, summoned from far and wide, set up committees to draft resolutions pinpointing the Soviet-inspired aims of keeping the former Axis partners defenceless.

The politics to be adopted by the council before Saturday night will amount to gospel for Communist followers throughout the world.

In a huge Soviet-sector hall decked with Red flags, the council opened its public sessions shortly before noon today with Pietro Nenni of Italy in the chair.

On the rostrum were such international figures as Dr. Hewlett Johnson, "Red Dean" of Canterbury; Ilya Ehrenburg, top Soviet journalist, Jean Lafitte of France and Professor Kuo Mo jo, president of Communist China's "peace committee."

Hope To Help Middle Class Pay Hospitals

TORONTO, Feb. 21 —A new deal for hospitals which are struggling against yearly deficits and bank overdrafts was indicated by Health Minister Phillips Tuesday.

Meeting with the board of health at the Riverdale Isolation Hospital Tuesday. Dr. Phillips said the Ontario Government was working on a new system of grants to which it was hoped the Dominion would contribute.

The minister's statement was particularly significant to Toronto where hospitals last year lost more than $900,000 in caring for indigent patients. At the same time, they claim the city still owes them about $700,000 for 1948-49 deficits.

Dr. Phillips said he was not in a position to give any details of the plan as it would require legislation which had to be submitted to the cabinet first, and then to the legislature. However, he indicated he favored some assistance for the paying patient and a broadening of the meaning of a public ward bed.

It was the person of average income who was really hit hard when sickness developed, he said. The wealthy person was able to take care of his own hospital bills while the government—provincial and municipal—paid for the indigent.

"There never has been a government which helped the middle class," he declared "and it's time we did a little bit to help the person who helps himself."

Maintenance grants are now paid by the province on public ward beds, at so much per day, whether or not they are occupied. In many hospitals the ratio of public ward beds to semi-private and private is extremely low. If the government decided to enlarge on its interpretation of a public ward bed, making more eligible for grants, the hospitals would benefit, he added.

Germans Paying 2 Billion Defence

FRANKFORT, Feb. 21.—(AP).—The western powers expect to present the Germans with a year's defence bill in excess of 9,000,000,000 marks (about $2,142,000,000) before a single German soldier gets into uniform.

Disclosing this Tuesday, high allied officials said this huge sum would be Western Germany's contribution to the common defence effort pending a decision on German rearmament.

The new levy on German taxpayers will help maintain the allied reinforcements coming to Germany, the present occupation troops and the allied occupation administrations.

It will be almost twice what the Germans are paying now in occupation costs—5,462,000,000 marks. But allied officials said it still will be comparatively less than the defence burdens of the other western nations.

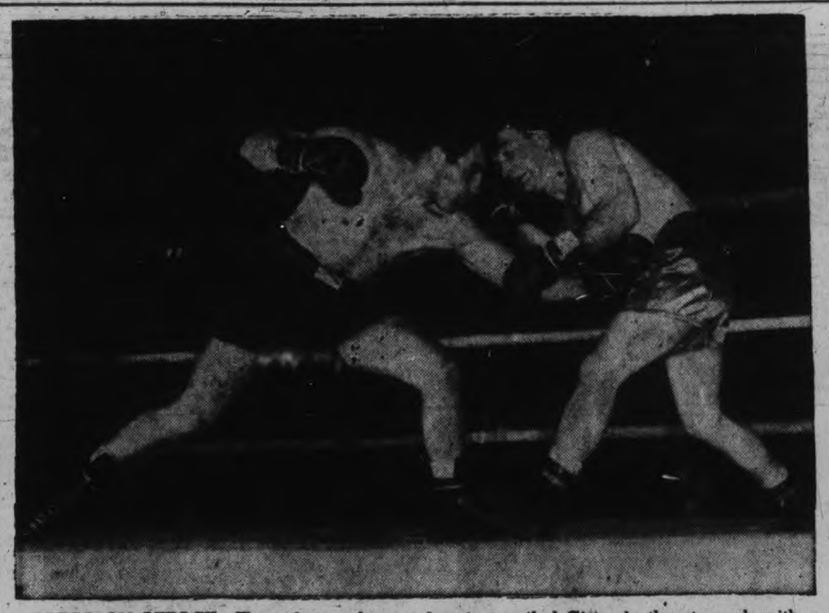
Even so, the new German defence budget is expected to set off explosive reactions among the Germans. Occupation costs already are their main complaint against the allies.

Smythe Charges Wing Favoritism

TORONTO, Feb. 21 — (CP) — The Detroit Red Wings are the least-penalized team in the National Hockey League because of their owner's tears, Conny Smythe said Tuesday.

"No hockey team, and certainly not the Red Wings, commits 250 minutes less in penalties than any other," said Smythe, noting that his Maple Leafs lead the league in penalties with 695 minutes compared to Detroit's 443.

"Jim Norris (Detroit club owner) has done so much crying and letter writing asking that this official be fired and that official not handle games, that Wings have been having things their own way."



Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, today said there is "absolutely no basis for claims of favoritism on the part of NHL referees in handing out penalties."

He was commenting on remarks by Smythe.

Campbell said he has unbounded confidence in the integrity of the officials in the NHL.

GRECO ON ATTACK—The photo above gives a pretty good idea why the three judges gave Johnny Greco the unanimous decision over Eddie Giosa as the major boxing season opened at the Montreal Forum. Johnny has just nailed Giosa in the stomach with a punch that jarred the Philadelphian's mouth wide open. It was the Montreal boxer's first bout on his comeback trail. He has been idle since last August.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Hockey manager Frank Boucher says adoption of the Canadian definition of an amateur would help avoid gambling scandals such as that now sweeping United States college basketball.

Boucher, whose New York Rangers of the National Hockey League grace the arena that the hoop scandal has befouled—Madison Square Garden—puts it this way:

"In Canada we consider any boy an amateur who does not play with acknowledged professionals or in a professional league.

"We permit a boy to play anywhere he can for money and still permit him to retain his amateur standing."

This definition, he said, removes the prime motive for any fix in sports—money.

"In that way we have no proselyting and we have no under-the-table payments by the colleges. . . to the players.

"Everything is above-board."

The senior intercollegiate basketball title will be at stake at London, Ont., Friday night when University of Western Ontario Mustangs face McGill University Redmen.

The Mustangs have already clinched a tie for the college cage crown but need a win Friday to claim sole possession of the Wilson Trophy, emblematic of intercollegiate basketball supremacy. Second-place McGill, with three games yet to play, could force a tie by winning Friday. There is no play-off.

Pitcher Ted Wilks, who had balked at an earlier offer, signed his contract with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday after a brief talk with owner Fred Saigh. Terms were not disclosed.

Armand Savoie, Montreal lightweight, signed Tuesday for a 10-round bout in Toronto with Solly Cantor of Toronto next Tuesday, Feb. 27. Savoie replaces Allan McFater, Toronto fighter who was laid out by influenza and is unable to fight.

At Chicago, George Chenier of Toronto was defeated by Joe Diehl of Rockford, Ill., 150-152 in 18 innings Tuesday in the national pocket billiards tournament. Chenier is Canadian champion.

Decides On Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21—(AP)—British actress Patricia Medina said Tuesday she has decided to divorce actor Richard Greene, also a Briton. The couple separated several months ago and a reconciliation had been rumored. But Miss Medina said she has retained a lawyer and expects to file suits as soon as a property settlement is reached.

Vancouver's Drinking Ways Based On Ludicrous System

By JACK SCOTT

Anyone who has led a sheltered, well-insulated life and never been inside a cabaret or night club might have a curious idea of the people involved.

Reading this column in the past four days, which we have been devoting to a study of Vancouver's nightly flaunting of the liquor laws, one might imagine that the celebrants were mobsters, thugs, alcoholics, bums or the worst kind of riff-raff.

This is not the case. Some undesirable characters, of course, are represented wherever society blooms after dark, but nine out of ten of the people encountered are decent, usually law-abiding citizens, from all walks of life, who just happen to be out for a good time, enjoy the odd drink or two (or three) and hate the idea of feeling guilty about breaking the law.

Ludicrous System

A large number of these people drink more than they ought to, but this is due in part to the cockeyed and altogether ludicrous system of drinking that prevails.

It stands to reason that a man with a big fat bottle of spirits is more vulnerable to the effect of alcohol than a man who is ordering an ounce at a time. At any rate, this helps to explain the fact that almost any night, around midnight, you will see more drunks in Vancouver than you will in, say, the sinful City of New Orleans. Indeed, a certain false glamor has come to surround drinking in our town, as it did in the United States during prohibiton, because people are conscious of breaking the laws and because they are compelled to purchase stimulants in the large, family size.

People do not simply enter a cabaret for a drink or two. They carry their own portable bar with them.

Nicest People

Some of the nicest people in town do this. At the Panorama Roof, of the Hotel Vancouver, for example, one may see what amounts to the cream of society on Wednesday or Saturday nights trying stubbornly to preserve an air of sophistication while guzzling from large bottles.

All sorts of people attend the Panorama Roof. Before the war it was the custom of the society pages of the newspapers to make a list of "among those present."

Then and now the guest list might include an attorney general or police chief, doctors, lawyers and professional men, business men, the Young Set and many leading citizens.

Six Night Spots

The Panorama Roof was one of six night spots observed Wednesday, February 14, in the fourth night of our survey of the city's illegal drinking.

In all, some 850 persons were observed drinking and 101 bottles of rye, Scotch, rum and gin were counted. There was no police action.

An estimated 360 persons were observed at "the Roof" between 8.30 p.m. and 11 p.m. A total of 46 25-ounce bottles and two 16-ounce bottles were observed in one section.

Most drinks were poured here discreetly under the rim of the table although in eight cases drinks were poured openly. In two instances men moved from one table to another, carrying their partly-consumed bottles with them.

Because the Wednesday affair is a dinner dance, winding up between 10.30 and 11 p.m., liquor may be seen not only being carted into the premises (under coats in most cases), but also being taken away.

Only five empty 25-ounce bottles were observed under tables at 10.30 p.m. More than 20 men were seen leaving the Roof with half-empty bottles.

One young woman carried her escort's bottle openly, waving it playfully at friends. One middle-aged man carried a partly-demolished bottle of rye in his hand while descending in the elevator, putting it in his overcoat pocket before entering the lobby.

At 10.30 p.m. 14 persons, nine men and five women, were observed in an obvious state of intoxication.

Some 400 patrons were observed at the Palomar Cabaret between 11.30 p.m. and midnight, 34 bottles being counted in one section, the majority of them being poured openly.

Three bottles were seen to be poured openly at the Penthouse Cabaret. In one party of nine there were four 25-ounce bottles under the table.

Open drinking was again observed at the W.K. Oriental Gardens (14 bottles at 12 tables), at the Dixie Chicken Inn and at Principe's. In each case liquor was poured openly.

A short visit was made to the Commodore Cabaret where a large number of celebrants were observed, it being the occasion of the forty-sixth annual ball of the Police Mutual Benevolent Association.

This was the only cabaret at which any policemen were observed Wednesday night. A fine time was being had by all.

Tomorrow we will conclude this survey of the city's drinking habits with some over-all impressions.

FROM NEWFOUNDLAND — Leonard T. Stick is the Liberal member of parliament for the Newfoundland constituency of Trinity-Conception. Born, Feb. 7, 1892, at St. John's, Nfld., Mr. Stick is a former captain in the Indian Army Reserve. Married, with three children, he was elected to the Commons in the 1949 general election.

Basement Fire

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 21 (CP) —A basement fire Tuesday night threatened a house on Kong street owned by J. M. Otten housing nearly 20 persons, many of them children. The house blaze was extinguished by city firemen before it burst into the ground floor. The blaze started from a box of rubbish near the furnace.

BC Liquor Profits

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 21 (CP) —Liquor profits of $8,484,000 for the six months from April to Sept. 1950, were reported Tuesday in a statement filed in the British Columbia Legislature by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer. This was a gain of $200,000 over the same period in 1949.

16-LB. TOMCAT called Orangey has finally been chosen from 3,000 entries in one of those elaborate Hollywood casting contests to play Rhubarb in a forthcoming movie version of H. Allen Smith's novel about a cat who inherits $30,000,000 and the Brooklyn baseball team. Here Orangey looks over his contract with co-stars Ray Milland and Jan Sterling and director Arthur Lubin.

10 Best-Dressed Men Named At Montreal Fashion Show

MONTREAL, Feb. 21 (CP). — Canada's 10 best-dressed men, as selected by the Men's Council of Canada, were announced Tuesday at the opening of the Men's Apparel Fair and Convention.

The 10 best-dressed are:

Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, Chief of the General Staff of the Canadian Army, the "man in uniform."

Park Jamieson of Sarnia, attorney and chairman of the Dominion Drama Festival.

Ralph P. Bell of Halifax, industrialist.

Howard Cable of Toronto, musical conductor and composer.

Austen Taylor of Vancouver, industrialist.

Gordon Brydson of Port Credit, golf professional at the Mississauga Golf Club.

Dr. A. H. Greenwood of St. Catharines, surgeon.

Leo Dandurand of Montreal, sportsman and president of Alouettes Football Club.

Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto, radio and publishing executive.

Hon. Jean Paul Sauve of Montreal, Quebec Minister of Social Welfare and Youth.

New garments for men for the next year were described at the style show as "trim, light and bright." The single-breasted, two-button, notch-lapel coat is featured, a departure from the exaggerated lounge coat of former years.

There wasn't a vest in the array of business and town suits, all with high, square effect at the shoulders and front waist suppression. Among business suits the color highlight was the use of miniature checks, with greys predominant.

Cleared of Libel

SEATTLE, Feb. 21 (AP), — A Superior Court jury Tuesday night cleared Betty MacDonald of libel charges in a $500,000 suit brought against her, her husband, Don, and her publisher, growing out of the best-selling book, "The Egg and I." The publisher is J. B. Lippincott. The multiple libel suits were brought by nine members of the Albert Bishop family who contended the book portrayed them as the "Kettles," and Raymond Johnson, who charged he was portrayed as the Indian, "Crowbar."

Teachers Ask Raise

FORT WILLIAM, Feb. 21 (CP) —A double-barrelled pay raise request by the elementary and secondary school teachers of Fort William was presented to the board of education Tuesday. An immediate across-the-board pay increase of $500 was asked by elementary teachers while secondary teachers requested a pay boost of $800.

Jury Verdict In 15 Mins. Frees Oshawan In Fatality

Four Crown Witnesses

Four Crown witnesses were heard: Provincial Corporal Lloyd McClure and Constable A. C. Russell, who investigated the accident; and the two surviving occupants of the Lindstrom car—Mrs. Lindstrom and Dexter.

Dillon testified on his own behalf, and the jury were told in Justice Ferguson's 45-minute summing up that "the case turns on the story of the accused."

Justice Ferguson was critical of the fact that there had been no evidence introduced on the cause of the Lindstrom's death.

"He might have died from a heart attack, as far as the evidence is concerned. . .I think the Crown should have called somebody to say this man died from the results of an auto accident."

After the jury retired Mr. Carley asked Justice Ferguson to call them back and dismiss the manslaughter charge because of lack of evidence on the cause of death. Crown Attorney John Bradshaw said there was a reasonable inference of the cause: one moment Lindstrom was alive and driving his car, the next he was dead after the accident.

Agrees With Jury

Justice Ferguson said he had already charged the jury; he had pointed out the lack of direct evidence, and he didn't want to recall them after putting the case in their hands.

After jury foreman Garth Braund had brought in the verdict of "not guilty" at 5:04 p.m., Justice Ferguson commented: "I agree with the jury. It was the only verdict . . .there's no doubt about it."

Dillon told the jury that he had been hauling asphalt from the city pit, north of Bridgenorth, and he had been travelling the Chemong road-Highway 7 route about six times a day for a week.

On the afternoon of November 17 he was carrying six tons of asphalt (he wasn't sure if it was an overload), and he had made two stops before starting south down the Chemong road on his way to Peterborough. Both times his brakes worked perfectly.

He testified he was doing about 10 miles an hour and was in high gear at the time he broke over the top of the hill, 500 feet north of Highway 7. When he decided to slow the truck 250-200 feet from the highway, he found the brakes wouldn't work.

Unable To Avoid Collision

Dillon said he tried to de-clutch. As he went into the intersection he had one hand steadying the wheel and the other on the gear-shift trying to force it into "second". At the last moment he put both hands on the wheel to control the truck and swung right, but could not avoid the collision.

After the accident he went to get help. When the provincial police arrived he told Corporal McClure that his brakes failed.

Corporal McClure went back over 100 yards of the Chemong road, north of the highway, and found drops of fine oil that might have come from a defective brake cylinder. He was unable to obtain a specimen for an exhibit.

"Was there anything you could have done to avoid the accident," Mr. Carley asked the accused.

"There was nothing I could do."

In cross-examination Mr. Bradshaw suggested he could have turned off the ignition, speeded up the engine to mesh with the transmission as Army drivers do, or taken the ditch. And the accused admitted he didn't blow his horn.

In his charge to the jury Justice Ferguson pointed out the law. "If Dillon was confronted with an emergency you can't find him guilty of criminal negligence just because he didn't use the best judgment or do something you would have done."

It took the jurors less than 15 minutes to make up their minds.

Alderville Chief And Wife 12 Years Wed

ROSENEATH, Feb. 21 (ENS)—Chief John Beaver and Mrs. Beaver of the Alderville reserve are today marking their 12th wedding anniversary.

They were married at the United Church parsonage, Roseneath on February 21, 1939, by the Rev. L. W. Scott. During World War Two John served overseas with the RCAF in the wireless division. On returning he entered Queen's University, graduating with the degree of B.Sc., in the spring of 1949. He has been employed with the HEPC at Campbellford and is being transferred to Belleville as line superintendent on March 5. He was elected chief of the Mississaugi Indians of the Alderville Reserve in January, 1950.

While Chief Beaver has been successful in his own line, Mrs. Beaver has been equally successful as a homemaker and mother, caring for their three children, Wayne, 11, Dennis, 6, and Rickey, 2.

Mrs. Beaver, the former Marjory Marsden, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Marsden and Chief Beaver is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beaver all of Alderville.

Formerly Of Alnwick Mrs. T. Beernink Dies

ROSENEATH, Feb. 21 (ENS)—A former resident of Alnwick township, Mrs. Theodore Beernink, died near Watford last Thursday, following an illness of several weeks. The funeral service was held at the Roman Catholic church at Watford on Saturday.

Mrs. Beernink, with her husband and seven children, came from Holland in the early spring of 1949 and settled on a farm, known as the Masterson homestead, on concession 1, Alnwick township and lived there until last fall when they purchased a large farm near Watford.

She leaves her husband, two daughters, Anne and Wilhelmina; five sons, Harry, Antoon, Leo, John and Theodore, all of Watford.

Early colonists were believed to have killed off all the birds.

Alex Spiers Buried At Fife's Cemetery

ROSENEATH, Feb. 21 (ENS).—The funeral service for Alex Spiers was held at 2 p.m. Monday at McMillan's Funeral Home, Roseneath. The Rev. R. C. White conducted the service.

Mr. Spiers died Saturday following an illness of several weeks.

The pall-bearers were three nephews, Alex, George and Charles Spiers, and three neighbors, Bruce Arthur, Cecil Roberts, and Kyle Brown. Interment was in Fife's Cemetery, near Lang.

Included among those from a distance attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. George Spiers of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Spiers, Cedric and Charles Spiers, Keene, Mr. W. J. Crossen, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bowman, Baltimore, Mrs. Steven Minife, Mrs. Arthur Trolley, Mrs. James Litster, Mrs. Frank Benson, Cobourg, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Minife, Clifford and Harold Minife, and Mrs. Frank Eagleson, of Coldsprings.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 21 (ENS)—The inter-church young peoples' group met in St. Andrew's Sunday school room on Monday evening with Irene Trick, the president, in the chair. The meeting opened with a sing song with Don Spicer at the piano.

April 13 was the date set for the amateur contest in the town hall, sponsored by the YP for which Don Sims has agreed to be master of ceremonies.

Next Monday night Lakefield young peoples are to be the guests of the local group. The two groups will debate on the subject "Decided that reading is of more educational value than travel." The visitors will uphold the affirmative. Millbrook debating tea mwill consist of Anne Dawson, Helen Fallis, Don Spicer and Bob Thompson.

The program was in charge of the missfons convener, Yvonne Richards. Mrs. B. E. Ingham spoke on "Choosing Missionary Work As A Life Vocation."

Wide Control Powers Asked From House By St. Laurent

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 — (CP). — Wide-ranging control powers dipping into most phases of Canadian life are sought by the Federal Government in new "emergency" legislation.

The legislation, placed before the Commons late Tuesday night, would give the Cabinet authority to regulate the national economy in almost every sphere until May 31, 1952.

That authority would be subject to parliamentary veto on each measure launched by the government, which holds commanding majorities in both the Commons and Senate.

The sweeping powers, which the government has announced it plans to use on a stand-by basis, gives it general authorization to apply controls on wages, prices, trade, exports, imports, production, manufacture and most other matters relating to the general welfare of Canada.

Other Powers

It also would empower the Cabinet, Prime Minister St. Laurent said, to recapture the rent-control field which it is due to vacate April 30, and to undertake national registration.

However, the Prime Minister indicated earlier that the government still is committed to letting rent control go to the provinces April 30.

The Prime Minister introduced the Controls Bill, spelling out the proposed new powers, after the Commons had endorsed a general preliminary resolution setting out the view that government should have controls power for the "security, defence, peace, order and welfare" of the country.

The resolution drew support from all quarters of the House. However, the three Opposition Parties declared that the government, instead of acquiring powers of an if-and-when-needed basis, should put anti-inflation controls into effect immediately.

Will Go Carefully

Mr. St. Laurent, only government speaker in the day-long debate, emphasized that the government intends to use proposed new authority only as conditions warrant from time to time.

Specific powers which the Emergency Bill would confer on the government include control over communications, harbors and territorial waters, and all forms of transport. Presumably, transport would include highway traffic now under provincial jurisdiction.

The government would have "control and suppression" of maps, plans and photographs — possibly an anti-espionage measure — but would not be given censorship of "publications and writings."

Nor would the Cabinet be given any additional powers to detain or deport any person. It would not have authority, either, to spend money without parliamentary sanction.

Before introducing the Bill, and while the House was still discussing the general principle of the preliminary resolution, Mr. St. Laurent said it is impossible to say now which of the new powers might be used, or when and how they might be employed. It was hoped not many would be exercised.

In fact, he suggested, the existence of stand-by powers might be enough to prevent abuses.

Sharp disagreement came from George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader; M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader; Solon Low, Social Credit leader, and some of their followers.

Mr. St. Laurent also told the house:

1. The government does not propose to adopt major changes in its announced policies—which do not include price-wage-rent controls—without going before parliament with the announcement.

2. If parliament was not in session, his inclination would be to call a special session on matters of "great consequence" to Canada.

3. While there was some doubt as to whether the new bill authorized the cabinet to put national selective service into effect the cabinet would not act on that without putting it before parliament.

4. National registration would not be undertaken without going to parliament, unless it appeared to call for urgency.

Labor Request

Earlier in the day, the government had received a request from spokesmen for about 1,000,000 labor-union members for the immediate imposition of a price-freeze and controls, along with continuance of rent controls beyond the scheduled April 30 expiration date.

A delegation from the four chief central labor bodies visited the cabinet to call for the price-check immediately, offering in return to consider wage "stabilization" measures.

In the Commons, the opposition party leaders also said living-cost controls should not only be placed on the statute books; they should be used now.

Mr. Drew said a sure way to drive up prices was to issue loosely-worded warnings that prices might eventually be controlled.

"I think the time has come to direct the affairs of this country by law, not by warnings," he said. "I think the uncertainties created by that method in themselves have been a substantial contributing factor to the inflation that has taken place in this country."

The Progressive Conservative party, he said, believes the time has come when Canada's free economy is threatened unless emergency measures are taken to halt inflation and the rising cost of living.

Mr. Coldwell called for an immediate roll-back of prices, accompanied by price controls and subsidies to hold down prices. The need was urgent.

The CCF leader, whose party is aligned with the Canadian Congress of Labor, said he is against the freezing of wages but not against wage stabilization. Wages should not be frozen at sub-standard levels.

Mr. Coldwell also declared that rent controls should be continued by the federal government.

Mr. Low agreed with the government's decision to get control powers anew from parliament instead of invoking the War Measures Act of 1941, but he said the powers should be put to use. He did not like to see stand-by powers used only as warnings.

The Prime Minister said there was no doubt further substantial price increases would endanger the economy. To be able to meet the situation as it developed, the government was asking for the emergency powers.

These would not be as broad as could be invoked under the War Measures Act. One restriction would be that parliament, by resolution, could rescind any order passed under the new act.

Male Glee Club Of Hart House To Sing Friday

Hart House Glee Club, a group of 45 university undergraduates is presenting Friday evening a program of choral and folk music at St. Andrew's Church. This Glee Club takes its name from Hart House, the male students' recreation and cultural centre at the University of Toronto, of which all the members of the Hart House Glee Club are members.

The program will include rounds, glees, madrigals and folk tunes, and works or arrangements by Handel, Vaughan Williams and Elgar.

Accompanist is Frank Churchley, Toronto pianist. The concert will include two piano sections when Mr. Churchley will play Chopin, Prokofieff and Debussy.

The Hart House Glee Club is organized solely for the pleasure of singing, and their musical standards are high, their technical accomplishment notable.

Toronto critics have observed in the performance of these young men not only great enthusiasm and spirit, but also a freshness and buoyancy few other male choruses obtain. This is the first Peterborough performance of the Hart House Glee Club.

The concert is being sponsored by St. Andrew's United Church choir.

Court Reserves DecisionOnRowe

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP)—The fate of Walter George Rowe, 28-year-old Detroit man sentenced to be hanged April 5 for the gun slaying of Clare Galbraith, 20, at London, Ont., rests with five justices of the Ontario Supreme Court. The court Tuesday reserved decision on his appeal from a conviction of murder.

Rowe, who was co-charged with Russell John Bechard, 20, of Detroit, his companion in a house robbery at Windsor, and a 2½-hour taxi ride to London, claimed the shot was fired accidentally. Bechard, also charged with murder, was acquitted by a jury at London.

The shooting took place last November as Rowe stood in the service-station grease room after herding three men to the back. The three had broken away and fled. The bullet pierced a closed door and struck Galbraith, a public utilities commission worker, in another part of the station.

Is Child Dead? Woman Asked Police

Evidence of Police Opens Trial Of Mrs. A. Edwards

Mrs. Amelia Edwards, RR 2, Warsaw, on trial at the present assizes for motor manslaughter and dangerous driving, today heard Sergeant Leo Murphy say she had come to the police station and ask "is the child dead?"

Mrs. Edwards was allegedly the driver of the car that is believed to have struck five-year-old Garry Faiers on October 14, almost in front of his home at 829 Lansdowne St. The lad died that night in hospital.

"Shortly before 5 p.m. Mrs. Edwards, accompanied by another woman, came to the police station," said Sergeant Murphy. "I asked them if it was about the accident on Lansdowne St. They said yes. And the accused asked if the child were dead."

He added that Mrs. Edwards smelt of alcohol but he didn't think she was drunk.

Jury Excluded

The jury was excluded from the courtroom while Crown Attorney John Bradshaw and T. J. Carley debated whether or not Sergeant Murphy should be permitted to give this evidence.

Justice Ferguson ruled that Mrs. Edwards had asked the question voluntarily before the officer had time to caution her and before he knew how serious the accident was.

James Eastabrook, McDonnel St., a CGE woodworker, said he was bicycling south on Western Ave., on the afternoon of October 14. He was 200 feet north of the Lansdowne St.-Western Ave. corner.

Screech of Tires

"I heard a screech of tires on a car and then I saw a car go east on Lansdowne St. with the hood up. It was going at quite a clip."

He pedalled to the corner and saw the same car partly off the south side of the road, 200 feet east of Western Ave. It was about three feet from a wigwag.

Eastabrook claimed he saw a woman hand a child to Mrs. Reta Faiers, mother of the fatally injured boy. But under cross-examination by Mr. Carley he admitted that when he first saw them the child was in its mother's arms.

Pools of Blood

Constable Edward Niziol said he traced skid marks and tire treads a total of 215 feet, from the south side to the north side of the road, and back again to the south side. Two pools of blood were on the pavement, five feet from the wigwag.

A quantity of broken glass, presumably from a pop bottle, was found 40 feet west of the pool of blood.

Later he questioned Mrs. Edwards at the police station and he smelled liquor on her breath, he said.

Mrs. Florence Heron, 875 Ford Ave., heard the brakes and looked up.

"I saw the child rolling down the highway. The hood was up on the car, it pulled toward the railway tracks on the south side of the child," she said.

She saw a woman get out of the car, and hand the child to another woman. But she could identify neither.

The trial continued later this afternoon.

Firemen To Receive Eight Days In Year Instead Of The Regular Statutory Holidays

Instead of the statutory holidays throughout the year, the first of which is New Year's Day, Peterborough firemen are to receive eight other holidays at whatever time they can obtain them, with the approval of the Chief of the department.

The Fire Fighters' Union asked for nine days, Ald. A. B. Burrows read in his fire, water and light committee report to the council Monday, "but eight seemed to be sufficient to cover holidays generally observed throughout the city."

"The association also requested agreement in regard to the manner in which these holidays were to be granted upon request, but your committee is of the opinion that the Chief is responsible for the successful operation of the department, and his must be the responsibility in granting leave from duty."

The Burrows report dealt with other details of the report which largely reviewed the recent discussion between the association and the committee.

"The fire fighters ask for certain changes in medical certificates being required for proof of illness. The Chief has posted a new order in the department requiring a medical certificate only when members are returning to work. Therefore, there is no need for this matter to be included in the bargaining agreement.

"Your committee offered an increase of $100 per annum, dating from January 1, 1951, and cost of living bonus clause. This offer was not accepted by the bargaining committee and negotiations on salary are continuing.

"The fire fighters requested that their department should be paid weekly. The present policy is that salaried employees of the city are paid every two weeks, while hourly workers receive their wages weekly. Your committee is of the opinion that members of the Fire Department must still be classed with other salaried employees and be paid every two weeks.

"The Fire Fighters' Association requested an amendment to the procedure with regard to leave of absence. Your committee recommends that there be inserted in the new agreement this clause: 'On the death of a member of the immediate family of an employee (father, mother, wife, children, brothers, sisters, father-in-law, mother-in-law) or for any other extraordinary reason of emergency, the said employee shall be allowed up to three (3) days leave of absence without loss of remuneration or off duty time, at the discretion of the Chief of the department'."

Restrictions And Rationing Predicted This Year

Live in a glass house, give a baker's dozen and make it easy to buy, Fred J. Kirby, promotion counsel of the Saturday Night Press, advised salesmen of the Peterborough Sales and Ad Club at a retail night meeting at the Empress Hotel on Tuesday. By following these three principles, he said, salesmen could gain an edge over their competitors. It was particularly important for retail salesmen to steal a march on competitors in 1951. This year, he predicted, would be a year of war operation in Canada and the United States. As a result, goods would tend to become more scarce and more standardized.

Choice To Be Limited

Mr. Kirby forecast that industries would have to take second place to the government in buying raw materials. There would be rationing and restrictions. Because industry was operating very near peak now there was only a small pool of unused labor. These and other reasons would mean a smaller choice of products for retailers to sell.

"Knowing how to serve customers will give retailers an edge," Mr. Kirby said.

Knowing how to serve customers began with establishing good public relations with customers and prospective customers. Live in glass houses so that the people of the community can see everything you do and find nothing in your conduct to condemn, Mr. Kirby told his audience. He said business men should be ready at all times to bear the scrutiny of their neighbors and indeed welcome scrutiny.

Retail salesmen and business owners should lose no opportunity to give an extra service that a customer was not expecting. In other words they should always see that their custmoers received a baker's dozen.

Make It Easy To Buy

His third piece of advice was to make it easy for customers to buy. Customers want to know about the products they are buying. He said sales clerks should be taught to answer simple questions about the goods they were selling. Customers came into a store because they were looking for something to buy. Business men should see that every factor was there to encourage them to buy.

"Teach sales clerks to get the customer and the merchandise together," said Mr. Kirby.

Mr. Kirby was introduced by Ken Dalrimple and thanked by George VanKoughnett.

Don Smedmor was chairman of the retail night committee which arranged for the entertainment presented. Two films were shown to the members following the meeting. Both dealt with selling.

Three new members were welcomed into the club by president Don Loucks. They were Harold Johnston, Jack Hardill and Bill Hardwicke.

Roads To Cost Quarter Million

Estimates of expenditure on city roads and bridges this year was indicated at $290,500 in a project bylaw Ald. J. E. Gillespie directed through three readings Monday night.

Contemplated total on roads is $286,000 and culverts and bridges $4,500.

In the financing of last year's work the council gets a grant from the Ontario Dejartment of Highways. To that end, a motion by Ald. Gilespie and Ald Waddell quoted the 1950 expenditure on roads and bridges at $148,855.86.

The city is entitled to the statutory grant of one-third of that amount, which had been tabulated by City Engineer Chalmers

Clearing house figures for the week ending February 20 were $2,800,971. Last week the total was $2,332,887.

LEGACY TO CLERGYMAN

The estate of the late Dr. Perry G. Goldsmith, of Toronto, valued at $215,000, was filed for probate on Tuesday. Among the beneficiaries were the Archdeacon F. J. Sawers, of Toronto, for the sum of $2,500. Mr. Sawers, prominent Stony Lake cottager, was former rector of St. Luke's Anglican Church, Peterborough.

CIVIC DINNER

Justice J. Keiller McKay, a justice of the Ontario Court of Appeal will be entertained at a civic dinner at the Empress Hotel Thursday. The dinner will be held before Brotherhood Week meeting in the collegiate, at which Mr. Justice McKay will be guest speaker. Wm. Graff, librarian, reported today that a limited supply of tickets for the meeting is still available at the Public Library.

New School May Cost One Million

Durham County Board Starts On Plans For New High School

PORT HOPE, Feb. 21— Authority to buy land and draw plans for a new High School which may cost $1,000,000 was given at a meeting of Durham County District High School Board.

The proposed school, to be located in Port Hope, will combine technical and agricultural training facilities with regular academic courses.

The decision followed a talk by G. L. Gray, secondary schools inspector for the United Counties, who spoke of gross overcrowding in Port Hope and Bowmanville High Schools. He said conditions were worse in Port Hope.

"I cannot overstress the importance of a new school at Port Hope and perhaps another in Bowmanville," said Mr. Gray. "These new schools are needed now."

Start On Plans

The school board also gave a three-man building committee authority to engage architects to draw plans for an addition to the Bowmanville Collegiate.

At the same time, the board ordered discontinued the Grade 13 classes in Orono and Millbrook. A spokesman for the board pointed out that there were only two Grade 13 pupils at each school, and that transportation to Port Hope would be provided for them.

Mr. Gray said that the board could expect an additional 30 students at the Port Hope High School this fall, and an extra 20 students at Bowmanville Collegiate.

Sinclair Is Named Board Chairman

John R. Sinclair is the new president of Peterborough Real Estate Board, succeeding the late J. A. Gibbs. At its annual meeting at Kawartha Golf Club Lorne C. Bateman was re-elected secretary-treasurer for his fifth term in that office.

The Board is suggesting to the city council that if given the opportunity it might be able to contribute something helpful to both the city planning committee and the industrial committee.

The realtors will likely propose to the council that their board be represented on both those civic bodies.

Membership of this board has increased from six at the outset to a present 30. Some of the insurance companies have in that time branched into real estate, and the field here has developed a great deal of activity since the war.

Oshawa's Tax Rate Increases Eight Mills

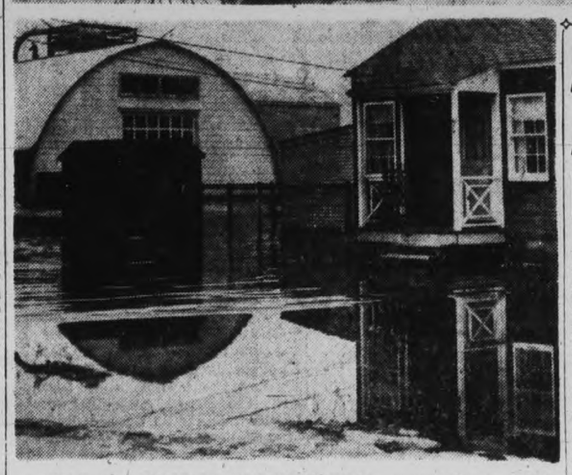
Oshawa tax rate has been set for the year at 47 mills, an increase of eight mills over 1950, and almost double the low of 24.5 mills in 1945.

The city council is offering no apology to the taxpayers for the eight mill boost. They consider that they have done well to keep the levy at less than 50 mills. Their aim has been to keep the general increase in the estimates at not more than 20 per cent.

The board of works requisition was cut from $524,680 to $380,680, bringing a warning from its chairman that certain services might not be available with that money to spend, or certain work would not be done.

Free 2 Employees Caught With Literature

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 21 (AP) —Police Tuesday night released two employees of Buenos Aires' independent newspaper La Prensa after holding them nearly 24 hours for distributing pamphlets.



The newspaper, which opposes President Juan Peron, has been prevented from publishing for 26 days by a news vendors' boycott and a composing-room strike. Government-supported unions are involved in each case.

The two employees, a reporter and an assistant librarian, were arrested for handing out leaflets asking the government to protect workers who want to return to their jobs. The news vendors demand that the paper stop direct sales to subscribers and give their union a share of the advertising revenue.

Chain Reaction

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Feb. 21—When Virginia Sue Bailey, 2, tumbled from a stool in her home and broke her thumb a chain reaction set in. Her mother, Mrs. Herbert M. Bailey, started to take her to hospital. A brother, Ronald Lee, 4, ran to open a door and bumped into the glass, cutting his face. Mrs. Bailey made her way to the hospital with the two children. As she was ascending the steps she slipped and fell, fracturing an ankle. Hospital employees gathered up the three Baileys, took them inside and treated them.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE, especially in the south end of the city, fills ditches, overflows low streets, fills backyards and front lawns. The City Board of Works was in great demand on Tuesday as property owners called frantically for the clearing of frozen storm drains to release the waters of the mid-February thaw.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Lakes And Rivers In Streets Slosh Houses, Bar Children

If it is slushy, wet and slippery downtown, that is only a slight annoyance compared with conditions in some of the newer residential sections of the city. There small lakes cover lawns and backyards, and rivers flow down the streets. One family in the New Romaine street area is completely marooned. At the north end of town in Brookdale district, mothers are afraid to let their children out-of-doors for fear they may be drowned. Underneath six inches to a foot of water is slippery ice, a trap for the unwary adult, a menace to little children.

People are complaining less about watery cellars than about the poor walking conditions. The children are the largest group of complainers, the mothers keeping the young tots indoors away from the rippling streams and grimy blotches of water. Wet clothes and feet may lead to colds, flu and the measles which are plaguing the city's children.

Tuesday afternoon an Examiner reporter looked at his galoshes and decided to reach the George English family at 929 High St. by telephone. The house was surrounded with six inches to a foot of water, and underneath the water was an icy footing.

For the past three days the youngest boy, James, three years, has been kept indoors. Gerald, eight, went to school Tuesday morning, "because he wanted to go," said Mrs. English. "He came home dry at noon, but I hate to think of what he'll look like tonight."

A neighbor, Mrs. Roy Armour, 711 St. Mary's St., whose backyard is flooded completely, said, "the water's just lying there." Her daughter, Joyce, four years, amuses herself with dolls and her goldfish.

Using Hot Steam

Along the street the Board of Works men have started to chop drains and blow open the culverts with hot steam. The culverts were frozen stiff and the men churned up the water and mud trying to blast a hole through.

At the corner of Ford and St. Mary's St., a puddle, easily 60 feet long and 40 feet wide, perhaps a foot deep, had formed. Water worked through ice barriers and trickled across front lawns forming four other miniature lakes. These in turn had spread into the backyards of the homes where water isolated garages and woodsheds.

Water has spread up to the backdoor-step of the home of Harold Carson, 771 New Romaine St. There the water has barred the small children from outdoors. The puddle on the front lawn had expanded across the road and was filling another rapidly there.

"Most of the children are too young to go out alone under these conditions," explained a housewife. "You can never tell what will happen. Water fascinates children."

Alarm for Children

Although the home owners at the Brookdale area haven't the large puddles, they have a small, swift stream which flows down the Chemong road hill and through the backyards of 10 homes. It washes away the back lawns each spring and seems to be wider this year.

"I haven't let the children out. I'm afraid of it," admitted Mrs. William Wiseman, 734 Downie St. "There is a high percentage of children in the area under 12 years. A couple of children will have to be drowned before something will be done about it."

"I'm really alarmed for the children's safety. You know small boys; they can't stay away from it."

Jackson Park creek has risen slightly and water is flowing over the winter's ice making conditions dangerous for children. There are numerous gaps in the ice where the water is three to four feet deep.

A downtown pedestrian summed up the situation, saying: "Water today; ice tomorrow."

Ald. Waddell At Ottawa Defence Course

Alderman Hugh F. Waddell, vice - chairman, Peterborough Committee for Civil Defence, is attending the Civil Defence Staff Forum at Ottawa from February 19th to March 9th.

This course is being run by the federal government, and is in the nature of staff forums for municipal personnel who are actively engaged in civil defence planning.

Expenses for food, lodging and transportation are paid for by the federal government, and vacancies are allotted by the federal government to the provincial government.

As vacancies are extremely limited for this course, it speaks well of the Peterborough civil defence activities that one of its members should be selected out of the small number allotted to Ontario.

In addition to instruction on actual planning work, an important part of this course will deal with the inter-co-operation between different municipalities in civil defence work and plans.

Oppose Plan To Levy Indirect Tax

Chamber Commerce Voices Opposition To Taxation Change

The Peterborough Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the action of the Executive Council of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce opposing the proposal of the federal government to give the provinces the right to tax indirectly.

A letter was sent by the national chamber to Prime Minister Louis S. St. Laurent asking that the provinces not be given this right to tax indirectly by levying an indirect tax on retail sales. The result of this letter was an invitation to the chamber from the Prime Minister for the executive council to make representations to Ottawa February 23.

Jim Fraser, local manager, reported this morning that a telegram had been sent to national headquarters endorsing the letter of objection to the Prime Minister.

This tax adjustment matter arose following the December Federal-Provincial Fiscal Conference. Press reports released stated that there would be proposed at the next session of parliament an amendment to the North America Act to provide for the levying by the provinces of an indirect tax on retail sales.

In their letter to the Prime Minister, the members of the Executive Council stated that any increased taxation in Canada should be solely for defence. They also objected to the proposed amendment because it would make for confusion in the country's over-all taxing jurisdiction.

If provincial taxes have to be raised the chamber asks that they should be raised within the present taxing power of the provinces.

Applications will be received for the position of Assessor for the Township of North Monaghan up to Feb. 23, 1951. Salary $400 per annum. Apply in writing to the Clerk.

New Products Feature InManufacturing

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Many and varied are the new products which manufacturers continue to bring out.

A British manufacturer, for instance, says he will show run-proof nylon stockings in which each stitch is separately knotted, at the British Industries Fair in May.

And American companies come up with the following:

A cap for medicine bottles which has a combination lock which must be dialed before it can be opened—to protect exploring children. Tiny foam-rubber cushions to fit inside clip earrings. Disposable paper casseroles that withstand temperatures up to 450 degrees: House-wife serves hot dinner individually, with no pots or dishes left to scrub or wash.

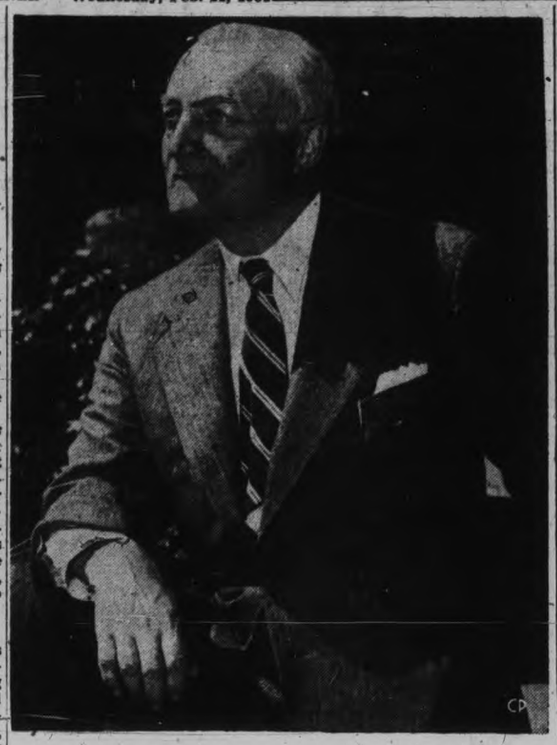
New Publications

James Richardson and Sons has issued its 1951 version of "Western Canadian Oils," including data on companies and fields; and considerable geological information on how and where oil occurs, interesting to the lay reader as well as to the oil man.

Union Gas Company of Canada, Ltd., which serves natural gas in Western Ontario, has issued a booklet on its history and activities.

Thermostats and Bonds

Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. Ltd., states that the first clock thermostat (for automatic heating systems) to be made in Canada, recently came off its Leaside production line.



The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development is thinking of offering bonds in Canada.

The bank lends money for constructive developments in many parts of the world, using money subscribed by member countries (including Canada), or raised through issues of its own bonds.

The bank's publication, "International Financial News Survey," says that most of the funds likely to be needed in the near future will be raised in the United States but that flotations are also being considered in Switzerland and Canada.

Goes Berserk

WATERLOO, Ia., Feb. 21 (AP) —A taxicab driver Tuesday shot and wounded three persons including his estranged wife, then killed his father-in-law and himself. The dead were identified as Harold Riechel, about 25, and Harold Smith, about 50. Smith was Riechel's father-in-lay.

PHILANTHROPIST—Senator Norman McLeod Paterson of Ottawa is believed to be the anonymous layman who has pledged $1,000,000 to the Presbyterian Church in Canada. A grain merchant and ship owner, the Liberal senator is well known for his philanthropy. Senator Paterson would neither confirm nor deny the report, but quoted: "Let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth."

Convict Youth In Slaying

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Feb. 21 (AP)—Husky Rodney McRae, 16, was convicted Tuesday of first degree murder in the sex killing last September of little Joey Housey, 8. Under Michigan law, a first-degree murder conviction carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

Young Joey disappeared from his St. Clair Shores home Sept. 9 but his mutilated body in its make-shift grave was not found until two weeks later.

While police were investigating, Rodney, a neighbor, fled to Sarnia, where an uncle lives. Brought back by officers, he first admitted the slaying, but later repudiated his statement.

OLD NAME

The trombone, brass wind instrument, was originally known as a "sackbut."

Railways Permit Concession On Cattle

SASKATOON, Feb. 21 (CP) — S. N. MacEachern, manager of the Saskatoon Industrial Exhibition, said Tuesday he has been advised that the railways have agreed on a freight-rate concession for Canadian livestock shipped for exhibition purposes.

He said Donald Gordon, president of Canadian National Railways, informed him in a letter that the railways are willing to reduce by 25 per cent the transportation charges from the last point of exhibition to the point of origin.

Goldsmith Estate

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP). — The estate of Dr. Perry C. Goldsmith of Toronto filed for probate Tuesday, was valued at $215,765. The largest single bequest of $50,000 and Dr. Goldsmith's home were left to a cousin, Helen Annie Clark. A granddaughter, Margaret Goldsmith, received $30,000 and $10,000 bequests went to a sister, Mary Evans and to a nephew, Rex Goldsmith.

Prepared For Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Textile Workers Union (CIO) Tuesday told 200,000 workers in the United States cotton-rayon textile industry to prepare for a strike March 15 if new work contracts are not reached by that time. About 70,000 union woollen and worsted workers already are on strike because of a breakdown in contract negotiations. The union is asking for a two-year contract providing a 12-yer-cent wage increase.

Don't Want Spain

LONDON, Feb. 21 — (CP) — Ernest Davies, Parliamentary Under-Secretary of the Foreign Office, told the House of Commons Tuesday night that Britain opposed including Spain in the North Atlantic Treaty organization. The reason, he said, is "because the principles of democracy, individual liberty and rule of law are absent from Spain at the present time."

3 Officers Convicted

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21—(CP)—Three officers of the Vancouver Optimist Club were convicted Tuesday of "disposing of goods" by conducting a lottery. Remanded to the end of the assizes for sentence were David Cohen, president; Thomas Hincks business manager, and V. Gordon Hindle, draw committee chairman. They were charged following a $12,000 raffle conducted by the club Jan. 28, 1950.

Wins Song Prize

PARIS, Feb. 21 (Reuters). — Montreal singer Felix Leclerc Tuesday won the 1951 Grand Prix du Disque for his own song "Moi, Mes Souliers." He was the only unknown on the list of prize-winners, which included such famous names as Charles Trenet and Yves Montand.

"If you don't appear to see wot you require, lady, p'raps you'd care to look around our bargain basement?"

Rubber Firms Lose Combines Fight Round

TORONTO, Feb. 21 — (CP) — Twenty-one rubber companies lost another round in their fight to prevent the federal government from prosecuting them under the Combines Investigation Act.

The Ontario Appeal Court rejected the companies' request for an injunction to prohibit the government from acting on a report of the combines investigator. The report concerns an alleged price-fixing arrangement in the rubber industry.

The Appeal Court ruling upholds a decision made last November 27 by Mr. Justice W. F. Spence of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Mr. Justice Spence ruled that the report is valid despite the fact it was started under a different chief commissioner than the one who would present it to the government.

Chief Justice R. S. Robertson, in a written judgment supported by Mr. Justice J. A. Hope and Mr. Justice J. B. Aylesworth, said nothing in the Combines Act prohibits the commissioner from making a report "upon an investigation that he has not himself conducted."

The report on the rubber industry was started when Fred McGregor was chief commissioner. He has since resigned and Thomas D. MacDonald now heads the commission.

Contend It's Invalid

The companies contend that the fact the commissioners were changed while the report was being drawn up makes it invalid.

The report has been completed and the next step would be to place it before Justice Minister Garson, following which the report would be made public.

Then the question of legal action against the companies would be considered.

The 21 companies:

Acton Rubber Limited; Barringham Rubber and Plastics Limited; Cambridge Rubber Limited; Canadian Allis-Chalmers Limited; Canadian General-Tower Limited; Dominion Rubber Company Limited; Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company; Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of Canada Limited; General Tire and Rubber Company of Canada; Goodrich Rubber Company of Canada Limited; G. L. Griffith and Sons Limited; Holtite Rubber Company of Canada Limited; Kaufman Rubber Company Limited; Kaufman Rubber (Ontario) Limited; Northern-Woodstock Rubber Limited; Miner Rubber Company Limited; Panther Rubber Company Limited; Seiberling Rubber Company of Canada Limited; Viceroy Manufacturing Company Limited; Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Canada Limited; Gutta Percha Rubber Limited.

The injunction was sought also by G. B. Smith and A. U. Oakie, officials of the Rubber Association of Canada.

HONOR LAURIER—A group of parliamentarians, headed by Prime Minister St. Laurent, paid homage Feb. 17 to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the 32nd anniversary of his death. Mr. St. Laurent places a wreath on the base of the statue on the flank of Ottawa's Parliament Hill.

Jailed Four Years

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP). — Convicted of having carnal knowledge of a 10-year-old girl, Lionel Crookes, 25, was sentenced Tuesday to four years in penitentiary by Judge Samuel Factor.

Blast Communism

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Feb. 21 (AP)—Three former leaders in present bastions of Communism—Kerensky of Russia, Mikolajczyk of Poland and Gafencu of Romania—said Tuesday that Communism is the enemy of the free world whether it bears the Tito or Stalin label.

Let Princes Pay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (Reuters).—Charles Kersten (Rep. Wis.) said in the House of Representatives Tuesday that India could pay for 2,000,000 tons of food grains by getting the money from its "fabulously-wealthy" Indian princes.

MP Ordered Out

BELFAST, Feb. 21 (Reuters)—Harry Diamond, a Republic of Ireland Labor member in the Northern Ireland House of Commons, was ordered out of the House Tuesday by the Speaker after refusing to withdraw a reference to a visit of 'foreign" royalty. He had protested against the June visit of the King and Queen which he said could be considered an endorsement of the policy of partition and its attendant evils.

Jailed 10 Years

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 21 (AP) — Nationalist leader Pedro Albizu Campos, already convicted of attempted murder in the unsuccessful revolt he led last fall, was sentenced Tuesday to 10 years and nine months in prison for illegal possession of firearms and explosives. Sentence for attempted murder is to be pronounced Friday.

Will Truck Mail

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) — The United States postoffice plans to move much of its short-haul mail in the future by truck instead of by train. Assistant Postmaster General John M. Redding, who announced the change, said it is being made to save money.

Says Publisher Of Today Must Be Business Man

MONTREAL, Feb. 21—(CP)—The newspaper publisher of today has to be much more the business man than he had to be 50 years ago, A. Edgar Whiting, vice-president and general manager of the Herald Publishing Company, told the Rotary Club of Montreal Tuesday.

Mr. Whiting said it has been related that the old giants of journalism had their hearts in the newsroom and not in the counting house. But with newsprint more than $100 a ton and with production costs on metropolitan newspapers skyrocketing, today's publisher is much less the idealist and much more the realist.

The responsible newspaper publisher realizes that he faces the opportunity of making his paper an institution for constant service in the community, said Mr. Whiting.

"The institutions of democracy rest more securely upon the foundations of a free press which so largely moulds public opinion than upon any other idea or practice.

"Perhaps too few of us recognize the real meaning of a free press and its significance in a representative government."

"It is a channel through which flows the stream of information which makes it possible for a democratic organization to function over the far-flung territory of a nation. This does not mean only a channel for disseminating information from the government to the people, but a channel which can come from the people to the government a stream of analysis, of criticism, of praise and if necessary condemnation. This channel is your daily newspaper."

Directions

Please take note of the lofty atmosphere of this menu. Meringues Glaces no less and seafood cocktail. You do not need so much money as you do cooking skill and good china and crystal to make this meal memorable.

The Seafood Cocktail is half broken shrimps and half flaked tuna with Cocktail Sauce made by mixing together 2/3 cup catsup, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 2 tablespoons bottled horseradish and 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Buy a boneless smoked cottage roll and treat it just as you would a baked Virginia ham. When it is tender by boiling or baking, skin off the rind and score surface. Cover with mixture of 1 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon mustard mixed with 1 tablespoon flour. Dot surface with cloves in symmetrical order. Bake to reheat it and give surface an effective golden glaze.

Winter Succotash is either canned or fresh frozen limas mixed with drained canned kernel corn, and flavored with cream or butter, and salt and pepper. This should be served very hot so, when limas are cooked, add them to corn and heat in top of double boiler for about 20 minutes.

For Avocado Addicts

As I expected I drew fire when I inserted avocadoes in a salad recipe. I am keeping on with this avocado-eaters'-guide (Southern salad is tossed salad with them) though, because I receive the occasional peremptory letter about them. One lady said she did not know what to do with "The Thing," so she cut right through it with the heavy butcher knife. "What is that chestnut looking thing in the centre—do you eat it?" "The whole thing is as green and hard as rock, and none of us would touch it—so I gave it to my neighbor who was a Southerner."

When they are ready to eat, avocadoes are soft and the stone rattles around inside when shaken. You do not cut right through the whole fruit—you slit the fruit around the stone and separate it into halves—like you would a freestone peach. You peel off the brittle leather-like skin and cut the soft flesh into crescents or slivers for individual or tossed salads. For the latter, as in this meal, you marinate them in French dressing for 1 hour in the refrigerator, after cutting.

✧ ✧ ✧

Peach Meringue Glace

Make meringues in individual sizes (see below); fill depression with ice cream. Cover with whipped cream (or another meringue) and top this with peach half or slices.

Meringue Shells: Four egg whites, 1 cup white sugar or white cane syrup (canned) ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla. Beat whites until frothy; add salt, continue beating until stiff but not dry. If sugar is used gradually beat in 2/3 cup of it. Then add vanilla, sprinkle remaining sugar over and beat in. If canned cane syrup is used. Heat it to boiling and then pour in fine stream over stiffly beaten whites while beating continuously. With a pastry bag or with a spoon shape rounds of meringue 3 or 4 inches in diameter on moistened parchment paper on baking sheet. Place in oven of 425 deg. Fahr. Immediately turn off heat and let bake as heat recedes, leaving in oven until oven is cold—OR— bake at 250 deg. Fahr. for 35 minutes.

FURS WERE WORN by The Queen (right foreground and Princess Margaret (left) when, with the King they arrived at Burlington House, London, last Thursday, to dine with the President of the Royal Accademy, Sir Gerald Kelly, and his wife. This was the first time that a sovereign has done so for more than a century. After dinner the royal party visited an exhibition in the galleries. The Queen wears a crinoline-style gown in sage green, with a design in white lace, whilst Princess Margaret wears an ivory satin dress.

For Bad Cough, Mix This Splendid Recipe, at Home

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this easily prepared mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 ounce bottle and fill it up with your syrup. The 16 ounces thus made gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and is a very effective relief for coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This splendid mixture soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm and helps to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known as a soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

Grenfell Mission Speaker Reveals Extent of Work

Extent of the work, medical and educational, being done in Labrador and Northern Newfoundland through the Grenfell Medical Mission, was surprising to many who viewed the pictures shown Tuesday evening at the Public Library. Miss Ethel Graham, Ottawa secretary of the Mission, brought the pictures to Peterborough under joint sponsorship of the Local Council of Women and the local branch of the Grenfell Mission.

All pictures were taken during the past 18 months. They showed a fine new hospital now nearly completed at Harrington Harbor and other good-sized hospitals built on the rocky coasts. Homes of the Newfoundlanders shown varied from the very poor to the good, all of wood siding and simple in design.

Some children pictured were well dressed and healthy looking, indicating instruction and care from the Mission. A little barefoot boy in the snow had flabby fat cheeks indicating his diet was white flour and tea, Miss Graham said.

Though there were advantages to Newfoundland in a confederation with Canada, they were not all one-sided, this speaker stated. She declared the fishermen were 100 per cent back of the move.

Their background is English, and they have retained the customs of their ancestors, she pointed out. "Even their mixing up of pronouns is a manner of speaking common in Devonshire or Dorset, and they color their speech with nautical terms which is not unusual among fishermen."

Tuberculosis High

The mission has wiped out a lot of disease and the people are in better physical condition, but incidents of TB are frighteningly high still, she said. When caught in the early stages sufferers of this disease are taken into hospital and treated, but they go home to improper living conditions and poor food and become ill again.

Since the organizing of this mission by Dr. Grenfell the people of these barren coasts do not starve to death as they did previously in great numbers, said Miss Graham. There is still a lot of poverty and primitive conditions, but knowledge has spread. The mission is particularly proud of the undenominational schools which are staffed by natives who were brought out for training.

"We are also very proud of the co-operatives, which we have modelled after those of Antigonish, N.S.," said Miss Graham. "Coastal fishermen are now getting market price for their fish where before they would be paid one cent a pound."

Toys Important

The importance of toys for the children in these places was emphasized by the speaker, and she explained that it is hoped through this kind of play to overcome the instincts learned on the fishing stages and playing with husky pups and dogs. Boys have their own dogs at an early age and by 12 years are driving teams like their fathers, but to become team drivers they must learn to bear their dogs and be always on the alert for ferociousness in the animals. "I will be so glad when the dogs are out of Labrador and Newfoundland," declared Miss Graham. "Roads can be built and other means of transportation found."

A former nurse at Harrington Harbor, Mrs. Gordon Rutherford, president of the local branch of the Grenfell Mission, and who was instrumental in bringing Miss Graham to this city, was called upon to introduce her. Chairman for the meeting was president of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. W. C. Steinkraus.

Recalls Winnipeg Town Of Tents

WINNIPEG (CP)—Oldest living pioneer of Manitoba's Lilyfield district is an 89-year-old woman who remembers when Winnipeg was little more than a tent city and buffaloes grazed the prairies.

She is white-haired Mrs. H. E. Riggall, who came to Winnipeg in 1882 as a young bride. Main street was "just a mudhole" and the city was recovering from a bad flood.

"I can remember the present site of Grace Church (in downtown Winnipeg) was a mass of tents," Mrs. Riggall recalls. "My husband and I pitched our tent there too."

Later the couple moved to Lilyfield to take up farming. She has memories of a herd of buffaloes trampling across the potato field and ruining the crop.

"Our first home was just a shack," she says. "When it rained the water came in the roof. I used to have to hold an umbrella over our two-month-old baby."

Mrs. Riggall spends the winters with her daughter in Winnipeg. But she visits Lilyfield every summer.

"Im looking forward to going out again this year," she says. "There's nothing like the country."

Housing Problems Boost Delinquency

EDMONTON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The high cost of living and housing problems are described as the two main contributing factors to juvenile delinquency in Canada by Miss K. Phyllis Burns of Ottawa, secretary of the child welfare division of the Canadian Welfare Council.

In an Edmonton interview Tuesday, she said much of the marital friction in Canada can be blamed on these two factors and the resulting desertions and separations dead to juvenile delinquency. In most cases, juvenile delinquency occurred when the boys and girls started high school and their home life was not of such a standard that they were kept occupied.

"We must strengthen family life," she said. "There must be unity in the home."

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor.

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid—Canada's largest selling deodorant—today!

DOROTHY DIX

Feminity, Simplicity Said Best Ways To Hold A Man

DEAR MISS DIX: We are three girls who have no trouble in attracting boys, but we don't know how to hold them and keep them interested after we get them.

MARY, BELLE AND SUE.

✧ ✧ ✧

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: It is always easier to get a man than it is to keep him.

A girl may have a pretty face, but if she is dull and tiresome, a man gets tired of looking at her. She may have a keen line, but if she monopolizes all of the conversation he gets tired of listening to her. She may be a good dancer, but if she is never willing to stay put of an evening, he drops her because there are times when his feet hurt and he is tired and he does not want to be dragged around a dance floor.

So you see, it takes more than one thing to hold a man. You just can't flag him down and call it a day. You have to keep on the job.

Act Like a Child

Of course, nobody can give you a hard and fast rule for holding a boy after you have caught him, but I should say that always and under all circumstances with any man a woman's best bet is femininity. Look like a girl. Dress like a girl. Act like a girl.

Adaptability is another winning play for a girl to make. Men like girls who fall in with their moods, who are willing to step out if they want to go, or sit at home and look at television.

Men like girls who are simple and natural and who don't put on any airs. Many a girl never has any dates because she is so over-dressed she makes a lad feel that he could not ask her to ride in his jalopy or to go to the movies with him. Men like girls who have mercy on their pocketbooks.

Men like girls who are pleased at their attentions, but who do not gush and gurgle with gratitude. It shows they are not used to men's attention and men like other men's OK on a girl. Men like girls who let them do the lovemaking. They want to be the hunter instead of the hunted.

And, finally, men hate and loathe the girl who has the telephone habit and who calls them up in business hours. Nor can they stand the girl who hounds them over the telephone to come and see her and wants to know why they have not been around.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am grieving myself to death because my husband is in love with my best friend, but he denies it and won't let me discuss the affair. He continues to pretend to love me, but his demonstrations of love seem patronizing. Some months ago I noticed he began finding so much fault with me—my looks and my clothes, and he likes to joke about my being fat. We have been married many years and have fine children whom I do not want to hurt, but when I suspect he has been with this woman it nearly kills me, and I can't help showing him how I feel. I can't go to her and talk to her because I know she will deny it, too. Please help me to a solution to my problem. L. K.

ANSWER: The two things that a woman shouldn't do when she suspects her husband of philandering is to make scenes with him about it, and to humiliate herself by going to the "other woman" and asking her to give him up. Both only serve to make a bad matter worse.

There is nothing like a wife's tears and reproaches to bring an incipient love affair to a head. Many a man who was only amusing himself by a flirtation that would have died of itself if left alone has had his wife literally drive him into the "other woman's" arms by her taking it too seriously and going about with the air of a martyr. Sometimes a wife can laugh off her husband's affairs, but she can never cry them off.

In your particular case you seem to have no real evidence of your husband's infidelity, which makes it a doubly foolish thing for you to do anything except to try to overcome your jealousy and suspicions, and assume that things are as they always were between you and your husband.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have done something wrong. I don't know why I did it. Just on the impulse of the moment. And I shall spend my life repenting it. I have the dearest mother in the world. I have always told her everything but not this, yet I think she senses it, though she never says a word. I think I could stand it better if I told her. Shall I?

ONLY CHILD

Write Every Day Advice To Young Writers

OTTAWA — (CP). — A tip for budding novelists: "Write something every day, so your mental muscles don't get a chance to get atrophied."

So says Toronto-born Lois Edwards whose novel, "My Heart in Hiding," is due for publication in April by William Morrow and Company.

Mrs. Edwards, hazel-eyed and five-foot-six, is the wife of Group Capt. Douglas Edwards of Ottawa. Setting for her book is the fabulous winter playground of Europe, St. Moritz in the Swiss Alps, where the couple spent a holiday shortly after the Second World War when Group Capt. Edwards was Air Attache at the Canadian Embassy in Paris.

Here the idea first came to Mrs. Edwards for her novel—the story of a titled Englishwoman, disfigured in an air raid, and of her struggle to face the world again.

Does Reviews

Along her literary way which has followed her husband's career to postings in Canada and abroad, Mrs. Edwards has found time to do book reviews and articles several of which have been published in the New York Tribune.

She also has written short stories and articles for Canadian magazines.

If pressed to give advice to beginners she will repeat Hamingway's injunction that "you've got to get down some bulk—you can't perfect your writing until you have something to correct."

William Morrow and Co. have an option on Mrs. Edwards' next two books, first of which, with a Toronto setting, she expects to have in manuscript form by the spring.

Parents of 18 Get On Nicely 6-Room House Not Crowded

By ANGELO NATALE.

CLIFFWOOD BEACH, NJ. — (AP). — Take the patter of a childs' feet around the house — then multiply it 18 times.

It can be noisy, but to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carey it's been a pleasant sound. The Careys recently welcomed their 18th child in 18 years of married life.

Carey, the father of the brood, admits it gets a bit difficult at times managing on his $60 a week salary. "But we get along," he says, and sometimes even have some money to spare for little luxuries.

The Careys live in a six-room house located on the edge of a marsh. The family gets the house rent-free from a property owner in exchange for Papa Carey's service as a caretaker and custodian.

Not Crowded

You may think the house is a little crowded, but the Careys do not think so. Four of the little Careys are temporarily living with relatives. The eldest daughter Patricia is married and lives with her husband.

That leaves only 15 Careys in the house, including papa and mama, and they manage just fine with their six rooms.

There are three bedrooms. The kids sleep dormitory-style.

"We have bunk beds for the children," Mama Carey says; "the girls have one big bedroom, the boys the other."

Close Budgeting

Budgeting is not too difficult for the Careys, they say.

Out of the $60 Carey brings home every week from his job as a boiler engineer for Keyport, N. J., Cork Company, about $50 goes for food. The remainder goes for miscellaneous items, such as laundry and their old, but reliable car. They even managed to save enough to buy a new gas range and three new, shiny bicycles for the kids.

Clothing doesn't present too great a problem, either, says Mrs. Carey. "Clothes are passed down from one child to another," she explains.

The money allotted to food goes for 30 pounds of meat, 21 quarts of milk and "plenty of soup."

Good Breakfast

"We probably eat better than most families," Carey claims. "Everyone starts the day off with a good breakfast—and they get anything they want."

Most others become alarmed over childhood diseases, but not Mrs. Carey. When it comes to measles, mumps and chicken pox, she has her own philosophy.

"When one gets something like that," she says, "I let all the others get it. Then we get it all over with at the same time."

The Carey children are: Patricia, 17; James, 16; Joseph, 15; Jackie, 14; Crawford, 13; William 12; Margaret, 11; Raymond, 10; Geraldine, 9; Dorothy Ann, 8; Doris Joan, 7; Frances Elaine, 6; Emily Narie, 5; Dale, 4; Barbara, 3; John Francis, 2; Laurenda, 1; and Bruce Wayne, two weeks.

The household also includes two dogs and three cats.

Coldsprings Personals

Mrs. Carrie Logan was a recent supper guest with Mrs. N. D. McIntosh, Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Graydon McIntosh.

Mrs. Bruce Johnson has returned home to Cobourg after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Ash and son Clarence.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jibb were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Max Dickinson and Connie, Scarboro Bluffs.

Mr. Clifford Minifie has returned after undergoing an operation in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buttars, Gore's Landing, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gordon, Garth and Isabelle.

Mr. Nixon Timlin, was pleasantly surprised on his birthday, when about 40 friends and neighbors called to spend the evening. Progressive euchre was played. The prizes were won by Mrs. N. D. McIntosh, Mr. Hayden West, Mrs. Bruce Johnson, Mr. Norman Gibson and Harold Taylor.

Miss Jean Brisbin, Lindsay, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brisbin.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Willis, Margaret and Nancy, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Philip, Bethesda South.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gibson, Cobourg, were guests recently at a euchre party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Rosevear.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Willis, Cobourg, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Timlin.

Recent guests with Mrs. Wm. Ash and Clarence were: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hoskin, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hoskin, Mrs. Bruce Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Murray McFiggin, Mr and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. M Stevenson and Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevenson, all of Cobourg.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Edgar Davey, who died on Saturday at her home at Bethesda South.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold West, Hayden and Ivan, were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd West and family of Grafton.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jamieson entertained Glamorgan farm forum on Monday evening.

CRIME DECREASE

OSLO —(CP)— Police reports for the Norwegian capital show that crime cases in 1950 decreased by eight per cent compared with 1949. Arrests for drunkenness dropped from 15,000 in 1949 to 10,793 last year.

ASTHMA MUCUS Loosened WHILE YOU SLEEP

Don't let coughing, sneezing, choking, recurring attacks of Asthma or Bronchitis ruin your sleep and energy another day or night without trying MENDACO. This great medicine is not a smoke, injection or spray, but works through the blood, thus reaching the lungs and bronchial tubes. Usually the first dose starts helping nature immediately 3 ways: 1. Helps loosen and remove thick strangling mucus. 2. Thus promotes freer breathing and sounder, more refreshing sleep. 3. Helps alleviate coughing, wheezing, sneezing. Get MENDACO from your druggist. 6—In Memoriams

DUNBAR—In loving memory of my wife, Mrs. Norman N. Dunbar, who passed away Feb. 21, 1950.

Time speeds on, one year has passed
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright,
And took from me a shining light.
I miss that light, and ever will,
Her vacant place there's no can fill,
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in heaven we will meet again.
—Ever remembered by her husband.

FLEETWOOD—In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Claude T. Fleetwood, who passed away one year ago today.

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile,
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright,
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do;
No thought of self, but of "the other"
I know He said "Well done, dear mother."
—Always remembered by Helen, Harold, Lenore, Jerry and Barrie.

HAMILTON—In loving memory of William Hamilton, who passed away three years ago, Feb. 22, 1948.

You're not forgotten, father dear,
Nor ever shall you be;
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
—Ever remembered by his daughters Minnie Howden and Elizabeth Heather.

HOLMES—In fond remembrance of Martha Clark, loving wife of Albert Holmes, died Feb. 23, 191.

Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Fondly remembered by Dad and daughters.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mr. Whitfield Northey wishes to express his thanks to Rev. F. W. Craik, the Board of Works, neighbors and friends for flowers, fruit, cards etc. and for the many kindnesses shown him during his recent illness.

Mrs. Fred Martin wishes to thank attending doctor, Hendren Funeral Home, neighbours and kind friends who sent floral tributes and cards or helped in any way during the recent bereavement of my mother.

The sisters and brothers of the late Charles G. Martin wish to thank their many friends and relatives for their kindness and beautiful flowers in their great loss of a very dear brother.

To the nurses and supervisors of ward 437, I extend my thanks to attending doctors for their kind consideration; the orderlies for their fine service, always ready to assist you. Respectfully Mrs. George Cole, 463 Braidwood.

Five Occupants Of Car Hurt

Five occupants were slightly injured when their car collided with a truck as the car was turning left into Frederick Ave. off Charlotte St. about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Driver of the truck, Fred Revoy, 24, 107 Aylmer St., was charged in police court today with careless driving and the case was adjourned a week without pleading.

All five were taken to the home of Lindsay Mason, 586 Charlotte St., where Dr. J. A. McNeill and Dr. Robert Bell examined them.

The right front corner of the Revoy truck, travelling west on Charlotte St., met in collision with the left rear panel and fender of the Cooke car going in the same direction.

The Cooke car was driven by the impact from a point about the centre of Charlotte St., over the south-west curb and stopped on the lawn of the house on the corner owned by E. R. Shirley. The truck came to a stop against the Cooke car.

Mr. Gilders said he had been in the rear seat directing Mrs. Cooke in her driving. He told her to stop and wait for two cars to pass and then instructed her to pull from the curb and make her turn. He estimated that the car was more than half way across the street when the crash came.

Mr. Gilders told police he saw the headlights of the truck approaching east of Margaret Ave., one block east of Frederick Ave.

The bumper, right front fender, radiator and hood of the Cooke car was the left door pushed in, the door glass shattered, the left rear panel of the body and the left rear fender pushed in.

Constables John Morrow and Douglas Farthing investigated.

PCVS Choral Club At Festival Friday

PCVS girls' choral club will sing Friday night in the open class for girls' choirs at the Toronto music festival. Last year the Garnet and Grey representatives won the Kiwanis shield in the class for choirs from centres under 75,000 in population.

Entered this year are five choirs, the PCVS girls, the Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School choir, the Listowel High School choir, the Aurora Girls' Glee club and a choir from the East York area.

Four years ago teacher M. J. Curtis formed the choral club with girls from all grades and departments. It has now grown to a strength of 70 voices.

Bookbinders Strike At Permit Factory

TORONTO, Feb. 21—(CP)—A strike of bookbinders at the plant making individual liquor permits for the Ontario Liquor Control Board is not expected to interfere seriously with distribution of the permits, board officials said today.

Officials said a large part of their order was already made up—enough for an initial distribution.

The permits are not distributed until March 15, Brig. J. G. Sprague, comptroller of the board, said. "We do not expect any difficulty."

Council Won't Help Safety Group Disbands

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 21 — (CP)—The St. Catharines Safety Council disbanded Tuesday night, giving as its reason lack of co-operation from the City Council.

The council reached its decision after a review of unanswered correspondence, refusals of grants and lack of consideration of suggestions for traffic improvement.

A. E. Bowen, chairman, mentioned that the voluntary safety group was made up of busy and prominent men from a number of public organizations. Although the City Council had appointed a representative to the safety group, it had not been represented at meetings for the last three years.

Fine Apsley Man $210 For Having Liquor

Pleading guilty to having liquor not acquired legally, and consuming liquor while on the interdicted list, James Leslie Walke, RR 1, Apsley, was fined $200 on the first charge and $10 on the second.

Police said he will likely be unable to pay his fine and will spend three months in jail.

Asked to tell something about the accused, Provincial Constable Bert Howden testified that Walke had formerly been a road superintendent in Chandos township for the Department of Highways, but lost his job because of drinking.

Acting Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry K.C., asked the constable whether he thought a jail term of two or three months would do the accused man some good.

"I think something should be done to help this man. He can't seem to leave liquor alone," the officer said.

After Walke pleaded guilty to the charges, Mr. McElderry said "I think there should be a jail sentence on this."

The minimum fine acquiring liquor illegally is $100 and the maximum $1,000.

Hurt In Crash, Needs 20 Stitches In Head

OMEMEE, Feb. 21—(ENS)—An Omemee man, David Deyell, suffered a 20-stitch cut on his forehead Tuesday afternoon when the car he was riding in was in head-on collision with another auto at Fowler's Corners.

Reuben Reeds, RR 3, Omemee, was driving west on Highway 7 when an eastbound car, driven by Art Renout, Emily township, turned left in front of him. The cars met head-on. Deyell was a passenger in Reeds' car. Neither of the drivers was injured.

Reeds' car, a 1951 model, was damaged to the extent of $600, but only minor damage was done to the Renout car.

Dr. William Earle of Omemee attended Deyell.

1,845 Animals Given Care In 1950 By Humane Society

The Peterborough Humane Society has been taking care of lost, diseased and ill-treated animals in this city and district for the past 19 years. Last year the society handled and cared for approximately 1,845 animals.

"Our society needs money to carry on our work," stated Mrs. Stan Shields in an interview today. "Costs are going up and we would like to expand in order to give better service and do more of this type of work in the city and district."

The Humane Society is making a public appeal for funds through the Red Cross and Community Chest campaign, March 2-9. Last year the society received $236 of the total funds collected, $75,000.

"Ours is the only agency in the city," Mrs. Shields continued, "that does this type of work. Not only is our work beneficial for animals, but we also rid the city of diseased animals that might become a hazard, and take care of stray and unwanted animals that otherwise would become a public nuisance.

During 1950, 19 towns and villages and 31 farms within a radius of 65 miles were inspected by the Humane Society's Inspector, Gerald Dunford. The inspectors also visited 16 fall fairs to check that proper housing quarters and treatment was provided for animals.

Watch For Crowding

Truck loads of animals passing through the city are checked and the necessary steps taken if there is any overcrowding or other ill-treatment in evidence.

The society has a dog shelter at the corner of George and Townsend Sts. with a capacity for 32 dogs. Here stray dogs and other animals are kept until claimed or new homes are found for them. The shelter is equipped with an electrocution box which is used for the painless killing of diseased animals.

In 1950, 300 animals were electrocuted.

"The Peterborough Humane Society has a membership of 60," Mrs. Shields explained. All work done in the society is voluntary except for our inspector. However, in order to pay his salary and also operate a truck, which is a necessity, we need funds. We feel our society is doing an important and essential work in Peterborough and hope that the public will give to our support through the community chest fund."

Windsor Boy 7 Dies From Influenza Bout

WINDSOR, Feb. 21—(CP)—A seven-year-old Windsor boy died Tuesday of influenza. Keith Mark Head was ill only a short time, and his death was described as "sudden."

His twin brother, Ronald William, was taken to hospital for observation.

Dr. Louis H. Lager said Ronald is not suffering from the flu.

Health authorities said a sudden increase of flu cases in Windsor have been mostly of the "mild" variety, and the youngster's death is the first reported.

Evangelist, Gambler Becoming Friends

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21 (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham and gambler Mickey Cohen have acknowledged that they have been in close contact recently, but the pint-sized ex-pugilist says he doesn't think the preacher is trying to convert him to Christianity. "In the first place, I'm a Jew; I go to the synagogue once in a while," Cohen explained.

"We had an understanding a year and a half ago. I don't think he'd try to convert me. He likes to ask me about a lot of things that are far away from his way of living."

Graham said he talked of God and Communism and "how to be a Christian."

He acknowledged he would like to convert Cohen.

Say Bribe Money Belongs To Youths

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—More than $20,000 recovered by police from five of the eight basketball players involved in the current gambling scandal still belongs to the youths.

The players led police to the various caches in safe deposit boxes, coat linings and buried shoe boxes. Officials say all but a few dollars of the money are bribe funds received from gamblers.

It was explained that the money only was impounded and would be returned to the players. However, fines will be deducted if the youths are convicted.

50 Patients Walk Out

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Feb. 21—(AP)—About 50 patients walked out of the Pollak Hospital for Chest Diseases Tuesday in protest over the replacement of the head nurse, Miss Florence Murphy. Dr. Frederic Quigley, director of the hospital, said there are so many exits from the hospital he found it necessary to call police in an effort to stop the mass movement. The patients were walking cases.

Measles On Wane

COBOURG, Feb. 21 (ENS). — The epidemic of red measles in Cobourg is on the wane. Two weeks ago, 103 new cases were reported. Only 67 new ones were reported for the most recent seven-day period. Total communicable diseases for the counties of Northumberland and Durham dropped from 258 to 109.

New Light Standards

COBOURG, Feb. 21 (ENS) — New light standards for the business section will be installed this spring, it was announced last night at the meeting of the public utilities commission. They will be installed on King street from McGill to Spring streets and are the overhanging type. Cost of the new installation plus running wires underground will be $17,000. It is the eventual intention to move all hydro poles in that section to positions back of the stores.

Save Three Miners

FONTANE L'EVEQUE, Belgium, Feb. 21 (AP)—Three miners previously given up as lost were brought out alive from a cave-in here Tuesday night. Two other miners were killed. The rescue workers bored through tons of rubble to reach the survivors, who were imprisoned for nine hours.

Culprit Clips Escape Story

What Peterborough Public Library frequenter expects to be residing in the confines of a penitentiary?

Librarian Bill Graff reported today that a front page story had been neatly cut from one of the library's edition of Monday's Examiner. The story told of a convict's escape from the Maryland state penitentiary by digging a 70-foot tunnel from his cell, under the penitentiary walls to the outside.

Librarian Graff's comment — "Clipping articles from library papers and magazines is prohibited. If we catch the culprit, we will put him in jail and give him the opportunity to dig his way out."

Mrs. Mary Ann Harvey

A member of Lakefield Baptist Church for 51 years, Mrs. Mary Ann Harvey, 85, was buried today in Ray's cemetery, Lakefield. She was the widow of Joseph C. Harvey. Mrs. Harvey died Sunday in her 85th year.

Funeral service, conducted by the Rev. W. S. Watson of Lakefield Baptist Church, was held in the Hendren funeral home.

Pallbearers were Rufus Bullock, Clarence Foster, Russell Davis, Milford Davis, Roland Darling, Alex Nichols. Flower bearers were Alfred Dunford, Kenneth Sweeting, Robert Northey, and Bert Nichols.

Mrs. Ira Huggins

The Rev. Walter Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church officiated at the funeral service today for Mrs. Ira Huggins who died Monday. Pallbearers were Alfred Gardener, Samuel Whittaker, Percy Hill, Fred Browne, Charles Butcher, and Arnold Butcher. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Struck By Car Girl, 7, Unhurt

Seven-year-old Yvonne Paquette, 543 Gilchrist Ave., was struck and knocked down by a car Tuesday at Reid and McDonnel Sts., but she escaped serious injury.

Police said she had only two skinned knees from her mishap.

Driver of the car, Glen King, 583 Downie St., said he was driving north on Reid St. As he was crossing the north side of McDonnel St., the youngster ran out from the northeast corner toward the northwest corner.

The right front fender of the car hit her and knocked her down. King stopped, picked up the girl and took her to her home. He then drove the little girl and her mother to St. Joseph's Hospital where she was patched up.

Junior Dramatic Club Entered In Festival

The PCVS Junior Dramatic club will represent the school Saturday in the fourth Secondary School Drama Festival at Queen's University. The collegiate's Senior Dramatic club has presented plays previously, placing second for the last two years, but this is the first time the Juniors have been entered.

The one-act modern drama, "Finders-Keepers" by George Kelly, has been selected for the festival presentation. Arnold J. Noftall is directing the play's three participants, Beverley Johnston, Jean Jolly and Larry Forbes.

Saturday afternoon performances begin at 2:30 and will include Athens High School's "Our Dream House" by Pauline Morrish and Alan Fraser; Belleville Collegiate's "The Patchwork Quilt" by Rachel Field and Kingston Collegiate's "Sunday Costs Five Pesos" by Josephine Niggli. The evening program, beginning at 8:15, will present Brockville Collegiate's "Box and Cox" by J. M. Morton; Regiopolis College's "Catherine Parr" by Maurice Baring and PCVS' "Finders-Keepers" by George Kelly.

FOR TYING UP TRAFFIC—Patrolman George Dabney of Asbury aPrk, N.J., has a little gift for motorist Hiram Sachs—not a traffic ticket, but a blue necktie with safety precautions printed on it. Sachs has just crossed a white line, so his tied reads: "Do Not Cross White Lines." Police Chief Fred Lembke launched the gifts-for-minor-traffic-violatrs program in the belief that a tie would make more of an impression than a ticket.

France Confident Soviet To Come

PARIS, Feb. 21 —(AP)— The French government appeared confident Tuesday that Russia will accept terms of the Western Powers' notes asking for a preliminary meeting of foreign ministers' deputies to prepare for a Big Four conference.

The government is reported already looking for a suitable place for the deputies to meet. The notes suggested the meeting be in Paris March 5.

However, some diplomatic sources here expressed belief that the Western notes' insistence upon a Big Four exploration of major points of tension in Europe might prevent a Big Four meeting or even a gathering of the deputies to prepare an agenda.

Russia has insisted that the German question top the agenda. The Western Powers want to include other areas of tension, such as the size of the satellite armies, the possibility of a threat to Yugoslavia, the long-awaited Austrian Treaty of Independence and other points. The west also wants to talk about the present level of armaments.

(The American State Department reported in Washington Monday that the Soviet Union now has a fully armored or mechanized force of 35 divisions in East Germany and Poland alone and has restored East German railways which would serve as supply lines from Russia in the event of war.)

Talks To Teachers On Curriculum

HAVELOCK, Feb. 21 (ENS)— K. S. Wightman, superintendent of Peterborough Schools was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Urban Teachers' Group of Lakefield, Norwood and Havelock held in Havelock public school Friday. The topic of Mr. Wightman's address was: "Planning the Curriculum."

R. J. Bolton, principal of Prince of Wales School, Peterborough, also spoke on curricular building. Mr. Bolton has recently returned from Detroit where he attended a convention under the auspices of the Association for Supervision and Curricular Development, as the city's representative.

Both speakers were thanked by R. D. Buchanan, principal of Havelock Public School. Everett Sloan of Lakefield School, president of the group, was chairman for the meeting.

Swedish Dance

The pupils of Room 3, Havelock School, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. R. Backus, entertained with a Swedish folk dance. Those taking part were Carol Rutherford, Donne Johnson, Carolyn Anderson, Darlene Whitney, Donald Graham, Peter Ellis, John Chiles and Peter Clarke. Miss Dorothy Graham and Miss Lorraine Thompson sang two vocal duets accompanied by Miss Betty Toms.

Refreshments were served by the teachers of Havelock School.

Report Snowy Owls Seen In Echo Flight At Lakehead

PORT ARTHUR. — (CP). — Snowy owls, which appear in large numbers at the Lakehead at four-year intervals, are making an "echo flight" this winter.

Few snowy owls have been recorded in the eastern part of the continent, but they have been observed here in large numbers.

An echo flight is one following an appearance of large numbers of birds, but is of smaller dimensions and confined to a smaller area. A similar echo flight occurred in Western Canada in 1946-47 following the regular flight of 1945-46.

More than 40 snowy owls have been reported by members of the Naturalists' Club and others at the Lakehead this winter. They perch on high vantage points, telephone poles and flagpoles, and remain motionless for long periods.

The snowy owl is the only white owl without ear tufts. It stands 25 inches tall, and has a wingspan of 5½ feet. It hunts by day, preferably at dawn and twilight, and invariably in the open. Its whistling, tremulous call is seldom heard. Its plumage is white or greyish, darker in females and immature owls. The feathers may be barred, and flight is erratic.

Grey Owls Too

Unusual numbers of great grey owls have also been recorded at the Lakehead this winter. This owl is normally an inhabitant of the Arctic tundras and forest regions of Northern Canada from Hudson Bay to Alaska. It invades more southern latitudes when its food supply, small mammals and birds, runs short.

The great grey owl stands 28 inches tall and has a wingspan of five feet. It sits hawlike, at a slant, and puffs its plumage out to increase its bulk.

This owl lives in dense forest and wooded mountains and rarely hunts in the open. Great grey owls have not visited the Lakehead in numbers for 40 years.

The bird is dark grey. Its round head bears no eartufts. Its eyes are amber yellow, its tail long, and it has vertical grey stripes on the breast and throat. Its flight seems heavy and labored, and its booming hoot is more powerful than the call of the screech owl.

Their flights from the Arctic are usually east and south. They occasionally remain at the farthest point of the flight to nest for the season. Eggs are laid from April to July, with April the most favored month.

This winter, great grey owls have been reported on Sibley Peninsula, Silver Islet, at Neebing and in Port Arthur and Fort William. Several dead specimens were collected during the annual bird census last month. Other specimens have been reported at various points on the Nipigon highway, northeast of the Lakehead.

Seven Churches Approve Report

TORONTO, Feb. 21 — (CP) — Seven Protestant churches said the Hope Report recommendation that Ontario separate school jurisdiction be reduced from eight elementary school grades to six "is educationally as beneficial to separate as to public schools."

The churches, in a report issued by the Inter-Church Committee on Protestant-Roman Catholic relations, expressed opposition to expediture of public monies for the support of separate schools beyond the elementary grades. The report will be sent to Premier Frost, ministers and church courts.

Chairman of the committee is the Very Rev. George C. Pidgeon, Toronto, of the United Church of Canada. Committee members were appointed by the national executives of the Baptist Federation of Canada, Church of Christ (Disciples), Church of England in Canada, Evangelical Church, Presbyterian Church in Canada, Salvation Army and United Church.

Britain Planning To Form "Armies" In 90 Boroughs

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON—(CP)—A far-reaching plan to foster keener civilian interest in the development and consolidation of Britain's expanding territorial forces, has been launched by the war office.

Disclosing details of the plan, Maj.-Gen. E. O. Herbert, director of the territorial army and cadets, announced that 90 boroughs in London and the metropolitan areas of the home counties, had been asked to set the scheme in motion.

The result of more than a year's study and preparation, its main objectives provide for:

1. Assurance that units are so distributed that servicemen can reach them conveniently and enter into their traditional life.

2. To train national servicemen suitably in their full-time service for their future part-time duties in the territorial army.

3. Strengthen local ties so that co-operation and understanding can be built up and common problems discussed and settled speedily.

Aimed At Pride

Aimed as a spur to national pride in the reserve forces and to whip up the young man's spirit of service, the plan envisages the setting up of a "little army" within each borough. The idea will later be extended to other areas throughout the country.

By the time the build-up of the reserve army is completed in 1954, approximately 66,000 national servicemen will be on call within the greater metropolitan area. Of this force, representing one-fifth of the total for the country, about 40,000 will go into the territorial army and the rest into the supplementary reserve. All are required to put in 60 days' training annually during the remainder of their 3½ years in the reserve.

Stresses Team-work

The scheme places special emphasis on the development of close team-work between army and civilian authorities. Towards that end a committee will be appointed in each borough to promote and advance in every way possible local co-operation and feeling of ownership of the units.

The plan also provides for establishment of "unit friends," to be drawn from interested local citizens. Their task will be to give advice and practical assistance as well as maintain liaison between the unit and the man-in-the-street.

Officers will be appointed by each territorial unit to assist in sorting out differences that may arise over a man's training duties and his job. Local firms are being invited to appoint special links of their own to keep managements in touch.

As a further step in development of closer relationships periodic area receptions are to be organized to bring together civic representatives and all ranks of the territorial units. Parades in honor of the borough and "at homes" at the territorial army centres, are also planned.

"I do not underestimate the complexities and above all the human problems of a scheme of this sort," said War Secretary Strachey. "What we now need is understanding and co-operation to make it work."

Fear Of Dept. Split Brought Firing Wenige Testifies

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 22. (CP) — George Wenige, former mayor of London, said today the police commission's refusal to disclose its reasons for firing Allan J. Rush was based on Chief Constable A. E. Knight's statement that it would bring "a wide-open split in the department." Mr. Wenige, 77-year-old veteran of London municipal politics, testified at the Provincial inquiry into the dismissal of Mr. Rush last July after 16 years as a city detective. Mr. Rush, whose campaign was based largely on the secrecy surrounding his dismissal, was elected mayor last December, replacing Mr. Wenige.

Other police commissioners who with Mr. Wenige, fired Mr. Rush, are Judge Ian MacRae and Magistrate Donald Menzies.

The inquiry, now in its fourth day, has been marked by a mass of contradiction. Deputy chief Morley Leach Wednesday supported Chief Knight's testimony, which previously had been contradicted by other top police officials and two junior officers.

Deny Complaints

Several detectives testified today after Mr. Wenige's appearance. All denied having complained about Mr. Rush or having refused to work with him.

(Part of the Chief's testimony was that Inspector of Detectives William Snell had said no detective would work with Mr. Rush. Inspector Snell denied having said that).

Got Pep Talk

Prominent in the testimony of all the detectives was what Detective Len Hamilton described as "a pep talk by the chief and a reprimand for Inspector Snell and Sgt. (John) Parker."

Each quoted the chief as having complained of lack of harmony in the detective branch. The chief had said: "If there is no one in the department that has the ability to run the department as I want it run, then I'll put someone in who will."

Within a short time, the detectives said, the chief's brother, Charles Knight, was made chief inspector of detectives, with authority over Inspector Snell.

Bevan Attempts To Avert U.K. Rail Crisis

LONDON, Feb. 22 (AP).—In a last-minute effort to avert a strike of some 600,000 British railroad workers, the heads of three rail unions were to meet today with Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan.

If the unions call the strike in an effort to get higher wages — and thousands of workers already have walked out to show they mean business—Britain would face one of her gravest industrial crises since the 1926 general strike.

Coal stocks already are dangerously low. Even a brief stoppage of shipments would mean a widespread industrial shutdown.

Unless Bevan can solve the impasse, a widespread rail stoppage seems certain by the weekend through extension of unofficial strikes which the government claims union heads are doing nothing to discourage.

The union leaders want Bevan to get the railway executive — which operates the nationalized lines—to increase its offer of higher wages by another £2,225,000 ($6,675,000) a year.

Three days of wage talks between the executive and the unions broke down shortly before last midnight with the unions rejecting the executive's final offer of a £9,250,000-a-year boost. The unions are asking £12,000,000.

Railway executive chairman John Elliot, who called the deadlock "irrevocable," said the board's offer was £2,000,000 more than had been offered by a government court of inquiry and would have raised the wage minimum from £4 14s 8d a week to £5.

The situation has become so serious at Manchester, key rail centre of England's industrial north, that a ban has been ordered on all inward parcel traffic.

King, Queen To Begin Aussie Tour March '52

CANBERRA, Feb. 22 (Reuters) —The King and Queen will begin their tour of Australia at Fremantle March 1, 1952, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies announced today.

Menzies said the Royal party will leave Brisbane for New Zealand May 1, 1952, after touring all the Australian states. Princess Margaret will accompany her parents.

The tour was originally planned for 1949, but was postponed because of the King's illness.

Predicts Oshawa To Hit 100,000

OSHAWA, Feb. 22 —(CP)—A prediction that Oshawa will one day have a population of 100,000 was made Wednesday night by Gordon D. Conant, former Liberal premier of Ontario. The present population is 35,000.

In an address at a ceremony of the presentation of a chain of office to Mayor Michael Starr, R. Conant, a lifelong citizen of Oshawa, said;

"Within the lifetime of many of its present citizens, Oshawa will be populated by 100,000 people, rivalling Hamilton. Every portent points to that conclusion.

"If war comes, Oshawa industries will be engaged to capacity in making armaments and equipment to wage war. If there is peace, the development of Canada and the demand for our products in domestic and foreign markets will increase our production and the extent and numbers of our industries."

Waterfront Strikers Get Gov't Ultimatum

WELLINGTON, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—The government today gave New Zealand's waterfront workers four days to end their wage strike, or else.

Labor Minister William Sullivan's ultimatum to the strikers is backed up by wide powers under the government's state of emergency declaration.

If the strike which began last Sunday, is not ended by the Feb 26 deadline, it becomes a "declared strike," and action may be taken against the union or any officer or member of it.

Just A Friendly Gesture

US Monument Maker Ready To Replace Stone Of Scone

GOLDTHWAITE, Tex., Feb. 22 (AP—A tobacco-chewing Texas monument maker is chipping out a replacement for Britain's missing Stone of Scone, just because he's friendly.

As stocky E. B. Adams, of Goldthwaite, wrote the British ambassador:

"We are well aware that there can be no recompense for the sentimental value of the symbol. But we do feel that our proposal also will result in a gift that will carry its own sentiment—the expression of friendship between your people and our people."

The Stone of Scone, ancient symbol of the British kings, was ripped from its place under the coronation chair in London's Westminster Abbey and spirited away last Christmas Day. Scotland Yard believes Scottish Nationalists stole the stone, which was taken from Scotland by England's King Edward I.

One day Adams was talking to Harry Allen, a tinsmith in this small central Texas town.

"You're always talking about being friendly to the people of other countries," said Allen. "Why don't you make a Stone of Scone fo. the people of England."

"Well, I will," said Adams, who is of English-Irish ancestry.

But he remembered having heard something about a law that private citizens can't communicate with heads of foreign states.

"Who do I write to about this?" he asked H. R. Ekins, editor and publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle.

"You'd better write to the State Department," Ekins said.

Adams learned that his gesture doesn't come under the law he had been worrying about. The State Department suggested that Adams might want to get advice from Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to the United States.

Adams hunted until he found just the right kind of sandstone. He rounded up magazine pictures showing details of the original Stone of Scone. And he wrote his ieter to Ambassador Franks, closing: "I will appreciate your advice as to how the presentation should be made."

Now he's chiselling away at the new Stone of Scone and awaiting his reply.

Pats Now In Front Lines Fight Way Through Reds

Allied Army Begins New Drive

Report 8½-Mile Gain On 60-Mile Front, Weather Slows Drive

TOKYO, Feb. 22. (AP)—Allied forces smashed northward today on a 60-mile rainswept front aiming to kill, maim or capture all Reds in the mired mountains and valleys of Central Korea.

Advances in this new offensive —"Operation Killer" — ranged up to 12 miles on the East-Central sector and up to 8½ miles on the Central valley, north of Wonju.

Resistance was spotty most of the day but was stiffening at dusk as Allied spearheads neared the main forces of the dug-in Chinese and North Korean Reds.

An estimated 40,000 Reds are South of Parallel 38. The Allied objective is to wipe them out.

Go 12 Miles

Field dispatches reported an American division on the right flank of the United Nations line splashed 12 miles to within three miles south of the valley town of Pyongchang. Deep mud and Red mines slowed the advance of other units in the area.

The main Chinese Communist strength was arrayed in and around Hoengsong, 10 miles north of Wonju in the central sector.

A tank-led American spearhead advanced to within four road miles of Hoengsong by nightfall. The Chinese earlier had fought briefly and then ran—some in panic.

The greatest obstacle to the allied troops of five countries was the weather.

Teaming Up

Teamed up in the new drive were American, British, Australian, New Zealand and South Korean troops. They moved up behind tanks, self-propelled guns, weapons, carriers and jeeps.

(Originally troops of the nine countries, including Canada, Greece, France, and India, had been reported taking part in the drive by 9th Corps headquarters. Later the Eighth Army headquarters amended the statement.)

A senior staff officer said fresh Chinese Reds of the 196th division with 10,000 men and other Chinese units were in the Hoengsong area, with orders to hold the town at all costs.

AP correspondent Stan Swinton said it appeared another big battle was in the offing for Hoengsong, the outcome of which could materially affect the whole war.

GUNS OF WAR—UN troops and their weapons are silhouetted on a hill overlooking the Han River and the plains of Seoul. The men hve fainished digging their foxholes nd are awaiting signs of the enemy.

Pillows Halt Soldier Raid

PARIS, Feb. 22 (Reuters). — Repulsed in a pillow fight by a bevy of girls, 13 French army rookies are likely to look pretty shamefaced in uniform whatever the law says about their raid on a girl's school.

The night before induction the youths invaded the school at 1 a.m., but the girls threw up a barricade of beds and mattresses in the dormitory, ably commanded by the headmistress in her nightdress.

A snowstorm of pillows safeguarded virtue until police arrived and raised the seige.

An outraged public prosecutor demanded that heavy fines be slapped on the raiders. The judge will give his verdict later on the charge of breach of the peace.

Dub Lt.-Gen. Simonds Montgomery II In UK

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP)—Under the heading "Montgomery II," the Daily Telegraph today welcomes the appointment of Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds as chief of the Canadian Army's general staff.

The newspaper says the move has won "wide welcome" here.

The newspaper recalls that the abilities of Simonds were first spotted by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery during the Sicily invasion in 1943. It adds he resembles Lord Montgomery "in his rapidity of decision and strict demand for efficiency."

The comment appears in the paper's widely-read "London day by day" column.

Bill To Protect Policemen From Dismissal

TORONTO, Feb. 22—(CP) — Protection of municipal police officers from unexplained dismissal is provided in a bill introduced in the Ontario Legislature Wednesday by Attorney-General Porter.

Mr. Porter did not mention the case of Mayor Allan J. Rush, former London, Ont., detective who successfully campaigned for mayor of London on the issue of the refusal of that city's police commission to give reasons for firing him.

However, the government measure would remove from the present Police Act the provision that officers hold their jobs "during the pleasure" of police commissions. It would give order-in-council power to the Ontario government to make regulations governing police suspension and dismissal.

A government-ordered investigation now is being made in London by Mr. Justice W. D. Roach into the reasons for the dismissal of Rush, whose demands for an airing of his case were refused by the commission that fired him.

Mr. Porter said the new bill aims at setting up procedure to let a dismissed policeman obtain information about his dismissal and gain a hearing of his case.

Rope 400-Lb. Moose In Middle Of Channel

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., Feb. 22 (CP).—A crew member of the motor vessel Trepassey swung a lariat from the forecastle Monday and roped a 400-pound cow moose right in the middle of Humber Arm.

The ship was breaking its way up through the channel when the moose was spotted floundering around after falling through thin ice. Capt. Joshua Winsor decided to take her on board and brought his ship alongside.

The moose rode in the hold until the Trepassey reached here. Then she was ceremoniously transferred to a truck, driven a few miles inland and turned loose.

Sending 6,000 Canadians To Korea In Two Weeks

OTTAWA, Feb. 22. (CP)—The 25th Canadian Army Brigade, 6,000 to 7,000 strong, will fight in Korea. The bulk will leave Fort Lewis, Wash., within the next two weeks to join the one battalion already fighting under the United Nations banner. The remainder of the special army force, 3,000 to 4,000 men, will remain on this continent, probably to be built into another brigade which, in time, could be sent to Europe.

Defence Minister Claxton told an approving House of Commons Wednesday night that Canada will field a full brigade in Korea at the request of the UN's unified command, in effect the American chiefs of staff.

The request came Tuesday. Cabinet Wednesday approved the dispatch of enough units to round out the brigade.

In Korea now is the 2nd battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry under Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone of Salmon Arm, B.C.

Slated to join it, under the overall command of Brig. J. M. Rockingham of Vancouver, are the 2nd battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment commanded by Lt.-Col. R. A. Keane of Fort William and Ottawa; the 2nd battalion of the Royal 22nd Regiment under Lt.-Col. J. A. Dextraze of Montreal; the 2nd Field Regiment of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery under Lt.-Col. A. J. S. Bailey of Duncan, B.C.; and other supporting units.

To Keep On Fighting

Canada's decision to field a brigade in Korea means that the way is clear for formation of a commonwealth division consisting of the Canadian formation and two British brigades.

The decision also indicates that the U.N. intends to keep on fighting in Korea now that the Chinese are on the defensive.

The term 25th brigade has no special significance. It doesn't mean, for instance, that there are 24 other brigades in the army. There actually is one, the regular force airborne brigade group. Officials said when it was formed the number was picked out of the air.

At Fort Lewis, Brig. Rockingham told his men Wednesday that between 5,000 and 6,000 of them will be moving within two weeks. They are expected to go by boat.

The remainder of the special force probably will move from Fort Lewis to Wainwright, Alta., fairly soon.

Fire Forces 14 To Flee House

SUDBURY, Feb. 22—(CP)—Fourteen persons were forced to flee for their lives, some of them in night attire, as firemen battled for almost two hours to extinguish a fire which gutted the first and second floors of a rooming house on Shaughnessy street early today.

The blaze broke out shortly before 1 a.m. and spread rapidly, cutting off escape for tenants on the second and third floors. They were forced to jump from windows onto the room of a ground floor verandah and from there on to the ground. Deep snow around the verandah broke their falls and prevented what could have been a number of injuries.

Many of the roomers lost all their belongings in the fire. One old-age pensioner has nothing left but the suit of underwear he was wearing when he jumped from the verandah roof.

Peter Winichi, owner of the building, suffered burns to the back of the neck and hands. He did not require hospital treatment.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Wall Collapses 35 Families Safe

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP). — A huge 75-foot-long wall collapsed with a roar Wednesday night, releasing a muddy avalanche of brick and earth that hit a Bronx apartment building with staggering force.

No one was injured, but 35 families were forced to leave their homes lest the damaged building and another nearby collapse.

The 17-foot-high brick wall runs from the base of one Bronx apartment to a lower level where a second apartment stands. Behind it are tons of earth upon which the higher apartment rests.

Half of the retaining wall let go suddenly. Tons of brick, rock, rubble and mud plunged at high speed into the rear of the lower-level apartment building.

Windows were shattered and their frames twisted. Plaster cracked and fell from walls and ceilings. The walls of the apartments on the lower floors were bowed inward by the great weight of the slimy debris.

Longhurst's Untouched $30,000 Sweep Cash May Start Mass U.S. Migration To Canada

Sweepstake ticket winner Stan Longhurst may have started a mass migration from the United States to Canada as a result of being interviewed on Don McNeil's Breakfast Club in Chocago this morning.

Don McNeil said it was the first time he had interviewed the holder of a winning sweepstake ticket and asked him how much he had won. Stan said $30,000.

"$30,000," was the reply.

"Let's all move to Canada!" the radio star exclaimed.

When Stan admitted that he was "an old bachelor," Peggy, the program singer, warbled "When I Get The Ring."

Maybe it should have been: "If You've Got The Money, Honey, I've Got The Time."

Nice Salary Jump

QUEBEC, Feb. 22 — (CP). — The salary of Montreal Mayor Camillien Houde will go up from $10,000 a year without expense allowance to $13,000 with an additional expense allowance of $4,000. The increase was approved today by the Public Bills Committee of the Quebec Legislative Assembly before which the Mayor appeared with a delegation from the Metropolis.

Canadians Stationed Near Chipyong Area Where French, US Troops Held Out Against Red Encirclement

By BILL BOSS

TOKYO, Feb. 23 (Friday). (Reuters)—Canadian troops, seeing action in Korea for the first time, led a British Commonwealth brigade in a wheeling movement through the hills on the West Central front today. Front-line dispatches said the Canadians fought their way through an estimated enemy company. John Colless, Reuters News Agency correspondent, said in a dispatch from the West Central front:

"Tramping in rain-sodden clothing over slippery mountain passes, the Canadians went into the attack shortly after jump-off at 8 a.m.

"By 5:45 p.m. they were firmly dug in on their objective."

The British Commonwealth Brigade crossed 1,500-foot hills — sinking in snowdrifts, skidding on slimy clay and clinging to stunted mountain bushes — to reach the valleys which were the first objective.

Last night they were six miles east of Chipyong, cornerstone of the United Nations defence last weeks.

The Patricias lived to look at Kudun perhaps because they profited from the experience of the last United Nations troops to move ahead of Noean—United States infantrymen who made the mistake of sleeping after taking the village.

War With Vengeance

As they advanced toward the front Wednesday, the Canadians saw the bodies of the Americans —68, many stark naked, killed in flight as they struggled out of their sleeping bags and attempted to get away.

The Patricias learned that their predecessors bedded down after taking the village and posted a solitary sentry instead of digging in and maintaining a proper watch.

The Chinese silently established a road block behind the Americans and attacked from the front, mowing down the awakened troops mercilessly.

Maj. Gordon Henderson of Calgary said: "It's a tragedy. But it's a terrific lesson for our fellows. It rams home every point the commanding officer has been teaching these last weeks of night training."

Major Henderson is battle adjutant to Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone of Salmon Arm, B.C., the Patricias' commanding officer.

Heavy Support

While Col. Stone was forward reconnoitering, Major Henderson told of the Patricias' first advance, a mere occupation of territory abandoned by apparently 'withdrawing Communists—abandoned but mined.

The Patricias moved with heavy support — United States tanks, U.S. heavy mortars and New Zealand artillery.

A company commanded by Maj. Vince Lilley of Edmonton and Hamilton took the first two areas, another under Maj. Jack George of Edmonton went through to seize the next group which included a rugged 1,200-foot hill.

Three Killed As Car Hits Radial Train

BRANTFORD, Feb. 22 (CP).—A level-crossing crash of an automobile and a two-car radial train five miles south of here today killed two young men from the Tillsonburg district and an elderly hitch-hiker.

The victims were Johannes Schoenmaker, 22, described by police as the driver of the car, and Henry Van Der Bruggen, 23, both of RR 2, Tillsonburg; and George Stickles, 82, of Waterford, Ont., believed to have been hitchhiking a ride to Brantford.

Police said the car smashed into the middle of the electric train near the point where the sections were coupled and was dragged 100 feet before it was thrown free.

Officials of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway said the two-car passenger and express train set out from Brantford for Port Dover, about 30 miles south of here on Lake Erie, a few minutes after seven a.m. The crash occurred about 13 minutes later. The radial line runs from Kitchener to Port Dover.

The motorman of the radial was Harry Halberstadt of RR 2 Preston, and the conductor was Arthur Jeskins of Preston.

The two young men were described as Dutch immigrants who worked on tobacco farms in this southwestern Ontario district.

Conductor Jeskins said the driver of the car made no attempt to stop for the crossing, although a wig-wag danger signal warned of the train's approach. Jeskins said the road surface was frosty.

Buried 12 Days By Avalanche

VIENNA, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—Gerhard Freisegger, buried alive under snow for 12 days on the highest mountain in Austria, is to have one and perhaps both feet amputated, his doctor said Wednesday.

Freisegger was asleep in a hut on the Gross Glockner when an avalanche struck. Debris formed an archway inside the hut and it took Freisgger 12 days to dig his way through the snow to the surface.

British Seadog Growls

Churchill Can't See Reason US Admiral To Run UN Navy

LONDON, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—Winston Churchill growled like a British seadog in the House of Commons today when Prime Minister Attlee announced that an American admiral will be appointed supreme commander of Allied naval forces.

"Is there not a British admiral capable of discharging these functions?" demanded Churchill, who bossed Britain's naval affairs during two world wars and who firmly holds that Britannia rules the waves.

"How is it," he went on, "that when our experience is longer and wider than that of any other country, and when we have all agreed with so much pleasure that Gen. Eisenhower should command the armed forces on land, we should have to resign any claims we might be thought to have to command the sea."

There were cheers and hoots as Attlee replied that no power in the Atlantic Treaty organization could dictate its views of any appointment and "I understand that the American admiral appointed was generally acceptable."

No one country could insist on its right to some particular command, said Attlee, only to bring Churchill to his feet with the declaration:

"It was possible not very long ago for one country to sink 325 German U-boats compared to 174 by the United States"— a reference to the anti-submarine campaign of the British navy during the Second World War.

"No one is going to argue that I am hostile to the United States, but I don't think our country ought to have fallen so far into the walks of humility."

Canada Will Give Free Wheat To India, Pakistan

OTTAWA, Feb. 22. (CP)—Canada Monday announced her intentions of providing free wheat for India's hungry millions and other aid for Pakistan. The action drew warm praise from officials of both countries. External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons the aid will be financed out of the $25,000,000 Canada is planning to contribute in the first year of the six-year Colombo plan to help South and Southeast Asia fight Communism through economic development.

B. K. Banerjee, acting high commissioner for India, said the announcement was a "great gesture and illustrative of democracy in action."

Mohammed Ali, High Commissioner for Pakistan, said the move was "very generous and very good." It would help Pakistan get urgently needed raw materials and machinery from Canada.

Start Next Spring

Officials outside the Commons said Canada is prepared to start moving some of the wheat gift to India early next spring, providing India will accept low grades.

Shipments would be in addition to the 11,000,000 bushels India has ordered from Caanda in the current crop year.

Mr. Pearson said the famine caused by drought, flood, and locusts, "has imposed a very real human and economic problem in India."

Whatever wheat was shipped probably would be sold by India's Government to its people under its rationing system with the money raised devoted to capital development.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF Leader, asked if Canada's contribution is contingent on a substantial US contribution to the Colombo Plan. The US now is considering a gift of 2,000,000 tons of wheat to India.

Mr. Pearson replied that Canada's contribution "in a sense is not conditional on anything." But, he added, if it became clear the plan could not be completed Canada would have to take cognizance.

$22,405 Reported In Undelivered Mail

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 —(CP)—A virtual mountain in undelivered letters and postcards and a small fortune in cash remain unclaimed in post offices across the country.

The annual 1949-50 report of the postmaster-general discloses that unclaimed letters and postcards totalled more than 4,000,000 up to March 31, last year. Cash found in undelivered mail totalled $22,405.

Car Rolls Over Twice Woman Driver Escapes

Though the car she was driving early today on Highway 28 rolled over twice in the ditch, Mrs. Levina Turk, Lakefield, was uninjured.

She was driving south on the highway and was four miles north of Peterborough when she lost control as the car hit an icy patch. The vehicle rolled over twice and then stopped upright on its four wheels.

The top of the car and the fenders were dented. Damage is $150. Provincial Constable Jack McKendry investigated.

Hit Parked Car Man Fined $10

Arrested Wednesday night after crashing into a parked car, Roland Robinson, 63, Otonabee township, pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of careless driving and paid a $10 fine and costs.

Constable Harold Andrew who investigated the accident, reported that Robinson had been drinking but was not drunk.

He said that Robinson had been driving east on Lansdowne St. and crashed into a car parked on the south side of the street.

Constable Andrew had not been called to court to give evidence.

The parked car, owned by Beverley A. Dawe, 230 Rubidge St., suffered about $70 damage to the rear. About $10 damage was done to the Robinson car.

4,396 Acres Bought For Ganaraska Forest

After four years of operation, the Ganaraska River Conservation Authority is the owner of 4,396 acres of forest or potential forest, the authority's secretary announced today.

One-third of the land purchased is already forested, and another third has been planted by the Department of Lands and Forests. The rest will be planted within the next few years.

This acreage represents about one-third to two-fifths of the land purchases contemplated for the projected forest area.

Distribution of acreage held is: Hope Township, 1,303; Clarke, 1,893; Cavan, 800; Manvers, 400.

A third under Maj. George Flint of Montreal went over the forward slopes and sent a patrol into Kudun.

Meanwhile, a company under Maj. Bill Stutt of Edmonton and Calgary had become "'sort of a palace guard," Stutt quipped. He had taken over British battalion s positions at Noean preparatory to the battalion's shove-off. Finally he found himself so far behind that the brigadier was scouting the area as a possible future headquarters.

In the same area an English regiment, which took over the U.S. infantrymen's sector, had broken a 600-strong Chinese attack. The Chinese assaulted in waves but the British stood firm. The Chinese carried off their wounded but left 62 dead.

In Touch With Scots

Throughout the day's advance, the Patricias kept in touch with Scottish troops to the east.

Major Stutt said that the night his company was holding the front it was only about zero. But "it was colder than anything I experienced in Sweetbriar"—an exercise in the Yukon territory a year ago.

Medical corporal Ross Anderson of New Westminster, B.C., was a busy man in the Regiment's final bivouac area.

Juvenile Theft

VANCOUVER —(CP)— Pupils who raided the Laura Secord School during a weekend, entering with a skeleton key, didn't do any damage, but stole the strap from the principal's desk and removed a few fuses from a fusebox.

T. J. CARLEY, KC, who is the chairman of the Peterborough district of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews which organization is this week sponsoring Brotherhood Week. The Peterborough Council made up of men and women of every phase of the city's life is holding an open meeting in the PCVS auditorium this evening which will be addressed by Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay.

Fred Marshall Laid To Rest

The funeral service in memory of Fred C. Marshall, who died suddenly at his home, 285 Reid St., Monday evening, was conducted by Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson at St. John's Anglican Church, Wednesday afternoon.

Many of the members of the church attended, with associates of the late Mr. Marshall from the Canadian General Electric Company, and also men who were engaged with him in the project of a natural park in the northern area of Peterborough county.

Sponsored Park Project

Friends of Fred Marshall will long remember him for his vision in conceiving that project, now established as Cedar Lakes Public Park, the patient enthusiasm that transcended many disappointments in its early phases, and especially for his desire to retain for the general public an area of Peterborough county that will never be privately sequestered with threatening warnings against trespass.

Pallbearers were: Percy Edwards, Bruce Munro, John Currelly, Edward Grose, J. E. Girven and Lowery McQuade. Burial was at Emily cemetery.

Bureaucratic Influence Ranped By Senator

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Senator Norman Lambert, (L, Ontario) Wednesday called attention of the Upper Canada Chamber to what he termed "the strong trend toward an increasing measure of bureaucratic influence in the federal administration."

"We in the Senate have no apologies to make for emphasizing our opposition to that trend . . . and in resisting it at every turn."

He was not suggesting "lack of ability or industry on the part of the bureaucratic members of our service," Senator Lambert added.

"But I have felt for some time . . . that their ways are not the ways of parliament."

Senator Lambert, a former president of the National Liberal Federation, spoke strongly for an independent Senate in which politics would play no part in debates and decisions.

Fleet Increase

COPENHAGEN —(CP)— Denmark's merchant fleet now totals 1,208,000 tons, or 10 per cent more than in 1939 and 66 per cent greater than at the end of the war in 1945. The Danish tanker fleet in coming years will make up one-third of the total merchant tonnage.

Senator Warns Red Infiltration Among Refugees

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP). — A warning that Russia is trying to plant Communists among the stream of refugees coming to Canada was given the Senate's Immigration and Labor Committee today by Senator Tom Reid (L-British Columbia.)

There were "great numbers" on the west coast who apparently had "not shown their true colors' until they got to Canada, he said. He had "no doubt there is a move afoot by Moscow to infiltrate as many as possible" and Canada should be careful about screening.

Immigration Minister Harris told the committee 115,000 displaced persons had come to Canada since the end of the war. He believed the screening methods, both by the International Refugee Organization and by a Canadian staff in Europe, was the best possible.

The policy was that Nazi war criminals and "people like that would not be acceptable" but the mere fact a German had served with the German army did not bar him. He hoped the more than 100,000 displaced persons expected this year would show an increase in the emigration of West Germans. About 5,000 or 6,000 of them came to this country last year.

He said he had heard reports of Nazi sympathizers who had got into Canada but an attempt to follow up the reports had produced little in the way of evidence.

Sees A-Bombers Delaying War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Curtis LeMay told Congress Wednesday the threat of U.S. long-range atomic bombers will probably keep Russia from launching a general war in the next two or three years. But if Russia decides to strike, he said, bombers alone will not stop the Red armies from overrunning Europe.

LeMay, chief of the country's strategic (long-range) air command, gave his testimony to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees at a hearing on the troops-for-Europe issue. He joined a parade of top military figures in testifying that U.S. troops are needed to bolster Western Europe's defences.

LeMay agreed with Senator Kenneth Wherry (Rep., Neb.) that a ring of air bases must be built around Soviet Russia. He said that was true because the bulk of U.S. bombers now are "medium bombers" with not enough range to hit targets in Asia and return.

Maj. Alexander de Seversky, Russian-born advocate of air power, disagreed with LeMay on that point, saying that air bases around the periphery of Russia could not be held and were only "one-shot" installations. He advocated a strategy pinned directly to intercontinental bombers.

Dr. Seversky sharply attacked the posting of six U.S. divisions in Europe.

Boer War Vet Dies In Lindsay

Major James Henry Staples of Bethany died on Wednesday in Lindsay following a lengthy illness. He was in his 87th year. Born in Manvers Township, son of the late Joseph Staples and Eliza Ann Sutton, he lived nearly all his lifetime in the district except for a short while in the West. He was not married.

Major Staples leaves two brothers, Louis H. and Edward Staples, both of Bethany. He was a veteran of the Boer War and of the First World War with the 109th Battalion under Sir Sam Hughes. He was a member of Bethany United Church.

Funeral service will be held at the Mackey Funeral Home, Lindsay, on Saturday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Mr. Hampson will officiate and burial will be at Riverside Cemetery, Lindsay.

Industrials Continue Advance On Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP). — Industrials and base metals continued Wednesday's advance and climbed but the number of sales dwindled to the slowest pace since the Christmas holiday lull of Dec. 27.

Steels, papers, utilities, agricultures, copstructions, liquors, textiles and manufacturing companies showed a majority of gains in industrials. Foods, banks, retail stores and refining oils tended lower.

Constructions posted several standout advances with Canadian Dredge up $3 and Canada Cement up $2.

Falconbridge paced base metals fractional higher with a 75-cent jump. Issues ahead included Steep Rock, International Nickel, Labrador, Noranda and Consolidated Smelters.

Western oils were mixed and narrow.

Golds drifted downward in quiet, dull dealings.

Dollar Stays Steady

MONTREAL, Feb. 22 (CP) — The American dollar today opened at 4 19/32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, unchanged from Wednesday's close. That is, it took $1.04 19/32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.92⅞, also unchanged.

US Needs Seaway To Meet Ore Requirements

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)— Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman told Congress today that unless the St. Lawrence seaway is built, "I do not see how we will be able to meet our national iron-ore requirements five years from now."

The secretary said the dual-purpose seaway and power project "should receive the highest priority" and its construction should be started immediately.

His testimony before the House of Representatives Public Works Committee backed that of three other cabinet members this week. Each said the $1,000,000,000 development is "vital" as a defence measure.

Chapman said the Korean war has completely changed the steel-making picture.

"Today the steel-making capacity of the United States is 104,000,000 tons as compared with 99,000,000 a year ago.

Big Adjustment

"And instead of looking forward to steel capacity of 110,000,000 tons by 1960—as the industry estimated early last year—we can now look forward to a capacity of as much as 117,500,000 tons by the end of 1952.

"In 1953 and later years we expect that steel-making facilities will be expanded still more to meet growing requirements.

"These steel-capacity figures completely change our national perspective on the St. Lawrence projects. Unless we build a deep waterway from Montreal to the Great Lakes, I do not see how we will be able to meet our national iron-ore requirements five years from now."

Chapman said that 100,000,000 tons of domestic iron ore was used in 1950 to produce 96,000,000 tons of steel, and "our ore requirements will rise to 141,000,000 tons in 1955 and 158,000,000 tons in 1960."

Although the ore supply on the Mesabi Range "is by no means exhausted," an increasing proportion of the output "is in the form of concentrates produced by beneficiating intermediate-grade ore."

Princess Patricias Begin Third War Fight Have Distinguished History

OTTAWA, Feb. 22—(CP)—Canada's Princess Patricias are back in the line. In Korea, they are fighting their third war.

Bill Boss, Canadian Press war correspondent, reported from the front today that the battalion has occupied territory abantloned by withdrawing Communists near the village of Kudun in the Chipyong area.

It's news that will send the memories of thousands of Canadians back into a fighting record which spells out its past in legendary names like Ypres, Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele, the Hitler and Gothic Lines.

The Patricias—officially the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry—were the first Canadians into the trenches in the First World War. They were part of the first Canadian Army formation to go into continuing action in the Second World War, landing with the 1st Division in Sicily.

They now have become the first Canadian unit to take up battle position in Korea.

This time the regimental colors are borne by the 2nd Battalion, recruited within a few weeks of August, 1950, as part of the Army's Special Force, the formation created to back Canada's obligations to the United Nations or the Atlantic Pact.

Proud Colors

They are proud colors.

They were won in a history that goes back to an unusual origin in 1914 when Brig. A. Hamilton Gault, now living in Montreal, raised the battalion at his own expense.

It was an elite unit, named after Princess Patricia, now Patricia Lady Ramsay, daughter of Canada's then governor-general, the Duke of Connaught.

Into its original ranks flooded 1,098 men, 1,049 of them former members of British units who had migrated to Canada. They represented every regiment in the British army but one.

They got to France in December, 1914, with the British 27th Division and went into the trenches around St. Eloi the night of Jan. 6-7, 1915. They later were transferred to the Canadian army.

Marked By Ceremonial

To this day the date of the Battle of Frezenberg, fought with heavy losses May 8, 1915, is marked with ceremonial tribute as the unit's most important anniversary. But their First War record went beyond that first major fight to include Mount Sorel, Flers-Courcelette, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, Amiens, Scarpe and the pursuit to Mons.

They won three Victoria Crosses and 366 other gallantry awards, suffered 4,076 casualties.

After the war, the unit became a permanent force regiment and in 1939 part of the 1st Division. By New Year's Day, 1940, its men were in barracks at Aldershot, England.

Their fighting record began again at Pachino, Sicily, July 10 1943, when the 1st Division began actions that were to go on for nearly two years in Sicily, Italy and northwest Europe.

Famous Names Too

In Sicily they fought actions at Leonforte, Nissoria Ridge, Agira and elsewhere. In Italy, they fought up the length of the peninsula, participated in the engagements that built up into the fury of the Moro crossing and the fighting around Ortona.

They helped crack the Hitler line in May, 1944, the Gothic line that fall and then pitched into their second bitter Italian winter, one that took them into violent actions in the Po Valley. Their last action came in Holland, in an assault crossing of the Ijssel river.

Their actions took a toll of 241 officers killed and 1,098 wounded. They won 47 gallantry awards.

Three Battalions

After the war, the regiment once again resumed its role as a permanent force unit and there now are three battalions bearing its name.

The 1st Battalion is the para-troop and airborne regular force unit which took part in arctic exercise Sweetbriar a year ago and which is part of the airborne brigade, earmarked for Canadian defence. Its headquarters are at Calgary.

The 2nd battalion is in Korea. The 3rd battalion, so far only called a training battalion, is at Fort Lewis, Wash., training with the special force.

Hollywood Has Hectic Day With Divorces and Fights; Stanwyck Gets Freedom

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 22—(AP)—This was more than usually hectic day in the glamor capital:

Barbara Stanwyck got a divorce from Robert Taylor—she testified tearlessly that he asked for it.

Judy Garland filed a divorce action against Director Vincente Minelli.

And Nick Hilton, ex-husband of Liz Taylor, got mixed up in another of those cafe battles along the sunset strip. Also involved were an eye-filling blonde, a dentist, and a U.S. Air Force lieutenant.

Who hit whom, as usual, wasn't clear. Deputies Ernest Monteverde and Ed Haggard assembled this account:

At the Mocambo bar was Lieut. James Paulson of San Francisco, attached to the 341st Bomb Squadron at Biggs Field, El Paso. Alongside him, but with another couple, was blond Dorothy Rice, formerly an entertainer at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

At Nearby Table

At a table near by were Hilton and a 225-pound Los Angeles dentist, Dr. Peter Thomas. The lieutenant objected to Hilton's language. Hilton, 24-year-old ex-sailor and heir to a hotel fortune, retorted: "Mind your own business."

Fists swung. The lieutenant's nose was bloodied. The blonde and Dr. Thomas picked themselves up off the floor. Hilton dozed off to sleep. No complaints, no arrests.

Miss Stanwyck, 43, and greying, divorced Taylor, 39, with these words:

"Shortly after Mr. Taylor's return from Italy in December"—he'd been on flim work there—"he came to me and asked for a divorce.

"He said he had enjoyed the freedom during the months he had been in Italy and he wanted to continue to be able to come and go as he pleased without the restrictions of marriage.

"I was very shocked and grieved. It made me quite ill. For several weeks I was under the care of my physician."

The movie stars' perfect marriage, as it was long regarded, lasted 11 years, seven months. They were wed May 14, 1939, in San Diego.

Had Enough

A property settlement gives the actress 15 per cent. of Taylor's gross earnings until his death or her re-marriage. Asked whether there's any romance in her life now, she told reporters: "Oh, no, I've had enough."

Queried about rumors of a romantic interest by Taylor in an Italian actress he met while abroad, Barbara said: "You'll have to ask him about that."

Miss Garland, 28, charged cruelty in her divorce complaint against Minnelli, 37. She requested custody of their daughter Liza, 4.

The couple, wed in 1945, parted last Dec. 22. Since then the singing star has been seen frequently with Producer Sid Luft. His divorce from actress Lynn Barl will be final next December.

Crew Shortages

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP) — Declaring that American shipping is being plagued by crew shortages, Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (CIO) Wednesday urged a national policy for draft deferment of merchant seamen. During the last 30 days, he told President Truman in a letter, 142 ships "were delayed in sailing because of crew shortages."

SUZANNE MORROW, of Toronto, Canadian Figure Skating Champion, is now in Milan, Italy, practicing for the World Championships which open there shortly. The attractive champion successfully defended her Dominion crown at Vancouver earlier this month.

Day-Dreaming Drivers Blamed For Fatalities

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP)—Day-dreaming drivers are killers on the roads, J. D. Millar, Ontario's deputy minister of highways, said Wednesday.

"What other reason can be found for many of our fatal accidents?" he asked in an address to the Ontario Good Roads Association convention.

"We have widened the highways, made sure the shoulders were adequate, put in centre boulevards and put down the finest possible road surfaces. And still we find people killing themselves, often without leaving the road.

"Pre-occupation with current affairs, a sort of day-dreaming behind the wheel, is apparently rseponsible for accidents which can be attributed to no other cause."

Avoid Disintegration

LONDON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Lord Hall, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the House of Lords Wednesday that mainteance of conscription in Britain since the Second World War has resulted in the training of nearly 1,000,000 men. Thus Britain has avoided "what has always happened before," the complete disintegration in peacetime of forces built up during a war, he said. He predicted that by April 1 Britain would have nearly 900,000 men under arms.

Campbellford H & S Hear Talk On Health

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 22 — (ENS)—A film entitled "Overdependency" was presented at the February meeting of the Home and School Association. Dr. J. R. Anderson gave a talk on mental health and explained the film to the audience.

He said that although not all diseases are caused by mental disturbances, a search into the earlier life of a patient would, in a great many cases show the cause of his disturbance. The most impressionable period in a child's life is between the ages of one and six and care should be exercised by the parents to see that the home surroundings and daily living of the child will leave him with pleasant memories during his later years.

Dr. Betty Bright conducted a period of musical appreciation based on children's records. She explained the part these records play in brightening the child's recreation and increasing his knowledge.

School Board Ponders Closing Grade 13's

The Durham County District High School Board has not decided to close Grade 13 in Millbrook and Orono High Schools, a spokesman for the board said today. The board is considering the move.

At a recent meeting of the board, county inspector G. L. Gray recommended that the two grades be closed before next fall because there were only two pupils in Grade 13 in each school.

Mr. Gray recommended that the grades be closed and the students be sent to Port Hope and Bowmanville where, he urged, new high schools were needed immediately to reduce overcrowding.

Cheesemakers Win Honor For E. Ontario

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 22.—(CP).—A distinct honor has gone to the cheesemakers of Eastern Ontario.

The famed Griffin Shield for the district with the highest percentage of first grade cheese was presented to J. Frank Robinson of Kemptville, chief cheese instructor for this section of the province, at a ceremony here Wednesday.

The shield was presented by C. E. Lackner of Toronto, director of dairying for Ontario, at the dairy instructors' convention here. It is the first time that Eastern Ontario has captured the award in 23 years of competition.

Plan School Survey

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 22 — (ENS).—In preparation for Education Week to be held in Ontario schools from March 4 - 10, the staff of the Campbellford High School is making a survey of all students who entered this institution in 1940, 1941, and 1942, in order to ascertain the progress they have made in their various careers through the education they received.

DENTIST - POLITICIAN — Dr. John Lorne Macdougall, 53, is the Liberal member of parliament for Vancouver-Burrard. A dentist, Dr. Macdougall was wounded three times in the First World War. Married, he was first elected to the House in 1949.

William T. McElroy

Funeral for the late William Thomas McElroy, 59, of Otonabee tawnship, who died suddenly at his home on Sunday, was held on Tuesday from the Mather Funeral Home, Keene, to the Comstock Funeral Home, Peterborough, for service. The Rev. H. B. Herrington of Keene United Church officiated and pall-bearers were Ross Comrie, Clarence Robertson, Rae and Walter McElroy, John White and Kenneth Syer. Flower-bearers were Orville and Lloyd Moncrief, Edward Hogg, Archie Wilcox, Harold White and John Flett. Burial was at Fraserville cemetery.

NEW INGREDIENT TRYCOL* HELPS BILE BEANS DISPOSE OF FAT

EASY TO FOLLOW BILE BEAN PLAN

Bile Beans contain a therapeutic dose of Trycol (Sodium Tauroglycochol); this new ingredient in Bile Beans helps dispose of fat by stimulating biliary secretion.

An overweight condition can be caused by one of two reasons or a combination of both. (a) A glandular condition which only a competent physician is able to treat; (b) a person's inclination to eat too much starchy foods such as highly refined white bread, pies, cakes, candy and sugar.

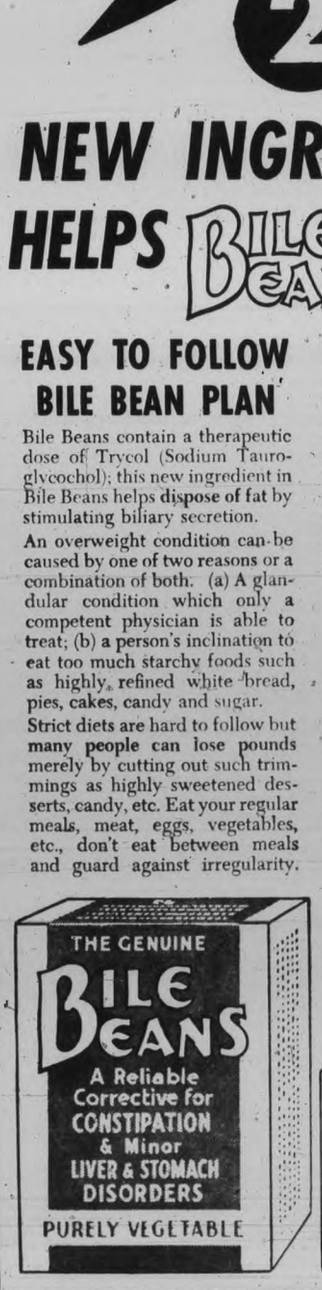
Strict diets are hard to follow but many people can lose pounds merely by cutting out such trimmings as highly sweetened desserts, candy, etc. Eat your regular meals, meat, eggs, vegetables, etc., don't eat between meals and guard against irregularity.

1 CUT DOWN SWEETS
2 TAKE BILE BEANS

This plan has made it possible for thousands of people throughout the world to control bloat, flatulence, and irregularity. (Over five million boxes sold last year.)

Bile Beans should be taken only when needed, they are laxative in action as well as a biliary stimulating, fat disposing agent.

You may experience some discomfort for the first few days when cutting down sweets, but soon your regular meals will satisfy you without the necessity of sweets. Five days after you have started the plan you will wonder why you never tried it before.



NEW 25¢ SIZE MAKES PLAN POSSIBLE FOR EVERYONE

So that everyone may try this exciting plan we are offering for the first time a special 25c package of Bile Beans containing 16 pills.

Fraternity Is Not Identity

This is Brotherhood Week in Peterborough, and the central meeting of the week is being held this evening when Mr. Justice McKay will speak from his experienced wisdom on the tolerance of man to man. The "Week" is sponsored across the country by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. While Peterborough is notably a neighbourly place not given to racial or religious intolerance, it is well in such a week as this to remind ourselves that the brotherhood of man is a civilized, mature concept easily tarnished by the unthoughtful, and too frequently injured by ignorance, prejudice and demagoguery.

* * *

Brotherhood does not mean an anaemic uniformity; that all races and creeds and people are as alike as beans. We are all sons of Adam, but no two are alike. As civilized sons of Adam we respect as well as acknowledge each other's differences. People as races, as well as individuals, are different. They have different capacities, different environments, different customs, different faiths and different roots, even though they are all of the family of mankind. It is through a recognition of the values of these differences, not through namby-pamby, herd-like insistence on the similarities, that enduring tolerance is achieved. An Edinburgh Presbyterian respects, (and may get the better of) a Surrey Anglican, but he would rather be buried under heather than caught intoning a prayer in a Surrey accent. It is the differences which give life its colour and richness and which have raised humanity above hogs.

* * *

Fraternity is not identity. Brothers are not alike, and the state of brotherhood is not in itself a virtue. We are brothers because we are of the bloodstream of Adam. Brotherhood is thrust upon us, merely because we are human animals. In contrast, a civilized, tolerant human being is an achievement, the highest type of creation. It is how we deal with each other as brothers that matters; it is to the most intelligent, liberal and tolerant relations that the word 'brotherhood' is ascribed this week.

Fred C. Marshall

Mr. Fred Marshall would well have understood T. H. Huxley's affirmation that: "The investigation of nature is an infinite pleasure-ground, where all may graze, and where the more bite, the longer the grass grows, the sweeter is its flavour, and the more it nourishes." He was, in a less scientific sense than Huxley, an investigator of nature and her pleasure-ground and wanted all to be able to share the nourishment and happiness to be found in this district's lakes and woodlands.

Cedar Lakes Park, in Burleigh, north of Stony Lake, is essentially his creation. There, now, his plans and hopes of years to provide a public recreation and conservation area at the Cedar Lakes, are being realized. The parkland has already been reserved, improvements to it have been made, and its access by roads is being developed. No Peterborough man could have a finer monument, one which will give joy and refreshment to people of Mr. Marshall's home county in all the years to come.

Helpful and popular in his dealings with fellow employees of the General Electric company, gentle in his relations with all whom he met, and ardent in his regard for nature and the preservation of her ways, Peterborough has lost in the sudden death of Frederick Charles Marshall, a citizen of high worth.

Elections In Israel?

Since the government of Premier David Ben-Gurion fell last week, President Weizmann has been attempting to get a political leader to form a new government. Premier Ben-Gurion headed a coalition of his own Socialist Party and the Orthodox bloc. The coalition split nominally over the kind of religious education which immigrant children would be given, but behind that disagreement seems to have been a desire not to prolong the life of the coalition.

Informed political observers believe that the President's efforts to get a new government are a matter of form, since no political figure can presently be found, other than Ben-Gurion, with enough strength to lead. Thus a new election is considered likely. From results of the recent municipal elections, it is predicted that the General Zionists would gain seats, and that this party and the Socialists might provide the basis for a new coalition. Should this happen many of the Socialist plans for the building of Israel would have to be tempered to accommodate the desires of the conservative Zionists.

Israel stands in need of a stable government. The country is now undergoing an economic crisis which is likely to be intensified in the next twelve months and only a strong government could surmount it. The fall of the Ben-Gurion government coincided with a settlement of disputes between Israel and Jordan over murders and raids (a settlement for which the British diplomats are given much credit); therefore that sharp border problem is reduced. However, the vast numbers of new immigrants since the last (and first) elections, and their continuing influx, may be a considerable factor in changing the political shape of Israel, confounding all prophecies about the kind of government which would result from new elections. The immigrants themselves are a chief reason for the present economic crisis, for the new country took in 510,034 European immigrants from May 15th, 1948, to January 31st, 1950. Most of them were displaced, homeless, penniless Jews and had to be provided for completely out of the resources of the new homeland.

"Alarming" Increase In Ontario Illegitimacy

Compiling statistics is a slow business, and, judging from many annual reports coming from the King's Printer for Ontario, getting the statistics printed is just as slow a business. The annual report for the year 1948 about births, marriages and deaths in this province has just arrived. If our figures are out of date, as indeed they are, do not blame us. We got them only last week.

The report for 1948 from the Registrar-General's department show that there were 4,795 illegitimate births in the province in that year. In 1922 there were 1,519. The rate has more than doubled since 1922. More than 46 of every 1,000 births in 1948 were out of wedlock. The annual report of the department notes that "illegitimacy has been increasing at an alarming rate."

We are not particularly alarmed. The rate is low in comparison with most other countries. And, really, only 4,795 babies born out of wedlock among 104,195 in such a great territory which had then a population of 4,297,000, is not frightful. In fact, it shows, on the part of parents, a remarkably good regard for the conventions of society and the laws. Further, illegitimate children are not now handicapped as they used to be. In the first place, the stigma of illegitimacy has been removed from their birth records, by a recent Act of the Ontario legislature. Secondly, there are many institutions to care for them, if the mother cannot or will not, and childless parents in good homes are anxious to adopt children. Finally, under some circumstances, illegitimate children are better off in public institutions than many legitimate ones are under parents' inhospitable roofs. Illegitimate children are often very healthy, and mentally superior. History is studded with great names of men and women born out of wedlock.

The ages of the unmarried mothers are of some interest. Most (36 per cent., or 1,727) were aged between 20 and 24. The next largest group (29.3 per cent., or 1,403) were aged between 15 and 19. Only 25 of the mothers were under 15. There were 916 of them aged 30 to 34. Only 73 were forty or older.

Of Course The Highway Is Clear

A man-made phenomenon of the last dozen years is the average winter condition of Ontario's highways: good, and clear of ice and snow. In earlier years city streets were expected to be passable most winter days, but people without horses and cutters, or without stout chains for their car wheels and even stouter hearts, ventured outside the towns with considerable trepidation. A hundred-mile trip to Toronto and a hundred miles back again in one winter day was thought to be flying in the face of risk. Now good highways in winter are taken as a matter of course, and city streets are the bane of winter drivers. Now highways are expected, as a driver's due, to be better than city streets.

The change occurs because the Department of Highways is making a vigorously successful effort to keep highways open all the time. Even as heavy snow is falling the snow-plows are out. Within an hour of freezing rain, sand trucks and sanding machines are plying the highways. It is almost unremarkable now to see city streets piled high with sluggish snow and not a whisk of snow on the highway. The Department of Highways is making a really good job of winter maintenance. It is a big job. For instance, it stores ten thousand carloads of sand and about a thousand carloads of calcium chloride and salt in preparation for dealing with ice on the highways.

How Delinquency Begins

By A CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST

IF we could study the criminal in the making, we should be in a much better position for dealing with him. But is the criminal made, or is he born? The answer cannot be a simple yes or no, for the character of every individual springs from the interaction of innate potentialities with environment.

So far, nothing has been noted about the mental constitution of a delinquent child which might not be found in most emotionally disturbed children. But a great deal has been observed about the conditions in which juvenile delinquency appears to flourish. The full significance of these findings, however, emerges only when the method of "controls" is applied.

A few years ago some sociologists collected information, not only about a large group of delinquent children but also about non-delinquent with a similar social background, living in the same neighbourhood and attending the same schools.* When the results were treated mathematically, to see whether the differences (if any) between the two groups were statistically significant, it was found that, on most items, they were not. Broken homes, irregularity of parental employment, insufficiency of recreational facilities, etc., occurred almost as often in the lives of the "controls" as in those of the delinquents.

TWO items only showed significant differences. The delinquents had more brothers and sisters who were also delinquent than had the "controls"; they also had more foster-parents who lived together without being married.

This confirmed a common-sense hunch—that it is family influences which determine the growth of the child's social and moral sense. But how? The simple answer used to be—by direct moral teaching and example. Yet virtuous parents sometimes have children who go wrong. Obviously, further studies, both of the delinquent child and of his family, were required.

Child Guidance Clinics give opportunities for such studies. The delinquent child and his parents, especially his mother, are seen regularly by a specially trained team of workers, and their mental attitudes and behaviour are carefully explored. Most important, the delinquent child is compared with other emotionally disturbed children attending the clinic and his peculiarities are related to what is learned about his early history and upbringing.

THESE inquiries show that delinquent children, like other maladjusted children, seldom come from happy families. Usually there is evidence of a lack of harmony between the parents, and of intense jealousy and rivalry for parental attention among the children, the delinquent child being the least favoured. Damaging experiences, such as the loss of a loved relative, an accident, or a serious illness at an early age, are common. Inconsistent treatment by parents, who are unpredictably indulgent or vindictive at times, is also frequent. All this suggests an atmosphere of strife, tension, and insecurity which would be unsettling to any but the most resilient children.

And yet, this kind of family background is common also with children who develop various neurotic symptoms but do not become delinquent. It was clear that still more specific reasons would have to be sought.

THE young child's mother is by far the most important part of his human environment, a provider of all things and his first law-giver. Can it be something in her attitude which makes a child anti-social?

The mother of a delinquent child may not be a "bad mother" in the conventional sense. Often she gives the child all the physical care one could wish, and shows an almost exaggerated concern for his health and welfare. As a rule, however, underneath her obvious distress at his misdeeds there is an intense resentment against the child for being what he is and for causing her so much worry.

This is hardly surprising, for she is sorely tried, and we cannot expect saintliness and infinite patience from ordinary men and women. But on further investigation it often comes out that the child was not accepted emotionally by the mother long before the delinquent behaviour took place. Sometimes this non-acceptance was expressed in handing over the care of the child to a neighbour, or to a relative in the home, ostensibly for the child's benefit. In many cases a period of physical separation also occurred, and the mother confessed to being "out of touch" with the child on its return.

IF now we turn to studying the delinquent children themselves, it seems at first that as personalities they vary almost as much as ordinary children. But if we go on, we discover that they show one common characteristic—an apparent indifference to the good opinion of their elders. They behave almost always as if the immediate satisfaction of their desires were much more important to them than the esteem and affection of any adult. They are difficult to approach, show little capacity for forming a relationship, and are often described by their parents and teachers as unable to make or keep friends.

All this suggests that very many delinquent children are suffering from an early failure in the development of the basic human relationship—between the child and its mother. The decisive combination of events may often be an early, unconscious emotional rejection of the child by the mother, followed by an actual separation at an early age.

THIS lack of a bond between mother and infant leaves the child emotionally adrift. In the depths of his being he will feel "unrelated" to his family, and as he grows up he will feel the same about larger groups, his school, and society in general. Persistent delinquency may be the outward symptom of his "unrelatedness" to other human beings; it may indeed represent a distorted attempt to get into touch with them. A significant pointer in this direction is that delinquent children often distribute the spoils of their pilfering expeditions to all and sundry.

Experience has shown that a lasting "cure" can be expected only if the practitioner succeeds in establishing a personal relationship with the delinquent child. Thus he may prepare the soil in which personal and group loyalties can begin to grow. Unfortunately, many such children come to the clinics after they have been adrift for too long, and what we can then do for them comes too late. Their plight could and should be diagnosed early, and preventive treatment and advice given to both parent and child when it is more likely to take effect.

This is a long-term policy, but it is perhaps the only way of tackling the problem of juvenile delinquency at its roots.

FISHING WITH THE RIGHT BAIT

Letters To The Editor

HEARTS OF STONE?

Sir: I was a spectator at our local police court last Tuesday. I came out in about the same mood as I would after a funeral. In one case a boy of sixteen was up because his employer gave him a cheque for $10.00 and he changed it to $20.00. He claimed his employer owed him the $20.00. I noticed no one said he didn't owe him $20.00. But that's beside the point. Asked if he had a home, a Provincial cop spoke up and said he didn't have a home when he was out of jail. Nice talk for any man against a boy.

His dad was dead, his mother in the hospital. Left to shift for himself he got in wrong. He was in trouble before but that is no reason the kid shouldn't get a chance. If he'd have got a week's remand like they give to drunks so they can get the money, someone might have tried to get him a place to stay and a job. With all the clubs we have in Peterborough and all the good things they do I noticed a S.A. officer in court room. At any rate for a $10.00 bill he gets a year in jail.

Not long ago a man who stole money in the $100,000 bracket gets three years. A poor defenceless boy gets a year. What justice is that? How hard can some people's hearts get without turning to stone?

The same morning a man was up for drunk driving. A Provincial cop told how he helped man out of car and took his arm so he wouldn't get out on highway and get hit with a car. Nice thought. Along comes the chief of this town east of Peterborough. He says the man is too drunk to help him with tape so sends him across highway to a garage and even goes as far as to tell the court the man almost got run over before getting across road. None of the court officials took him to task for sending a drunken man out on a busy highway.

All of which makes me agree with a Waterloo mayor who when the police asked for more money, said: "The type of men hired as policemen were on a par with ordinary labour or factory workers."

Yours truly,
DISGUSTED SPECTATOR.

FOR BETTER BUS SIGNS

Sir: Reference (Mr. or Mrs.) "Live and Let Live", Feb. 16, 1951, Letter to Editor. I have a few "catches" in the story. First of all, I do believe that there is a law that all railways must stand by, and that is that a train can not hold up motorists for any more than a set limit, which is less than the ten minutes as stated in the letter.

The second item that caught my eye is one and the only one that I will give the writer credit for. The streets are "an utter disgrace." The way the streets are sanded in most of our city, could be done with one truck-load of sand. The sidewalks are worse still. When sand is needed, there is no one in sight with their buckets and tin can lids to do the job. On the other hand, I have watched from my own home window, these same men and said buckets, sanding bare pavement which has the odd ten inch circle of ice about every fifteen feet apart.

But to get back to our bus service. Our friend stated, and I quote: "He (the driver) has worked all day. No doubt he started at 6 o'clock or 6:30 in the morning, and is still going strong. No wonder some drivers get in a bad mood...." Unquote. This was just part of an item on the explanation of why the drivers are in a "bad mood sometimes". Dear "Live and Let Live", do you not know that there is a law against working a man that long unless you live in Russia? A man cannot work from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. straight through.

The questions that are asked the drivers, and I quote again: "Driver does this bus go to East City, does this bus go to Jackson Park, when lo and behold it is printed on a sign across the front of the bus which route it is taking." Unquote. In answer to this I say ...in the many years I have lived in the city, I had to ask just the other day where the Byersville route went. To a stranger in the city who might have to rely on the "sign on the front of the bus" he would be in as much of a quandry as I was. I think that our buses could be labelled a lot better than they are.

I hope I have not made an enemy of our "Live and Let Live" friend, but I could not sit by and read about things that I have knocked down in this letter. In closing, I would suggest that the Council go to Toronto, see how thousands more people than we have in Peterborough get four, mind you, four tickets for a quarter and we are paying twenty-five for only three. For a couple who go to the show once a month and use the buses once a month, have to pay fifty cents for bus fare now in place of the usual twenty-five or thirty. Remember, it takes four tickets to go and come from a show.

I remain,
ANSWER TO LIVE AND LET LIVE.

Graft Of The Thatcher

(Brandon Sun)

From South London comes good news for those who love the traditional country industries of Britain. In 1949 a survey was made to find out how many house thatchers there were still at work in England and Wales; apparently some 778 were discovered, but it was estimated that 175 more were needed to thatch new cottages (if they were to be kept thatched) and keep thatched those already in existence. Since then 100 young men in the countryside have taken up this traditional craft which many thought was dying out; and another blow has been struck in defence of the traditional beauties of the English countryside.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19: 31.)

Now Samuel was dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah, even in his own city. And Saul had put away those that had familiar spirits, and the wizards out of the land. And the Philistines gathered themselves together, and came and pitched in Shunem: and Saul gathered all Israel together, and they pitched in Gilboa. And when Saul saw the host of the Philistines, he was afraid, and his heart greatly trembled....

Then said Saul unto his servants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and enquire of her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at En-dor. And Saul disguised himself, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, divine unto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him up, whom I shall name unto thee....

Then said the woman, Whom shall I bring up unto thee? And he said, Bring me up Samuel. (I Sam. 28: 3-5, 7, 8, 11.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Now the Philistines fought against Israel; and the men of Israel fled before the Philistines, and fell down slain in mount Gilboa... And the battle went sore against Saul, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers....

So Saul died for his transgression which he had committed against the Lord, even against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to enquire of it. (I Chron. 10: 1, 3, 13.)

Root Of The Matter

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

"Motorists! At Sundown—Slow Down."

The Toronto Globe and Mail quoted the preceding sentence in an editorial in its Monday edition; the line contains the message of a two-column paid advertisement inserted in Ontario newspapers by Hon. George Doucett, Ontario Minister of Highways. The Globe and Mail goes on to say that Mr. Doucett could "save the public purse the expense of these advertisements. The press of this province does not have to be bribed to do its duty. In truth, the newspapers, daily and weekly, have been most generous in this regard. Year in and year out they devote more valuable space than they can afford, or than Mr. Doucett can buy, to educate the public in caution, self-preservation and good motoring manners."

We agree heartily with our Toronto contemporary that people likely to heed such messages are those who generally practice them. It is the minority that needs to be taught safety—and many of the minority will not acquire common sense unless the lesson is forcibly taught. More intensive police work, with subsequent punishment, is needed.

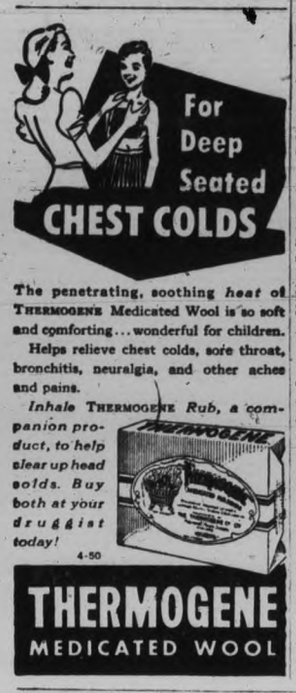
Nevertheless, we do not think The Globe and Mail went to the root of the matter. Ontario's examinations for original licences to drive are pitifully inadequate; the procedure for gaining renewal of licence is farcical, insofar as public safety is concerned. And if the Ontario Department of Highways knows little about the drivers it licences, it is no better informed about the vehicles they drive, as a general rule. In the latter respect, Ontario is far behind many European countries, in which there is insistence that cars be examined every six months. That, plus adequate examination and annual re-examination of drivers, would contribute greatly to the safety of citizens travelling Ontario's highways.

"I can only suggest that if we've called you up as a rear-gunner there has been a ghastly mistake."

Russians Give Voting Results

MOSCOW, Feb. 22 — (AP). — Today's election results in the Soviet Union:

Number voting in the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic last Sunday for the Supreme Soviet (Legislature)— 64,821,310—99.98 per cent of the total 64,832,312 eligible voters.

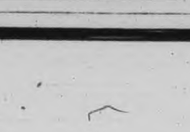


Number voting for the government's Communist and non-party bloc candidates — 64,665,587 — 99.76 per cent of those voting.

Number voting against the government slate—155,723— .24 per cent of the ballots.

The government announced these results today. Ten of the Soviet Union's 16 republics elected legislatures in Sunday's elections. The Russian Republic is much the largest of the 16.

Unanimous election of Prime Minister Stalin to a legislative seat already had been announced. Among other politburo members elected were V. M. Molotov, G. M. Malenkov, L. P. Beria, N. S. Khruschev, and N. A. Bulganin.



Composer Dmitri Shostakovich was elected from a Leningrad district. In Moscow's Shchelkovo district air force Lt.-Gen. Vassily Stalin, the generalissimo's son, also was elected.

Minister Accepts Millbrook Call

MILLBROOK, Feb. 22 (ENS)— The Rev. W. H. Heustin of Morewood, Ontario, 60 miles from Ottawa, has accepted a call to Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook, and Centreville Presbyterian Church. The induction service for Mr. Heustin will be held in Centreville on February 28. He is to preach his first sermon in Grace Church the evening of March 4. Mr. Heustin has completed 10 years in the ministry. Grace Church Ladies' Aid has been busy redecorating the manse for the new minister and his family. They hope to have the work completed before their arrival next Monday. There are three children in the Heustin family, two boys and a girl. Their ages are 2, 4 and 6 years.

Secret Process

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP) —The Atomic Energy Commission Wednesday said it has developed a process for extracting bomb-making uranium from phosphate rocks as a by-product of fertilizer production. The process is secret. The commission said that with the new development, uranium contained in phosphate deposits "can be extracted economically in the production of highly-refined fertilizer known as tripe superphosphate."

Try To Free David G. Lunan In Spy Trial

TORONTO, Feb. 22—The celebrated Ottawa spy trials of 1946 will be recalled Friday morning when an application is made at Osgoode Hall for the release from Kingston Penitentiary of David Gordon Lunan, who is finishing a five-year prison term for conspiring to communicate confidential information to Russia.

Lunan was originally convicted in November, 1946, and in March of the following year he was given an extra year in prison for contempt of court. At that time he refused to testify against Israel Halperin, acquitted on a similar espionage charge.

G. Arthur Martin, counsel for Lunan, will apply for his discharge by a writ of habeas corpus before a judge in chambers on Friday, but a request for an adjournment has come from counsel for the attorney-general of Canada.

Martin will argue that the sentence of an extra year was illegal in that no judge may sentence a man on a contempt charge and order the sentence to run at the expiration of another prison term.

Lunan's was one of the more sensational of the espionage trials, and at one time threatened to bring the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King into court. Lunan's counsel at his trial was J. L. Cohen, who obtained a subpoena to have the late prime minister testify, but the subpoena was never executed.

Lunan was an army officer and a member of the wartime information board when he was arrested for conspiracy.

Bunny Morganson of Toronto has been appointed district commissioner by the National Baseball Association. District and provincial playoffs for amateur ball champs are planned throughout the country this year. The Toronto and district Congress tourney will have a series of games for the Toronto, Oshawa and Peterborough minor ball setups to raise funds for these organizations. So, the PMBA-ers may receive some benefit through the senior sawoffs. It's a move in the right direction as minor baseball needs help if it is to survive, and the future of senior ball depends on the lower brackets of the diamond sport.

A Letter To Wootton

In the Owen Sound Sun-Times this week appears an ad from Owen Sound lacrosse fans in the form of a letter to Moon Wootton, the Crescents' ace goalie who has moved to Peterborough. Says in part: "It is difficult to think of us cheering against you next summer. Every lacrosse fan in Owen Sound wishes you success in Peterborough, and especially at your summertime hobby of trying to stop flying lacrosse balls—since you've had a bit of previous experience at this, you should make out all right. As well as being a big league goalie, you have always been the same type of citizen. We're sorry to see you make the move—Peterborough's gain is our loss. However, with all this 'guff', our good wishes extend only to the point that your new club finishes no higher than second-best this season. We'd like to see Crescents in top spot again. On behalf of your friends, this letter is written and inserted by Beatty."

Kingston Nylons play the Petes at 8.30 tomorrow evening in Civic Arena. Last showing of either team here in the regular OHA senior "B" schedule this year. There'll be one more game, Belleville vs. Eagles on Monday and then it's playoff time. The Nylons are hot stuff nowadays, but they'll find the Petes plenty tough to take on home ice, and both sides will give it all they have with the money series about to commence. This battle rates a huge Friday night crowd of cash customers as the hard-hitting Nylons and fast-stepping Petes tear into each other in their last scheduled clash.

Might Be Their Last

About 1,800 puck fans whooped it up at the exciting senior "B" battle here last e'en. A humdinger all the way, with the Eagles turning in a fighting display but unable to take the decision. The Petes showed more finish in close in the third period to break a 4-4 deadlock and capture an 8-5 victory. That clinches first place for them and practically ruins Eagles' chance of finishing higher than third—as Nylons should beat Queen's in their four-pointer to finish second. That would mean Petes and Nylons in the series to declare an Allan Cup senior "A" contender, with Eagles and Belleville going in group senior "B" semi-finals. Nylons will also be battling to beat the Petes here tomorrow.

* * * * * *

Both sides last night suffered from casualties. Wade and Vitarelli sat it out with recent injuries, Collins got a fractured nose in this game and Montgomery a cut over the eye. Jerry Scott of Oshawa left Eagles in the lurch by deciding at the last minute he didn't want to come down and play—after the OHA okaying him as a replacement for Bob Parnall. Both sides hustled plenty in this fine fray, playing it hard and fast in exciting fashion. A darn' shame they won't be meeting in the next series—and, in fact, it is not likely that they'll meet again this year. Tough on the local fans. They dish up dandy hockey when opposing each other, including fights for the more bloodthirsty customers.

Grove Squads Get Wins From Appleby

Grove School of Lakefield swept a twin hockey bill from Appleby College of Toronto on Wednesday afternoon at Civic Arena. The Grove Seconds turned back Appleby in the first game 9-5 and the Grove Firsts defeated the Toronto college team 6-3

Ryder and Ross stood out with their scoring efforts for the Grove Firsts. Ross performed the hat trick, while Ryder came up with two assists and two goals. Terry Clarke displayed fine passing plays and steady drive throughout. Headed for a sure goal in the last period Clarke passed to teammate Ross, and settled for an assist.

Two goals by Ross, with Ryder assisting, put Grove up early in the first, but Bertseller and Northey on a pass from Douglas tied the game two-all. Ryder added his two in the second, one on a solo effort and the other with Powell. McCulloch from Grant was the scoring play in the third for Grove. Douglas ended a rink length passing rush with Vokes and Northey for the third Appleby goal. Ross tallied his third on a breakaway with Clarke for Grove, ending the scoring at 6-3.

Three combinations for Grove proved too much for the Appleby Seconds in the first game. Uren notched four goals, three with MacDonald and one with Williams, MacNaughton with three goals, two with Houston and one alone; and Williams with two goals, one solo and the other with MacDonald. Bob Bateman for Appleby had two goals. Thompson, Douglas and Russell scored the other Appleby goals.

Grove went up 3-2 in the first period and 5-2 in the second. Uren's three-goal effort in the third enabled the Grove to outscore Appleby 4-3.

The line-ups:

Seconds' Game

Grove — Goal, Hellyer; defence, Houston, King; centre, Williams; wings MacDonald, Uren; alternates, Lister, Pearce, Jebson, MacGregor, MacNaughton.

Appleby — Goal, Wright; defence, Benson, Locke; centre, Russell; wings, Kennedy B. Bateman; alternates, Wallace, Holden, Douglas, Thompson, Morden, Fitzimmons, O. Bateman Atkins.

Firsts' Game

Grove — Goal, Faulkner; defence, Reed, Grant; centre, Clarke; wings, McCulloch, Ross; alternates, Legate, Powell, Bass, Ryder.

Petes Make Sure Of First By Downing Eagles, 8 To 5

Finishing a bit stronger here last night, the Petes downed the Eagles 8-5 to clinch top spot in the OHA senior "B" race. The loss means the Eagles will wind up in third place in the standing, unless a miracle happens and Nylons lose both to Queen's and Petes in their remaining two games. Petes now have 47 points, the Eagles 40 and Nylons 39, with Eagles having but one game left to play, and the Nylons-Queen's game is a four-point affair.

A big crowd saw another sizzling scrap between the old city rivals. It was fast, exciting and pretty even throughout as well as being rough enough. The Petes drew 10 to the 19 penalties handed out, including three majors in the total for two fist fights. Ted Collins got his nose broken when slammed into the boards, and Keith Montgomery was cut over the eye by a high stick. The score was 2-2 in the first frame and 4-all going into the third when the Petes won out.

Chum Shone

Chum Fryia led the Jopling squad to the win with three goals and two assists for five points against his old teammates. Honey Tompkins also starred with four points as a defenceman. Curly Mason clicked for three, with Arn Dugan and Gus Leonard in on two each, and Ron Horton having an assist. Joe Rochetta topped the Magee men with three points, Bill Crowley and Andy Milne being other stars on the attack with two points apiece. Singles were counted by Sixty Coombs, Doug Mortimer, Jim Munroe, Keith Montgomery and Freddy Mortimer. Two absentees from injuries were Dootch Vitarelli of Eagles and Jake Wade of Petes.

Play was hot and even in the first stanza. Mason and Lalonde drew roughing penalties as both sides stepped into each other, and the goalies were kept busy. Montgomery was chased for boarding and it cost a goal, Fryia slapping one home at the crease corner from Tompkns and Horton. Mason later got the nod for holding and Rochetta cashed in on it with a slap shot on Munroe's pass to tie it at 1-1.

Tompkins got that back smartly on a rebound after Fryia's shot. With the sides even again, Coombs was gated for high-sticking and Earl Leonard followed for interference. Coombs returned, and Milne got the equalizer from Fred Mortimer on a hot angle shot at defence. Doug Mortimer and Horton mixed it up, the latter getting a major for fighting and Doug a minor for roughing.

Tied In Second

Horton was still sitting it out in the second when Tompkins banged home a corner passout, built up by Dugan and Mason. Davison and Rochetta served roughing penalties and were back when Coombs tied the count from Crowley and Rochetta when he backhanded home a screened shot on a corner passout. Doug Mortimer put Eagles in front on nifty combination in close with Milne and Motgomery, but Mason tied it again from Tompkins in a scramble on Nicholls' doorstep. Lalonde went off for interference, followed by Floyd for butt-ending near the close.

The Petes had a bit more finish the first part of the third period in around the net. Dugan stickhandled around Nicholls with Mason's pass to tally, and then Fryia made it 6-4 on in-close combination with Gus Leonard Montgomery and Earl Leonard mixed it and drew majors for fighting as a free-for-all threatened when Gus Leonard tried to get into it. Tompkins went off later for tripping and Harding had to be good to hold out Milne, Crowley and Rochetta. With the sides even agan, Gus Leonard made it 7-4 from Fryia after Ross stopped one in-close thrust by Chum. Burns went over for elbowing and Davison got it for holding. Greenlaw followed for holding, but all were back when Fryia's screened shot hit the hemp. The Eagles fought back furiously and Crowley got one from Rochetta on a neat effort in close but they couldn't tally again, even when Davison was gated late in the heat for interference.

Teams:

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Horton and Tompkins; centre, Dugan; wings, Mason and Collins, alternates, G. Leonard, Fryia, J. Mortimer, Garvey, West, Floyd, Davison and E. Leonard.

Eagles: Goal, Nicholls; defence, Burns and Montgomery; centre, Rochetta; wings, Crowley and Coombs; alternates, Milne, D. Mortimer, F. Mortimer, Hill, Greenlaw, Stewart, Lalonde and Munroe.

Referee, J. Crombie; linesman, R. Ouimet.

Panter Believes Protest Nullified

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP). — George Panter said Wednesday that he believed a Walkerton protest over three Elmira players "is nullified" by Walkerton's elimination of Elmira in the Intermediate B Ontario Hockey Association playoffs.

Panter, OHA business manager said the association has received a report from a detective agency engaged by Walkerton to investigate the Elmira club but he doubts whether anything further will come of it.

Badminton Notes

By RALPH CHARLTON

The draw for the Central Ontario badminton championships took place in Port Hope with about 20 more entries than a year ago. There are 12 in ladies' singles, 15 men's, 24 ladies' doubles, 34 in the men's, and 47 mixed doubles. There will also be a series of men's doubles (over 40) Saturday morning, with the tourney having 132 entries in all. Ladies' and men's doubles go Friday night, Feb. 23, with singles and mixed Saturday, and finals Saturday night at Trenton. Bowmanville have 40 entries, Peterborough 26, Trenton RD 24, Oshawa 12, Port Hope 11, Cobourg 10 and Trenton Air Station two.

Marg Baker, last year's champion, is not playing in ladies' singles, so M. Charlton is seeded first, K. Hopkins of Oshawa second, E. Martin of Port Hope third and K. Smith of RD No. 6 fourth. In men's singles, R. Charlton is seeded first (Anderson not playing), J. Irvine of Cobourg second, V. Taylor of Peterborough third, and P. Niles of Cobourg fourth.

Ladies' doubles has Harvey and Armstrong of Port Hope first, Hopkins and Ratz of Oshawa second, Baker and Mathias of Peterborough third, and Charlton and Rose of this city fourth. Men's doubles have Osborne and Brough (four-times champs) first, E. Johnston and R. Charlton second, J. Adams and J. Irvine third, and McDonald and O'Donoghue of Peterborough fourth. Mixed has the Charltons first, Osborne and Dippel of Bowmanville second, Armstrong and O'Donoghue third and the Harveys of Port Hope fourth. Play in doubles goes at seven p.m. Friday, singles and seniors at 10 a.m. Saturday, with all finals at eight p.m. Consolations will be played in all events.

PCVS Get Two Cage Wins Enter Lakeshore Finals

PCVS' senior and junior basketball teams paved their way into the lakeshore finals Wednesday night. Coach Bev Goulding's Garnet and Grey seniors walloped Lindsay Collegiate 70-18, while the juniors won handily 42-18 in the first games of the two-game points-to-count series of the lakeshore semi-finals.

Lindsay came into their own in the first game of the bantam series. They edged past Zolton Temesey's PCVS bantams in the third game of the night 38-26. This gives them a 12-point lead on the round for the second game in Lindsay next week.

Poor shooting in the first and last quarters cost the bantams their game. Lindsay were opportunists throughout from time to time breaking quickly up the court for baskets. They were the only Lindsay team to break the PCVS' stiff zone defence.

Slumped in Second

A. Truax with six points led Lindsay to a 12-5 score in the first quarter, Carleton scoring all PCVS points. Both teams slumped in the second, ending the half at 16-9 for Lindsay. Turner, Carleton and Boorman pulled the Garnet and Grey past Lindsay briefly in the third, but the Scugog team took the lead again at the three-quarter mark 24-21. Blackwell broke loose for Lindsay repeatedly in the fourth and scored nine points as they outscored PCVS 14-5.

Blackwell led the scoring with 12 points, while teammate A. Truax scored 10. Carleton topped PCVS with 11. PCVS lost Boorman early in the third quarter with five fouls and Foote in the fourth, the tallest players. The Lindsay star Blackwell left too late with five fouls to do the PCVS team any good.

Al Northcott ran wild in the fourth quarter of the senior game scoring 17 points while PCVS poured 34 through the hoop as compared with Lindsay's eight. Even then Lindsay enjoyed their best part of their game scoring.

Lindsay offered little defence and PCVS went to town. They took a 12-4 score in the first, 26-5 at the half, and 36-10 at the three-quarter mark. Then their shooting really began to hit the mark. Northcott broke loose with fast-breaking plays with Cranfield and Evans for eight baskets and a foul shot. Don Ash tallied seven points in the free-scoring display.

Lindsay also failed to even dent the PCVS zone defence and their shooting was well under par Only MacDuffee seemed to do anything, racking up nine points, three baskets and three foul shots.

Northcott Leads

Al Northcott totalled 26 points to bring his total for nine games to 164 points, an average of 18 a game, for this year. Neil Thompson was the PCVS scoring threat in the first half and ended with 11 points, while Ash had nine.

An impregnable zone defence kept Lindsay nearly off the score sheet in the junior game. They had but nine points at the end of the third quarter and only the poke-checking of Garth Teel in the fourth enabled LCI to reach 18 points.

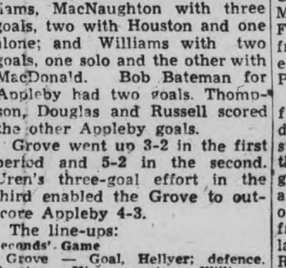
Meanwhile the PCVS juniors were merely practising their shooting, which was hot and cold during the game. They were hottest in the second quarter when they sank 18 points to take the half lead 27-5, after leading at the quarter only 9-4. The shooting took a turn for the worse in the second half as they plastered the hoop continually, and only scored 15 points.

Lanky Bill Stewart edged teammate Jim Hendry for scoring honors by one point, netting 10. Eberlee was tops for Lindsay with two baskets and a foul shot.

The return games of the senior and junior series will be on Friday night at Lindsay Collegiate.

Cobourg Captures Round From Lindsay

COBOURG, Feb. 22.—A five-goal lead gained in Lindsay did no good here and Cobourg entered the OMHA Eastern Ontario Juvenile "B" final with a 10-2 victory. Lindsay won the first game of the total-point series, 7-2, but lost on the two-game round 12-9.



Paced by Frank McIvor with four goals, Cobourg hemmed the Lindsay team throughout. Williams scored Lindsay's two goals.

SKIPPING ROPE?—Willa Worthington McGuire appears to be skipping rope on water skis, but the world women's champion is only skimming gracefully behind a speedboat as usual. She is tuning up on the championship slalom course at Cypress Gardens, preparatory to the Florida winter competition.

Wings, Leafs Fight To Tie As Rangers, Bruins 2-2

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The referee, George Gravel, got the opportunity to share the limelight Wednesday night in Toronto when the league-leading Detroit Red Wings fought to a 2-2 tie with second-place Maple Leafs.

Gravel was in the limelight, not by choice, but because of the present controversy between the bosses of the two teams regarding the disparity in penalties called on them this season.

Conn Smythe, general manager of the Leafs, contends that the reason Detroit has had 252 minutes less in penalties than Toronto is the amount of beefing the Red Wings' front office does to the National Hockey League officials.

Jim Norris, who owns the Wings, replies that the reason they are the least penalized in the league is "because they're better coached."

Takes Out Sting

Gravel, of course, must be credited with calling them as he saw them, but the result of his work was to take much of the sting out of the controversy. He called four penalties against the Red Wings and only two against Toronto.

As it turned out, however, not one of the penalties produced a goal, all four of which were scored with the teams at full strength.

Indecisiveness wasn't confined to Toronto Wednesday night. In New York, where the other NHL game was played, the score was the same, as the third-place Boston Bruins and the fourth-place Rangers wound up in another 2-2 tie.

A sizable crowd of 12,263 saw Zellio Toppazzini score an unassisted goal midway through the third period to tie it up for New York, which remains a single point behind the Bruins.

Keep Things Lively

The game was scoreless until the last minute of the second period when Vic Lynn took a pass from Ed Sandford and beat Chuck Rayner to give Boston a 1-0 lead. The third period was 40 seconds old when Ed Slowinski tied it up. Bill Ezinicki sent Boston into a 2-1 lead on a passing play with Milt Schmidt a few minutes later and then the Topper got his tally.

A crowd of 13,600 saw the Leafs come from behind to tie it up after Detroit had taken a 2-0 lead in the first period. The game left Detroit still five points ahead of Toronto in the standng. In 12 meetings with Toronto this season Detroit have won five, lost three and tied four.

Gerry Couture and Gordie Howe scored goals for Detroit in the first period. Sid Smith got Toronto's first goal midway through the second period and Flem Mackell tied it up at 6:02 of the third.

Leafs had an edge in play, Terry Sawchuk handling 29 shots in Detroit goal while Al Rollins was stopping 18.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Detroit Red Wings are the least penalized team in the National Hockey League "because they're better coached," owner Jim Norris said Wednesday night in Miami, Fla.

Manager Conny Smythe of the Toronto Maple Leafs charged earlier that Norris' "crying" was the reason the Red Wings had been penalized only 443 minutes this season. Toronto leads in penalties with 695 minutes, he said.

"He's just going off half-cocked," Norris said. "All the Leafs do is clutch and hang on. They ought to be penalized."

Smythe said Norris "has done so much crying and letter writing asking that this official be fired and that official not handle games that the Wings have been having things their own way."

Norris replied that he didn't believe he had done "any extra beefing. We always do our beefing through the proper channels."

Thirty-two rinks have been entered in the fifth annual Brant Curling Club's three-day bonspiel which will get under way at Brantford Monday. Each entry is guaranteed at least four games. W. L. G. Hardie, Hamilton Thistles, will be defending the title he has held for two consecutive years.

A torch lit from the eternal flame of Athens' Olympia, and to be used in the opening ceremonies of the Pan American games at Buenos Aires, left Rome Wednesday aboard an Argentine airliner for the Argentine Capital.

Edmonton Eskimos have lost import Doug Brightwell to the American army draft, officials of the Western Football Conference team reported Wednesday. Brightwell, a centre, came to Edmonton last year via Regina, Saskatchewan Roughriders and Texas Christian University.

Keith Weese, of Centreville, near Napanee, who racked up 20 wins in pitching Shallow Lake Rangers to the Ontario Junior B baseball title last season, has signed a professional contract with the St. Louis Cardinals organization, it was reported Wednesday.

The 19-year-old righthander had a strikeout total of 206 last season.

A. Sidney Dawes, of the Canadian Olympic Association, said Wednesday that the Olympic games and the British Empire games are the only international competitions Canada can reasonably be expected to enter at present.

IT'S A HABIT — Don Gehrmann, shown breaking the tape, won 38 consecutive mile races. So the Wisconsin Wonder elected to run 1000 yards in the National Amateur Athletic Union Indoor Championships at Madison Square Garden. That gave his sparring partner, Fred Wilt, a chance at the mile.

Last Night's Stars

Fleming Mackell of Toronto, who scored in the third period to give Toronto a 2-2 stalemate with league-leading Detroit.

Zellio Toppazzini, who did the same for New York to tie the game up 2-2 with Boston.

Saskatchewan Wins Trophy

NELSON, B. C., Feb. 22 (CP)—The Saskatchewan rink skipped by Gary Thode Wednesday night won the Canadian High School curling championship and the Sifton Trophy with a 9-8 victory over Alberta that was settled by a thrilling big three in the ninth end.

The trophy thus went to Saskatchewan for the third time in four years. Manitoba has won it once.

Alberta and British Columbia tied for second place and tournament officials said they will play an additional six ends to decide the runner-up.

The British Columbia rink swamped Nova Scotia 9-3 Wednesday night while Alberta was losing.

List Canada Top Contender

MILAN, Italy, Feb. 22 (CP)—Canada, Britain, France and the United States Wednesday night were rated as top contenders among the 12 countries entered in the world figure-skating championships starting here Friday.

Canada's chief hopes are riding on the slender shoulders of Toronto's Suzanne Morrow who finished fourth last year in the championships at London when Aja Vrzanova won the women's title. The Czechoslovak girl now is in the United States and has turned professional.

In the men's division Bill Lewis of New Westminster, B. C., Canadian senior men's champion, holds the Dominion's hopes in this division.

Canada's other entrants are Vevi Smith of Toronto, 18-year-old carnival skater and runner-up to Miss Morrow in the senior women's contest at Vancouver last month; and Betty Hiscox of Toronto, a newcomer to international skating contests.

Loan 4 Players

THE HAGUE, Feb. 22 (CP)—Lethbridge Maple Leafs loaned four of their players to an all-star Dutch hockey team Wednesday night and beat the host squad 11-2 in an exhibition game. The touring Leafs gave the Dutchmen goalie Mallie Hughes and forwards Lou Siray, Nap Milroy and Bert Knibbs, but the Canadian stalwarts couldn't stem the Lethbridge tide.

Marlies Crush Kitchener 6-3; Bengals Win

By The Canadian Press.

Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen kissed the Ontario Hockey Association major series title goodbye for 1951 Wednesday night as Toronto Marlboros handed them their seventh straight home defeat 6-3. In a second major clash, Hamilton Tigers hammered Toronto St. Michael's 6-1.

Goalie Ed Rafferty accounted for much of the Marlies' victory, aided by team-mates Red Johnson and Scotty Mair with two goals each, and Al Buchanan and Don Rope. Struggling to save a playoff berth for the Krauts were Harvey Jacklin, Billy Flick and Bill Mitchell.

At Hamilton, the Bengals chalked up their third straight win over the league-leading Irish with Frankie Liscombe doubling and Murray Comfort, Harvey Fraser, Carl Smelle and Ab Conick getting one each. Johnny Ubriaco put St. Mike's on the scoreboard.

In the OHA Junior A tilts, Barrie Flyers spiked St. Catharines Teepees 5-1 to retain first place, Windsor Spitfires grabbed second place by thumping Guelph Biltmores 5-3, and Toronto Marlboros earned third place by downing Oshawa Generals 5-3 to tie with Guelph Biltmores.

On Their Toes

Flyers grabbed two goals in both first and second periods, adding a third matched by Teepees in the third. Leo Labine hit twice, with Chuck Wood, Jack McKnight and Jim Morrison adding a trio. Wayne Brown came up with St. Kat's single.

It was Guelph's third loss in 19 starts. Windsor's Erwin Grosse led Spits with a pair. Eddie Joss, Earl Johnson and Martin Zorica grabbing singles. League-leading scorer Ken Laufman, Chuck Henderson and Andy Bathgate scored for Biltmores.

A wild cash by Ron Stewart broke a 3-3 tie in the Oshawa game, with Bob Cooper's goal making the fifth Marlies' tally. Earlier, Joe Lumley, Dan Wimbley and Neil MacDonald had connected for the Toronto team. Lou Jankowski sparked Oshawa with two, Bill Berwick getting the Generals' other goal.

Churches Affected

VANCOUVER—(CP)—The cost of living is hitting the churches like everything else. H. L. Hutton, chairman of the stewards committee of St. Andrew's-Wesley Church here, said higher streetcar fares may be keeping suburban members from supporting the downtown church.

Canine Sagacity

DUNEDIN, N.Z.—(CP)—A woman tourist in the Wanake district lost her purse and reported the loss to the police station. She promptly got her purse back and a local constable stated it had been turned in by his dog.

CLOSE DECISION—Montreal's Johnny Greco slips to the canvas in the fourth round of his fight with Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia. Greco took a 10-round decision to the boos of 6,500 Montreal fans. The battle marked Greco's first appearance since he lost to Giosa last spring.

Reg Gordon Hits 800

Reg Gordon rolled 800 this week for high three in the Major Bowling League as Bill Boon's 339 was tops in singles. Cherney's led team by rolling 3,353 pinnage and McWilliams had top single of 1,234. Six points were taken by Kingsmen over Campbell, as 4-2 wins were marked by Crowley, McLeod, Edgewater, Selkirk's, Wood, Plaza, Cherney's, Bassel's, Caccavella and Calvert respectively over Hunt, Wonder, Kawartha, Posties, Bickell, Wade, Parkway, McWilliams, Mongraw, E and B, and Odeon.

Other good scores were: Bill Stanbury (309) 785, Ab Hall 778, Bill Harris (314) 770, Joe Mattucci 751, Don Coughlin 749, E. Faux 743, Tic Caccavella 742, George Walton 734, Rocky DeCarlo (305) 733, W. Irvine (320) 729, Bill Boon 727, Jack Latchford 709 and a single of 316 by Reg Gordon.

P of W Boys Win

Peterborough Rink Bows To Thistles

MIDLAND, Feb. 22 (CP). — Playing an unbeatable game in the finals, Mrs. L. E. Woolley's Toronto Granite Club rink Wednesday won the Midland Ladies' Curling Club three-day annual bonspiel.

Mrs. Woolley led all the way in scoring a 17-5 win over E. Creswicke's Toronto Curling Club quartet.

In the Midland trophy event, second most important, a Hamilton Thistle entry skipped by Mrs. W. A. Alexander defeated Mrs. G. E. Welbourn's Peterborough rink 15-5.

Grand aggregate prize went to Mrs. R. Ronald's Gravenhurst rink.

YMCA Basketball

Y-Knots dumped the Normalites 40-21 Wednesday night at the YMCA in men's City League basketball. In the first game the Hi-Y boys pulled through late to win 30-27 from the Golden Gaels.

Normals, with Battersky, Schram and Bellamy leading held the Y-Knots 15-10 in first half. L. Butcher, Charles Bachelor and Ted Curtis kept the Y-men up. In the second half Butcher and Curtis kept up their first half pace and the Y-Knots drifted 25 points through the hoop as compared with Normals' 11 by Battersby, Rogers and Bellamy. L. Butcher led the scoring with 15 points for the Y-Knots while Curtis had 12. Battersby topped the Normals with eight.

D. Morrison, B. Hamblin, J. Grant, Outram and English all carried too much weight and experience for the Golden Gaels in the first game. D. Galvin and Harry O'Neill were Gaels' standouts.

Skinny men, women gain 5, 10, 15 lbs.

Although Mrs. E. Welbourn's rink did not win the trophy in the second event up at the Midland ladies' bonspiel, they did the next best thing—they were runners-up. When you consider that it is the first time some of these ladies ever played in an out-of-town bonspiel, it makes their efforts all the more outstanding. They were a tired but happy quartette when they motored home last evening. Congratulations, girls.

Each received a make-up kit—Mrs. C. Elliott, Mrs. E. O'Toole, Mrs. H. Hamblin, Mrs. E. Welbourn, skip.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Gordie Howe of Detroit slammed in another goal Wednesday night to put him a mere two goals behind league-leading goal-getter Maurice Richard of Montreal, and to give him a firmer hold on the top spot in the total-points scoring race. Howe now has 31 goals and 38 assists for a total 69 points.

Team-mate Sid Abel managed an assist in last night's game, to bring his total up to 53 points, 20 goals and 33 assists.

Danes Aid Greeks

COPENHAGEN — (CP) — A school to accommodate 425 children in a Greek village will be built with the proceeds of a fund to which 125,000 Danish children are making weekly contributions. The objective of $19,500 is expected to be reached by the end of April.

Wakefield Playing Ball For Fun Of It

LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 22 — (AP)—Outfielder Dick Wakefield, one-time $52,000 bonus baby of Detroit Tigers and last year a $17,000 player with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League, said Wednesday that he'll play baseball this season just for the fun of it.

"I don't want a salary and won't take one unless there's something in baseball law that makes me," he said in an interview.

His statements constituted a complete about-face on the salary question.

"I decided to do it last year at the end of our season at Oakland," he explained. "I went up to see Brick Laws (Oakland club president) . . .

"I said I would play for exactly $1 this season. He was surprised but we shook hands on it and I haven't heard from him since."

FOREST DWINDLES

Ancient Sherwood Forest in England, formerly about 250 square miles, has been reduced by encroachment of industry.

PREMIER DUPLESSIS JOINS IN THE FETE—Last Saturday morning at the Provincial Government offices in Montreal, Premier Duplessis (left) joined in wishing "lots of gifts to you and a couple of goals for us" as Maurice Richard beams back and Jean Gelinas, president of ACR (middle) gives his blessing to the noble idea. On their lapels is noted the badge which all good Richard fans wore Saturday night when the Rocket was showered with gifts.

Bisons Down Pittsburgh Hornets

By The Canadian Press.

Buffalo Bisons further increased their lead atop the eastern division of the American Hockey League Wednesday night, blanking Pittsburgh Hornets 4-0. In the only other game scheduled, Springfield Indians downed Providence 5-1.

At Buffalo, Connie Dion posted his first shutout of the season and earned the cheers of 4,521 fans.

Grant (Nobby) Warwick, second in the league's scoring race, netted two goals. Sid McNabney and Ross Lowe each had one marker.

Referee Harry Ornest called match misconduct penalties in the first period against Harry Dick of Buffalo, who recently broke the league record for penalty time, and Frank Mathers of the Hornets. A high-sticking exchange touched off the fight.

Marlies Crush Kitchener 6-3; Bengals Win

By The Canadian Press.

Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen kissed the Ontario Hockey Association major series title goodbye for 1951 Wednesday night as Toronto Marlboros handed them their seventh straight home defeat 6-3. In a second major clash, Hamilton Tigers hammered Toronto St. Michael's 6-1.

Goalie Ed Rafferty accounted for much of the Marlies' victory, aided by team-mates Red Johnson and Scotty Mair with two goals each, and Al Buchanan and Don Rope. Struggling to save a playoff berth for the Krauts were Harvey Jacklin, Billy Flick and Bill Mitchell.

At Hamilton, the Bengals chalked up their third straight win over the league-leading Irish with Frankie Liscombe doubling and Murray Comfort, Harvey Fraser, Carl Smelle and Ab Conick getting one each. Johnny Ubriaco put St. Mike's on the scoreboard.

In the OHA Junior A tilts, Barrie Flyers spiked St. Catharines Teepees 5-1 to retain first place, Windsor Spitfires grabbed second place by thumping Guelph Biltmores 5-3, and Toronto Marlboros earned third place by downing Oshawa Generals 5-3 to tie with Guelph Biltmores.

On Their Toes

Flyers grabbed two goals in both first and second periods, adding a third matched by Teepees in the third. Leo Labine hit twice, with Chuck Wood, Jack McKnight and Jim Morrison adding a trio. Wayne Brown came up with St. Kitt's single.

It was Guelph's third loss in 19 starts. Windsor's Erwin Grosse led Spits with a pair. Eddie Joss, Earl Johnson and Martin Zorica grabbing singles. League-leading scorer Ken Laufman, Chuck Henderson and Andy Bathgate scored for Biltmores.

A wild cash by Ron Stewart broke a 3-3 tie in the Oshawa game, with Bob Cooper's goal making the fifth Marlies' tally. Earlier, Joe Lumley, Dan Wimbley and Neil MacDonald had connected for the Toronto team. Lou Jankowski sparked Oshawa with two, Bill Berwick getting the Generals' other goal.

Churches Affected

VANCOUVER—(CP)—The cost of living is hitting the churches like everything else. H. L. Hutton, chairman of the stewards committee of St. Andrew's-Wesley Church here, said higher streetcar fares may be keeping suburban members from supporting the downtown church.

Canine Sagacity

DUNEDIN, N.Z.—(CP)—A woman tourist in the Wanake district lost her purse and reported the loss to the police station. She promptly got her purse back and a local constable stated it had been turned in by his dog.

CLOSE DECISION—Montreal's Johnny Greco slips to the canvas in the fourth round of his fight with Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia. Greco took a 10-round decision to the boos of 6,500 Montreal fans. The battle marked Greco's first appearance since he lost to Giosa last spring.

Reg Gordon Hits 800

Reg Gordon rolled 800 this week for high three in the Major Bowling League as Bill Boon's 339 was tops in singles. Cherney's led team by rolling 3,353 pinnage and McWilliams had top single of 1,234. Six points were taken by Kingsmen over Campbell, as 4-2 wins were marked by Crowley, McLeod, Edgewater, Selkirk's, Wood, Plaza, Cherney's, Bassel's, Caccavella and Calvert respectively over Hunt, Wonder, Kawartha, Posties, Bickell, Wade, Parkway, McWilliams, Mongraw, E and B, and Odeon.

Other good scores were: Bill Stanbury (309) 785, Ab Hall 778, Bill Harris (314) 770, Joe Mattucci 751, Don Coughlin 749, E. Faux 743, Tic Caccavella 742, George Walton 734, Rocky DeCarlo (305) 733, W. Irvine (320) 729, Bill Boon 727, Jack Latchford 709 and a single of 316 by Reg Gordon.

E. W. Sargent Funeral Widely Attended

NORWOOD, Feb. 22 (ENS) — The funeral of Edward Wilson Sargent, a life-long resident of Westwood, was held Tuesday afternoon, at St. Andrew's United Church with burial in Westwood cemetery. The Rev. N. Cole officiated. It was one of the largest funerals ever held in the community.

Mr. Sargent died Saturday suddenly. He was born 62 years ago, the son of John Sargent and Elizabeth Stewart. He was educated in Westwood public school, Norwood high school and in Peterborough Business College. For a number of years he operated the store now owned and operated by William Renwick.

In late years he has worked as an electrician.

He was a member of St. Andrew's Church in which he was an elder, and a member of Hastings Masonic Lodge.

Surviving besides his widow are one daughter Mrs. Reginald Boate (Isabel), one son Leslie of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. Gordon Warner (Annie) of R.R. 3 Hastings and Miss Bessie Sargent of Toronto.

The graveside service was held by Masonic brethren, and conducted by Charles Plant of Hastings. About 40 members were present from Hastings and Norwood.

Pallbearers were William Breckenridge, James Clysdale, Sidney Warr, Lorne Hutchinson, Thomas Cardwell, William Renwick. Flower bearers were Aubrey Wood, Jim Maybin, Bruce Graham, Hugh Nelson, Bill Johnston, Bruce Warr, Gordon Johnston, Clayton Breckenridge, Max Breckenridge, Eric Pulfer, Melville Scott, Irwin Russell.

For Eczema— Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to any good drug store and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief—the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin troubles.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

APTITUDE IS DEVELOPED by this patient at the Ontario Society for Crippled Children's cerebral palsy centre at Woodeden, London. The centre is one of the activities for which the Society's Easter Seals Campaign, Feb. 25 to March 25, appeals for funds.

Daring German Youth Bands Scatter Freedom Pamphlets

By TOM BEEDY

BERLIN, Feb. 22—(AP)—The Russian zone of Germany is pimpled with daring bands of young anti-Communists playing a reckless game of tag against despotism.

The young East Germans are set up in cells of three or four. They operate under false names. Few know their comrades by anything except the "cover names." This winter they have distributed 500,000 leaflets urging the German population to resist Communism.

They leave their sign at times, just to irk security police. The big F for Freiheit (freedom) painted on walls has appeared even on Russian troop installations.

The movement, which has its headquarters in West Berlin and in Frankfort, calls itself the League of German Youth. It claims 25,000 members on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

East German Communist authorities claim that the young opponents of their regime are former Hitler Youth or SS officers trying to "revive fascism."

Funds have been provided by German industrialists on a voluntary combination basis. The leader indicated some of the donors are in East Germany.

Chained To Bed

GASTONIA, N.C., Feb. 22 (AP)—Oliver D. Moore, 35, was arrested Wednesday on a charge of chaining his 32-year wife to a bed when she wasn't on her mill job. Solicitor Oscar Mason of municipal court said Moore told him he chained his wife, Mamie, a small woman, with an eight-foot chain so she wouldn't leave home. She was unshackled when she had to report for the night shift.

Alberta Legislature Likely Introduce Record Budget

By The Canadian Press

Alberta today launches a legislature session expected to spend more of the province's money than in any previous year. Riding the crest of a major oil boom, the province is taking in more revenue than ever before in its history, a fact which will probably be reflected in a record budget of about $100,000,000 compared with $74,000,000 last year.

Top matter of business for the session is expected to be a new system of financial aid to municipalities. Some $5,000,000 will probably be funnelled into the debt-assistance scheme and communities will receive grants equivalent to about 3½ mills of their tax date.

In Winnipeg, Attorney-General C. Rhodes Smith introduced a bill which would make Manitobans the first citizens in Canada to have the right to sue the Crown without first obtaining its permission. The bill will abolish the necessity for petitions of rights of fiats which now are required before actions can be taken against the government or one of its agencies.

In Regina, Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines brought down the budget and forecast that Saskatchewan would spend a record $57,977,850 this year. Mr. Fines budgetted for a surplus of $243,960 and announced that there would be no new taxes or tax changes this year. He said the increase in estimated expenditures was "due entirely to the increased cost of living."

In Victoria, debate on the throne speech opened with a suggestion by S. J. Smith, coalition member for Kamloops, that British Columbia should make exploration attractive for the oil industry. He hoped to see developments in oil and gas exploration in the northern Peace River Company, and expressed belief that removal of oil controls, forecast in the throne speech, would be a step forward.

In Quebec, Premier Maurice Duplessis introduced amendments to the province's proposed rent control legislation. One change would be to have a five-man supervisory commission instead of one with three members. The commission would be the final authority on rent arbitration in the province and would hear appeals from local administrations gmL.murinkP.. h8l istrators, appointed to conciliate in cases where landlords and tenants could not agree on rents.

In Halifax, members on both sides of the house spoke up for help for the Annapolis Valley apple industry, in difficulties for some years because of loss of British markets. George Wilson (PC-Hants West) and D. D. Sutton (L-Kings) were in favor of fostering the industry as an integral part of the Nova Scotia economy.

Scroll Presented To Builder

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP)—The builder of the Mississagi river tunnel at the Ontario Hydro development near Thessalon, was given an illuminated scroll Wednesday for his part in the project.

Robert Saunders, Ontario Hydro chairman, made the presentation to George W. Rayner, president of the Rayner Construction Co. Ltd., at the annual dinner of the Ontario Road Builders' Association, of which Mr. Rayner is a past president.

The tunnel power development now is known as the George W. Rayner generating station.

New Brunswick Faces Boom In Pulpwood

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Feb. 22—(CP)—An almost-unprecedented demand for pulpwood and an expected increase in the price being paid by the British timber control for long lumber is said providing a bright outlook for New Brunswick forest operations.

While the actual amount of the increase to be paid by United Kingdom lumber buyers is not yet worked out, John E. Sayre, resident of the Maritime Lumber Bureau, said Wednesday night it would approximate $5.50 per thousand board feet. The proposal was discussed at a bureau meeting last week.

Donations Total $398 To Norwood Family

Contributions to the family of Arthur Hannon, of Norwood, burned out of their home last December 28, total $398. Dozens of donations of clothing, food and household equipment were also made.

Trustees of the fund were Archie Crowe and Alf Bongard, of Norwood. Canvassers were Leo Krikorian, Joe Watts, A. Webster, M. Hamblin, W. Sloan, A. Lobb, G. Andrews, D. Starke, A. Watkins, J. Hamblin, A. Bongard, K. Ross, S. Bland and J. Starke.

Shareholders Fail To Unseat Any Directors

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Shareholders, led by Colin A. Campbell, former Ontario Works Minister, failed Wednesday night to unseat directors of Premier Trust Company, all of whom were returned to office.

The shareholders' group charged Premier Trust with failing to do a satisfactory amount of business. In the course of an eight-hour annual meeting, charge after charge was hurled at T. P. Holmes, president and general manager, who refused persistent requests for the company's annual report. He said a printed report distributed at the meeting was sufficient.

Shareholder Thomas Mungovan charged that the printed report was not the same as the auditors' report. William Sweeney, another shareholder, threatened to appeal to Ottawa if the original report was not made available.

Director D. C. MacLachlan said that the original and printed reports were the same. Holmes declared himself ready to discuss the balance sheet with any shareholder.

Campbell said that dividends paid by Premier Trust—two per cent in 1950—were about half the amount paid on the capital stock by other trust companies.

Victorian Order Closes Year $1,596 Surplus

The Victorian Order of Nurses ended 1950 with a surplus, treasurer Wilson M. Gemmell reported to the Peterborough branch's 10th annual meeting Wednesday.

The surplus amounted to $1,596.90 and was made possible by "rigid economy and buoyant income." Expenses were not any greater in 1950 than in 1949, and the 1949 statement showed a deficit of $33.06.

Chairman for the meeting president of the board R. J. Chandler, briefly outlined the VON's work in the community during the year. He said the order was in the "unique position of providing adequate nursing service either at cost or free," depending on the financial status of the person receiving the care.

53 p.c. Provided Free

Mr. Chandler reported that 53 per cent of nursing service provided by the VON had been free, 27.8 per cent was paid for in full, 10.9 per cent was partly paid for, and 7.8 per cent was paid for by an insurance company for which the VON acts in Peterborough.

The report of Miss Mary Ross, chief VON nurse in the city, showed that in 1950 the order made 6,580 visits to sick people in their own homes, an increase of 430 over 1949 visits.

In addition to these visits, 1,192 visits were made to an acutely ill group, sick with pneumonia, tuberculosis, and heart conditions. In the maternity and educational service, 2,700 visits were made to mothers, babies, and expectant mothers.

Smith Twp. Area Served

The only area served outside the city by the VON is a portion of Smith township, in which there are 190 families. There, 200 visits were made.

During the year, 52 student nurses observed the work of staff nurses. Miss Ross said "this experience is of value, regardless of the branch of nursing the nurse enters following graduation."

Richard Raine gave the report of the publicity committee and Mr. Chandler introduced the staff members to the meeting, which was attended by about 100 people.

RHEUMATIC PAIN
Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Glofcheskie, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Don't suffer from Rheumatic or Arthritic pain. Take Templeton's T-R-C's—Canada's LARGEST-SELLING proprietary medicine to bring quick relief from such pain. Only 60c, $1.25 at druggists. T-822

VON Annual Meeting

Adapting Health Services To Care for Older People

"There is no better nursing service in Canada" than the Victorian Order of Nurses, Miss Mary Ferguson, national supervisor of the VON, told the 10th annual meeting of the Peterborough branch on Wednesday.

The biggest problem for the VON, said Miss Ferguson, was that people just didn't know about it.

Miss Ferguson spoke briefly of changes in the methods used by the VON of its history and made one prediction as to further changes in its service. She was introduced by Fred J. Overend, and thanked by Mrs. F. J. Lynch.

Care for the Elderly

She predicted that in a few years, the services of the order and of other medical and health services would be more and more adapted to care for older people.

Few, if any, countries have the facilities to care properly for their elderly people, and Canada is no exception, she said.

"They can't all be taken care of in homes, and it is difficult for hospitals to handle any number of them," she said.

As an example of methods first instituted by the order, she pointed to the child health conferences, now sponsored by the department of health in almost all cities and towns. These, she said, established by the VON, and later dropped as tax-supported agencies took them over.

The VON, she said, was known across the country as the "hospital without walls."

The order was first formed in 1897, and rendered valuable service through both world wars, and through the depression of the 1930s. The Halifax explosion of 1917 was another example of the service the order had given during its existence.

Chairman Protests Hope Suggestions

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Elmer T. Duggan, chairman of the Toronto and Suburban Separate School Board, said Wednesday that to limit separate schools in Ontario to Grade 6, as suggested in the Hope Report on Education, "would be like cutting off the right arm" of Roman Catholic education.

He made a statement in reply to a report by a Prostestant church group, the Inter-Church Committee on Protestant-Roman Catholic Relations, that said Tuesday it favored the Hope Report's majority recommendations to limit separate school jurisdiction. The Ontario government has given no indication that it will implement the Hope Report recommendations.

Train Conductor Retires After 44 Years

FORT FRANCIS (CP)—Michael J. Murphy, doffing his conductor's jacket for the last time after 44 years of railroading, recalls some famous passengers. He had other kinds too.

He was chosen to take charge of the train when the Prince of Wales, now Duke of Windsor, rode from his Alberta ranch to Chicago on one occasion years ago On another occasion he was the conductor of the train that took Queen Marie of Romania on a trip from Vancouver to Chicago.

He had Al Capone and some of his mobsters on vacation trips to the Lake of the Woods and recalls these fellows were "overly polite."

The toughest customers of the old days were the lumberjacks. "You never knew what to expect when those fellows boarded the train," he recalls.

Now 65, Murphy was hired on a work train in 1905, laying track from Orr, Minn., to Fort Frances on the Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific Railroad.

"In other words, I helped build the railroad I was going to work on," said Murphy. He was made a conductor the following year.

BUILDING BOOM

Edmonton's building boom reached a record of nearly $46,500,000 in 1950, or $6,000,000 higher than 1949.

THE BIGGEST EVENT to take place in the village of Newcastle since the opening of the community hall in 1922, will take place on Monday evening when the Newcastle Community Memorial Arena is officially opened. The $25,000 wood and steel structure has a spectator capacity of 1,200 people. Only $2,000 is needed to complete the project which has been financed through public subscription, a village grant of $6,000, and a Government grant of $5,000. Voluntary labor of interested citizens has played an important part in keeping down costs.

A Community Fund Agency

Navy League, Supporter Of Sea Cadet Activities

"The Navy League's most direct service to Peterborough is through the boys' organization the sea cadets," stated Jack Raine, chairman of the Sea Cadet Committee of Peterborough in an interview Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Raine was speaking on behalf of the Navy League which is one of the 10 agencies making an appeal for funds through the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund campaign, March 2-9.

60 Boys in Corps

The proper name of the Peterborough Sea Cadets, Mr. Raine explained is the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps Howe. He went on to explain that the city's corps had a total membership of 60 boys between the ages of 14 and 18.

"A great deal of the money the Navy League receives," he continued, "goes to the maintenance of Sea Cadet corps. The Navy League finances all the uniforms, equipment, ship's quarters and other essentials in the corps. In addition, the boys are sent to camp for two weeks every summer, free of charge."

Recruits for Navy

Mr. Raine went on to explain that the training received by boys in the sea cadets does not only teach them discipline, fair play and a sense of responsibility, but the corps has also proved a great reservoir for recruiting for the Canadian Navy.

In the recent naval recruiting campaign held in Peterborough, of approximately 100 applicants, more than one half had been sea cadets.

"The Navy League itself is an Empire organization," Mr. Raine concluded. "Its services include providing such things as recreational facilities, reading material and 'itty bags for sailors. However, in Peterborough its service is most evident in the opportunity it gives boys to take training along navy lines in the sea cadets."

Tobacco Growers Plan Reorganize

DELHI, Ont., Feb. 22—(AP)—District tobacco growers meeting here Wednesday voted 109-4 to reorganize as a growers' scheme under the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act.

Prior to the vote, Stewart Smith of the Elgin Flue Cured Tobacco Growers' Association, which is sponsoring the move to abandon the Ontario Flue Cured Tobacco Marketing Association, informed growers that Minister of Agriculture T. R. Kennedy had agreed to send out a ballot to all growers if a 50 per cent vote in favor of the proposed change was obtained at the district meetings.

To date the Elgin association has conducted votes in seven districts with overwhelming majorities in favor of setting up a new system under the Farm Products Marketing Act. The remaining seven districts in the tobacco belt will be asked to give their decision at meetings during the next week, Mr. Smith said.

LOOK QUICKLY—THEN DUCK — Cavatwill model Jeannie Zenchik beholds with amazement the latest creation, an ocelot (who dat?) jacket, worn by Ed Murphy, another model at the men's fashion fair currently taking place in Montreal. This, friends, is what is coming in 1952.

Negligee For Males Shown In Latest Montreal Styles

MONTREAL, Feb. 22—(CP)—Mink and ermine for males?

Well, things haven't gone that far yet, but after looking at some of the exhibits shown by the Men's Fashion Council of Canada here this week, one never knows.

Some 40 garments, products of leading Montreal and Toronto manufacturers, were on display.

First, there was a two-tone creation, a sleeveless, collarless, easy-to-fold-and-pack-for-travel affair that came under the heading: Negligee for the male.

Gone, apparently, are the days of parlorbest stiffness. All suits were functional, comfortable, and —it is claimed—the coolest in history.

Garbed in eight ounces of suit, tomorrow's man-in-the-know will parade in a pastel-shaded, single-breasted lounge suit. Perhaps he will flaunt a wide, gay tartan ribbon in his hat as well as a pair of the first all-Canadian wedgies.

Vests are definitely out. Their absence, it was pointed out, is still a further evidence of the "trend to comfort."

The coat will be a full inch longer and the hat will have a slightly-narrower brim and a little-higher crown.

One casual coat number was an ocelot design fabric resembling velveteen, single-breasted with one-button link. A banana-yelow jacket with contrasting blue pants and a corduroy rust-brick coat with "dog chain" belt, showed the "trend to brighter, more comfortable clothes."

Havelock Lodge Host To Black Preceptory

HAVELOCK, Feb. 22 (ENS)—After the regular lodge meeting of Crystal Chapter No. 36 on Monday night, the ladies of that order entertained members of the local Royal Black Preceptory and their wives for a social evening in the Orange Hall.

The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh gave an address and officiated as chairman. He gave two recitations during the program, which also included a reading by Mrs. William Harris; the highland fling danced by Shirley Anderson and Helen Robinson to bagpipe accompaniment by Pipe Major Harry Anderson; Arthur Carman of Malone sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. E. Empey, also of Madoc. A geography contest in which Mrs. E. Empey and Mrs. Wilfred Ellis were captains was won by the former's group. Mrs. Empey was also the accompanist for the community singing period.

Truman Seeks Power To Silence Radio, Razors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Controversy developed Wednesday over a bill to authorize President Truman to shut down United States radio and television stations in an emergency—and even ban the use of some electric razors.

The idea is to prevent radiations which might guide enemy bombers or guided missiles to targets.

Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, said the bill would give the President "the kind of power which a Stalin or a Hitler might exercise."

Maj.-Gen. Francis L. Ankenbrandt, director of communications for the air force, said the measure is part of the Defence Department's efforts to adjust "to the time-table of warfare in the air-atomic age."

Curtis Plummer, chief engineer of the federal communications commission, said the bill would cover such things as automobile ignition switches, quick food cookers known as "radar ranges" used in some restaurants, certain types of neon signs, some elevatros, and even some electric razors.

170 Attend Euchre In New Township Hall

COLDSPRINGS, Feb. 22 (ENS)—Approximately 170 attended the first event on Tuesday night, to be held in the new township community hall.

There were 39 tables of progressive euchre played. Ladies high prize went to Pauline Drop, Hasings; low, Mrs. Nixon Timlin. Men's high, Frank Shier; low, Allan Jibb, Baltimore; most lone hands (8), Nixon Timlin. The door prize went to Mrs. Jack Patch, Harwood.

After lunch Mr. and Mrs. George Ford and Margaret supplied music for dancing.

Soviet Peasants Resist Kremlin's Farm Mergers

By LEON DENNEN.

WASHINGTON (NEA).—The Kremlin is making a massive new effort to "industrialize" Soviet agriculture and is meeting the stiffest resistance the Russian peasantry has shown in 20 years. Acts of sabotage and even open violence are occurring almost daily.

Observers here believe Premier Stalin's recent "assurance" that World War III is not inevitable was largely designed to calm the frayed nerves of jittery peasants, whose restive behavior is being recorded by the Soviet press from Moscow to the distant regions of Kazakstan.

Allied intelligence reports this is the first widespread peasant resistance since the Kremlin's farm collectivization campaign of 1930-32, when an estimated 6,000,000 peasants were "liquidated" by the secret police.

What touched it off is Stalin's program for merging thousands of already sizable collective farms into huge industrial units. About 15,000,000 farm families are said to be affected by this newest agricultural revolution.

Reports in Pravda, the official Russian newspaper, indicate how fast the amalgamation is moving ahead. In 1949, in the eastern provinces of Byelo-Russia, there were 9,771 collective farms. By 1950 these had been compressed into 3,279 industrial units, according to N. Patolitchev, secretary of the Byelo-Russian Communist Party. In 1952 these units will be further consolidated.

Fear Peasantry

There is no doubt Stalin fears the peasantry, especially the Ukrainians who came so close to revolting during World War II. Only Hitler's brutality and his failure to smash the hated collectives made the Ukrainians choose Moscow as a lesser evil.

The Kremlin is determined not to take any more chances. In apparent anticipation of another war, it has taken the final steps to secure its stranglehold over them.

If it succeeds, the peasants will become virtual industrial laborers in great "farm factories."

But their resistance has been strong, and it continues to grow. It can no longer be ignored by the Soviet press. In a Pravda editorial of Jan. 19, the provincial press particularly was berated for its failure to "demonstrate with vivid and concrete examples from Soviet life, the victory of the Lenin-Stalin ideas."

A clear threat to repeat the massacres of 1930-32 is contained in a statement by Khrushchev, a secretary of the Russian Bolshevik party. He writes:

"Every peasant should be made aware that if today he is guilty of even the slightest transgression, tomorrow the party will know about it, and the day after, the public prosecutor."

But despite these warnings peasant resistance is reported daily in the Russian press without let-up.

State Department officials believe this is the backdrop against which Stalin's latest statement and the various Soviet "peace" campaigns should be read.

The Kremlin's line is that, although the West wants war, it can and will be thwarted by the vigilance of Stalin. His savage attack on the United Nations obviously was aimed at increasing confusion and uncertainty in Europe and Asia. He hoped to throw another monkey wrench into the North Atlantic defence program, to prevent or at least postpone West Germany's rearmament and a peace treaty between Japan and the West.

Thus, through its customary ally—fear—Moscow seeks both to divide the West and to unite the people of Russia and the satellite countries.

Hard Way Ahead For Canadians

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Canada must condition herself for a "long and glamorless pull" along the road to peace, Gordon Graydon, member of parliament for Peel and Foreign Affairs expert of the Progressive Conservative Party, said Wednesday night.

"It may entail a tedious, colorless and serious period of uncertainty which will require the very best that is in us all," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the Ontario Good Roads Association.

"Any hesitancy or backtracking on the way will inevitably make our objective more remote and our chances of avoiding armed conflict less probable," said Mr. Graydon, parliamentary adviser to the Canadian delegation at the United Nations.

"I am convinced after an experience of six years at international meetings where Soviet imperialism was represented that these connivers at world domination are certain in their own minds that international Communism thrives best when there is disharmony, chaos and disagreement."

Acquit Driver Failing To Give Half Road

Graham Plaunt, Lakefield, was given "the benefit of the doubt" and found not guilty in police court Wednesday of failing to leave half of the highway for a truck in an accident on the Nassau turn, Highway 28, Feb. 18.

Earl Mumford, Mount Julian, driver of the empty dump truck said he was driving south on the highway with his brother, Dale, on their way home. Mumford then lived in Peterborough.

He said as he was rounding the north part of the turn, following about 200 feet behind another truck of the same company, he saw Plaunt's car approaching him.

When the car came close to him he saw it was over the white centre line on the west half of the highway. He swung his truck to miss the car, but they collided in a sideswipe. He said the car had made no attempt to get back over to its own side.

Dale Mumford testified that the car had narrowly missed the truck they were following and then "seemed to come straight at us."

Owner in Lead Truck

Lloyd Robinson, 612 Bethune St., owner of the trucks, was driving the lead truck. He said the Plaunt car crowded him and he pulled to the right as they passed. He knew nothing of the accident until he arrived home and received a phone call about it. He drove back and talked with Mumford and Plaunt in the police cruiser.

He quoted Plaunt as saying "I ran into the side of your truck. I will admit I was over the white line." Robinson said Plaunt added a little later, "I know I was absolutely in the wrong, I was over the white line."

Two of the truck's tires, worth a total of $309, were cut open in the accident.

Trevor Lillico, Lakefield, a passenger in the Plaunt car, said the lights of the first truck were high and the second truck was following at a distance of about 30 feet. He said the truck must have been over the white line.

He said as the vehicles collided, the truck caught the rear left wheel of the truck and "set the car over the white line." He said that was why Plaunt said after the accident that he was over the white line.

Passed Fairly Close

He said the Plaunt car passed the first truck fairly close but at a safe distance.

Provincial Constable Thomas Fitzpatrick testified he heard Plaunt say he was driving on the wrong side of the road.

Plaunt said the first time he noticed anything wrong was when the vehicles collided. He said his car was pushed over the centre line by the impact. He estimated the two trucks driving closely together, were travelling between 40 and 50 miles an hour.

Denies Women Buy 75% Of Men's Clothes

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The Canadian men's apparel fair is being held in Montreal and, as usual in press releases on such affairs, the claim is made that 75 per cent of men's clothing is bought by women.

One wonders where advertising people get such nonsense—but get it they do, and maintain it they will, and they will tell you that it is based on surveys in Canada and the United States.

This writer hasn't the facilities to conduct surveys in Canada and the United States, but he has never known or heard of a man whose wife buys any large proportion of his clothing.

Furthermore, Wednesday he asked the first dozen men he met whether their wives bought their clothing, and it happened to be a wide income group, ranging from around $3,000 to perhaps as high as $50,000 a year.

Not Much Rating

Two of these men said their wives did give final approval to suitings after the men themselves had picked them out or narrowed them down to a few choices. Another said his wife didn't buy him even a pair of socks. Several of them said their wives wouldn't even notice if they came in with new suits. In general the wives didn't get much of a rating as pickers of men's clothing.

All this is not intended to say that women have no influence on what men buy.

But as to that flat statement, repeated time and again, that women buy 75 or 85 or 95 per cent of men's clothing—someone just has to deny it, for it isn't so.

But this writer, contradicting most emphatically the claims of women's part in buying men's clothes, at the same time wishes they did have more to do with it. If they did, we might be dressing a lot more sensibly than we do.

Brockville Ready To Open $250,000 Civic Centre

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 22 (CP)—For the first time since 1937, Brockville hockey teams will be able to play home games on home ice in a new $250,000 memorial civic centre, to be opened Sunday by Premier Frost.

A further ceremony is due Mar. 4, when a plaque inscribed with the names of Brockville's dead in two world wars will be dedicated.

The opening of the centre marks a new era in the community life of this St. Lawrence River town of 2,000 persons. Since the last covered arena burned down in 1937—just a year after the powerpacked Magedonas went to the Eastern Canada Allan Cup finals—Brockville teams have played their home games in neighboring towns.

Now, with a covered rink again, hockey enthusiasts have hopes for developing teams that will bring Brockville as much renown as was earned by its great teams of the past.

The brick and stone structure will seat 2,100 with room for more than 2,000 standees. The 90-by-195-foot ice sheet can be removed and additional seats installed to accommodate 7,000 for boxing, wrestling and stage shows. The building houses a cafeteria, two lunch bars, skating and hockey dressing rooms, meeting rooms, and an auditorium seating 500 to be used as a district community and recreational centre.

Purchase Bus

The corporation of Brockville contributed $60,000 towards the total cost while the energetic project group of the ways and means committee raised $150,000. The remainder of the money was raised through public subscription. A bus for the free use of all Brockville sporting groups has been purchased by the project committee.

An ambitious year-round operational scheme has been planned by manager Arch Miller to include travelling sports and stage shows while hanging out the welcome sign for various types of conventions and agricultural shows popular in this section of the country.

Assisting Premier Frost at Sunday's opening will be Alan Singleton, former athlete who was stricken with poliomyelitis two years ago, and government and civic leaders.

Figure skater Barbara Ann Scott, who often spends summer holidays in this district, will be featured with the Ottawa Minto Follies here March 17.

Seaway Project Changes Shore

OTTAWA, Feb. 22—(CP)—Development of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project will change the entire St. Lawrence "front" for 50 miles, Transport Minister Chevrier said Wednesday.

He spoke about the proposed Canada-United States project in an address to the Canadian Club.

"All along the front communities will be submerged," he said, "farmhouses, schools, churches, cemeteries and homes will disappear. These, it is hoped, will rise again on the new shoreline where modern and up-to-date communities will be relocated."

Mr. Chevrier said the joint St. Lawrence deep waterway and power project will cost $806,000,000. Canada's share would be $336,000,000 of which $132,000,000 has already been spent on the Welland canal.

Minimum 2-Week Holidays Killed In Ont. Legislature

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP).—Five Opposition members' Bills were debated and then killed in Wednesday's "private members day"

Three proposals to provide minimum paid holidays of two instead of one week, and a proposal to reduce the maximum work week from 48 to 400 hours were given six-month postponements on recorded votes of 42 to 29.

A similar vote defeated a Bill by Eamon Park (CCF-Toronto Dovercourt to require publication of campaign receipts and expenditures by municipal election candidates.

Of the other proposals blocked by government motions for a six-month postponement, L. F. K. Fell (CCF-Toronto Parkdale) and Joseph Salsberg (LPP-Toronto St. Andrew) sponsored Bills for two-week holidays after one year's employment. J. G. Brown (L-Waterloo North) sponsored a Bill for two-week holidays after two years' employment. Mr. Salsberg lost on a Bill for a maximum 40-hour work week.

In each case a solid vote of CCF, Liberal and Labor-Progressive Party members lost to a government majority.

Unjust Accounting

Premier Frost argued that Mr. Park's Bill for an accounting of election expenditures would be "very unjust" to all but the largest municipalities.

Mr. Park said there was an unhealthy situation in city elections. "Candidates in Toronto elections are spending $6,000 to $7,000 for jobs worth $1,200 a year," he charged.

Government arguments against the two-week vacation and 40-hour work week Bills centred on the fact that unions should bargain for any improvements over the present laws.

The government was not opposed to the principles involved, Premier Frost said. But collective bargaining to attain further benefits was "the key to the problem."

E. B. Jolliffe, CCF Leader, said large numbers of workers were not protected by union contracts and lacked methods of gaining improvements.

Favor Longer Holidays

Mr. Fell said his holidays Bill was not pioneer legislation, but merely reflected the present trend. Most employers were in favor of longer holidays, but wished to see them legislated for all industries.

Mr. Salsberg said he expected his Bill to be defeated. However, repeated unsuccessful attempts by Opposition members to pass social legislation in the past had resulted in the government finally bringing in its own legislation to implement Opposition proposals.

New Type Option Vote

A new type of local option vote is provided in a Bill introduced by Provincial Secretary Welsh.

It would allow votes on the question of liquor outlets in areas which have been legally wet since the present liquor control went into effect, but which have no opportunity to vote on the question of becoming dry.

A number of these areas were strongly against liquor outlets, Mr. Welsh said, but under present regulations could not vote themselves dry until a liquor outlet was established.

A second provision in the Bill would protect the status of municipalities under the Liquor Control Act when they are annexed or amalgamated with wet communities. The dry areas would not become wet unless they voted to repeal their local option after annexation.

The Bill would also maintain the status of communities which have certain types of liquor outlets, but do not want to adopt other types of liquor outlets allowed in the area to which they are annexed.

Refuse To Clear Veterans' Debts

OTTAWA, Feb. 22—(CP)—The House of Commons spent most of the time Wednesday on a resolution by Robert Fair (SC-Battle River). It is one he has presented ever year for the last 15 years and urged the government to grant clear titles to soldiers settled on farms under provisions of the Old Soldier Settlement Act.

Mr. Fair said 25,017 veterans were setled on farms under the legislation and 1,272 still owed $1,428,069 at Jan. 1. He urged this be written off.

His argument brought the reply from Labor Minister Gregg, speaking in the absence of Veterans Minister Lapointe, that the government has been gradually liquidating the indebetdness of the old soldiers But it could not be written off in one swoop.

The issue came to a vote and the resolution was defeated 133 to 53. The Social Credit, Progressive Conservative and CCF members supported the resolution.

Tension To Last

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, advised American youth Wednesday night to be prepared for "10 or 15 years" of international tension. During that period and as long as the present international conditions continue, he said, "it would seem that every able young man in the country will have to contribute in some manner to our military strength."

Must Be Consulted On Crossing Of 38th

LONDON, Feb. 22 — (AP) — Britain reiterated Wednesday that it opposes any crossing in force of the Korean 38th Parallel by United Nations troops without prior consultation between the United States and other countries fighting in Korea.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons, Ernest Davies, foreign undersecretary, said:

"The present position is that where, for tactical reasons, it may be necessary to make small incursions over the 38th Parallel, that would be considered a military matter. But any substantial crossing of it is a political matter on which consultations would have to take place."

Dies At 101 Years

PETROLIA, Ont., Feb. 22 (CP) —Mrs. Margaret Frieve Stokes, a continuous resident of Petrolia for more than 80 years, died here Wednesday. She was 101. Born in 1849 at Mitchell's Corners now Aurora, Ont., Mrs. Stokes came to Petrolia in 1869. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Drummond, Petrolia, and a son, Lieut.-Col. I. G. Stokes, Sarnia.

Bridge In Bad Shape

TORONTO, Feb. 22—(CP)—A 60-year-old bridge in Toronto's east end is in shaky condition and should be replaced before it falls down, the city's works committee recommended Wednesday. Deputy Works Commissioner Leslie Allan said vehicles are limited to a speed of 10 miles an hour on the bridge and heavy vehicles are not permitted to use it.

Need Schools, Not System Of Two Shifts

Post Survey Shows Opinion Solid Against Staggering

More schools and more additions to schools are preferable to the suggested operation of public schools on a basis of two daily shifts. This was the majority opinion given in a Financial Post survey this week.

Major criticisms of the proposal were that it would create a mass-production educational system, and overload teachers.

John Marshall, associate editor of the Windsor Daily Star, denounced the suggestion as "unwise" and "repulsive".

The president of the Maritime Library Association of Charlottetown, P.E.I., H. B. Chandler, said he was reminded of Jonathan Swift's "Modest proposal for relieving Irish poverty by the use of Irish children as meat."

Sarcastic Suggestion

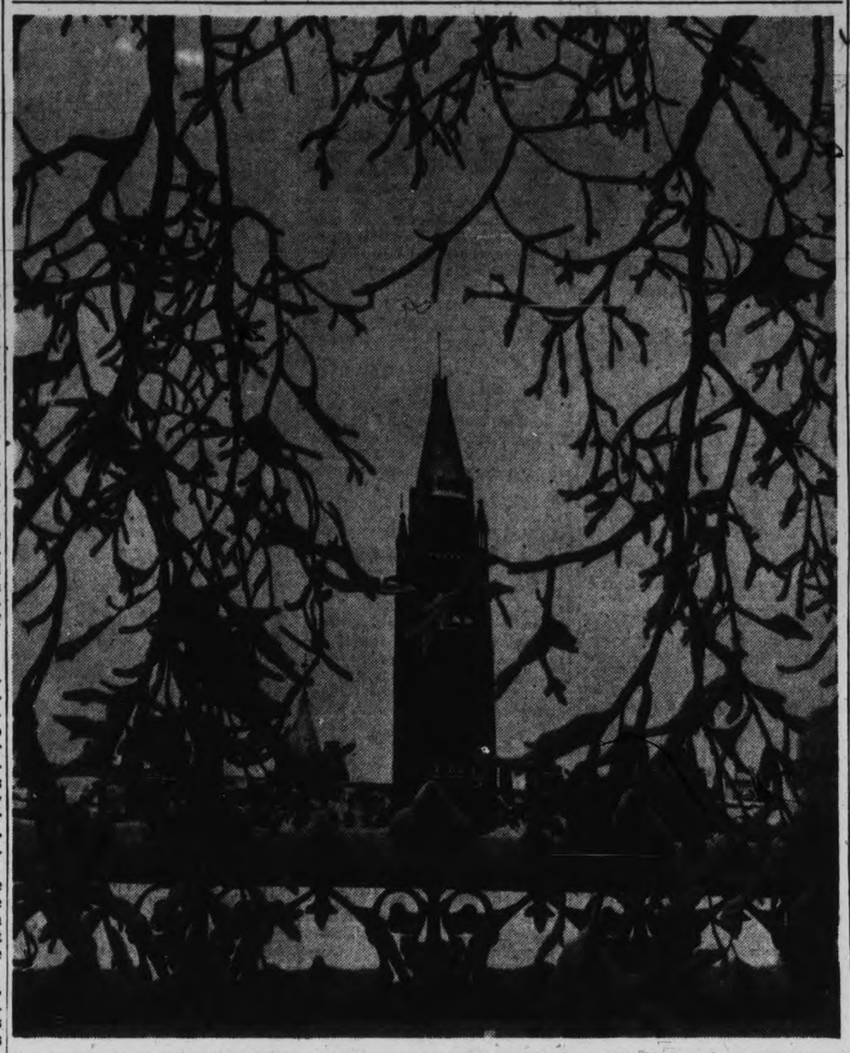
Mr. Chandler sarcastically suggested lowering the school-leaving age to 10 years, "thus providing an abundant supply of cheap apprentice labor for new war plants, the trans-Canada highway and so on. The materials saved in building unnecessary schools could be stockpiled for potential air raid shelters, research laboratories, and even interplanetary communications."

Walter Baulk, editor of the Preston (Ont.) Times, said he had had some experience with schools operating on a two-shift system. "I would not endorse the plan," he said.

F. H. Marani, Toronto architect, said: "Education would suffer. The children's timing habits would be disrupted and this course should only be resorted to in cases of extreme urgency."

T. Abbott Parlee, mayor of Moncton, N.B., said that children benefit more under the present "somewhat leisurely conditions", and he felt that "a crowded educational program should be avoided."

The two-shift system, he said, should be adopted only if circumstances "absolutely prevent needed construction."



Poor Expedient

J. P. Nicholls, a Vancouver real estate executive, said that the use of the two-shift system "would be a very poor expedient, reacting badly on home organization and with pupils and teachers.

"Two shifts are not an alternative to new construction but (should be used) for emergencies."

The majority opinion was pretty well represented by the opinion of G. J. Rowland, publisher of the Penticton Herald, B.C. He said: "This is a reasonable suggestion for the immediate future, wherever there is really acute overcrowding. But if the experiment is prolonged, it could only result in an even poorer output from our educational factories than we now contemplate.

J. A. Morris, editor of the Prescott (Ont.) Journal, said: "It is time a realistic attitude was taken of the building emergency by labor and government. Why penalize children, teachers and mothers for the short-sighted policies of others?"

Grand Jury Asks Cool Water From Fountain

Tepid water at the county court house public drinking fountain may be a thing of the past. At any rate it will be if the grand jury has its way.

Like hundreds of other visitors to the court house the jurors were irked by the tepid water in the fountain. So in their report they recommended purchase of a drinking fountain, with water cooler, for the main lobby.

At present the cold water pipe for the fountain is located near the steam pipe for the heating system, and the drinking water is never cool enough to be refreshing.

Redecorate Court Rooms

The grand jury also recommended that the court room be completely redecorated. And as well they recommended:

New equipment for the washroom outside the county council chamber, and the room to be properly enclosed;

Replacing fallen plaster in the halls and offices and the walls washed or redecorated where necessary;

The program for installing modern lighting should be continued.

Consideration should also be given to improving the ventilation system in the jail, said the report.

One-A-Day Mail Deliveries Expected Within A Month

One-a-day mail deliveries will begin in Peterborough within a month, Postmaster Harold E. White said today. All residential districts will receive either a morning or afternoon delivery, but deliveries to businesses will be unaffected by the change. Mr. White said that some new residential areas may be included in the new system, but that their inclusion depended on approval by the post-master-general's department.

Plans and sketches for the proposed system have been sent to Ottawa, and approval is expected soon, he said.

The staff of mailmen will be cut by one when the system takes effect, and some will be transferred to inside jobs.

Brantford begins its once-daily deliveries on Monday, and a similar system began this week in London, Ont.

Boy, 9, Injured In Eye By Arrow

The condition of John Myers who was accidentally struck in the eye with an arrow Tuesday morning was reported as "quite good" by Civic Hospital officials today. John is the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Myers of 310 Elias Ave.

Following the accident it was feared that the boy would lose the sight of the injured eye, however latest reports indicate that there is a good chance that the sight will be saved.

The mishap took place when John and his brother Peter, were playing with a bow and arrow in their home before school Tuesday morning.

Following the accident John was rushed to the hospital and treated by Dr. B. H. Cragg.

UNDER OBSERVATION

Yvonne Paquette, 7, knocked down by a car Tuesday is still in St. Joseph's Hospital for observation. The youngster injured both knees but there was no sign of any fracture, an official said today. Her condition is good. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Paquette, 543 Gilchrist Ave., the child was hit as she crossed the intersection of Reid and McDonnel streets by a car driven by Glen King, 583 Downie St.

(Jack) Crough of Windsor, who has been in Japan for the past 18 months with the American Occupational Forces, is now serving with the Seventh Division fighting somewhere in Korea. Mr. Jack Crough was well known for his athletic prowess in his youger days. He has been employed at the Ford Motor Company as a toolmaker many years.

Knox Church Founder Dies Aged 85

Andrew McKenzie For Many Years Inspector At CGE

Andrew McKenzie, 544 Bolivar St., retired chief inspector of the Canadian General Elecric Company, and a founder of Knox United Church, died at his home Wednesday. His age was 85 years.

The death of Mr. McKenzie followed a lingering illness of nearly two years, with increasing feebleness, the accompaniments of his advanced age.

Mr. McKenzie was born at Almonte in Renfrew county. His first experience in the new and promising electrical industry was obtained with the Royal Electric Comany of Montreal.

Started In 1904

In 1904 Mr. McKenzie began his employment at the Peterborough works of CGE Co. He was the first inspector in the local plant, and its development as an essential department was largely under his direction. He was head of that division of the works from 1904 to his retirement in 1937. Counting his years of superannuation, Mr. McKenzie was with the company 47 years, and in his own sphere of responsibility had contributed a loyal employee's interest and ability to its great expansion in his lifetime.

Andrew McKenzie was one of the outstanding Christian laymen of Peterborough in the half century he lived here. He was active in the planning and organization of Knox Church and was one of those whose personal pledges ensured the building and establishment. For 25 years he was associated with the ASK Sunday School Class, endowing it with an ardent leadership that is still reflected in the lives of the young men of that class who, since their youth, under his inspiration and deep interest have graduated into manhood and its responsibilities.

A Notable Tribute

Many of the members of that old class of Knox Church arranged last October a reunion in honor of Mr. McKenzie, and to convey to him their appreciation of his Christian influence and fatherly direction during years of their youth. It was a notable tribute of affection and a reward of gratitude which few men receive.

Those who assembled on that occasion at the Kawartha Club were: Howard Hall, John R. Sinclair, John R. Heron of Montreal, Gordon Morrison, James Richmond, James Turnbull, Ian F. McRae, Arthur Pitchford, Tom Smith, G. K. Kenyon of Toronto, John Morrison, Don Gillespie, A. K. Whyte, Harvey Henry of Ottawa, Arthur McLeish of Hamilton, Stan Whitfield, William Brooks, John Donaldson, Herb McCannan and Rev. Wm. McDonald.

In acknowledging the honor his former boys were paying to him, Mr. McKenzie said: "For many years you have been scattered, but I am sure that the Christian teaching and the integrity instilled during those years will be passed on to those you meet along the way.

"I felt greatly blessed by our fellowship, and, while I hope that in some small measure I instilled in your lives a love of God and your fellow man:

'I do not ask that you should sound my praise,
Nor headlines spread my name abroad,
I only pray that as I voiced a message
Your hearts found God'."

Modest, Retiring Man

Such was Andrew McKenzie, a modest, retiring man, a churchman who will be long remembered by those who knew him, and especially in the annals of Knox Church.

He was always prominent in the church work and in support of its successive ministers. He was an elder, member of the board of management, and important to the church as were those activities. It was his Sunday School class that remains his finest work as a churchman.

Mr. McKenzie is survived by his son, Robert Ian McKenzie, his grandson, William of the RCAF; granddaughters Helen and Jean; his grandson Maurice McKenzie and two great grandchildren living in Toronto. His wife, who was Nettie Turner, died in March, 1942, and one son, Roy, in July, 1916.

The body is resting at his late residence, 544 Bolivar St., until noon Saturday, and will then be taken to Knox Church for the funeral service at 2 p.m., conducted by Rev. H. G. Douglas, assisted by Rev. Wm. McDonald. Interment will be at Little Lake cemetery.

Refuses To Accept Directed Verdict In Motor Death

Legal precedent was shattered in Peterborough Wednesday when a juryman refused at first to accept a "directed verdict" of "not guilty," after being told to do so by a Supreme Court justice. The dissenter was Roy Pitchford, 189 Hunter St. east, a local photographer. He said his conscience wouldn't allow him to accept a decision made by Mr. Justice R. T. Ferguson, presiding at the Peterborough assizes. Mr. Justice Ferguson heard evidence for the Crown against Mrs. Amelia Edwards, RR 2, Warsaw, indicted on charges of motor manslaughter and dangerous driving. The charges arose out of the death last October 14 of five-year-old Garry Faiers, struck down in front of his home on Lansdowne St.

After hearing the case Justice Ferguson dismissed the jury and then said to Crown Attorney John Bradshaw:

"What possible evidence of negligence have we in this case before I allow it to go to the jury?"

Mr. Bradshaw said that the evidence of 215 feet of skid marks and tire treads—zigzagging from the south side of the road onto the north shoulder and then back to the south shoulder on Lansdowne St., east of Western Ave.—was an indication of speeding and negligence on the part of the driver.

Failed To Show Negligence

Justice Ferguson said that even if the evidence of the two defence witnesses—Mrs. Amelia Edwards and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Norma Edwards—was entirely disregarded, the crown had still failed to show criminal negligence.

He then recalled the jury and informed them that nobody had entered the witness box to explain the significance of the skid marks. Skid marks in themselves don't indicate either speed or negligence.

"I have to tell you, gentlemen of the jury, that there is no evidence of criminal negligence. . . . I must direct you to bring in a verdict of 'not guilty'."

Whisper of Jurors

Justice Ferguson then asked the jury to confirm this decision, usually considered a formality. The foreman, John O'Neill of Brock St., after a whispered consultation with his fellow jurors, asked if they could retire to discuss the verdict.

The justice again told them that their duty was to find according to facts; he was responsible for advising them on the law.

After five minutes the jury returned and a much-troubled foreman announced that they couldn't agree. A show of hands revealed that four jurymen were not in favor of the justice's "directed verdict."

"The fellows feel a lesser charge should have been laid," said Foreman O'Neill.

"No lesser charge has been laid," said Justice Ferguson, tapping the indictment for motor manslaughter and dangerous driving. "It's our duty to do what is the law."

Again there was a whispered conference among the jurors. A hand vote was taken with only Pitchford holding out.

Solicitors used to boring court sessions, were all eyes and ears by this time. This was a precedent not only for Peterborough but perhaps the whole province.

"This is not open to debate," said Justice Ferguson with a slight gesture of impatience. "I can't make it any plainer. As a matter of law there is no evidence for a conviction and you should bring in a verdict."

"Can any member of the jury express himself?" asked the foreman.

The Justice thought this request over for a moment and then gave his consent.

Juror Addresses Court

The courtroom was agog as Juror Pitchford rose to his feet and addressed His Lordship with complete equanimity. Most of the spectators felt it was the oration of the day.

He began by conceding that it was unusual for a juror to dissent from the directive of a Supreme Court justice. But he didn't flinch from what he regarded as his rights as a juror: to pass judgment on the guilt or innocence of the accused.

He took his text for this verbal stand from the directive to the jurors, given immediately after they were sworn ". . . For her trial she (i.e., the accused) has put herself upon her country which you (i.e., the jury) are . . . Your charge therefore is to consider whether she be guilty of the indictable offence charged or not guilty, and hearken to the evidence."

"I have the highest regard for your knowledge," continued Pitchford. "I am a man who drives a car, I enjoy the occasional drink, and I have three children."

"These are the facts that prevent my conscience from being persuaded. My experience of law is not to be considered against yours; so having expressed myself that way I automatically change my views and agree with the 11 remaining jurymen."

Before adjourning the court to Thursday morning, Justice Ferguson repeated his directive: "The jury's job is to find on the facts, not on the law . . . I am glad to have no further trouble as the jury finds the accused not guilty on both counts."

Juror's Reasons

After court, Pitchford said he only gave way because he felt "legally compelled" to do so.

"We were sworn in as the jury to bring in the verdict, but as a matter of fact, we were told what to do. I didn't want to be charged with contempt of court by speaking out. That's why I asked permission through the foreman."

"If you were sure that you didn't have to agree with the justice on a 'directed verdict,' would you have refused to vote 'not guilty,'" asked the Examiner.

"Absolutely," was Pitchford's reply.

He expressed dissatisfaction with the preparation of the case by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw and the way local police had measured tire tracks at the scene of the accident.

"That's what we taxpayers are spending our money on," said Pitchford as he jammed on his hat and left the courthouse building.

F. D. Kerr, K.C., who has been practicing law in Peterborough for 40 years, said he had never heard of such a case arising here before. Beyond that he would not comment.

Other local solicitors, wishing to remain anonymous, said they were not certain about the Justice's rights after a "directed verdict." They were not sure whether a juror has the right to bring in a dissenting verdict, regardless of the direction.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw announced "no comment." And he would not say if he intended to launch an appeal.

Jury Divided Twice On Verdict

First Voted 8 to 4 For Acquittal; Agreed On Third Try

Following is a list of the petit jury that were told to bring in a "directed verdict" of "not guilty" Wednesday afternoon at the motor manslaughter and dangerous driving trial of Mrs. Amelia Edwards, R.R. 2, Warsaw.

At first four of them would not agree to the acquittal of Mrs. Edwards, even though Justice R. T. Ferguson informed them that there was no evidence of criminal negligence in the Crown's case. And he said they must take their law from him.

Roy Pitchford held out longest and finally consented to the acquittal though it was against his conscience.

Jurors were:

Bert Austin, William St., jeweller; Isadore Black, Charlotte St., merchant; Erie Pearson, Smith, farmer; John M. Telford, Bolivar St., teacher; Charles Whittington, North Monaghan, farmer; John O'Neill, Brock St., accountant; Edmond J. Purvis, Dalhousie St., mechanic; Vernon O'Dette, Sophia St., boat builder; J. Raymond Nellist, Clonsilla Ave., gentleman; Roy B. Pitchford, Hunter St., photographer; James R. Turnbull, Monaghan Rd., livestock grader; and Harold Bennett, Otonabee, farmer.

Sparetime Hobby Free Haircut

TORONTO — (CP) — Giving free haircuts to the crippled and bed-ridden is the sparetime hobby of Toronto barbers Joseph Leone, Jr., 32, and Carl Coffey, 26.

They got the idea from Leone's father, who gave his time to cut the hair of blind war veterans in training at the Canadian National Institute for the Blind after the Second World War.

Both veterans themselves, they started their charitable venture six months ago. Since then, they have put in many hours of extra work in the evenings and on weekends.

"It is just our way of contributing something we can do very easily in a feeling of brotherly love and mercy towards needy people of this city who through illness are confined to bed and unable to hire a barber," Leone said in an interview.

They make their rounds in an old-model automobile. The names of their "customers" come from a variety of sources, mostly from welfare workers, doctors and friends who know of their work.

LONG HISTORY

Korea is an ancient kingdom with a history extending to the 12th Century B.C.

KEY TO THE MEDITERRANEAN is strategically-located Cyprus. Arrows show how the island is within bombing range of Red-controlled oil fields in Romania and the Baku region, and can also guard the Middle Eastern oil area and the Suez Canal.

Cyprus, Key to Western Defense Network Communist Influence Strong on Island

By LEON DENNEN

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The heavy Communist inroads among the people of Cyprus take on new importance now that the United States has decided to establish air bases on that strategic Mediterranean island.

With Moscow's creeping "permanent war" shifting closer to the Mediterranean, US intelligence sources view Cyprus as the weakest link in the ring of anti-Communist nations running from Britain to Turkey.

A British colony, Cyprus has a predominantly Greek population of close to 500,000. But from 30 to 40 per cent of these, according to Allied estimates, are either members of the Communist "Akel" (Progressive Workers Party) or closely allied with it.

Bushy-haired and graying Ezekias Papaioannou, the Cominform's powerful commissar of the island, claims at least 55 per cent of the Cypriots would support Soviet Russia in a war with the West.

A Vital Key Point

Only 70 miles from Turkey, Cyprus is a vital key in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's network of defense points stretching from Tripoli in North Africa to Mauritius Island in the Indian Ocean.

US jet planes based on Cyprus will be able to guard the approaches to the Suez Canal and the rich oil area of the Middle East. At the same time, bombers will be within range of Moscow's Eastern empire, especially the oil fields of Romania and Baku.

Irving Brown, European representative of the American Federation of Labor, says about 9,000 workers—75 per cent of Cyprus' organized labor—are members of the Pan-Cypriot Federation of Labor controlled by the Cominform's World Federation of Trade Unions.

In addition, more than 4,000 organized and well-armed secret commandos are ready, at a sign from the Cominform, to commit anti-US acts of sabotage and violence.

Union With Greece

There has been constant friction between British administrators of Cyprus and most of the Greek population which seeks union ("enosis") with Greece proper. This has also played into the hands of the Cominform. The Colonial government's passive attitude is largely blamed for the rapid spread of Communism.

Only anti-Communist force in Cyprus at present is the Greek Orthodox Church which, however, staunchly supports "enosis" And it is against the Church that the entire fury of the Cominform is now directed.

Particularly violent are the attacks of the clandestine Communist radio "Free Greece," said to be located in Albania.

Meanwhile, Moscow edged closer to the Suez Canal and gained another bloodless victory in the Near East when the Cominform succeeded in organizing a "Committee of Peace Partisans" in Egypt.

Members of this Committee, as reported in the influential newspaper Al-Misri on Jan. 12, include Mahmad Sidqui Pasha, former Egyptian Minister of Communications; Muhammad Kamil al-Bindary Pasha, former Ambassador to the USSR, and Faiz Bey Nabarawy, a representative of the Arab women's movement.

More than 15,000 Egyptians are said to have signed the Soviet-sponsored "Stockholm Appeal" for outlawing the atom bomb.

Expert observers of Soviet affairs see the "peace committee" as additional proof that Moscow is preparing to launch a series of "limited wars" in the eastern Mediterranean.

Port Arthur Company Given Ship Contract

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 22 (CP) —Trade Minister C. D. Howe announced by telegram Wednesday that Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company Limited has a contract to build a sister ship to the SS Hechelaga and SS Coverdale, largest Canadian freighters on the Great Lakes.

G. F. McDougall, general manager of the Port Arthur shipyards, said Wednesday the plant would "very shortly" require about 300 additional workmen. About 650 are employed at the yard now.

Recommend Diploma Given For Horticulture

REGINA, Feb. 22 (CP). — A recommendation a Canadian diploma in horticulture be instituted by the Agricultural Institute of Canada was passed here Wednesday by the Western Canadian Society of Horticulture.

The award could be known as the Canadian Diploma in Horticulture, the resolution said, and would be similar to one now awarded by the Royal Horticultural Society in the United Kingdom. It would be intended only for professional horticulturists.

Fire On Tanker

SARNIA, Feb. 22 (CP).—Considerable damage to paint and rope supplies and planking was caused Wednesday night by flames which broke out in the forward dry hold of the Imperial oil tanker, Imperial Collingwood as she lay at the Imperial Oil winter dock with five of her sister ships. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Norwegian Ship Sinks

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, Feb. 22 (AP)—The Norwegian cargo ship Florentine sank Tuesday night in a storm about 150 miles southwest of Iwo Jima, the United States Navy said Wednesday. The British steamer Silvermaple picked up the master and 10 crew members of the 4,986-ton vessel. Information from the air-sea search and rescue headquarters at Guam said 11 men still are believed in one lifeboat adrift at sea.

No Indication of War

ISTANBUL, Feb. 22 (AP) — George McGhee, assistant United States Secretary of State, told a press conference Wednesday that there is no present indication of war. However, he said, the week-long regional American diplomatic conference here which closed Wednesday had devoted much of its time to security matters affecting the near and middle east in case of Communist aggression.

Delaying Repairs

BERLIN, Feb. 22 (AP) — East German officials announced Wednesday repairs to the Soviet zone Magdeburg-Rothensee Canal, a vital coal traffic artery for West Berlin, will not be completed until April. The announcement posed the threat of a serious spring coal shortage for West Berlin. The canal links the city to the big coal production centres in the Ruhr.

650 Miners Idle

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 22 (CP)— All 650 miners in the Lethbridge field were idle Wednesday as the area's three coal mines stopped operations. A lack of orders was believed the reason.

Lindsay Tenor Festival Winner

TORONTO, Feb. 22— (CP) — Pianists and singers from seven Ontario communities outside Toronto are among the top performers at the eighth annual Kiwanis Music Festival here Wednesday.

Marion Ross of St. Catharines was first in the Bach piano solo competition for senior amateurs.

A. Dick Taylor, also of St. Catharines, was third in the piano solo sonatina for children under 14 and second in the piano solo competition for the same age group.

Joyce Peterson of Hamilton, was second in the vocal solo for girls under 16.

There was a tie for first place in the piano duet competition for musicians under 18. Canby Laidlaw and Ainslie Edie of Cobourg, tied with Joyce Greenly and Robert McLoughlin of Woodstock. Third in this competition were Louise Clarke and Doris Steckley of Stouffville.

Carole Ann Hedd of Port Colborne, won the piano solo competition for children under 12.

William Perry of Lindsay, won the tenor solo, operatic division.

Phyllis Mailing of Hamilton, won the oratorio solo for contraltos.

Accidental Death

WALKERTON, Ont., Feb. 22— (CP).—A verdict of accidental death was handed down at an inquest at nearby Elmwood into the death of Harold Fritsch, RR 5, Chesley. Fritsch died almost instantly when a truck he was driving collided with another truck driven by Wilfred Jilling, Ingersoll, Jan. 29, two miles north of Elmwood.

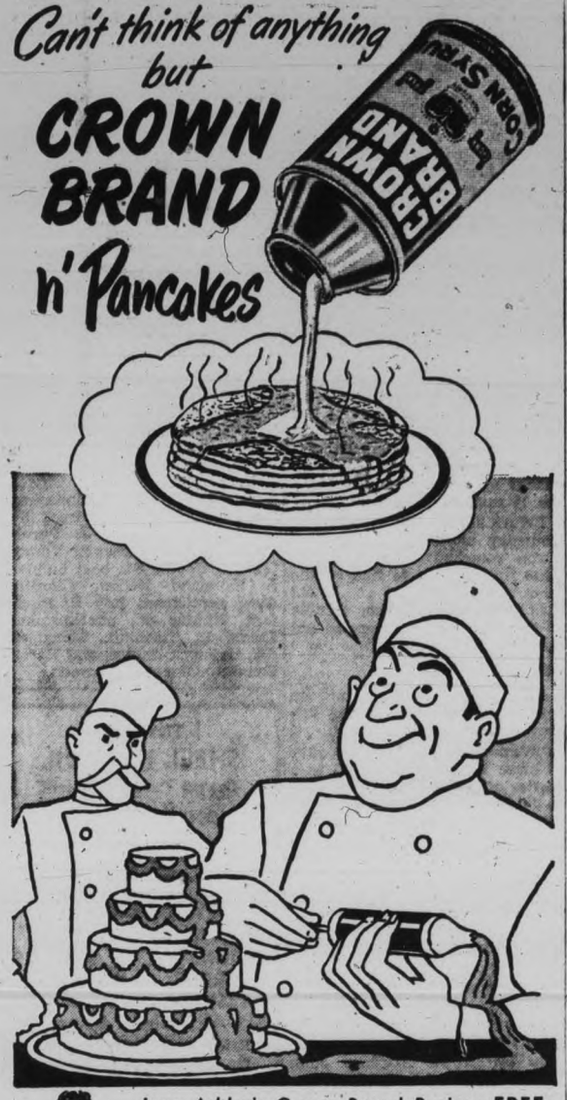
2 Officers Killed

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 22 (CP) — Two Canadian Navy officers were killed Wednesday in a chartered light plane they had hired to look at their ship, the cruiser Ontario. The aircraft plunged into deep waters near the entrance to Nanaimo harbor. A spokesman, identified the dead men as Lieutenants Ian MacDonald and Marcel Champagne.

Convict Three Young Girls In Morals Case

KITCHENER, Feb. 22 (CP). — Three teen-aged girls, a 15-year-old boy, a woman and a man were convicted Wednesday, and three acquittals were made in this district's most sensational morals case in years. Three more girls and their parents will be tried today.

The three girls, aged 12, 13 and 14 years, admitted having sexual relations with boys. The accused boy denied the charge. All four juveniles will be sent to training schools.



The mother of one of the girls was found guilty of neglect and remanded six months for sentence. The man, who had been keeping company with her, was fined $100 or a month in jail on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Three parents were acquitted after testifying they had no knowledge of their daughters' improper conduct.

EXCLUSIVELY CANADIAN . . .

Nature has endowed the Canada Goose with keen vision, sharp hearing, and a speed of flight often reaching sixty miles an hour. Each spring and fall, large V-formations of these graceful water-fowl are seen in migratory flight, their weird "honking" call a familiar sound on the Canadian air.

Seagram TELLS THE WORLD ABOUT Canada

THIS advertisement was designed by The House of Seagram to tell the people of other lands about Canada and things exclusively Canadian.

Many people in Latin America, Asia, Europe and other parts of the world are not fully aware of the richness of Canada's natural resources, wild life, scenic beauty and cultural traditions. The more the peoples of other lands know about our country, the greater will be their interest in Canada and Canadian products.

The House of Seagram feels that the horizon of industry does not terminate at the boundary of its plants; it has a broader horizon, a farther view—a view dedicated to the development of Canada's stature in every land of the globe.

SMILING THROUGH—Despite the pain and discomfort of slings and pulleys that are stretching her spine into straighter position, Sharlene Murray, 7, of Salt Lake City, Utah, smiles bravely. Sharlene faces at least six months of difficult treatment, including plaster casts and a delicate operation before surgeons at Primary Children's Hospital will have straightened her crooked spine.

Ship's Cooks Aid Meat Buyers

LONDON (CP)—Meat-starved Britons returning from continental trips have been forming long queues outsides the galleys on the cross-channel steamships. They have been taking advantage of a new service provided by the shipping companies.

Before embarking the travellers have been buying large joints of meat, legs of lamb, enticing cuts of sirloin of beef—all easily obtainable in France.

Government restrictions, however, forbid the importation of raw meat to prevent disease being brought into the country. The steamship chefs have come to the rescue. They offered to roast or part-cook all joints brought aboard, without any charge.

Said a spokesman for the shipping companies: "This service started on its own. Passengers arriving with raw meat without knowing the restrictions looked so harassed that the chefs took pity on them."

Billing Remains Big Thing In Film Contract

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 22 (AP)—In the old days, an actor used to ask two questions about a new job:

1. "How much does it pay?"
2. "What's the billing?"

Billing—how the actors' names appear on the bill and in the ads—still is as important in Hollywood today.

Nearly every film performer of any importance has billing procedure written into his contract. And when he is not billed properly, an actor can raise a fuss.

One of the most noted cases concerns James Cagney. In the mid-'30s, he wanted to get out of his contract at Warner Brothers. They didn't want to let him go, since he was one of their biggest stars.

One night, Cagney was driving past a Warner theatre. A new bill was going up and another star's name was placed above Cagney's. He hurriedly got a photographer, who took a picture of the billing before it could be altered. Cagney sued and broke his contract—because it said he must receive top billing.

Most Recent Case

A more recent case concerned Maria Montez. Against her will, she performed what was called "a glorified bit part" in "The Exile" with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. When the ads came out, Fairbanks was billed above her. Her contract called for top billing. She sued and won $25,000 and her freedom.

Studios are sometimes faced with a dilemma when both stars in a film demand top billing. That was the situation in "Life with Father" with Irene Dunne and William Powell. The problem was solved by having half of the films and ads printed up with Miss Dunne's name on top and the other half with Powell's name foremost.

Nearly all featured players have phrases in their contracts as "must receive first billing under the picture title" or "name must appear in type 75 per cent the size of the stars' names."

ST. GILE'S SNAPS BACK—Scaffolding surrounds the tower of St. Gile's Cripplegate, as repair work is done on the historic English church damaged by bombs in 1940. Founded in 1090, the church is the burial place of the poet John Milton. At left foreground is the remains of a "crepel," or gate in the old London wall from which St. Giles gets the name of Cripplegate.

Historic Papers Owned By Farmer

MOOSE JAW, Sask. —(CP)—Documents dating back to 1826 when slaves were common in the southern United States are a prized possession of Jack Nice, farmer of the nearby Woodrow district.

One paper lists the year's expenses for Charles E. Sneed at a general store in Alabama at a whopping $48.97. Buttons were 25 cents a dozen, suspenders 50 cents and wool blankets $2.25 to $4 each.

Another document is a receipt for $500 paid "for a female slave named Delphy, 30 years old, and her child, Anderson, five years old, which I warrant to be sound in body and mind and free from all other claims."

A third is a relic of the American Civil War, which enabled a Mrs. Ann Haynes and servants to be out of the lines of the second brigade, third division, of the Confederate Army for three days.

Winds Cause Delay

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Feb. 22 (CP)—The pilot who Wednesday broke the Atlantic crossing speed record told Premier Joseph Smallwood he would have "cut another hour or so" from the record if it hadn't been for the headwinds.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 35¢ at any druggists.

Roseneath YPU Starts Rehearsals

The president, Neil Adams, presided, with Miss Myrna Adams, secretary.

Practice has begun for a play to be presented by YPU members in the spring under the direction of Mrs. Earl Waldie.

Mrs. Louis King was pianist for community singing during the program period. Miss Doris Robins was in charge of recreation.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

"On Location" in the English Channel during the filming of Warner Bros.' "Captain Horatio Hornblower" . . . Virginia Mayo was thankful for Jergens Lotion. She says her hands were red and raw from the sea air, the stinging spray and the ropes on the bosun's chair. But soothing JERGENS LOTION on her hands and face softened and smoothed her lovely complexion for romantic close-ups. Yes, being liquid, Jergens quickly supplies the softening, soothing moisture dry, thirsty skin needs. And Jergens contains quickly absorbed ingredients—no heavy oils to coat the skin! So take a tip from lovely Virginia Mayo, starring in "Captain Horatio Hornblower". Make a regular hand-beauty habit of soothing Jergens Lotion 15c, 33c, 57c and $1.00

Big Appetites At Breakfast? Well, here's a wonderful way to satisfy them! . . . Put QUAKER MUFFETS on the table and let the family help themselves. Not only are these crispy toasted golden brown biscuits good to eat, but they're good for you, too! In Quaker Muffets you get 100% Whole Wheat—yes, the bran and valuable wheat germ are there with the body-building protein, minerals and energy-giving qualities of the whole grain. For a breakfast that's really different, try them with fruit and milk or cream . . . and your family will be back for more! Right at this moment I'm adding Quaker Muffets to my shopping list — how about you?

Let's Confess It — with today's high living costs—we all need a little help with our money problems! Well—I've lately come across a way to run the family finances that has helped me more than just a little. I haven't been a Personal Planner for long, but the BANK OF MONTREAL Personal Planning system has already begun to pay dividends in peace of mind. It's showing me how to run my money, instead of my money running me. And that's so important to happy living! I'd like you to try Personal Planning . . . it's such a down-to-earth, practical system of money management and it's flexible, too. With a bit of careful planning, you can tailor it to suit your needs and income, so that you'll come out on top. To find out all about it, just ask for the booklet called "PERSONAL PLANNING" at your neighbourhood branch of the B of M.

Clever You! You'll be "best-dressed" in the Easter Parade when you make your Easter Suit yourself and add the smart, modish finishing touch of LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENER. Yes, Lightning Fasteners are tops for that slim, trim look—the best zippers you can buy. They offer you all the fashion-wise colours, lengths and sizes. And they give you more than that, for Lightning is the only zipper with an automatic lock! All Lightning Fasteners lock where they stop! Ask for Lightning Style No. 702—specially designed for dress plackets, necklines and sleeves. And such lovely, fashion-wise colours to choose from—twenty-two of them! Definitely, Lightning's the zipper for me! It's the "finishing touch" that makes all my clothes look right!

Burning Up! Research shows that a normal healthy child burns up almost twice as much energy per pound of weight as a hard-working man! That's why so many modern mothers make a special point of giving their youngsters that delicious, extra-energy food-drink . . . HORLICKS! It practically doubles the energy value of milk—makes milk easier to digest, too. Horlicks is a balanced food made from full cream milk, plus nutrients of wheat and malted barley. Your whole family will love it! Ask for Horlicks at your drug or food store tomorrow—serve it regularly! Write today for your attractive Chinaware cup and saucer! Just send me 3 labels from a 1 lb. bottle of Horlicks and 10c, or one label from a 3 lb. bottle and 10c, together with your name and address.

Such A "Treasure Trove" of good things to eat that are also easy and quick to prepare! No woman need fret about the "chore" of cooking any more . . . particularly with the Heinz Chef to help her in her kitchen! It's so simple to prepare wonderfully tasty meals in a matter of minutes if you're just a little beforehand in your buying! Stock up on HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS . . . four kinds . . . HEINZ COOKED SPAGHETTI . . . two kinds . . . HEINZ COOKED MACARONI . . . two kinds. These delicious main-dishes leave you without a cooking worry in the world . . . and you can be sure, too, of your family's enthusiasm! Easy on your budget, too! So ask for Heinz Oven-Baked Beans and Heinz Cooked Spaghetti and Heinz Cooked Macaroni next time you're shopping. You know they're good because they're Heinz!

There's Nothing Like A Sleigh-Ride for working up hearty appetites—that's why BOVRIL is such a grand "sleigh-ride companion"! Keep it piping-hot in a thermos bottle—then when appetites are shouting to be fed, treat them to "man-sized" sandwiches and the wonderful, beefy goodness of Bovril! There's nothing like it—except the flavour of good roast beef itself! No wonder Bovril's such a family "favourite"—not only as a hot drink (at any time of day!) . . . but in cooking, too. M-mmm! Just wait 'til you taste its savoury, zestful flavour in soups, stews and casserole dishes! And Bovril's such sound economy! You see, Bovril's a grand way to get more meat flavour without paying the sky-high prices of meat! Bovril comes in three handy forms—Cordial, Concentrate and Cubes. Ask for it at your grocer's next time you're shopping.

Luscious, Juicy Lemons add zest and sparkle to the flavour of any Lenten fish dish . . . particularly when they're SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS—they're the finest, juiciest grown.

SALMON AND CHEESE RING LOAF

3 Sunkist lemons (quartered)
2 cups (1 lb.) Canned Salmon
1 cup grated Canadian Cheese
1 cup cracker crumbs
1 egg, beaten
2 tbspns. melted butter
1 tbspn. Sunkist lemon juice
½ tspn. salt
½ tspn. celery salt
Dash of pepper
2/3 cup milk

Drain and flake Salmon, reserving 1/3 cup for decoration. Combine Salmon with other ingredients. Shape by hand into oval ring on oiled shallow baking dish. Top with reserved Salmon flakes, dot with butter, bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 30 minutes or until golden brown. Fill center with hot parsley—buttered potatoes and garnish with Sunkist lemon quarters. Serve with medium-thick white sauce. Serves 6.

SALMON BASKETS

Make baskets by placing 2 slices of bread, crusts removed, into buttered custard cup. Bake at 372 deg. F. 5-10 minutes. Flake 1 lb. Salmon and fill hot baskets. Make sauce by melting ¼ cup butter with 2 egg yolks in double boiler, stirring constantly. Water in bottom of double boiler should not be boiling. As mixture thickens, add another ¼ cup butter. When thick, remove from heat, add seasonings. Pour sauce over Salmon Baskets.

Choose A "Love-Of-A-Dress"—a gay scarf—a bewitching parasol—and admit you're choosing them with a man in mind! Don't we all? Took A Lot Of Sugar To Build House

CLEVELAND —(NEA)— For a whole week, children flocked to Main Library in Cleveland to look at the little cottage made of candy.

They licked their lips and they looked wistfully at the lollipops sticking out of the chimney and the peppermint shingles on the roof.

But you never saw such self-control. Or, maybe they remembered what happened to Hansel and Gretel who nibbled at the gingerbread house.

Anyway, after a week just one little piece of candy was missing from the candy cottage. Just one little gumdrop. It had been hanging from a branch of the gumdrop tree at the corner of the cottage, and the temptation was took much for some little visitor.

Not that the others weren't tempted, too. The chocolate bar doors were tried, the pretzel stick windows were fondled, and the lollipops in the chimney were fingered.

Around the edges of the lawn, the coconut grass (dyed green) crumbled away a bit, and little fingers picked up the crumbs, but that was just being neat.

A lot of the youngsters sat there and read Hansel and Gretel, which is what the candy cottage was all about, and tried very hard not to think about the candy on the table.

Mrs. Anne Krcek, who made the candy house, was very pleased with her audience. She's going to make another candy display for the children, this one about "Snow White."

And she's sure none of the seven dwarfs will disappear.

Colorful Names In UK Commons

LONDON. — (Reuters)—Members of the House of Commons have found time to bring up-to-date their list of nicknames.

Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the council and Deputy Prime Minister, has been chief supporter of the Festival of Britain. Instead of calling him "The Lord President" in a debate last year, a member inadverently referred to "The Lord Festival". The name has stuck.

Women members of the House, especially vulnerable to comments on their appearance, all have nicknames, some disrespectful. For instance:

Mrs. Elizabeth (Bessie) Braddok, heavyweight Socialist member for the tough Exchange division of Liverpool, is "Tugboat Annie."

When Lord Alexander of Hillsborough was First Lord of the Admiralty he was known to the Opposition as "The Dummy Dreadnought."

Winston Churchill has always been "Winnie"—although there is no recorded case of any member using this name to the great man himself.

RABIES CAMPAIGN

Tsetse Fly's Days Numbered

JOHANNESBURG — (CP) — South African scientists have almost won the "war" against the tsetse fly, and within the next year they hope to end the plague for ever in Zululand, the only part of South Africa afflicted by the insect.

Benzine - hexachloride, also called 666, is the insecticide with which this scourge of the tropical cattle rancher has at last been conquered.

This solution was first used by scientists in 1945 when the dense bush, which forms the main breeding places, was sprayed from aircraft supplied by the South African Air Force.

By July, 1948, most of the breeding places had been destroyed, and a responsible senior officer of the Onderstepoort laboratories said recently that the fly should be completely extinguished in Zululand before the end of 1951. "The area will never be afflicted again," he said.

1857 Survey Of West Goes To University

WINNIPEG (CP)—A copy of the Palliser report—the record of an early scientific expedition to Western Canada in 1857 — has been bought for the University of Manitoba through an alumni research fund grant.

Capt. John Palliser in 1857 was sent by the British government with a party of scientists to determine whether the west could be settled and a railway built to the Pacific.

The report contains the first survey of passes through the Canadian Rockies.

SERVING CANADIANS SINCE 1919

THE TOUCHY BALKAN SITUATION is thrown into sharp relief by Marshal Tito's warning that any attack by Russia or her satellites on Yugoslavia might touch off World War III, and by current discussions between U.S., British, Commonwealth, and French representatives of what joint action might be taken to forestall any such attack. The Newsmap above tells the story of what might happen if Moscow should order her satellites to attack Tito this spring. Success of such a "local war"—cut from the Korean pattern — would strengthen Russia's Baltic flank, weaken North Atlantic defense blueprints and impair the Wests position in the Near East without loss of a Soviet soldier.

Dismiss Charge Against Driver

BRANTFORD, Feb. 22—(CP)—One of three Public Utilities Commission bus drivers charged with theft of company funds, had the charge dismissed Wednesday, while two other drivers were remanded to March 8.

Edward Weller, PUC employee for 32 years, was freed after Magistrate R. J. Gillen observed bus drivers were busy people and said "I don't like the picture of the whole thing."

Weller was charged with stealing $2.05.

Aid For Formosa

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP) — Increased American aid for Formosa was reported under consideration Wednesday to keep Chiang Kai-shek's exiled Chinese Nationalist regime from threatened bankruptcy. Under consideration to bridge the deficit is an increase in Marshall Plan aid to Formosa and greater military aid, possibly in the form of food for troops, officials indicated.

FALLEN—The body of an American soldier lies in the foreground where he was killed during an attack on this ridge which his buddies now occupy. The spot overlooks enemy positions on the Central Korean front.

Ontario Adds 9,000 Beds

TORONTO (CP). — By the middle of 1952, Ontario will have increased its net hospital accommodations by 9,000 beds since the end of the Second World War.

That will leave the province with 5.67 beds for every 1,000 residents—well below the generally-accepted standard of seven to 1,000, but a considerable improvement over the cramped conditions of a few years ago.

Nearly $100,000,000 is earmarked for the expansion program, which began in 1947. A large portion has come from Ontario government grants, matched by equal grants from the federal government.

The full program provides for construction of 29 new hospitals and major additions to 71 others. Most of these projects have been completed and are in operation.

Despite the building program, Ontario still has hospital problems. Provincial health department spokesmen admit that the increase isn't keeping pace with physical expansion.

"Our hospitals haven't enough staff to look after present requirements," a department official said recently. "Unless steps are taken to overcome the shortage, the hospitals are going to be a lot worse off by the time the expansion program ends."

Rising costs are another headache. Provincial maintenance grants to hospitals have increased from $1,045,000 in 1945 to $6,000,000 in 1950, but every public hospital in Ontario's larger urban centres is operating at a deficit.

Health Department officials say it would take another $1,50,000 annually to bring the hospitals out of the red under existing conditions. And, with a 10 per cent increase of costs from 1949 to 1950 and a similar increase expected this year, that figure may have to be revised upward if the current trend continues.

The expansion program itself was badly needed. Apart from the marked increase in population over the last few years, the growth of hospital insurance schemes and increased amount of spending money available to many Ontario residents has put hospitals within the reach of many who had previously been able to afford them.

Health Department officials also note an increased tendency on the part of physicians to put sick persons in hospital rather than to treat them in their homes.

Trapping Becomes Established In Rainy River Area

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—The average fur trapper in Rainy River district probably makes about $1,200 during the six-month season from Nov. 1 to April 30.

But a good one can make $2,500. And this season, with conditions better than average, some may do better.

Working under strict regulations and supervised by game wardens, the trappers in this Northwestern Ontario region have been established much as farmers have.

They are interested in maintaining production. They are responsible for conservation, for keeping poachers off the traplines and for protecting the beaver.

Quite A Change

This is different from the old days when a roving trapper might cover hundreds of miles, cross the lines of neighbors and play the game of "catch as catch can."

Among the best fur trappers in the district are many of the 62 Treaty Indians who operate traplines.

It is a lonely, hard life. Snowshoeing many miles every day between the line camps on his grounds, the trapper usually works alone, since profits are too limited to be divided with a partner.

He does not even have dogs for company. Dog teams in most cases have proved more troublesome than helpful. A man must travel light and depend upon reaching his next line shack for provisions.

Reliable Snowshoes

Some use skis in making speed down frozen lakes. Two trappers from Sapawe, Ont., 100 miles east of Fort Frances, the Maki brothers, use a power toboggan. But the plodding snowshoe is still the trappers' most reliable mode of travel.

With wolf bounties set at $25, the trapper carries his rifle or lighter firearm. But many wolves are taken in snares. A total of 162 timber and brush wolves were turned into the Fort Frances provincial government office for bounty payment in the last nine months of 1950.

Beaver, however, remain the most profitable source of revenue. Last year, district trappers caught 1,765 for a total income of about $35,000. The price this year averages $20 a blanket, and the beaver is reported increasing.

The 983 mink caught last season brought in another $25,000 and a relatively light muskrat catch yield $10,000.

Get 31 Otter

Only 31 otter were trapped last winter. But with one fur bringing $20, this animal is not overlooked in the fur harvest. Fox skins are still a glut on the market, a good one perhaps bringing $1.50. The tiny weasel this season is priced at about $1.25.

The trappers' income may differ widely in comparison to his total catch, since the fur buyer pays less for damaged or inferior pelts. Many Indian trappers call on their wives to stretch and dry fur pelts for the best prices. A few traplines keep an entire family busy all winter.

The fur trapper contributes information on his area to the Ontario government. For instance, trappers are required to draw maps of their grounds, marking in live beaver houses, the number of which, determine how many beaver pelts may be taken each season. They also report on big game in the district.

Heaviest Fire Loss

HALIFAX, Feb. 22 (CP)—Fire which destroyed the nearby Mount Saint Vincent College three weeks ago caused the heaviest loss in Nova Scotia in 32 years, Fire Marshall S. S. Wright said Wednesday. He estimated the loss of the building alone at $1,500,000 and said the contents would amount to about $2,000,000 more. Cause of the blaze has not been definitely determined.

Royal Trumpeter Recalls Career AmusedByMovie

WINNIPEG —(CP)— Charles Honey, 73, once Queen Victoria's trumpeter, now is a doorman at a downtown Winnipeg hotel.

During his tenure as Her Majesty's personal trumpeter, he stood directly behind the throne. Mr. Honey says he knows from the inside the legend of the urchin who sat on the Queen's throne. The story of the youngster and the Queen is portrayed in a movie, "The Mudlark," which received a Royal command performance in London recently.

Mr. Honey, born in London, son of the music master of the Duke and Duchess of Fife, joined the band of the First Life Guards in 1894. Shortly after he was blowing fanfares on state occasions.

His silver trumpet and banner, embroidered with the Royal coat-of-arms, cost about $400. His coat, he says, cost about the same.

Queen Victoria "always spoke in a loud voice," he said. "I think she was a bit deaf, and she had rather a sharp voice."

Besides attending the Queen at state functions, at one time or another he also escorted most of the crowned heads of Europe from Buckingham Palace to Windsor Castle and St. James Palace.

At Turn of Century

He played at the Coronation of Edward VII and at the unveiling of the memorial in St. Paul's Cathedral to soldiers who fell in the Boer War. Mr. Honey made an early recording of the post horn gallop, but for all his talents could not make much of a living in the Britain of 1913.

So he turned his back on kings and queens and the shining armor of the Life Guards to come to Canada.

In the First World War he served with the Canadian 28th Battalion as a bandsman and later in France as a stretcher-bearer.

On his return to Canada, he played in theatres until vaudeville died out.

He says the "Mudlark" movie carried him back to the pageantry of the late 19th century. Even if the Queen was not particularly amused when an urchin sat on her throne, Mr. Honey said one person was—and that was Charles Honey.

GASLIGHT—A broken main in the Montreal suburb of Westmount provided residents with this fire display for more than five hours. A leak from a collapsed 2-inch main started the fire. Truck at right dumps earth on the blaze in an attempt to choke it.

New CGIT Group Organizing at Grace Church

"Busy girls are happy girls" is a theory that has been proven true.

In the south end of Peterborough, district of Grace United Church, there has been little for young girls to be busy at any they have been showing restlessness.

Mrs. B. A. Sherry, McKellar St., became worried at the attitude of her ten-year-old daughter and decided to do something about it. Having been director of a CGIT group in Belleville, her home town, she decide to try forming a group at the church and immediately received offers of help from others who had some experience.

With the first meeting to be held next Monday, there are already 23 girls registered for CGIT and Explorer groups and officers will be elected at this meeting.

Assisting Mrs. Sherry as a leader will be Mrs. E. McKinstry who is an active member of the Girls' Work Board and five other leaders are Mrs. N. Foster, Mrs. J. Wasik, Mrs. F. Sanders, Mrs. N. Safranksi and Mrs. M. Mitchell.

The WA of the church has made a donation of $25 to enable work to be started. It is hoped the girls will be able to raise $50 by their own efforts by the end of June.

The first objective is a paper and rag drive which they will commence right after the meeting Monday in the hope of catching all the discards from housecleaning in the coming weeks.

The girls are to sell candy at a young girls to be busy at and WA concert in March and may sell their embroidery work at the WA bazaar in April. It is likely they will soon present a concert featuring their own talent, guest artists and films.

It is planned to have sewing and cooking classes for the girls and one project in view is making artificial flowers.

Attendance at church and choir is to be encouraged by giving points and in June the winners will be feted at a banquet.

Indian's English-Born Wife Enjoys Ontario Bush Life

TORONTO.— (CP).— Mrs. Antoine Commanda, an English schoolteacher who came to Canada to marry an Ojibway Indian in Northern Ontario, is helping to spread the lore of the bush among Canadian youth.

In Toronto, recently, she held members of a YMCA boys' group spellbound with her tales of life on a reservation at Nipissing in Ontario's Parry Sound district.

Of the tribal ceremony which took place at her marriage 12 years ago, she said:

"The wild beat of the tom-toms was fluttering my heart as we walked in tribal procession to the little white-painted wooden church of the Ojibways.. After the wedding, the feast lasted three days and three nights and the braves and their wives only stopped the ceremonial dance to gorge themselves with huge chunks of roasted moose meat and other delicacies such as caribou tongue soup and sturgeon's roe.

Mingling of Blood

"Then came the mingling of the blood. My fingers and the fingers of the old chief were pricked and the blood smeared across both. This signified my adoption into the Ojibway tribe and I was given the name 'Antoine Ikway' (Antoine's Woman)."

As a school teacher in Northampton, England, she travelled half way across the British Isles to hear the late Grey Owl, Indian naturalist from Northern Ontario, who was on a lecture tour.

Guide's Pen Pal

"I was interested in learning the Ojibway language and I asked Grey Owl for the name of someone in Canada with whom I could correspond. He gave me the name of his favorite guide, Antoine For a while we were pen pals. When I came to Ontario a year later, I met and married him. Some day I hope to go home for a visit but my heart is here in the wild bush country."

While her husband traps in the winter, she teaches woodcraft in Toronto schools, lectures and writes magazine articles. In the summer she returns to the reserve at Nipissing and she says she likes nothing better than "to paint the glorious sunsets and watch the flickering northern lights."

Under Mrs. Commanda's direction, the boys aged nine to 15 years in the YMCA group meet twice a week to learn authentic dances of various Canadian and United States Indian tribes. They wear theatrical war paint on their bodies and learn tribal ceremonies and chants and even a smattering of the Ojibway tongue Since their organization last November, they have outfitted themselves with complete Indian costumes.

Brings Skins

From Northern Ontario, Mrs. Commanda brought to the class genuine skins of deer, loons, rabbits and snakes.

Mrs. Commanda has one complaint. She believes Canada's 100,000 Indians are unfairly treated.

"Today I am Red Indian No. 214 of No. 14 Reserve, numbered by the Canadian government like a prisoner in a concentration camp," she says. "As a treaty Indian, I cannot buy liquor — not that I want to. But I also have no vote and I feel strongly that all treaty Indians should have one. Otherwise, who represents their interests?"

Charm School Aids Debutantes

LONDON, Feb 22—(Reuters)—A leading London charm school is ensuring that nervous debutantes come through with flying colors and steady feet next month when they make solo curtsies to the King and Queen. It's a week's course and costs $30.

For, the first time since prewar days, the individual curtsey is to be revived at the afternoon presentation parties, bringing back a little of pre-war splendor when debutantes drove to Buckingham Palace.

The girls will learn their curtsey—'one step forward, two steps back and a graceful drop into the curtsey position with the head high and straight on the shoulders," Mrs. Forth, a leading deportment teacher, said.

Home and School Association News

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

Mrs. C. G. Collins, president of Home and School Council in Peterborough was guest speaker at Bridgenorth Association meeting Tuesday evening. The month of February commemorates Founder's Day and Mrs. Collins gave a reading on the beginning of Home and School and the life of founder, Mrs. A. C. Courtice. She also explained the Council and said that "it works as a clearing-house in order to help each association carry on with their work." Mrs. Collins complimented Bridgenorth association on three successful years just completed.

Three years ago this month Bridgenorth organized a Home and School Association and in honor of the third birthday Tuesday evening president, Mrs. E. Blewett lit three large candles on a beautifully decorated birthday cake. The candles burned throughout the meeting to give a fitting setting for the occasion.

In the opening prayer, the Rev. D. P. Morris paid a touching tribute to the family of the late Wally Crookshanks.

The Home and School creed was read by Mrs. L. M. Richardson a past president of the Council and now a resident of Bridgenorth. A short reading on "Why health week" was given by Mrs. C. Hartman.

Mrs. G. Ray, Jr., convener for the field day of last summer presented Mr. B. Patterson, principal, with a silver shield with names of the champions of the past three years inscribed. The winning names of future years will also be inscribed. Mr. Patterson accepted the shield on behalf of the school and said that it would be hung in the new school on opening day. The official date has not yet been set, but is expected to be around Easter.

Mrs. B. Patterson, teacher of Grades 1 and 2 spoke for a few minutes on how she teaches the beginners to read. Many interesting ways were shown to illustrate how this work is accomplished.

Mrs. Pansy Forbes of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club and Mrs. Isabel Crary, swimming instructress of the swimming classes held at Bridgenorth last summer presented bronze medallions for life saving to the winners of the trophies. The intermediate diploma was presented to Alice McKay who was not quite old enough for the bronze. The bronze winners were Sally Hartman and Florence McKay of Bridgenorth and Irene Kelly, Margaret Parnell and Betty Rosborough of Peterborough. Award of merit for the silver life saving was presented to Mrs. E. Blewett. To finish the presentations, Mrs. Forbes presented Mrs. Crary with the instuctor's certificate.

Mrs. Blewett extended sincere thanks to Mrs. Collins for coming to speak at this birthday occasion. Also to Mrs. Forbes and Mrs. Crary for making it possible that the presentations be made.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. M. Hutchinson and committee.

Sure-fire Plan Proposed to Aid British Economy

LONDON—(CP)—Lord Bruce of Melbourne, chairman of the Finance Corporation for Industry, and former Prime Minister of Australia, has offered the British government what he termed "a sure-fire" plan to overcome the nation's economic crisis.

He told members of the National Union of Manufacturers that the Socialists could have his remedy for the asking. But urgent action would be necessary to meet a situation he believed was the most serious in peacetime history.

The answer, Lord Bruce said, was to frame a two-year emergency program involving among other measures drastic reduction in public expenditure, abandonment of further nationalization, increased industrial output and a curb on wage increases.

Once drawn up, the program should be submitted for endorsement at a general election to be called without delay. Coupled with this proposal, Lord Bruce suggested an undertaking should be given by the political parties that at the close of the two-year emergency period there would be another appeal to the country.

One of the major planks in the proposed program calls for reorganization, re-equipment and modernization of industries already nationalized. Priority would be given to coal and transportation. At the same time, plans to bring iron and steel under State control, would be scrapped.

Imported Provisions

Following are some of the other suggested provisions:

1. Taxation reductions to relieve the burden on industry and provide an incentive to the individual.

2. No increase in wages during the two years, unless greater economic production justifies general boosts.

3. Re-examination and extension of hours of work where it is established that increased output could be achieved without detriment to the worker.

4. Prohibition by law of strikes and lockouts.

5. Drastic action to restore discipline in the trade unions and control to their responsible leaders.

6. Reduction in expenditures on the social services and continuance of the understanding for limitation of profit distributions.

Lord Bruce said the program might appear startling. But a point had been reached where Britain's national economy was unable to sustain expansion of the ideals of the welfare state. A halt had to be called.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Desserts Much in Demand, Is it the Cost of Living?

What is going on around here? Has February turned out to be National Dessert Month? Every other letter in my mail requests desserts.

Or has everybody felt the heavy hand of monotony, and, in an effort to wrench themselves free, resolved to make perfectly beeyutiful desserts to give their meals a boost?

I don't know, but I am in the same mood as my correspondents, and since a week or so ago I promised you some gelatine desserts, the first one today is going to be a beauty.

I wish I could show you a color picture of Rainbow Sherbet in Meringue Ring. I will give you a word picture: Imagine a large ring of baked meringue—pale-biscuit color and smoothly scalloped around the top. (You see, you have become a pastry-bag and tube artist in just the last minute.) This ring you fill with two different sherbets—one is pale green pineapple, the other is pale peach apricot. The three soft pastel shades are so pretty your party will be remembered for years—maybe forever. (This is only for a party of course—one for your most important friends too.)

Rainbow Sherbet in Meringue Ring

Meringue Ring: 6 egg whites, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 1½ cups sugar. Beat whites until frothy. Add salt and cream of tartar and beat until stiff. Add sugar gradually and beat until mixture is very stiff and will stand in peaks. With pastry tube, shape meringue into a large circle on a sheet of moist parchment paper. A ring about as wide as an angel food cake pan is ideal—but the wall would only be about 2 inches thick. Place on baking sheet and bake in very slow oven of 250 deg. Fahr. for one hour. When cold fill each half of ring with portion of pineapple sherbet and apricot sherbet (below).

✧ ✧ ✧

Apricot Sherbet: One 28 oz. tin apricot halves, 1 cup evaporated milk (chilled for whipping—see below), ¼ cup icing sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water. Soak the gelatine in the cold water and dissolve it by stirring over hot water. Mash the apricots, reserving a few of the choicest ones for garnish; add the sugar and salt. Whip the chilled evaporated milk which has been chilled in freezing compartment of refrigerator for about 2 hours. (If it is not as cold as this length of time will make it, it will not whip satisfactorily). Fold in the apricot mixture to which has been added the dissolved gelatine. Freeze until firm. This may be taken from freezing tray and whipped until very smooth once during freezing process, if desired.

✧ ✧ ✧

Pineapple Sherbet: One and one-half cups canned pineapple juice, ½ cup sugar, few grains salt, 2 egg whites, ½ cup evaporated milk, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, few drops green vegetable coloring, 1 teaspoon gelatine soaked in 2 tablespoons cold water. Boil together the pineapple juice, sugar and salt for 3 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add gelatine to syrup, stirring, and pour the hot syrup into the beaten whites gradually while beating constantly. Chill thoroughly. Mix milk and lemon juice and fold into chilled mix. Add coloring. Freeze until solid—it takes about 3 hours.

✧ ✧ ✧

Coffee Mousse

This is a dessert for sophisticated palates—and requires something like lemon or orange wafers or pineapple squares to serve with it.

Two cups very strong hot coffee, 1 cup heavy cream, 2 tablespoons plain gelatine, 6 tablespoons cold water, ¾ cup sugar, shake of salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Soften the gelatine in the cold water. Add the hot coffee and stir until gelatine is dissolved, then add the sugar and salt. Stand aside to cool. When nearly firm whip the cream, add flavoring to it. Then whip the gelatine mixture until foamy and fold the whipped cream into it, blending well. Turn into stemmed serving dishes or one large mould. Serve topped with a little whipped cream and a maraschino cherry or sliver of candied ginger.

Orange Cream or Charlotte

One tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, ¼ cup boiling water, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon lemon rind, ½ cup orange juice and pulp. 1 egg white, orange sections. Soak gelatine in cold water. Make syrup of sugar, water and lemon rind. Add boiling syrup to soaked gelatine. Strain, add fruit juice and pulp. Stand aside to cool. Stir occasionally. When partially set beat until foamy. Then fold in beaten egg white. Beat well, then fold in cream which has been whipped. Turn into moistened mould lined with orange sections. Chill. When this is unmoulded it may be garnished with more orange sections interspersed with cut cherries.

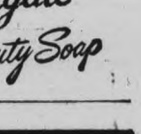
Buckhorn Women's Institute Meets

BUCKHORN, Feb. 22 (ENS)—The regular meeting of the Buckhorn WI was held at the home of Mrs. T. S. Wood with a splendid attendance of members and visitors. The roll call was answered by the name of a premier and some fact about him.



A discussion on hospitalization plans took place. Plans were completed for the short course to be held in the Wesley Hall in April. Mrs. E. Pearson convener for education was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. McKenty gave a reading on the life of Valentine and the origin of Valentine's Day. Mrs. Pearson read a chapter from the book "The Search for America" depicting the life of the author.

A quiz on current events followed. The meeting closed by repeating the WI prayer. Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

One of four rinks from the Peterborough Ladies' Curling club entered in the three-day annual bonspiel at Midland this week, Mrs. Erle Welbourn's pick-up rink was the only one to reach the finals. Competing for the Midland Trophy, the secondary event, she lost in the final game Wednesday to a Hamilton Thistle Club entry. Curling with Mrs. Welbourn, who was skipping for first time out of town, were Mrs. Harold Hamblin, Mrs. Ed. O'Toole and Mrs. Claude Elliott. Each received a kit of famous name beauty preparations as consolation prizes. Mrs. T. Doughty's rink which was winner of the Midland Trophy last year and rinks skipped by Mrs. F. J. A. Hall and Mrs. J. Dunkerley were eliminated in early rounds.

BASEBALL HAS ITS HALL OF FAME; football is planning to have one. Now the British come up with one for fashion, to be known as the Museum of Costume. Pictured is an evening gown by London designer Victor Stiebel. It has a high neck line, bronze and jet beads decorating the yoke, a spiral skirt, and a waist sash-scarf, which can be worn around the shoulders as an attractive alternative.

Series of Reviews On Committees Being Given

No controversial discussion took place when reports were presented to the Civic Affairs Study Group meeting Wednesday evening in the YWCA.

The observer's report on City Council meeting of February 5th was prepared by Mrs. J. A. Nornabel and read in her absence by Miss Margaret Lees. The February 19th meeting was reported by Miss Margaret MacIntosh and the Board of Education meeting of the 8th by Mrs. T. J. Carley.

Starting a series of reviews on the work of the committees of Council and Board of Education, two such reports were given at this meeting and some discussion was brought about by furthering questions from the audience.

A graphic outline of the work carried on and duties of the Parks Committee was given by Mrs. S. J. Graham and Miss MacIntosh outlined duties of the Property Committee.

Chairman Mrs. W. E. Fanning conducted the meeting.

Noreen Coombes Becomes Bride

The wedding took place Wednesday evening in St. James' United Church of Noreen May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coombes, 283½ Park St. to Mr. Lawrence Harry Brown, son of Mrs. Brown of Toronto and the late Harry Brown.

Candles and flowers decorated the altar for the ceremony. The Rev. F. W. Craik officiated and Mrs. M. Morrow played the wedding music. During the singing of the register she played "O Promise Me" 'and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a dress of cameo pink faille with navy accessories and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby orchids. She was attended by her sister Mrs. Raymond Craig who wore navy faille with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations. Both wore matching flowers in their hair.

Groomsman was Mr. Raymond Craig and Mr. Victor Coombes ushered.

A reception was held at the bride's home, her mother receiving in a steel grey faille dress worn with navy hat and accessories and a corsage of red roses.

When going away the bride wore a brown gabardine suit with rust topcoat and had a corsage of talisman roses.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Brown will live in Toronto.

400 Visit PCVS Open House Tea Is Served

Enthusiasm of approximately 400 parents who attended open house at the Collegiate Vocational School Wednesday afternoon was by no means dampened by the inclement weather.

Forty girl students assisted in guiding the visitors through the school and to classrooms they wished to see. Teachers were ready to discuss the rograms of their particular grades.

An attractive display of articles of clothing made by students of the Home Economics department was much admired. Beautifully hand-smocked children's dresses and cosy baby garments made for the Canadian Red Cross were of interest to all.

Parents had the opportunity of hearing the girls' Choral Club under the direction of Mr. M. J. Curtis, rehearsing for the Toronto Kiwanis Music Festival. Also of visiting the gym where three basketball games opened the Lakeshore semi-finals with Lindsay Collegiate.

The afternoon tea and sale of home cooking and candy, sponsored by the Home and School Association, was also an important feature.

Guests to the tea room on the second floor were received by Mrs. J. Low, Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy and Mrs. C. McBride. The tea table, bright and cheery with a yellow linen cloth, centrepiece of multi-colored spring flowers and yellow candles was decorated by Mrs. H. Mason. Tea was poured by Mrs. P. Rowell, Mrs. B. Bell, Mrs. C. S. Browne and Mrs. J. H. Moebus.

The tea was convened by Mrs. F. Dobson with Mrs. G. Bryant, Mrs. M. S. Mackie, Mrs. J. Marshall, Mrs. B. White and Mrs. V. Skitch assisting. Dining room assistants were Mrs. Munro, Mrs. A. W. WARNS MOTHERS
INFLUENZA STRIKES HERE!!

Coughs, Sore Throat, from Influenza, Spreading Fast
Here's What To Do for REAL PROMPT and PROLONGED Relief

Mothers will certainly want to be on their guard against the epidemic of 'flu raging in this community.

A wise mother will always have good old reliable Musterole handy. At the first sign of a sneeze, sniffle, rawness or tickling in the throat—rub your child's chest, throat and back with Musterole. Musterole immediately starts right in to bring PROMPT and PROLONGED relief—and continues to, all while it remains on your skin.

The reason Musterole gives such wonderful results is because it's more than just an ordinary "salve." Musterole is what is known as a modern analgesic (pain-relieving), counter-irritant (checks irritation), and decongestive (breaks up local congestion). Its soothing vapors also break up congestion in the upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

Musterole offers all the advantages of a warming, stimulating mustard plaster. Yet is so much easier for the busy mother to apply. Just rub it on.

In 3 strengths: Children's Mild, Regular and Extra Strong. Buy Musterole at any drugstore.

HEROIC FARM WIFE GRAPPLES WITH ANGRY HOLSTEIN BULL

Mrs. Anna Cryer, of Lac Blanc, Que., saves husband from gory death by grasping horns of enraged animal

1. It was 6:30 A.M., and Mr. Cryer was bringing the cows in to milk at his farm in Labelle County. Suddenly, his 17-month-old Holstein bull attacked him from behind and threw him to the ground. Leaping up, Cryer grabbed the bull's horns . . . but the animal shook him loose and tossed him in the air. When he fell, the bull pressed his attack, rolling the farmer down the slight grade to a pile of logs . . . never letting up. The farmer screamed out in pain.

2. Mrs. Cryer, hearing her husband's cries, ran from the house and screamed at the top of her lungs to arouse others in the family. When she had crossed the road to the field she saw her husband, bleeding and still being gored. She feared the worst but she didn't hesitate a second. Racing straight to the bull, she grasped him by the horns and hung on grimly. The surprised animal tried in vain to shake her off.

3. With a strength she never knew she possessed, Mrs. Cryer kept her hold. And it was only after helpers had arrived and rescued her husband that she let go, ran out the gate and, for the first time in her life, fainted. We are indeed proud to add the name of Mrs. Cryer to the list of those who have won The Dow Award for outstanding bravery.

THE Dow AWARD

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects Award winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

DOROTHY DIX

Young Man Good Husband If Mature, Tastes Match

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow 45 years of age. Time has been kind to me and people tell me I am most attractive. A bachelor, who is 38 years old and who is all that any woman could want in a husband, is in love with me, as I am with him, and wants to marry me. I have a son 18 years old and he and this man are the best of chums. In fact, the man already treats my boy as if he were his own son, and the boy is crazy for me to marry him. But my friends tell me that to marry him would be a mistake, that he is too young for me. His only fault is that he reads all the time and I am jealous of his books, magazines and newspapers. What is your advice?

E. H.

ANSWER: Marry him. Everything else being so favorable, the seven years' difference in your ages makes no insuperable bar to your union. Calendar age doesn't always count and inasmuch as he is of the quiet, studious type and you are gay and pleasure-loving by nature, it may well be that you are really younger than he is after all.

When a woman marries a man younger than she is, the thing that matters is not the disparity in their ages, but how old he is. If he is very young, a boy who has not come to himself, it is a hazardous thing for her to do, and the marriage nearly always results disastrously. For as the lad matures his taste changes and he is pretty sure to lose it for his elderly wife. But if a man is past his first youth, if he is fully grown up and settled in his tastes and habits, then he is a safe matrimonial bet for a woman even if she has had a few more birthdays than he has.

Knows What He's Doing

Whatever the reason, the man in his thirties who marries a woman older than himself knows what he is about and he seldom regrets his bargain. And let it not be forgotten that in many cases a woman at 45 reaches the pinnacle of her attractions and is far more alluring than any bread-and-butter Miss.

The danger in your marriage is not the difference in ages, but the difference in taste. Because, if you are jealous of your fiance's books, you are evidently not addicted to reading. And, believe me, sister, any woman who tries to come between the man who has the reading habit and the printed page is going to lose out, whether she is 17 or 70.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My son married ten years ago and has a boy of 8 and a girl of 5. I have been the best of friends with his wife and am very fond of my grandchildren and they of me. Have kept the boy since he was a baby off and on and other weekends and when his parents wanted to go on trips. For no reason that I can explain my daughter-in-law has suddenly become insanely jealous of the children's affection for me and refuses to let them come to see me. What would you advise? Is this common situation?

X. Y. Z.

ANSWER: I should think that your best play would be to act indifferent. Don't make an issue with your daughter-in-law for that will bring about a breach between you that you can never bridge over. Keep away from the children for a while and after she gets over her brainstorm she will be glad enough to restore amicable relations and dump the children on you when she wants to play bridge, or go off on a vacation.

I think a great many women are jealous of their children loving anybody else except themselves. They are so determined to monopolize their children that they don't even want them to love their fathers or feel close to them. I once heard a mother say: "Talk about jealousy. The jealousy that a woman can feel about a man is nothing to the jealousy that tears a mother's heart to tatters when she sees her child caring more for somebody else than it does for her."

But what's the matter with your son that he lets his wife put over her jealous spite on you? If he had as much backbone as a shoestring, he would simply tell her where she got off and take the children to see you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Should boys have more education than girls?

RITA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Perhaps they should, considering that they make the laws, run the business and the government. However, of late years boys do not seem as eager for education as girls, as the girl students outnumber the boys in many of our schools and colleges.

Candle-lighting Marks Federation Night

The Business and Professional Women's Club monthly dinner was marked with a candle-lighting service in observance of Federation Night. This International Federation is the largest in the world with 325,000 members in 18 countries. Canada now has more than 7,000 members and mention was made of a new club organized at Picton last week.

The ceremony was led by president Mrs. Jean Watson, assisted by Miss Mabel White, Mrs. Edna Miller, Miss Jane Saunders, Mrs. Helen Perron, Miss Rubena Carter and Miss Helen Moore with Miss Anne Deyell playing soft music.

Candles were lighted for each country as follows: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Cuba, Denmark, Finland, France, Holland, Italy, New Zealand, Norway, Rhodesia, South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom and United States.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted and proclaimed by the General Assembly of United Nations was read by Mrs. Mabel Louden.

Miss Olga Haskill gave the club an interesting resume of her trip to Europe last summer. A letter from the sister club at Peterborough, England, acknowledged a Christmas parcel.

A second draw was made on the table lamp offered as a prize at the recent bridge and remaining unclaimed. The winner is Mrs. H. Millard of 224 Rubidge St.

Dinner arrangements were in charge of south end group with Miss Mabel White as convener. Pastel candles and Canadian laurel decorated the tables at which the 36 members were seated.

And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to fight it,
And courage to bear the blow.
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
—Ever remembered by wife, son and daughter-in-law of Toronto.

Haig Charges Senate Slur

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP). — Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader in the Senate, said yesterday he wants to know who was responsible for a recent broadcast which he described as "a bitter attack on the Senate."

The broadcast, he told the Senate's transportation and communications committee, was released over a number of private radio stations in the east and west and had said: "The most you ever see in the Senate are 12 members—and most of them asleep."

Told the CBC was responsible for the content of all broadcasts, Senator Haig agreed to let the matter stand until the committee considers CBC estimates.

Senator Haig said he understood "a woman in Ottawa wrote the article and presumably was paid for it." If he had any say he would "banish all the private stations" for attacks of that kind.

On Regular Feature

A spokesman for the Radio Bureau, a co-operative organization embracing 69 private stations, said an article on the Senate had been written by one of the bureau's writers, Mrs. Francis Oakes Baldwin. It had been released for broadcast the week beginning Nov. 26, 1950, under the heading "weekly report from Parliament Hill," a regular feature.

The article by Mrs. Baldwin included the following paragraph:

"There is absenteeism in the House of Commons, but most of the MP's should get gold stars for attendance compared to the Senators. Twelve Senators in attendance—out of 96—is a crowd."

Princess Foresakes Night Club Life

LONDON, Feb. 22 (Reuters)—Princess Margaret has suddenly forsaken the bright night life of London's West End.

The 20-year-old Princess was frequently photographed and headlined last year on her visits to night clubs and restaurants. But she has not been seen in one since before Christmas.

The London Star reported Wednesday that "the King is said to prefer that his second daughter should attend only private evening parties. . ."

Buckingham Palace officials would not comment.

Some members of the court circle were perturbed last year about the publicity Princess Margaret was getting through her enthusiasm for night life.

Obituary

MRS. FRANK BRISBIN.

The death occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, on Wednesday of a former resident of Alnwick Township, Hattie Pollock, widow of the late Frank Brisbin, former residents of Roseneath. The deceased was born in Alnwick Township 72 years ago, a daughter of the late Charles Pollock and his wife Isabel Thompson, and resided here until about 17 years ago.

She was a member of the former Presbyterian Church, later Roseneath United Church. Her husband predeceased her in 1932.

She is survived by two sons, Neil of Cooksville, Glenn of Scarboro, two daughters, Mrs. William Major (Marguerite), Toronto, Mrs. Ivor Morris (Kathleen), Kamloops, BC, one brother William Pollock, Warkworth, and one sister Mrs. Roberts of Vancouver. One daughter Madeline predeceased her.

The funeral will be held at McMillan's Funeral Home, Roseneath, on Friday at 2 p.m.

Program Advertising Studied By Bureau

Jim Fraser, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce reported today that he is warning all retail and industrial establishments in the city to contact the Better Business Bureau of the chamber if they receive any calls or invoices soliciting advertising for veterans' publications or baseball programmes.

Mr. Fraser stated that he had already received several calls reporting the receipt of such invoices.

A simlar warning was also given in the February issue of the Bulletin published by the Toronto Better Business Bureau Inc. in the following statement.

"Despite the fact it is only the second month of 1951, we are already receiving enquiries from out members regarding advertising in softball and basketball programs. If you are approached either over the telephone or in writing to insert advertising in publication of this nature, be sure to get a written report from the bureau before doing so."

University Decides To Change Program

BALTIMORE, Feb. 22 (AP)—Johns Hopkins University announced today that it is doing away with its regular four-year undergraduate program. In its place will be a liberal, go-as-you-learn plan with no restrictions on time, scope or specific study.

"We propose to make this a university in which the sharp distinctions between undergraduates and graduates will be eliminated," said Dr. Detlev W. Bronx, Hopkins president.

He set the transition period at from five to six years.

Stolen Car Used In Payroll Robbery

SUDBURY, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Investigation into the armed robbery of an International Nickel Company pay clerk last Monday resulted in the arrest of John Bentley, 26, on a charge of stealing an automobile which police say was used by the bandits in their escape.

John Campbell, 27, of Sudbury, and Fred Montgomery, 28, of Fenwick, were arrested shortly after $397,000 in Inco pay checks was snatched from the pay clerk as he was about to enter a bank.

All three suspects will appear in court today.

Veteran Miner Plunges 85 Feet To Death

SUDBURY, Feb. 22 —(CP)—A veteran miner, Marco Jalsich, 43, plunged 85 feet to his death in No. 7 shaft at Creighton Mine yesterday while directing removal of timber preparatory to widening the shaft.

Creighton Mine, 12 miles west of here, is owned by International Nickel Company.

As shaft leader, Jalsich was directing operations when somehow he lost his footing and fell the remaining depth of the shaft into 20 feet of water.

The body was recovered from the water at the bottom of the shaft with grappling hooks.

He had worked 19 years at the mine.

He is survived by a wife and four children at Creighton.

Bomber Flight Delayed 24 Hrs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—A United States Air Force spokesman said today the flight of a British jet bomber from Gander, Nfld., to Andrews Air Base near here has been postponed until Friday.

The two-engine Canberra, which made the fastest crossing of the North Atlantic ever recorded Wednesday, was to have flown to Andrews today for an inspection by Washington officials before continuing to Wright-Patterson Air Base, Dayton, O., for the start of technical evaluation.

The Air Force is considering having the Canberra, an English Electric Company design, built in the United States for use as a night intruder plane.

An Air Force spokesman said the delay in the Canberra flight was to permit an inspection of the engines. The plane flew from near Belfast, Northern Ireland to Gander Wednesday in four hours 40 minutes, an average speed of about 445 miles an hour.

3-Day Drinking Bout Leaves 3 Men Dead

SANFORD, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP)—Three men are dead here after a three-day drinking bout with a shellac solvent.

A fourth dead is feared, says Sheriff P. A. Mero.

Russell G. Lundquist, 36-year-old carpenter, died early Wednesday in jail after being picked up as a drunk.

A hunt for his automobile led officers to the other two bodies. The car was located late Wednesday on a road.

About 25 feet away was the body of Lacey Webb, about 55.

In a shack nearby, officers found the body of William Hill, about 30.

Sioux Will Return To Korea On April 8

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP) —The destroyer Sioux is slated to have a second crack at the Korean war. She got back to Canada Feb. 4 after six months of operations.

The Navy said today she is due to sail April 8 on her second trip to those waters but that about 40 per cent o fher crew will be nonveterans of Korea. About 120 of her men are being posted to schools and elsewhere to open the way for others to get operational experience.

The Sioux will relieve the Athabaskan. The former is commanded by Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor of Victoria, the latter by Cmdr. R. P. Welland, Victoria. The Athabaskan will be the last of the original three destroyers to return from Korea.

The Cayuga will be relieved by the Huron early next month.

Slightly Different

PARIS, Feb. 22 (AP) — A nude girl in stone has replaced two robed chemists in bronze on a square on the Boulevard St. Michel. Pierre Pelletier and Joseph Van Caventou, the discoverers of quinine, were the chemists. Their academic robes were carefully reproduced in bronze. During the occupation the Nazis carted them off to a German foundry. The new statue honoring the two savants is a buxom reclining nude representing recovered health. Bronze medallions on the base portray Pelletier and Van Caventou.

Mrs. Roy H. Thomson Dies In Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 22 (CP)—Edna Annis Thomson, 56, wife of Roy H. Thomson, Canadian newspaper publisher, died here today after an illness of several years. She came to Fort Lauderdale shortly after Christmas.

Mrs. Thomson was born in Drayton, Ont., and married Mr. Thomson in 1917, before he entered the publishing business. Her home was near Port Credit, Ont., where she lived with Mr. Thomson and her two daughters, Mrs. C. E. Campbell and Mrs. Irma J. Elliott. She had one son, Kenneth R., manager of the Galt Reporter.

Burial will be from her home.

General Eisenhower Best-Dressed Man

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP).—Gen. Eisenhower is the best-dressed man in the United States—in or out of uniform—a clothiers group declared today.

That was the consensus of the 33rd annual convention of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, president Robert D. Underwood said.

The convention's list of the "10 best dressed men in America" also included: comedian Bob Hope, Thomas F. Murphy, New York City Police Commissioner; Ed Herlihy, radio and television master of ceremonies; Phil Rizutto, of New York baseball Yankees; Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, wealthy sportsman; Dan Deymour, television producer and master of ceremonies; actor Gregory Peck, Edward Fields, carpet manufacturer, and comedian Jan Murray.

Eisenhower was chosen for his "typical American look—always neat, never flashy."

Three Hospitals Get $218,000 In Grants

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP). — Hospitals in Barrie, Hamilton and Paris, Ont., have been granted a total of $218,000 from federal health funds to help meet costs of alterations and extensions to increase their accommodation, the health department reported today.

At Barrie the accommodation of the Royal Victoria Hospital is being more than doubled by the addition of space for 36 additional patients, a 34-bassinet nursery and related medical, surgical and obstetrical services.

A new 64-bed building to accommodate tuberculous children is being built at the Mountain Sanitorium, Hamilton, to replace the present preventorium building. The Willett Hospital in Paris is increasing its accommodation to provide for 22 more patients, an eight-bassinet nursery and additional medical, surgical and obstetrical facilities.

Water Balance Upset By Overcutting

An overcutting of forest cover in Ontario and Eastern Canada has resulted in an upset of the water balance, meaning too much water in the spring and not enough in the summer, Dr. O. M. McConkey, told the So-Ed members Wednesday night. He is professor of field husbandry at the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph.

Dr. McConkey explained that the forest cover in Southern Ontario is less than 10 per cent and should be at least 20 per cent. Lack of forest cover has meant increasing floods, ground water levels dropping, wells drying up, soil erosion increasing, fertility level dropping and crop yields not increasing.

Prevent Water Run-off

The soil building program is Ontario's number one problem in agricultural improvement. The cheapest way to build soil, he said, is to plant heavier crops of grasses and legumes which are the best soil building conservation crops. Grasses and legumes prevent water runoff and soil erosion, build organic matter and fertility level and improve the soil structure so that it absorbs more water.

Dr. McConkey recommended better care and utilization of barnyard manure to maintain organic matter and fertility of soil. Losses, he said, from barnyard manure exceeds the cost of commercial fertilizers.

Other suggestions for soil building included strip cropping on long slopes, keeping steep slopes in grass, grassed waterways to prevent gullying, farm ponds, flood control over watersheds, drainage in some areas, improve farm woodlots, co-operating with regional forester and reforestation.

Course In Conservation

Education in conservation should be given at all levels, he recommended, in public and high schools, through the radio and movies, in churches and other community organizations. He recommended the Peterborough Normal School for its project in growing and distributing trees.

Conservation, said Dr. McConkey, calls for the co-operation between city, town and country. All must work together. At the same time there must be co-operation between industry and agriculture, the cities, industries, banks, insurance companies and other businesses in Canada built from the soil of Canada, he explained. He recommended that they should keep in the program by establishing scholarships to train Canadians in conservation methods.

Federal Action

On the national level Dr. McConkey said there is a need for a federal conservation act co-ordinated with the provinces. There should be a national long distance plan for the conservation of all resources, soil, water, forest, minerals, oil, wild life, and human resources. His suggested financial policy was: 37½ per cent from the federal government, 37½ per cent from the provincial government and 25 per cent from the local communities.

Dr. McConkey said that Canada is one of the last areas of the world with many natural resources and that the people must watch that these resources are not exploited but rationally developed and conserved. He warned that Canadians must guard not to exploit their resources during times of stress, war being a great waster.

"Canada is a new country. Do not let us repeat the mistakes made by some "older" countries and waste our heritage. Canada's future as a nation depends on a sound conservation program."

Says U.S. Will Share Strength With Allies

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today the United States has "ample strength" to share with its allies until they become "self-sufficient and independent of our aid."

And the combined industrial production and skill of the free nations "will assure our military supremacy if we need it," the chairman of the U.S. joint chief of staff said.

The North Atlantic Treaty organization is a stronger combination than "the compulsory league of Soviet satellites," Bradley said in a speech prepared for the Freedom's Foundation presentation of awards for "outstanding contributions to the cause of freedom."

The foundation awarded $100,000 to more than 800 American individuals and organizations.

Calling on the U.S. to give its allies "more than guns for soldiers, . . . for starving people . . . thought for hungry minds," Bradley added:

"We must show them our faith to bolster theirs."

Can Keep Peace With God's Help—Eisenhower

VERSAILLES, Feb. 22.—(AP).—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower came back to Europe Wednesday to take on once again the long time job of making this part of the world safe for people who don't like totalitarianism.

He arrived in the Queen Elizabeth at refurbished Cherbourg, the first big port his armies liberated in 1944. It was the dawn of a misty, rainy day, but the Eisenhower smile was there.

The North Atlantic alliance commander had a quick champagne breakfast with officials and the welcoming party of his command. With him was his wife, Mamie.

"With God's help and with all of us working together we can keep the peace," Eisenhower told the shore welcoming party. Then he flew to Paris, boarded a limousine without ceremony and was taken to the fine Versailles hotel, the Trianon Palais, where he and Mrs. Eisenhower will live until a house is found for them.

The balance of the day he spent helping to get settled in a six-room apartment, a luxurious place with furniture of the period of the last kings of France.

Only Visitor

Almost his only visitor was his chief of staff, Lieut-Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, with whom he made his first tourn in January around all the capitals of the 12 countries that have agreed to help defend the west against Communist aggression.

His schedule today seemed likely to include a visit to the 60-acre plot carved out of the presidential hunting reserve as the site for his new headquarters. His offices and barracks of the 600-odd soldiers associated with the headquarters are to go up there.

That will be the nerve centre of a defense force which Eisenhower will command. He is reported to have told senators Feb. 1 his goal is 40 divisions—roughly about 700,000 troops—by the end of 1952.

Two cheering notes came on the day of his arrival. Belgium's parliament began talking seriously about increasing its conscription period from one year to two so as to build up a ground force of 80,000 men, with air and coast guard services as well.

Norway, the farthest north defense point of the Eisenhower command, talked of increasing the service period from nine months to a year, and of giving short training periods through the year to keep her forces alert.

But, militarily speaking, these were small potatoes. No great fighting forces would come from either. Eisenhower's major problems lay in the big manpower and industrial pools of Britain, France, Italy, West Germany and perhaps Spain.

Ask Peiping Reconsider Peace Terms

3-Man Committee Tries Again, Maintains Secrecy

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Feb. 23 (AP) — The United Nations Good Offices Committee was reported today to have made its first approach to Communist China to see if Peiping will reconsider and discuss Korean peace terms with it.

Diplomatic sources said the three-member committee had made its move in the last day or so through Swedish government contacts with Red China. No answer has been received yet, it was learned.

The committee is made up of Nasrollah Entezam of Iran, president of the General Assembly; Sven Grafstrom of Sweden and Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico.

Committee members maintained secrecy on their action and have told newspapermen they had nothing to say.

Formal Meeting

The committee held its first formal meeting Monday. There have been previous attempts by the U.N. through other committees and groups to obtain a cease-fire agreement from Red China, but they failed.

The most important of these was the three-member cease-fire committee — including L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister—which dealt with Peiping through the Indian ambassador there. Sweden is the only other non-Communist U.N. member maintaining a diplomatic mission in the Chinese Communist capital.

Communist China, in a recent broadcast, assailed the U.N. resolution which created the good offices committee Feb. 1 and announced that Peiping would not deal with this body. At that time the assembly branded the Peiping regime an aggressor in Korea and also established a 14-member committee to study possible sanctions against China.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK'S PUBLIC MEETING on Thursday evening was preceded by a small civic dinner to honor guest speakers. Shown ABOVE, Left to Right, are program chairman T. J. Carley, K.C., Dr. F. M. Grant, Alderman Dr. Herbert Young, representing the Mayor, the Hon. Mr. Justice J. Keiller Mackay of Ontario Court of Appeal, Mr. Justice R.. T. Ferguson of the Ontario Supreme Court, the Rev. Richard D. Jones, executive director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews and Rabbi J. Mayer.—Examiner Staff Photo.

Gain Seven Miles To Face 2 Battalions of Reds Dug In North of Hoengsong

Communists Using Hit-and-Run Tactics In Delaying Actions

TOKYO, Feb. 23. (AP) — Powerful United Nations forces, including Canadian infantrymen, shoved ahead late today all along the Central Korean front after brief but bitter Communist resistance in the mountainous middle section. The Communists apparently are using fight-and-run tactics in a series of delaying actions against the 100,000-man offensive on the muddy 60-mile front. This would account for the sudden changes in the tenor of battle reports.

On the east flank of the rugged, twisting front, American forces pushed unopposed into rubbled Pyongchang, 25 miles southeast of the main objective—Hoengsong.

Allied forces were closing in on Hoengsong, central Red defence point 10 miles north of the offensive kick-off point, Wonju. A field dispatch reported stiff Red resistance on a line east and west of Hoengsong early Friday. Soon afterward the sector was reported quiet.

Chipyong Quiet

Also suddenly still was the area north of Chipyong, 20 miles west of Hoengsong. There the 2nd Battalion of Canada's famed Princess Patricia's Regiment swept easily through Red opposition astride the Seoul-Hongchon road west of Hoengsong.

(Reuters News Agency said the Canadians are leading the Commonwealth force on the left flank of the offensive, and added: "The Canadians beat off a light Communist counter-attack and then, front-line reports indicated, hit the Chinese lines at noon today. They were believed to have razed a string of Communist outposts.")

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshawan reported that the Canadian soldiers led Commonwealth forces in a northeasterly wheeling movement Thursday in their first action of the war. The Patricias fought their way through an estimated company of Communists.

The far western and far eastern sectors were comparatively quiet today. Allied troops south of the thawing Han River near Seoul were under some Communist artillery, tank and mortar fire. UN forces have made no large-scale assault on the now-useless former South Korean capital.

Seoul was abandoned to the Reds early in January after Red China's entry into the Korean conflict forced the UN forces to withdraw to better defence positions south of Parallel 38.

The current "Red-killer" offensive brings the UN line generally within 35 miles of 38. Its aim primarily is killing Reds rather than taking ground.

Twins 80 Years Old

TORONTO, Feb. 23. (CP) — Robert and William Smith, believed Toronto's oldest twins, are 80 today. "We're getting on," they said, "but we're not near the end yet." Born in Teeswater Ont., they led varied careers. Robert, a cattle-buyer and farmer, retired here last year. William, a former steamfitter and plumber, now heads a gospel mission here.

Canadians Spearhead British Brigade, Mud Slows Attack

TOKYO, Feb. 23. (Reuters) —The Princess Patricias Canadian Light Infantry led the 29th British Commonwealth Brigade in a hill-to-hill advance on Korea's Central front today but were bogged down in mud late in the day.

The Canadian battalion, whose part in the United Nations offensive marks its first action of the war, met light Communist resistance during the day but its advance gained less than 2,000 yards —a little more than a mile—because torrential downpours and deep mud stopped the vehicles.

The sector in which they are fighting is just west of Hoengsong on the central front.

Under Fire

Throughout the morning, the Patricias were under fire and at nightfall were reported facing two battalions of Communists dug in on an important hill northwest of Hoensong.

Before the Canadians struck the mud, they had gained seven miles in their first 36 hours of fighting.

Last night the battalion dug in on the rain-swept rocky slopes of their sector and threw back one light Chinese counter-attack.

Patrols reported little activity in forward areas up to noon today. But it was believed they had razed some outposts of a main Chinese defence line.

Push Equipment

Knee-deep mud choked roads and fields and the Patricias, like other allied troops, shed their fur-lined coats to manhandle equipment forward.

They met little strong opposition in their first 24-hour advance, which began at dawn Thursday.

They romped through a company of entrenched Communists and swept on to mop up small pockets of Communists northwest of Chipyong.

In breaking up the Chinese regiment they scored their first objective of the war—a rugged, inaccessible hill position that might have been in the Rocky Mountain foothills.

Health Dept. To Handle Civil Defence

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP)—The Federal government's responsibility in civil defence is being turned over to the Department of Health and Welfare, Defence Minister Claxton announced today.

Mr. Claxton, whose department has had this job up to now, made the announcement at the opening of a federal-provincial meeting on civil defence matters.

The minister said the defence department will deal only with matters relating directly to military defence.

Health Minister Martin's department is being given the civil defence assignment, Mr. Claxton said, because it has an appropriate staff for the job and enjoys close working arrangements with all the provinces and with many agencies directly concerned with civil defence.

Four-point Program

Mr. Claxton made the announcement at a meeting of the dominion-provincial civil defence officials.

He said a four-point program should be continued in Canada:

1. Completion of provincial and municipal organization.
2. Continued training of civilian defence personnel.
3. A campaign of public information.
4. Provision of warning devices and specialized civil defence equipment.

The present meeting had been called to discuss these steps. One of the main items to be considered was that of financial responsibility.

He said the logical way to determine financial responsibility would be on the basis of acceptance, by each government, of the principle of extending existing facilities for public service into the field of defence planning and operations.

No Supplement For Pensions Frost Declares

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP) — The Ontario Government wants no part of supplementary allowances to old-age pensioners, the legislature was told Thursday at the end of a fiery throne speech debate.

Premier Frost took the floor to explain his policy after a verbal attack by Joseph Salsberg (Lab.-Prog.-Toronto St. Andrew).

Replying to Mr. Salsberg's demands for a $10 monthly payment to supplement the $40 federal pension, the premier said payment of such allowances in Ontario between 1943 and 1948 had delayed adoption of universal pensions 'to an unbelievable extent."

Ontario now expected to see "within a few months" federal payment of $40 monthly to all persons over 70, together with federal-provincial payment of pensions with the means test to those between 65 and 69. Adoption of the plan waits agreement on a constitutional amendment and federal legislation to enact it.

Up To Ottawa

'The responsibility in increasing pensions now lies with Ottawa, where it belongs," Mr. Frost said. Ontario would keep to its policy of paying one-quarter of whatever old-age pension is decided on by the Dominion government.

Mr. Salsberg said the Provincial government was guilty of "moral indifference" in waiting for Ottawa to increase pensions.

The legislature today continues the throne speech debate, with Mines Minister Gemmell scheduled to speak. Government legislation also comes up for debate.

No More UK Wheat Payment

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner of Canada guardedly told a press conference today that Britain apparently feels she is under no obligation to make any further payment under the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat contract which started in the summer of 1946. "It is apparently not Britain's intention to make any further payment," Gardiner said. Unless Britain changes heart in the futue, this means that any compensation or price adjustment that Canadian wheat farmers might feel entitled to would have to be paid by the Canadian Government.

After Gardiner spoke, a representative of the prairie farmers said that is exactly what the farmers expect.

In a warmly-worded statement, which he emphasized was made on behalf of farmers and not of the government, John H. Wesson, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, told reporters:

Breach of Contract

"From the viewpoint of the Wheat Growers of Western Canada—taking for granted that there is to be no change in the attitude of the British government—we feel, rightly or wrongly, that there has been a breach of contract."

The statements by Gardiner and Wesson followed four days of obviously hard bargaining between Canadian and British representatives.

Canada's aim was to obtain an adjustment in the price paid by Britain during the last two years of the four-year wheat contract, based on the belief that the price in the first two years of the agreement was under the world price.

A clause in the contract specified that in fixing prices for the last two years, regard would be paid to outside prices during the first two years.

Banks To Reduce Lending In Effort To Cut Inflation

OTTAWA, Feb. 23. (CP)—Canada's 10 chartered banks, trying to hold down inflation, have agreed to reduce lending. A general tightening on loans, announced by the Bank of Canada Thursday night, will affect almost every Canadian wanting to borrow money from the bank. Undefined restrictions will be placed against borrowers of personal and ordinary commercial loans, but more-specific measures will be taken against investors buying securities on margin, business men making unusual long-term loans from banks, and finance corporations borrowing on security of signed notes.

Investors wanting bank loans to finance stock-buying ventures must put up more security. For instance, an investor buying a $100 stock will be able to borrow only $50 from the bank; previously he could borrow $67. Brokerage firms have instituted a similar rule for customers, effective Feb. 16 last. Other financial institutions are following these minimum margin requirements.

The measures are aimed at keeping the present public loans total, which reached $2,651,000,000—highest in history—at the end of 1950, from expanding still further.

Agree at Meeting

The Central Bank said these steps were agreed to by the chartered banks meetings in Ottawa and Montreal.

It realized that expansion of bank loans was a feature of post-war expansion in construction, but the country now was burdened with a growing defence program geared to an economy operating "under a full head of steam."

Further borrowing would result "in over-borrowing and to encourage competitive bidding up of prices of available supply of goods and services."

What was required was "a definitely-restrictive approach to the whole question of credit extension."

Jet Bomber Goes To U.S.

GANDER, Nfld., Feb. 23 (CP) —The British jet bomber Canberra, which broke the trans-Atlantic record, took off from here today on the last leg of a hop from Britain to the United States.

The Canberra streaked into this big airport Wednesday after making aviation history in a flight from Ireland en route to Washington. It covered the 2,100 miles in four hours and 40 minutes—by far the fastest time in history.

The twin-engined plane, first jet bomber in the world, will be studied by the United States for possible use. It was delayed at Gander while an engineer flew from Montreal to take care of routine servicing.

Sqdn. Ldr. A. E. Callard and his two-man crew brought the Canberra across at an altitude of eight miles or more and averaged 445 miles an hour against headwinds.

The crossing will not be recognized as an official international record because the British Royal Aero Club was not asked to send official observers to check the flight.

In Good Condition

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP)— The Duchess of Windsor, who underwent an operation Thursday, was reported in good condition today. She spent a quiet night in hospital. The operation was described as "minor."

War Unaffected By 38th Debate

TOKYO, Feb. 23—(AP)—Informed sources said today the international debate on the sanctity of the 38th parallel — artificial dividing line for North and South Korea—has not affected the conduct of the Korean war.

They said the question has not arisen in connection with the tactical disposition of the Allied land, air and naval units under Gen. MacArthur's command.

Top officers [illegible] denied reports that British and Australian warcraft were ordered to confine their activities south of the boundary.

British and other Allied land troops now participating in the U.N. offensive on the central front are still some distance short of the disputed boundary. There is no indication that "Operation Killer" is designed to push as far northward as 38.

It is understood that Commonwealth commanders received no change in their basic instructions placing them at MacArthur's disposition.

Not Particular

OTTAWA, Feb. 23. (CP)— Canada doesn't care whether the head of the Atlantic Pact navy is a British, American or French Admiral, as long as he is the "best man" obtainable, defence sources said today. They were commenting on criticism spreading in Britain over the reported choice of an American admiral to head combined naval forces of North Atlantic countries. "We are only interested in seeing that the man who heads the Pact navy is the best man," they said. "We are not interested in his nationality."

Negotiations Break Down

SYDNEY, Feb. 23 (Reuters)— Negotiations between the Australian miners' leaders and the Council of Trade Unions on wage claims broke down today.

The miners' council announced that it would recommend that the men continue their one-day-a-week stoppages until their demands had beep satisfied. The miners insist that a recent wage increase should not be condition on continuous work.

The weekly stoppages are costing Australia 70,000 tons of badly-needed coal a week.

Postpone Action On Lunan Bid

TORONTO, Feb. 23 (CP)—Mr. Justice D. P. J. Kelly of the Ontario Supreme Court today postponed action on a convicted spy's bid for a writ of habeas corpus.

Counsel for David Gordon Lunan, one of the Canadians convicted in the 1946 espionage trials, seeks to quash a one-year term Lunan got for contempt of court.

That sentence was in addition to a five-year term the former army officer and Wartime Information Board employee got for conspiring to communicate confidential information to Russia.

Reject Texan's Offer To Replace Stone

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The custodian of Britain's missing coronation stone, Dr. Alan Campbell Don, replied today with a polite "no thanks" to an offer by a Texas monument maker to replace the stone.

The Texan, E. B. Adams, wrote British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks in Washington that the gift ". . . will carry its own sentiment, an expression of friendship between your people and our people."

But Oxford-educated Dr. Don, Dean of Westminster, said:

"I am afraid that I cannot accept offers from individuals to replace the Stone of Scone. Naturally we are still hoping that it will be found."

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP)—Threat of a country-wide strike on Britain's state-owned railways ended tonight when 600,000 railwaymen won wage increases averaging 7½ per cent. An announcement of the agreement, retroactive from Jan. 1, came late today after long negotiations between three railway unions and members of the railway executive, which runs the nationalized lines.

Chinese Resistance Serious Reds Extend Death Penalty

HONG KONG, Feb. 23 (AP)— Communist China, extending the death penalty drastically, today admitted that the underground has killed thousands of Red militiamen and that open defiance is spreading.

In an astonishing announcement, Peiping conceded that resistance rode with the outbreak of fighting in Korea.

Some observers here, however, believe the announcement is intended primarily to justify a widespread purge which they expect to increase in intensity.

The Reds ordered immediate country-wide imposition of the death penalty for any and all actions which might be construed as "opposition" to government authority.

Observers said that by giving the penalties highest government sanction, Peiping also apparently is trying to take some of the heat off regional and local governments. Dissatisfaction with local government is reported widespread.

The Chinese Communists in the Peiping announcement admitted that peasant opposition to land reform is getting out of control.

Submitting the stern new program to the Central People's government council, highest administrative body in Communist China, Deputy Chairman Peng Cheng of the Political and Law Committee said "the government must no longer be magnanimous and lenient.

Des Joachims Reaches Eight-Unit Production

DES JOACHIMS, Que., Feb. 23 —(CP)—Ontario hydro's big Des Joachims generating station reached its 480,000-horsepower capacity today as the last of eight units was put in service.

Des Joachims, on the Ottawa river 40 miles upstream from Pembroke, Ont., is Ontario's second biggest plant, ranking next to the station at Niagara Falls. The first two units were put in operation here last June.

Cost of the Des Joachims development was an estimated $75,775,000. Another $25,000,000 will go into transmission of power to major distributing points.

Des Joachims power is generated at 60 cycles and transmitted to Kipling (near Toronto), Burlington (Hamilton), Westminster (London) and Essa (Barrie) for relay throughout Southern Ontario.

Freight Derailed

PARRY SOUND, Feb. 23 (CP) —The Canadian National Railways' main transcontinental line was blocked today as the result of a 22-car freight derailment.

The derailment occurred about 25 miles north of here at 3 a.m.

Transcontinental passenger trains No. 3 and No. 4 were detoured through North Bay.

Auxiliary trains from Allandale and Capreol were rushed to the scene this morning and reports indicated that the line will be repaired for traffic by late today.

Woman Kills Wolf With Single Shot

DEAN LAKE, Ont., Feb. 23— (CP)—Attracted by the screams of her children, Mrs. Roy Beharriel killed a marauding timber wolf with a single shot from her 30.30 rifle as the animal fled from the back yard of her home in this north shore Lake Huron community.

Mrs. Beharriel said she took careful aim as the wolf sped toward the bush. Seven sheep on her farm have been killed recently by wolves. She thought the wolf had probably been attracted by freshly slaughtered beef or the sheep.

Coal Crisis Grows In East Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Communist East Germany admitted today a growing coal and steel crisis is threatening its already weak economy.

The Free German Youth (FDJ) tipped off the situation by launching a recruiting campaign to lure young men into the mines.

The FDJ announcement called for 1,000 volunteers for work in the hard coal mines within the next two months as a "gesture of patriotism" on behalf of the Communist five-year plan, just under way.

West Germany also is suffering from a coal shortage which Western occupation authorities have blamed on bad management in the coal industry. West German Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard has countered that the crisis developed because the occupation authorities set too high export quotas.

Labor Government Defeated By 8 Votes On Minor Issue

LONDON, Feb. 23 (Reuters)— The Labor government was defeated by eight votes in the House of Commons today but the defeat was on a minor issue so that no question of its downfall was involved.

Nonetheless, wild cheers and cries of "resign" greeted the announcement of the vote—242 to 234. It was on a bill seeking to modify the state-owned road transport system.

Today's vote gave second reading agreement in principle to an opposition bill seeking to extend the scope of private enterprise road transport.

It proposes that private haulers should be allowed to operate up to a radius of 60 miles from their headquarters instead of 25 as at present.

The measure will be up for discussion in the House of Commons again when Labor will marshal all its forces in efforts to defeat it.

The bill being debated was not officially sponsored by the Conservative opposition.

But all Labor M.P.s had been informed the government wanted it killed because, if it became law, it could cancel a part of the act which nationalized transport. The opposition therefore regards the outcome as a serious moral rebuff to the government.

Truman Gets Letters In Row Over Aide

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (CP). —President Truman, steaming over charges that one of his aides influenced Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans, has got from the lending agency copies of its correspondence about loans with Congress members—about 900 letters in all.

Truman's move in the controversy was first brought out today at a Senate banking subcommittee's hearing on the question of whether R. F. C. directors have yielded to influence and favoritism in handing out millions in government loans. The White House later confirmed that Truman had called for the correspondence.

Chairman Elmer W. Harber of the RFC board of directors, asked what purpose Truman had in mind for using the correspondence, replied:

"He didn't say."

Judge Ready To Review Rush Evidence

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 23 (CP)—The Rush inquiry closed Thursday with eight of the dismissed officer's fellow-detectives testifying that he had not been difficult to get along with on the London Police Force.

Mr. Justice W. D. Roach, who conducted the investigation into Mayor Allan J. Rush's dismissal last July, said he would review the evidence taken during the four-day hearing before reporting to Attorney-General Porter of Ontario. This would not take "too long."

The investigation was instigated by Mr. Porter after Rush won the mayoralty in the last election on the issue of the secrecy surrounding the reason he was fired.

The hearing's contradictory evidence became further entangled Thursday as the eight officers denied allegation made against Rush by Police Chief A. E. Knight. Earlier, two top police officials and two junior officers had contradicted Knight's evidence in the face of support for it from Deputy-Chief Morley Leach.

Narrowed Down

The inquiry appeared to have narrowed down to Knight's recommendation to the Police Commission to dismiss Rush on the basis of alleged reports that the veteran detective was a "troublemaker."

This recommendation was attacked by several witnesses on Thursday for being based on "hearsay and second-hand information."

Underlying the whole situation is a conflict in the police force over a personnel evaluation plan and a switch from a police pension plan to a city-sponsored scheme. Witnesses said two factions were wrestling for control, with Mayor Rush apparently having the major part of the police force on his side.

Club Championships Must Be Postponed

The Peterborough area joined other districts throughout Ontario this week by reporting definitely no skiing. A ski club official described the conditions at Bethany and Kemp's Hill as "grim." The local club was planning to hold its annual club champilonships.

Barrie, Cobourg and Toronto also report no skiing while conditions are poor at Dagmar, Fort William, Port Arthur, Havelock, Kenora and Orangeville.

If local skiers want any skiing, they will have to travel to Haileybury, Haliburton, Huntsville, Collingwood and Sundridge, where conditions are only "fair." Bush conditions are good at Flesherton and Markdale.

Providence Smothers Buffalo Bisons 10-5

By The Canadian Press

Few changes were made in American Hockey League standings Thursday night although eight teams saw action.

Providence smothered Buffalo, Eastern Division leaders 10-5, but the Bisons still show a 10-point leader over second-place Hershey which downed Springfield 8-3.

Cleveland increased its Western Division lead over Indianapolis to 20 point by defeating Pittsburgh 4-2. St. Louis won over Indianapolis 7-5 in the other game.

At St. Louis, the Flyers struck for four goals in the second period to defeat Indianapolis.

At Cleveland, the Barons defeated Pittsburgh before 4,465 fans in a game in which Ray Hannigan scored both Hornet goals.

At Hershey, Ed Harrison scored four goals to spark Hershey to victory over Springfield.

Union Accepts Welfare Plan

SAULT STE. MARIE, Feb. 23 (CP)—A welfare plan for almost 5,000 employees of Algoma Steel Corporation has been accepted by members of Local 2251, United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), it was announced Thursday.

The plan includes $1,000 life insurance, $1,000 accident, death and disability policy, $30 a week sick pay, $6 daily hospital costs, $120 hospital extras, $200 for surgery and hospital as well as surgical coverage for dependents.

Prices Turned Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 23 (CP). — Prices turned mixed after early advances as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Following two sessions of advance they opened ahead and then slipped. Price changes were fairly narrow and trading was dull.

In the mixed industrial section constructions, steels, foods and textiles showed a majority of gains in the groupings. Canadian Dredge, a recent feature, was up $1.50. Canada Cement dropped $2.

Base metals traded in a narrow path. Steep Rock, Falconbridge, and Normetal firmed.

Western oils barely posted a majority of gains after climbing over a broad front in the forenoon.

Senior golds were mixed with gains and losses limited to small factions. Junior producers were also mixed with little price change.

Formosa Stronghold Has Air Raid Alarm

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 23—This Chinese Nationalist stronghold today underwent an hour-long air raid alarm.

A cabinet spokesman said six unidentified planes were seen over the Formosa Strait between the island and Communist China.

The alarm ended at 11:35 a.m. without further incident. The spokesman said the planes approached the island's north coast.

Only Thursday realistic air-raid tests, including the firing of anti-aircraft guns, were staged by the Nationalists. Their leaders have said they expect Chinese Red planes to attack Formosa once the weather is favorable.

City Engineer Working On Storm Drain System

City Engineer Chalmers has been working for some time on scheme of storm drains for the area of the south end of the city from McGill St. south to King George St., and between Lock and Park Sts.

Shortage of pipe has interfered somewhat with the undertaking in its larger aspect, but work goes on with laterals from Park and Lock Sts. The main pipe will be carried up Young St. and through the area to McGill.

It is a permanent improvement in the locality south of the Exhibition Park, extending to it the drainage system needed in the annexed sections of Monaghan.

Our office will remain open from 2:00 p.m. till 4 p,m, on Saturdays.

Dutchman Fails To Find Stone

LONDON, Feb. 23 (CP)—Scotland Yard has admitted that a detective method that would have caused Sherlock Holmes to shed a tear on his magnifying glass has failed to unearth the missing Stone of Scone.

Home Secretary Chuter Ede told the House of Commons Thursday that the efforts of Peter Nurkoy, Dutch telepathist, had drawn a blank in the search for the coronation stone.

The famous and conservative Yard, baffled on all leads by the Christmas disappearance of the stone, had allowed Nukroy to see all the clues. Yard officials told him he could sit back and track down the thieves by mental telepathy—sort of armchair Perry Mason.

The experiment in mysticism, the Yard pointed out, did not cost the British taxpayer anything. Nurkoy had volunteered his services.

The stone, thought to have been spirited off by Scottish Nationalists, is still missing from its place in Westminster Abbey.

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM C. ACKERMAN

Mrs. William C. Ackerman of 380 Park St. N., died on Thursday at her residence following a short illness. She was born in Stirling, Edith M., daughter of the late Oliver Hewat and Sarah Louise Parker, and has lived in Peterborough for the past 45 years.

She leaves her husband and three daughters, Mrs. J. C. Allen (Frances L.) and Mrs. Allan J. Beattie (Barbara H.), both of Toronto, and Miss Jean Ackerman and a son Jack, both at home. There are two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Parker of Prince Rupert and Mrs. Alex C. Baillie and a brother Ernest Hewat, both of Toronto. Mrs. Ackerman was a member of St. John's Anglican Church and formerly an active church worker.

The body will rest at the family residence from Saturday until Monday and will be taken to St. John's Anglican Church for service on Monday at 2 p.m. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

John Pierce Named Dominion Councillor

Two honors have been bestowed this month on John G. Pierce, Ontario Land Srveyor, of 532 Bolivar St.

The first, probably stemming indirectly from his outstanding work in the conection with his completion of the Ontario-Manitoba interprovincial boundary in 1949, was made at the annnal Dominion Surveyors' Convention in Ottawa. Mr. Pierce was appointed the Ontario councillor of the Canadian Institute of Surveying and Photogrammetry.

The second was the election to the council of management of the Ontario Land Surveyors Association in Toronto on Tuesday. This council panel sets the policy for all surveyors in Ontario.

Dollar Down

MONTREAL, Feb. 23 (CP)—The American dollar today opened at 4½ per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, down 1-32 from Thursday's close. That is it took $1.04½ Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.92⅝, down 1-16.

Ottawa Won't Give Money To Provinces For Education

OTTAWA, Feb. 23. (CP)—The Commons decided Thursday that the Federal Government shouldn't make money grants to the provinces for general educational purposes. The only thing it can do, the House decided, is give financial aid for specific purposes. The Chamber came to that conclusion, though there were many dissenters, as it ended debate on a private resolution urging the government to consider "means of expanding and equalizing educational opportunity across Canada" by extending Federal grants to the provinces.

Vote Defeated

The resolution sponsored by R. R. Knight (CCF-Saskatoon), a former school teacher, was defeated by a vote of 112 to 45. The CCF, Progressive Conservative, and Social Credit Parties and two Liberals— David Croll (Toronto Spadina) and Howard Winkler (Lisgar)—supported it.

Health Minister Martin, the government spokesman, said the government agrees with the objectives of the motion, but would be limited by the constitution if it tried to give such assistance.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, disagreed. The Federal Govrnment, he said, already gives aid to hospitals through Federal health grants, though the constitution placed hospitals strictly within provincial jurisdiction.

Russ May Ask Big 5 Parley

MOSCOW, Feb. 23 (AP)—The possibility loomed Thursday that Russia may take the initiative in seeking a meeting of the five great powers to solve the conflict in the Far East.

The Soviet press Thursday gave prominence to a suggestion Wednesday along this line by Pietro Nenni, leader of the pro-Communist Italian Socialist Party, now attending the Red-sponsored World Peace Council in Berlin.

As quoted here, Nenni said that one of the five major tasks for the council is to "seek the calling of a meeting of the five great powers for a solution of the conflict in the Far East and a meeting of representatives of the four great powers for the unification and demilitarization of Germany."

Russia has been calling for a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, representing the four great powers, to discuss German demilitarization and other German problems. It appears possible that such a session may be actually be held.

PRESENT PLAY

The one-act modern drama, Finders - Keepers by George Kelly, was presented Thursday by the PCVS Junior Dramatic club for the junior school students. The club will present the collegiate with this play at the Queen's University - sponsored Secondary School Drama Festival Saturday. It is directed by teacher A. J. Noftall and includes in the cast, Larry Forbes, Beverley Johnston and Jean Jolly.

"Y" CAMP CHIEF

A. E. Wood of Ottawa, a former Peterborough boy, has been appointed director of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Camp at Golden Lake, Ont., for the 1951 season. He is now head of the Youth Employment and Vocational Guidance Department of the National Employment Services. A Queen's University graduate in psychology and political science, Mr. Wood rose to the rank of Major in the Governor General's Foot Guards during the Second World War. His father is Dr. Edward Wood, formerly of Peterborough.

England Limits Aussie Scoring

MELBOURNE, Feb. 23 (Reuters)—England restricted Australia's scoring to 206 when the fifth and final cricket test match opened here today and in the process claimed eight wickets.

Freddie Brown, English captain still limping from injuries received in a car accident during the fourth test, broke the back of the Australian batting by getting Morris, Harvey and Miller, all potential century makers, in 17 balls without conceding a run.

Morris had just reached his half-century when Brown struck while Miller and Harvey went off successive balls from Brown—the last ball of one over and the first of another.

The ill-luck which has dogged England on this tour continued when Trevor Bailey had to leave the field. Early in the innings he slipped on the treacherous turf when bowling and sprained an ankle. For a time he was able to continue, but left the field just after tea.

Mission Circle Given Report On Alcoholics

MILLBROOK, Feb. 23 (ENS)—Miss Mae Needham and Miss Edith Sheppard entertained members of the Golden Links Mission Circle of St. Andrew's United Church in their home Tuesday evening. Miss Edith Clarke was in charge of the worship service. She was assisted by Mrs. Eric Fallis who gave the scripture reading and by Mrs. Bruce Ingham, who read Kagawa's poem, "My Discovery."

The temperance secretary, Mrs. Homer Ouellette, reported on the new Brookside hospital in Erindale for the treatment of alcoholics. The new hospital has 32 beds and there is an out patient clinic on Avenue Road in Toronto. The three teaching hospitals of Toronto are also co-operating.

Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, the president, read a letter from Miss Jean Stewart of Chungking, China, who is the Circle's special missionary. The letter, which had come by way of Hong Kong, required $2 postage. In it Miss Stewart stated that all the missionaries in the Chungking station were waiting for their permits to return home. Their work had been so hampered by the Communists they felt this was the wisest thing to do. She plans to come home by way of Europe.

It was decided to buy one dozen bath towels and face cloths for a hospital in Africa. Those who have not already contributed to this fund were asked to do so at the next meeting.

Miss Estella Hetherington told that donations were being received from anyone who cared to contribute for the furnishing of a room in Toronto for a missionary, at a cost of $350. This is being done as a memorial to Mrs. W. L. Smythe for 15 years (1934-1949) dean of the school for leaders, held each summer in Whitby Ladies' College.

It was decided that $125 should be set as the objective for the amount to be raised for missions in 1951.

Mrs. Henry Gray was in charge of the study book, assisted by Miss E. Clarke. Mrs. Gray concluded the study period with a skit depicting customs of Japan. Those taking part were Mrs. Eric Fallis, Mrs. Chris. Peterson, Mrs. M. E. Hobbs and Mrs. Bruce Ingham.

Hostesses who assisted in serving refreshments were Miss Edith Thorn, Mrs. Ernest Powell, Mrs. David Lunn and Mrs. Bruce Ingham.

Bigamist Jailed

TORONTO, Feb. 23 (CP). — Bigamist Guy C. Barry, 29, was sentenced Thursday to six months when a magistrate refused him permission to go back to work so that he could earn money to divorce his first wife, Dorothy H. Clarke, of Little Current. "This girl I married last year is the girl for me," Barry said of Lillian Armstrong of Toronto, with whom he went through a form of marriage.

Crop Facing Ruin

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad Feb. 23 (CP).—Chairman Harold Robinson of the Sugar Manufacturers Association said Thursday unless there is a rapid improvement in weather conditions Trinidad's $26,000,000 sugar crop is threatened with ruin. He said the unseasonal rain, which has fallen for 41 of the last 52 days, has delayed reaping and grinding and lowered the sucrose content of the cane.

So Canada Is For It

The Korean Brigade is going to Korea.

Canadians will no longer be able to talk in a detached manner about the war in Korea. It will be their war in actuality as well as in U.N. theory. As we write this the first battalion of the brigade, the P.P.C.L.I. who have been in Korea for many weeks, are engaged in the new offensive, terribly named "Operation Killer." Perhaps Canadian casualties are already occurring.

* * *

The Special Force brigade was not raised specifically to fight in Korea, even though it has been referred to since formed as "the "Korean Brigade." It came into being as a result of the war in Korea, and was to be put at the disposal of U.N. when needed, and where needed. It seems that it is needed in Korea, and needed now. That does not make us very happy.

* * *

From the beginning of the trouble in Korea this newspaper has been urging a policy of cautious Canadian commitment in the Orient, particularly in the Korean peninsula, where neither the rights nor the practicality of a U.N. (chiefly U.S.A.) war there have been fully justified. From the beginning we have called attention to the primary need in Europe. U.N. and the U.S.A. have lately not allowed Korea to overshadow Europe's importance. It was legitimate to hope therefore that the Canadian Brigade would be used in Europe, even if the Korean war could not be closed off. But now the brigade is to be sent to Korea.

* * *

This being so, it is time that Canada had a larger voice in diplomatic and military policies in Korea and the East generally. Canada should have the right of consultation in the naming of senior commanders and in the definition of the limits of their military objectives. The time has gone when Canadians can without sharp concern hear that President Truman has promised to consult participating U.N. countries about a crossing of the 38th Parallel, and two days later that President Truman has said that General McArthur has complete power to make the decision alone, without reference to political or U.N. officials.

* * *

Canadian soldiers are now in the Korean fighting line and in two weeks the whole brigade of 6,000 men will leave for it. Canada will support them staunchly; at the same time it should ensure that their efforts are not in vain.

As A Canadian Sees The U.S.

Some weeks ago an article appeared in Saturday Evening Post which was written by Bruce Hutchison, the well-known Canadian author and journalist, which has attracted wide attention; it was an opinion of the people of the U.S.A. as they look to a Canadian. We read it with interest, and agreed with most of what Mr. Hutchison said. There were one or two points, however, which seemed to us to call for expansion.

Mr. Hutchison said that the people of the U.S.A. did not understand foreigners; they are fascinated by peoples other than themselves, but they never really get inside them; they regard their own way of life as "the basic norm of human behaviour," and feel that all other behaviour is abnormal, and may only achieve normality by closely imitating American ways.

This is a shrewd judgement, but it is not a criticism which applies only to the people of the U.S.A. It applies also to Canadians; we are apt to think that any people even slightly different from ourselves are a little queer. And certainly it is not a fault which would prevent a nation from becoming a great world power.

Sixty years ago, when Britain was at the height of her glory, the same insularity and exclusiveness was observable in British opinion. Other peoples were "natives," or "Americans," or colonials; they were civilized in proportion as they accommodated themselves to English ways. Let us never forget that it was in an English newspaper that the famous headline appeared—

FOG IN CHANNEL
CONTINENT ISOLATED

And did this attitude keep Britain from being great? Most certainly it did not!

The people of the U.S.A. have their faults, and some of them are offensive to the rest of us. But their tendency to regard themselves as the lords of creation, and the ultimate product of millions of years of evolution, is not a grave or harmful fault. Every great power gets that way.

Emergency Powers For Ottawa

The C.C.F. party has always been in favour of controls, and controls all the time. It is a departure from their usual principles that the Conservative party wants controls, and wants them speedily. At least it is on the band-wagon which is already moving that way. Thus the Liberal Government's bill put before the House of Commons Tuesday, asking for emergency powers, is likely to be passed without delay.

The question now is not whether we are going to have controls, but how many and how much. It is alleged by various special-interest groups that national emergency of the gravest kind is upon Canada. But note that this 'national emergency' comes in peace-time, and when the total annual defence bill will be about a billion and a half dollars, less than ten per cent. of the national income. That is a big sum, but how much greater will be the national emergency if major war should break out and the military spending goes up to thirty or forty per cent. of the national income?

Does the present emergency, considered in relation to what might happen if war comes, warrant a comprehensive full-scale system of controls? Spending for defence may continue, without war, at the present levels for ten years or more. So may the "national emergency" as now apparent. What will happen to our democratic way of life, the flow of commerce, the natural checks of supply against demand, if the country is now put into a strait-jacket of controls and stays in it for ten or twenty years?

The Prime Minister wants to maintain as far as possible the normal pattern of doing things in this country. Even though the powers he asks for are sweeping (it is a bill like the War Measures Act of the last war), there are clauses in the bill restricting both the powers sought and the use of the powers that may be granted under it. For instance, Parliament will be asked to approve any really important use of the emergency power.

Inflation is now getting out of hand. Emergency controls are needed; but this country need not be panicked into a dungeon of controls merely because less than a tenth of the national income is to be used for military defence. The United States, in the last war and in the last few months, has not been a model to follow in this matter of controls.

A Cuckoo Announces Spring

The Chinese have a proverb which runs: "Spring is sooner recognized by plants than by men." That piece of racial wisdom is surely not applicable to Canada. This week the plants have been—well, not shouting, but at least indicating the advance of spring. The melted snow has revealed tulips and snow-drops sprouting an inch or two of green. But who native to these parts can believe truly that spring is at hand?

True, it is officially less than four weeks distant, but a mere date like March 21st means nothing in this northern clime. The plants must be mistaken. Anyway, to hark back to the proverb, people are prepared to recognize spring long before plants do; that is, our people are. Why, as early as February 2nd they are quite confident (if the groundhog has not seen his shadow) that Spring is beginning. Plants do not wake up to our spring until well into April.

Why all this speculation about when Spring is coming? The course of the seasons, one wit said a century ago, is a piece of clockwork, with a cuckoo to call when it is Spring. We shall not usurp the roll of cuckoo and make any statement about the matter whatsoever, not even after the lovely sunshine and warm air of yesterday morning; the delicate lighted sky about four in the afternoon, and the graceful full moon in the evening playing hide-and-seek with puffy little clouds. No, we shall keep mum about Spring's coming until we are sure beyond the shadow of a doubt that Spring has sprung. It will take more than a few bright warm days, a few stray sprigs of green, and one cuckoo to convince us that the time of the singing of birds is at hand.

Now, let's see, where did we put our woollen gloves?

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mitchell F. Hepburn, making his first speech in many years, says that he can see no way of "stemming the inflationary spiral." What's happened to Mitch? There was a day when he would undertake to stem anything.

Scientists at the University of Illinois are puzzled by the discovery that canaries, who eat marijuana freely, show no signs of drug addiction. But we should like to know precisely how one could tell that a canary was off its head?

When the Liberals of Ontario gave a testimonial banquet for Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Massey Hall, Toronto, on February 21, 1906, the menu consisted of Blue Points on half shell, Green Turtle a l'Anglaise, Olives, Celery, Salted Almonds, Restigouche Salmon, Sauce Figaro, Cucumber Salad, Filet of Beef, Asparagus Tips, Fresh Mushrooms Saute, Potato Julienne, Laurier Sorbet, Whole Squab Chicken au Jus, Green Peas, Delmonico Ices, Fancy Pastries, Dessert and Black Coffee." That was a noble spread, and tickets for it in those days must have cost every cent of $1.50.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA.

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: I notice that in the Police Commission estimates for this year, one item is: "Meals for prisoners....$275". Has the police court or cell section a kitchen? Who prepares the meals?

ANSWER: The city police cells are not used to house offenders or alleged offenders, for the reason that a man arrested must be charged within 24 hours. If he is remanded, he is sent up to the county jail to await trial, and the county jail, which has a kitchen, feeds him. However, drunks and the like are brought in overnight, lodged in cells, and some food must be given them the next morning before the court convenes. The breakfast handed out is a sandwich and a half-pint of milk, both bought at a George St. restaurant. On the few occasions when police court is held over to the afternoon, a modest lunch for cell inmates is got from the same place.

DEAR ALPHA: Do you happen to know, or could find out, what music the Coventry Singers used during the performance of Twelfth Night by the Peterborough Little Theatre? Does it belong to the play or was it something dragged in for the effect? Mind you, I think the effect was good, as perhaps you will agree if you saw the play.

ANSWER: Yes, I thought the effect was very good indeed. Some of the music was, as you say, dragged in (from other centuries than Shakespeare's); for some of it the words are in the play and the tunes used were later; and some completely belonged, and the tunes may have been those which Shakespeare himself used in productions. I am not an authority on music for Shakespeare. There are books to be had giving the music for all songs in Shakespeare's plays.

First: the prelude music to parts II and III of the play was madrigals by Thomas Morley (1557-1603), a contemporary of Shakespeare: "April Is In My Mistress' Face" and "Now Is The Gentle Season".

The tune most frequently used, to set the mood on the entrances of Olivia, was the lovely old "Calino Casturame" (or Calen o custure me). This famous tune is alluded to in Henry V (Act. IV, Sc. iv) and is found in the Fitzwilliam Virginal Book, as is the song "O Mistress Mine" which the clown and choir sang during the drinking scene. "Calino Casturame" is said to be a perversion of an Irish phrase meaning 'Young girl, my treasure!' The words, as now used with the song, begin, "When as I see your comely face."

The Fitzwilliam Virginal Book is in the Fitzwilliam collection at Cambridge University. The book used to be called "Queen Elizabeth's Virginal Book", but it is now known that it never belonged to her.

Robert Jones, a contemporary of Shakespeare, wrote the tune of "Farewell, Dear Love". The song on which the curtain was raised, "Flow Tears From Your Springs", is Lachrimae Pavan, by John Dowland, also of the great Elizabethan school of madrigalists.

All songs which actors sang, or which they began from the stage, are in the words of the play itself, for instance, the clown's last song, "For the rain it raineth every day", which is the epilogue to the play. The music which was used for this was written 150 years after Shakespeare, by Joseph Vernon (1728-1787).

Many of the arrangements of songs, and much of the piano arrangements, were done by Mr. John Hooper, conductor of the Coventry Singers.

ALPHA: I understand that there was a rather remarkable cast-iron bridge over the Otonabee at Hunter street before the present bridge was built, and that it once cracked and fell in cold winter weather. Can you tell me anything about this?

ANSWER: Not at the moment. Shall look into the matter, and if readers can tell me more, I shall be much obliged.

✧ ✧ ✧

SIR: The present rage for yogurt is due to that health-faddist Gayelord Hauser, I suppose, with his book 'Look Younger, Live Longer.' Is yogurt really an old Bulgarian dish? What is it anyway?

ANSWER: One dictionary I consulted calls it "a sour fermented liquor made from milk in Turkey and other countries of the Levant." I have no doubt that Bulgarian natives have gobbled it up for centuries. In one form or other, it can now be had through local dairies, but I think all the stuff that comes into Peterborough is made in Toronto. In the last October issue of the 'New Yorker' magazine I noticed this advertisement:

"Good News for Yogurt Lovers: It is now possible to get—by special air service—the original Rosell Institute Yogurt Culture made for us at a Trappist Monastery in Canada. You simply add this potent, tested Culture to whole milk—right in your own home—according to ABC directions. Result? REAL Bulgarian Yogurt, rich in friendly lactic acids that make for 'inside health.'"

The advertisement says that for $1.80 you can get enough Culture to make a month's supply of Yogurt. What interests me in this old advertisement is the suggestion that Yogurt has been produced in the Trappist monastery in Canada for many years. Probably the monastery referred to is Oka, (just outside Montreal) where the monks have made Oka cheese for generations.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALPHA OLD BOY: Who are these "first families of Peterborough"? or "old Peterborough families" of which the rest of us are supposed to stand in awe?

ANSWER: I really would not like to say. Would you hazard your own opinion?

The descendants of the miller, Adam Scott, might be called 'first family.' Then there are families like the Burnhams, the Rubidges, the various Halls, the Dixons, the Hamiltons. The Morrows, Ackermans and Waddells (from South Monaghan) are of later vintage.

The Rev. Mark Burnham (first Church of England clergyman) was a literate men, and did not make the commercial profits his father Zaccheus Burnham had done. He endowed churches and was a patron of music. He was a graduate of Oxford. His college was Queens'. But at that time Oxford had not quite recovered from the academic doldrums to which it had sunk in the 18th century, and Queens', was most noted for its home brew, not for its scholars. There is no record of the Rev. Mark's having brought to Peterborough the secret of the Queens' College brew.

Of the more interesting, later (but before 1900) first families in Peterborough, are the Bouchers and Belchers, about whom a family history could be written. There have been varied scions, and, happily, the family roots are still here.

Many of the districts' first families did not live in the city, for instance, the Boyds of Bobcaygeon, the Stricklands of Lakefield, and the Milburns of the Chemong Road. Such Smith township families—Manns, Milburns, Edmisons—antedate Adam Scott. I have left out names which should be included. Perhaps kind readers will fill up the gaps and offer their own lists.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: The thaw and mild weather of this week, following upon the sub-zero days of last, have taken most of the snow, and I hear that crocuses and snowdrops are showing an inch or two of green (none have been reported in flower). There was a newspaper account this week that an early spring may be expected. If so, it will confound the soothsayers who found the heavy cedar seeds of last fall a sure sign of a hard winter.

WHICH ONE WILL HE DROP NEXT?

Letter To The Editor

IMMIGRATION OF WORKERS

Sir: Like the ancient fable of the Trojan horse which was filled with men and pushed into the city of Troy, its occupants later to overrun the city, a modern Trojan horse is in our midst.

Aided and abetted by the grandiose policy of joint Dominion and Provincial immigration policy which now like the horse is disgorging countless thousands of overseas workers into the Canadian economy, we are now faced with an ill planned, ill advised method of dealing with employment.

This disruption of our Canadian economy by the methods now employed is affecting Canadian workers as a whole and in many cases displacing them.

Is this a suitable scheme on the part of the Manufacturers' Association working in co-operation with Dominion and Provincial governments to bring wages and the standard of living of Canadians down by overwhelming competition for available jobs?

To cite an instance, a local firm among many who are now adapting this principle, has contracted to bring 300 or more placements from overseas, to this city, with jobs and contracts signed!

This, mind you dear citizens, when our local Employment office cannot place over 1,500 unemployed, many of them veterans with families! Also when the reply when seeking work in local factories is a negative "No help needed at the present time".

In many cases it is brought out that the need is only for skilled workers. This is a bugaboo as most factories require only limited numbers of skilled tradesmen, the rest are skills attained or peculiar to the job, and as such are acquired by any unskilled or semi-skilled people placed on the jobs.

And are not the majority of labour especially Canadians readily and mechanically proven adaptable, both in peace and war? I think so and as our national record shows we can hold our own with anyone on earth in the matter of native ability.

This whole process is a flagrant abuse of democratic principles. There is no justice in a situation whereby an employment service set up and paid for by Dominion taxpayers is showing preference to overseas help by this policy of ignoring the needs of local labour all over the country.

The main problem and the only just solution is providing employment for all on an equal basis, and if there is any employment competition or preference, our own peoples' needs should come first.

At present this is not being done, and work being sought by native Canadians is being withheld, and openings that exist are being held for overseas labour.

Are Canadian veterans out of work in an already intolerant inflationary economy to be forced back into the services by war emergency and by pressures beyond their control; and this incoming tide to enjoy national job preference and a protected status while Canadians will be asked to serve again?

If so I think many will not rise to the bait, in spite of hardship, they will only smile bitterly and turn away in disgust.

"So this is the Canada of our birth".

And just by way of variety and to add insult to injury, Central Mortgage and Housing has adapted a "get tough policy"; which seems to have widespread implications also. As well as applying pressure to tenents to buy or face eviction, they are also sending spurious threatening notices through the mail to purchasers of their holdings. With less than 30 days notice these notices stated:

"This account plus costs will be collected by the Bailiff if not paid by— (date)."

As well as provide jobs for overseas people when none exist for our own people, our public service in the form of government housing would also possibly give them a few seized or forfeited veterans' homes just to make everything comfy; since insufficient accommodation still exists to cope with any vast increase in population.

Let's get down to earth Canada!

"Canadian Who Has Served".

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him: and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off. (Isa. 55: 1-3, 6-13.)

Night Visit To The Barn

(Boston Herald)

When it grows late, about nine o'clock, a good farmer plans to visit the barn to see that all is well for the night. There is something satisfying about a row of sleek cows, deeply bedded in sawdust or shavings. They turn big, patient eyes as one looks at them in the glow of lantern light. Calves in their pens rise leisurely and push inquiring noses between the slats; horses toss their heads and rattle halter chains.

There is a good, heady smell in a barn, compounded of cows, horses, harness, sawdust, manure, hay and old wood. Shep, the collie, pokes around the grain room and the barn floor. A man knows when everything is right; he judges by the combination of sounds, by the animals' breathing and by the way placid cows work on their cuds. It is good to stand for a minute and look at the animals which help to make a family's living. When a man makes his night visit to the barn, the bickerings of a taut world seem far away.

HOW ABOUT COALITION "JOBS FOR THE BOYS"?

Need Of Unity Greatest Now Kiwanis Told

A warning of the inroads Communism has made in the democratic way of life was given Thursday to the Kiwanis club by its Lt.-Governor, Mel Osborne of Toronto.

Looking around today, he said, the situation is much the same as before the Second World War —the world of Munich and Czechoslovakia. He added that unless the freedom-loving nations stand together in their resolve to make democracy the strong and virile way of life, people stand to lose their freedoms that they have fought for so long.

Realizing this, he said, Kiwanis has taken the theme for 1951, "Freedom is Not Free."

The third of these objectives is to expose and combat Communism and proclaim the principles of free nations. Mr. Osborne explained that Communism, growing like cancer, has made "large" inroads into the democratic way of life, especially the educational programs.

"When our people are intelligently informed, when they realize the threat facing them today, when they realize just how dangerous this threat is to our way of life, and when they realize that the freedom which we enjoy in our countries will survive only just so long as we keep these ideologies out of our educational programs, then only will we be able to defeat it and oust it back to the place where it belongs."

Kiwanians, he said, must help the public to recognize Communism when they see it and to install in the children an understanding of their responsibilities as citizens.

The second objective is to cultivate existing relationships between Canada and the United States and support all plans that will strengthen the common defence and welfare. Mr. Osborne reminded that for 135 years Canada and United States have lived in peace and harmony. This should act as a beacon light to all nations of the world.

As Kiwanians, he said, they should emphasize to the world this example of how two countries can live in harmony and unison with a willingness to settle any differences by discussion and compromise rather than by force.

The first objective is to uphold the United Nations in its efforts to enact, interpret and enforce international law and its battle to preserve the free nations of the world. He said it is evident that if the world is to achieve peace and harmony that it must be achieved through some organization as the United Nations.

Mr. Osborne briefly gave the histories of the political, economic, religious and intellectual freedoms. Today, he said, these freedoms are being challenged.

"The technique of lies and dissemination of lies by Communism has reached a peak of efficiency never known before."

Of the 21 civilizations this world has seen in the last 6,000 years, he said, only five remain, two of these facing each other in a stuggle for supremacy. Russia is bent on a program of world domination and Western Christian, to see that all men are free.

Mr. Osborne was introduced by president Gordon Hancock and thanked by vice-president Walter Howell.

Ask Indirect Controls Fight Inflation

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP)—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today asked the government to fight inflation by indirect controls and less government spending.

The chamber, national federation of boards of trade and chambers of commerce, presented a brief rejecting direct controls as being incomplete and unsatisfactory.

The submission to Finance Minister Abbott and Revenue Minister McCann was made two days after a joint brief from Canada's four big central labor bodies called on the government to reimpose price controls and continue rent control beyond the scheduled April 30 expiration.

The chamber's presentation—brought by a delegation headed by F. J. Cunningham, chairman of the executive council—said indirect anti-inflation controls are more effective in the long run.

Control Credit

It suggested measures such as increased taxation, control of credit and "the development of a favorable climate for the expansion of productive facilities." It advocated a "pay as you go" basis for defence.

Admitting that the build-up of defence requirements would demand additional revenues, the brief said that "at no time should taxation become so excessive" as to blunt incentive and endeavor.

The brief said it is the chamber council's view that the government should aim constantly at cutting down and, where possible, eliminating expenditures not related directly or indirectly to defence.

While expressing sympathy with the idea of expanding social security measures, it said these "must be viewed carefully in the light of new and additional financial burdens for national defence."

announces

SHORT SERVICE COMMISSIONS

The Canadian Army Active Force will accept men with the necessary qualifications for short service commissions as officers of the Canadian Army.

This applies to men who are in the following categories:—

Veteran Officers with Second World War experience will be appointed directly into the Canadian Army Active Force in commissioned rank. According to qualifications of candidates, appointments will be in the rank of Lieutenant or Captain. In special cases, mainly in technical corps, the rank of Major may be granted.

Members of University Contingents C.O.T.C., who have successfully completed the second practical phase of training will be appointed as Lieutenants.

Graduates of Command Contingents Six Months Course will be appointed as Lieutenants.

Other Ranks, Active Force, will be appointed officer cadets pending qualifications as Lieutenant.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for Short Service Commissions must be Canadian citizens or British subjects normally resident in Canada, physically fit.

Minimum education requirement: Junior Matriculation.

Length of Short Service Commission

Candidates may apply for a 3, 4 or 5 year commission at their option. Short Service Commission Officers will be considered for permanent Active Force Commissions upon completion of their term of service.

PAY AND ALLOWANCES

Pay and Allowances will be the same as for Officers holding permanent commissions.

Gratuity

A gratuity of one month pay and allowances for each year of service will be paid to officers who are not granted permanent commissions at the end of the Short Service term.

Uniform Allowances

Officers appointed to Short Service Commissions in the Canadian Army Active Force will be given an adequate outfit allowance.

Omemee Women's Association Figures Ways Get Money

OMEMEE, Feb. 23 (ENS)— Trinity United Church W.A. held their February meeting at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon.

Methods of raising money for the building fund was discussed. It was decided to continue the talent money project again this year. On motion of Mrs. V. Lang and Miss O. Wilton a bacon and egg supper on March 17 was arranged. Mrs. H. Lang, Mrs. J. B. Hough and Mrs. R. E. Brooks were appointed as menu committee, and Mrs. T. J. Pogue and Mrs. M. Finney as table committee. A spring tea was discussed, final arrangements to be made at the next meeting.

It was decided to buy a $500 government bond and on motion of Mrs. S. Moyer and Mrs. V. Lang, Miss O. Wilton was authorized to make the purchase.

Mrs. G. Overholt was in charge of the devotional and was assisted by Mrs. V. Lang, Mrs. Hough and Mrs. H. Deyell. Mrs. Hough gave the commentary on the scripture which was read by Mrs. Lang, and Mrs. Deyell dealt with the topic, based on the parable of the "Publican and the Pharisee." Miss L. Race played a piano solo.

Lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. Moyer and Miss Wilton.

Mary Spencer Named Queen Of Ice Carnival

YOUNG'S POINT, Feb. 23 — (ENS)— Four hundred people gathered Wednesday night at the school rink for the ice carnival sponsored by the Young's Point Home and School Association.

Queen of the carnival was Miss Mary Spencer, and she was crowned by Herb McIlmoyle, chairman of the school board.

The girls from Young's Point edged a Buckhorn girls' team 3-2 in a hockey game and an exhibition of broom ball by the men completed the sports.

Prizes for costumes were as follows: pre-school, Bobby Godfrey; grade 1-4 girls, Sharon O'Brien, Linda Paris; boys, Tommy Freeburn, Teddy Brooks; grade 5-8 girls, Mary Bristow, Marilyn Jones; boys, Gary Jones, Jack Godfrey; adults, Mary Spencer, Mrs. K. Young.

Victoria Teachers Average $3,281

Average salaries paid to teachers in Lindsay public and high schools is comparable to those paid in similar-sized municipalities, a spokesman of the Board announced this week.

In the Victoria County school district there are 32 teachers receiving a total of $105,000 per annum, an average of $3,281. Salaries range from the lowest of $2,500 to the high of $4,000. Thirty-three teachers on Lindsay public school staff receive $88,700 each year an average $2,687. The lowest paid is $2,000 and the top salary, $3,500.

Thin Ice

HALIFAX — (CP) — Mild weather in the Maritimes worries ice men here. They're wondering where to get ice when there is not enough frost to freeze lakes and rivers in depth. Machinery for cutting block ice needs a depth of about 10 inches, but most water has only three or four inches of ice.

BUYS FINE PACER — Above is shown Aprilway, handsome three-year-old pacer recently purchased by M. J. Storey of Peterborough from Ed Birtch of Smiths Falls. The gelded son of Royal Bars and Kantara impressed many observers at Saratoga Raceway, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., last year where he finished first, second or third eight times in 12 starts, and earned a record of 2.11 1/5.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A word about basketball first. Four games here this evening by the femmes. Two in the YW, starting at eight bells, Normals vs. Nurses, and Black's vs. CGE, with the schedule winding up on March 9. Two lasses' games at the Collegiate as the Port Hopers play PCVS juniors and seniors in the finishing frays of their abbreviated Lakeshore schedule. The PCVS juvenile boys hit into OABA playdowns away this weekend, while Hamilton Mormons hope to end their OABA intermediate "A" sawoffs against Clapper Bruins in the YMCA tomorrow night. Marines meet the Georgian Bay winners in OABA intermediate "B" playdowns the same evening.

* * * * * *

It's OHA senior "B" hockey night at Civic Arena tonight at 8.30 when Kingston Nylons play the Petes in their last clash of the regular schedule. You might term it a preview of their best-of-five series, starting next Wednesday, to send one team into senior "A" and Allan Cup contention, loser dropping back to group senior "B" finals. Same night sees Queen's at Belleville, while Monday ends the schedule with the Redmen vs. Eagles here. Then, 'tis playoff time. Folks shouldn't pass up this game here tonight as they'll get a good idea of how hot the Nylons really are just as the important series is coming up. The Petes will have to be good to take 'em.

* * * * * *

They Don't Use "Fix"

It speaks well for honesty in hockey when the Petes went all out here Wednesday to beat Eagles. Both clubs, in the red financially, would have loved a playoff series against each other. Big crowds at every game and no travelling expenses. Yet the old bitter rivals would neither ask for quarter nor give any. It was straight hockey with fights, slashing, boarding, elbowing and butt-ending—the only way these teams know how to play against each other. No Brotherhood Week spirit there. Either one would sacrifice a lot of money to beat the other—and this time the Petes emerged on top; so they won't meet in the Allan Cup sawoff series. Even the most cynical fan must admit the "fix" was not in it.

* * * * * *

Don't forget that important OHA junior "B" playoff game here tomorrow night between Lindsay Kin and the IOOF-ers. Saturday was the only night the Oddfellows could get for this second of the best-of-five semi-final series on home ice, but they expect a huge crowd out. They should get it, too, as it'll be a streamlined honey every minute. Lindsay edged out a win in overtime in the first game, and Bun Kingdon's scrappy young crew can't afford to take another loss. They ought to yank out the verdict here Saturday to sew up the series, and then it's just a tossup. Two hustling outfits, which play it hard and fast from gong to gong. Other games are listed for Feb. 27 in Lindsay, March 2 here, and there on March 5.

Minor Puckists Click

At least 600 fans on deck at the arena last night to see the OMHA-ers go. First games of provincial "A" playdowns for our bantam, midget and juvenile puck squads, and they downed the three Oshawa teams neatly. Local juvenile Oddfellows took an 8-3 win, Outboard Marines midgets won 7-2, and the young McGillis Eagles took their bantam tussle 4-1. Some of these margins may not hold up in the return games of the goals-to-count series Saturday morn in Oshawa, but we rather expect the Peterborough packs to hurdle the Motor City obstacle and continue along the playdown path. There's room for about 14 more fans on a bus going to Oshawa Saturday morn for the games. Phone 3347.

This from the Orillia News-Letter: "Speaking of lacrosse, as some people are just now, Peterborough is making an all-out effort to assemble a Mann Cup contender. Manager Curtin already has added Lloyd Wootton, star Owen Sound goaler, and Jack Mason, forward with the same club, to his lineup and his search for talent has even included Orillia. The Petes would like Robert (Terry) Gordon to locate in the liftlock city. The redhead, who is doing a workmanlike chore for Jim Milligan's hockey squad, formerly played with the Petes three seasons back when the club won senior 'B' honors, being selected the club's most valuable all-around player. The Peterborough club may have another former Orillian in the lineup. Bun Hill is still living in that city and, according to reports, he may sign on as understudy goaler to Wootton, selected as the standout goaler in the senior OLA last year."

Local Hockey Squads Take Opening Tilts Over Oshawa

Three Peterborough teams defeated Oshawa here last night in opening games of OMHA bantam, midget and juvenile "A' series, the return games of the goals-to-count series being in Oshawa on Saturday morning. A crowd of 600 fans saw the speedy triple-header at Civic Arena. The McGillis Eagles won the bantam tilt 4-1, the Outboard Marines took the midget contest 7-2 over Oshawa Lions, and the Oddfellows downed their opponents 8-3.

Mahoney scored the only goal in the first frame of the bantam affair on a pass from Sutherland. Tureski tied it in the second for Oshawa, but Godfrey counted a pair and Floyd one for the McGillis boys in the third, Heffernan, Floyd and Godfrey each having an assist. Only four penalties were handed out in the fast, clean and interesting struggle. The Eagles take a three-goal lead into the return match.

Close in First

It was 1-1 in the first period of the midget tilt, Kearns hitting the hemp for Marines' alone, and O'Reilly evening it up from Brodie. Marines tallied twice in the second, Kearns and Turner being the marksmen as McDougall, Corbett and Ball each earned an assist. They rammed home four in a row in the third, McGrath counting two, and McGrath, Strickland and Frizzelle one apiece. Brodie notched one late for the Lions from Fisher. There were seven penalties, including a misconduct to Johnston of Oshawa.

The Oddfellows rolled in the first heat of the juvenile joust, having a 4-1 margin. Pammett scored two, Doris and Ferguson getting one each, with Pammett, Sullivan and Cupoli each helping once. Wilson tallied from King for the visitors. McTavish from Hughes for Oshawa was the only second period marker. The winners got four more in the third, Hope, Dunn, Caravaggie and Doris scoring, the latter. Cupoli and Caravaggie having an assist each. Myles counted from McTavish for Oshawa. Only three penalties were handed out. Teams:

Oshawa Bantams: Melnick, Fleming, Weldon, Vanderwater, Douglas, Shaw, Sholdia, Tureski, Vaughan, Reid, Wallace, Burnoski, Proctor, Heath. Underwood.

McGillis: Masterson, Keating, Orr, Godfrey, Heffernan, Floyd, Davis, Mahoney, Brown, Forestell, Garvey, Sutherland, Curtis, Rusaw, Buckley.

Oshawa Lions: Howe, Johnston, Dykstra, Scero, Fisher, N. Chasczewski, Gurney, J. Chasczewski, Spiers, Mallett, Broadbent, O'Reilly, Broadie.

Marines: Delahaye, McGillen, Holden, Kearns, Frizzelle, McDougall, Byrne, Ball, Strickland, McGrath, Corbett, Gardner, Turner, McCormick.

Oshawa Juveniles: Knight, Johnston, Burr, Woodcock, Sutton, Wodnicky, Keetch, Shearer, Hewitt, Wilson, King, McTavish, Hughes, Myles.

Oddfellows: West, Kimball, Church, Pammett, Sullivan, Ferguson, Doris, Buchan, Hope, Cupoli, Caravaggie, Dunn, White, Jones, Bryan.

Atkins And Layton In British Empire Elimination Match

A British Empire elimination match featuring Lord Athol Layton and Fred Atkins has been signed for next Tuesday's mat card at the Brock Arena.

Layton had demanded a return match with The Mask, claiming he was jobbed this week, but the hooded one refused to meet him. Atkins was more than anxious for the bout, claiming that a win over the Englishman would put him in line for a title shot at Watson. He also has some personal reasons for wanting a crack at Layton.

The spectacular six-foot-six, 258-pound Layton, also with his eye on Watson's title, agreed to the contest with Atkins, but was burned up at the Mask running out. Fans are in for a treat when these two hook up as neither one has turned in a dull performance in their engagements here. It will be a mat classic.

The remainder of the card measures up to the main event. Timothy Geohagen meets Lee Henning in the semi-final and Sonny Kurgis takes on Kaye Bell in the opener.

B. Smith Leads Lasses

Bessie Smith led the ladies of the Mercantile Bowling League in singles with 261 this week, as Marcelle Lake was tops in threes with 650. Frank Worsencroft's 265 was best in men's singles, and Harold Mesley's 687 topped the triples. Austin's had high pinnage of 2,801 and Utilities rolled leading game of 1,022. Braund's No. 1 and Loblaw's blanked Prudential and A & P, as Utilities tied Bond's, and Austin's and Lift Lock took 3-1 wins over City Hall and Braund's No. 2.

Other good triples by the lasses were: Shirley Berwick 613, Joan Ronco and Verna Hopkins 592 each. High men's counts included: Frank Worsencroft 648, Don Penrose 632, Bob Willshaw 604, and Harold Cawker 599.

Pt. Hope Evens Cobourg Series

PORT HOPE, Feb. 23. — Eighteen hundred fans, the largest crowd to enter the year-old Peter Campbell Memorial Arena, saw Port Hope Redmen even the best-of-five playoff series with Cobourg Pavs at two games each with a 6-3 win.

The Pavs won the first two games of the OHA Intermediate A series by narrow margins. This fourth contest was the most one-sided of the four played to date.

Norm Kelly, with two goals, Sliver Donoghue with two assists and one goal, and Len Ashby, were the standouts for Port Hope. Hardest working member of the Cobourg team was goalkeeper Slip Rowe.

Cobourg — Goal, Rowe; defence, Buchanan, McMillan; centre, B. Cane; wings, Maundrell, Tripp; alternates, H. Cane, Wilcox, Forbes, Campbell, Ferguson, Hogan, Smith, Cooper, Jones.

Port Hope — Goal, Edgar; defence, Kaufman, Hoy; centre, Ashby; wings, Donoghue, Racine; alternates, Casey, Kelly, Legrow, Hehhin, Douglas, Gordon, Forster, Baker.

Third Event At Ottawa Won By Dr. Clark Rink

By HERB MARTIN

Word came through last evening that Dr. R. Clark's rink won the third event (the Carson Trophy) at the Ottawa centennial bonspiel. He had with him Dr. M. McCartney, W. A. Smith and A. Jones.

The rinks for the leads and seconds' bonspiel have been made up and are posted on the blackboard. Players are asked to see whose rink they are attached to.

We expect seven rinks from Orillia this evening.

Bill Cruthers, Tom McArthur, Ray Best and Dr. Wesley Clark have withdrawn from the Colts' competition for this season.

Tomorrow's 'spiel is set for 9.00 a.m. and will be all over by 6.00 p.m.

Panthers Humble Bowmanville 18-2

PORT HOPE, Feb. 23 — Port Hope Panthers had little trouble humbling Bowmanville Lions 18-2 in the first game of their OHA Junior C playdowns here.

Don Goody was Port Hope's leading scorer with four goals and three assists. Other goalgetters were Coon Medhurst, Dancy Campbell, Harris McKeen, Jim Freeman, Doug Fisher and Japper Wilcox with two goals each, and Bud Downey and Clarke Harnden. Bowmanville's two counters were off the sticks of Glen Girards and Phil Kilpatrick.

King Edward Victors

King Edward blanked the shorthanded but game Queen Alex puckists of the school league 5-0 at the arena. J. Sutherland shone for the winners by pitching home four goals, as Jim Orr got the other. It was 3-0 in the first frame with the winners being held to one goal each in the last two periods. Teams:

King Edward: Hobart, Chalmers, Curtis, Orr, Robbins, J. Sutherland, J. Phillips, D. Sutherland, Rusaw, Tarkington, McArthur, A. Phillips, Mills, McIntosh, Hill.

Queen Alex: Morris, Baker, McClennan, Brown, Macklin, Druce, Hewitt, Jackson, Kemp.

Roseneath Horse Scores Twin Win

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP) — Ra Direct, owned and driven by Alan Pacey of Roseneath, scored a double win in the feature harness race, a classified pace, at Dufferin Park Thursday.

In the first heat Ra Direct assumed command soon after the start. He gradually increased his margin into a long lead, and turning for home Pacey sent him to the exertme outside and won easily. Mary Up, slow to settle in best stride in the early stages, was second. Barkis was third.

In the second heat Ra Direct took command at the start. He was displaced by Mary Up in the front stretch and then continued to force the pace while being rated along expertly by Pacey. Entering the home stretch he again was sent to the extreme outside and when Mary Up made a break, went on to win handily.

Rule Jimmy Flood Out Of Garden Bout

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP)—Jimmy Flood was ruled out of tonight's Madison Square Garden bout with Tony Janiro as "not in condition at this time to engage in a boxing contest." Fitzie Pruden, of St. Catharines, was signed as a last-minute sub titute for the 10-rounder.

Flood was ordered out by chairman Eddie Egan of the New York State Athletic Commission at the suggestion of three doctors, including Dr. Charles Muzzicato, acting chairman of the medical advisory board to the commission.

Pressed to find a sub on short notice, matchmaker Al Weill called in Pruden, a Jan. 1 Milwaukee winner over Beau Jack. Fitzie, 21, has won 45 of 55 bouts. He's a capable boxer and good puncher, handicapped by a skin that cuts easily.

Janiro, 23-year-old Youngstown, Ohio, playboy and veteran of 91 fights, lost his last two to Rocky Graziano and Kid Gavilan. He upset Charlie Fusari last year and fought a surprising draw with Graziano last March 31.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Gordie Howe of Detroit is still in undisputed possession of first place in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race with 69 points—31 goals and 38 assists.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal netted another goal Thursday night to confirm him as league-leading sniper. The goal gave him a total of 49 pointe and a tie for third place.

The leaders:	G	A	Pts.
Howe, Detroit	31	38	69
Abel, Detroit	20	33	53
Richard, Montreal	34	15	49

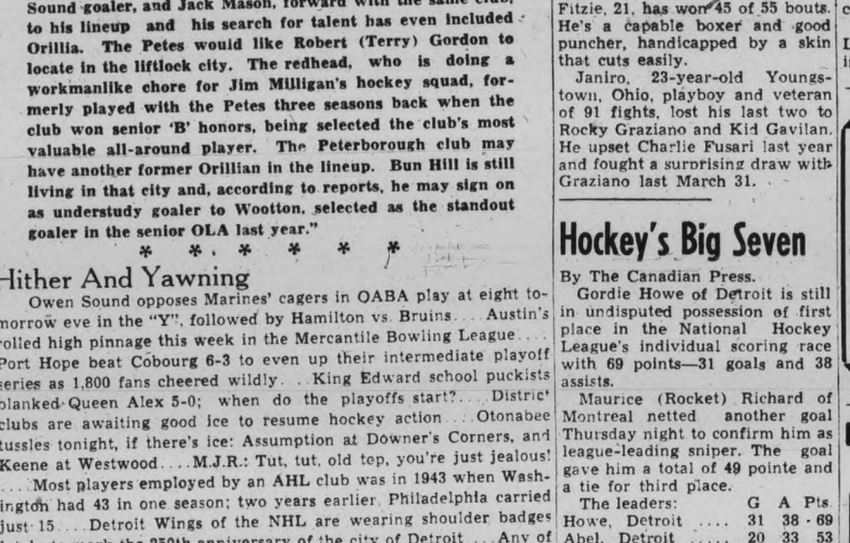
Lacrosse Star Dies



OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP). — George Henry Marsh, 70, a lacrosse great of a half-century ago, died Thursday night. He was a member of the Capital Lacrosse Club in the early 1900s, played in championship matches in Montreal, Toronto, Cornwall and Ottawa. Survivors include one son, Edward C. Marsh, assistant managing editor of The Citizen

British Skater Wins

MILAN, Italy, Feb. 23 (Reuters) —Jeanette Altwegg, British and European figure-skating champion, today advanced far toward gaining the world title with a brilliant opening performance at the world championships here.

In the first three of six obligatory figures—first event of the three-day world contest here — the 20-year-old Liverpool girl outclassed 22 other competitors from nine countries.

On crackling ice in Milan's Palazzo Del Ghiaccio (Palace of Ice) she established a sound points lead over her three chief rivals—France's Jacqueline Du Bief, Canada's Suzanne Morrow, Canadian champion from Toronto, and Sonya Klopfer of the United States.

MANITOBA WINNERS—Roy Forsyth and his Winnipeg Strathcona rink will represent Manitoba in the Canadian curling championships at Halifax next month. It will be the first time any member of the rink has participated in the Dominion classic. They won the provincial crown by defeating Jimmy Welsh of Winnipeg Deer Lodge, a former Canadian titlist, 15-4, in a sudden-death final. Left to right, they are: Forsyth, skip; Lorne Stewart, third; Alistair McDiarmid, second; and Art Meers, lead.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Last chance of Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen making a playoff spot in the Ontario Hockey Association major series disappeared Thursday.

The club was notified that its protest against Toronto St. Michael's victory Feb. 14 had been rejected by the OHA.

The league told the club that it had no ground for the protest and returned the protest fee. The Dutchmen claimed referee Jack Hogan erred in giving a 10-minute misconduct to a Kitchener-Waterloo player for fighting but not giving the same penalty to a St. Michael's player involved in the affair.

The best the Dutchmen can do in their remaining games is get eight points. They're 10 behind the third-place Hamilton Tigers.

Boston College's hockey team Thursday night upset Canada's intercollegiate hockey champions from the University of Toronto 4-3.

Coach Wally Halder of the Toronto team and 1948 Canadian Olympic captain, was charged with a misconduct penalty after he rushed on the ice to protest a holding penalty called by referee Art Smith against Jack MacDougall.

Halder was ordered from the team's bench and left only after police had been called. The game was delayed 10 minutes.

Glen Skov of Windsor, Red Wing rookie forward who was stricken by the flu epidemic in Montreal, will be back in the Detroit lineup for Sunday's game against the Rangers in New York

Two-ton Tony Galento of Newark, N. J., wrestler and former heavyweight boxer, will fly to England March 8 for a series of wrestling bouts there and on the continent.

Galento, knocked out by Joe Louis in a heavyweight title bout in 1939, will wrestle against Jack Doyle, Irish heavyweight who fought in the United States in the middle '30s, at Harringay Stadium, London.

Gorgeous Gussie Moran will drop out of the Bobby Riggs tennis tour due to illness. Other members of the troupe will continue without her, it was revealed when the star tennis players arrived for their scheduled exhibition at Shreveport, La., Thursday.

Fred Saigh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, said Thursday he would like to see a "strong-fisted" man take over baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler's job.

Such a man would be one who "preferably has been out of politics."

Asked who he had in mind to fill the role of a strong man he said he had no choice.

The major league club officials meet at Miami Beach March 12 to discuss the commissioner question. The meeting was called by Chandler.

Black Hawks Begin Clicking Edge Canadiens In 3-2 Win

By MEL SUFFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A small hockey crowd of 4,912 sat in the big Chicago Stadium Thursday night and saw what might have been.

They watched Chicago Black Hawks play hockey as they have seldom played it this season. The result was a hard-earned 3-2 victory over Montreal Canadiens.

It was only the second win for the cellar-dwelling Black Hawks in 31 games, but it was a fair illustration of what the team might have been if it hadn't run into one of the worst epidemics of injuries to befall a National Hockey League team in years.

It was the first time since Nov. 22—three months ago—that Ebbie Goodfellow had sent a full complement of 18 men into the game. It was also the first game in two weeks for Harry Lumley, one of hockey's best goaltenders, whose fate most of this season has been to play behind a defence sadly weakened by injuries to such top performers as Jack Stewart and Bill Gadsby.

Gadsby made his presence felt Thursday night, scoring Chicago's second goal besides playing a good game back of the blue line.

Lumley Terrific

Lumley also played a terrific game in the nets. The Chicago performance generally was a demonstration of how a good goalie gives a' team confidence and of how a team does the same for its goalie when it is flying on the offensive.

The Hawks set up a furious attack for two periods and it gave them a 3-0 lead. Bill Mosienko got the only goal of the first period on a pass from Pete Babando. Don Morrison and Adam Brown set up Gadsby's second-period goal and Morrison got the third minutes later on a play with Jim and Roy Conacher.

Montreal turned it on in the third and Bernie Geoffrion, a rookie, was the first to beat Lumley on a relay with Bob Dawes and Paul Meger. Maurice (Rocket) Richard scored his 34th goal of the season with less than two minutes left, Geoffrion assisting. The goal is one short of 35, the figure at which Richard qualifies for extra bonuses.

It was a particularly unpleasant loss for Canadiens, who figured to pick up two much-needed points at the expense of the Hawks. It robbed them of a chance to pull into a tie with New York Rangers for fourth place, the last of the playoff spots.

Convict Pair Of Fixing Fight

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 23 (AP)—A criminal court jury late Thursday night convicted two men accused of fixing two prize fights here.

The jury fixed a penalty of 11 months and 29 days for gambler Frank Gasone and 30 days for James A. Manley, promoter-referee of the two questioned bouts.

Formal sentencing probably will not be held for two weeks.

Both were charged with bribing boxers to enable placing of cinch bets at the Fair Grounds November 21.

The match involved in the trial was between heavyweights Harold (Buddy) Scott of Dallas and Oscar Buchanan of Memphis. Scott, the pre-fight favorite, dropped to the canvas in the third round.

The other bout, not included in the bribery charge, was between welterweights Sanford L. Barrom of Memphis and Johnny Burke of Birmingham, Ala.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

First Rally of Peterborough Forums Mon., Feb. 26 .... Swine Breeders Meet at Y.M.C.A. Mar. 1.... Quinte Cattle Breeders' Unit Includes Shorthorns .... Northumberland Forums at Warkworth Tues., Feb. 26.

Two livestock meetings in the next fortnight should be circled on the calendar.

They are: Swine producers at the YMCA Thursday March 1, at 1.30 p.m.; and Maple cattle breeders also at the YMCA on Tuesday March 6.

Speakers for the meeting of the swine producers are Elgin Senn of the Dominion marketing service, who is expected to talk on marketing conditions as affecting pork products, and Dr. H. L. Patterson of the farm economics branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Talk About Costs

Dr. Patterson will discuss cost of pork production based on the actual figures obtained from the 65 demonstration herds of pigs in the province last year. The annual meeting of hog producers in the last two years were well attended, and it is likely that the turnout next Thursday will at least be as large as usual. It is the members of the local association who make these meetings a real success.

Maple Unit Review

Several of the executives of the Maple Cattle Breeders Association will be here for the Peterborough branch meeting March 6. Local membership has been growing steadily.

F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative, commented that this will be the usual opportunity to get the facts of progress, and to discuss any questions local cattle breeders wish to bring before the meeting.

✦ ✦ ✦

SALE OF AYRSHIRES

Sale of 74 head of Ayrshire cattle for $22,530, averaging $304.46, dispersed the W. Leigh Hogg herd at Spruce Manor Farm, Baden.

That total included ten calves born after the catalogue went to press.

The five year old bull, Burnside Guardsman, sold for $800 to Baker Bros. of St. Mary's. Some of the heifers and cows sold for $400 and up to $455. The three year old Spruce Manor Gay Gardenia brought $560 from W. H. Green and Son, Brantford.

✦ ✦ ✦

INURED TO WAR

The apparent indifference of the people of Denmark, Holland and Belgium to the prospect of another war has been the sharpest impression reported by V. C. Porteous, director of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, on a brief tour of the western area of the continent with the two Ontario plowing champions who are competing in Britain.

"It would appear," he writes, "that generations now living here are so used to the idea of war that its inevitability is taken for granted. To me, it is like living at the foot of a volcano, safe now, but for how long no one knows."

Rally Of Forums

Peterborough Farm Forums are holding their first county rally Monday, Feb. 26 at the Normal School.

"All our Forums announced it at their meetings Monday night this week," said Wellington Sutton, "and I think we are going to have a large attendance.

A sing-song will precede the broadcast, which is at the usual time of 8:30 p.m. The program includes musical numbers, films, and a period of games conducted by Alex Sinclair, the city's recreation director."

Report of Lily Lake Forum which met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tully, with Will Anderson chairman, appears to be typical of all the others in this detail: "It was decided that all members should attend the rally at the Normal School."

BRIAN McCAGUE

Wins Canadian Judging Title

With a perfect score of 150 points, Brian McCague of Aliston, Ont., is announced winner of the All-Canadian junior judging competition. It drew 613 entries from boys' and girls' calf clubs throughout Canada.

Only once before in the nine-year history of this event has the winner turned in a perfect score.

Bill Petherick of Campbellford was one of 18 junior farmers with a score of 142 points. He is one of the top 100 receiving an All-Canadian calendar, and also for the special cash prize to the leading 50 winners.

Second place this year went to Bill Grieve, Wilton Grove, Ont., with 148 points while four contestants were tied for fourth with 146 points. These included the top girl, Marbeth McCully, St. Mary's Ont.; Norman Clauesson, Huntingdon, Que.; Henry J. Stanley, Carleton Place, Ont., and Arthur Bogue, Glanworth, Ont.

Seventeen-year-old Brian McCague has been a member of the Beeton calf club for three years. He takes a deep interest in the Glenafton herd of his father, J. J. E. McCague, and according to Mort Butchers who is in charge of the herd, is as good as any man they have ever had on the place, assuming full responsibility for the feeding of the young stock. He's on the job every day too, not just when he feels like it. In club work his calf has stood first each year; he has had a fourth and two thirds for showmanship; and on aggregate score on the year's work has twice been first and once sixth.

Is Club President

The second-place winner, Bill Grieve, is the 19-year-old soon of John M. Grieve, popular president of the Middlesex Holstein Club. A younger brother, Don, had a score of 144 points. Both are members of the Dorchester calf club. Bill has belonged to this club for seven years and has had the high aggregate score on four different occasions. At present he is assiting his father on the home farm and states that the training he has received in calf club work has meant a lot to him and is very appreciative of the time and effort that has been spent on this work by the club leaders.

Top Girl's Record

Marbeth McCully, the top girl in the competition, has an amazing list of accomplishments. Just 16-years-old and a daughter of Norman McCully, St. Mary's, she is in fifth form at St. Mary's Collegiate, has been a member of the St. Mary's calf club for four years and has had the top calf three years. During 1950 she had the top calf, the high judging score, stood first for showmanship and had the high aggregate score on the year's work. For four years she has been a member of a Hybrid Corn club in which she has had the high aggregate score for the past three years. In addition she has won prizes at several seed shows, including a first at the Royal, and a third at the Chicago International. In 1950 she had the high score in the St. Mary's Forestry club and was a member of the team that was a runner-up for the Provincial Award in Forestry at the Junior Judging Contest held at the OAC in October.

Arthur Bogue, one of those tied for third place with 146 points, is another member of the Dorchester calf club. Henry J. Stanley, also tied for third, graduated from Carleton Place High School a year and a half ago although only 17 now. Norman Clauesson, also with 146 points, is a 17-year-old member of the Huntingdon calf club.

Eleven contestants had scores of 144 points. These included Joe Jackson of the Bear's Paw club, Calgary, Alta., the top scorer from Western Canada.

Wool Menaced By Synthetics

That phrase "all wool and a yard wide," boast of the textile trade all the way back to pre-Tudor times when English yeomen were making the best cloth in the world and founding the nation's first great industry, is being overshadowed by necessary substitutes.

"All wool" has already shrunk to 35 per cent in some instances. The rest of that "yard" may be rayon. Nylon is another synthetic substitute apparently coming into use since governments began stock-piling wool for military requirements.

Several months ago a news report from Ottawa said there was a project afoot to provide the army with nylon and wool socks.

Here are some indicative figures of contrast: From 1941 to 1944 the number of fleeces passing through registered warehouses of this country rose annually from 8,235,885 pounds to 10,552,794 pounds but then decline to 4,500,000 pounds in 1950, acocrding to W. H. J. Tisdale of the Co-Operative Wool Growers.

Canadian production of rayon and nylon was 81 million yards in 1946 and 118 million yards in 1949. That information is from the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Rayon is already largely used in some light suitings, and may get around to mixtures for heavy suitings and winter overcoats.

Mr. Tisdale said Ontario farmers are not "wool conscious" although breeding has been stepped up sharply in the last year and a half, and today's ewes are paying off at prices that have been surprising farmers who have sheep for sale.

Consumption of wool in Canada, Mr. Tisdale said, is around one billion pounds a year. Ontario's annual production is about 3,500,000 pounds.

New York Times commented this week that world consumption of wool has exceeded production for more than five consecutive years. Blankets that cost the US Navy $7 in the recent war now bring $12.50. It predicts that 30 per cent of this year's blankets will be woven of wool and rayon.

Says the Times: "When we remember how rayon crowded silk virtually out of the market, the future of wool seems none too bright." Also: "More and more carpets and rugs in which rayon is incorporated are appearing on the market . . . There is little difference in the insulation value of wool, cotton, rayon, or any other of the new synthetics. Insulation depends more on dead space than on anything else. Hence, it is the fluffiness of wool that counts.

"Hence, too, the fluffiness and softness of the synthetic fibres that have been developed to take the place of wool."

"The petroleum refinery and the natural gas well are displacing sheep," the Times remarks, but even that high source of opinion is unlikely to divert the confirmed preferences for woollen goods, providing they are in the stores.

and picnic each year with occasional special meetings such as that which was held at Warkworth last fall to consider hospitalization plans.

Program includes election of officers, lunch and hour of dancing.

Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative says in his weekly letter: "Each group is asked to bring sandwiches and cake. Drinks will be served." That last promise might lift some eyebrows if it were possible to imagine that the drinks were anything but soft.

✦ ✦ ✦

ENQUIRY FROM CBC

The enterprise of local Junior Farmers in sponsoring club work is likely to get broad publicity over CBC on March 15. F. C. Paterson has received an enquiry for information of this assumed activity of local Juniors whose work in the last few years has been notably helpful among the younger club members.

The calf, grain and forestry clubs were thoroughly established with results that were reported during the season up to and beyond achievement day.

✦ ✦ ✦

WHEAT CLUB MEETING

Fifteen of the 23 boys and girls of the junior wheat club accompanied by some of their parents came in to their meeting Monday night. Alan Stewart and Don Chambers conducted the meeting, assisting Robert Bell, assistant agricultural representative.

This club was organized last summer. Its members have plots of winter wheat that have been well covered with snow until this week's mild weather and rain melted most of that blanket. Their program includes these winter meetings. There was a seed judging competition Monday, and an instructive film "Grass Roots in the Soil."

Nature's bequest of virgin soil was graphically shown in the introductory footage of film. Original grasses grew year after year. Their leafage decayed and became absorbed into the soil and with their root systems formed rich humus in which pioneer farmers grew their first crops. It was nature's wealth of black top.

For the club members that must have been an impressive objective lesson in a fundamental of good soil content. The use of it by generations of farmers a subsequent section of the s... in pictures.

✦ ✦ ✦

UNIT INCLUDES SHORTHORNS

Addition of the Shorthorn service to the Quinte Cattle Breeders unit was the subject of recent meetings in Northumberland. At Grafton, directors Stanley Macklin and Douglas Hoskin were reappointed directors to assist technician Keith Gardiner; and the Shorthorn committee was Don Carruthers and Meredith Harper.

Harwood officers: Earle Drope and James Webb, and committee there: John Lean and Tom Swift to co-operate with technician Ellis Isaac. At Campbellford: Lindsay Anderson, chairman of the Unit directors was returned with Reg Seymour; Walter Elliott is technician.

At Brighton, Douglas Turney and Douglas Fox are directors with Will Potts.

Dr. J. M. McLean of the Quinte Breeders Association discussed its sires at all meetings. General satisfaction was expressed with "the excellent results with Holsteins." Fifty-one are applying for service for 544 Shorthorn cows.

✦ ✦ ✦

TWO RINKS OF JUNIORS

Peterborough Junior Farmers are grooming two rinks for a junior bonspiel at Lindsay March 10. They had a group workout Wednesday afternoon at Charlotte St. rink. Prospective personnel is: Deb Coward, W. Miller, Kemp brothers, Bob Bell, Don McFarlane, Keith McIntyre and Everett McFarlane.

Otonabee is getting back into curling at the community memorial rink at Keene. There used to be quite a strong curling club among the Scotsmen down in the township.

The pioneers from the Old Land brought the game to the Indian River. Later on a club was organized in the rink at Keene and was active for years.

Some of the names that come to mind are: Jack Drummond, Bobby Nelson, Gilbert Howson, Mike Kennealy, Jack Moore, Billy Wedlock, Dr. Vic McWilliams, Robert McCamus, Fred Eason, A. Smith, Keene banker at that time, Stan Taylor, who was a youngster in the latter days of the club, refreshed that memory.

In its present revival the men's curling club has 96 men and the women's group comprises 48, a decidedly strong membership.

Mr. Charles Forsyth, new secretary of the YMCA, in his talk on the general subject of a philosophy of living, to the Junior Farmers at Normal School Tuesday night advised them to avoid the groove of what he termed "spectatoritis." He strongly suggested that they should actively engage in some sports such as basketball, hockey and so on.

Four other recommendations in brief were: know thyself, deny thyself, trust thyself and prepare thyself.

Don Milburn showed a series of interesting screen pictures of the nine Ontario Juniors who were selected for the trip last year to West Virginia. He was one of them.

✦ ✦ ✦

INCOME TAX MEETING

Federal income tax affecting farmers will be the subject of a Northumberland Federation meeting at Brighton March 1. President Earle Drope of Harwood and secretary Wesley Down of Hilton have promised an assembly of two hundred members.

The speaker will be R. A. Stewart, BSA, Almonte, past president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. He has been convener of a Federation committee on income tax.

Mr. Stewart hopes to be accompanied by H. McGroggin, director of rural income tax inspectors, Ottawa.

Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative, comments: "There seems little doubt that the income tax system is here to stay, and it is important that we all learn to understand it, and give and receive fair treatment."

DR. F. A. STINSON

Dr. F. A. Stinson Resigns Post

President J. D. MacLachlan of OAC announces the resignation of Dr. Ford A. Stinson of the Soils Department of the college, his resignation to take effect February 28.

(Dr Stinson is a former Dummer township boy. His brother, Mr. Gordon Stinson, now living on the homestead, on the sixth concession of Dummer, is one of the progessive farmers of this county. The Examiner announced some weeks ago the prospective resignation of Dr. Stinson.)

Dr. Stinson leaves Canada about March 21 on a four-year contract to take up the post of Director of Research for the Tobacco Research Board of Southern Rhodesia, in Africa. His headquarters will be Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, and he will direct the work at five experiment stations located throughout the area.

Appointed head of the Soils Department at OAC in August, 1949, Dr. Stinson has established in the short time since his appointment a reputation for his vigorous approach to Ontario's soils problems. He was chairman of the Fertilizer Board in 1950 and is a member of the Soil Survey Committee and director of Soil Surveys for Ontario. He faces a new challenge in Africa, where the importance of his new post may be appreciated when it is realized that tobacco is the main crop of the area and the backbone of the economy.

Dr. Stinson's early work was in the service of the Dominion Experimental Station at Harrow, Ontario, in connection with tobacco, cereal, forage, and horticultural crops. He was appointed officer in charge of the Dominion Experimental Substation at Delhi in 1935, where his work has included the development of research in the various phases of flue-cured tobacco production. He is well known throughout Central and Southwestern Ontario by all flue tobacco growers.

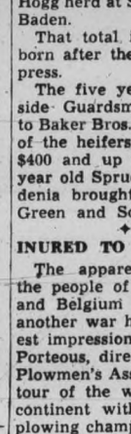
Dr. Stinson was born and raised on a farm near Norwood in Peterborough county. After senior matriculation at Norwood High School he entered the OAC in 1930 and graduated in 1934. While a student at the college he won the County Council Massey Fund Scholarship in 1930 and the Group Two Scholarship in 1931. He served on the executive of various student organizations and was a member of the Student's Council in his fourth year. Dr. Stinson took his MSA degree at the University of Toronto in 1938 and his PhD degree at the University of North Carolina in 1949. He is a member of Sigma Xi, the Agricultural Institute of Canada, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Federation In CHEX Series

Federation of Agriculture executive has arranged for a series of broadcasts over CHEX on Saturdays from 12.15 to 12.25 p.m. beginning Saturday, March 3.

The first will be a panel discussion by W. W. Dawson and John Kitney, the present president and secretary of Peterborough Federation, with Reeve James Gifford and Frank C. Paterson, who were the original president and secretary respectively.

This is a noon hour broadcast in the ten minutes allotted by CHEX.



Peterborough Federation was the first organized in the province, sponsored by the county council, and Mr. Gifford was the first president of the Ontario Federation. Many of the farmers of Peterborough do not realize the important place they quickly assumed in the establishment of this great Canadian agricultural organization.

The series is at present planned for six Saturdays. It was the only time available in the CHEX schedule.

Negro Soldiers Get Bad Break

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23. — (AP).—Negro soldiers accused of misconduct in the Korean war area have been given little chance to clear themselves at army courts-martial, Thurgood Marshall, special counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here Thursday.

Marshall, just returned from a five-week tour of Japan and Korea undertaken with the cooperation of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters made a four-point accusation:

1. Courts-martial for Negro troops were conducted with "no time or effort for truth."
2. Accused Negro soldiers were not allowed to choose their own defence counsel.
3. Defence counsels were not given time to prepare cases.
4. Army courts were conducted in a general atmosphere of discrimination that convinced accused soldiers there was no chance of proving themselves innocent.

In contrast to the army, he said, all navy and air force units he visited have integrated their Negro and white personnel.

He said he had spoken to MacArthur about the situation and received headquarters assurances that "steps were being taken" toward the integration of Negro personnel.

Consumer Resistance

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP) — About 1,000,000 pounds of locally-dressed beef is reported in storage here because of consumer resistance to high prices, Miss Anna Blumstein, secretary-treasurer of the Metropolitan Slaughters Association, said a considerable amount of western dressed beef also remains unsold here.

Boy or Girl? The Mystery of Sex

How—and when—is a baby's sex determined? Does the mother's age affect it? Is there any drug to help parents "choose"?

Are there really more boys born in wartime? Does a tendency to bear sons "run in a family"? Why are twins more often girls than boys?

Kinsmen Hear Mayor Swanston

Continuing Present Services Keep Rate Within Reason Peterborough's Big Problem

Mayor Max J. Swanston took a satisfied look Thursday night at Peterborough's past and predicted a more somber immediate future in which increased costs of materials and construction would make impossible "icing the cake" with more parks, playgrounds and a memorial centre. His Worship was speaking at the 20th anniversary meeting of the Peterborough Kinsmen, at the Kawartha Club, which was also celebrating the 31st anniversary of the Kinsmen's National Association.

He said the Kinsmen Club since its beginning, had grown with the city and has "taken part in every worthwhile city enterprise."

"The record of progress in Peterborough of the Kinsmen's Club has been excellent," he said.

Taxes Will Go Up

The mayor said the city's most pressing problem was trying to continue the services it was rendering the citizens and "still keep the tax rate within reason." He said taxes would surely go up this year.

He said such cake icing as more parks, playgrounds and a memorial centre "were alright if you have the money to pay for them." But he said, they were "not really essential."

Mr. Swanston said the city should make every effort to secure selected new industries for the city. He said it might be necessary to have a part-time industrial commissioner to help bring in new industries. He pointed out every town and city in Canada was competing to bring industries within its boundaries.

More industries would attract more people to the city and thus the tax burden could be spread among more people. Peterborough, he said, had services to supply a large population.

Local industries had representatives in the United Kingdom and Europe trying to secure skilled workers to come to work in Peterborough. If there were an influx of people as a result, the city would have to have more houses. And to get more suitable houses, the city might have to go into the business of supplying low rental houses.

Smaller Council

A city management plan for Peterborough was another possibility for the future, he said. He commented such a plan might make for a more efficient running of the city. However a city manager could not work with a mayor and 10 councillors, the present-day setup. Probably a commission of three people would work with the city manager to run the city.

In talking of Peterborough's past, the mayor said the city's Centennial Celebration "quiet and dignified" as it had been, had done much to make the citizens know more about their city's history.

The opening of the new Civic Hospital and the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital had been towering events in the city's 100th anniversary year. Another outstanding event had been the laying of the foundation stone of the new city hall.

Mr. Swanston said the men who had planned and built the infant Peterborough had shown the same foresight and intelligence as had the men who had started the Kinsmen's Club and led it through its first developing years.

He said the club had given many men to public life in the provincial legislature, and various municipal bodies such as the Board of Education. On behalf of the city and the city council, he congratulated the Kinsmen's Club and wished it continued success in the future.

Honor Alex Elliott

The mayor was introduced by Fred Ash and thanked by Vern Selkirk.

One of the highlights of the anniversary meeting for the club members came when the club, through Harold Doolittle, presented Alex L. Elliott, KC, with a life membership. Mr. Elliott was the Peterborough club's first president and has been a member ever since.

Don Loucks proposed a toast to the National Association and, on a record, national president Ken Pearce responded. Lorne Bateman then proposed a toast to the club's founder, Hal Rogers, who also responded in a recorded message.

Club president Harley Weir welcomed Dr. Cameron Craig as a new member to the club.

A Community Concerts Association film was shown to the members.

Foxless Foxhunt Ends With Turkey Dinner

COBOURG, Feb. 23 (ENS). — Annual fox hunt sponsored by the Northumberland Fish and Game Club produced no foxes, but the 50 or so hunters had a good day in spite of the mud and rain because it ended up in a turkey dinner at Grafton town hall. The food, delicious and in abundance, was cooked by the ladies of Grafton.

From the standpoint of hunting, the afternoon was not successful. No doubt there were plenty of foxes to be had but they stayed hidden, warm and dry, while hunters slopped through the mud.

Car Damaged By Truck In Sideswipe Collision

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 23 — (ENS).—Minor damage resulted to a car owned by Bruce Wallace on Wednesday when it was sideswiped by a truck on the Grand Road. Mr. Wallace was a night foreman at the Campbellford Cloth Company, and his car was parked on the roadway near the plant.

A truck driven by E. Little struck the left side of the car, damaging the fenders of both vehicles. Little was not sure who owned the car at the time and proceeded to the local police station where he reported the accident. Constable W. E. Cargin investigated.

Forum Introduces Novel Idea—Charges By Waistline

HAVELOCK, Feb. 23 (ENS)—Members of Trent River West Farm Forum introduced a novel and humorous idea in their collection levy Monday night.

The charge was five cents a foot in waist measurement, instead of the usual voluntary contribution for Forum headquarters. This meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Barrie. John Barrie was leader of the discussion on the broadcast, "What Has IFAP Accomplished?"

Opinion of Trent River West was that this international organization has promoted goodwill and understanding among farmers throughout the world. Through its conferences, key people from the different countries have met together, and talked over their problems.

They learn how people in other countries live, and they have laid the foundation for working together and trying to solve their common problems. Every Forum is represented in IFAP through their local, provincial and national Federations.

The recreation period and lunch served by Mrs. Barries concluded the program of the evening.

King's Wharf Forum

DOWNEYVILLE: The King's Wharf Farm Forum met Monday Feb. 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perdue with an attendance of 30. A lively discussion took place on the IFAP subject.

A lunch was served and a social hour was spent playing cards. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herlihey. Mr. Peter Perdue was chairman and Mrs. Earl Herlihey secretary.

Britain's Press Really Roused Over U.S. Admiral Appointment

By ERNEST AGNEW.

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP).—Britain's press today waved the flag vigorously and defiantly sang "Rule Brittania" over the nomination of an American Admiral to head the Atlantic Pact navy.

Even more forcefully than did Winston Churchill in the House of Commons Thursday, the papers asked: "What's the matter with a British Admiral?"

The furore arose over the choice of Admiral William M. Fechteler, now commander-in-chief of the United States Atlantic fleet, to head combined naval forces of the North Atlantic countries.

Churchill plunged the Commons into an uproar Thursday with his charge that this selection "brushed out of the way" the wave-ruling Britons. Prime Minister Attlee finally said his government would consider its position on the appointment of an American to the top international navy post.

Want Fair Play

Today the empire-minded Daily Express, under a streamer headline "U.S. Navy Chief Row," said editorially:

"If Churchill had been Prime Minister this appointment would never have been made . . . There need be and must be no bad feeling generated on this subject between Britain and America. If it is fairly put to them, the Americans will understand that Britain—as one part of a partnership between equals—rejoices in having her land forces under the command of Eisenhower, but that as another part of the same partnership, the ships should be commanded by a British Admiral."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph wrote:

"It cannot be agreeable to have to point out at this stage how strongly people in Britain would resent the assumption that leadership should always fall to our American associates under the (Atlantic) treaty. But feeling is strong."

The Liberal News Chronicle said:

"There exists in this country—or in any other—no better friend of America than Churchill. No one can pretend that he was motivated by anti-American feelings when he raised objections to the nomination. Churchill was therefore right to raise the issue and Attlee was wise to promise that he will reconsider it. America will understand both our anxiety and our point of view."

RCAF BACKBONE—Shown together for the first time are the two fighter planes that will form the basis of Canada's air defence. Left is the F-86 Sabre, being manufactured in Montreal under licence from the U.S., and at right is the Canadian - developed Avro CF-100. This Sabre holds the world's speed record of 670 miles an hour, while the CF-100 travelled from Toronto to Montreal at 632 miles an hour, believed the fastest level flight ever attained in Canada.

Artist Left Alone With Nude Model Gets Bad Scare As Girl Faints

WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng., Feb. 23—(Reuters)—The Tuesday class of Wolverhampton Municipal Art School has ended. The lone male student, left along with a nude female model, got shy.

"I stopped because I got a really bad fright," said the student, who refused to be identified.

"I was sketching away one night when the young lady began to sway. Then suddenly she began to fall down in a faint.

"It shot through my head as she started slipping to the ground—if I rushed to catch her what would anybody think who happened to come in at the moment?

"Down she went and I just stood petrified. It was really dreadful. I gave a shout and somebody came in. That was the end of those lone sessions for me."

Drama Expert Likes Production

QUEBEC, Feb. 23 (CP)—Adjudicator Robert Newton was "pleased" with Thursday night's opening production of the Eastern Quebec Regional Drama Festival, the Quebec Art Theatre's "Ladies in Retirement."

The noted British actor and critic said the Quebec group had done "good work" in its presentation of the play which he described as "a very difficult one to stage."

The three-day festival, from which a winner may be selected to compete in the National Drama Festival at London, Ont., next April, continues with a contribution by Les Comediens de Quebec.

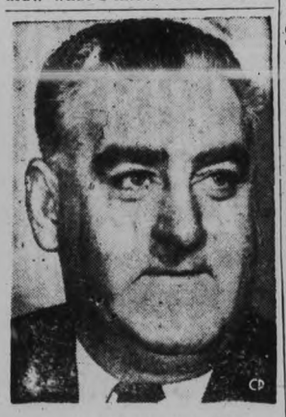
The French-speaking group, directed by Pierre Boucher, will perform a comedy entitled "Les Trois Jumeaux Venitiens" (The Venetian Triplets), translated from the Italian.

The third entry is a Three Rivers group which will stage a French adaptation of the United States play "Our Town" Saturday night.

Penalty Goes Up

QUEBEC, Feb. 23 (CP). —The penalty for parking infractions in Montreal will go up from $2 to $10 under the Montreal municipal bill approved Thursday by public bills committee of Quebec Legislative Assembly.

Farm Production Up



OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP) — Higher initial payments for wheat, oats and barley helped drive dollar value of Canada's 1950 farm production to $1,637,000,000 for a six-per-cent gain over $1,550,000,000 in 1949, the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday. Second highest in the postwar period, the dollar value may zoom to an all-time high when all figures are completed at the end of the crop year next July, officials said.

Stiffer Punishments

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23 — (AP)—New regulations dealing stiff punishment to opponents of the Chinese Communist regime have been promulgated, the Chinese Communist radio said Thursday. The regulations provide penalties from five years to life imprisonment or death for "counter-revolutionaries," said the Peiping broadcast heard by The Associated Press at San Francisco.

Suspend Senator

BELFAST, Feb. 23 (Reuters)—The Northern Ireland Senate Thursday suspended Senator Patrick J. O'Hare, an Irish Nationalist, for referring to the British Royal family as "foreign monarchs." O'Hare refused to withdraw a statement that a united Ireland would welcome "foreign monarchs like the King and Queen." He said: "I cannot withdraw what I know to be a fact."

VANCOUVER SENATOR — Senator John Wallace de Beque Farris, 72, is Liberal Senator for Vancouver South. Born in White's Cove, N.B., Senator Farris has had a distinguished law career. He was called to the British Columbia bar in 1903 and was B.C. attorney-general from 1917 to 1922. He was summoned to the Senate in 1937.

Vote "All About Eve" Best American Film

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The British Film Academy Thursday night voted the American-made movie "All About Eve" 1950's "best film from any source."

The picture starring Bette Davis was produced by Twentieth Century-Fox.

The academy named "The Blue Lamp," a film about London's police, the best British effort of the year.

"The Undefeated," also a British production, was voted the best documentary film.

Appears In Court Half-Drunk

KITCHENER, Feb. 23 (CP)—A half-drunk husband got a month in jail and his wife was fined $10 for neglecting her young daughter, as the 30th and 31st charges in Kitchener's morals case were tried Thursday.

Two girls were sent to reformatory on juvenile delinquency counts, a third girl was remanded and her parents had sentence reserved for six months. One charge, that of contributing to juvenile delinquency, remains to be heard.

The father, who was temporarily ejected when he appeared in court in an intoxicated condition, was told by the magistrate that his attitude warranted a sentence of five years. The man's daughter, admitting sexual relations with a boy, was sent to training school, along with another girl whose parents had been separated for 12 years.

The third girl was remanded after she testified she had indulged in improper relationship with a boy because she "wanted to be friendly with the other girls."

Canned Fruit Down

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP). — Canada's commercial canneries fell down on their 1950 pack of most canned fruits, but did better generally than in 1949 with vegetables, the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday. While the pack of most fruits declined, exceptions were shown in apples, plums, gages and strawberries, which increased in 1950 over the previous year. Exceptions to the general increase in canned vegetables were shown in lima beans, corn, cream and tomatoes.

Appoint Assistant

PASADENA, Calif., Feb 23 — (CP).—Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Ford Foundation, Thursday announced the appointment of H. Rowan Gaither, Jr., as an associate director of the Foundation. An estimated $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 amassed by automobile manufacturer Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, will be administered through the Ford Foundation, established by Edsel Ford in 1936 for scientific, educational and charitable purposes."

Special Adviser

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP). — Harold G. Hesler, of Montreal, assistant general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, has been appointed "special adviser on the financial aspects of the defence production program," the Trade Department announced Thursday. He will head the financial branch of the projected new government department of defence production.

Supreme Court Appeal Made

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 23 (CP)—Application will be made to a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada in Ottawa March 2 for permission to appeal a decision reached by the Ontario Court of Appeal Thursday dismissing Walter George Rowe's appeal against a murder conviction here Jan. 13.

The 29-year-old Detroiter was sentenced to hang April 5 for the death of Clare Galbraith, London, following a shooting in a local gas station last November. Rowe was said to have fired a bullet which went through a door, striking Galbraith as he worked on his car in another room of the garage.

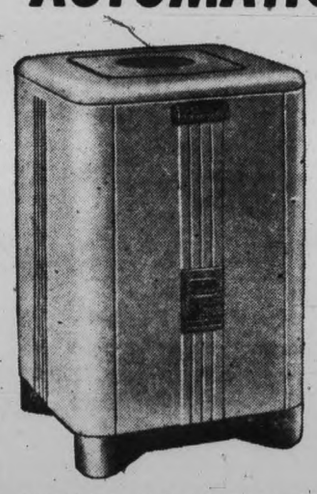
W. R. Poole, London lawyer who appeared for Rowe at his trial before Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson and an Ontario Supreme Court jury, and also on his appeal before five justices at Toronto's Osgoode Hall this week, said the attorney-general's department had agreed to pay the expenses of the motion in Ottawa. A the same time the attorney-general will oppose the application.

John Russell Dies

GUELPH, Feb. 23 (CP)—John Russell, 85, co-founder of the Turnbull Elevator Company, died here Thursday. A native of Glasgow, Mr. Russell came to Canada in 1890. He worked with the Leach and Turnbull Elevator Company in Hamilton and later went into partnership with Mr. Turnbull to form the Toronto company.

Finish First Phase Of A-Powered Planes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The U.S. air force and the Atomic Energy Commission announced Thursday completion of the first phase of study leading to atom-powered aircraft.



A joint statement on the conclusion of their "Nepa" project (nuclear energy for propulsion of aircraft) said "other projects being supported by the air force and the AEC in the field of nuclear powered flights will be continued."

The statement made no mention of who will head the next phase, but it is understood that it will be the General Electric Company's gas turbine division at Lockland, O.

The next phase will be closer to the building of an atomic engine, presumably starting with some experimental components.

NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT!

OBJECT OF THE LEAGUE

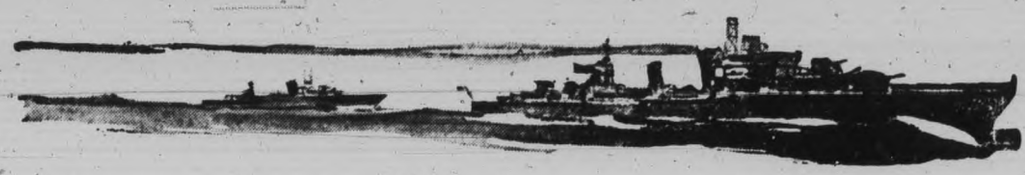
The Navy League of Canada was formed to render service to the men of the seas; to operate hostels, provide meals, entertainment, look after their welfare ashore and to keep the morale of the sailor and the merchant seamen at a high pitch.

ACTION OF THE LEAGUE

The League has 23 hostels operating in Canada for the use of the seamen returning from the sea. Funds are needed to keep these hostels equipped with games, books and other recreational facilities.

The merchant seaman who signs on from voyage to voyage is particularly benefited by the Navy League, which provides a place of shelter.

The Navy League of Canada is also responsible for the formation of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets. This has been a great help in training our youth of today.



The work of the Navy League is vitally important, so remember that your donation to the Red Cross and Community Fund will enable the League to continue its work.

Cattle Prices Decline 50 Cents In Week

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP).—Cattle prices dropped 50 cents to a dollar a hundredweight on the steers and heifers this week at the Ontario Stockyards, the Dominion Marketing Service reported Thursday. Prices dropped from $1-$1.50 for top cows, and common cows and bulls were steady. Calves dropped $1 a hundredweight, while lambs gained $1. Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher.

The cattle run of 6,302 head was 685 less than the same week for last year. Trade was draggy at the close, with a few hundred of the plainer cattle unsold. Tops for choice weighty steers was $33.50 for a few head, with others from $33 downwards to $30. Medium to good light steers and heifers sold at $30-$31.50, with common down to $25. Medium to good cows closed at $26-$26.50, canners and cutters were mostly $19-$23, while good bulls brought $28-$29 a hundredweight, with common down to $25. Small lots of medium to good stockers were sold at $29-$32.50, while fed yearlings sold for $29-$34, according to quality.

Calves totalled 1,078 head. Vealers were $39-$40 for choice. Common to medium sold $2 lower at $27-$37.

Hogs totalled 2,090 head, with Grade-A selling at $35.50, with a few at $35.75. Sows were $29, dressed.

There were 346 sheep and lambs, with good lambs from Ontario feedlots brings $38. Good light sheep were $20-$22, culls and medium sheep sold for $30-$37, with culls down to $10 a hundredweight.

Speaker Describes TV Transmission

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 23 (CP)—Television programs are being transmitted from Buffalo, N.Y., to Toronto over an experimental micro-wave radio system with 140-foot towers and radio relay apparatus at Fonthill, Ont., and Milton, Ont. The direct route across Lake Ontario, 58 miles, is too long for a single radio link.

H. G. Young, general manager of the Bell Telephone Company's western area, described the experiment Thursday night at a meeting of the Niagara international section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

He said that, to skirt the western end of Lake Ontario, 140-foot towers and radio relay apparatus were set up at Fonthill, 30 miles west of Buffalo and a few miles north of Welland, and at Milton, some 30 miles southwest of Toronto. Toronto-Buffalo telephone conversations are also being relayed over the system.

A CBC television station is scheduled to go on the air in Toronto next September. At present, a Buffalo station is the nearest one to the Toronto area.

Freedom Of Press Strong Bulwark

QUEBEC, Feb. 23 (CP)—Freedom of the press is the strongest bulwark against totalitarianism, A. F. Mercier, general manager of Le Soleil and l'Evenement-Journal, said Thursday night.

Speaking before the annual meeting of the technical section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, Quebec district, Mr. Mercier said a totalitarian movement, always started by opposing freedoms of the press and undermining the confidence of the people in its press.

But as long as the press is free, he said, totalitarian ideas cannot take root.

St. Laurent Hints Possibility Of Special Military Formations Being Introduced Soon to George Drew

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP). — In the Commons Thursday, Prime Minister St. Laurent hinted at possible establishment of new "special (military) formations" when answering a question by Mr. Drew, who asked what the government proposes to do to raise army forces to send to Europe now that the special force's 25th brigade is being posted to Korea.

Mr. St. Laurent said he had nothing to say beyond what has already been said by the government. However, he closed his statement by saying that "when decisions about special formations have been arrived at by the government they will be communicated to parliament."

Defence Minister Claxton announced that the 25th brigade will go to Korea. Canada has also promised to field a brigade in Europe and it was originally intended that it should be the 25th.

Fortifies Reports

Mr. St. Laurent's statement fortifies reports that the brigade's 3,000 to 4,000 reinforcements being left in Canada will be used as the nucleus of a new brigade to be built up for European service.

Mr. Drew rose at House opening to draw attention to Mr. Claxton's announcement and to ask what the government proposes to do about the European commitment.

Mr. St. Laurent said he had just received a letter from Mr. Drew on the subject. He could say nothing about Europe beyond what Mr. Claxton had said—that is that departure of troops for Europe could be affected by Korean developments.

The Prime Minister said the decision to send the brigade to Korea is in accord with statements made in the Commons—presumably statements that it would be sent, when ready, where it could do the most good.

Buy Back Mine

Trade Minister Howe said the government has bought back part of the Emerald Mine properties in British Columbia to produce tungsten, an essential mineral in short supply. During the last war the government operated the mine.

Following the war, the price for tungsten dropped and made its production unprofitable. The government sold the mine to Canadian Exploration Company for $900,000. Recently the government repurchased for $328,800 the mine properties known to contain tungsten deposits. The private company will continue the mining of lead and zinc.

At the night sitting, a former labor union official said union employees want more time off with pay. He was immediately accused of being "irresponsible."

The statement was made by James Byrne (L-Kootenay East), former president of the Kimberley, B. C., local in the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union. Criticism came from Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) and Clarie Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South).

Want Extra Day

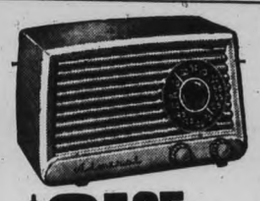
In debate on Mr. MacDougall's bill, Mr. Byrne said if the holidays fell on a Saturday or a Sunday this year workers would get no pay for time off. If the holidays were celebrated on Mondays then the workers would get another day off with pay.

"That's what the unions want—more time off with pay," he said.

Mr. Gillis, a member of the United Mine Workers' Union, said Mr. Byrne was "irresponsible" when he claimed that the unions were looking for more holidays with pay. That was not so.

In the opening stages, External Affairs Minister Pearson said Canada has not been asked to join in talks now taking place between the United States, Australia and New Zealand on the formation of a Pacific defence pact.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said he cannot say definitely yet whether the government will set up a special committee to study defence expenditures.



The Senate heard Senator A. K. Hugessen, Deputy Liberal Leader suggest that its members be retired at the age of 75 and that the provinces be allowed to appoint a third of its 102 membership. At present Senators are appointed for life.

To End War State

THE HAGUE, Feb. 23 (AP).—lands is expected to announce The government of The Netherthe end of a state of war with Germany in a proclamation next week, foreign sources reported Thursday.

War Not Inevitable

PARIS, Feb. 23 (AP).—President Vincent Auriol told the annual Washington's birthday dinner of the America Club of Paris Thursday that he did not believe war is inevitable. He believes, he said, that a true and lasting peace can be organized.

Commit Man For Trial In Rape Case

Port Hope Man Waits In Custody For Trial By Jury

PORT HOPE, Feb. 23 —Ralph Carey, 26, Port Hope, was today committed for trial by a supreme court on a charge of rape in preliminary hearing today in Port Hope.

The woman who complained of the attack, testified that on the morning of Feb. 10 between four a.m. and six a.m. Carey entered her house.

Her husband had been at work and she though it was he. She heard footsteps coming up the stairs and go into her child's room. Still not alarmed, she heard the footsteps leave the child's room and enter hers.

Hit Her

Carey was carrying a flashlight which he shone on her and at first she thought it was her husband playing a joke. She reached to turn on the bedlamp and was struck on the head.

She believed Carey hit her with the flashlight.

The woman said she and Mrs. Ralph Carey had been "neghbourly."

Dr. E. A. Hunt testified that he had examined the woman and told of her injuries which included several bruises. He also examined the accused and found marks on his face which he described as scratches. He said there was also an odor resembling alcohol on Carey's breath.

Photographs of Bedroom

Constable William Bullock submitted photographs taken of the woman showing the bruises she had received. There were also photographs of the bedroom in which the offence was alleged to have taken place.

The preliminary hearing was held before Magistrate R. B. Baxter, with Peterborough Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, prosecuting the case.

Carey will appear before the supreme court sittings in March.

Jurist Pleads For Peace, Tolerance

Social Differences Compatible With Peace—McKay

"Are we able by the application of practical common sense to learn that cultural, religious and social differences are entirely compatible with peace and harmony?" This was the challenge made to approximately 600 people by the Honorable Mr. Justice J Keiller Mackay at the Collegiate auditorium Thursday night.

Mr. Justice Mackay a member of the Ontario Court of Appeal, was guest speaker at a mass brotherhood meeting which brought to a climax the activities of Brotherhood Week in Peterborough.

In a speech that held his audience spellbound for more than an hour, the eminent Canadian jurist denounced prejudice, intolerance and misunderstandings —"malignant growths gnawing at the very vitals of our democratic institutions."

He explained that people must be made aware that goodwill is a creative force which unites not only communities but nations in common effort .Hatred, suspicion, distrust and hostility are likely to impair our national and international confidence especially at the present time with the spread of Communism in the world.

Outlines Persecution

In an outline of the persecution and oppression motivated by prejudice that has existed in the world since ancient times Mr. Justice Mackay hailed the Universal Declaration of Human Rights signed in 1948 by the majority of the members of the United Nations as a supplementary Magna Carta.

"When we became a signatory to the Universal Declaration of Human Rights proclaiming that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, we sought to make a living reality of the Brotherhood of Man and the Fatherhood of God," the speaker contended.

Mr. Justice Mackay was introduced by Wilson M. Gemmell and thanked by P. D. Scollard.

T. J. Carley, KC, chairman of the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, presided at the meeting. In his opening remarks, he explained that this was the most important meeting of Brotherhood Week. He also expressed the hope that as a result of this meeting those in attendance would all become supporters of the movement.

The Rev. Richard D. Jones, executive director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews brought greetings from the national board of directors. He expressed the hope that a live and strong permanent organization would be established in this city.

Alderman Dr. Herbert Young brought civic greetings from Mayor M. J. Swanston and members of the council.

The musical program was arranged by the Women's Study Group on Civic Affairs. Vocal solos were given by Miss Helen Albert and Miss Helen Hajnik and a violin solo by Bob Hutchinson.

The male quartet also sang. Accompanists for the evening were Morris Duke, Max Clarke and Mrs. R. Aman.

Included in the platform guests were: Miss A. Grant, Mrs. B. Collis, the Rev. F. M. Grant, Mr. Justice R. T. Ferguson, Mrs. W. C. Steinkrauss, Rabbi J. Mayer, the Rev. M. J. Aiken, Mrs. Herbert Young, Mrs. J. Keiller Mackay, Mrs. M. J. Swanston.

Plan Strategy In Opposing Closing Of Line

Peterborough will have four representatives at the hearing in Port Hope next Tuesday to argue against the closing of the Port Hope-Millbrook section of the CNR line.

The hearing is called by the Board of Transport Commissioners to review the protests of local municipalities against the closing.

Name Representatives

The four Peterborough representatives will be James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce; E. Vernon Morphet, traffic manager of Quaker Oats; Alderman Ernest C. Braund, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee; and P. D. Scollard, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

This decision was reached on Thursday afternoon during a strategy conference between Port Hope officials and Peterborough officials and businessmen. The meeting was in the committee room of the city building.

Present were E. A. Outram, city clerk; Ross Thompson, vice-president Chamber of Commerce; Aldermen Braund, Harold Rehill and Norman Graham; M. J. Collins, CGE traffic manager; E. Vernon Morphet, Quaker Oats traffic manager; Percy Dallin, Chamber of Commerce director; Herb. Long and Harold Grover, Port Hope Board of Trade; Russell Honey, Port Hope solicitor; and Mayor Wilbur Moore of Port Hope.

Mr. Fraser was chairman.

Port Hope As Port

Development of Port Hope as a major port when the St. Lawrence seaway is completed is a talking point in favor of leaving the line running.

Applicants at the hearing will also likely argue that the line should be left because of national defence, and because of the future industrial development of this area.

Thought Dead, Gets Month In Jail On Drinking Charge

A dead man walked into police court with a firm step today and pleaded guilty to being drunk Thursday night. At least he was dead as far as local city police knew. Last September a body was fished out of the bay at Port Hope and tentatively identified as Joseph McAleer, 54, no fixed address. The body had been in the water some time. McAleer was known to have been in Port Hope and then had disappeared.

But about a week after, provincial police, who were handling the case, decided that it wasn't McAleer they had. The body is still unidentified, Cobourg provincial police said today.

However McAleer had disappeared and nothing was seen of him either in Port Hope or in Peterborough until he was found drunk wandering along George St. Thursday night.

He was charged as a second offender and fined $50 or one month in jail. He took one month.

2 Trucks Wreck Exhibition Gate

Peterborough Exhibition Park may have a new gate this summer. This was in the plans for improving the main entrance and the Lansdowne St. front, but the directors did not press for action while the old gate was still in use.

However, a couple of truck drivers solved the problem the other day. One of them heading into the grounds where they have had cover and storage accommodation for some years banged into the centre prop, and pretty nearly wrecked the whole framing.

Probably that wrenching might have been repaired, but another truck smote a side of the gate, and that was the clincher.

When a new gate is erected it will likely feature the name "Morrow Park" in memory of R. A. Morrow, father of Mr. Harold Morrow who formed the Park Trust when he decided to transfer the property to public use.

Directors recently altered their plans for vaudeville entertainment switching from one agency with whom they had begun discussions to another who received the contract for their first visit to Peterborough.

Afternoon programs at the "Ex." this year may be changed to run off the races early and in a row, and then follow with the vaudeville program.

Farm Federation To Back Vendors

Directors of the Federation of Agriculture agreed Thursday night to assist market vendors and reeves of the county council in the conference with representatives of the city council which was proposed this week.

G. N. Moncrief, Fred Clifford and W. Hutchison represented the market men in soliciting the aid of the Federation.

Mayor Swanston suggested at the city council meeting Monday that the market question be referred to a committee with a request to the county council that it be represented in discussion by the reeves of the townships adjoining the city.

Some of the federation directors expressed their willingness to cooperate in any opportunity that might be presented to them to lend aid to the vendors.

Union Honors Retiring Head

T. P. (Tommy) Davies, former president of Local 524, United Electrical Workers, Thursday night was presented with an easy chair, the gift of his fellow union members.

Mr. Davies is retiring from active union work for a year because of ill health.

The presentation was a surprise one during the social evening for Local 524 stewards, officers and their wives. It was made by George Wallace, president elect.

Mrs. Davies was given a bouquet.

After an evening of dancing and general fun, a lunch was served by the Women's Auxiliary.

Women Canvassers Ready To Open Community Drive

The Women's Division is one of the backbones of the Red Cross and Community Fund campaign, Ross Dobbin, chairman of the fund committee, stated Thursday afternoon. Mr. Dobbin was speaking at a meeting of the canvassers of the women's division in the Red Cross rooms.

"My advice to you," Mr. Dobbin told the canvassers, "is to impress it on the public the great advantage of holding one campaign for 10 agencies rather than 10 separate campaigns."

The speaker went on to explain that every campaign in a city the size of Peterborough costs approximately $1,500. By holding one inclusive campaign, the public is not only saved money, also a great deal of trouble.

The purpose of this meeting was to give the canvassers in this division an opportunity to become acquainted with the work of the various agencies represnted in the campaign.

Following the opening remarks of the chairman of the campaign fund, Mrs. J. P. Watts, chairman of the women's division introduced the representative of each agency who gave a brief summary of their work and also explained why their various agencies required support from the community fund.

Representing the agencies were Salvation Army, Major C. G. Everitt; YWCA, Mrs. T. J. Carley; Canadian Institute for the Blind, W. D. Colin McEachern; Children's Aid Society, Miss Rachael Young; St. Vincent's Orphanage, E. Wolfe; V.O.N., Miss Mary Ross; YMCA, Charles Forsyth; Humane Society, Mrs. S. Shields.

Following the addresses, the canvassers were given their kits, containing the names and addresses of their subscribers.

Prominent Criminal Lawyer Holds Juror's Refusal Act Of Contempt Of Court

Province-wide interest has been created by the refusal of a Peterborough juror to obey a directed verdict. J. J. Robinette, one of Ontario's best criminal lawyers, says that a juror who flatly refuses to comply with a judge's direction might be charged with contempt of court. The incident happened Wednesday when Roy Pitchford, local photographer, serving on the petit jury, at first refused to obey Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson's "directed verdict" of "not guilty."

Stated Reasons

His refusal has no precedent in Peterborough and perhaps in all Ontario. He also shattered a precedent by stating his reasons in a short address to the Justice, after he had been given permission to do so.

After registering his objections he complied with Justice Ferguson's direction and voted with the other 11 jurors for the acquittal of Mrs. Amelia Edwards on charges of motor manslaughter and dangerous driving.

Never Heard of Before

Mr. Robinette says he has never before heard of such a case.

He says that it is the justice's duty to interpret the law so it can be understood. So he can order or direct any person in court on procedure and verdict.

"It is apparent that in the Peterborough case Mr. Justice Ferguson was convinced that according to the law there was not enough evidence to warrant a verdict of guilty" said Mr. Robinette. "The jury was bound to follow his direction and bring in a 'not guilty' verdict."

Pitchford told the Examiner that he only gave way because he felt "legally compelled" to do so. He and at least three other jurors felt there was a degree of guilt in the Edwards case.

At the time Mr. Justice Ferguson pointed out that the jury were trying only what was on the indictment brought by the Crown motor manslaughter and dangerous driving. There was no provision for a "lesser charge" as advocated by the jury through their foreman John O'Neill.

"We were sworn in as the jury to bring in the verdict, but as a matter of fact, we were told what to do," Pitchford said later.

383 New Cases Of Measles Reported To MOH

While the flu is taking its toll in other Ontario cities, Peterborough is still battling the measles. During the past nine days 383 new cases were reported to the department of health.

Parents reported last Friday 86 cases while the weekend's total on Monday was 94. The daily report since a week Wednesday is: February 14, 69; February 15, 29; February 16, 86; February 19, 94; February 20, 42; February 21, 36; February 22, 27.

1,010 Cases

The total count since January 1 is 1,010, or more than 20 times the number of cases in either 1949 or 1950.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, said today that although the situation has been serious, "it is still proceeding as anticipated" and has not reached the epidemic stage.

In spite of reports of counting flu cases throughout the city, Dr. Kelly said that no cases have been reported to the department. So far this month chicken pox has taken second place to the measles with 37 cases and mumps third with eight cases since February 1.

Writer Finds The Bathtub Place To Get Inspiration

By JACK SCOTT

VANCOUVER, Feb. 23. — I knew when my best friend came to me the other day that he was worried about me.

"I am worried about you," he said. "Everyone is asking, 'Whatever happened to the lovable old Scott of yesteryear, the bon vivant with a song on his lips and a ready quip for all?' Now you are a surly sort of chap who lops off the tops of daisies with his cane, snaps at waitresses and—if you will forgive me for saying it—a crashing boor."

I wondered if I should tell him the whole, horrible story and I decided I should.

"Everything you say is true," I said, flushing crimson with shame. "And it is all because I cannot get a decent bath . . ."

✧ ✧ ✧

Some men, I told my friend, can take a bath or leave it alone. With me, a bath is part of my job and a vital part to boot.

Faced with the numbling task of findihg an idea to write about, it has been my custom for years to retire to the peace and tranquility of the tub.

There, sheltered from the world by gleaming porcelain walls I would lie submerged like an indolent crocodile, and await inspiration. Okay, so "inspiration" may not be quite the word. But something tolerable almost always came along.

Needless to say, my wife has had a vast suspicion about this, has even alleged that it is just another shabby excuse for spending a little more time flat on my back. (In pursuing Una Pope-Hennessy's biography of Charles Dickens the other day I was interested to note that Dickens' wife, too, had no conception of the idiosyncracies of genius.)

Still, by asserting my masculine will power (and swiftly bolting the bathroom door), I managed to spend my happy and productive hours in my steamy retreat, contemplating like crazy and occasionally playing with a small celluloid duck.

In these years I was a happy, well-adjusted man.

Open Door

All this was changed (I told my friend) when we acquired a third daughter.

Here I must digress a moment to point out a most curious phenomenon, namely, that two daughters are a pair, but three daughters are a swarm, a stunt of mathematics that would defy an Einstein. A friend of mine with a brand new third daughter put this rather well the other day, I thought, when he sadly observed, "It seemed as if, suddenly, there was a whole bunch of new kids in the house."

Thus, I found myself living with five females (seven, if you want to count Lena and Ella, the cats) and my snug little world began to crumble into chaos. The bathroom was the first to go.

This chamber has long since lost its purely functional aspect. It is now festooned with diapers and other infant wear subject to a high turnover and has become a combination dressing room and sort of community hall. If you are searching for anyone, any missing relative or such, I know just where to look.

My wife's first gesture—and a mighty sneaky one if I do say so—was to take the lock from the door. I complained piteously, bringing in pointed references to Dickens, but it was no good. She merely countered swiftly with a four-minute lecture on the necessity of going light with the hot water.

I think it was then that my once benign countenance began to assume its look of low, animal cunning.

Once the "Open Door Policy" had been put into effect, my life became miserable. I would just as soon have a bath in the information booth at Grand Central Station or in the lobby of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. It is probably the only bathroom in the world that could use traffic signals.

Even on quiet days, the fact that the door might burst open at any moment was intimidating. A man found playing with a celluloid duck or—worse!—stealing his oldest daughter's bubble bath powder might never again hold up his head.

The Visitors

In no time at all (I told my friend) my column began to suffer.

How could anyone expect a brilliant idea to come floating out of nowhere when a large, brass-lunged cherub was perched a foot away on her Toidy-Seat?

How could I toy at leisure with magnificent ideas when one ear was always cocked to hear that dreaded request, "Mama, I wanna go-go"?

I tried to be scientific about it. I made a survey of "slack" hours. There were none.

Occasionally, having "cased" the bathroom, I would slip in, looking as shadowy as Jimmy Valentine, but it was always the same. I could never lower myself into a steaming tub before the door would crash open and a convention of tots would be dropping sharp-edged toys into the water or screaming eagerly to "get in with Da-da."

"Da-da," meanwhile, may have been observed (by almost anybody) frothing Palmolive at the mouth and beating his tiny fists against his temples, a performance which only serves to attract new spectators.

This kind of thing may well leave its mark on the sub-conscious. A man who baths perpetually surrounded by a ring of shining little faces, never knowing when he may be attacked from below by a plastic toy, is a man who is wide open to all sorts of dangerous complexes. He is sure as heck never going to write another "David Copperfield."

SEEKS WORLD CROWN—Vevi Smith, 18-year-old Toronto skater, who placed second in the Canadian women's senior figure skating championship in Vancouver this winter is one of three Canadians seeking the women's world crown in Milan, Italy. The other two, both from Toronto, are Suzanne Morrow and Betty Hiscox.

Two Major Bases

PARIS, Feb. 23 (AP). — The United States Air Force is to have at least two major bases in France where fighters and bombers will be in advance positions to defend the west against aggression from the east, authoritative sources said Thursday. French and American authorities, it was learned, have worked out a plan for the early construction of the bases in the Nimes-Orange area in southern France, about 60 miles northeast of Marseille, on existing airport sites. Plans for adding two or three more bases are in prospect.

Robbed Garage

NAPANEE, Feb. 23 — (CP) — Convicted of stealing six storage batteries from cars and trucks belonging to McFarlands Garage, Napanee, Leo Blute and Harold Calver today were sentenced to six months and Tom Lewis to three months. Calver had been employed at the garage about six weeks earlier in the year.

Reaches Honolulu

HONOLULU, Feb. 23 (AP) — John Foster Dulles, State Department advisor, arrived Thursday en route to Washington from a peace mission to Japan and defence talks in the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

Says Universities Have Grave Money Problems

KITCHENER, Feb. 23—(CP)—Canadian universities have serious financial problems, Dr. G. E. Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, said Thursday night.

Addressing the Life Insurance Institute of Canada, he said inadequate finances are preventing universities from properly training and educating persons for professions of life.

For instance, he said, staffs of universities receive lower pay than many high school specialists in Ontario. Lecturers and instructors were paid below standards accorded many tradesmen.

Baby-Sitter Offer

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Opera star Astrid Varnay Thursday offered to take on a job as baby-sitter—at $500 a session. The money will go to the Metropolitan Opera fund. The brunette soprano, who said she used to baby-sit to earn money for vocal lessons, promised lullabys, but said the baby must be under 15 years of age.

Highway Signs Will Be Changed

TORONTO, Feb. 23 (CP)—Ontario highways signs are going to be changed during the next few years to make them more like markings used in the United States.

J. D. Millar, deputy minister of highways, said Thursday main purpose of the gradual change-over will be to make driving easier for American tourists and to make the signs easier to read by Canadians as well. It is also expected to make travelling in the U.S. easier for Ontario motorists.

Department engineers said the program probably won't cost any more than would be spent for normal maintenance. As the signs require painting or repair they will be changed to conform with the new style.

One important change will be to make all warning signs in the shape of a diamond instead of square as at present. The idea is that motorists will come to know that a diamond-shaped sign is a warning of some sort even before they get close enough to read the wording. Other markers, such as those which say "No Parking" will remain square.

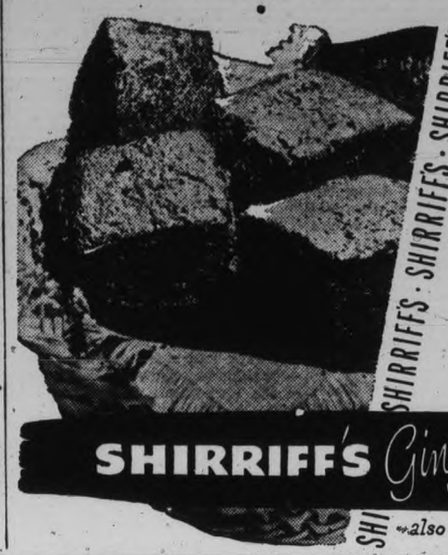
One thing that won't be changed is the color scheme. Signs will remain black on white.

Elected President

MONTREAL, Feb. 23 (CP). — Louis Davidson of Hamilton, was elected president of the Retail Men's Wear Association of Canada Thursday, last day of a three-day convention here.

Youth Hostels

MONTREAL— (CP)— Charles Harris, executive secretary of Canadian Youth Hostels Association, said in an address here that Canada is the only country in the International Youth Hostel Federation where hostelling is still organized on a purely voluntary basis. Funds are sought to develop the project.



Former Opera Star Jeritza Sings

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP) — Maria Jeritza, who took the New York Opera world by storm 30 years ago, returned Thursday night to the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House after an absence of 19 years.

She made her appearance for the benefit of the $750,000 fund the Metropolitan is seeking to meet increased expenses.

The dramatic soprano ignored her 63 years as she sang and danced with bubbling enthusiasm through her role of "Rosalinda" in Johann Strauss' comic opera, "Die Fledermaus." It was the first time in her long operatic career that she had sung the role in English.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Sandwiches Can be Costly, Should Make Filling Stretch

You are a contrary lot. Don't get me wrong though. I love you for it.

But I have a file of recipes that I am holding in abeyance, thinking there will be a rush for them. But what do you do? You write to me for strange things like "Bannocks on a girdle" or "spotted duck" or is it dog? I don't know whether I'm running a women's haberdashery or a pet shop . . .

and what is more you are doing a powerful lot of entertaining, for I read letter after letter asking for sandwich fillings and cookies "that are different."

I've been cajoled into making an outsize number of sandwiches myself because these two young sprouts of mine are always gayly offering to bring them to their young people's meetings. "U-NO-HOO" makes them.

Sandwiches can cost like crime, unless you are canny enough to make the fillings stretch.

✧ ✧ ✧

Vegetable Sandwich Fillings

Mushroom: Saute one-half pound of chopped cleaned mushrooms in 4 tablespoons butter or margarine until they wilt and are just a little bit golden. Add 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsely OR 1 teaspoon parsley seed, and if possible, 1 teaspoon MSG. (Parsley or parsley seed is a good flavor to compliment beef, and gives mushrooms a more meaty taste.) Let cook a few minutes, while you stir, after these seasonings are added. Chill before using on white bread sandwiches. If possible, these are delicious toasted after they are made.

✧ ✧ ✧ ✧

Celery-Olive: 1 cup finely chopped celery, ½ cup chopped nuts, 2 tablespoons chopped green, stuffed or ripe olives and 1 tablespoon pimiento is optional. Mix with about ½ cup mayonnaise.

✧ ✧ ✧

Pimiento: (for ribbon sandwiches) 1 small can pimientoes mashed or chopped, 4 sour pickles or pickled onions, 1 hard-cooked egg mashed, and soft butter and mayonnaise to make of spreading consistency. If this is used alone it seems to need the addition of some binding ingredients like ground cooked meat or mashed cheese. It is very pretty in pinwheel sandwiches.

✧ ✧ ✧

Cheese

(1) 1 package cream-pimiento cheese, 1 dozen olives chopped, ¼ cup walnuts chopped, soft butter to make of spreading consistency.

(2) 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 tablespoon chives or green onions chopped, 1 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons olives or nuts chopped. Add salt and pepper to taste, and mayonnaise or butter to spread.

(3) This is a favorite cheese filling especially when hot. Saute gently for 5 minutes in 1 tablespoon butter, one-half of a green pepper chopped and 1 tablespoon chopped onion; add ½ cup very thick part of canned tomato and simmer 5 minutes. Add one-half pound mild cheese which has been grated or shredded or ground, ¼ teaspoon salt and shake of cayenne. Stir over boiling water until cheese is melted, then add 1 slightly beaten egg mixed with 2 tablespoons cream. This makes enough sandwiches for 10 or 12.

✧ ✧ ✧

Meat

Tongue: 2 cups ground, cold, boiled, fresh or smoked beef or pork tongue, 1 teaspoon French mustard, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and salad dressing or mayonnaise to mix.

✧ ✧ ✧

Dutch (Bologna): (Good and unusual): Chop fine or grind ½ lb. Bologna, add 3 hard-cooked eggs, 1 stalk celery chopped and 1 tablespoon French mustard or 2 tablespoons bottled chow chow. Mix with mayonnaise and butter to make of spreading consistency.

Ulcer Patients Need Loving

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—(AP). — Men suffering from peptic ulcer need lots of love and attention, the American Orthopsychiatric Association was told today.

The convention was given a report on intensive studies of 21 patients made by a group of scientists in Detroit and Ann Arbor, Mich. The studies supported an old theory that emotional conflicts cause peptic ulcer.

The scientists found that ulcer patients tend to come from households containing alcoholics and other ulcer patients.

The patients studied were described as average or above in intelligence. The report said:

"They were eager to please, showed intense rivalry, a universal fear of rejection and an impulse to look out for the underdog. All felt that emotional conflicts caused their symptoms."

The studies also indicated that a man sometimes gets an ulcer to "save face." He develops physical symptoms rather than admit he can't take responsibility.

Beat Stork

DETROIT, Feb. 23—(AP)—Donald Odum, 26, rushing his wife to a maternity hospital had the windshield of his automobile shattered by two police bullets Thursday. Odum said he was "running all the red lights because I knew I was going to be a father any second." Mrs. Odum was lying down on the back seat. Odum stopped, shouted to police why he was speeding and the policemen escorted him to the hospital. They arrived five minutes ahead of the stork which brought an infant girl.

Nighties Making Comeback With Most Women In Britain

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON — (CP) — Nighties are making a come-back with most women in Britain.

The wartime preference for pyjamas is dying out and manufacturers say 90 per cent of women in London favor nighties. In the south of England, the demand is particularly keen and even smart new pyjama-jeans end up on the bargain counters.

In the Midlands, statistics show that even the youngsters prefer nighties. Manchester, however, is divided about 50-50 and Liverpool is definitely a pyjama town—women wear nighties only when moderately-priced pyjamas are not available.

Glasgow reports: "Women buy nighties even in this cold climate. But when there are cheap pyjamas they sell fast."

Edinburgh's nightie sales have recently been sent soaring, say retailers, by a new delivery of nylon tricot.

Need Expensive Models

The most curious report of all, however, comes from shopkeepers of Ayr. They find it almost impossible to sell anything but expensive models priced around £8 ($24).

"It seems to be the ambition of every girl in Ayr to acquire an ultra-glamorous nightdress," said one store manager.

Most shopkeepers believe the sudden return to nightdress wear is due to prices. Pretty, feminine nighties are cheaper due to the extra material required for pyjamas.

First appearance of nightwear in Britain is traced to the 11th and 12th centuries when "noblemen and their ladies wore night sherte and camise."

This fashion faded until the 16th century when a low-necked silk nightshirt tied in front and with long close sleeves, is recorded in Royal wear. From then on, the nightie was established and by the 18th century "nightrails" were gorgeous, ornate creations.

In the early part of the 20th century, nightgowns for both sexes were high-necked with turned-up collars and sleeves reaching to elbow or wrist. It was 1908 before the first low, round or square necks made their appearance. The most daring innovation was the kimono sleeve of the early 1920s.

Pyjamas were introduced in Britain during the First World War. The style was imported from Persia, (now Iran) an adaption of the "pae-foot, jamma-garment," a loose trouser of silk or cotton worn by Mohammedans of both sexes.

TRINITY GROUP

The combined groups started mission study from the book, "A New Look at Japan." Helen Lang led the girls in a Japanese game which was followed by worship. The worship centre was Japanese and it was explained by Anna Edmonson. Brotherhood was the theme of the worship which was taken by Mary Beth Darling, Norma Crowe and Carol Yelland. Joan Krogh then gave a talk on Japan, accompanied with a display of Japanese souvenirs, pictures and letters. The groups divided then with the seniors making final arrangements for their sleighride on February 24. The juniors opened with the purpose and named their group the "Cheerful Chicks." Their month's project is studying Japan, Gail Marshall giving a report on Japan.

Formula To Be Effective Given At YWCA Meeting Under Provocative Title

Perhaps the most effective talk heard at a YWCA annual meeting in the 60 years since organization of the local branch was "On being an effective person," given at the Diamond Jubilee meeting Thursday evening.

It was effective because it inspired each and every listener to make herself more "effective." To be more effective would bring about fuller use of potentials which had perhaps been going to waste. This is exactly what the Y has been striving to do in its wide and varied program of activities.

Mrs. J. R. M. Wilson of Toronto who delivered this address proved herself an effective speaker. The 100 people who had secured dinner reservations listened throughout with rapt attention. They came anxious to hear what would be said on this "provocative and challenging title" and, they were not only satisfied, but gained in the effectiveness they now have, the urge to improve simply by watching an effective person.

Definition Has Key

Searching to find what makes people effective, Mrs. Wilson had taken apart and analyzed the lives of nationally effective persons. She came up with the following definition: "Effective people fulfil the promise of their own ability for the good of others." The last phrase is the key to the definition she said.

"Mrs. Roosevelt is an effective figure in the world for two reasons: because she has a genuine love of people and because she has never stopped learning." It is said that Mrs. R. cultivated these attributes from early childhood because of her ugliness of features but Mrs. Wilson pointed out that any ugly girl can become a glamor girl with the beauty preparations now on the market, so pretty girls need them too.

Effectiveness Shows

All effective people have a skill she found, but it was not the skill itself which makes them effective. "We can all do one thing with mastery—perhaps it is just being able to cook, but we can all keep on learning." Effective people are friendly anyway she noticed but they go on being friendly as they progress. There is also the quiet, effective person —the one to whom you go for help. "They are the people who 'keep their mouths shut' or something that is told them in confidence," said Mrs. Wilson.

"Humor is another part of effectiveness—and the basis for humor is not taking yourself seriously." Examples are seen every day in the people who entertain with stories and jokes she remarked.

Investigating the subject in her own community Mrs. Wilson noted the same people were always asked to do leadership work because they had proved themselves good organizers. But then there were newcomers who were immediately asked to be leaders. That was because they were in themselves effective people and she decided: "Being effective is the outward shining light of what lies within.

Never Too Late

"It was never too late to be effective" declared the speaker. "Look at Mr. St. Laurent—until the age of 60 a quiet, unassuming man, now a person whose words carry weight around the world."

"Look at the women you know who are effective," Mrs. Wilson advised. "Then sit down and study your own potentialities. You can be more effective if you want to be. The greatest tragedy of the age is waste of materials, resources and personalities. You haven't any right to waste yourself."

She concluded effectively with the quotation "Come my friends it is not too late to seek another world."

Interest In Flowers

Mrs. Wilson's personal interests at present centre on her family, then on her hobby for flower arranging. She is convener of flower arrangements for the Royal Winter Fair, on the board of the Garden Club of Ontario and on the editorial board of the Canadian magazine "Your Garden and Home."

Mrs. Ross Matthews gave the speaker an effective introduction, stating all the known facts of her background with personalized comments. Equally effectively Mrs. H. C. Turner expressed appreciation of the address which had basic interest to everyone and also gave them a formula for starting on themselves. "I hope we shall be able to use the effectiveness gained to help our community and country," she said.

YWCA Activities Expand But With Financial Deficit

Mrs. T. J. Carley, president of the YWCA Board of Directors, prepared for the annual meeting Thursday a comprehensive report of 1950 in the local association which showed how thoroughly she has interested herself in activities of all branches. The report was condensed from the reports submitted to her by heads of departments and committee conveners.

She referred to the 60th anniversary of the Y in Peterborough, having its beginning in two small rooms over what is now Hooper's centre store. A special Diamond Jubilee event is to be held later this year when more of the historic year 1891 will be heard.

In having a number of outstanding persons address the membership at the Y on various occasions and in having members attend out-of-town conferences and meetings, refresher and orientation courses, as well as having two members on the European tour sponsored by National YWCA, she pointed out the local work is better and will continue to improve by use of the ideas and experience gained.

Greatest expansion was in the swimming department, not only in the numbers taking lessons and receiving Royal Life Saving and Red Cross Awards, but in the variety of work undertaken. A new class for polio patients promises to be one of the most outstanding services the Y gives and director Miss Audrey Hustwitt has taken a special instructor's course in training the handicapped. Financial deficit was lower than previous years but showed $1,166.52 under.

The gymnasium was pointed out in the financial report as having raised more than $800. by the annual pageant, thus reducing the deficit in this department to $262.27. A second performance was given in aid of the Winnipeg Flood Relief Fund and raised more than $100. Director Miss Caroline Littlefield handled a registration of 1,337 in 16 gym and dancing classes, and also gives basketball and badminton instruction.

Mrs. Carley said: "The program department, under direction of Miss Marion Foster, assisted by Mrs. J. G. Campbell, serves in bringing a unity to all our activities." She outlined the programs and events of 10 clubs and seven interest groups, latest of which is roller skating. Also plans of the drama groups for children and adults. Members' Council was mentioned as a clearing house for all association events.

Food service is now a separate department of the Y and the cafeteria with Miss Gwen Reed as dietitian is serving about 200 people per day. In addition, dinners, weddings and teas have been catered for.

Show Deficit On Year

Treasurer Mrs. John Hornal explained the financial summary which showed a 1950 deficit of $1,025.90. The excess of expenses over receipts was reduced to this amount by receipt of $12,000 from the Community Chest Fund.

Residence and Food Service departments showed a balance of $314.70 which was included to relieve the deficit in other departments. Program showed a deficit of $4,196.72 and administration and community service a deficit of $7,732.49.

It is through these latter that the Y is "endeavoring to enhance the qualities of good citizenship."

British Paper Lauds Canada

LONDON, Feb. 23 (CP)—The Daily Telegraph today devotes its main editorial columns to detailed and flatteringly-friendly account of Canada's rise to world prominence.

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative, is regarded as one of Britain's quality newspapers.

Its 1,500-word article, headed "Phenomenal Industrial Expansion in a Nation of 14,000,000" lists Canadian achievements in trade, diplomacy and industry. It says:

"No country today can be said more completely to have fulfilled the dreams of the Empire builders than has Canada. She has attained world stature after having been, successively, the domain of French and British chartered fur-trading companies, a string of unconnected colonies, a self-governing Dominion and a fully-independent state within the framework of the British Commonwealth."

In world affairs, it could be truly said that "no other country with a comparable population has reached such eminence . . . in so short a time."

The article was contributed by Geoffrey D'Egville, formerly associated with Canadian publications in London.

Shell-Work Artist Beachcomber

NEW YORK — (CP) — Shell-jewelry designer Anne Kellett of Brantford, on her way to search the Florida beaches for materials for her art, took time out here to explain to reporters why she finds it necessary to turn beachcomber.

The grey-haired artist, whose shell work has been recognized by Canada's National Gallery, said she cannot depend on commercial sources for her materials. They do not supply the out-of-the-ordinary shapes and color combinations she needs.

Her jewelry and objects d'art—such as the jewel case she designed as a wedding gift for Princess Elizabeth from the Brantford Council of Women—call for oddly shaped or worn shells, unusual colorings and types that adapt themselves well to use with water colors and oil paints. In short, she wants the types that the professional beach-combers toss back on the beach.

Her solution is to doff shoes and nylons and prowl the beaches herself in search of the unusual.

DOROTHY DIX

Man Would Wed Girl, 16, Mold Her Character To Suit

DEAR MISS DIX: When I marry I am going to pick out a girl of 16 for a wife because love at that age is the truest, sweetest love of life. At 16 a girl thinks a man is a god. Later on she learns to distrust and fear men and becomes independent. Whenever that happens she is past the stage of true love. If shemarries when she is 16 her husband can teach her that his way is always the right way. For that reason I am going to marry a 16-year-old girl and raise her to suit myself.

Dorothy Dix

W. J. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Here's wishing you luck in bringing up a wife by hand, but if you think that any 16-year-old girl is a plastic bit of clay that you can shape to your heart's desire, you are vastly mistaken.

You will be just sixteen years too late in undertaking your experiment. Nature has had the start of you in bestowing upon her certain hereditary traits of character and allotting to her whatever brains, if any, she possesses. When she was born her mother took over the job, formed her tastes, habits, principles and point of view, and you will ascertain that in sixteen years these hardened into solid concrete that you can break your heart trying to change without making a single dent upon them.

Girl's aren't brought up in cloistered seclusion these days. They go to school with boys from their infancy up. They play with boys. They work with boys. And most of them have the number of every man they come in contact with to the last figure.

Bound To Meet Other Men

Don't imagine that if you marry a girl of 16 that she will never know that there is any other man in the world but you. A wedding ring doesn't put blinders on a woman's eyes. Furthermore, don't befool yourself into thinking that the love of a 16-year-old girl is anything but kitten love. She is immature, childish, crazy about a thing one day and tired of it the next. She doesn't know what she wants in a husband any more than she knows what kind of a dress she will want next season. The chances are fifty to one that the man she marries at 16 she will tire of before she is 20.

The idea of picking out a girl child and rearing her up to be the kind of a wife you want is an alluring theory, but it doesn't work out in real life. Far better to marry a grown woman who suits you "as is." Then you know what you are getting.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am happily married and have a nice home, but am still interested in other men, like to flirt a little and know that I still attract men. I imagine myself in love with these other men, but, of ocurse, that is as far as it goes. I can see no wrong in this. In fact, I think it helps keep one alive and young. Incidentally, I am still in love with my husband and wouldn't want anything to happen to our marriage. MRS. G. L. P.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: "Incidentally" is the proper word to apply to your affection for your husband. You love him on the side, as it were, when you are not having an affair with some other man. He doesn't fill your life nor your heart. He is just an incident—a happy accident that provides you with a good home and the pretty clothes with which you dress yourself up to make your conquests.

But, believe, me, lady, you are playing with fire when you have your little extra-marital adventures and sooner or later you will get your fingers burned. There is no such thing as an innocent flirtation for a married woman, and the woman whose vanity makes her try out her fascinations on men has to pay a pretty price for her folly. For men always put the most sinister interpretation upon a wife's disloyalty to her husband and the husband fails to see that her coquetries mean nothing and are just done in a spirit of pure adventure.

You say you do not wish to lose your husband and your home. If you don't, you had better cut out the flirtations. Otherwise you are headed for the divorce court.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I had a most unhappy childhood. My mother gave me no love, no sympathy, no understanding. At the earliest possible moment I left home just to get away. I have found peace and happiness with my husband and children, but we are only moderately well-to-do. Now my family has never done anything but make me miserable, yet they demand that I shall share my little with them and help support them. The question is, shall I impair the future comfort of my husband and children and sacrifice their few luxuries to help people whom I despise? There is no love on either side.

BEVERLY B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If it is your parents who need help, probably it is your duty to divide your last crust with them, but I have never been able to see why the industrious and thrifty members of a family who were willing to work and save should support their lazy and idle and thriftless brothers and sisters.

Many Things Determine Who's A Star

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23 (AP)—What is a star?

The answer is not as simple as you might think. The term of movie star has been badly abused in recent years so that its meaning has been clouded.

Actors or actresses are not stars merely because they play the leading roles in a picture. Leading roles are often given to people you've never heard of and sometimes never hear about again.

Nor are people stars merely because they earn three or four thousand dollars a week. Many people still get that kind of money although they have outlived their usefulness as stars.

Nor does billing make a star. An actor is not a star because his name is in big type, or even because his name appears above the picture's title.

Real Stars

In a strict sense, a real star is one the public will pay to see regardless of the vehicle. For instance, people would have paid to see Sarah Bernhardt reciting the alphabet or Caruso singing the telephone book. They were stars.

Hollywood today has perhaps 10 or 12 real stars.

There are others who are stars by circumstances. This is best illustrated by the reply of a theatre man who was asked if Esther Williams were a star.

"Wet, she's a star; dry, she ain't," was his answer.

Today only a handful of stars are considered sure-fire at the box-office and all of them have failed on occasion. It appears that the public no longer feeds on personalities, but demands also that the story be credible and entertaining.

The play's the thing in Hollywood today, not the star.

Mark St. WMS Banquet CGIT

The Mark St. United Church WMS gave a banquet for the CGIT girls Wednesday night in the Sunday school auditorium. A large number of CGIT girls and members of the WMS sat down to supper together where place cards, little fans, directed them.

After supper Mrs. B. S. Morwood, CGIT leader, led a singsong. Miss Beverly Lillico presented a piano solo, Mrs. W. Hepburn a vocal solo and Ruth Hendren a piano solo.

Guest of honor was the Rev. B. S. Morwood who was celebrating his birthday. Mrs. E. DeNure presented a cake decorated with candles and then everyone sang "Happy Birthday."

Later a film on the first missionary to Japan was shown and a story told of the life of a missionary. An affiliation service with the WMS was conducted by the CGIT girls and accepted by the WMS by president Mrs. E. DeNure.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Bean Very Versatile Food In Many Inexpensive Dishes

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP). — Next to the potato we'll bet the bean is about the most versatile food there is.

You can bake it a variety of ways, make it into a soup, even put it in sandwiches.

And—oh joy—it's inexpensive even these expensive days.

Home economists of the consumer section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, have prepared a booklet on white navy beans, otherwise known as the Ontario white pea bean.

This bean is produced in the five counties of Ontario represented by the Ontario Bean Growers' Marketing Board. While a small quantity is produced in other provinces, Canada depends almost entirely on Ontario production to supply domestic requirements.

Pick over beans and wash thoroughly; soak overnight in cold water to cover (three cups water to one cup beans); cook beans slowly in salted water.

Baked Beans

Ingredients: Two cups white (navy) beans; ¼ lb. salt pork or smoked pork fat; three tablespoons brown sugar; three tablespoons molasses; 1½ teaspoons salt; ½ teaspoon mustard; ¼ cup chopped onion; two tablespoons catsup; 2½ cups water.

Pressure saucepan method: soak beans overnight in enough water to cover. Drain and place in bottom of saucepan with other ingredients. Cook at 15 pounds pressure for 50 minutes. Yield: about six cups.

Oven method: If using a three-quart bean pot or baking-dish, double the above recipe. Soak beans overnight in water to cover. Drain. Cover wtih fresh water and simmer, covered for ½ hour. Drain. Place piece of salt pork in bottom of bean pot. Add beans and remaining salt pork. Mix brown sugar, molasses, salt, mustard, onion and catsup and water and add to beans.

Cover pot and bake in a slow oven (250 degrees fahrenheit) from six to eight hours. Remove cover during last half hour of baking. Add boiling water as required during baking to keep beans covered with liquid. Yield, about 12 cups.

Ham and Bean Sandwich Spread

Ingredients: Two cups baked beans; one cup chopped cooked ham; ½ cup chopped celery; two tablespoons chili sauce; one teaspoon horseradish; ¾ teaspoon salt.

Combine ingredients and blend together. Yield: three cups.

Cream of Bean Soup

Ingredients: One cup dried white (navy) beans; six cups boiling water; one teaspoon salt; one tablespoon fat; ½ cup chopped onion; one tablespoon flour; one quart (five cups) hot milk; one teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Soak beans overnight in enough water to cover. Drain, add boiling water and one teaspoon salt. Simmer covered until tender (about two hours).

If a pressure saucepan is used cook the soaked beans in water to barely cover for 50 minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Fry onion in fat until clear, add flour and blend well. Add hot milk, cook and and stirring until slightly thickened. Add drained, cooked beans and season with remaining salt and pepper. Reheat and serve hot. Yield: six servings.

Hastings H. & S. Observes Fourth Birthday

HASTINGS, Feb. 23 (ENS)—Hastings Home and School Association held their monthly meeting with the president, Mrs. J. G. Thompson, presiding. Mrs. Thompson welcomed Mrs. J. McMillan back to our meeting, Mrs. McMillan has been confined to her home from the results of a motor accident.

To commemorate Founder's Day the program opened with a candle lighting service, the first candle being lit by Mrs. F. S. Crate in memory of the founder of Home and School, Mrs. A. C. Courtice.

The second candle was lit by Mrs. J. A. Brown for the national federation and the third candle was lit by Mrs. C. M. Baker for the Ontario federation. The fourth candle was lit by Mrs. J. G. Thompson for the Hastings Home and School.

Mrs. C. M. Baker gave a paper on the Courtice Memorial Library.

Announcement was made of a program for children on Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. C. Scriver reported that we had 44 paid up members; Mrs. H. G. Fairman reported 25 subscribed to the Home and School magazine.

Miss O'Leary, public health nurse, gave a talk on the "Teen-Ager," after which she answered questions from the question box.

F. F. Long of Campbellford captivated the audience with his sleight of hand tricks. W. J. Johnson thanked Mr. Long for his entertainment.

Grade 5 was the winner of roll call. The Home and School was celebrating its fourth birthday and the president then asked Mrs. B. Stever to light the candles on the birthday cake.

Woman Editor Governor

WINNIPEG — (CP). — Miss Catherine I. Forrest, editor of the Western Municipal News, has been appointed a governor of the University of Manitoba. She becomes the second woman on the 14-member board.

Miss Forrest is herself a graduate of the university, Class of 1920. She studied law.

Western Municipal News, published in Winnipeg, deals with municipal affairs in the three Prairie provinces.

Asked how her legal training fits in with her editorial duties, Miss Forrest said in an interview: "Quite useful. It's good business training for any field."

Miss Forrest is a strict career woman. She lives with two sisters in a house where "we don't have to cook or worry about laundry."

Her sister Helen is a school teacher; Mary works in the superintendent's office of the Bank of Montreal here. Two other sisters are married. One was a music teacher, the other a school teacher.

Miss Forrest belongs to the Portia Club, comprised of some 20 women lawyers in Winnipeg. She is also a member of the Canadian Women's Press Club, Winnipeg Branch, and of the University Women's Club.

6—In Memoriams

FINDLEY—In loving memory of a dear husband, William J. Findley, who passed away February 23, 1950.
Oh happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memories still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by his wife, Rosilla.

HENDREN—In loving memory of my dear wife, Mildred Anna, who passed away Feb. 23, 1945.
I live for you, who loved me,
For you, I know were true.
You smile in heaven above me,
And await my spirit, too.
—Ever remembered by her loving husband Howard.

HOLMES—In fond remembrance of Martha Clark, loving wife of Albert Holmes, died Feb. 23, 1949.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Fondly remembered by Dad and daughters.

PULFER—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. William Pulfer, who passed away Feb. 24, 1950.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

HILL-CREST Chicks for Sale — Egg prices are high and will go higher. To date egg production is down 100,000 cases below last year, storage stocks down 50%, and chick bookings now right across Canada are below same date last year. It all points to one thing—a serious shortage of eggs with resulting high prices right through 1951. Canada may be forced to import eggs as she has cheese and butter. That's bad for all. Better plan now to fill those laying houses with high producing Hill-Crest Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, or CrossxBreds to shell out those high-priced eggs later. Hill-Crest Chicks still sell at pre-war prices. Service a Pleasure. Write or Telephone G. A. Brethen or L. R. McMillan, Norwood.

Needn't Worry About Selling Raw Materials

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canadians sell to other countries great quantities of raw materials and sometimes they get worried about it.

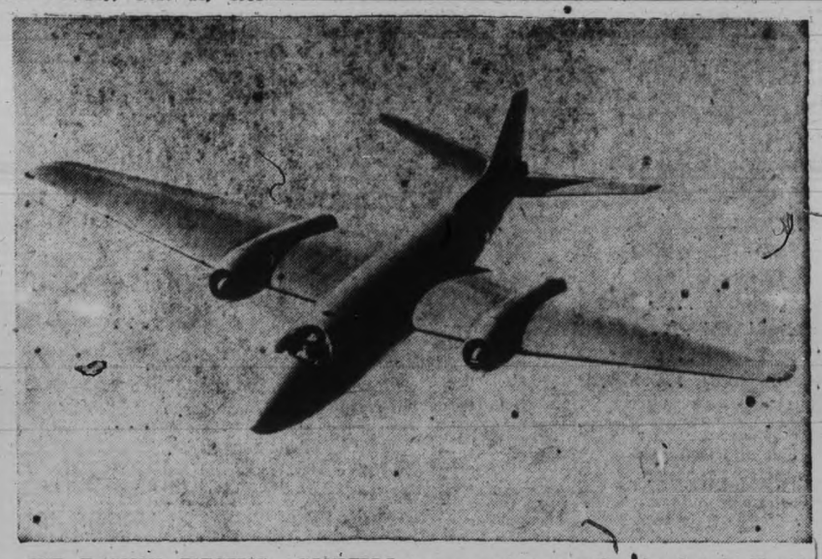
At such times they wonder whether they shouldn't make more of these raw materials into finished or semi-finished goods before letting them go.

In this connection, the current monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia has a word of encouragement and indicates that perhaps we are doing better than we think. In a survey of changes in the Canadian economy since the late '20s it comments:

"One of the most important aspects of Canada's growth has been the increasing degree to which wood and base metals have been processed in this country rather than exported in the raw or semi-processed form.

"Another major development has been the increasing Canadian content of many manufactured products resulting from the growth of parts manufacturing and the great expansion of such industries as metal fabrication and chemicals.

"Moreover, the range of basis production has considerably broadened, with the enormous increase of aluminum output, the oil discoveries in Alberta, and the development of the great iron and titanium deposits of Quebec and Ontario, while the supply of fuel and power has been enlarged both by the new oil and gas fields and by the further expansion of hydro-electric capacity.



Rich On Resources

"This country has the good fortune to be comparatively rich in resources of a kind that have been growing less plentiful in the United States and in the world at large, particularly woods and minerals.

"Even in regard to grains, there is a good deal to suggest that, despite exchange problems and efforts at self-sufficiency abroad, the long-range trend is in our favor, and meanwhile the growth of the domestic economy has been such as to reduce sharply and in some cases eliminate export surpluses of other farm products."

The current issue of the Bank of Nova Scotia review is it's 250th, and begins the 25th year of publication, in which time it has become known for its careful analyses, written clearly and interestingly.

For the occasion, Douglas Gibson, economist of the bank and the review's editor since 1935, has re-read the 249 preceding issues and from them compiled an economic story of the last quarter-century.

Now in service with the R.A.F., this high speed jet bomber is powered by two Rolls-Royce Avon engines, the same engine which presently powers the prototype CF100 jetfighter.

Immigrants Arrive

HALIFAX, Feb. 23 (CP). — Largest single group of Dutch immigrants ever to land in Canada arrived here Thursday aboard the passenger ship Volendam. A. H. J. Lovink, Netherlands ambassador to Canada, welcomed the 1,400 arrivals shortly after the Volendam docked. About 722 of the settlers will go to Ontario.

Chinese Reds Playing Down Unsuccessful Farm Experiment

By M. SIVARAN

BOMBAY, Feb. 23 (Reuters)—The Chinese Communist regime has soft-pedalled its land revolution, the once-dynamic program which featured the early days of the Communist "liberation" of China.

Still the world's greatest experiment in agrarian reform, the Chinese government's program of "land for the tiller" has undergone drastic reorientation.

What began as forceful popular measures of a party of rebels engaged in an armed struggle for political power today has become the cautious, ordered reform of an established bureaucracy.

Mao Tse-Tung, chairman of the Chinese People's Republic, endorsing reorientation of the land revolution, explained in Peiping: "Absolute equalitarianism is an impossibility. We cannot afford to mix up feudal exploitation, which has to be eradicated, with capitalist exploitation, which has to be cured but not eliminated during the initial stage of the new democracy."

Competent observers in Peiping stress that this gradual, cautious approach towards China's economic reforms is in sharp contrast to the hasty, all-out Sovietization adopted by the new regime in the political, military and intellectual spheres.

Official reports say agarian reforms in China have been completed, or mainly completed, in an area with a rural population of about 150,000,000—out of a total population of about 163,000,000. This covers the northeastern region of Manchuria, the provinces of Jehol, Saiyuan, Shansi and Shantung, around the Yellow Sea and some areas of central China.

To Start Anew

Plans are ready for enforcing land reforms in central and south China affecting nearly 100,000,000 people. This plan, which the Peiping government hopes to complete during the winter and spring, will cover Honan, Hupeh, Hopel, Hunan, Kiangsi and some parts of Kwangtung province.

The redistribution of confiscated land, undertaken by Red army units as the Communists began piling up military victories, was a hectic affair. Army units moved triumphantly into villages, with detailed plans of available land and full lists of their supporters and opponents.

Although they helped the Communist Party's victory, the land reforms enforced during the military campaign have not proved successful. The Peiping government has officially admitted that the land evolution was marked by too much violence and serious irregularities. It also admitted that army commanders and political commissars had indulged in commandism and favouritism in the land redistribution plan. Classification of rural population often proved unfair.

Can't Reach Target

Families which received small plots of land and were ordered to produce the maximum possible grain found their holdings uneconomic. In any case, they could not reach the production target set by the authorities, without draught animals, farm implements and fertilizer.

In addition, the share of grain claimed by the government in taxation left peasants in many regions without enough grain for their food.

Under the revised system, China's rural population is divided into five categories: landlords, rich peasants, middle peasants, poor peasants and workers.

The rich and middle peasant classes are subdivided into different categories, depending on how much land they cultivate themselves and how much they rent out, the degree of "exploitation" they indulge in, the number of farm laborers they employ and other considerations.

In an explanation of the new system, the Chinese Government explains that the rich and middle peasants economy must be preserved, so that agricultural production may be encouraged and the national economy sustained, during the present phase of land revolution.

Political observers in Peiping believe that the agrarian law is tempered by the desire of the new regime to win the country's middle classes to the Communist cause, at least until such time as political stability is established throughout the country.

Interior Of Garage Destroyed In Fire

An explosion in the basement of the Grant Lytle garage in Minden on Wednesday evening, thought to have started in a fuel oil storage section, resulted in a fire which quickly destroyed the interior of a garage, service station and showroom. Norman Harrison, the only employee in the building, managed to stagger from the building before he was overcome by fumes. The exact cause of the fire has not been determined.

Minden's Fire Chief Ern Hewitt lost no time in rounding up his volunter brigade which were able to control the blaze to the extent of saving the walls and roof of the structure although the contents were destroyed. The loss is believed to have been covered by insurance.

Release 4 Germans Convicted Of Atrocities

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Feb. 23—(AP)—Four Germans convicted of participation in concentration-camp atrocities were released today from the United States war crimes prison at Landsberg.

The four are Erich Penz and Joseph Pinter, sentenced to life imprisonment, and Herman Sommerfeld and Gustav Matzke, who had received 15 and 10-year prison terms respectively.

Today's releases brought to 43 the total of convicted German war criminals freed since Jan. 1 after U.S. authorities commuted their terms.

Masonic Funeral Given Wm. Gano, Marmora

MARMORA, Feb. 23—(ENS)—Under auspices of Marmora AF an. AM 222, the funeral of William R. Gano took place Wednesday afternoon, leaving his late residence on Madoc Street for St. Andrew's United Church where at 3 p.m. the service was conducted by the Rev. G. D. Young. Due to bad weather, the last rites of the Masonic Order were carried out in the porch of the church.

Those taking part were Right Wor. Bro. C. N. Buskard, Wor. Bro. S. Sandham (Worshipful Master AF and AM 222), Wor. Bro. H. C. Barlow and Bro. Rev. J. M. Brownlie.

Burial took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery, the pallbearers being Ben Blucher, Frank Lough, Burson Mitts, Fred Campbell, Wesley Finkle and Charles Kelly.

Austerity Note

WORCESTER, England (CP)—Mute mourner for Britain's acute meat shortage was the window of a butcher's shop here. Sides of beef and joints of mutton were replaced by three bowls of hyacinths and six dummy legs of lamb.

All That Mattered

HASTINGS, N. Z. (CP).—After a fire in the paintshop of Hastings Hospital only one pocket remained of a pair of trousers which a painter had left on a hook. But it was the only part that mattered—the pocket contained £1 10s. ($5.00).

Ont. Legislature Approves 2 Committees

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP) — Unanimous approval was given by Ontario Legislature members Thursday to a government move to set up two new standing committees—on administrative government commission and on lands and forests.

The first committee will examine the operation of such commission-run provincial enterprises as the Ontario Northland Railway, Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Liquor Control Board and Niagara Parks Commission.

Premier Frost said establishment of the committee was recognition of the argument of E. B. Jolliffe, CCF leader, that such commissions should not be subjected to the type of examination now given in the Committee of Supply, which discusses budget estimates.

Mr. Salsberg was preceded in the throne speech debate by four other back-benchers: Gordon Ellis (CCF, Essex North), S. J. Hunt (PC, Renfrew North), J. M. Newman (Lib.-Lab., Rainy River) and H. W. Walker (L, Welland).

Mr. Ellis, who is also a member of the Windsor Board of Control, registered a spirited defence against what he termed "unfair, unjust and often malicious propaganda" against his city during law enforcement investigations there last year.

Rates Too High

Mr. Newman welcomed development of hydro service in Rainy River but said rates were high and might be equalized with rates elsewhere in the province.

He urged that men hired on a part-time basis by government departments be given compensation for injuries. Many of the employees, such as truckers, were classified as contractors.

The steep rock mine area needed a road outlet east from Atikokan to the lakehead. Residents of the mine area, however, wanted a road outlet and didn't want it delayed by argument on the route, Mr. Newman said.

"The mines in this area can be classified as Canada's iron-ore backlog."

Mr. Hunt said the government had gone a long way to equalizing education opportunities. Teachers had never been paid salaries equal to their responsibilities, but local boards had raised wages considerably.

Pleased At Information

"I was gratified to hear in the Throne Speech that something would be done to improve rural telephones," he said. Renfrew county had 12 separate telephone companies that could be consolidated.

Provincial and federal governments should attempt decentralization of industry for civil defence purposes, and to benefit rural sections.

Eastern Ontario wanted its share of the hydro produced in Ottawa power developments. "We should get our share of industries too."

Premier Frost indicated that the Ontario legislature may complete its business in another month.

If it succeeds, it will adjourn as in most other years, the week before Easter. This year Easter falls on March 25, with Good Friday March 23.

"We have set Easter, but not later than, say, the first week in April, as target date," Mr. Frost said Thursday in an interview.

Few Bible Readers

MONTREAL — (CP) — Rev. A. Lorne Mackay of the Montreal West Presbyterian Church said here "an appalling number of our people are illiterate so far as the Bible is concerned." He called this a real weakness in the life and worship of the Christian church.

British Experts Attend Secret German Meet

BONN, Germany, Feb. 23 (Reuters)—British experts on the Balkans attended a secret meeting in Munich this week of exiled anti-Soviet politicians.

Reports reaching here say the politicians, calling themselves the "Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations" and believed backed by money collected in Canada, discussed plans for a political settlement for Eastern Europe should the Soviet system come to an end.

The Britons are described wartime experts on subversive operations in the Balkans.

Many politicians attending the meeting claim to head partisan movements in more-or-less-constant warfare with MVD (ministry of the interior) troops of the Soviet Union.

They agree that Soviet Russia should eventually be broken up into its component racial parts—Ukrainians, Georgians, Azerbaijanis and so on.

Well Financed

The "Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations" is reported to be well financed by the Ukrainian colony in Canada. One of its aims is to set up an independent radio station in Western Germany.

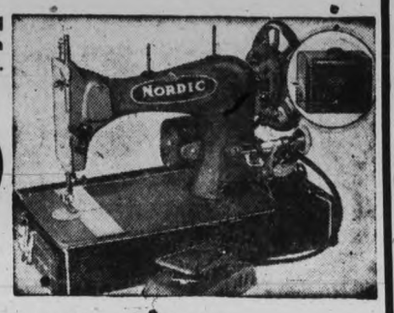
The reports say the Munich meeting was attended by anti-Communist Ukrainians, Poles, Azerbaijanis, Turks, Georgians, Cossacks, Croats, Czechs and Slovaks.

Many of these fought for local independence against the Russian revolution; some preferred to join the Nazis in 1941 in order to be able to fight Communism and were taken prisoner inside Germany or elsewhere in 1945.

Supporters of the Ukrainian partisan leader "General" Istvan Bandera have fought both Nazis and Communists. The movement is led by Jaroslav Stetzko, a Polish Ukrainian now living in London who was prime minister of the self-styled "independent republic of Ukraine" for the four days of its existence in 1941.

Continues Strife

His agent in Munich was his wife who lives there under a false name. Bandera also had representatives there, it is reported.



One of the biggest problems of these exiles, in continuous strife with other political groups from their own countries, has been to reach frontier agreements with exile representatives of neighboring states.

An achievement of the meeting is believed to have been that the Ukrainians and Poles came to a common arrangement whereby the Polish Ukraine would be put under common administration with a plebiscite to determine local government. The Polish Ukraine is the eastern part of Poland seized by Russia after the collapse of Poland in 1939 and incorporated in the Soviet Ukraine.

Ottawa Approves Plan To Organize Defence Production

OTTAWA, Feb. 24. (CP)—The Commons has placed its preliminary stamp of approval on the master blueprint for Canada's new defence production machinery. It gave first reading yesterday to a Government bill creating a new department with wide powers to direct the production of the planes, guns, tanks and ships needed for the defence of Canada and, if necessary, for war. The new department, to be known as the Department of Defence Production, will be headed by 65-year-old Trade Minister Howe, the Government's aggressive wartime Minister of Munitions and Supply. He will have powers almost as sweeping as those under which his wartime department operated.

Seven Targets

Piloting the legislation yesterday, he told the chamber that military experts believe there are seven targets—he did not name them—in Canada which might invite atomic attack in a third world war. He doubted if atomic bombs would be used solely to destroy the civilian population.

In another segment of the government's growing defence preparations, the chamber gave second reading—approval in principle—to a bill giving the government vast stand-by control powers. Opposition members called for a clearer definition of the powers to be used. The government does not plan to use the powers in the immediate future.

May End State of War

As the House moved to fend off another conflict, External Affairs Minister Pearson reported in the opening stages that the government is considering the possibility of ending the state of war with Germany "by action other than a general peace treaty."

Mr. Howe, in his brief statement on possible atomic attack on strategic Canadian centres, said he would hesitate to say "very much about planning an economy that would be at its best against an atomic bomb attack."

"Atomic bombs are tremendously expensive," he continued. "There are only a few of them and not likely to be too many.

"It is the view of military experts that it would take a very glittering target to attract an attack by an atomic bomb. They believe if atomic bombs were to be used in warfare, there are about seven targets in Canada that might possibly attract them."

Disperse Industries

Opposition parties endorsed the defence production bill and called at the same time for a dispersal of industries, a close watch on expenditures and safeguards against profiteering.

Under the legislation, Mr. Howe will have power to order a company to fulfil a war contract, to examine its books and to requisition and allocate supplies where necessary. Stiff penalties are provided for failure to comply.

The legislation will come into force on a date to be fixed by proclamation and will continue until July 31, 1956.

Premier Pleven Risks Gov't To Curb Reds

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Feb. 24 — (AP) — Premier Rene Pleven last night staked the life of his government on a plan for curbing Communist political influence in France by virtually eliminating proportional representation in national elections.

He asked for a vote of confidence Tuesday on the government plan. If the deputies in parliament do not agree to consider his proposal for electing their successors, the Cabinet will have to quit.

Pleven told the National Assembly that the present system of proportional representation, whereby the deputies elected by each party are in proportion to the total number of voters, must be changed. He said that as it now stands it benefits only the Communists. In the 1946 voting Communists won 185 seats in the Assembly out of the 621 total, making them the largest single group.

Cabinet's Plan

The Cabinet's compromise plan, evolved after months of wrangling, is this:

Any party which gets more than half the votes in any of the 140-odd election districts gets all its candidates in those districts elected. The districts have one to 11 deputies, depending on their size.

Any group of parties which have made pre-election agreements can elect the joint candidates by receiving 60 per cent. of the vote. Seats then are distributed among parties in the winning group according to the votes they contributed to victory.

In districts where no single party gets half the votes and no group of parties gets 60 per cent., there must be a runoff election the following Sunday. In runoffs, after the weaker groups have withdrawn and further deals have been made, the same rules apply. The only change is that an alliance needs only 55 per cent. of the votes of the second time to win. If conditions still are not fulfilled, then the seats must be distributed by proportional representation.

The Tuesday vote in the Assembly will determine only whether the plan is to be discussed on the floor.

United Church Blasts City Vice

TORONTO, Feb. 24. (CP) — Prostitutes, pimps, bookies, drug addicts and lewd night-club entertainment here came under fire yesterday from the United Church.

Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service, and Rev. F. W. L. Brailey of Carmen United Church presented a 1,200-word brief to the police commission criticizing six aspects of Toronto life.

It complained that Toronto was the scene of one-third of all horse racing in Canada and suggested that Dufferin race track, one of the four in this area, be made into a housing project.

The two clergymen said night club entertainment is "filthy and vulgar" in many cases.

Mr. Brailey complained that plainclothes police now are known to entertainers who call intermissions whenever the officers enter the clubs.

Dr. Mutchmor said some hotels are still habituated by pimps, prostitutes and drug addicts. He objected to liquor licences being renewed for these hotels and protested issue of 29 new licences for hotels in the Jarvis-Sherbourne area.

Sought By Police Woman Returns Home

WATERLOO, Feb. 24—(CP)—Mrs. Norman Nelles, 29, of Nakina, Ont., whose disappearance was being probed by Waterloo and Barrie police returned to the home of her parents here last night.

Mrs. Nelles, who had been visiting her parents, left Monday for Barrie to see her doctor. She was scheduled to return Tuesday. Police were asked to investigate when she had not shown up on Thursday. No explanation was given as to where she had been.

U.S. Aircraft Sights Shipwreck Survivors

TOKYO, Feb. 24—(AP)— Far East Air Force Headquarters reported the sighting today of survivors from the lost Norwegian freighter Florentine.

A weather plane radioed that it spotted them adrift in a lifeboat about 25 miles southwest of Iwo Jima.

A B-29 Superfort was dispatched from Guam. It carried a droppable lifeboat equipped with food, water and medicine. The navy tug Takelma was steaming under full draft for the area.

The Florentine, bound from San Francisco from the Philippines, sank in a storm south of Iwo Jima in mid-week after being abandoned.

Fate Of Schuman Plan On Coal, Steel Known Soon

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON.

PARIS, Feb. 24 (AP). — The Schuman plan for pooling the coal and steel of six western European countries will be either adopted or abandoned next week, reliable sources said today.

The informants said Jean Monnet, French chairman of the six-country delegation entrusted with writing the plan into treaty form, will convene a plenary session Monday and give the delegation chiefs possibly 48 hours to sign.

Lobby Against Plan

High-level spokesmen say Ruhr industrialists have put heavy pressure on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to withhold the German signature until the allies drop their program to decentralize the Ruhr industries.

Unless all six countries — France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—initial the document, the source said, Monnet will "pronounce the negotiations suspended indefinitely," which would mean junking the plan.

German Cartels

The main stumbling block in the Schuman plan is said to be the problem of Germany's cartels —the industrial empires in which steel-mill owners control their own coal mines and, through their holdings, are able to rig prices to wreck competition.

The plan specifically provides that such practices be outlawed. Provisions to prevent a steel mill from producing more than a percentage of the coal it needs for its own production purposes are included in the proposed treaty.

An authoritative source recalled that West Germany's delegation agreed to those clauses last December. But West Germany made it a condition that the present occupation authority controls on the Ruhr be relaxed so that the industries could enter the Schuman plan on a basis of equality with the other five countries.

Britain Has No More To Say Canadian Wheat Contract

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Feb. 24. (CP)—The British Government indicated today that it has spoken its last word on the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat contract. Formally, the treasury confined itself to a curt statement that it had had talks about wheat with Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner of Canada, and that Gardiner was going home today.

That was all. Informally, a treasury spokesman said the government plans to leave any further talking to Canada.

As far as the British press was concerned, there didn't seem to be anything to get excited about. In reporting a press conference yesterday, not one paper detected any dissatisfaction in Canada's attitude towards the settlement of the wheat contract.

There was no reference either to Gardiner's obvious disappointment at Britain's refusal to make any adjustment in prices paid during the last two years of the contract or to a statement by John Wesson, representing prairie wheat farmers.

Wesson told reporters that Canadian farmers consider Britain guilty of a breach of contract.

The Canadian claim is based on clause 2B of the contract, signed in July, 1946. Under this clause the British signers promised to have regard in the last two years of the contract to the difference between Canadian and world prices in the first two years.

Gardiner's talks with British officials started last Tuesday. He flew home today.

Coal Production Up

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP)—Coal production and imports increased during January, but exports declined, the Bureau of Statistics reported Friday. Output amounted to 1,945,000 tons, compared with 1,801,536 in January, 1950, while imports totalled 1,211,666 tons against 634,316. Exports totalled 18,515, compared with 27,083.

Pats, UK Fight Red Battalion

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Feb. 24 — (CP) — Canadian and British forces on the west central front today were reported in an Eighth Army communique as "engaging an estimated enemy battalion."

The communique, issued at 8.10 p.m. (6.10 a.m. EST), gave no other details.

Last night, Reuters News Agency reported the Canadians were fighting it out with two battalions of Chinese in the hills northeast of Chipyong.

The Canadians, earlier reported spearheading action in the British sector west of Hoengsong, moved in under artillery fire laid down by a New Zealand unit. But they were so close to the enemy that their officers did not dare call for air support for fear of hitting their own men.

Reuters said there were no casualties among the Canadians in the earlier part of yesterday's fighting. Later, the dispatch said, fighting became savage as the battalion moved forward.

King Of Buganda Name In Divorce Case

NAIROBI, Kenya, Feb. 24—(Reuters)—The king of Buganda was cited as co-respondent in a divorce action listed today for hearing before the Uganda high court.

The petitioner is another African, an employee of the government's relations department.

The 26-year-old king—Mutesa II—is named in the petition as Frederick Edward Mutesa, and the address given is his palace at Kampala, in Uganda's Buganda province.

Boys Ride Ice Cakes Down Niagara River

FORT ERIE, Feb. 24 (CP). — Daring youngsters are riding cakes of ice down the swirling Niagara River, chief constable Andrew Griffin said here Friday in a warning to parents to discourage the dangerous sport. The boys jump on the ice cakes, ride downstream a distance then pole to shore. "The ice is soft, the current dangerous and there's going to be a tragedy unless the boys are stopped," said the chief.

Not Satisfied With Pension Says Frost

Ontario Accepts Plan "Half Loaf" Abandons Own Plan

TORONTO, Feb. 24. (CP)—Premier Frost told the Ontario Legislature yesterday that his Government is not completely satisfied with the old-age pension proposal that came out of the recent Federal-Provincial Conference in Ottawa.

Ontario had accepted the plan, however, because "half a loaf was better than none."

The Premier said he was forced to abandon his alternate plan for financial assistance to unemployable persons, which could, with Federal assistance, have helped disabled persons from 21 years of age and up.

The pension proposal, as finally settled, is for federal pensions of $40 without a means test to all above 70 and $40 pensions with a means test for those between 65 and 69. Payments for this second group would be made jointly by dominion and provincial governments.

Inauguration of the plan awaits a constitutional amendment, federal legislation and finally complementary legislation by the provinces.

In a press statement after the legislature rose, Premier Frost said his government wasn't "completely happy" but "we have no wish to be dogmatic about our position."

Ten provinces and the dominion had to agree on one plan.

Mr. Frost said he was not in favor of the means test, however. "The same arguments that applied in abolishing the tests for those above 70 applies, we felt, in the 65-69 age bracket."

Help Those Over 65

One factor in Ontario's final acceptance of the old age pension proposal was that it would provide help to those between 65 and 70—the age group which would have received much of the assistance under the province's alternate plan for pensions to the unemployable.

Premier Frost did not say what opposition his plan had received at the Ottawa conference, since it was held in private.

However, the plan, he told reporters, would have lifted part of municipalities' relief burden and would no longer make a totally-disabled head of a family "an object of charity."

Mr. Frost's statement to the legislature came as it was considering a government bill to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Joseph Salsberg (Lab.-Prog.-Toronto St. Andrew) moved an amendment to the bill to require that a workman should be paid not only for a disability traced directly to an accident, but for further disability brought about

Czechs Reinstate U.S. Newsman

PRAGUE, Feb. 24 — (AP). — William N. Oatis, chief of the Prague Bureau of the Associated Press, was restored today to official standing as a correspondent in Czechoslovakia.

He had been without this status for the last five of his eight months here. And once he had been told he must leave the country.

The Information Ministry this morning handed him a booklet declaring him an accredited foreign newspaper man. This was stamped as valid for the first three months of 1951.

Correspondents are accredited quarter by quarter. After his arrival from London last June 23, Oatis was accredited through September.

September 22, the Foreign Ministry's Press Department informed him that his accreditation would not be renewed because of some misbehavior not specified. He was given to understand that he must get out of the country.

It developed, however, he was allowed to stay here on residence permits extended from time to time.

He was able to attend one trial and all press conferences to which accredited Western correspondents were invited, but he was unable to get into a second trial that the others attended.

Like It Or Not, Britain Going To Receive New Stone Of Scone From Stubborn Texan

GOLDTHWAITE Tex., Feb. 24 (AP)—Britain is going to get a new stone of scone whether she wants it or not.

E. B. Adams, Goldthwaite monument maker who offered the facsimile to replace the stolen coronation stone, yesterday said he will politely ignore Britain's polite rejection of the offer.

He'll complete the stone and send it prepaid to Britain. Then the British government can do as it pleases with the "expression of friendship between your people and our people."

"They can throw it into the Thames River, the English Channel, or wherever they please," the Texan said.

Adams wrote British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks in Washington, offering the replica of the stone as a gift from the Monument Builders of the Southwest, Inc.

Yesterday, the custodian of the stone, Dr. Alan Campbell Don, dean of Westminster, was quoted in London as saying:

"I am afraid I cannot accept offers from individuals to replace the Stone of Scone."

Spectacular Fire Destroys Sudbury Hotel, All Escape

SUDBURY, Ont., Feb. 24. (CP)—Neon signs on three downtown streets flash their message off and on here all night, directing travellers to Sudbury's Frontenac Hotel. Today the 58-room hotel is a charred, water-logged, blackened ruin. While the signs flashed, all available Sudbury firemen—28 out of 30—battled with 10 lines of hose and an aerial ladder one of the most spectacular blazes in the city's history.

Flames, leaping 100 feet in the air from the wood-and-tarpaper roof and boiling from every top window of the three-storey structure, drew thousands of spectators, who poured from restaurnats and theatres soon after the fire started at 11 p.m.

Fire Chief William Andrews said it was under control shortly before 3 a.m. By that time the top floor was completely gutted, parts of the second floor were burned and the whole building was heavily damaged by water.

No Deaths

No estimate of total damage was immediately available. As far as is known there were no deaths and the only injury was a slight one suffered by a fireman to his hand.

About 25 guests were registered and all those in the hotel when the fire was discovered were evacuated.

"We're lucky there was no wind," said Fire Chief Andrews. If there had been an east one, the Jubilee apartment block would probably have gone. The Jubilee apartments on the west side of the hotel and the five-storey Mackey office building on the south side were in considerable danger in the fire's early stages.

Fire-fighters' first efforts were directed to preventing the flames spreading to these buildings. Paint was seared from the apartments and the roof was smoking at one stage.

Basements of a fur store, leather goods store, flower shop, men's wear and beauty shop were flooded, but no immediate estimate of damage was avilable.

Landslide Kills 6

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 24 — (AP)—Dispatches and broadcasts reported Friday recent heavy rains caused a landslide which killed six persons at Bucarasica, 35 miles from the Colombia-Venezuela border. Storm-borne floods and landslides of the last weekend killed at least 10 persons in Caracas and La Guaira, Venezuela, dispatches from Caracas hve reported.

Malan Raps UK Self-Gov't Plan

CAPETOWN, Feb. 24—(Reuters) — Prime Minister Daniel Malan yesterday attacked Britain's policy of helping her colonies toward self-government within the Commonwealth.

If Britain sticks to this policy, he said in an interview, the Commonwealth cannot last.

He demanded removal of the "anomaly" by which Britain on her own admitted new members to the Commonwealth without consulting her partners.

Britain and the United States between them are killing the Commonwealth, Malan said.

"We who attach value to its continued existence may deeply regret it—but unfortunately the fault is not ours."

Malan was asked about the elections recently held in the British Gold Coast colony in West Africa. The premier, a determined advocate of racial segregation, said the policy of the people's convention party, which obtained an overwhelming majority in the gold coast elections, was clear: it wanted full self-government.

The British government, through colonial secretary James Griffiths, had in advance already cordially conceded this, said Malan.

If other African territories were going to demand with the same success what the negroes of West Africa had gained, then it meant nothing less than expulsion of white men from practically everywhere between South Africa and the Sahara.

"What that will mean for us on the southern tip of Africa, but even more so for white communities to the north of us, is not a matter for conjecture. Anyone with common sense must know."

Nazi Sentenced To Die

BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—Julius Bergmann, former Nazi Storm Troop leader, was sentenced to death yesterday by a Soviet sector court for crimes against humanity. He was found guilty of torturing political prisoners in 1933.

UK Scientists Use Own Arms To Test Atom Bomb Burns

By FRANK E. CAREY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—How British scientists exposed their arms to experimental burns to learn the effects of atomic-bomb "flash burning" was described today to American naval doctors.

Dr. W. J. H. Butterfield, of Britain's Medical Research Council, told of experiments which he and a group of colleagues conducted on themselves. They used an intensely-hot movie-projector type of lamp, and learned what kind of burns might be expected to result from exposure at various distances to the flash of heat from an exploding A-bomb.

Some Deep Burns

Butterfield said nearly a dozen scientists suffered small burns ranging in severity from sunburn like reddening to deep burns which left the skin like parchment. He said a side result was a new evidence of the effect of infection on healing time.

Butterfield, who still bears marks of his own burns, addressed a special meeting at the Naval Medical Research Institute at Washington.

The scientists exposed their arms opposite a small hole through which heat from a lamp was "flashed" for periods up to a little over a second. Doctors E. R. D. Seager, J. Dixcy and E. Treadwell were among Butterfield's co-workers.

List Effects

The experimenters exposed themselves for varying times to the heat source, corresponding to various distances from an A-bomb explosion.

Their conclusions, based on a simulation of the effects of a Hiroshima-type bomb exploded in the air on a clear day, were these:

1. Openly-exposed skin would be expected to suffer a first-degree burn—that is, reddening like a severe sunburn—at a distance up to 5,000 yards from the point of explosion.

2. Shallow second - degree burns—burns having tiny blisters—would be experienced at a distance of 3,800 yards; and more-serious second - degree burns, showing thick blisters, at 3,200 yards.

3. The worst type of burn — the third-degree form in which the skin is dead and resembles parchment—would be experienced at 3,000 yards and less from the explosion site.

Fighting Slows Down Along Front

No Casualties Reported Among Canadians

TOKYO, Feb. 24. (CP) — American forces pushed into Hoengsong twice today but made no attempt to hold the Communists' major Central Korean road hub.

A tank-infantry team withdrew after a three-hour fight Saturday morning with Chinese forces north of the town.

Patrols prowled into the town again in the afternoon but pulled back when the Communists began firing from the northern hills.

East of Chipyong, allied infantrymen flushed a battalion of Chinese Saturday afternoon in the Sanggosong area.

An Eighth Army communique said Canadian and British forces on the west central front were reported engaging an estimated enemy battalion.

Elsewhere along the war front, there was little action.

of six Allied countries, including a Canadian battalion, the Reds were withdrawing slowly toward a new defence line cutting across mountains north of Hoengsong.

This pull-back from the scene of a disastrous defeat was made while reports circulated of a shake-up in the Chinese High Command.

United Nations sources on the west central front heard that Gen. Lin Piao, "The Manchurian Hammer," has been shifted back to South China.

Lin, one of the ablest of Red China's field commanders, is believed to have been succeeded as leader of the Fourth Field Army in Korea by Gen. Peng Teh-huai, Deputy Commander-in-Chief of all Chinese Red armies.

Front Assault

The Canadian force was reported Friday swinging out in their frontal assault against two battalions of Communist Chinese in the hills northeast of Chipyong. They won high ground overlooking a razorback ridge. Chipyong is 20 miles west of Hoengsong.

The 2nd battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry was operating with units

British Trains Remain In Snarl

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP) — British trainmen continued to snarl the state-owned rail services with scattered strikes today, despite yesterday's settlemen of their wage dispute.

The walkouts apparently were called before announcement of the agreement raising wages 7½ per cent was made yesterday.

A spokesman for the trainmen's union said:

"The late hour of the settlement made it difficult to prevent some of the earlier strike decisions coming into force. It is always more difficult to get the men back, but we are doing our best."

But at industrial Birmingham, one of the worst-hit areas, a strikers' spokesman said the wage increases—which totalled £12,000,000 ($36,000,000)—were not enough for trainmen in the district. Some of the men had originally asked for a 15-per-cent increase.

Many trains from London to the west of England and the Midlands were cancelled. Local services around the steel centre of Sheffield also were hit.

US Frees Three Nazis Atrocity Convicts

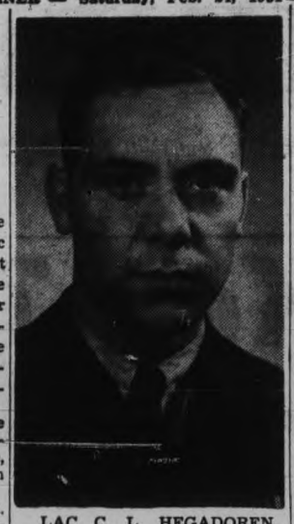
LANDSBERG, Germany, Feb. 24—(AP)— Three more German war criminals were freed today from the United States war-crimes prison on executive action by Gen. Thomas T. Handy, U.S. forces commander in Europe.

The releases brought to 46 those freed since last Jan. 1.

Liberated were Karl Keiling, sentenced to a life term, and Gerhard Haubold and Edward Loesch, each sentenced to 20 years. Both were convicted of committing atrocities in the infamous Flossenbuerg concentration camp.

Mowry Family Represented At CGE By 12

In a large industrial plant like the Canadian General Electric Company which employs about 5,000 people, there is bound to be more than one father-and-son or daughter working team. Peterborough Works is probably in the odd position of having 12 members o fthe Mowry family working there at the present time.



The Mowrys stem from the late John R., one of the original employees of the old Machine Shop, when the plant was established in Peterborough in 1890.

Four grandsons of John R. Mowry, all members of the Quarter Century Club, and currently employed at the plant are Ches, Fred, Rueben and Milne. Ches, with 46 years of company service has a daughter, Shirley in the production department, and two sons, Holly in switchgear and Ken in mechanical.

Milne Mowry, with 31 years of service in the planning department, has two sons in the wire and cable division, Paul and Joseph.

A ff grandson and nephew of the four Mowry brothe s already mentioned, is Martin in the industrial control division who has two daughters also wo king at the plant, Barbara in his own department and Mrs. Betty Baird in wire and cable. The last two are gre t-great grandchildren of the original John Mowry.

The first of the Mowry CGE Dozen to retire will be grandson Ches who will be pensioned this summer.

LAC C. L. HEGADOREN, son of Mrs. B. Hegadoren, 994 Western Ave., is taking a special course in para-rescue work with the US Army at Fort Benning, Georgia. He is one of seven RCAF men chosen for this special work.

Rita Hayworth Said On Expecting List

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Feb. 24 (Reuters).—Rita Hayworth, wife of Prince Ali Khan, is expecting a second baby in a few months, a reliable source said Friday.

Her baby daughter, Yasmin, was born in December, 1949, at the Mount Choisi Clinic here. The directress of the clinic said Friday Miss Hayworth had not reserved a room.

The Prince and Rita are expected early next month in Switzerland, where Yasmin and their children by previous marriages are living in a rented villa.

Minister Blasts Wheat Plebiscite

By The Canadian Press.

A controversial matter involving the farmers of the three prairie provinces was raised yesterday in the Saskatchewan Legislature, one of seven in session across Canada.

Agriculture Minister I. C. Nollet said the whole future of the Wheat Board as an agency for marketing western grains might be sabotaged if a plebiscite is held as scheduled in Manitoba.

Mr. Nollet, member of the province's CCF government, asked the Saskatchewan Liberal leader, Walter Tucker, to appeal to the government of Manitoba not to hold the plebiscite.

Coarse grains and wheat now are marketed through the Federal Government Wheat Board. This manner of marketing coarse grains was brought about by a federal government bill which was followed by complementary legislation in the three prairie provinces.

Government To Hire $1-A-Year Experts

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP). — Trade Minister Howe indicated Friday in the Commons that establishment of a new defence production department will mean a return of $1-a-year-man to Ottawa.

In the Second World War, the government drafted some of the top men from various industries to serve in the munitions and supply department. Their companies continued salaries and the government paid them $1 a year and expenses.

Mr. Howe, who will be in charge of the defence production department, said the government proposed to bring in experienced men from industry and experienced purchasing agents to direct the work.

Seymour Boys' Finger

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 24 — (ENS)—Keith Gratton, of Seymour East, suffered a broken finger on his left hand on Friday, after a log fell on him as he was cutting wood. A knot on the log struck the lad's middle finger causing a clean break. He was taken to Dr. W. W. Baker where a cast was applied, after X-rays revealed the nature of the break. Gratton will be unable to work for about a month.

Official Opposes Seaway Control

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP). —Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman says New England is unwilling to give New York "complete authority" to administer the power phase of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway.

He made the statement yesterday in response to a question by Representative Tom Pickett (Dem.-Tex.) at a House of Representatives public works committee hearing.

Pickett asked why final agreement had not been worked out on disposition of the power potential.

Chapman added that "New England wants some leeway."

Chapman, who maintains the proposed project is necessary, made his second appearance before the committee.

He said that if New York were given the right to administer the power it would build transmission lines. Such construction, he said, would not delay amortization of the project.

President Truman, who supports the St. Lawrence proposal, recently told Senator Herbert H. Lehman (Dem. Lib. N.Y.) that he agreed that New York should administer the power.

of Australian and New Zealand soldiers. They hauled themselves up slippery slopes through a hail of fire to within grenade range of Chinese troops, concealed in low scrub and dug in strongly.

No Casualties

No casualties were suffered by the Patsicias, although the fighting became savage as they drove ahead.

Planes, tanks, artillery and warships teamed up in keeping the four-day-old Allied drive rolling in central Korea.

C-119 flying boxcars parachuted ammunition for the guns and gasoline for the tanks when supply trucks bogged down on muddy mountain roads.

Missouri Fires

The battleship Missouri's 16-inch guns touched off a tremendous explosion during a bombardment near Songjin, on the northeast coast 185 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

The direct hit destroyed a warehouse filled with ammunition for the hard-pressed Reds on the central front. Flames of the explosion rose 100 feet, smoke for 400 feet.

A massive barrage of artillery, tanks and planes blasted Reds out of a mountain pass today on the east flank of the 60-mile central front.

The Reds offered stiff rearguard resistance on the approaches to a new mountain defence lie north of Hoengsong and Chipyong.

That 20-mile segment of the front defends Hongchong, a Red assembly and communication hub.

Some 15,000 Reds had been expected to stand or die in Hoengsong, but a field report today from Eighth Army headquarters said the Reds appeared more likely to make their stand north of the war-torn town.

Cut Vital Road

Twenty-five miles east of Hoengsong, American troops cut a vital east-west road dissecting the Korean peninsula. Capping a 10-mile advance on the east flank, the Americans reached the road near the town of Pangnim.

This advance was made possible by the air, artillery and tank barrage that routed entrenched Reds guarding a mountain pass south of Pangnim.

Elsewhere Red counter-attacks and rain-swept terrain combined against the efforts of four American divisions, plus British, Australian, Canadian, New Zealand and South Korean forces.

Second Offender

PORT HOPE, Feb. 24.—Wesley McGill, 22, of RR 2, Bethany, was Friday sentenced to three months in jail in Port Hope by Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

McGill was convicted of illegal possession of liquor as a second offender. Beer was found in his car when it was searched by provincial police at a recent dance in Cavan.

Omemee Driver Held By Police

Murray Fee of Omemee was held today on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

In police court today, Fee was remanded to Feb. 28 on $300 bail after pleading not guilty before Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Fee is said to have been driving a car on Friday afternoon which hit Josephine Badcock, 521 Aylmer St., at Charlotte and George Sts. Miss Badcock was carried on the fender of the car for some distance, but was not injured.

The car's driver stopped and Miss Badcock fell off the fender. Then the car drove off.

Witnesses took the licence number of the car and reported it to PC Gordon Trennum, who investigated. PC Trennum traced the number and found it belonged to a car owned by Murray Fee of Omemee.

PC Harold Mesley accompanied PC Trennum to Omemee where they picked up Fee.

Miss Badcock had been walking north on George St. across Charlotte and was hit by a car that turned right to go west on Charlotte St.

12 Chinese Colleges Split From Churches

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP) —A blackout, perhaps temporary, has cut off all contact between American and Canadian supporters and 12 Christian colleges in China.

This was disclosed today, foreboding a possible end to a 50-year-old church-backed endeavor that has grown into a string of Chinese colleges from Canton to Peiping.

The United Board for Christian Colleges in China announced that the U.S. government, after a two-month ban on support to the Chinese institutions, has approved resumption of monthly grants. But the question now is whether the colleges will be able to accept any funds sent.

No reply has been received to a cablegram which the board, in anticipation of the U.S. government's approval, sent two weeks ago to each of the colleges asking whether further funds are acceptable.

A large part of the buildings facilities of the colleges is directly owned by the church groups, including 11 American and eight British and Canadian denominations.

Two Cars Damaged

Two cars were damaged to the amount of $450 Friday afternoon in an accident on Lansdowne St. west of the locks bridge.

George Would, of Havelock, was driving west on Lansdowne St., and as he came into a curve east of the scene of the accident, his car skidded and hit a car driven by Vincent Crebar, RR 8, Peterborough.

Damage to the Crebar car was about $250 and damage to Would's car amounted to $200.

Held For Car Theft

William Ross Gallagher, 26, Brockville, was remanded in custody today to Feb. 26 on a charge of car theft.

Picked up in Cobourg, he is charged in connection with the February 3 theft of a car belonging to Michael Caravaggie of Peterborough. The car was stolen from a Charlotte St. garage.

Debate Two Hours

The Communist member's amendment was defeated after two hours of debate. He argued that employers were wary of hiring men with a disability and the amendment would avoid another source of discrimination against such workmen.

Mr. Salsberg's motion paralleled one of the recommendations in the royal commission report on workmen's compensation by Mr. Justice W. D. Roach. Four of the report's recommendations are included in the government bill.

Premier Frost and Labor Minister Daley said that any increase in the compensation liability on employers would make them more careful of hiring any man with a disability that could aggravate a subsequent injury.

The Legislature will continue consideration of government legislation on Monday.

Scott Bills

Legislation introduced by Lands and Forests Minister Scott would remove restrictions in sales of land for private forest reserves. The cutting of certain types of trees is at present reserved to the Crown in such areas.

Another bill by Mr. Scott would permit his department to keep the skin of an animal sent in for collection on wolf bounties, if the skin is not that of a wolf. The department was receiving too many skins of cross breeds and wild dogs, he said. The bill would also require approval of the Minister before a bear or wolf is released from captivity, since such animals were often more dangerous when accustomed to humans.

Business assessment is included with real property in determining equalized assessments among municipalities in a high school area, under another bill introduced by Mr. Porter.

Mr. Porter said the bill would assure that urban areas carried a fair share of school costs with rural districts in a compound high school area.

Must Serve Full Meals To Get Liquor Permit

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — Brig. J. G. Spragge, Ontario Liquor Control Board comptroller, announced yesterday that after March 31 persons or organizations obtaining banquet permits will have to serve full-course meals if they sell liquor at their functions.

He said the change in regulations was made because some organizations were exploiting the use of banquet liquor licenses.

"It is not the purpose of a banquet permit to make money by selling liquor," the comptroller said. "Many clubs which have been in the habit of receiving permits have used them only to make money."

Previously organizations such as veterans and sports clubs have held regular monthly or quarterly meetings at which liquor was sold, but no food was provided except cheese and crackers or sandwiches.

The ruling does not apply to cocktail parties — providing the drinks at such gatherings are not sold.

Liberal Party Council Meets On Policy

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP)—The advisory council of the National Liberal Federation of Canada will open a three-day annual meeting here Monday.

Between 200 and 300 party members are expected to attend the council's deliberations, traditionally held in the capital. The council, the Liberal Party's policy-making body, will draft resolutions for presentation to the government.

Highlight of the meetings will be an address before the annual dinner Wednesday night by Prime Minister St. Laurent, speaking as Liberal leader.

W. R. Gallagher Gets 18 Months On Theft Counts

COBOURG, Feb. 24 — (ENS) — William Ross Gallagher, of Toronto, received concurrent terms of 18 months definite and six indefinite when he appeared for sentence on theft charges in police court Friday. Gallagher was arrested three weeks ago after he had aroused the suspicions of a cafe proprietor when he tried to sell a carton of cigarettes in the restaurant.

As a result of his arrest he was subsequently charged with breaking and entering Carcaud's service station in Hope Township, Feb. 6; breaking and entering a Deseronto service station, Feb. 8; possession of burglary tools in Port Rope on Feb. 8, and theft of licence plates in Toronto during the month of February. Gallagher received 18 months definite and six indefinite on the breaking and entering charges, and that of having burglary tools and six months on the charge of theft of licence plates, terms to run concurrently.

Unable To Hold Job

The accused told the court that his record caught up to him wherever he went and that he couldn't hold ajo b for that reason. However, Magistrate R. B. Baxter commented that the record was too long to overlook and that even when he was in the army he couldn't keep his fingers off things that didn't belong to him.

Bernard Minifie, and Russell Phillips of Trenton pleaded guilty to car theft here and were remanded for a week for sentence. They stole a car owned by Ronald Ferguson, of Cobourg, from where it had been parked near the theatre on the night of Feb. 16, with the keys in the ignition. The pair were picked up at Carleton Place but not before they had sold the car radio and a spare tire and had damaged a spring.

Kawartha Club Re-elects MacGregor

A. R. MacGregor was re-elected president of the Board of Directors of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club at the board's meeting, held this week.

The remaining members elected to the 1951 executive were: A. R. Jones, first vice-president; L. Browne, second vice-president; T Glover, treasurer; G. F. White, secretary.

Committee reports were submitted at the annual meeting of the club. The membership committee reported an excellent year with a slight increase in membership.

The members of the board of directors for 1951 are: F. L. Buckland, L. Browne, T. Glover, H. McLean, I. F. McRae, A. R. MacGregor, A. R. Jones, A. V. Sanderson, G. F. White.

Lilies To Be Subject Horticultural Address

For the meeting of the Horticultural Society Monday, Feb. 26 at the Y.W.C.A., the speaker will be Rev. E. Rigby of Hamilton. His subject will be "Lilies," and will be illustrated.

Mr. Rigby is president of the Ontario Horticultural Society. He is a native of Peterborough, as reported by Wm. C. Wilks, and his wife is a Peterborough girl, a daughter of the Worboy family.

This is the first time the president of the provincial association has come to Peterborough during incumbency of his office.

Meanwhile, says Mr. Wilks, the membership fee is unchanged at one dollar. Executive is hoping that all the 1951 members will note that fact. An attractive list of premiums is being prepared.

Remanded On Charge Stealing Two Tires

Peter Yzerwef, 20, Peterborough, was today remanded to Feb. 26 o $1,000 bail on a charge of stealing two tires and two wheels from a car on a Lakefield used car lot. He appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Yzerwef was arrested early today by Provincial Constables T. H. Armstrong and James Healey. The officers were on patrol and saw a car parked in front of the lot which is owned by Nick Peconi.

A checkup revealed the tires and wheels in the car. They arrested Yzerwef and brought him to Peterborough.

China Reds Grab Guerrilla Chief

HONG KONG, Feb. 24 (AP)— The Communist China radio today announced the capture of an anti-Communist guerrilla chieftain described as an agent for United States "imperialists."

The guerrilla, identified only as Wusman, was reported seized just south of the mystery-shrouded far western province of Sinkiang where the Reds said Wusman operated.

The Peiping radio said Wusman probably will die soon before a firing squad.

The broadcast said 100 of Wusman's followers also were captured.

At the same time, Communist dispatches from China said five "nationalist" agents were executed in Canton Friday. They included Hsu Ta, described as a graduate of the United States Military Staff College and later a nationalist intelligence officer who stayed in China to work with guerrillas.

The Reds last year linked Wusman with the late Douglas Mackiernan, US Vice-Consul in Sinkiang.

Sinkiang, large far north-western province, adjoins Russia and long has been a Soviet sphere of interest. It is believed to have uranium deposits, and the Russians now hold 50 per cent of mineral and oil rights there. It is one of the regions State Secretary Acheson of the United States has said Russia is in the process of detaching from China.

Stock Markets Hesitant For Second Week

By BILL DANIELS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Stock markets ended hesitant this week—the second in a row—and prices Friday were generally at lower levels than last week.

Prices on all markets dropped Monday in their sharpest declines since the first of last December. They continued downward most of Tuesday until late in the session when they suddenly reversed thir trend and jumped upward almost to their opening levels. Prices then spent the rest of the week in an unsuccessful attempt to gain back Monday's losses.

The sharp decline was rather unusual in that selling was spasmodic amid fairly-quiet trading and that there was no extraordinary news to account for it. Action of the markets was variously described as nervous selling, a drying up of buying funds, and perhaps even a slight technical reaction from their long advances.

Moved Up

Wednesday and Thursday, Canadian market moved upward until they had almost regained their drops. New York was mixed Wednesday as many investors sold their stock prior to the American holiday Thursday, George Washington's birthday. Yesterday, all markets closed fairly mixed, quiet and with small price changes.

Stock sales this week were lowest since Christmas. Some thought many investors now were staying off the market to watch developments. Total volume on the Toronto Stock Exchange was almost one-third less than last week. In Montreal the industrial turnover was about one-third less while mines held about even. Yesterday's trading in New York diminished to the smallest volume in nearly six months.

Despite this week's hesitancy, however, markets still continued to resist any heavy selling or the type of sharp reaction which many have predicted. An interesting comment on the week's market movements was made by Douglas & Co., brokers of Beverly Hills, Calif., who said:

"While the public is confident, wihch is ordinarily a bad sign, the amount of pessimism is healthy. Any dip in this (bull) market will be met by buying from those who view the long term outlook favorably but who have been waiting to buy on a reaction."

Business Men Ask Ottawa Halt Inflation

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP)—Business leaders called on the government Friday to halt inflation but not by direct controls.

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce asked for credit restrictions, increased taxation and heavy cuts in the government's non-defence expenditures.

The CCC, representing 650 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, made the suggestions in a brief delivered through its executive council to Finance Minister Abbott and Revenue Minister McCann.

(By arrangement with the Bank of Canada, the chartered banks undertook Thursday to restrict credit as a means to combat inflation.)

Three days earlier, the government had received a submission from spokesmen for about 1,000,000 union members asking for direct price controls and retention of rent controls. The chamber rejected direct controls over a long period of time.

Far-Reaching Changes Likely In Transportation After Commission Report

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Feb. 24. (CP)—Far-reaching changes in Canadian transportation are expected to result from a two-year study by a Royal Commission on transportation. Since early 1949, the Commission has worked to find the answers to the various puzzles known collectively as Canada's "transportation problem."

The massive report—which may prove a historic one—was handed to the Government last week and will be tabled in Parliament late this month or early March.

Expectations are that Parliament may be asked at this session to implement at least some of those sections that meet Cabinet approval.

In the most sweeping investigation into transportation in Canada's history, the three-man Royal Commission heard more than 7,000,000 words of evidence and argument in every section of the country. It dealt with virtually every phase of transport, though emphasis was heaviest on rail and highway matters.

The commission was set up by the government in December, 1948, in response to clamor for such an investigation from seven provinces—the Maritimes and the West—opposing rail freight-rate increases.

Headed By Turgeon

It was headed by Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon, ambassador to the Republic of Ireland. Serving with him were Dr. H. F. Angus, economics professor at the University of British Columbia, and Dr. H. A. Innis, economics professor at the University of Toronto.

Their investigation ran the gamut of such over-all problems as freight rates and the Canadian National Railways' proposed $1,000,000,000 recapitalization plan to local problems such as requests for railway branch lines.

A theme running through the whole inquiry—which extended from early 1949 until last summer—was the demand from the seven provincial governments for an easing of the impact of freight rates, particularly where the burden is not spread evenly across the country.

A controversy pointed up by the commission's proceedings was the developing rivalry between the railways and highway transport for a share of the available revenue traffic. The railways declared mushrooming highway transportation was pushing them into a serious financial position. Various forms of curbs on road competition were proposed.

Truckers Fight Back

The highway truckers fought back with denials of the charge that they constitute "unfair" competition and they opposed any attempt to limit their freedom of operation.

In the wide-ranging field of freight rates, a major issue was the much-discussed question of "equalization" of rates as between different sections of the country. The west, which has the highest rate levels, was particularly insistent on equalization.

The board report, expected to deal at length with this point, will come down about the time the government's Board of Transport Commissioners is due to tackle the same issue with tthe railways and the provinces.

The board was assigned by the Cabinet in 1948 to make recommendations for rate equalization. It has been studying the question privately since then, and it opened public hearings in January, at the request of several provinces, hearings were deferred to March 5 in the hope that by then the Royal Commission findings would be available to assist the inquiry.

Deal With Subsidies

The commission is expected to deal, too, with the question of whether rail operations generally should be subsidized by the Federal Treasury, which now does a limited amount of that by meeting CNR deficits and providing other subsidy help.

Of the provinces that took part in the commission's inquiry—all except Ontario and Quebec — practically all supported some form of subsidy aimed at spreading the burden of freight charges equally across the Dominion. This is proportionately lightest now in Ontario and Quebec, chiefly due to their central location and competition between rail-highway-transport which tends to hold down freight rates.

Ask Revision

Some provinces called for elimination of percentage freight-rate increases, contending this put extra charges on long-haul traffic, such as that of the West and the Maritimes. The Canadian Pacific Railway asked that the rate set-up be revised completely, with rates to be set on the basis of what rate of return they would yield on the CPR's investment value.

(At present, the CPR is the rate-making "yardstick," but the rates are established on the basis of the CPR's year-to-year financial requirements.)

Because of its overburdened financial structure which produces perennial deficits, the CNR has been pretty well counted out as an element in rate-making. The Government-owned line proposed a drastic recapitalization plan for itself, involving the removal of much of its debt from the obligation of bearing annual fixed interest.

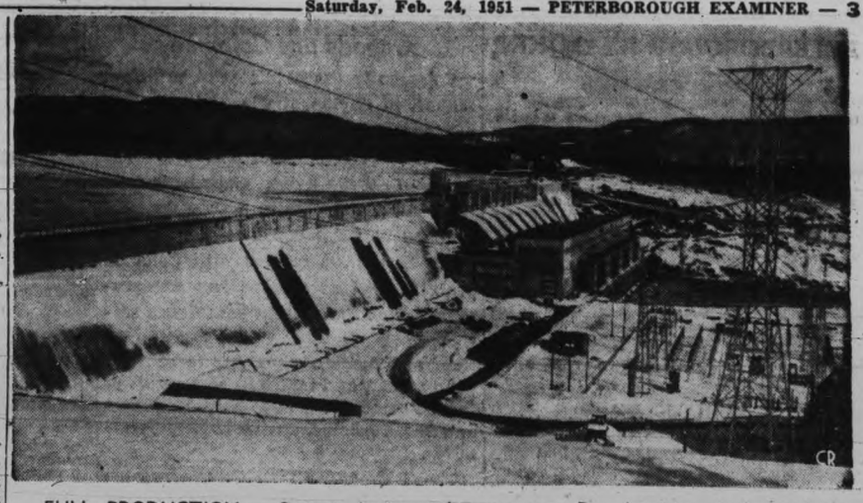
The company expected the plan would put it in the position where it could just about break even in normal years.

Hottest Fight

Hottest fight to develop before the Commission swirled up over the West's "Crow Nest Pass" freight rates on grain and grain products, which travel at low rates fixed by a 1925 statute.

The CPR, contending it loses $13,000,000 to $16,000,000 a year on this type of haulage, called for abolition of the statutory ceiling on the grain tolls. The Prairie governments and Western grain interests fought the proposal in a scrap that lasted several days, calling the Crow's Nest rates the backbone of the West's economy.

How much emphasis the Commission will place on the Crow's Nest issue is problematical. After the fight, Transport Minister Chevrier made it clear to the House of Commons the government has no intention of having the Crow's Nest legislation repealed.



One of the biggest single undertakings to be dealt with by the Commission was the proposal to build a ship canal across the Isthmus of Chignecto to link the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Bay of Fundy. Prime Minister St. Laurent referred this matter to the Commission after a Maritime delegation had asked the Government to undertake the project, which the Prime Minister estimated would cost more than $1,000,000.

Russia Deadline Oct.-UK Editor

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24 — (AP)—The editor of "Intelligence Digest," British publication that first announced to the world that an A bomb was tested in Russia in 1949, Friday said the Soviets have set a deadline of October, 1951, for the perfection of new weapons with which to wage war on the West.

Kenneth De Courcy, speaking before a San Francisco Commonwealth Club luncheon, linked the disappearance from Britain of Professor Bruno Pontecorvo, Italian atomic scientist, last year to Russia's time-table for war.

He said Pontecorvo, a first rank atom expert of leftist leanings, left Britain with his family in late 1950, ostensibly for a vacation in Europe. Instead, he travelled to Russia, the editor said, and now is "known to be working" on Russian atomic bombs, guided missiles and cosmic ray anti-aircraft defences in the Khirgiz and Tedshik areas of the Soviet zone.

FULL PRODUCTION— Ontario hydro-electric power generating station at Des Joachims has finally gone into full production with the last eight units put into service. Capacity of the plant is 480,000 horsepower. Des Joachims is located on the Ottawa River, some 40 miles upstream from Pembroke. Built at an estimated cost of $75,775,000, it is the second largest development in Ontario, smaller only than the station at Niagara Falls.

Duke To Leave Ship

LONDON, Feb. 24 (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh, now commanding the frigate Magpie in the Mediterranean, will give up this post in August, it was learned Friday. It was reported the Duke will be posted to the Admiralty in London, making him available to help Princess Elizabeth in carrying out her state duties.

Trenton Native Dies

TORONTO, Feb. 2 4(CP)—William J. O'Malley, 55, circulation manager and Eastern Canada representative for the National Home Monthly, died here Friday. A native of Trenton, N.S., Mr. O'Malley went to Western Canada as a young man and joined the magazine's staff in Winnipeg. He came to Toronto for the National Home Monthly in 1922.

The Crown Must Protect The Public

Among our Letters to the Editor today we publish one from Mrs. Reta Faiers, in which she offers comment on the trial which arose from the accident in which her five-year-old son, Garry Faiers, was killed last October. Mrs. Faiers does not consider that all the pertinent evidence in the case was brought forward by the Crown; comments of Mr. Justice Ferguson suggest that he was of a similar opinion; this same view has been expressed very widely throughout the city, and in letters to the editor which, owing to the highly emotional terms in which they were written, we have decided not to print. The trial was distinguished by a most unusual proceeding when a juror addressed the court, declaring that his conscience would not permit him to share in the finding which the judge had asked for. The judge, it must be repeated, directed the jury to find the defendant not guilty on the basis of the evidence which had been brought forward; that was his bounden duty. But it is impossible for us to overlook the fact that the manner in which the case was presented by the Crown has provoked widespread dissatisfaction.

* * *

What does the public expect of a Crown Attorney? It does not expect that he will procure a conviction in every case in which the Crown is involved, but it does expect that he will appear in court with all the relevant evidence to each case marshalled, in order that it may be brought forth in the most convincing way possible. It does not expect that he will comport himself with the zeal of a defence lawyer, or employ the rhetoric which a defence lawyer uses, legitimately, in behalf of his client; but the public does expect that the Crown Attorney will present his case with conviction and in sufficient detail. And if the public is not well served in these respects it is not long before justice becomes a mockery, and the Crown is itself put on the defensive. The Crown is the defence of the people against lawlessness, ranging from comparatively slight matters to manslaughter and murder; if the Crown's duties are weakly undertaken, and if the courts become the sportsground of defence lawyers, the public has cause for complaint, and it is complaining this week.

* * *

The work of the Crown Attorney is onerous. It is questionable whether it can be done adequately by a man who has to combine it with private practice; indeed, it may be asked whether a man in private practice, however good his intentions, is in a position to discharge those duties at all times without prejudice. The necessity to combine the work of Crown Attorney with private practice arises from the comparatively small remuneration which the appointment carries with it. We ask the question whether it would not be wiser to have Crown Attorneys who are prohibited from maintaining private practice; who are paid $8,000 a year (a sum which is established by Dominion statisticians as the average income of lawyers); and who are given reasonable assurance that their tenure of office will be secure. Such a system would permit a Crown Attorney to give his full time to his work in the public service; it would enable him to give fuller cooperation to the police and to give more direction to their investigation of Crown cases. It would, in fact, give him the freedom of action enjoyed by a District Attorney in the U.S.A. without the crippling necessity to stand for election and to court the popularity which elections make necessary. As long as the work of the Crown has to be combined with private practice of the law, it cannot be expected that the Crown's work will receive the full energy of the holder of the appointment.

* * *

We urge our readers to examine Mrs. Faier's letter. It is written with a commendable lack of bitterness, but it appears to us to glow with an indignation which rises above personalities. It poses questions which were in the minds of jurors on Wednesday, which appear also to have disturbed the learned judge, and which demand answers, here in Peterborough, if the Crown is to maintain its honourable and ancient function as the protector of the public.

T.D.F., the well-beloved, discerning, mighty-souled, and ample columnist of the Ottawa Citizen, says that he quotes The Examiner frequently "because it's so frequently quotable," and we thank him for those kind words. We are quoted by some of our aldermen, too, but not in the same genial spirit.

Canada and Colombo

Colombo is the capital and principal seaport of Ceylon, the large island Dominion off the India mainland. What relation has Canada to Colombo, what interest? Quite a lot. Canada is contributing $25,000,000 to a six-year plan hatched at Colombo, is opening up an office in Ottawa to deal with Colombo projects, and at present has a representative at the current conference sessions in Colombo. Further, great quantities of Canadian wheat are to be shipped to India and Pakistan as a result of the Colombo projects to help Southeast and South Asian countries to help themselves.

The Colombo Plan is a Commonwealth program, somewhat akin to, though not as vast as President Truman's Point 4 plan will become, which is a global effort to help undeveloped countries work out their economic, industrial and social salvation. The Colombo program was initiated a year ago; now details have been graphed and, starting July 1st, an outlay of more than $5,200,000,000 will be made over a six-year period. The Asian countries are expected to provide two-thirds of the total internally. Also, they will use their own still substantial sterling balances in London. The rest, some 2¼ billion dollars, must come in the next six years from outside sources,—private investors, the International Bank, and gifts or loans from other governments. Hence Canada is to provide, at the outset, at least 25 million dollars, and, as part of that, is to ship thousands of tons of wheat to relieve hunger.

The projects of the Colombo plan are extensive and varied, and some countries outside the Commonwealth may take part. The U.S.A. may assist under its Point 4 program. It is proposed that seven large river valley schemes be undertaken in India, like the Tennessee Valley authority, to give water-power and to irrigate. India's Domodar Valley will be dammed in eight places to prevent destruction by floods. Agriculture and industry will be stimulated. Pakistan schemes include irrigating the lower and upper Indus valley, hydro-electric plants, and port and industrial developments. Ceylon is scheduled to get cement factories, steel mills and plants to process island products like sugar and coconut oil.

The biggest part of the development funds (34 per cent.) will be used for improving communication and transportation which are basic to other developments. Some 32 per cent. of the investment is to be spent on agriculture and river development, to expand the production of foods. Health, housing and education will get eighteen per cent; for instance, in Pakistan alone, it is planned to build 4,460 new primary schools, 1,456 junior schools, and 400 high schools.

The chief aim of the Colombo plan is to get greater food production to feed the constantly increasing population. This will be done, according to the plans, by bringing thirteen million more acres under cultivation, irrigating another thirteen million, improving farming methods through teaching and through mechanization. Technical experts and engineers are to be lent to the Asian governments, and already Canada has been asked to supply men.

Behind this great scheme, behind the humanitarian aims, are political and economic purposes: to raise the standards of living, to give the Asians enough food (tens of thousands now starve every year) and eventually to make these countries independent of outright financial aid; and thus to remove the lures of Communism and convince the peoples that democracy can work for them. It is an enlightened program of world defence against communism. Large as the six-year plan is, it is cheap compared with what western countries are spending on armaments. The cost to Canada of the 25 million dollars is very small, in comparison both with the sums Canada is now spending for "national defence" and also with the material and human cost of sending a complete Canadian brigade to Korea.

First In The Field

The "Princess Pats" (Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry) are now doing battle in Korea. This famous Canadian regiment has been first in the field ever since it was formed. It was the first Canadian regiment overseas in the Great War. It was the first overseas (together with other First Division units) in the last war. It is the first across the Pacific now. The P.P.C.L.I. made an immortal name for itself in the Great War and its members won more decorations for gallantry than any other Canadian regiment. This great reputation was sustained during the last war. The officers and men now under its colours in Korea will prove themselves worthy of their fathers and brothers who went before them.

Brigadier Hamilton Gault of Montreal, who raised the regiment in 1914 just prior to the outbreak of war, must still thrill with pride over the men of the 'Ricky-dam-do'. Lady Patricia Ramsay, who as the youthful Princess Patricia, daughter of the Duke of Connaught (Governor-General at the time) gave the Princess Pats her name, must still be pleased with her regiment. It has done her great honour and in its deeds and name now enlarges that honour.

The Intimate Diary of Samuel Marchbanks

SUNDAY: Visited a friend this afternoon who has recently acquired a house with a barn behind it. I am fond of barns; there is a pleasant air of mystery about them, particularly when they have not had cement floors, aluminum mangers and fluorescent lighting installed in them. This was a good old barn, smelling still of horses, and it carried me back to my childhood so powerfully that I climbed the ladder into the haymow, and discovered that I am either less nimble than I was as a child, or that the ladders leading to haymows are frailer. The ladder trembled, and I trembled, but at last I reached the top and cracked my head smartly on a beam which was over the ladder-hole. The loft was just as dark and full of exciting possibilities as I had hoped it would be, and when I dimly descried the stuffed head of a bison hanging on one wall my cup of joy was full. A visit to a good barn is like a plunge into the fountain of youth.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: The failure of "Ti-Coq" on Broadway has been attributed to many things, but I think it is owing to the simple fact that nobody is interested in Canadians except, very occasionally, other Canadians. Nations enjoy spells of popularity in the theatre and elsewhere; they become fashionable for no reason that I can discover. For centuries, for instance, nobody was interested in Scotsmen; they were regarded simply as hairy fellows who spoke faulty English. But during the nineteenth century plays about Scots, books about them, jokes about them and indeed everything about them sprang into a new popularity. We are beginning to tire of them now, but Irishmen, Armenians, and Scandinavians have become objects of popular interest. As yet the world does not think that Canadians are interesting, we stand where the Scotch stood before the Big Bagpipe Boom of the Victorian Era, and the period of 1900-1920, when Sir James Barrie persuaded the world that, appearances to the contrary, all Scots were delightful fellows with the souls of little children. Canada's day will come, no doubt, but we may have to wait a few centuries for it.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Attended a little party this evening where there was a type of pickle hitherto unknown to me, though I consider myself rather an expert on pickles. It was made of infant ears of corn, an inch or two long, preserved in some savoury embalming fluid; they were delicious. But as I looked at these tiny ears, plucked before they had grown to fullness and maturity, and arrested in their growth for our delight, I was strongly reminded of those children who, during the Middle Ages, were turned into dwarfs for the pleasure of people whose income permitted them to run to the luxury of a household dwarf. Gypsies kidnapped these children and encased them in pottery forms, so that they could not grow, and developed into wry shapes, regarded as funny by our strong-stomached ancestors. When they had reached adult years, the pottery form was broken, and there was a child, of a kind, with an adult mind, of a kind. I do not suppose this curious trade will ever be revived. I have watched some of the pottery classes sponsored by our recreational associations at work, but I have never seen anybody at work on a pot which suggested that it was for the jugging of a child.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: There are few sights so saddening to the heart of a householder as a faucet from which a thin trickle of water emerges, although the tap is turned on to the full. There was a time when the water taps at Marchbanks Towers ran a good, full stream, but a very large hospital has been built nearby, and the water pressure has declined sadly; whether I am right in connecting these two facts I cannot say, but there it is. When I want a bath I set the taps running an hour or two before; by the time the tub is full, the water is cold. Not that I grudge hot water to the sick. Those baths which the nurses give the patients are the only real fun that a hospital affords, and not for the world would I check it. I have given some thought to sinking a well in my garden; it would not be very convenient, but it would supply water on demand. And as for hot water, I might return to the good old farm custom of having a cistern attached to the side of the kitchen stove, from which it could be dipped when needed. When I was a child grim rumours were current that children were sometimes bathed in these cisterns, and dried by waving them for a few moments above the hot stove.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: After a longish chat with some children today, I reflected that the child's attitude toward humour differs sharply from that of the adult. In the world of mature people a joke is funny once, and should never be repeated in the same company. But children, having decided that a joke is funny, go on repeating it, laughing more loudly each time, until they collapse in hysteria. The mental age of a man might be gauged by observing how often he can laugh at the same joke.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Attended a theatrical performance this evening, and was impressed once again by the amount of coughing which a Canadian assembly can manage, and by the freedom with which this national habit is indulged. Not merely the aged and infirm, but the young and the hearty, the valiant and the fair, cut loose with coughs like the roaring of lions. Mentally ran off a new verse for our national song, thus:

O Canada, our home, our native land,
Chronic catarrh makes all our tubes expand;
With raucous cough we greet the dawn,
With snorts we hail the noon,
The emblems of our nation are
The kerchief and spittoon;
Post-nasal drip!
Woooof! Let her rip!
We face the world with freedom in our grippe—
(Exultantly and accompanied with loud coughs, hawkings, gaggings and retchings)
DE-FY The World with Freedom in OUR GRIPPE!

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: Was the recipient of a curious gift today—a bottle-opener. The donors had been guests in my house the night before and considered my arrangements for opening bottles unsatisfactory. I have, as a matter of fact, an extremely ingenious and expensive device screwed to the wall of my kitchen which grinds meat, sharpens knives, opens cans, straightens curly hair, curls straight hair, and opens bottles. That is to say, the object is said to do all these things, though it shows a notable reluctance to do so. Hitherto I have attributed its unsatisfactoriness to my own clumsiness with tools; I thought that I was at fault. But my friends have caused the scales to fall from my eyes; the truth is that my expensive and hitherto reverenced gadget is no use . . . There is a great moral lesson to be drawn from this, I am sure. Like so many people in our age, I was humble before the Machine, and I believed what I was told by the Salesman. And when the Machine did not work, I blamed myself. It took a couple of thirsty and keen-eyed guests to deliver me from this enchantment, and I am grateful. If I could only recall where I put their bottle-opener I would use it.

Letters To The Editor

MRS. FAIERS DISSATISFIED WITH CROWN PRESENTATION OF CASE

Sir: I would be grateful if you would print the following letter.

I was much displeased with the court case over the death of my son Garry Faiers.

Although my son left the house in radiant health he died in the hospital with multiple injuries a few hours after being hit by a car. These included a fractured skull and other serious head injuries, a broken left leg, two breaks in his right arm, crushed ribs, broken collar bone, internal injuries to his liver and kidneys, and a broken spleen. Yet there was no evidence in court to show the car had anything to do with his death.

Although it was 215 feet from the first skid marks to where the car in question stopped plus another fifty feet where tire marks first showed there was no evidence produced to show that the car was going any more than thirty miles an hour.

The county goes to a great deal of expense, trouble and formality in selecting a jury but I must say that they had no more to do with the verdict brought in than puppets on strings. I pay my respects to Roy Pitchford.

I ask you, fellow Canadians is this democracy? Is it Justice?

(MRS.) RETA FAIERS
829 Lansdowne St.

GOOD REASON FOR A YEAR'S SENTENCE

Sir: In the issue of your paper of the 22nd inst. a letter appears signed by "Disgusted Spectator."

I was also at the Police Court on the morning in question, and find that the "Disgusted Spectator's" impression of one of the transactions referred to is entirely erroneous. The Writer refers to a case of a boy, sixteen years of age, who had raised his employer's cheque from $10 to $20 and cashed it. The boy pleaded guilty to this accusation, which is rather inconsistent with claiming that his employer owed him $20. This boy was on suspended sentence in connection with a cheque.

The writer of the letter seems to think that the boy was not given a chance, but in this he was very much mistaken. It appears that this boy's father is dead and his mother is in the hospital. If he were turned out to shift for himself again, his plight would indeed be unfortunate. If he were allowed an adjournment or remand for one week, the payment of the $10 in question would not affect the case. Your correspondent states that at any rate for a $10 bill he gets a year in gaol. This gives the impression of a boy sitting in a cell in dreary idleness for one year.

The facts are very different. This boy was committed to the Reformatory at Guelph for one year. This Reformatory is one of the best and up to date Reform Institutions in America. The boy will have an opportunity to learn a trade or some gainful occupation in accordance with his aptitude. He will have the advice and assistance of the best psychiatrists and men of outstanding ability in this line, in order to help him select a future career. He will also have an opportunity, if he so desires, of obtaining his matriculation. He will have the best medical care and the best and most healthful food available in Ontario. He will be warmly and cleanly clad and housed. He will not associate with hardened criminals.

The reason for the one year sentence is the Authorities feel that a sentence of less than one year does not give them an opportunity of teaching the boy a trade.

Yours truly,
V. J. McELDERRY

WANTS VACANT FARM

Dear Sir: "Farmer Deplores Disuse of Land"—an article which appeared in your Feb. 19th issue was one that certainly should be explored a whole lot further.

For the last six months I have been trying to secure a farm.

I just went to a bank to try and secure a loan with which to get started, but in the bank manager's own words a farm is not a good risk. They will back a man dollar for dollar however, but if I had half of what it would take to start a farm I would be willing to try it and not bother with the bank at all.

My next step was to try and get a farm on shares but that practise went out with high prices. Today when a farmer wants to retire he sells out and with the price he receives for everything you can hardly blame him.

These same farmers though or some I have run into in my search for a farm on shares will turn a Canadian down flat on such a proposal, and turn right around and bring in a D.P. family and set them up. These said people will work a place for practically nothing for their two years just to get into this country.

These people when they leave their own country are supposed to have nothing but the ambition to work for a new start. How many Canadians like myself who have nothing else but the ambition to get a new start in our own country can get set up like these people?

How many average Canadian workers can afford to pay up to $13,000 for a house in Toronto and then be able to keep it up? Check the house wanted columns of the Toronto papers and see how many of these same D.P.'s that can do it, you will get a surprise as I did.

In my opinion for what it is worth, is that the government should give our own people a chance at this farm business before they look elsewhere.

As the farmer on No. 7 Highway says with those farms producing we might be able to get our cost of living down to where a dollar would be worth something.

I would also like to ask this farmer if you would back a twenty-six year old Canadian with three of a family to get started on one of these vacant farms? Maybe with his help and my ambition we could do at least a small part in getting this land back into use.

Myself the same as the farmer on No. 7 Highway, I request that my name be withheld, for the simple reason that I would lose the job I am on now pretty quick if my name was published.

I will go to Peterborough on Tuesday, Feb. 27th for the express purpose of seeing this farmer, if only for to talk the matter over.

Yours respectfully
CAMPBELLFORDIAN

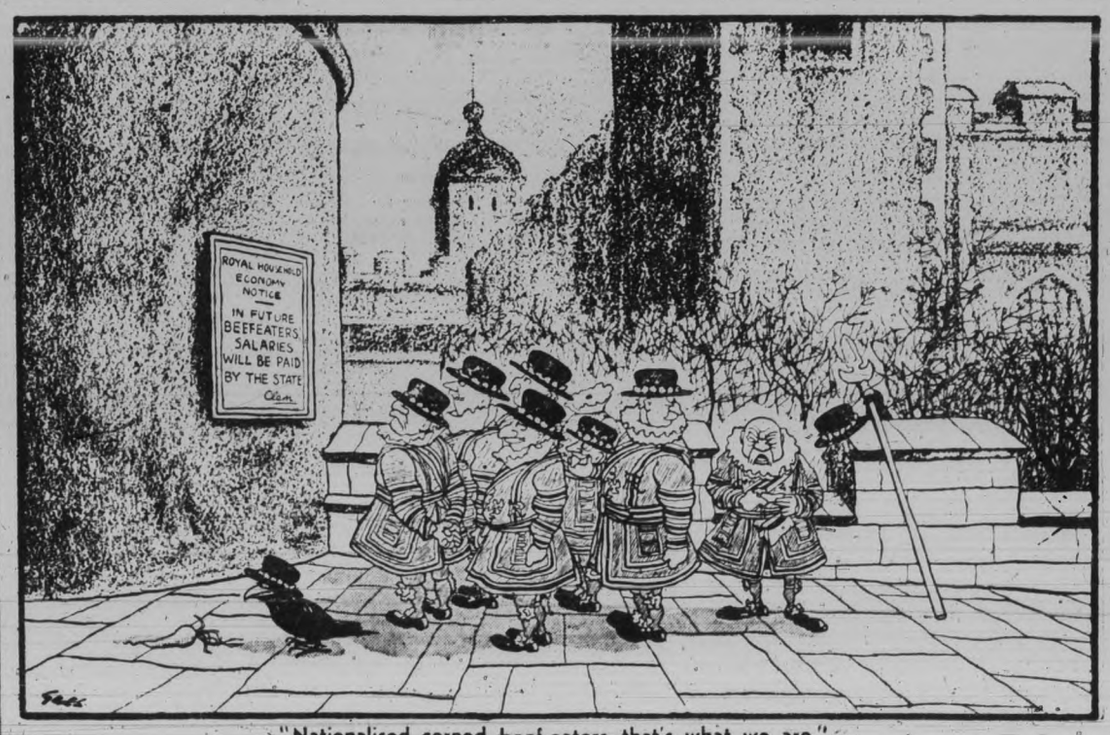
Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. (Matt. 1:18-21.)



✧ ✧ ✧

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn . . . And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord. . . And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth . . .

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man. (Luke 2:7,22,39,52.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: and there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mark 1:9-11.)

"Nationalised corned beef-eaters—that's what we are."

Winter's back is broken. Mac assured me of that. He is far more reliable than reading almanacs and listening to old wives' tales. Away with the groundhog shadow myth, the awakening of bears and signs of February weather making ready to sneak into March like a lion/lamb. My wilderness mentor, Angus A. (for Airwick) MacPhoon is in town for his mid-winter fling.

You all know characters like MacPhoon. Big, burly men on the shady side of 65, weather-lined of face and uncouth of speech—their education was rounded out in the Fourth Book at 'Coon Hollow School.

Friend MacPhoon is a fishing and hunting guide and trapper and in his youth used to be a part-time lumberjack, and it is whispered, a moonshiner. Now an old man, and the last of his family, he lives alone in a one-room cabin beside his beloved lake. He was a sniper overseas during the First World War, was wounded and now lives chiefly on his pension. Deep snow and bad roads have holed him up in his shack since his last wild spree at New Year's. Mac managed to get out this week and found his January pension cheque at the Post Office. He headed for town.

His eyesight is as keen as ever and his voice, used to calling across great spaces, hails me half way down the block.

"How's she loggin'?" he inquirse.

Two dozen city folk stare as he hauls me bear fashion into a doorway to "smarten me up on what's doin' to the lake."

If it is after high noon he suggests, with the finesse of a moose in fly time, that we have a couple of ginger ales—with my money—and review again his prowess as a guide. "Gettin' old and stiff now, lad," he bellows across the table as he flexes his gnarled hand around the glass.

"Winters ain't what they used to be. This here one's been purty fair but I coulda told you THAT in the Fall. Beaver never stored up near 'nough branches—they've been out cuttin' on the banks all winter. Heared a few geese honkin' over the other day, twenty of them, lookin' for open water holes. They's been lots of whistlers in the open channel stretches right along. Don't know about the mushrats yet—might take a few. But gimme the 'lunge fishin' in summer. An' I know where the old sodbusters is, too."

Mac's monologue goes on like this for hours. When I get up and plead work to do, he does not feel rebuffed at my sudden departure. In a short time he will have half the boys in the back room hanging on his tales.

He will be back in spring. We will go through the same routine all over again. Monotonous? Yes, but his talk is of the wisdom of the woods. He claims himself that he was "borned" with an axe handle in his mouth.

Winter Fishing Down Trenton Way

Some city fishermen have been following my suggestion by trying their luck at ice fishing at Trenton. Pete Vitarelli and friend had some luck in a borrowed shack. A new baiting idea for you from out Saskatoon way. Small pieces of beef (if you can afford it) dunked in mercurochrome becomes almost luminous under water. Used with a brass, nickle or copper spoon and swivel-leader, it is sure fire, so the man says.

All sportsmen and conservationists will mourn the passing of the late Fred Marshall. He would dearly have loved to see the completion of the Cedar Lakes Recreation park. It was his dream of many years to have the general public enjoy the outdoors and he spent more time than anyone realizes on the development of the project. Speaking for all sportsmen, I would strongly suggest that it be named MARSHALL PARK in his memory. It can be truthfully said that Fred Marshall was in tune with the wilds.

MEETS AND SHOWS: The Kawartha Kennel Club fox hound breeders will hold a hunt on March 4th, meeting at the hamlet of Douro at 9:30 a.m. Kennelling accommodation and dog food is to be provided as well as ample road signs en route to show the way. One dollar entry fee will entitle each breeder to participate as well as giving a membership for 1951. William Thompson is field marshal, R. Runstead, field secretary, Frank Millard, Bill Joiner and Bud Lloyd for publicity. Contact them... Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association will hold their second annual Sportsmen's Show at the Civic Arena on May 3-4-5th, says chairman Don Smednor. A full-fledged dog show (no mutts) will be one of the many highlights.

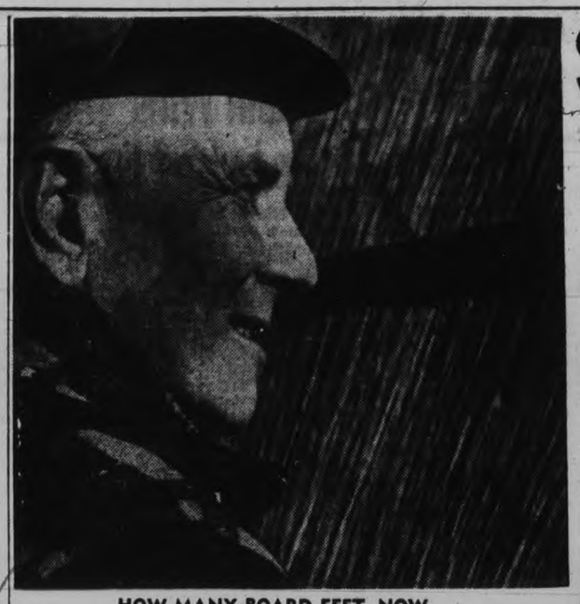
DISTRICT DEPARTMENT DATA: Lindsay office is swamped with fish-planting applications for spring... C/O Ray Simpson of Cayeon identified two hybrid wolves (dog-wolf) near Nogies Creek. He is encouraging district fox and wolf hunters to exterminate them.... C/O Bob Trotter who cut his foot in the bush, is on the prowl again after a week of hobbling to and from his car.... Two new conservation officers have been added to the Trent district, Ken Tolmie and Jesse Bradshaw, both of South-western Ontario. They will be eventually posted to Durham and Wilberforce areas, respectively.... The new crop of speckled trout eggs are ahatching at Deer Bay.... Biologists are finding each season that the artificial muskie-propagating waters closer to the Deer Lake Hatchery are the ones most satisfactory for spring milking operations.... Winter fox hunting ends on Wednesday, Feb. 28th.

The House British Jill Built Model Small Country Home

The Federation of Women's Institutes in Britain is planning something of an "eighth wonder" for the Ideal Home Exhibition being held in London in March. Their star exhibit is to be a country house incorporating the suggestions of 400,000 institute members. To achieve this in one medium-sized house posed no small problem.

As a start, the Federation made a Gallup Poll analysis of the questionnaire forms submitted by WI members. Then a chosen committee, with the help of an architect and an expert on interior decoration, went to work on the plans. The house, by the way, is intended to accommodate a family of five.



In accordance with the wishes of the majority, it will have a kitchen-living room, sitting room and working scullery downstairs and three bedrooms and a bathroom upstairs.

The universal cry is for cupboards—plenty of cupboards—and easy-to-dust surfaces—all doors and woodwork plain and flush and all corners and angles rounded. Pannelled bannisters are favored and suggestions included a low handrail on the staircase for children and doorhandles low enough for kiddies to operate but with locks placed well out of reach.

INCONSTANCY

I do confess thou'rt sweet, yet find
Thee such an unthrift of thy sweets,
Thy favors are but like the wind,
Which kisses everything it meets.

FELLING AND LOADING PINE

A CAPITAL SOUP, MADE OF OLD PARTRIDGES

Take off the skins of two old partridges, that are too "venerable" for roasting; cut them into small pieces, with three slices of ham, two or three onions sliced, and some celery; fry them in butter till they are as brown as they can be made without burning; then put them in three quarts of water, with a few peppercorns; boil it slowly till a little more than a pint is consumed; then strain it. Put in some stewed celery and fried bread.

A gentleman complimented a lady on her improved appearance. "You are guilty of flattery," said she. "Not so," replied the gentleman, "for I vow you are as plump as a partridge!" "At first," said the lady, "I thought you guilty of flattery only, but now I find you are actually making game of me!"

Pill, A: also Card—Cutup who was a "devil in his own home town". As in "He's a pill" or 'Isn't he a card?"

Cheese it!—Remove yourself.

Snide—A low mean trick.

Inner Man—Invisible male innards which according to the daily press were always "satisfied" before banquetters proceeded to the grim business of after-dinner oratory.

A Lulu; a Lalapaloosa; a Dilly; a Pippin; a Peach; the Cat's Whiskers—Ecstatic exclamations signifying the ne plus ultra of anything. Expressed today in feminine circle as "It's a honey!"

Coffin nail—A cigarette as viewed by Aunt Tabbyiana.

High Jinks—Goings-on across the street at the Jones's after midnight.

Pain in the neck—Objectionable person or thing now known as a headache.

Render—To sing a song publicly as "You've made me what I am today, I hope you're satisfied". Vocalists of today do not render; they "give out".

Shank's mare—A mode of travel by self-propulsion before the invention of motorcars brought about atrophy of Canadian feet.

Heart Balm—Breach of promise payment.

Goo-Goo Eyes—A form of St. Vitus' Dance which attacked feminine optics in the Nineties.

Get the Hook—Term of disapproval of public performances, as by actors, pugilists, political orators, etc.

The Winter Lakes

Out in a world of death far to the northward lying,
Under the sun and the moon, under the dusk and the day;
Under the glimmer of stars and the purple of sunsets dying,
Wan and waste and white, stretch the great lakes away.

Never a bud of spring, never a laugh of summer,
Never a dream of love, never a song of bird;
But only the silence and white, the shores that grow chiller and dumber,
Wherever the ice winds sob, and the griefs of winter are heard.

Crags that are black and wet out of the gray lake looming,
Under the sunset's flush and the pallid, faint glimmer of dawn;
Shadowy, ghost-like shores, where midnight surfs are booming
Thunders of wintry woe over the spaces wan.

Lands that loom like spectres, whited regions of winter,
Wastes of desolate woods, deserts of water and shore;
A world of winter and death, within these regions who enter,
Lost to summer and life, go to return no more.

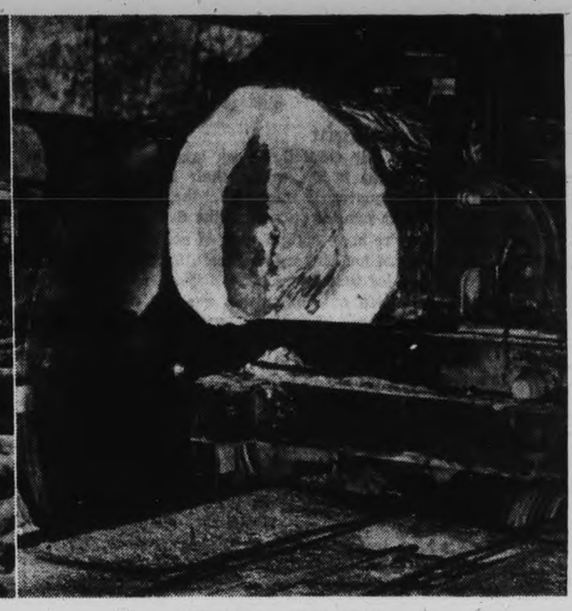
Cutting In Dummer Woodlot, Thence To Warsaw Mill: Winter Lumbering, With Changes, As In Big Old Days

PRODUCTS OF THE FOREST IN PETERBOROUGH COUNTY have never ceased to be an important source of revenue. True, good stands are diminishing rapidly, but governmental educational programs and reforestation are gradually reviving the district's original basic industry.

SMALL SAWMILLS, LIKE ROY BANKS' IN WARSAW are busily tuning up for spring sawing as heavy trucks roar in from the camps with loads of ponderous logs. Saws scream, lumber and sawdust piles grow, and the cold air is pungent with the smell of fresh-cut pine, maple, basswood and cedar.

CUTTING IN SMALL DUMMER TOWNSHIP WOODLOTS has not yet given over to mechanization. Sawyers still ply crosscuts and Swede saws, the loading jammer is still horse-powered, camp life is comfortless. And as their grandfathers did before them, district farmers take to the bush in winter to earn fair wages.



THEY NO LONGER HAVE TO LEAVE THEIR HOMES in the Fall to spend weary months in the woods and come out in Spring with the "drive." The drive these days is by their cars, often radio-equipped, back home at night to do the chores. They have never lost the art of handling the axe, peavey, chains and spirited teams of horses. A good sawyer, no matter how insignificant his mill may appear, attracts business for miles around. His is the final highly-skilled touch and "know-how" that produces the most, and best, lumber from each log.

Boyd Of Bobcaygeon Record Of Expansive Timber Period

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

The Boyd Lumber Office and Mill Journal provide a graphic picture of lumbering and sawmilling in the period. A few highlights of the 1875 Journal follow:

Jan. 5—started teams for Harburn shanties with pork and oats. 12—MacDonald drove down to shanties at Squaw River. 28-29—Trotting races on ice.

Feb. 2—Gidley up to measure logs in Snowdon. 5—sent team to Peterborough for load of coal. Gage went to see Hamilton about mill machinery.

Mar. 16—sent Gidley up to measure Henon's boom timber. 19—Robinson broke up his shanty and came down today. 22—Hiring men for the mill. 24—Dunbar arrived from shanty—25 men, 5 teams, 3 yoke oxen, 2 cows. Mill started after winter vacation.

Apr. 2—Robinson back from woodranging in Haliburton. 12—Robinson started back with men for his drive. Barnhart down from Haliburton to hire his rivermen. 22—Dunbar started back—25 men, 3 teams. Barnhart and 19 men up from Peterborough. 28—Robinson broke jam on Big Falls below Kinmount.

May 4—Ontario made first trip to Brigdenorth. Vanderbilt Victoria down from Lindsay first time. 10—ice out of north country lakes so Barnhart and Dunbar could start their blocks today. 11—Novelty towed boom-timber to Squaw River. 17—Telegram from Barnhart to say logs all in Crooked Lake. 19—Telegram from Fraser, Fenelon, "8,000 logs started. Barnhart at Oblong Creek." 20—Novelty started with first three scowloads lumber for Port Perry. Mr. Boyd with Tim Belcher up to timber sorting-jack at Fenelon Falls. 24—two excursions from Lindsay on Vanderbilt and Victoria; Bottum bringing excursion from Omemee. Novelty to Fenelon for logs. 25—Alf Taylor's 37,000 logs broke loose, went over Big Bob and now loose in Pigeon Lake, filled canal also.

June 1—Ludgate's drive from Guilford, Redstone Lake, now in Big Horseshoe Lake. 3—Dunbar's drive into Hawk Lake—20 men, foreman, cook and clerk. 4—Ludgate's drives at Minden and Rosedale; Smith drive at Balsam Lake; Hunter's drive on Gull Lake; Elliott's at Elliott's Falls. 8—Guerin from Haliburton is to take charge of timber from Whitby to Quebec — left Peterborough with 20 men to go to Port Perry and meet Novelty. 12—Hilliard's first drive into Little Bob this evening. Shaw left with men to rebuild dam at Hall's Lake. 28—Telegram from Dunbar "Body of logs over Minden. Barnhart running Maple Lake rapids Saturday."

July 2—Telegram from Fraser to send Novelty. They finished getting block of 12,000 pieces over Fenelon Falls. 6—Victoria left for Port Perry with 5 scows lumber, and 2 cribs timber loaded with cedar posts. 8-9—Ludgate drive from Redstone into Little Bob 10 p.m. Hazlitt's drive in Sturgeon Lake. 12—Mill shut down all day—Orange celebration. 26—Novelty left Bobcaygeon 5 a.m., arrived Port Perry 4 p.m. with 2 scows (120,000 ft. lumber), 1 scow (120,000 ft. lumber), 1 bundles lath, 10 bbls. lime.)

Aug. 26—Dunbar drive at Fenelon for cribbing timber. 30—Mr. Boyd to St. Catharines to see about selling lumber and stone to Welland Canal contractor.

Sept. 7—Dunbar gang worked all day in Little Bob opening steamer channel through logs. Mill cutting 2-ft. planks for Welland Canal. 13—Civic Holiday—Sturgeon Regatta—Barnhart and MacDonald on stage to Peterborough to hire men for shanties. 16—Crevier started back to catch boat on Cushog with 9 men from Peterborough and 19 from here, bound for Harburn—3 teams. Mr. Boyd left for Whitby and Quebec. 24—Walsh took load up to Kinmount depot. 30—sent Walsh and Green with loads to Pine Lake, Glamorgan. Telegram from Mr. Boyd at Quebec, "Don't start Burnt River shanties."

Oct. 16—mill shut down for winter tonight. 25—started Dunbar back with 20 men. They will stop at Kinmount depot overnight and go on to Pine Lake tomorrow. 30—J. Bertram hired at $30 a month to look after 2 timber gangs in Glamorgan.

Nov. 2—had chat with Barnhart in Haliburton over the wires (telegraph). McFadden hired to work repairing scows—$1.25 a day and board. 3—sent back 2 timber gangs for Harburn — foreman $30-32, shantymen $15. Wickham back from Rainy River. 15—Novelty stripped and boarded up for winter. 17—Vanderbilt made last trip to Fenelon. Rest of November—getting sleighs ready.

Dec. 7—first load sent to Glamorgan on sleigh—teamsters $15 a month. 18—started 5 teams with loads for depots. 29—Mr. Boyd left for England.

Some of the timber continued down the Kawartha waterway as far as Lakefield, Nassau, Peterborough, Harwood, and even to Trenton, where most of it was sawn into lumber at company mills. The rest, possibly 75 per cent, was taken by scow and raft to Port Perry and by wagon to Whitby, or by railway from Lindsay to Port Hope, from Lindsay to Whitby by rail, or from Cobocconk direct to Toronto. Much of this was sawn into lumber at Fenelon, Bobcaygeon, Lindsay, Port Perry, Cobocconk, etc. Square timber was rafted at Whitby or Port Hope: a dram-frame was made 300 x 50 ft. of the longest timber with one long one down the middle, then 50 ft. pieces were laid crosswise 10 ft. apart, and logs were loaded across between them. The "show-pieces" (the finest logs) were placed on top and the tents of the 4-man crew erected thereon; there were three tiers in a dram, about 500 pieces (logs), drawing 4 ft. of water. Six to ten drams made a raft, which had 3,000-5,000 logs, each worth $25 to $50. Guerin's crew in 1875 (see Journal above) consisted of 32 men, of whom 25 were French-Canadians. The raft was towed by steamer to the St. Lawrence.

At the St. Lawrence rapids the raft was separated into drams which were run through the rapids separately by a special crew of 35, French-Canadians and Indians, under an experienced pilot —it was at this point that poorly-constructed drams came apart with great loss to the owner. Any owner who thought to take his raft through the St. Lawrence rapids without hiring the local river-drivers usually had it sabotaged enroute. At Montreal the drams were rerafted and towed to Quebec in three days. Irwin and Boyd of Port Hope in 1877 sent M. Boyd of Bobcaygeon a bill for towing a raft from Whitby to Quebec $1,110; another raft Port Hope to Prescott cost $501, calculated at $135 a day while towing, $55 a day while idle.

Timber To The West

The opening of the Toronto-Cobocconk railway in 1872 began to draw off timber westward to Toronto, but the new era did not begin until the Whitby-Lindsay line opened in 1877, and the Lindsay-Kinmount line 1876 with extension to Haliburton 1878. With the end of the depression 1879, lumber prices began mounting, much of it going to the new industrial expansion of Toronto and Hamilton. By rail lumber was carried from Fenelon to Whitby $1.10 per M, Fenelon to Port Hope $1.35 per M, Haliburton to Fenelon 50 cents per M, Cobocconk to Toronto $1.50 per M. Companies like the Boyd Lumber Company which had their own steamers and scows found it cheaper to take lumber and logs by water to Port Perry and thence by rail. The net result, however, was that 75 per cent of the logs and lumber from the northern townships went out through Lindsay to Whitby and Port Hope, and through Cobocconk to Toronto. The Lakefield-Peterborough route to Port Hope, Cobourg, and Trenton had to be content with 25 per cent of the trade, at rail rates from Lakefield to Port Hope $1 per M, Peterborough to Port Hope 75 cents per M. The Boyd Company, Bobcaygeon, signed an agreement Aug. 16, 1879, with the Midland (which then included the Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay line) to ship 200,000 cu. ft. square timber by that line — 37,000 ft. in Lake Scugog from Port Perry to Whitby at $10 per 1,000 cu. ft., 163,000 ft. in Sturgeon Lake from Lindsay to Port Hope at $13.50 per 1,000 cu. ft., all to be shipped by the end of 1880.

While we don't personally care for the short-tempered Australian mat champ, Fred Atkins, we think he is one of the two or three top performers in this country at present. A powerful, ring-wise heavy who bores in all the time, he does no hamming or acting — but he'd slug a referee, fan or even policeman, in a moment of anger, and he certainly slugs ring opponents plenty. Hence, the main mat bout here Tuesday between the tough Aussie and Lord Athol Layton, a popular and colorful grappler, should prove a right interesting duel for a big crowd. Timothy Geohagen from you-know-where tackles villainous Lee Henning in the semi-final, as Sonny Kurgis meets Kaye Bell in the prelim.

* * * * * *

PCVS juveniles are away at Regiopolis in Eastern Ontario cage play tonight, but two men's playdown frays are listed for the YMCA, and they should be swell scraps. Especially the nightcap betwixt the big Hamilton Mormons, who hold a lead on the Clapper Bruins, from the first game of their OABA intermediate "A" series. Bruins must wipe out that lead here or they're through for the season. They'll shoot the works and might edge Mormons on the small floor of the "Y". The other game sees Owen Sound open intermediate "B" playdowns against the classy Marines, who will be trying to build up a lead for the return tilt away next week.

Junior Playoff Tonight

If our OHA junior "B" Oddfellows can take the Lindsay Kin into camp at 8.30 tonight in the arena, their best-of-five group semi-finals will be all square. If they can't, they're really on the w.k. spot, since the next game is up around the Scugog on Tuesday. If it goes further, they're here again Friday of next week, the fifth fray being marked down for Lindsay on March 5. The Kin had to go overtime on home ice to win the first playoff, so we feel the Kingdon crew should win out tonight to sew the series up. A dandy, scrappy game assured before a huge Saturday night hockey crowd.

At this writing, we hadn't heard how the Cobourg Pavs and the Port Hope Redmen made out in their fifth lakeshore intermediate puck semi-final. Pavs won the first two, but Red Creightons crew — with several good Peterborough puckists aboard, including Goalie Bill Edgar — won the next two and set a new high attendance record for Port Hope, with 1,800 fans on Wednesday. We like this item from the Cobourg weekly ere they learned where Bill Edgar hailed from: "In the first playoff game, Mr. Edgar skated on the ice, was introduced to his Port Hope teammates, made acquainted with Coach Red Creighton, and then took his place in the nets." That's cute. It has that Creighton touch to it.

Winding Up The Schedule

Final OHA senior "B" game of the season here is Monday eve as Belleville tangles with the Eagles. Same night sees Queen's at Nylons in a four-point game. The final standing isn't settled yet, you know, and won't be until Monday evening, so the Eagles still have hopes of making that highly-important second slot behind the Petes. The fourth-place Quinte-crew figure this is a preview to the group semi-finals, so they'll give it all they have, but the Eagles should really be flying. A grand game, it looks to us. Up to Friday, the Petes had 232 goals scored by them and 140 against; Eagles having 235 and 167. Nylons tallied 170 and let in 137, as Belleville had 164 and 201. Queen's were 133 and 257, while Gans got 49 and saw 80 hit the hemp behind their goalie.

* * * * * *

The Petes finished up their four-month OHA senior "B" schedule here last night by yanking out a 7-6 decision over the third-place Nylons of Kingston. The Jopling gents are well in front with 49 points for the 34 games, while Nylons have 39 points with 32 games played—just a point back of Eagles, who finish with Belleville here on Monday. Nylons have a four-pointer (like two games in one) 'gainst Queen's on Monday to end their schedule, and a win for 'em would put them in second spot, with Eagles then third. So it's a fight right down to the final night of play. The playoffs open here Wednesday of next week and away Friday to declare an Allan Cup contender in best-of-five. The group semi-finals open here next Friday, also best of three of five. Last night's tilt was a nifty, and Petes looked good.

By the narorwest of margins—one shot—the Orillia curlers defeated the local boys Friday night and still remain in possession of the Neill-Sheppard Trophy. It was the return engagement, the Peterborough club having paid a visit to Orillia a week ago, and lost there by six points. Thus Orillia was up seven shots on the round. It was a 10-end game and the boys enjoyed every bit of it. After the game the visitors were entertained to supper in the club rooms. Mr. T. Doughty was in charge of arrangements and handled them in fine style.

PCVS Rubs Out Lindsay In Cage Frays

In one of the roughest basketball games in which PCVS teams have ever played, the Garnet and Grey seniors walloped Lindsay Collegiate for the second time this week Friday night, 48-16. This win gave them the lakeshore semi-finals on the points-to-count series 118-34. PCVS won Wednesday at home, 70-18.

In the second contest played in the Lindsay gym, PCVS juniors trimmed Lindsay 32-21 in the return game of the lakeshore semi-final series. The Garnet and Greys took this round 74-39, winning at PCVS Wednesday, 42-18.

PCVS took a 12-7 score in the first quarter of the senior game and then went on in the second to make the score 23-10. They jumped up to 37-13 in the third period and outscored Lindsay in the fourth 11-3. Al McIlraith and Ted Evans led the scoring with 11 points each. Lewis was tops for Lindsay with six. In spite of the roughness only 24 fouls were called, 14 on Lindsay. The PCVS seniors sucessfully sank 10 out of 17 foul shots attempted as compared with six for 12 by Lindsay.

Close Checking

The junior game was close-checking and not as rough as the senior affair in the small gym. The Garnet and Grey team took an 8-6 score in the first quarter. They outscored Lindsay in the second 6 1 for a half count of 17-10. They again outscored Lindsay in the third by 7-3. Lindsay held PCVS to an 8-all score in the fourth.

Lindsay's Graham led the scoring with 12 points. Lionel Hempstead was tops for PCVS with seven points.

Again in this game 24 fouls were called, 17 on Lindsay. PCVS made eight out of 18 foul shots and Lindsay three for seven.

The lakeshore finals are scheduled to start next Friday night at PCVS , a two-game, points to-count series for both seniors and juniors.

Lineups:

Senior game — PCVS (48) — Northcott 9, Ash 4, Thompson 7, Brown 3, Frise 3, McIlraith 11, Evans 11, Cranfield.

LCI (16)—Georgas, Maidens 2, Smith 3, Lewis 6, Tozios, Puffer 4, Junkin 1, Logan, Taylor.

Junior game — PCVS (32) — Langhorne 5, Fowler 1, Hempstead 7, Hendry 3, Boorman 4, Grafstein 4, Stewart 3, Cunningham 5.

LCI (21)—Acheson 2, Freeman, Eberlee, Ward, Teel, Graham 12, Sinclair 4, Schenk 1, Pennock 1, MacLean 1.

Montreal Skiers Ahead In Meet

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP). — University of Montreal skiers led the eight-collegiate field Friday after the downhill and slalom events of the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union ski championships were run off.

The collegiate meet concludes today with a cross-country race and a jumping contest.

University of Montreal compiled 278.3 points in the downhill and slalom races for a 2.8 points lead over the runner-up Queen's University ski riders.

University of Toronto was third with 267.7 points; Sir George Williams College, and Loyola College, both of Montreal, tied for fourth with 258.9 points; Laval University, sixth, 257.5; Carleton College, Ottawa, seventh, 243.0 and McGill, last, 234.8.

Frank Wood of Queen's won the downhill race while top honors in the slalom went to Laval's Andre Bertrand, Canadian junior downhill racing champion.

Nancy Doubt, 14 - year - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Doubt, Queen St., Lakefield, is making her first venture in competitive swimming tonight in the Ontario Junior Women's All-round Championship meet in Toronto. A member of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club, Miss Doubt will be swimming for the Williams trophy which includes diving, speed and synchronized swimming competition. She will be accompanied by the club coach, Mrs. Pansy Forbes.

Other representatives will be from Hamilton Aquatic Club, the Toronto clubs, London, St. Catharines and Ottawa.

All Games Taken By Shutout Route

All games won in the Ladies' Senior YMCA bowling league were won by shutouts. Aces, Bombers, Commandos and Glengarrys made clean sweeps with Hurricanes, Tigers, Lucky Strikes and Corvettes.

Bombers and Tigers had quite a session in the last two games, Bombers winning the second game by three pins and the last by nine pins.

"Toots" Hewitt had high three with 688, E. Pearcey had 642, Winnie McCarrell 637, Addie Jackson 626, M. Arnold 617, M. Moore 611 and Mary Flaherty 607.

Mary Flaherty had high single of 279, M. Arnold 272, D. Martin 245, A. Jackson and T. Hewitt 241, E. Pearcy 239, W. McCarrell 249.

Commandos had high single game of 1008.

Petes End Up With A Win Over Kingston Nylons, 7-6

Jerking out a 7-6 win over Kingston Nylons here, the Petes wound up their OHA senior "B" schedule well out in front of the pack, the Eagles being second at the moment but crowded closely by Nylons, with the whole schedule ending Monday. A fair-sized crowd saw a fast, close and clean contest, possibly a preview to playoffs, which commence here next Wednesday night. The Petes drew three of the five minor penalties in the speedy melee, which was marked at times by stiff bodying and some close-checking. It was 3-1 for the Jopling squad in the initial inning, but tied at 5-all going into the lively third stanza.

BUMPS HARD — The husky Kingston Nylons found a hard-hitting defenceman in Jack Davison, above, who could bump with the best of them here last night as the Petes wound up their schedule with a 7-6 win.

Chum Fryia shone with a three-goal effort for the winners, as Gus Leonard got two, singles being counted by Arn Dugan and Jack Mortimer. An assist each went to Mortimer, Dugan, Floyd, Fryia, Gus Leonard, Horton and Mason. Kingston goals were by Harrison, Gerow, Joyce, Potts, Aitken and Catlin, as the latter, Armstrong, Watts and McKeown drew an assist apiece. Both goalies were good in this game.

Scored First

The Petes tallied first when Gus Leonard's shot from the side with Jack Mortimer's pass caromed in off Udell's skates. Harrison evened it shortly with a hot angle drive from defence which caught a coner of the hemp. Fryia cuffed home Arn Dugan's rebound then after first trying a shot and then circling the net to wham in the bounce-back on Duggan's drive. It was fast, clean and close all through this heat, though the Petes made it 3-1 near the close in a scramble, Dugan tallying from Floyd. Kingston argued the point, claiming the puck had not crossed the goal-line, and the goal judge was changed between periods.

Nylons had an edge on play by a little margin in the second heat, Gerow scoring early with a back-hander on Catlin's corner passout. Joyce tied it up with a screened shot from defence, but Fryia's sharp angle shot glanced by Udall off a Kingston defenceman shortly after. Potts again sewed it up from Armstrong on in-close combination, and Gus Leonard got that one back from Fryia on a rebound.

Once more the visitors roared in to tie the score, Aitken potting home McKeown's rebound on a partial breakaway, with but one defenceman to beat. Udall was kept busy for a space and then Horton was gated for kicking, and Watts followed for interference.

Broke The Tie

It was 6.05 in the third when Mortimer broke the tie with a slap shot on a corner passout, Horton and Gus Leonard building up the play. West came close, and then Kingston tied it at 6-all when Catlin rapped home Watts' pass on some poor clearing by the Petes in front of their net. Right away, the homesters drove in and sank the winner, Fryia whamming the disc past Udall at close range on a neat pass from Mason as they raced in fast. Partis got the air for playing with a broken stick, and a kid spectator was hit in the face by a flying puck. Tompkin was waved over next for hooking but was back when Davison got it for holding, and Harding was plenty good in holding the driving-in Nylons scoreless the final few minutes.

Teams:

Nylons: Goal, Udall; defence, Patterson and Plumb; centre, Partis; wings, Catlin and Gerow; alternates, Watts, Murphy, McKeown, Aitken, Joyce, Armstrong, Potts and Harrison.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Horton and Tompkins; centre, Dugan; wings, Mason and Floyd; alternates, G. Leonard, Fryia, Mortimer, Garvey, West, Jopling, E. Leonard and Davison.

Referee, L. Heffering; linesman, W. Leggitt.

PCVS Gets Two Girls' Tilts Over Port Hope

PCVS' Garnet and Grey girls' basketball teams finished the schedule in proper style Friday night at the Collegiate by winning both games, junior and senior, from Port Hope High School. Before the largest home crowd of the season the juniors triumphed 34-7 and the seniors won 27-10.

Miss Eva Scott's juniors now play semi-final games with the winner of the Port Perry-Whitby-Lindsay - Uxbridge league. Miss Doreen Pemberton's seniors although they lost only two games —Port Hope and Bowmanville— are likely out of the running for this year. If Bowmanville won Friday night's game with Cobourg (and that is likely), the Bowmanville girls will enter the senior semi-finals. If they lost, a playoff will be necessary between Bowmanville and PCVS.

At Their Best

The seniors saved their best game for Friday night. Intercepting passes and grabbing rebounds the guards held Port Hop low in the scoring and at the same time set up fast passing plays for the forwards. Marg Clarke and Ann LaPointe were standouts. The forwards also came through with their best game, dazzling the lakeshore team with tricky short passes in the offence zone. Nancy Mason, Mary Craw, Jane Tivy, and Gwen Todd stood out in the offensive display.

Peggy Estlick and Nancy Mason gave PCVS a 4-1 score at the first quarter, Mary Craw with four points, Peggy Estlick and Nancy Mason a basket each in the second quarter, made PCVS' score 12 at the half. Meanwhile Port Hope's Mary Roberts scored three for a total of four points. Gwen Todd with three baskets, Mary Craw with three baskets and two foul shots and Nancy Mason a foul shot were too much for Port Hope in the second half. Anne Lingard led a late rally which netted only six points.

Showed Power

Led by Rosie McInroy, the juniors showed the power which has given them six straight wins. The guards worked the zone defence exceptionally well and, like the seniors, rebounded well for a fast up-the-floor game. Team work with fast-cutting around the basket by the forwards was too much for the Port Hope guards.

Carol Ferguson with three baskets and a foul shot, Rosie McInroy with three baskets and Reta Naylor a foul shot gave the PCVS a 14-0 score at the half. During that time Port Hope failed to score even on four foul shots.

Rosie McInroy continued her first half pace for nine points in the second half. The remainder of the team's scoring was well divided among Lorraine Derry, Carol Ferguson, Shirley Frost, Reta Naylor and Maisie Shearer. Patsy Thompson and Nan Hutchings broke the goose-egg for Port Hope.

The line-ups:

Senior Game

Port Hope 10—Lingard 6, Sawyer, McLellan, Boulden, Roberts 3, Pacon, Knight 1, Sanders.

PCVS 27 — Craw 12, Estlick 4, Mason 5, Derry, Todd 6, Clarke, Magee, Matthews, Jackson, LaPointe, White, Tivy.

Junior Game

Port Hope 7 — Hutchings 2, Kearns, Austin, Baulch, Uglow, Skitch, Linney, Welsh, Thompson 5, Parrott, Edgar, Maksimuk.

PCVS 34— Derry 1, Ferguson 11, Frost 2, McInroy 15, Naylor 3, Shearer 2, Fletcher, Peryer, Rowell, Wilkinson, Leggott, and White.

Nurses And CGE Gain Wins In Lasses' Loop

Nurses easily turned back Normals 29-16 in Girls' City League basketball Friday night and the CGE lasses edged Black's in the second game 14-10.

Carol Ferguson and Reta Naylor netted points in the first quarter to give Black's the lead 4-2, Pat Nixon scoring the lone CGE basket. Foul shots by Carol Ferguson and Rosie McInroy allowed Blacks' to hold a slim lead at the half 7-5. Pat Nixon added another basket and M. Perrin a foul shot for CGE.

CGE girls began to hold Black's in the third quarter and edged them 3-2 on points by Fern Carveth and Dot Jackson. But Black's kept the lead 9-8 on a basket by Carol Ferguson. Barb Luther dropped in two baskets and Pat Nixon one to enable the CGE'ers to outscore Black's in the last session 6-1. Pat Nixon of CGE and Carol Ferguson of Black's shared scoring honors with six points each. Barb Luther of the CGE'ers placed third with four.

An Easy Win

Holding Normals scoreles in the fourth quarter, Nurses decisively took the other game 29-16. The Normalites held Nurses to an 8-7 score in the first quater on points by Amy Curtis, Carol Raper and Joan Krogh. Joan Smith, Joan Plunkett, Jean Bell and Anita Davis counted Nurses' baskets.

Joan Plunkett added two baskets for Nurses in the second compared with three points for Normals by Doris Reynolds and Carol Raper. With Anita Davis and Jean Bell leading the attack, Nurses ran up 11 points in the third quarter to lead 23-16, Doris Reynolds, Marney Hollingsworth and Carol Raper scoring for Normals. Betty Sutton, Barbara Jex and Joan Plunkett added Nurses' points in the fourth.

Joan Plunkett led the scoring with eight points while teammates Jean Bell and Anita Davis and Normal's Carol Raper each had six points.

Lineups:

A game—Normals (16)—Krogh 2, Lane, Butlin, Reynolds 4, Peters, Hollingsworth 2, Raper 6, Scanlan, Shunk, Curtis 2.

Nurses (29)—Smith 3, Collins 2, Plunkett 8, Jex 2, Jaquith, Jones, Bell 6, Moncrief, Davis 6, B. Deyell, Sutton 2, Martyn.

B game—Black's (10)—Knox, McIlvena, McKee, Vint, Ferguson 6, McInroy 1, Naylor 3.

CGE (14)—Hodson, Perrin 1, Luther 4, Barry, Jackson 2, Carveth 1, Nixon 6.

Confeds Defeat King Edward

Confederation blanked King Edward in a semi-final intermediate School Hockey League game at the Arena 3-0. These teams finished first and third in the league standing. Chesney scored from Druery in the first grame, the latter and Brown tallying again in the next heat, with Jones and Moffat earning an assist apiece. The winners drew five penalties to two. Druery, Rose, and W. Rowe were standouts.

Confederation — Steele, Jones, Holston, Chesney, Parnell, Druery, Walling, Brown, Kimball, Moffat.

King Edward — W. Rowe, Hutchinson, Rose, Collins, Stevens, Murphy, Meredith, Park, R. Rowe, Murduff, Riel.

Referee—Mr. Lawless.

Hockey Brass Predict Playoff Order

By MEL SUFRIN.
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The National Hockey League chedule still has a month to run ut, the men who boss the teams lready have produced enough redictions for a fairly compre- ensive guess at the final out- ome.

The men who have made the ff-the-cuff forecasts are Lynn atrick, coach of Boston Bruins, rank Boucher, New York Ran- ers general manager; Dick Ir- in, coach of Montreal Cana- iens, and Conn Smythe, general anager of Toronto Maple Leafs.

By combining the comments f the four this would be the pic- ure of just about all of the re- ainder of the season:

The final standing would see etroit Red Wings in first place llowed by Toronto, Boston and ew York, Montreal, in fifth, and hicago in sixth, would be out f the playoffs.

In the playoffs, Boston would nock off the highly-touted Red ings while Toronto would eli- inate New York.

oston Winner

That would place Boston and oronto in the Stanley Cup finals. oston would emerge as the ul- mate winner.

Now here are some of the re- arks which form the basis for e general forecast:

In Toronto last night Patrick nd Smythe agreed that their ams would be Stanley Cup fin- ists.

"I figure we'll be back here for e Stanley Cup finals," said Pat- ck who thought Detroit would nd up in first place with Bos- n third.

"We'll knock off Detroit," Lynn lded. "We've gone very well gainst that club. I just have a eling."

Smythe, whose team meets the ruins in one of tonight's two mes, was in agreement.

"There's the guy (Patrick) with e most logical contender for the p," said Smythe. "The Bruins ve been coming along steadily, nder no great pressure. They're third place now. They'd won ly two games when we traded ll Ezinicki and Vic Lynn to em and I think those two have lped Boston a lot."

The situation at present in the ague shows Detroit leading the afs by five points. Toronto has games still to play, one more an Detroit.

troit Will Lead

But any likelihood that the afs might overtake the Red ings was played down a month two back when Irvin remarked at Detroit was a better team an Toronto. That settles the two p positions.

The positions of the next three ams are much closer, however, th only three points separating ston in third place from Mont- al in fifth. Boucher took care that some time back when he edicted that the Canadiens uld finish out of the playoffs in th place while his Rangers and ston took the two remaining ayoff spots.

Some light may be cast on this pect of the situation tonight en New York visits Montreal. As for Chicago Black Hawks, eryone but the most optimistic icago fan has counted them out. ey're 14 points out of fourth ace with little more than a ma- ematical chance of getting into e playoffs.

Hamilton Edges Marlies 5-4; Barrie Wins From Guelph 3-2

By The Canadian Press.

Hamilton Tigers edged Toronto Marlboros 5-4 last night to move within three points of Marlies in the Ontario Hockey Association major series race.

Frank Liscombe with two goals led the Bengals against their second-place opponents, aided by Tom Smelle, Murray Comfort and Harvey Fraser. Ross Johnstone registered three goals for Marlies, with Howie Lee grabbing the fourth.

In OHA Junior A clashes, Barrie Flyers retained their league-lead by taking Guelph Biltmores 3-2, mainly through the efforts of Real Chevrefils, who scored all Flyers' markers. Ron Murphy and Andy Bathgate answered for the Hatters.

Spits Downed

In Windsor, St. Catharines Teepees swung an upset by dumping second-place Spitfires 2-0. Tallies by Buddy Boone and Gord Lomer avenged two previous shutouts the Tribe suffered at the hands of Windsor. The loss moved Spitfires four points back from Barrie Flyers.

A slow event in Stratford saw Kroehlers thump Galt Black Hawks 5-2. Doug Williams got two, Bob Armstrong, Bob Bailey and Gord Myles racking up the other three for the winners. Don Hogan and Tony Poeta hit for Hawks.

Today in the senior loop Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen meet Toronto St. Michael's, although the Dutchmen are out of a play-off spot. In the junior race, Toronto Marlboros face Waterloo Hurricanes, Toronto St. Michael's tangle with Oshawa Generals, and Windsor Spitfires meet Galt Black Hawks.

Honoring God Said More Than Reverence, Obedience

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

A young man with whom I had roomed at one time and remembered as a quiet and inoffensive roommate, later fell into evil company and came to a tragic end.

Cheated in a gambling game, smarting under the trickery and egged on by a vicious girl, he ambushed the man who had cheated him and shot him, coming literally within an inch of being a murderer, for the bullet just barely missed striking a fatal spot.

My former friend escaped with a long-tem penitentiary sentence which he never fully served.

He received bad reports concerning his wife, the girl, in part, responsible for his crime; she had fallen into bad company. As a result, despair overcame his mind, already weakened by imprisonment, and one day he cried "Here's for glory," and then dove from a high railing to the prison courtyard below.

It was a sad earthly end for a young fellow who was something of a roughneck, but who, as I knew him, was capable of better things. I recall the tragic incident now for the fact that it was a poor sort of glory.

Other forms of assumed glory have been less associated with tragedy, but, apart from that, may have had little glory in them. What, therefore, actually is glory and what does it mean to glorify God, and to live in His glory?

What does the dictionary say? My dictionary has a whole list of states and qualities defining glory. It is "distinguished honor or ornament; exalted reputation; praise; splendor of state; the quality of being radiant; lustre; the bliss of heaven; a halo."

What does the Bible say? It is perhaps enough to say that the dictionary definitions seem to be derived chiefly from the Bible. In the glorifying of God almost all the dictionary definitions are present, but chief among them is the quality of honor.

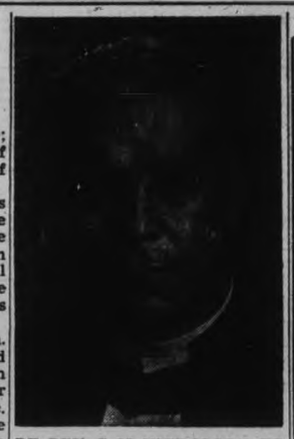
To glorify God is to honor Him. And what does honoring God mean? I think it means very much in relation to God what honor means in the lesser things of life. In ordinary, mundane matters we speak of "honoring" a check, or a note, hich implies that we accept full responsibility for it as ours. To honor God is to accept Him, to take His love and His will into our lives, to become responsible to Him for our character and ways.

Honoring God is something more than reverence or obeisance. It is a false notion that represents God as a great potentate, sitting in gorgeous garments on a throne, ready to wreak His vengeance and authority upon His subjects, if they do not fall down and offer their abject devotion. The likeness of God to earthly sovereigns has been overdone. It is a false and misleading conception.

To glorify God is to accept Him and what He offers, and to become like Him in the creative life and acts of love and goodwill. "Here is my Father glorified," said Jesus, "that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be My disciples."

United Church Moderator To Visit Presbytery Sunday

The Rt. Rev. Clarence MacKinnon Nicholson, DD, the moderator of the United Church of Canada will be a visitor to Peterborough Presbytery on Sunday. In the morning he will preach at Millbrook where he will be heard by the various congregations in that area. In the afternoon he will be at Norwood where a joint service of the Hastings, Havelock, Cottesloe, Warsaw and Norwood congregations is being held. In the evening Dr. Nicholson will preach in the George Street United Church. The evening services of the other United Church congregations in the city are being withdrawn and the service of song will be led by a massed choir from the churches.



Dr. Nicholson was born in Dominion, Nova Scotia, on July 13, 1904. He is a son of Alexander Nicholson and Harriet Ferguson Nicholson. The family stock on both sides came from North Vist in Scotland.

Since his election as moderator last September, Dr. Nicholson has been visiting the various Presbyteries of the church and hopes to be in every one during his two year term of office.

The moderator was educated in common schools of Dominion, and Glace Bay High School. His university training was obtained at Acadia University, Wolfville, NS, and Dalhousie University, Halifax. From the latter university he obtained his arts degree.

Dr. Nicholson took his theological course in Pine Hill Divinity Hall, and was ordained by the Maritime Conference in 1934. He also studies at Princeton Seminary and Union Seminary, New York.

His pastorates include churches

RT. REV. C. M. NICHOLSON, DD

in Port Morien, Imperoyal, New Waterford and Sydney, all in Nova Scotia. In 1946 he became principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax. He also holds the office of grand chaplain of the Masonic Order for Nova Scotia.

To Build More Jets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(AP)—Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson said Friday night the United States intends to expand jet engine production capacity to 18,000 a month. He did not give the present figure. In a radio broadcast, Wilson also disclosed that Americans will be asked for $150,000,000,000 extra for defence "in the next two or three years." Over a three-year period this would be about $100,000,000,000 more than the rate of defence appropriations before the Korean outbreak.

Want Germany Armed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(AP)—The United States will go into any big four meeting determined to push ahead with German rearmament regardless of Russian objections, officials said Friday. The United States, Britain and France told Russia in notes this week they are willing to send representatives to Paris March 5 in an effort to work out a mutually acceptable agenda for a later Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting.

71 Families Out Of 100 Own Homes

3.9 Persons Living In Each House, Apartment In City

Peterborough is a city of home-owners in which 71 per cent of the families own the homes they are living in, records of the city assessor show.

Peterborough has 7,918 houses in which just one family lives. Of these 5,620 are owned by the families living in them.

This information has been compiled by the city assessor's office only since 1949. But in the two years recorded, there appears to be a trend toward more people owning their homes.

Increase Over 1949

In 1949, 69.2 per cent of the 7,544 houses in the city were owned by the people living in them. The trend is partly aided by the subdivisions such as Brookdale and Parkdale in which houses have been sold.

In the McKellar St. subdivision in which the houses are owned by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the homes are being sold to the people who were renting them if they want to buy them.

In the city there is an average of 3.9 persons living in each home, and apartment. Two wards have slightly more than the average number of persons living in each dwelling. They are the south ward and the east ward. In the centre ward there are 3.4 persons to each dwelling. The three other wards have averages between these two extremes.

The ward with the highest percentage of people who own their own homes in the east ward with 79.2 per cent. The north ward has a percentage of 78.8 per cent home owners, the south 72.1 per cent, the west 65.4 per cent, the Claraday ward 64.9 per cent and the centre ward 35.3 per cent.

Four of the wards show a higher percentage of home owners in 1950 than in 1949. The two exceptions are the centre ward and the west ward.

1,958 in South Ward

The south ward has the highest number of houses—1,958; the north ward is next with 1,636, and the others are west, 1,563; Claraday, 1,343; east, 1,197, and the centre 221.

On many streets in the city at least 70 per cent of the houses are owned by the families living there.

On Bolivar St. 76 of the 113 houses are owned by the people in them. Of 56 houses on Brioux Ave, 48 are "owner occupied" as they are classed in the assessment records. On Princess St. the record is 57 out of 72 and on Rogers St., the record is 112 owner occupied of the total of 157.

In many of the older residential districts the percentage would go much higher. And it all adds up to the same fact: in Peterborough people own their own homes.

BLIND EMPLOYEES ARE TOP-NOTCH workmen as far as managers of Peterborough industries are concerned. EDITH NORMA MELBURN, LEFT, a weaver at the Canadian Ventilating Shade Company for the past three years, was placed with the firm by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. She is leading a happy normal life. Frank Simmons of 273 Dalhousie St., RIGHT, was a machinist by trade with the Outboard Marine Company, starting in 1937. A disease of the eye blinded him in '44 and he has carried on in the assembly department of ignition armature plates ever since. Frank is a very popular employee, helpful to others and an active worker in Institute welfare work.—Examiner Staff Photos

Seek Approval Of $65,000 For New School

The accommodation committee of the Board of Education is recommending to the Board that the council be asked to issue debentures for $65,000 to pay for the building of a second storey on the Grove school in the south end of the city. Earlier estimates were that $60,000 would be needed but increases in the cost of materials has upped the amount $5,000. The architect has already prepared the preliminary plans and the department has given its approval to an expenditure of $60,000.

The Board hopes, that tenders can be called within the next six weeks in order to have the addition ready by September 1. The school is one which was taken over at the time of the annexation and is a new building. When it was built it was so laid out so that a second storey could be added.

PCVS Choral Club In Second Place

The Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational Choral Club under the direction of Melvin J. Curtis tied for second place in the Girl's Chorus, open class at the Toronto Kiwanis Festival Thursday.

The local chorus club tied with the Aurora Girls' Glee Club, only one point behind the first place Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School A. Capella Choir.

The adjudicator was Gordon Thorne of Manchester, England.

Last year the Peterborough Club won the shield for the Girls' Chorus for cities under 75,000.

The accompanist was Miss Mary McBride.

$57,437 Surplus Shown In Electrical Department

The net surplus in the electrical department of Peterborough Utilities Commission last year was $57,437.01, or 6.1% of the total revenue, as shown in the financial statement for 1950 published elsewhere in The Examiner today. The corresponding surplus in 1949 was $71,979.29, or 9.4% of the total revenue.

Expenses Up $186,903

The operating statement shows that total expenses increased $186,903 in 1950. Of this increase, $155,689 was due to an advance in the cost of power, while $23,966 was due to an increase in operating charges.

Revenue was $172,361, or 22% over 1949. This overall increase in revenue was due to an increase of $88,081 in domestic lighting receipts, $34,705 in commercial lighting and $50,374 in industrial power.

From the balance sheet, the total assets have increased $295,644.00, this increase being brought about by an increased plant value of $184,670.00, and an increased equity in the HEPC system of $69,959.00.

With the increase in plant value has come an increase in debenture debt of $144,000.00, necessitated by large purchases of equipment to carry the increased load on the system.

The average monthly peak was 26,700 horsepower, an increase of 9 per cent over the 1949 figure.

More Power Users

There are now 9,665 domestic consumers, an increase of 479 over 1949. The average monthly consumption per customer was 355 kwhrs, and the net cost per kwhr. was 0.95c. The average monthly bill was $3.36.

There are now 1,324 commercial lighting consumers, an increase of 79 over 1949. The average cost per kwhr. to this class of consumer was 1.41c, while the average monthly consumption was 731 kwhrs. The average monthly bill was $10.28.

Power consumers total 210, with an average monthly consumption of 16,250 kwhrs. The average monthly bill is $138.00, or an average cost of 0.64c per kwhr.

The average monthly consumption in each class has increased. The average revenue per kilowatt hour however, has increased only in domestic and commercial classes, and has decreased 18 per cent in the power class.

Carrier current water heater controllers were installed in the Romaine St. and Clifton St. unit sub stations. These have served to improve the system load factor and reduce the cost of power purchased.

A 750 kva. sub station was erected on the Auburn property of the Hydro Electric Power Commission to serve the north end of the city and the waterworks plant.

Separate Rural Service

During the year the final separation of the rural from the city systems was completed and all materials and records transferred to the local rural office.

On High St. at Third Ave., a site was prepared and orders were placed for a 3,750 kva. unit sub station, which is to be delivered in 1951.

The electric department, in cooperation with the city and the baseball club, erected the new floodlights for the diamond in Riverside Park.

On November 29 a serious fault developed in the Aylmer St. station, and the whole city was without power for two hours. Emergency arrangements had the lighting circuits 90 per cent restored the same day. The remainder of the lighting circuits were restored to service on November 30, but industrial consumers were not served fully until the following Monday. Permanent repairs took about two weeks more.

During the year the department erected 30 miles of service wire, 32 miles of primary conductor, 7.3 miles of secondary conductor, and 180 street lights.

Distribution transformer capacity was increased 2,400 kw.

There were 591 new 3-wire services, 69 new 2-wire services, and 19 flat rate water heaters connected.

Peter Dominik Receives Medal Of Merit

For exceptional service in scouting in the Peterborough district, L. Peter Dominik, received Friday night the Boy Scout Association's Medal of Merit. The honor was included in the list of Boy Scout honors and awards announced by His Excellency, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Chief Scout for Canada, Thursday. The actual presentation was made at St. John's Anglican Church's 26th annual father and son banquet by Mayor M. J. Swanston.

In the citation to Mr. Dominik, assistant district commissioner, Jackson Dodds, deputy chief scout, said, "It gives me great pleasure on behalf of Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Chief Scout for Canada, to inform you, for your good services to scouting, he has been pleased to award you the Medal of Merit. I would like to add my own congratulations and good wishes."

District Commissioner George Groombridge said, "No one in the city has worked harder for scouting than he has. Besides his active work in cubbing, he strives for success in all the Rover Scout activities such as the Ontario Rover Moot held at Kosh Lake last year."

Fifth Award Made

This is the fifth Medal of Merit to be awarded to a local Scout leader and the first in 10 years. Others who have received the award include Ernest Wolff, Lewis A. Grant, Albert Hope and Mr. Groombridge. With the medal is a cloth, khaki and green badge.

After the return of Peterborough's representative to the 1933 Rover Scout Moot in Hungary, Mr. Dominik became interested in scouting. He was invested at St. John's troop by Mr. Groombridge in 1934 and later was one of the nucleus of the first rover crew.

Organized a Troop

Late in 1934 he organized a Sacred Heart troop and acted as assistant scoutmaster until 1935 when he organized the cub pack. After four years as cubmaster he again entered scouting with the troop as scoutmaster.

After three and a half years in the RCAF Mr. Dominik returned to scouting with the local association and was appointed district rover scout leader in 1947. In 1949 he was made assistant district commissioner in charge of cubs and rover scouts.

Protests Made By Legion

Canadian Legion Also Opposes Release of Meyer

Resolutions protesting the release of Nazi Major-General Kurt Meyer and the "wholesale immigration of persons from Europe for employment" were received today in Toronto by the executive of the Canadian Legion Provincial Command from Branch 52, Peterborough. They were passed at a meeting of the Legion this week.

Branch 52's protest about General Meyer's release arises from a story appearing last week that the Nazi officer, now serving a life sentence in New Brunswick for war crimes involving Canadian prisoners of war, would probably be freed and returned to his homeland.

Numerous Protests

In this resolution the local branch said: "This branch views with alarm any move to release Gen. Kurt Meyer or any other person or persons responsible for the ruthless murder of so many Canadian prisoners."

This protest to the German general's release is one of many made during the past week. Hamilton's United Council of Veterans, the Ford Local 200 in Windsor and the Toronto Board of Control have all voiced their opposition.

In the second resolution Branch 52 went on record as "protesting against the wholesale immigration of persons for employment while there are so many unemployed veterans in Canada." This arises from the recent announcements of future large-scale immigration schemes.

Hydro Workers

It is aimed at the Ontario government's new immigration plan to bring 25,000 British workers to fill jobs in industry. The first group left England February 17 and in the next few months will be followed by 2,000 other Britons, who are being recruited by an Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission's selection team.

The Branch 52 members indicated their opposition to the scheme by unanimously voting in favor of the resolution.

A letter containing the two resolutions was sent also to federal member for Peterborough West, Gordon K. Fraser.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

STORE AWNING BURNS

Damage estimated at $75 was caused this morning when the awning on the store belonging to De Carlonis, at the corner of George and King streets, caught fire and burned. The fire alarm was placed at 7:25 a.m. and firemen put out the fire with no further damage to the store building. The cause of the fire is unknown.

SALVATION ARMY TRIO

Captain Peggy Green, formerly of Peterborough, is one of the Toronto Women's Trio that will sing and play at the Youth Rally to be held at the Salvation Army Temple Saturday night and conduct services Sunday. The other two members of the trio are Captain Eleanor Bond and Captain Dorothy Uden.

CARS COLLIDE

Two cars collided Friday night at Sherbrooke and George Sts. Minor damage was done to both cars. Drivers were Raymond Saltern, 251 Engleburn Ave., and Leo Shine, RR 10, Peterborough. Shine was turning east on to Sherbrooke St. from George St., and Saltern was driving north on George when the accident occurred.

SWITCH BROKEN

A hit-and-run driver struck a CNR switch opposite 429 Bethune St., Friday night and snapped it off. PC D. J. Farthing, who investigated, was told by residents that a green car had ben seeen driving away shortly after a crash was heard. A broken headlight lens and a chrome ring were found near the switch.

Rambling Reporter

QUICKER THAN ONE, TWO, THREE

Did you ever "paint yourself into a corner" while working on a floor? Brickwork laborer Richard Jeff, employed by contractor Cyril Barnes on the Parkdale Realty Apartments, Parkhill Rd., went one better on Friday morning. In fact, he went three, straight down. Happened this way:

The apartment stairwell is still a yawning pit three stories deep, reached by ladders to each future level. Jeff was laying cement on the "third floor" landing, raking and backing. But he backed too far and, suddenly there was nothing left to stand on but air. He plunged down three flights and landed on a soft pile of brick-wrapping straw at the bottom. The only damage to Jeff as result of his crash landing was a small bruise on his left leg. His work was only interrupted for a few minutes.

City's Education Budget Increased $116,366 Awaits Board's Approval

Taxpayers Will Be Asked To Provide An Extra $86,552 In 1951; Increase Of Two Mills Forecast

An increase of $116,366 in its 1951 budget was forecast by the finance committee of the Board of Education as it completed this week the estimates. These are now ready to go to the Board for approval. The budget as struck by the committee totals $873,800. The demand made on the city will be $567,487, an increase of $86,552. The difference between the estimated expenditure and the demand on the city, $306,313, is made up of provincial grants, fees and other charges which the Board makes.

$415,232 For Public Schools

Of this levy on the taxpayers, $415,232 will be required for public schools. It is estimated that it will take a mill rate of 10.25 to raise this sum, an increase of 1.9 mills over 1950. The demand for the collegiate is $152,255 or 3.87 mills, an increase of one-tenth of a mill.

The increase on the tax rate to public school supporters will be two mills.

Debentures Less

Capital charges for the PCVS will remain the same as last year, while in the public schools there is a reduction from $48,849 to $43,685. Charges for debentures in 1949 were $54,548. Thus while the Board has been carrying on an extensive program of building in the public schools, the capital charges have been reduced, rather than increased. This is accounted for by the fact that within the past two years two debentures on the Prince of Wales school for 30 years were paid off. They carried an interest rate of six and six and one-half per cent.

The estimated expenditures at the PCVS have increased $9,190 while the increase in the public schools is $86,552.

Hydro Engineer A. Richardson Dies In Toronto

One of Canada's outstanding construction engineers and former Peterborough man, Albert Angus Richardson, died in a Toronto hospital on Friday. He had been in charge of Hydro's giant Des Joachim project on the Ottawa River which officially opened this week and was chosen to head the new Niagara power project.

Born in Peterborough, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alex Richardson, he received his early education in this city and graduated in engineering from the University of Toronto. With the rank of Captain in the Royal Canadian Engineers in the First World War he received the Order of the British Empire from the late King George V in 1919. Following the war he returned to Peterborough and was resident engineer of the Peterborough Filtration plant in 1921 and was later employed by the Morrow and Beatty Construction Company and other firms. For a number of years he has been with the Ontario Hydro Commission.

He leaves his wife and three daughters, Mrs. R. L. Parsons, Mrs. T. G. Shepherd and Miss Louise Richardson. There are four sisters, Mrs. J. L. Gillespie, Miss Ethel Richardson and Mrs. Ada Strong, all of Peterborough, and Mrs. Joseph Gibson of Toronto, and a brother, Roland Richardson, also of this city. Mr. Richardson was a member of the Royal Arthur Lodge, AF and AM.

Funeral service will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Schell, 37 Lings Lynn Road, The Kingsway, Toronto, at 11 a.m. Monday and burial will be at Little Lake cemetery, Peterborough on arrival of the funeral coach, approximately 2:30 p.m. Monday.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The musical program at the mass brotherhood meeting held at the Collegiate Thursday night was arranged by the Local Council of Women and not by the Women's Study Group on Civic Affairs as previously reported

Bill Watson On Trip To Lake Success

W. H. (Bill) Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Watson, 720 Stewart St., has been selected by the Peterborough Hi-Y clubs to represent them on a United Nations tour this weekend. With members from the Toronto Hi-Y clubs Mr. Watson will fly to New York today and return to Toronto Tuesday night.

Headquarters while in New York will be the Sloan House YMCA. Today and Sunday they will see the theatrical production of Kiss Me Kate, and visit Radio City, the Empire State building and the Statue of Liberty.

Monday and Tuesday will be spent at Lake Success where the boys will meet members of the Security Council and attend the council's sessions.

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Cars driven by Hezekiah Woodward of Sutherland and George McLennan, 438 Mark St., collided at 8 a.m. today on Water St., north of Mill St. Woodward, northbound on Water St., was trying to pass McLennan's car when he skidded and the cars met. Damage was not extensive.

Hart House Glee Club Gets Warm Applause

A generous gesture toward music in Peterborough was made by the Hart House Glee Club on Friday night, when it made over its half of the proceeds from a concert to the Peterborough Public Library, for the purchase of gramophone records. The announcement of the Club's gift was made by the Rev. M. J. Aiken during the interval of the concert, and the large audience showed its appreciation in a prolonged burst of applause.

The Glee Club visited Peterborough at the invitation of the choir of St. Andrew's Church and sang in the church itself, which was filled almost to capacity. The forty-five fresh young male voices were first heard in the difficult concluding chorus of Handel's "Judas Maccabaeus." In the first group, also, were the wonderful old 'rota' by John of Fornsete, "Sumer is icumen in," and Thomas Morley's ballet "My Bonny Lass," both of which the Club sang with spirit.

The program was arranged with a keen eye to effect, as well as to musical worth. The fine impression which the singers made with the Handel Chorus was strengthened by their performance of "Good News From Heaven," from Bach's Christmas Oratorio; the deeply religious feeling which was not fully realized in this number was marked in the familiar "Bless This House," which was sung as an encore.

Somerset Folksong

A word of special praise must be said for renditions of the Somerset folksong "The Turtle Dove," arranged by Vaughan Williams, and a setting of Housman's "Is My Team Ploughing," from The Shropshire Lad. In the first of these the soloist was Earle Matthews, and in the second Jim Graham. Both sang with sympathetic understanding of the words and music, and the choral accompaniment was discreetly balanced against their voices. The one selection on the program which seemed to be beyond the capacity of the Club was Sir Edward Elgar's setting of "Seek Him that maketh the Seven Stars"; the failure here was one of understanding, and not simply of the amplitude of voice for this very difficult composition, so deceptive in its apparent simplicity.

Port Hope Pianist

The Club was accompanied by Frank Churchley, of Port Hope, who is known in Peterborough as a very able pianist who headed the piano contestants in the Kiwanis Festival here the year before last. He played the Bach Toccata and Fugue in B. Minor with great spirit, and was successful in making this gigantic work, designed for the resources of the organ, effective and comprehensible on the piano. In his second group he played Chopin's charming Scottish Dances—reminders of the vogue for Scottish rhythms which was one of the many European evidences of the popularity of the romances of Sir Walter Scott.

The success of the concert was chiefly owing to the enthusiasm and musicianship of the leader of the Glee Club, Mr. Ward Mcadam. Two of his arrangements of Negro spirituals, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Josh Fit De Battle of Jericho" were sung with obvious affection and enjoyment.

The Glee Club received a warm welcome from the audience, and it is to be hoped that this will not be their last appearance in Peterborough.

Roseneath Pair Celebrate 40th Anniversary

ROSENEATH, Feb. 24 (ENS)—Approximately 200 people attended a party in the LOL hall, Roseneath, on Wednesday night, the eve of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sherwin's 40th wedding anniversary.

Music for dancing was provided by the Roseneath orchestra. At the lunch hour at midnight, the gathering were served lunch on the second floor and the bride and groom of 40 years with their immediate family were escorted to a long table at the front of the hall.

The table was complete with a three tier wedding cake and candles, and decorated in pink and white.

The wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Newman Lean, a friend of the family.

Following the lunch hour, Mr and Mrs. Sherwin were called to the platform and an address was read by Charles Burrison and the presentation of a tri-light floor lamp, on behalf of the family, was made by a grandson, Neil O'Connell, Roseneath. Two occasional chairs and a purse of money, on behalf of the gathering were presented by Messrs. Dawson Timlin and Edgar Braithwaite.

The committee in charge of this large surprise party were: Mrs Leslie Sherwin, Mrs. Dawson Timlin and Mrs. Les Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin were married at the Methodist parsonage, Hastings, February 22, 1911 by the Rev. W. Barrett. The bride was the only daughter of the late John Brown and Elizabeth Brenton. The groom was a son of the late Charles Sherwin and Sarah Adams.

Following their honeymoon they took up residence on a farm three miles west of Roseneath, where they have since resided.

There are three children, Evelina (Mrs. Hilliard O'Connell), Leah (Mrs. Norman Foreman), and Neill, all of Roseneath. They also have five grandchildren. All were present with their parents on this occasion.

Included among those from a distance present were: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Payne, Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Greenly and family, Norham; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richardson, Dartford; Messrs. Albert and Luther Sandercock, Balcarres, Saskatchewan; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Williamson, Norwood; Mr. and Mrs Charles Burrison, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stanworth and Mrs. R. E. Staples, Gore's Landing; Major and Mrs. R. E. Drope, Miss J. Halligan, Mrs. Albert Sandercock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shearer, Mr. Neil Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. Sam O'Connell, Harwood; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Ethel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Macklin and family, Fenella; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sherwin, Hastings.

3 Teen-Age Brothers Jailed For Break-ins

SUDBURY, Feb. 24 —(CP)— Three teen-age Sudbury brothers Thursday were sentenced to two years less a day definite and one year indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory on a total of 29 charges laid as the result of a series of break-ins and thefts dating back to last Dec. 7.

The brothers, after pleading guilty to all charges, were given concurrent terms on each count. Joseph Delmar Smart, 18, faced three charges; Victor Smart, 16, was held on 14 counts and Melvine Smart, 17, admitted taking part in 12 break-ins.

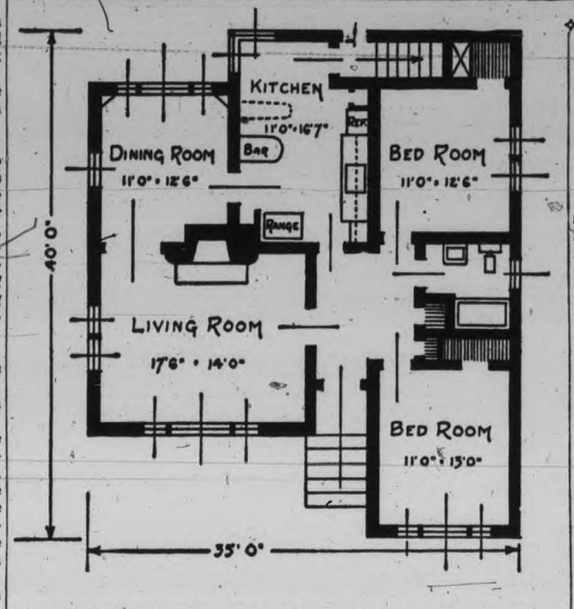
Their father, Joseph W. Smart, 51, facing four charges of possessing stolen goods, was committed for trial in a higher court.

Boy Or The Book Topic At Coldsprings YPU

COLDSPRINGS, Feb. 24 (ENS) —The regular meeting of the Coldsprings YPU was held Thursday evening. The Rev. P. C. Brown presided in the absence of the president, Robert Turner. Reading by Warren Butlar, "The Boy or The Book," was given after which Miss Annie Moffatt led a discussion.

Miss Margaret Ford played a piano solo, and Miss A. Moffatt gave an interesting paper on Foreign Missionaries.

Eva Willis, the vice-president, took charge of the business.



Miss Moffatt and Mr. Brown conducted recreation.

Women's Ability

CALGARY — (CP)—Miss Olive Ottaway, of Toronto, secretary of the all-male Toronto Graphic Arts Association, said here: "As I see it, the good Lord made some of us men and some of us women, but there is no difference in our brains or ability."

HOUSE No. 11.—First thing to notice going into the attractive bungalow pictured here is the practical recessed doorway, next is the hall which serves as the axis of the house. To the left is the bright livign room with open fireplace, to the right are the two equal-sized bedrooms, separated by the bathroom. Straight ahead we find the kitchen and breakfast nook. Entering the dining room from the kitchen we find a sweep of windows flanked by built-in corner cupboards. The garage is in the basement, directly under the front bedroom. This provides a convenient, all-weather route to the car. Some municipalities across Canada do not permit direct access to the garage from the house, which partly nullifies the advantage of this type of garage. Giving Furnace An Overcoat One Way To Conserve Heat

Unless your warm air furnace is of the one-pipe variety in which the jackets surrounding the fire pot have cold air between them, the insulating of the furnace and the several ducts which carry the warm air to the different parts of your house is good common sense.

The material used for this is corrugated asbestos paper which makes a three-layer covering around the sides, and over the top of your furnace. That is, three layers are put on, one over the other. Tie each one with string, then put a piece of flexible wire around the top layer at intervals to hold the whole covering in place. The wire can fasten to bolts or hinges on the doors, over which the asbestos covering sheets do not go.

Using Cement

The layer of sheets over the top of the furnace can be held down by extending the layer of asbestos cement to be put over the sloping part of the furnace jacket. The usual layer of sand on top of the warm air furnace is more of a fire precaution than an insulator. Asbestos corrugated sheets are both good insulators and fireproof. In measuring around your furnace to see how long to cut the strips of asbestos paper, add a few inches more than your measurement to allow for the thickness of the paper. And measure each succeeeding layer over the one under it, and allow a few inches.

Asbestos cement for this use comes in powder form and is mixed with just enough water to make it workable. It goes on between a half inch and one inch in thickness, and is troweled down smooth with a mason's trowel.

The ducts are covered in the same ways as the outside of the furnace, with three layers. Cut the pieces of asbestos paper larger so they will go around the pipe or duct and meet. Hold the first layer with string, then measure again and allow an extra length again. Don't have the joints over each other, and stagger the ends of the layers so the next set of three layers can overlap the corresponding layers next to them.

Turns and corners are cut in a triangular shape and fitted over the pipe when the turn is a 90-degree one, which it ought not to be in any warm air duct unless there is considerable suction from a fan to move the air. If the turn is a bend, a piece of asbestos paper is cut to one of the pieces of the pipe making part of the bend. Sometimes asbestos warm air pipe coverings can be bought already cut with a flap on one edge to cement down. If you find these available be sure they fit your ducts.

Conserve Fuel

The insulating of ducts and furnace will conserve fuel, make it possible to maintain a slower fire, and yet deliver more heat to the rooms above.

Insulating covers of asbestos are made for both hot water and steam pipes, varying in sizes to fit all pipes normally used. The loss of heat is tremendous by uncovered pipes. This is also true of the tank for hot water, and the water pipes leading to faucets in kitchens and bathrooms. These tubular coverings are easy to put on, and are very much worth the cost and time.

If your hot water tank isn't insulated it can be wrapped with three layers of asbestos corrugated paper the same as the furnace.

For hot water boilers, if they aren't insulated, a twocoat job of asbestos cement can be put on. The first coat is one inch thick and plastered on with the hands while the boiler is warm. After it drys a little, scratch the surface and stretch some chicken wire over it. The first coat will crack a little, but when it is dry put on the second coat one-half inch thick. Smooth it down with a trowel nicely as this coat drys. While the finished job may not be as professional looking as it could be, the results in your heating bills and in satisfaction will be worth while.

Where the asbestos insulating pieces around the pipes come up against connections and joints, a coating of asbestos cement is applied to the section with the hands, moulding it around about a half-inch thick. When this first application dries, put on another thick coat enough to fit flush with the pipe covering which butts up against the fitting you have just covered.

Sault Teachers Given Increase

SAULT STE. MARIE, Feb. 24 (CP). — Public School teachers announced acceptance of salary increases offered by the Board of Education.

The boosts will mean an increase of $63,000 over the wages paid in 1950 or slightly over two mills on the tax rate.

The Public School Teachers' Federations took only three days to approve the proposal of an across-the-board increase of $300 and new maximum salaries for all teaching groups.

The raises, retroactive to last Jan. 1, will mean a maximum salary of $4,700 for principals; $4,000 for assistant principals; and $3,500 for both male and female grade teachers.

The federations said they did not feel that the increase will offset the rising cost of living but they appreciated the fact that the board had dealt fairly with their requests within the "limitations imposed upon them."

Selwyn WI Hear Talk On Public Relations

SELWYN, Feb. 24 (ENS).—The Rev. Kenneth Stuart, pastor of Wesley Church, was guest speaker Wednesday evening, at the meeing of the Selwyn Women's Institute.

He spoke on "Public Relations" and stressed the necessity of the right relations in the home. He said: what we want to prevail in the world must prevail in the home.

Mrs. Neil Blewett, convener, introduced the speaker, and Miss Sheilla Wilson thanked him.

An invitation was received from Buckhorn Women's Institute for the members to attend a short course, "Lets Cook It Right," on April 12 and 13, in the 16th Hall.

Work has been started on the quilt being made for competition at the District Annual.

A plastic demonstration sponsored by Selwyn WI will be held in the hall on March 13.

Arrangements will be made for a film on "Cancer" to be shown at the March meeting. All who are interested may attend.

After the business period, Mrs. Kenneth Sweeting read the address, and Mrs. Evans Blewett prsented Mrs. M. Moloney with a gift from the WI. Mrs. Moloney thanked the members. She is leaving the community soon, to live near Keene.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting. There were 17 members and three visitors present.

Lunar Light Big Factor In Ornithologist Research

Written for The Canadian Press By PERCY GHENT.

Lunar landscape fascinates astronomers at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory near Victoria, B. C., and the David Dunlap Observatory at Richmond Hill, Ont., where powerful telescopes bring the satellite to what seems but a few miles from earth.

But it is lunar light that attracts ornithologists at this time of the year. During the spring and fall migrations of birds in recent years, smaller telescopes have been pointed at the glowing moon from more than 30 stations in Canada and the United States to study—bird flight.

Birds of many species on night migration can be seen with great clarity when the moon provides its bright background for contrast.

Such studies have resulted in a gratifying increase of knowledge about migration numbers, and about flight direction and its rhythm. It has been found that the greatest flights are between 9 and 11 p.m., with a sharp decline after midnight.

Continued studies, which are planned to enlist the moon's aid, are expected to reveal a lot of information, hitherto unknown, concerning the night migrations of birds.

At the Delta, Man., waterfowl research station things are at their best and brightest on spring days. In hatcheries there, ducks of every western species chip their way to infant life and liberty from eggs in row on row. Coots and pelicans in their hundreds also see the light of day there, too. In the air and on the watercourses of vast marshes thrive thousands of birds from little wild ducks to majestic swans.

Western pelicans, the birds immortalized in a famous limerick, stray from their native haunts now and then. Last autumn a flock of them surprised Ontario bird watchers when they appeared to be enjoying life near the lake shore at Port Credit, a Toronto suburb.

Hundreds of letters from happy farmers are treasured at the federal forest nursery station, Indian head, Sask.

They tell of windbreaks and other tree plantings that have beautified their homesteads, given protection from wintry gales, provided nesting sites for useful, insect-eating birds and brought bird music they never heard before.

Above all, they tell of the deep snows of winter trapped in the woodlots; snows that melting, replenish dams and home-dug ponds against summer drought.

"Treeless prairies" are slowly but steadily becoming things of a less progressive past.

Quebec Group Stage Our Town In Drama Meet

QUEBEC, Feb. 24—(CP)— The three-day Eastern Quebec Regional Drama Festival concludes tonight with a Three Rivers, Que., drama groups French adaptation of Thornton Wilder's play "Our Town."

Two productions have been presented and Adjudicator Robert Newton last night expressed his admiration for an amateur theatrical group which attempts to stage a difficult play which in no way resembles anything seen "at the cinema."

He was speaking of Les Comediens de Quebec, who staged "Les Trois Jumeaux Venitiens" (The Venitian Triplets) a mid-18th century farce by Antoine Collato.

The other production of the festival, presented Thursday night, was the Quebec Art Theatre's offering of "Ladies in Retirement."

Family Cast

Leading the approximately 40-member cast in tonight's "Ma Petite Ville" is the family of Dr. Frank Gibbs. He, Mrs. Gibbs, their son, George, and daughter, Rebecca, are all members of the Three Rivers group.

After tonight's play, Newton, British actor and critic, will announce the awards. The three groups are competing for possible selection to compete in the National Drama Festival at London, Ont., next April.

While praising the over-all effort of Les Comediens de Quebec last night, Newton said the group failed to maitain the pace of action and movement required to keep the plotless comedy alive.

Hi-Y Youths Visit UN

HAMILTON, Feb. 24 (CP)— Three Hamilton youths, along with 17 others from Ontario, will visit the United Nations in New York, this week-end. The group is made up of Hi-Y members and the trip is sponsored by YMCA.

Chief Blasts Station

WELLAND, Feb. 24 (CP) — Police Chief Thomas Gee renewed the police force's favorite and annual complaint in his 1950 report. He deplored the foul-smelling, damp, unsanitary and overcrowded quarters. City council now is negotiating for a site for a new city hall.

SELF-CONTAINED—This self-propelled diesel-powered passenger car is undergoing tests by the Canadian National Railways prior to general use. With a capacity of 90 passengers, the car has its motor centrally located, and can be run in either direction. It has an acceleration to 80 miles an hour in three minutes.

CEDAR LAKE, Feb. 24 (ENS) A new post office to be known as Woodview, will it is learned be opened shortly at the store of Richard Tranter to serve this South Burleigh community.

At home visitors last weekend included Misses Doris Bolton, June Northey, Marie Wilson, Daphnie Northey and Mr. G. W. Booth, all of Peterborough.

Mr. George Foller of Toronto and Ottawa spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Booth and George.

At Eden United Church on Friday evening March 9, Miss Gladys Langton of Peterboorugh will present a travelogue, "England 1950," showing her own pictures taken there last summer.

3,000 New Cars Jam Windsor Storage Lots

WINDSOR, Feb. 24 —(CP)— New cars, estimated at over 3,000, jammed factory storage lots in Windsor Friday because of a railway box-car shortage.

Car-hungry dealers from points as far east as Montreal and from Northern Ontario are using train, bus, car and chartered planes to bring drivers into Windsor to drive new cars to their showrooms.

Meanwhile car transporters are working overtime to help ease the situation by carrying carloads to distant points.

The freight car shortage has resulted from the recent United States switchmen's strike and an extra-heavy volume of shipping from this industrial area.

Meeting Needs of Children Work Of Children's Aid

"The special and most important work of our society is to meet the needs of the children in Peterborough. This work means the protection of children in their homes and the guardianship of children when the homes fail." This statement was made by Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society in an interview this week.

"We are asking the citizens of Peterborough, in an appeal for funds through the Red Cross and Community Chest Fund Campaign, to help us keep the families of this city together," Miss Young continued.

Working With Families

She explained that during 1950 43.2 per cent of the society's staff's time was spent working with families. This work included aid and guidance through interviews and visits in problems of juvenile delinquency, domestic problems, marital problems and financial advice.

A total of 328 families involving 796 children received help from the society in 1950. This was an increase of 19 per cent as compared to 1949.

"Our most difficult task," Miss Young contended, "is to interpret our work and the purposes of our society to the public. Mistaken conceptions have led many people to believe that our chief work is to remove children from their homes and either place them in our home or in foster homes. Actually this is a last resort. In the past year we have only removed 16 children from their homes and eight of these were returned when the home situation became satisfactory."

She explained that the work of the society also involved the important problem of unmarried parents in the community. During 1950, a total of 117 cases came to the attention of the society.

Need Tactful Study

"These cases require a great deal of tactful study and understanding," Miss Young stated. "These young people have missed emotions of security and effective understanding in their home life and have sought it in ways condemned by society. We try to help them face the situation and return as soon as possible to a normal life in the community."

This phase of the work includes helping unmarried parents in their pre-natal planning, in plans for the baby and where requested, in getting assistance from the father of the child.

Adoption Homes

Arrangement for adoption homes makes up the third phase of the society's work. The staff always takes great precautions to place the right child in the right home. Adoption through the society often saves many adopting parents heartbreaks by insuring the proper legal procedure as well.

During the past year 123 children were supervised in adoption homes by the society and 44 adoptions were completed. Following the placement of a child in an adoption home, there is a supervision period of two years under the society, before adoption can be completed.

The number of children contacted in the society's work during the past year totalled 1,036.

"In all phases of the work of the society, the understanding and support of the citizens of the community is necessary if the organization is to reach its highest standard of usefulness," Miss Young concluded. "The society is here to serve the children of this community and by its efforts hopes to make the homes of children a better place in which to live and thereby help to give to Peterborough city a better citizenry."

Last year the Children's Aid received $7,620 from the Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign.

Guild Dinner Gives Hollywood Chance To Laugh

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Screen Writers' Guild this week put on a show which is Hollywood's closest approach to Washington's Gridiron dinner.

Just as the Gridiron Club spoofs figures in the government, the writers' show lampooned Hollywood and its foibles.

Van Helflin was master of ceremonies. He admitted that he had been chosen because Phil Silvers, the emcee last year, had been funnier than most of the skits.

"So they chose an actor who has never gotten a laugh in his life," said Van.

Censor Rules

David Wayne, as a frustrated writer, and Edward G. Robinson, as a producer, appeared in a skit wherein they tried to get a Mother Goose film past the censor, played by Paul Douglas.

The proposed title, "Sextette," could not be allowed, said the censor.

Groucho Marx put on a satire of his "You Bet Your Life" air show. His contestants were the two producers, Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna. Marx found out from them that producers are people who spend five days in Palm Springs and the weekends in Hollywood—"because the tennis courts are crowded then."

Combination Skit

Next followed "All About Fairfax Ave.," a skit combining "All About Eve" and "Sunset Blvd." Claire Trevor played a combination of Bette Davis and Gloria Swanson with overtones of Tallulah Bankhead.

George Jessell posed as the world's oldest living film exhibitor and produced a wealth of charts to show why the movie business isn't what it used to be. He skipped lightly over an item called "Studio Overhead," which he said represented 50 per cent of a film's cost.

It was a gay evening and proved that Hollywood can sometimes laugh at itself.

End Bad Cough Quickly, at One-Fourth The Cost

Thousands of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough syrup, they get a dependable, effective medicine. They use a recipe at only one-fourth the usual cost of cough medicine, but which really breaks up distressing coughs in a hurry.

From any druggist get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water, stirred until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) It's no trouble at all, and makes a splendid medicine. Keeps perfectly, tastes fine.

Its quick action loosens phlegm, helps clear the air passages and soothes away irritation.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

FOR EXTRA CONVENIENCE GET NEW, READY-TO-USE, PREPARED PINEX.

Canal Tonnage 36-Year Record

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP)—Tonnage of freight through Canadian canal systems in 1950 rose to the largest volume since 1941, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Freight tonnage totalled 27,417,849 tons, 12.5 per cent higher than the 24,373,752 tons in 1949.

Rreight using Sault Ste. Marie canal locks totalled 106,195,738 tons, compared with 96,187,769 in 1949. Freight through the Canadian lock was virtually unchanged at 2,301,763 tons, while eastbound traffic rose to 89,243,031 tons from 84,047,570. Greater shipment of ore, steel, stone and other freight supplied the gain.

On the Welland canal the freight totalled 14,719,346 tons, compared with 13,692,209. On the St. Lawrence, freight volume rose to a high of 9,969,271 tons, compared with 7,960,194. This compares wit hthe previous peak of 9,236,318 tons in 1938.

Traffic also was heavier on the Ottawa, Murray, Trent and Rideau canals. Declines were shown for St. Peter's, Richelieu and St. Andrew's.

$50,000 Fire Damages Old Trenton Church

TRENTON, Ont., Feb. 24 (CP)—Damage was estimated at $50,000 in a fire which swept through the interior of 100-year-old St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Friday, destroying a valuable organ.

One fireman was cut by falling glass and another overcome by smoke in the three-hour blaze. Neither was hurt seriously.

Estimate of damage was made by Fire Chief Harry Filion. He said the fire apparently started in the floor above the furnace.

Unions Must Collect Own Dues Says Gregg

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 — (CP) — Labor Minister Gregg said Friday night he does not feel employers should be compelled at this time to deduct union dues from an employee's pay cheque.

He said in the Commons that he could not suport a bill sponsored by Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) that would insert in the National Labor Code a provision for the voluntary revocable check-off of union dues.

Debate on the measure, similar to bills presented by Mr. Knowles at previous sessions, was still in progress when the hour devoted to private members' legislation expired. Discussion will be resumed next week.

UK Bargains Over Meat

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Foreign Office announced today Britain has accepted an Argentine proposal for trade talks in Buenos Aires in an effort to settle meat prices and other financial disputes between the two countries. Supplies from Argentina—Britain's chief meat source—tapered off last June and the two countries have been haggling ever since over prices.

For Parents Only

Teen Agers and Money

By NANCY CLEAVER

"Never ask of money spent,
Where the spender thinks it went.
Nobody was ever meant
To remember or invent
What he did with every cent."

Robert Frost, in "The Hardship of Accounting" was likely thinking of adults when he wrote those lines. But they apply just as well to adolescents. What teen age boy or girl, who has kept no record, can look back and give an accurate detailed account of what happened to a particular sum?

Long before they reach their teen years, a child should be taught to keep simple accounts. Often a boy embarking on a newspaper route, finds he must keep a written record of amounts paid or his money gets into a terrible tangle. Parents may be lenient about book keeping, but the circulation manager of any newspaper demands efficiency.

Delivering papers by boys and "baby-sitting" by girls are two of the commonest ways of youngsters making money. Parents should point out to their children the importance of doing a good job and rendering real service for money received.

At the same time, parents must watch that money-making activities do not interfere with studies. Getting an education is a boy's or girl's main job and school standing is important. Too late hours for girls "minding house" are a health hazard as well as a threat to schoolwork. Teen-agers who work in vacations and help pay for their clothes or their education, gain a new appreciation of the value of money.

The allowance for a teen age member of the family should increase gradually until it covers most of his clothing bill. Adolescents have decided likes and dislikes in what they wear. They are apt to have expensive tastes unless they must limit their purchases within a definite price range. It is excellent preparation for adult living to discover what kind of material wears well and keeps its appearance.

When children know how the family income is spent, they are less apt to be very selfish in their demands. Dad's suit and mother's winter coat have to come out of the money set aside for clothing, as well as daughter's plaid shirt and son's sweater.

Boys and girls are interested in their parents plan of saving through life insurance payments or other methods. They also respect a definite budget where givings to church and charitable causes are included. Their parents' example in sensible budgeting, and the happy feeling of having a part in the family money discussions have far more influence than unpalatable "good advice."

Saving, spending, earning—these are all functions of money. Boys and girls need experience in doing all three things. They learn from their failures, as well as their successes.

Mistakes in using a child's small allowance are not so costly as an adolescent's blunders. A boy's or girl's "wasting" their earnings has not much serious consequences as a head of the house throwing away the family's pay cheque! Don't expect perfection, and do give that boy or girl of yours the opportunity to learn by own experience how money should be used.

Reduce Sentence In Morals Case

KITCHENER, Feb. 24 (CP)—A mother's evidence that her son had been in a sanatorium briefly for a checkup prompted Magistrate Kirkpatrick Friday to reduce a sentence from a year to six months.

In the second and final morals case heard here in three weeks, James Seidwand, 20, was convicted of contributing to juvenile delinquency and was given a year.

But the magistrate reconsidered and reduced the sentence by half when he heard the young man's mother testify about his health.

In the 33 cases heard, 22 boys, girls, young men and parents were convicted. Six cases were dismissed and five were remanded for judgment, including four parents and a 13-year-old girl.

Five of the six girls involved were sent to training schools.

Good Luck Lodge Meets

BETHANY, Feb. 24 (ENS) — The God Luck Ladies' Lodge No. 1207 met in the Orange Hall on Wednesday evening, also entertaining members from Peterborough. Three new members: Mrs. Lloyd Clark, Mrs. Erest Lane and Miss Jean Fisher were initiated. The Right Worshipful Grand Mistress, Sister Freida Pilling, Peterborough, conducted the ceremonies, assisted by members of the Peterborough degree team and their Worthy Mistress Sister M. Manley. The visiting ladies were welcomed by Worthy Mistress Hilda Bigelow of Bethany. Lunch was served at the close of the ceremonies by the Bethany ladies.

Grain Shipments

HALIFAX, Feb. 24 (CP)—National Harbours Board officials in Canada's two Atlantic winter ports Saint John and Halifax say grain shipments to overseas markets are on a par with last year, despite partial failure of the country's grain crop and its almost-unprecedented shipping problems.

Fish Audience

WINNIPEG — (CP) — Fishes poked their noses through the holes in the ice to see what was going on as preparations were being made for Carl Bieber, local diver, to descend into the icy waters of the Assiniboine river to repair a water main.

Last of a series of films sponsored by Bridgenorth Home and School Association was shown Friday evening in the United Church to an audience of 75. Feature film was "Jungle Bread" shown by Wonder Bakeries. African curios were displayed following the film. Door prizes were given to 12 lucky ticket holders. Four other films were loaned by the Film Board. Mrs. G. Ray Jr. was projectionist. The Association feels this series of films has provided a large source of entertainment and educational interest for the children and parents throughout the winter.

Contribute To Projector

A devotional service in the church preceded the regular monthly meeting of All Saints Women's Church Year Friday afternoon, with 90 ladies in attendance. Prayers were led by the president Mrs. J. Morley. An address called "God's Building" was given by Mrs. H. J. Parnell. A vocal solo, The Lord's Prayer, was contributed by Mrs. V. Chandler and the scripture lesson was read by Mrs. C. Curtis. A business session was later held in the WA room. The treasurer reported $161.42 collected for the month. The general purpose collection taken at the meeting, amounting to $16.95, is being contributed toward purchases of a projector and slides, sponsored by the WA. The projector is in memory of the late Bishop Wilfred Fuller and will be sent to Canon Horace Ashmore at Loon Lake, Saskatchewan. Refreshments were served by Mrs. H. Connolly and her assistants.

BEING CHECKED — Before giving her 20th blood donation to the Red Cross Blood Donor Service on Friday is Mrs. Jack Smith (centre). Mrs. Smith is the third Peterborough woman to have made 20 donations. Giving the test in the St. Joseph's Hospital blood donor laboratory is the Rev. Sister Neilus, in charge, while looking on is Mr. J. G. Harkness who also gave his 20th donation Friday. Mrs. Smith's husband gave his 30th donation several months ago, so this family's contribution for the relief of their fellow citizens tops any in Peterborough.—Parks Studio Photo.

Rotary Club's Anniversary Marked With Ladies' Night

HAVELOCK, Feb. 24 (ENS).—Havelock Rotarians celebrated the 46th anniversary of Rotary International and the fourth anniversary of the Havelock club on Thursday night, the anniversaries being held in conjunction with the annual ladies' night.

The secretary, R. D. Buchanan, outlined the history of Rotary and of the Havelock Club.

The Havelock club was organized on February 20, 1947, at a dinner meeting held in the basement of Knox Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Governor George Ziegler of Parry Sound. There were 42 present including a number from Campbellford Rotary Club.

There were 21 charter members as follows: Dr. K. L. Drummond, president; R. B. Sayers, vice-president; B. C. Haryett, secretary; F. L. McKenzie, treasurer; George Hubbel, E. D. Chiles, B. A. Curtis, H. A. McKeely, H. A. Michaelson, G. R. Cook, James Calnan, E. J. Leeson, E. J. Sanderson, George Fox, J. A. Davidson, Dr. D. J. Holdcroft, E. E. Maybee, B. Burnett, H. L. Scott, William Smith, Anton Poulus.

When Dr. Drummond left Havelock in December 1947, R. B. Sayers took the president's chair for the balance of the term Ernest Sanderson was president for the 1948-49 term, James Calnan for the 1949-50 term, John Davidson being the present president. The club's membership at the present time is 19. The other officers are: vice-president, George Hubbell; secretary, R. D. Buchanan; treasurer, F. L. McKenzie; directors, E. D. Chiles, E. J. Deeson, B. A. Curtis, sergeant at arms, H. Michaelson.

Rotary activities throughout the world are based on the same general objectives: the development of fellowship among business and professional men, the betterment of communities, leading boys and girls into good citizenship; the promotion of high standards in business and professions, and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace.

The president, John Davidson, officiated as master of ceremonies for the festivities which commenced with a turkey dinner in the basement of St. John's Anglican Church, served by the Ladies' Guild. The toast to the visitors was proposed by Gilbert Crook and responded to by Mrs. H. A. McNeely. A period of community singing was led by E. D. Chiles with James Watson as accompanist. A male quartette, comprising E. D. Chiles, Rev. F R. Vanderburgh, James Watson and B. C. Haryett entertained with a selection with Mrs. Vanderburgh at the piano.

Following the banquet the gathering adjourned to the Legion Hall where E. Bradshaw, a magician from Peterborough gave an hour's entertainment with his skillful art. This was followed by the enjoyment of crokinole and cards. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Bradshaw of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. G. Crook, Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Calnan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McNeely, Mr and Mrs. George Hubbel, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Sayers, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. George Fox, Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hunter, Mr. Archie Cummings and friend, Mr. E. J. Leeson, Mr. Bert Haryett, Mr. James Watson, Mr. Louis Pluthero.

Jaycee Urges Service Club Be Civic Conscious

Urging to take active interest in civic matters and government was the point of a talk by Mr. Douglas Vaisey, member of the Peterborough Junior Chamber of Commerce, to the Soroptimist women's service club dinner meeting Friday evening. "Each one of us should be interested because each citizen is the government. We should seize opportunities to learn about our own government," he said.

Mr. Vaisey is one of a small group of Jaycees which has been spending many hours at the Public Library studying the history of this city from earliest records. Their interest is in singling out the happenings and customs that have contributed most to making Peterborough what it is today. They will then contrast with what is now going on and envision what the future may bring.

The research has shown these young men that it takes a "terrific amount of manpower to run a city." When doing a million dollars worth of business it is necessary to have men capable of handling that amount of business and just as necessary for the city to have men of such calibre handling affairs as any industry or business, Mr. Vaisey pointed out.

Since the municipal government is the citizens' business, it is their own responsibility to have it run as well as possible, and only with knowledge of the business can they properly choose men to do it. The Jaycees of this study group, when armed with complete facts of municipal government, will give platform speeches in an endeavour to make more people civic conscious.

"Canadians have the eyes of the world upon them," said Mr. Vaisey. "Let us show that we can look at ourselves as citizens of a great nation." Don't "let George do it" he cautioned; George has been personified in Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini.

"Let us take stock of ourselves, our country and its future. Eyes all over the world look to Canada—with envy, with desire, with respect, but none with fear. Let us learn to be justly proud of our country, its resources, freedom, culture and heritage.

Mr. Vaisey was introduced by Miss Myrtle Sargent and thanked by Mrs. May Thompson.

President Miss Florence Scott presided for the meeting. The draw prize, donated by Miss Mary Ross, was won by Mrs. Alma Belleghem.

WCTU Annual Tea Well-Attended Event of Friday

The first sunny afternoon in more than a week contributed in large part Friday to the success of the annual tea of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. This organization can be very proud of the support given it at this event coming in a week when there has been much activity of public interest and also at a time when there is much sickness.

The tea table was delicately charming with white tulips and snapdragon in a cut glass bowl highlighted with lighted, pink pencil tapers set in among the flowers and held upright with white satin ribbon. The cloth of white linen had fine cutwork embroidery.

A background of soft piano music by Mrs. J. C. Ellis enhanced the friendly atmosphere in the YWCA Green Room where all seats were taken up throughout the opening hour.

Mrs. H. T. Rehill, general convener of the tea, was being assisted in arranging the refreshments and replenishing the tea urn by Mrs. James Tinney, Mrs. M. McIntyre and Mrs. E. Alton.

Serving were Mrs. M. MacDonald, Mrs. V. Boorman, Mrs. A. J. Macklin, Mrs. T. V. Whittington and Miss M. Bowers while Mrs. A. A. McIntyre and Mrs. A. J. Throop poured the tea.

Assisting Mrs. W. K. Sloan at the home cooking table were Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, Miss E. Boyd and Mrs. E. Dormer.

Mrs. J. M. Fanning and Mrs. W. H. Woollard were at the treasurer's table in the hall and president Mrs. W. A. Poast and vice-president Mrs. E. M. Davis received at the tea room door.

Have National Roll of Honor For 25,000 UK Women Dead

LONDON (CP) — A national roll of honor has been dedicated to the memory of more than 25,000 British women who gave their lives in the service of their country during the Second World War.

The roll, bound in red morocco leather, pays special honor to 241 members of the Women's Voluntary Services, whose names are hand-inscribed on its vellum pages. But it will be handed down to posterity as an enduring tribute to the valor, self-sacrifice and devotion to duty of all British women who died by enemy action.

"We wanted ordinary people to feel that ordinary people can be commemorated," said the Dowager Lady Reading, chairman of the organization.

Worked With Them

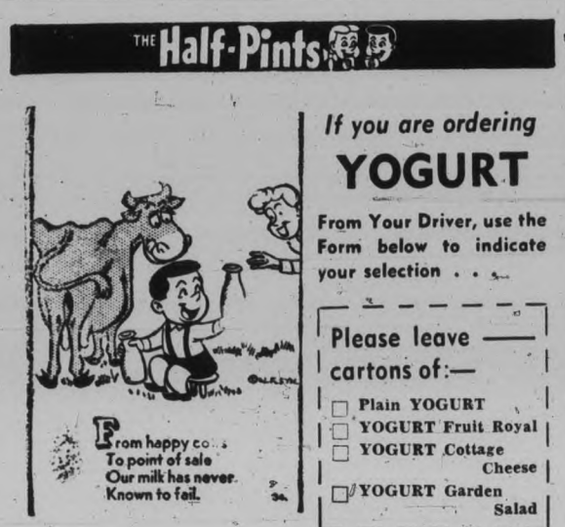
"These are the women I worked with," she added. "These are the women I have known and whose death I have personally mourned. We hope that this roll of honor will show posterity what type of women these were."

On pages embellished in burnishde gold, the names are arranged in territorial order and surrounded by the coats of arms and the wild flower representing the district or county concerned. Thirty-four counties, from Renfrewshire to Cornwall, are honored by the names recorded.

Each page has a rosemary emblem for remembrance and citations are simple. They tell how ordinary women, died doing the everyday tasks that are part of a country's strength in wartime.

War Tragedies

Typical examples are: "She was looking out her front door for her little boy when both were killed by a V-2 (rocket bomb)." "Killed by a direct hit having seen her invalid husband and all the customers (of a public house) to safety." "Killed by a blast while waiting to go on duty." "Killed on duty while driving her ambulance."



One of the more touching tributes to women in general is the inscription: "They rarely wept except for joy or relief."

Started in 1947, the scroll is the work of Miss Claire Evans, a member of the voluntary organization and a founder member of the London Society of Scribes and Illuminators. One of her major tasks in post-war Britain was the gathering of pages and tools for the work. Help, however, came from many parts of the world, including a gift of ink and tools from a friend in the United States.

Historical significance is added by inscribed pictures depicting wartime scenes. Among them are an air-raid shelter in a garden, surrounded by flowers; children on a station wagon being pulled to an evacuation train by a woman porter; a bombed-out family receiving clothing at a rest centre and a woman surveying the rubble that was once her home. It also contains a glossary of wartime records and phrases, now almost forgotten.

The roll will soon be on view in London and will then tour the provinces. Later, if sufficient interest is aroused, it may be shown in other parts of the Empire and the United States.

Of Interest to Women

Women Urged To Prepare In Youth For Middle Age

If I could say one word more earnest than any other to women, it would be to urge them to begin in youth to prepare for middle age. Because it is a catastrophe that none of us can escape except by death. Normally it comes to us all just as inevitably as the autumn comes to the year, and whether it is a season of contentment and gathering in a rich harvest, or of bare boughs, desolation and empty cupboards, depends upon how we have prepared for it.

We are not accustomed to think of middle age as a tragedy for woman, yet I doubt if there is any one thing in the world that brings as much suffering and misery to the entire feminine sex as just being fiftyish. Youth is gay. Old age is generally serene. But in middle age most women are discontented, peevish, fretful, maladjusted to life.

Dorothy Dix

Nor is it difficult to understand why this is the case. Up to middle age the average woman has been busy helping her husband get a start in his business, making a home, bearing and rearing children. She may have toiled harder than any slave, but it was work for those she loved and she got a kick out of it. Her house has been gay with the laughter of children and the coming and going of frolics of youngsters.

Her Job is Finished

But in middle age her whole scheme of life is suddenly changed. Her husband's career is beyond the need of her assistance. Her children have grown up, married, set up their own homes, and her house is left empty and desolate. She and her husband are back where they started, with only too often this terrible difference, that in their youth they were lovers and at middle age they are almost strangers.

More than that, in her busy years the woman has absorbed herself in her home and her family. She thought she had no leisure for clubs and for keeping up friendship and making social connections, and so when she has no more work to do she finds time hanging interminably on her hands. When she starts out to amuse herself she discovers that she has no playmates and that she doesn't know how to play anyway.

It is because at middle age the woman who has always been driven with work finds herself idle. She who had been the kingpin of the family on whom all depended holds nothing together any more and is not needed by anyone; she who had never had a quiet moment to herself finds herself lonely. That is why so many women who should be happy are disgruntled; so many women who should be healthy and strong develop strange complaints and haunt doctors' offices and fill sanatoriums. And it is to prevent this fate befalling her that every woman should being laying up some resources against her middle age.

How this is to be done is, of course, an individual question that each woman must answer herself, but the most obvious remedy is for her to keep chumming with her husband. Few women do this. They are so absorbed in their children that they take only a mild interest in their husbands. They would rather listen to the baby say da-da than to hear husband talk of his hopes and plans. They would rather stay a home and watch the baby sleep than to step out with him. It is an appalling thing how little companionship the average middle-aged couple have, and how badly they bore each other.

Must Keep Up With Mate

Of course, every woman thinks that when her children are grown and gone that she and her husband will be comrades again, but you can't take up a human relationship where you laid it down. There is no blowing dead ashes into flame or reviving an old interest. So, if a woman doesn't want to be lonely at middle age, she has to keep in step with her husband all the time.

Also, every woman should realize that her children are lent to her for a few years at most. They are not hers for keeps, and when they are gone she is bound to be miserable and lonely if she hasn't developed a life of her own, with friends and interests and purposes that will keep her happy and contented.

No women are more to be pitied and none are greater pests than the mothers who have no lives of their own, no lives outside of the children's lives and who perforce become parasites upon them.

And every woman should try as far as possible to fit herself to do something whereby she can earn her bread and butter if she is thrown on her own when she is middle-aged. This is difficult for the domestic woman to do unless she realizes that she can make of house-wifery a fine art. We all have to eat, be lodged and have clothes, and there is always a demand for those who can give super-service in making us comfortable.

But the point is that middle age overtakes us all and the time to do something about it is before it is too late.

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION: Would you be so kind as to send me one of your calorie charts.

I am supposed to lose about 30 lbs. and I know I never will unless I keep accurate account of my calorie intake.

I read your column with interest. Keep up your interesting work. It is a great help to us. Thanking you, Mrs. W. J. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I am sending the chart in the envelope you enclosed.

You can lose your 30 lbs. and still have plenty to eat if you watch the chart. Just do not start getting sorry for yourself when you see other members of the family eating toast dripping with butter, and taking large first and then second helpings of cake and pie. Have other non-fattening foods on hand that you enjoy and concentrate on enjoying them, and the thought of the sleek figure that will be yours in about three months time.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I follow your column, and find many helpful recipes, and some with slight variations from some of my own, and enjoy the change from the old ones.

Like your spaghetti and meat balls, also change the meat balls, to spareribs, and chicken makes a very appetizing dish. I have been wondering if you would have or could obtain a recipe for the real Chinese sweet and sour sauce for spare ribs and chicken. Have tried several from leading magazines but am not just sure they are the same as you order in the restaurants who specialize in Chinese food.

One of my friends tells me you have published the recipe but I missed it some way if you did, so would be grateful if you would either send me the recipe or publish it again.

Hoping to read your column for a long time as I know many enjoy it and make good use of it, even if many of us do not show our appreciation by writing and telling you so. I remain your constant reader, I. P. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Such letters as yours are very dear to me. Thank you.

The reason that you are having difficulty getting the sweet-sour sauce you want is that there are as many of them as there are Chinese restaurants—I think. I have four sweet-sour sauce recipes—all of which have been given to me by Chinese people.

The one that is close to being the most popular is the following:

✧ ✧ ✧

Sweet-Sour Sauce (for Spareribs)

One-quarter cup vinegar, ½ cup pineapple juice OR tomato juice OR chili sauce, ½ cup brown sugar solidly packed, 1 tablespoon each cornstarch, and water, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon MSG. Mix the sugar and cornstarch, then add all remaining ingredients. Bring to boiling point stirring and cook over very low heat for 10 minutes.

The sauce is then used hot or cold OR poured over partially cooked spareribs or chicken and finished by baking in the oven for a short period. Some cooks in Chinese restaurants add a few chopped sweet pickles to it—especially when the chili sauce is used with the vinegar.

✧ ✧ ✧

Sweet-Sour Sauce No. 2

One-quarter pound dry apricots with 1 cup water; ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar and ½ cup cidar vinegar. Cook apricots in the water until very soft, covered. Force through sieve. Mix with remaining ingredients and beat with rotary beater until smooth. This may be thinned a little with pineapple juice if to be poured over meat for baking. This sauce No. 2 is used as a "dip" for appetizers.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Having read your write-up in the paper where you can supply calorie charts for reducing diets . . I am about 75 lbs. too heavy, and would like to lose some weight—all of what I am too heavy, but I am afraid I would look wrinkled and what not.

I am nearly sixty years old, but we will have a big do in September and I would certainly like to loose weight, or do you think at my age it would be too much. Exercising would be difficult as I have a lot of trouble with my back, and that keeps me from walking out a lot.

If there are any charges for this chart let me know and I will forward remittance. Mrs. John B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You should see your doctor before going on a reducing diet—but most doctors recommend loss of weight for overweight folks of your age.

To keep your face from becoming wrinkled you will have to use face cream every night to give it massages, using upward strokes.

I have sent the calorie chart. There is no charge. If you would like me to give you some basic reducing diets please write again.

6—In Memoriams

BURNS—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John Burns, who passed away Feb. 24, 1945.
You left sweet memories to blossom
Bearing fruit for the years to come.
In the lives of those who loved you
Precious memories of days that are gone.
—Ever remembered by wife, son Reg. and daughter Annie (Mrs. W. C. Clegg).

GOODBERRY—In loving memory of George Goodberry, who passed away Feb. 24, 1949.
We cannot Lord Thy purpose see,
But all is well that's done by Thee.
Sometimes it's hard to understand
Why some things have to be.
But some day we'll understand
When we meet again in that better land.
—Ever remembered by Clara and Glenn.

7—Cards of Thanks

In these few lines I wish to express my sincere and grateful thanks to my friends and neighbors, LOBA Vimy Ridge, LOL No. 50, Legion Branch No. 52, Rev. Walter Gilling and Mr. Ken Hogg of the Belleghem Funeral Home for the messages and floral tributes in the death of my husband.—Mrs. Nellie Childerhose.

I wish to thank the lady who picked up my wallet in Buehler's meat store yesterday afternoon and gave it to the cashier. Please call 5921. Mrs. Leslie Moore.

Mrs. Goldie Drain, R.R. 2, Lakefield, wishes to take this opportunity of thanking the attending doctors, nurses and staff of Civic Hospital and friends for many acts of kindness shown during her recent illness.

Howard Miles, Auctioneer, at 1211 Kenneth Avenue, in the City of Peterborough, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock in the Afternoon, on Saturday, the 10th Day of March, A.D. 1951, the following Lands and Premises: In the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough and the Province of Ontario, and being particularly parts of Lots 29 and 30 according to Registered Plan No. 44Q for the said City, and being part of Lot No. 12, Concession 12 of the Township of North Monaghan, now lying in the City of Peterborough, and being shown as Lot Number 2 on plan attached to Registered Instrument Number 49519 for the said City of Peterborough, and being more particularly described as follows: For purpose of ascertaining the point of commencement, commencing at an iron post marking the south-easterly angle of Lot Number 31 according to Registered Plan No. 44Q and thence northerly along the eastern limit of Lots Numbers 31 and 30 a distance of fifty feet northerly from the place of commencement; thence northerly along the eastern limit of the said Lot Number 30 and 29 to an iron post, fifty feet; thence westerly parallel to the southern limit of Lot Number 31 according to Registered Plan No. 44Q, one hundred feet more or less to a post placed in the eastern limit of High Street; thence southerly along the said eastern limit of High Street, fifty feet, and thence easterly parallel with the southern limit of said Lot Number 31, according to Registered Plan Number 44Q one hundred feet to the place of beginning.

Upon the said property is said to be erected a newly constructed residence and garage attached (cement walks and minor carpentry work required to finish), and it is believed to be municipally known as 1211 Kenneth Avenue, in the City of Peterborough, in close proximity to Prince of Wales School and on high ground overlooking the City of Peterborough.

The property will be offered for Sale subject to a reserve bid to be fixed by the said Local Master and shall be sold subject to existing registered mortgages, the total sums secured thereby is said to amount to $6,014.88.

The first mortgage registered against the said property is in favour of the Victoria & Grey Trust Company and secured the principal sum of $4,800.00 and bears interest at 5% per annum calculated half yearly, the principal and interest is payable in blended monthly payments of $44.40 each per month, with the privilege of increasing payments on account of principal in a sum of money not to exceed $400.00 payable on the 15th Day of December in each year during the balance of the term of the said mortgage; the second mortgage is in favour of Housing Corporation Limited and secures the sum of $1,244.88 and bears interest at the rate of 3½% per annum calculated half yearly, the principal sum and interest is payable in blended monthly payments of $7.21 each with the privilege of paying off the whole of the amount of the principal indebtedness at any time without notice, bonus or penalties. The said mortgages are duly registered upon the title and the terms and the conditions therein contained may be inspected by the purchaser or his solicitor.

The said mortgages and the various sums secured thereby are to be assumed by the purchaser and the payments therein to be made by the purchaser according to the terms and conditions contained in the said mortgages.

The purchaser shall pay 10% of the purchase moneys on the day of sale payable to the Accountant of the Supreme Court of Ontario and shall pay the balance of the purchase moneys into Court without interest within 30 Days after date of sale. Adjustments to be made as of date of sale.

The purchaser shall search the title at his own exnense and shall assure himself as to the amounts of moneys secured by the said mortgages to be assumed.

Inspection of the said Premises may be arranged upon application to MESSRS. GORDON AND LILLICO, Solicitors, 395-7 George Street, Peterborough Phone 3577.

In all other respects the conditions of sale are standing conditions of sale of the Court as modified by the conditions of sale settled by the undersigned.

DATED at the City of Peterborough, this 9th Day of February, A.D. 1951.

Boyd Of Bobcaygeon

The tables above indicate that (1) by 1881 the district lumber industry had practically recovered from the 1873-79 depression, although wages and employment were still somewhat below 1871 levels; (2) the industry in Victoria county was growing much faster than in Peterborough, where absence of railway facilities was hampering prosperity. In 1871 production of these wood products totalled $514,041 in Peterborough, and $435,895 in Victoria; by 1881 production was $437,498 in Peterborough, and in Victoria $508,158, just about reversed.

Steam Sawmills

Steam sawmills were becoming more profitable; many watermills which burnt or closed down during the depression were later replaced by steam-mills near the railways, cutting lumber twelve months a year without dependence on erratic water-power. By burning slabs, scraps and sawdust to raise steam-pressure, this method was as cheap or cheaper than water-power after the initial expense of a steam-engine. Some villages with waterpower but no rail connections began to fade away, while others on the railways prospered with steam-powered mills. "Down by the Old Millstream" became a nostalgic song when it was no longer an economic necessity. Many of the earlier mills have already been mentioned. Others established in the 1870s, mostly in Haliburton, included: Monmouth: R. Dunsford's mill at Wilberforce Glamorgan: John Hunter's saw and gristmills at Gooderham; Guilford: several mills along Gull River; Sherborne: J. B. Shrigley's mill at the head of Trading Lake, later Dorest; Harcourt: a mill at Kennaway; Dysart: CL and E's mill at Haliburton. Bexley: after a big fire in 1877, the Coboconk mills were rebuilt; Harvey: John Davis started a shingle mill, lot 19, con. 16; Dummer: George Payne started a sawmill; Lakefield: P. Baptie started a planing mill. A number of others sprang up around the rail-heads at Kinmount, Haliburton and Coboconk by 1880 and thereafter.

We have noted the extent of the Dickson estate by 1870. The Boyd-Smith operations in this decade included several mills for lumber, shingles, lath, etc., at Bobcaygeon, plus a lime kiln, farms in Havelock township and on Big Island (Pigeon Lake), a mill at Peterborough, two steamers, a dozen scows, a Minden depot, extensive timber limits, etc. The Ludgate and McDougall Company by 1880 (when it was sold) included the timber limits already described, and at Harwood a 5-gate sawmill able to cut 100,000 ft. in 12 hours, a lath mill, a steam plant, 17 acres of pilingyards by the CPMRM track, a boarding-house for 120 men, 10 dwelling-houses for workers, a blacksmith shop, 2 stables, a storehouse, a carpenter's shop, a gasworks (for lighting), 2 fire pumps, timber booms, plus a Cobourg office, stable, sheds, etc. Lumbering by 1880 had passed from the pioneer stage when any man with $100 and a sawmill (with one upright saw) could make money, into the realm of large-scale capital enterprise where hundreds of thousands of dollars were invested in widespread company operations.

Eggs Go Up 4c Overnight Rise

Egg prices have jumped four cents overnight. Buyers who paid producers 49 cents a dozen for Grade A large on Friday are paying 53 cents today and the outlook is that eggs will continue to be more costly next week.

The reason is an acute shortage of eggs, say the buyers. The recent cold snap caused a loss in production and for some reason, not quite clear to anyone, American buying in both Toronto and Montreal has been extremely heavy this past week. In order to supply the Toronto market this weekend, buyers' trucks have had to comb egg-grading stations all over the Southern part of the province.

Held By Police Charge Of Forgery

Francis Sabotka, 33, of Oshawa, appeared in police court today charged with forging a $300 withdrawal slip in a Peterborough bank.

Sabotka was picked up in Oshawa Friday by Det.-Sgt. W. A. Stephenson and brought here.

Police allege Sabotka made the withdrawal slip out in the name of Jan Jakubowski, also of Oshawa. Earlier, Jakubowski had reported to police here that his bank book and an identification card had been stolen from him.

Hunters Claim Bounties On 134 Foxes

A record total of 134 foxes were brought into the county clerks and treasurer's office this week for the $3 bounty. This brings the total since January 1 to 380.

Six wolves have also been shot in Peterborough county, though no pelts were brought in this week.

Ted Watson of Havelock was top marksman this week having shot 16 in Belmont. W. McIntyre, RR 2 Keene, was runner up shooting 12 in Otonabee and a 13th in North Monaghan.

Payment on the fox bounty ends at the end of February, but a few days of grace are allowed so hunters from the more distant municipalities will have time to bring in their bag.

Following is a list of those who claimed the bounty:

Robert Prescott, Peterborough, five shot in Otonabee; Hector Latchford, RR 3, Peterborough, one shot in Otonabee and one shot in North Monaghan; W. McIntyre, RR 2 Keene, 12 shot in Otonabee and one shot in North Monaghan; Bruce Wright, Peterborough, one shot in North Monaghan; Gordon Manley, Peterborough, one shot in Otonabee; W. Albert Chase, RR 1 Harvey, one trapped in Harvey; Garnett Emery, Havelock, three shot in Belmont; John Tucker, Anstruther, one shot in Chandos; Joseph Tucker, Anstruther, one shot in Anstruther; William Parcells, Indian River, two shot in Otonabee; R. Scrace, Peterborough, seven shot in North Monaghan; Ed Dainard, RR 5 Peterborough, three shot in North Monaghan; M. R. Harrison, Peterborough, two shot in Otonabee.

Percy Sucee, RR 6 Peterborough, two shot in Otonabee; Donald Aulthouse, Belmont, one shot in Belmont; Earl J. Pollock, Belmont, five trapped in Belmont; Ted Watson, Havelock, 16 shot in Belmont; Peter Deshane, Cordoca Mines, two shot in Belmont; George Tindle, Smith, four shot in Smith; Joe Watts, Warsaw, three shot in Asphodel; Clarence Tedford, Dummer, two shot in Dummer, two in Asphodel, Wesley Little, Dummer, four trapped in Dummer; John Jacobs, Curve Lake, two shot in Ennismore; Lyle Petherick, Belmont, three shot in Belmont; Glenn Varty, RR 1 Havelock, six shot in Belmont; J. Moore, Dummer, one shot in Dummer; Robert Fawcett, Harvey, three shot in Harvey; Ralph Cook, Havelock, two shot in Belmont; David Henderson, Peterborough, three shot in Otonabee; Richard McMahon, RR 9 Peterborough, one shot in Otonabee; Wesley Cummings, Lakehurst, two shot in Harvey.

Elijah Taylor, Burleigh Falls, two shot in Burleigh; R. G. Wood, Smith, two shot in Ennismore; William Northey, RR 1 Peterborough, five shot in Harvey; M. Hall, Buckhorn, one shot in Smith; Rod Nichols, Smith, five shot in Smith; Charles Forsyth, Smith, three shot in Ennismore, three in Smith; Carl Howson, RR 7 Peterborough, six shot in Otonabee; and Earl Saltern, Dummer, one shot in Dummer.

Five Aldermen Going South

Peterborough should know its municipal tax rate next week, according to the expectations of Mayor Swanston.

His Worship has five of his aldermen booked for March vacations in the south, but he wants everybody on hand in fixing up the budget. So, that apparently calls for some intensive work by March 5.

The requisition of the Police Commission is on the finance committee file, and the Board of Education is ready to turn in theirs next week. It is understood that school costs are up two mills,

Joe Louis Wins, Says He's Set To Fight Charles

By RUSS NEWLAND.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24 — (AP).—Joe Louis, winner of his toughest fight since he came out of retirement last September, today said he is ready for a return match for the heavyweight championship with Ezzard Charles.

The Brown Bomber scored a technical knockout over stout-hearted Andy Walker in the final round of their scheduled 10-rounder at the Cow Palace last night.

Arm Weary

A sell-out crowd of 18,000 fans, accounting for official gate receipts of $92,087.50, saw Louis batter the rangy San Francisco Negro round after round until he was arm-weary. It was his fourth win in his campaign to come back after being soundly drubbed by Charles in a 15-round bout for the title he once held.

Louis hit Walker with about every punch in the book, but he couldn't floor him. He knocked the San Francisco fighter, who holds the California State title, into the ropes four times. In the final session he caught Walker with a flurry of blows that had the California champ reeling. Referee Frankie Brown stopped the contest in 1:49 of the 10th. There was some booing by Walker fans who thought he could have finished the battle.

In his dressing room after the match, Walker said he was sorry the fight was stopped, but he wouldn't question the decision of the referee.

Louis told interviewers he finished "fresh" and added: "My wind held good. My timing still was a little off. I felt better at 207 pounds (Walker weighed 194) than at the 216 I've been fighting at.

"I don't need another fight before I meet Charles again. Walker takes a punch better than Charles. I tried to knock him out from the first round. I landed only three good straight rights, all to the body, because he stayed in so close and held on.

"I think this was my toughest comeback fight, and it helped me more than any other."

In three previous come-back fights Louis scored 10-round decisions over Cesar Brion and Omelio Agramonte, and stopped Freddie Beshore in the fourth round.

Walker, who once served as Charles' sparring partner, said the present champion is a better boxer than Louis and is faster, but he declined to predict the outcome of their next title match.

Substitute Boxer Scores Upset Over Tony Janiro

By JACK HAND.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP).—Lucky Bill Daly is aiming at another British "world" boxing title with Fitzie Pruden of St. Catharines, Ont., his willing welterweight who upset Tony Janiro as a last minute sub.

"There is no substitute for a good substitute," said Daly last night after Pruden chopped Janiro's baby face into a bloody blotch.

Last time Daly put a sub in Madison Square Garden in 1948, his Lee Savold knocked out Roly Poly Gino Buonvino. On the strength of that first round kayo, Savold was manoeuvered into a shot at the British version of the world heavyweight championship. Lee came through and won the title for Daly.

Championship

Now Daly talks of a London match for Pruden with Eddie Thomas, European welterweight king. The match isn't set but Daly says it soon will be signed for May. He claims promoter Jack Solomons will bill the bout for the world championship. The International Boxing Club also is eager to use Pruden in a welter tournament.

Title shot or not, Pruden earned respect last night by his unanimous 10-round decision win over Janiro before 4,495 fans who paid $13,528. He weighed 147½ to Janiro's 154½.

Fitzie subbed for his stablemate, Jimmy Flood, ruled "unfit" Thursday morning.

There were no knockdowns although Pruden was shoved down in the eighth, Janiro's best round, and Tony fell after missing a wild swing in the tenth.

Pruden simply outpunched Janiro who showed little of his old bounce.

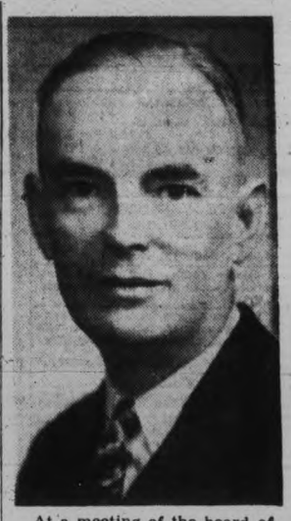
YUKON'S FAVORITE—Mrs. George Black, popular Yukon resident who once was a member of the House of Commons, celebrates her 85th birthday Feb. 24. Born in Chicago, Mrs. Black trekked into the Klondike in 1898, with thousands of frenzied gold-seekers. In 1937, when she was 71, she returned to the Yukon at the end of the parliamentary session. Spurning the modern modes of travel, she went from Whitehorse to Dawson—more than 400 miles—by canoe.

Name Officers At Marmora IODE Banquet

MARMORA, Feb. 24 (ENS) — The Marmora Chapter of the IODE held their annual banquet meeting in Sacred Heart Hall on Thursday evening when about 35 members, accompanied by their husbands or escorts, were treated to a turkey dinner. The Marmora subdivision of the Catholic Women's League did the catering. Following the dinner, the meeting opened with a sing song with Mrs. H. Rennie at the piano.

The annual report was then given by the secretary, Mrs. H. Brady. The treasurer's report followed by Mrs. R. Frost. Mrs. J. M. Brownlie, educational secretary then gave her report and Mrs. D. Aitcheson reported for empire study in the absence of the convener, Mrs. P. Eamer. Mrs. A. F. Fraser, post-war convener, gave her report and the welfare report was given by Mrs. J. Murray in the absence of the convener, Mrs. J. Reynolds. It was moved by Mrs. B. Hughes and seconded by Mrs. H. O. Loveless that the reports be adopted.

Mrs. M. Borland introduced the new regent and executive as follows: Regent, Mrs. W. Regan; 1st vice regent, Mrs. P. Eamer; 2nd vice regent, Mrs. F. Loveless; secretary, Mrs. William Shannon; treasurer, Miss M. Savage; educational secretary, Mrs. R. Walsh; Echo secretary, Mrs. W. L. Drew; standard bearer, Mrs. H. English.



A program then followed. Under the direction of Stan Hawthorne the girl's choir of Stirling High School entertained with a couple of numbers followed by the boys' octette from Marmora.

John Brownlie contributed two piano solos and Mrs. D. Carroll and Mrs. J. Benor of Campbellford followed with three duets. Miss D. Carroll of Campbellford sang two solos with Miss Stevens of Campbellford as accompanist at the piano.

Contests were then held for the men and the winners were: sewing a buton hole, Mr. Cooper; sewing on button, A. M. Jones; schoolroom contest, H. Brady; quiz contest, J. L. Shannon.

Lunch was served to the young people who had taken part in the program and thanks were extended to them by Mrs. J. M. Brownlie.

A vote of thanks was also extended to the ladies from Campbellford by Mrs. B. Hughes.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, Ltd., held Friday, Mr. J. R. Jobe, sales manager of the company, was appointed vice-president, in charge of sales.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

At San Francisco, sports promoter William P. Kyne's offer to guarantee a $500,000 gate for a return, heavyweight championship bout between Joe Louis and title holder Ezzard Charles was okayed Friday by Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club.

"If Kyne wants the fight on the terms he has offered, he's got it," was the way a spokesman laid it on the line after a telephone talk with Gibson in Chicago.

The prospective deal was initiated Wednesday when Kyne and other interested parties spent two hours at Bay Meadows Race Track, site of the contemplated bout.

At that time, Kyne was reported to have offered to put up $500,000 bond guaranteeing that a return Louis-Charles fight would draw that much at the Bay Meadows track. The date considered for the event was Decoration Day.

Eleven American colleges have discontinued intercollegiate football since the 1950 season because of the national emergency.

Heading the list are St. Mary's of California and Duquesne of Pittsburgh.

Others are Catholic University, Washington, D. C.; Washington (Md.) College; East Texas Baptist College; Hartwick (N.Y.); High Point, (N.C.); Mt. St. Mary's (Md.); and Detroit (Mich.) Tech.

Sammy Snead, golf's leading money winner last year, was told Friday that his recently-broken left hand is coming along nicely and that it's all right for him to play.

The hand bothered him so much Thursday he quit a round of golf after the first hole.

Snead broke his hand last December in the Miami open but played in the Los Angeles open in January before returning to Miami for treatment. He hopes to be in shape for the Miami Beach open next month.

Hough 'N Tumble, a Kentucky colt never out of the money in seven starts as a two-year-old, will be the favorite to win the top money in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby today.

Eleven three-year-olds—nine colts and a pair of fillies—were entered Friday in the 14th running of the derby. And while a wide-open scramble is expected, Rough 'N Tumble figures to be the popular choice to collect the net $81,500 for the winner.

The favorite, winner of the Derby trial 10 days ago, races for Mrs. Frances Genter of Minneapolis, who bought the youngster from breeder, Dr. Charles E. Hagyard of Lexington, Ky.

Skiing conditions in Ontario are generally poor, the Ontario Travel Department reported Friday.

Conditions are fair at Fort William, Port Arthur and Midland; poor at Dagmar, Havelock, Kenora and Orangeville. Skiing is good at Collingwood, Flesherton and Markdale.

There is no skiing at Barrie, Cobourg, Peterborough or Toronto Summit.

The Bronze Baby—emblematic of the girls' intercollegiate basketball championship—was won by University of Toronto Friday night as the Varsity team beat McMaster 49-17 to win the trophy for the second year in a row.

The Varsity cagers had earlier beaten McGill, Western and Queen's teams.

Hap Day's Dad Dies

TORONTO, Feb. 24 (CP). — Sidney Ray, 78, father of Clarence (Hap) Day, assistant general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs Hockey Club, died Friday in Aurora, Ont.

He had been in poor health for some time.

Prior to moving to Aurora, in 1947, Mr. Day lived in Brantford, Owen Sound and Midland. He is survived by two sons, Clarence and Howard, both of Toronto, and two daughters, Mrs. T. Davis, Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. Russell Barker, Sudbury.

The funeral will be held at Owen Sound.

FIRST OF LINE

Robert Rollock, Scottish lecturer and minister, in 1583 became the first principal of Edinburgh University.

Granites Win Ontario Title

KINGSTON, Feb. 24 (CP). — A draw shot which stopped 12 inches short decided the Ontario Curling Association bonspiel last night and qualified the Toronto Granites rink of Gordon Campbell to represent Ontario in the Dominion finals at Halifax next month.

The shot which missed its mark was by Charlie Cassels whose Hamilton Thistles rink was defeated 13-11 in final.

The score was tied 11-11 as the two rinks went into the 12th end. Cassels had to draw in with the final shot in order to win but it was a foot short and two of Campbell's rocks counted for the winning margin.

The playoff was the culmination of a series of matches which brought together the winners of eight districts in Southern Ontario.

D. Abraham Rolls 783 In Men's City League

Doug Abraham rolled 783 this week for high three in the men's City Bowling League, as Harold Davis' 378 was tops in singles. Fashion-Craft took high pinnage. with 3,413 and Shockey's led in singletons with a 1,214 effort. Whitewashings were administered by Moore's over Fashion-Craft and by Cavanagh's over Dunn's, as 4-2 wins were counted by Clapper's, Bond's, Campbell & Best and Shockey's respectively over McGillis, Sunocos, Esquire's and Swartz.

Bowling was below par this week, with best efforts being: Harold Davis (378) 775, Eric Martin (330) 761, Bill Boon 761, Frank McCormack 739, Bert McCarrell 736, Bill Harris 734, Eldon Downer 716, Maurice Caccavella 712, Godfrey LaPlante 711, Herb Frost 709, Tony Mattucci 702, Fred Martin 701 and Alf Mattucci 701. Cavanagh's and Shockey's are tied atop with 98 points, as Fashion-Craft have 78, McGillis 76, Bond's 72, Esquires 68, Sunocos 64, Moore's 62, Campbell & Best 62, Dunn's 60, Swartz 46 and Clapper's 44.

Marmora WMS Plans Mrs. Smythe Memorial

MARMORA, Feb. 24 (ENS)—The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's United Church met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. W. Sabine. Mrs. E. C. Prentice presided.

Mrs. G. D. Young had charge of the worship service the theme of which was "His silent presence". Mrs. Thomas Hannah read a poem "Silence" written by Dr. Kagawa of Japan.

Twenty sick calls, 14 hospital and 3 stranger calsl were reported for the month. Twenty missionary monthlies and seven books were read.

A letter regarding a suitable memorial for Mrs. William Smythe was read and discussed. It was decided that contributions of money could be left with Mrs. Grace Pack to be forwarded before the end of the month. Mrs. G. P. Young was appointed delegate to the presbyterial to be held in Picton.

A quilt for the bale has been finished and a layette and gifts for five teen aged girls will be obtained for forwarding in April.

Mrs. T. J. Bateman had charge of the study book "The United Church re-enters Japan."

The meeting closed with short prayers by Mesdames T. J. Bateman, G. Jarvis and G. Pack.

61 Weekly Editors Confer In Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — (CP) — Publishers of weekly newspapers gathered here Friday for the annual meeting of the Class A weeklies of Canada.

Sixty-one weekly newspapers, including a number of French-Canadian periodicals, were represented. To qualify as a Class A weekly, a paper must have at least 2,000 circulation and be the leading periodical in a market area of at least $1,000,000 annual retail sales.

One delegate said the meeting might decide to raise the qualifications to an area of $5,000,000 retail sales.

Chairman of the association is Lloyd Logan, publisher of the Standard - Observer - Bulletin, Pembroke.

Auburn Worker Dies In London

James Gates, a resident of Peterborough for 30 years, was found dead Sunday at his home in Chelsea, London. He was in his 93rd years.

Mr. Gates was living in a flat, apparently ill and fell out of bed. When found he had been dead for a couple of days.

For 15 years he operated a shoe shine parlor on Charlotte St. And for some time he was city dog-catcher.

Later he was timekeeper at the Auburn woollen mill. He returned to England shortly after the mill closed down to spend the rest of his life in his native Chelsea.

Until his death there were four James Gates in the family. His son James age 66, lives on Dunlop St., a grandson James, age 41, on Auburn St., and a three-and-a-half year old great grandson, also James.

A sister, Maude Gates, lives in Toronto.

He was buried in Brompton cemetery.

Mrs. Ada Young Pioneer Dies

HAVELOCK, Feb. 24 (ENS)—Mrs. Ada Young, 76, a pioneer resident of this district and widow of Joseph Albert Campion Young, died Wednesday at her home in Rockdale after an illness of two years.

Mrs. Young was born in Sunderland, England, and was formerly Ada White, daughter of the late William John White and Jane Gordon, the latter being a niece of the famous General Gordon of Scotland. Following the death of her mother, Mrs. Young came to Canada with her father at the age of eight years and settled here before the village was incorporated. Her father served as ship's carpenter on the voyage, and on arrival here he formed a life-long friendship with the late William Matheson, who was affectionately called the father of Havelock. During her young womanhood, Mrs. Young was employed at the John Brown home at Rockdale and it was there that she met Mr. Young, whom she married in 1891. Mr. Young died in 1919. A veteran of World War I, he died two months after returning home. She has lived in Rockdale since her mariage and the residence where she lived during her latter years was built on a portion of the Young homestead. Mrs. Young was a member of the United Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. William Smith (Ruth) and Mrs. Roy Longmuir (Gladys) of Havelock; six sons, William of Peterborough, Gordon of Toronto, Ronald of Campbellford, James and Douglas of Rockdale, and Roger of Belmont Lake; a sister, Miss Margaret White, of Toronto. A brother, John White, who was a glass blower in Sunderland, England, came to Canada alone and settled in Winnipeg, Manitoba, later moving to Texas. There are also 22 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The service Friday at the family residence, Rockdale, was conducted by the Rev. A. J. Thaxter, of the Free Methodist Church at Cordova Mines. Burial was in Rockdale cemetery.

Remand Pair Held In Robbery

SUDBURY, Feb. 24 —(CP)—In brief court appearances Thursday, John Campbell, 27, of Sudbury and Fred Montgomery, 28, of Fenwick, Ont., charged with the armed robbery of an International Nickel Company pay clerk on Monday, were remanded until Feb. 26 on a second charge of car theft.

A third man, John Bentley, 26, of nearby Coniston, also was remanded to Feb. 26 on a charge of stealing the same car, the property of Mike Stoicov, of Sudbury. The car was stolen on Feb. 4.

Campbell and Montgomery were also charged with the armed theft of a truck. The truck was allegedly stolen after the bandits, who robbed the pay clerk of $397,000 in cheques as he stood in front of a bank, abandoned their original getaway car. The pair were also remanded to Feb. 26 on this charge.

Transport Bumps Bus, Both Vehicles Suffer

MARMORA, Feb. 24 (ENS)— A transport of the R. Sherratt line bumped into the rear of one of Joseph Doyle's workmen's buses Thursday morning, causing damage to the rear of the bus and to the radiator of the transport.

Men returning to their homes from the night shift at Deloro were passengers of the bus driven by George Pressick. The transport was descending the hill on Highway 7 by St. Andrew's United Church as it collided with the bus.

Constable Percy Embury investigated and found the icy condition of the road to be the sole cause of the collision.

Quebec Timber Work Hampered By Thaw

MONTREAL, Feb. 24 —(CP)—Northern Quebec's timber industry has been hit by the unseasonably long February thaw which has prevented use of most of the bush roads in eastern Canada.

An official of Canadian International Paper said northern operations in the Chibougamau area were hampered by "a thaw so bad on the lakes that even snowmobiles can't go out."

Timber operators said they would work "a night-and-day schedule" to complete their winter operation which usually extends from early January to the middle of March to get the wood out of the bush.

Northern Ontario timber operators have had the same thaw trouble.

35 PCVS Students Visit Toronto School

PCVS students interested in courses at Ryerson Institute of Technology in Toronto visited there Thursday. They formed the third interest group arranged this year by vocational guidance teacher Howard Moebus. Previous groups have been held on nursing and teaching.

Ryerson's principal, H. H. Kerr, and the registrar, M. C. Findley, welcomed the students. After dinner at the institute's cafeteria they were divided into nine groups to visit the departments in which they were interested. Some of these were retail merchandising, radio and electronics, drafting, costume design, journalism, photography, interior decoration, printing and publishing.

The second-year students of Ryerson directed the students throughout the various schools in the institute.

The PCVS students who made the trip were: Beverley Brooks, Patricia Hamilton, Joan Hastie, Paul Taylor, Paul Doris, Donald Harrison, Norma Bond, Joanne Watson, Barbara Clarke, John Frisken, Larry Cunningham, Bill Hamblin, Bill Deyell, Roy Weldon, Marilyn McInroy, Donna Balmer, Lois Jones, Norma Agnew, Marlene Wright, Dorothy Dillman, Adele Miller, Ann LaPointe, June Bullied, Marie Woodhouse, Audrey Magee, Hazel Lewers, Betty Jones, Margaret Martyn, Victor O'Connor, Dan Griffin, Lorraine Crawford, Douglas Woodman, Bill Parry, Roland Brier and Kelvin Johnston.

Schacht In Paris

PARIS, Feb. 24 —(AP)—Hjalmar Schacht, Nazi Germany's financial wizard, travelled Friday through France en route to Brazil. The foreign ministry said he had been given a week's transit visa. A ministry official said it is believed Schacht will get in touch with French banking circles during his stay here. The news was generally ignored in Paris morning papers.

Here's Why You Need Aspirin When You Have A Cold —To Feel Better, Fast!

At the first sign of a cold—before you do anything else—take two ASPIRIN tablets with a full glass of water. Here's why: When you have a cold, it's almost invariably accompanied by a headachy, feverish feeling and muscular aches and pains. And it's very important to your well being that you treat these distressing symptoms with a medication that will relieve them . . . relieve them quickly. By taking ASPIRIN at the first sign of a cold, you'll get this important relief.

No matter how you try to stop or shorten a cold, authorities will tell you that this is sound advice.

FEEL BETTER FAST

And when you take ASPIRIN, you'll discover why millions have followed this advice with remarkable results. For ASPIRIN works fast. It actually goes to work in two seconds. And this is one reason why it brings you amazingly quick relief from these painful cold symptoms.

This two-second speed is something you can see with your own eyes by dropping an ASPIRIN tablet in a glass of water and "clocking" its disintegration.

WHAT TO DO FOR SORE THROAT

When your cold causes a sore throat, gargle with three ASPIRIN tablets dissolved in one-third of a glass of water. This makes a potent medicinal gargle that almost instantly soothes tender throat membranes, relieves pain and irritation.

Besides being effective, ASPIRIN is also gentle. Its single active ingredient is so gentle to the system that it is regularly prescribed, even for small children.

Keep ASPIRIN handy. When you buy, get the 100-tablet bottle which gives you ASPIRIN for less than a penny a tablet.

Because no other pain reliever can match its record of use by millions of people, without ill effect, one thing you can take with complete confidence is

Briton Appointed Deputy-Cmdr. Naval Pact Forces

LONDON, Feb. 26. (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee announced today it has been agreed that the Deputy Supreme Commander of Atlantic Pact Naval Forces in the Atlantic Ocean will be a Briton. In addition, it has been agreed that Britain will retain "operation control" of its home fleet even when an American became Supreme Commander of Atlantic Naval Forces. Accordingly, Attlee told the House of Commons, he is "entirely satisfied" with the nomination of United States Vice-Admiral William N. Fechteler to be Supreme Commander for the area.

Attlee made his statement in response to a loud outcry in Commons and the press which greeted word last week of Fechteler's forthcoming appointment.

Keep Some Control

Attlee said actual direction of Atlantic pact forces in the eastern Atlantic—including the vital western approaches to the British Isles—will be in the hands of the commander-in-chief of Britain's Home Fleet.

He will command not only available British forces in the area, but also those of the United States and other North Atlantic treaty nations, Attlee said.

At the same time all such forces in the western Atlantic will be commanded by an American.

Both of these regional commanders would take orders from Fechteler.

"All our experience in the last war," Attlee said, "proves that there is a need for a single command in the Atlantic which can allocate and re-allocate forces to meet the shifting threat as it develops." He added:

Must Have Help

"Despite our great naval traditions the defence of the North Atlantic ocean cannot possibly in a future war be undertaken by this country alone."

He said the set-up as now recommended to the Atlantic Pact deputies "will ensure that responsibility for the home defence of these islands, including British coastal waters, will remain firmly in British hands."

Churchill described Attlee's statement as "very complicated." He said it "will require study and consideration and it may well be that we shall find it necessary to raise the matter in debate."

Can Have Food If Up Price Britain Told

LONDON, Feb. 26 (CP).—For the second time within a week Britain has been told bluntly that she can have abundant supplies of food to replenish her depleted larder by paying higher prices.

The latest challenge, sounded by James M. Dillon, agriculture minister for the Republic of Ireland, came as many families in the United Kingdom endured a meatless weekend and faced prospects of still another cut in the matchbook-size meat ration.

At present the individual ration provides for about the equivalent of 12 cents worth of meat a week but shopkeepers at times have found it impossible to supply all their registered customers.

Dillon, in a signed article published by the mass-circulation News of the World Sunday, said Britain's foot-rationing plight could be remedied quickly through long-term agreements with the Irish Republic and payment for higher prices to meet increased costs of production.

Ready To Sell

A similar proposition was cited by James Gardiner, Canada's Agriculture Minister, before his departure Saturday for home after four days of conferring with British ministers. Canada, he said stood ready to supply Britain with more meat, cheese and eggs if an assured market was guaranteed and prices offered in line with those Canadian producers were getting from other buyers.

Dillon maintained that farmers in Ireland and the United Kingdom could make the two islands self-sufficient in food production over a long period of emergency, provided an iron-clad incentive to the producers were assured.

The Irish farmers had given the British people ample evidence they would not accept black market or famine prices for their produce.

"But they will not produce foodstuffs to sell at less than the cost of production, nor indeed, at any price less than one that will yield them a fair standard of living," Dillon added.

Nursing Sister Saves Man's Life

BARRIE, Feb. 26 (CP)—Police today credited a nursing sister from Camp Borden, with saving the life of Norman Coe, 38, of Creemore, Ont., who suffered a severe neck gash in a collision near here Saturday.

Lieut. Margaret Van Soyoc, a passenger in a car that was passing shortly after the wreck, held the man's neck to stop the flow of blood until her first aid kit was brought from the car.

Then Lieut. Van Soyoc and Pte. Ross D. Sehlin of Camp Borden alternately kept pressure on Coe's neck while he was driven to hospital.

Provincial police said she had the man on his way to hospital within 10 minutes after the crash.

Britain's Railways Return To Normal

LONDON, Feb. 26 (Reuters)—Britain's railways were back to normal working today after a week of strikes which at one time threatened to paralyze the whole network.

About 2,000 men who stayed on strike during the week-end despite a new wage agreement returned to work today.

Railway chiefs met to work out ways of getting an extra £12,000,000 ($36,000,000) a year for the new payroll wage bill. They were expected to ask for higher fares and freight charges.

Some sections of the three railway unions are dissatisfied with the new agreement, which will give a 7½-per-cent pay increase to 600,000 railwaymen.

Leaves For Peiping

GENEVA Switzerland, Feb. 26 (AP)—Dr. Paul Rugger, president of the International Red Cross committee, left here by air today for Peiping, capital of Communist China. The Red Cross plane carried several tons of medical supplies donated by the Swiss government for wounded prisoners of war and civilians in Communist North Korea.

Delay Answer To Russ Note

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP). — A Foreign Office spokesman indicated today Britain will wait and see if Russia agrees to discuss setting up a big-four conference before answering the latest Soviet note.

The note, broadcast by Moscow radio early Sunday, was the most recent of an exchange pegged on Russian charges that Britain had violated the Anglo-Soviet treaty of friendship.

The spokesman said the note now is being studied.

"There may be an answer but I would not like to prejudge the situation," he said, adding:

"We are awaiting with interest to hear if the date for preliminary four-power talks is acceptable to Russia."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley disclosed today that about 250,000 Americans, in all branches of the armed services, now are fighting in the Korean campaign.

USSR Ready To Negotiate With Britain

Says Russian Army Only Half Size Of Western Big 3

MOSCOW, Feb. 26. (CP) — Russia told Britain Sunday that she has less than half as many men under arms as the western Big Three. She added that she was ready to negotiate her differences with Britain. She made these statements in a note which repeated previous Soviet charges that the Attlee government "crudely tramples" on the 1942 Anglo-Soviet Alliance by joining the Atlantic coalition "aimed directly against the USSR."

The note declared that the forces of Britain, France and the United States total more than 5,000,000 men and that Soviet forces are less than half that size.

Observers here regarded as significant this indication that Russia counts only about 2,500,000 men in her navy, air force and army. It is the nearest she has come in several years to offering any figures on her military strength.

It was also noted that the figure fell far below estimate of the size of the Soviet army alone that have been published in the west.

The U.S. senate foreign relations committee Feb. 14 estimated the Soviet army at 4,000,000 men and said Russia's European satellites had another 1,000,000, as opposed to a total of 4,500,000 for all 12 Atlantic Pact countries. Red China's army is generally placed at 3,000,000.

Cuts Forces

Russia went on to say that she had, through systematic demobilizations since the war, cut her armed forces to where they stood in 1939. On the other hand, she said, Britain, the U.S. and France have "several times" the number they had under arms in 1939.

Observers concluded from this that if the proposed Big Four foreign ministers conference is held to discuss existing armanent levels, as suggested by the west, Russia will present figures to maintain that the western powers, not she, are preparing for aggression.

Halt Bombing Of Helgoland

BONN, Germany, Feb. 26 — (Reuters)—Britain has agreed to give up the North Sea island of Helogland as a bombing target by 1952, it was announced here tonight.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said he has told Britin he would co-operate in finding an alternate target.

The official announcement was made after a long conference between Adenauer and the British high commissioner, Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick.

US Only Able To Wangle Six-Months Air Base Lease

CAIRO, Feb. 26 (AP).—A six-month extension on the lease for the vital Dhahran Air Base in Saudi Arabia is all the United States has been able to wrangle out of Ibn Saud.

This big, strategic field in the hard of the rich Persian Gulf oil area—and within easy striking distance of Russia's south flank — is the eastern anchor of a new chain of air bases the U.S. plans to throw up from Gibraltar to Iran.

The U.S. State Department men who negotiated the renewal agreement would have liked a longer lease. So would the air force, which now operates a way station at Dhahran for big transport planes.

But the Saudi Arabian government which lives on oil royalties paid by U.S. companies, held out for the short term. That way it can ask for more concessions when the next renewal comes up. The terms of the present renewal were not revealed.

This situation typifies the thorny position in which the western bloc finds itself in the middle east—the gateway to the African continent with its storehouse of raw materials, including uranium.

That gateway hinges on the Suez Canal, the greatest bottleneck in world sea traffic.

Dean Acheson, U.S. Secretary of State, recently confirmed U.S. negotiations for the right to use various military and air bases in North Arrica and the Middle East.

This is in the area sometimes referred to as the soft underbelly of Russia. It is the second line backing up Greece, Turkey and Iran.

France already has promised five wartime airfields in Morocco. There are many other wartime fields in North Africa which could be reactivated.

Aside from Dhahran, the U.S. has only one base in this general area. That is the big Wheelus field at Tripoli, sitting on the Mediterranean Sea lanes.

Thousands In Paris Take To Bikes, Feet As Bus, Subway Drivers Strike For Raise

PARIS, Feb. 26 (AP). — Parisians took to their bicycles, motorbikes and feet by the thousands today as bus drivers and many subway operators began a 24-hour strike for more pay.

All buses were halted, but by mid-morning single trains were running on two cross-town subway lines. Seventeen other trains were running on shorter branches.

At least one independent subway drivers' union refused to go along with the strike, ordered by both Communist and non-Communist unions.

It was hoped that up to 50 per cent of the trains would run later in the day.

To help ease the situation, the government mobilized scores of army trucks driven by soldiers to run on the bus lines.

Paris streets were jammed worse than usual with automobiles and much-in-demand taxis. Many persons got out their bicycles and rode to work.

The unions are demanding the equivalent of a $17-a-month increase for 34,000 subway and bus drivers. They now are paid from $57 to $80 a month.

Prices of bus and subway tickets today went up from six to 6½ cents for second class and from 8½ to 10 cents for first class. The government said this was necessary to pay for a recent $4-a-month wage increase to transport workers.

Child Pleads "Help Me" As Helpless Motorist Watches Car Sink In Lake

NANAIMO, BC, Feb. 26. (CP)—A little girl—pleading, "Please help me, do something!"—was drowned Sunday as a motorist watched unable to give her aid. She was one of four persons who died when an automobile skidded off an icy highway and slipped into the depths of Cameron Lake on Vancouver Island. Her face was pressed against the rear windows as the car began to sink. Driving toward Nanaimo, Ernest E. Spence and Don C. McDowell, both of Victoria, were close behind the car when it spun out of control.

Mr. Spence gave this account:

"Suddenly the car went into a spin on a curve. It turned over twice and ended up with the back wheels resting on the top of the bank.

Out 20 Feet

"After about 30 seconds it slid slowly down the embankment—backwards.

"It was going at an agonizingly slow pace."

The car floated out about 20 feet to where the water was about 60 feet deep.

By this time Mr. Spence was at the water's edge. His companion ran down the road in search of help.

Mr. Spence added: "A little girl was looking out the rear window of the car . . . she screamed, 'please help me, do something!'"

Moments later the car was under water.

16 Cattle Killed In Train Wreck

ORILLIA, Feb. 26—Two cattle cars containing 48 head of cattle were hurled down an embankment at Sparrow Lake Saturday night. The cattle were left bawling, screaming and frightened until veterinarian Dr. Tremayne Behan and other workers released them Sunday morning. Of the 48, 16 were dead or had to be slaughtered immediately.

"I thought we'd have to use a gun on the whole lot," said Dr. Behan. "But we found 32 all right although badly frightened and exhausted by their overnight ordeal. I'm amazed that only 16 were lost."

In all, six freight cars, some containing new automobiles, were thrown down the embankment when two freight trains collided at 9.30 p.m. Saturday on the CNR Washago-Toronto line.

A northbound train was entering a siding when a southbound train clipped it. Reports from the scene said the southbound train did not allow the other sufficient time to enter the siding.

500,000 Reds Ringing Japan

TOKYO, Feb. 26 — (AP) — Informed sources said today that Russia has ringed Japan with perhaps a 500,000-man army and a 2,000-plane air force and, by drawing the Chinese Reds into the Korean campaign, has served notice that the Soviet Union will "stop at nothing to achieve world conquest."

They said these factors, rather than any recent new Soviet military alignment, underlie the speeded American efforts to assure Japan's defence after a peace treaty is concluded.

Besides the two U.S. National Guard divisoins whose assignment here next month has been announced, other American security forces will be sent here if the situation warrants, these sources, who cannot be identified, said.

Say McCallum Gets CNE Post

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP) — A Toronto paper said in a newspage story today that Mayor Hiram McCallum has been offered the post of general manager of the Canadian National Exhibition.

The paper said the directors of the CNE had offer Mayor McCallum the post on completion of his term of office next December. The present general manager, Elwood Hughes, who has been in poor health would continue to be associated with the CNE in an advisory capacity.

The paper said formal announcement of Mayor McCallum's appointment would be made this week at the CNE's annual meeting.

The mayor said today he had discussed the matter with the directors but that no formal agreement had been reached.

No Regimentation Howe Declares

TORONTO, Feb. 26 — (CP) — Trade Minister Howe said today he believes Canadians will not stand for "regimentation by controls" unless there is allout war.

The government, he added in an address prepared for delivery before a combined meeting of the Canadian and Empire Clubs, will not impose any system of price controls "unless and until we are satisfied that those controls will serve a helpful and not a harmful purpose in combating inflation."

Price controls, said Mr. Howe, would be harmful if they did not have overwhelming public support; if the government relied on them as substitutes for taxes and credit controls—and "if they were not accompanied by adequate wage controls."

"My own experience leads me to believe that the Canadian people will not stand for the regimentation by controls administered by the vast bureaucracy required for the purpose except under conditions of all-out war."

And even were it theoretically possible for the govenrment to enforce price controls, Mr. Howe said he did not believe such a course wise "until there is reasonable assurance of price stability in the United States."

2 Transports Crash Say Damage $25,000

HAMILTON, Feb. 26. (CP) — Two heavily-laden tractor-trailers collided on the Queen Elizabeth Way in a CNR subway near Freeman today, causing a estimated $25,000 damage and sending one of the drivers to hospital.

Thomas Campbell, Windsor, suffered burns in the fire which followed the collision and swept through both trucks.

Driver of the other truck, Wallace Postill of London, Ont., escaped injury.

Besides halting the flow of traffic along the highway between Hamilton and Toronto, the intense flames heated the rails on the CNR overpass and halted trains until an inspection could be made to determine whether or not the rails were safe for travel.

Pats Suffer First Casualties

Canadians Trying To Take Hill Pinned Down By Reds

By BILL BOSS

ON THE CENTRAL FRONT, KOREA, Feb. 26. (CP)—The Princess Patricias, like other troops in this sector, sat tight Sunday after banging hard into the enemy's main defences south of the 38th Parallel.

(Boss reported in a cable filed Friday, and apparently delayed by censorship until Sunday that the Patricias had suffered their first casualties of the Korean campaign. He said the casualties, surprisingly light, were suffered when the Canadians hit firmly dug-in Chinese positions.)

ON THE CENTRAL FRONT, Korea (CP)—Most of the Canadians who were wounded in the bitter fighting last week near Sogu are expected to return to action soon. The casualties were mainly due to cheap Chinese grenades rather than small-arms fire and most of the wounded inflicted were not sufficiently serious to prevent the men from rejoining their unit.

Major Bill Stutt of Calgary and Edmonton pulled his company off Hill 419 while formation commanders pondered how to crack the Chinese nut.

Stutt's withdrawal thickened up the battalion's perimeter, with the company commanded by Major Vince Lilley of Hamilton and Edmonton in the most forward position.

United States Air Force jets and Corsairs together with U.S. mortars and the battalion's own support weapons under Captains Lloyd Hill of Kentville, N.S., and Andy Foulds of Vancouver pounded the objective.

Draw Fire

Hill's mortars dusted 419 with phosphorous bombs, starting fires. The whole hill spouted smoke. As the Chinese left their dugouts they drew Canadian fire.

The withdrawal gave Stutt's cheerful crew their first rest in a week.

They sat Sunday on a ridge 1½ miles south of the hill they nearly captured Saturday, heating rations, doing their washing and recounting exploits of the last few days in full view of the enemy across the way.

Sgt. Bern Holigan, of St. Catharines, Ont., who commanded the company briefly during the battle, said:

"Can you imagine talking like this in the German war in full view of the enemy?"

"Within five yards of him he rains absolute hell on you; here he ignores you utterly."

Stutt, indicating a craggy mountain then being strafed by Corsairs and jets, said:

Ties Up Traffic

HAMILTON, Feb. 26. (CP) —Police in nearby Dundas Sunday charged Louis Rivers, 40, of London, Ont., with vagrancy after he was found standing naked at a junction of the Queen Elizabeth way. A mile-long traffic jam east and west was caused when car occupants stopped to gape at Rivers in the traffic circle of the two highways. A silver amphibian plane droned overhead and police said afterwards that Rivers had told them that the pilot had ordered him to disrobe.

Boy 7 Clings 18 Hours To Cliff Edge

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP) — Seven-year-old Garry Dennison spent 18 hours clinging to the lower ledge of a 100 foot cliff overlooking Lake Ontario at suburban Scarboro Saturday night and Sunday.

He told police he had been lured into a car Saturday by a taxi driver who promised him an Easter bunny. He thought the man may have pushed him over the cliff.

Unable to make his way up the steep bluff, the youngster spent part of his time playing a solitary game of cowboys and Indians. He was sitting, head in hands, just above the waterline when he was spotted about 2 p.m. Sunday by six youths out for a hike.

Ron Moore, 16, and Paul Davies, 14, made their perilous way down the steep incline to get the boy up. Two adults—summoned by 12-year-old Garry Markle—helped with the last stage by lowering a broken tree limb to help haul the three up.

Not Badly Hurt

Garry's mother, Mrs. Audrey Dennison, fainted when he was brought home, bruised and caked with dirt and blood. However, his most serious injury was a bloody nose, received when struck by a stone as he sat at the foot of the cliff.

Sitting in his mother's lap, he turned and asked: "Mommy, do you think the man picked me up and threw me over? I think he did. When I was with the man I was high up on the hill. When I woke up, I was away down near the beach."

Police have launched an intensive search for the man.

Goodfellow Opens Trenton Hospital

TRENTON, Feb. 26 — (CP) — Welfare Minister Goodfellow Sunday opened the 57-bed Trenton Memorial Hospital, constructed in memory of district servicemen who lost their lives in the Second World War.

With 6,000 persons watching, the mothers of three servicemen killed in action during the war, jointly cut the ribbon to mark the opening of the $525,000 structure first planned eight years ago. They were Mrs. M. Dixon, Mrs. S. Cottrell, and Mrs. C. Silverthorne, representing each of the three branches of the armed forces.

Finish Rocket Experiments

US Begins Concentrating On Their Use As Weapons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) —The United States army says it has finished its ultra-high-altitude experiments with multi-stage rockets and now is concentrating on development of rockets as weapons.

Scheduled for Thursday night is the 57th series of V-2 tests at White Sands, N.M. This one will be a single V-2 rocket, not the "bumper" style combination of a big-and-small rocket which two years ago attained a record height of more than 250 miles.

That firing was with a combination of V-2 and a smaller missile. The second rocket, mounted on the nose of the V-2, fired when the V-2 had reached maximum speed and shoved the little missile to a speed of more than 5,000 miles an hour.

An army ordnance spokesman said the "research in the bumper phase" of the rocket study was to learn some facts in the field of high-altitude flight.

"This information was ascertained and the project is thus completed," he said. "Information had to be obtained by these (multi-stage) shots because it was the only known way of getting needed data.

"Concentration is now on development of rockets as weapons."

The rocket scheduled for firing Thursday night will carry a warhead packed with measuring instruments.

The Air Force said the instruments are for study of the composition of the atmosphere, "to measure two types of radiation and analyze artificial and natural airglow" at high altitude.

These subjects, although seemingly related to pure science, are of importance to men bent on designing intercontinental guided missiles, which, to attain ranges of thousands of miles, would have to go perhaps hundreds of miles aloft.

If, as was indicated last week, the time is approaching when atomic power will be used for manned and unmanned aircraft and large rockets, high-altitude conditions may have major bearing.

Red Retreat Called Rout On One Front

Say Commonwealth Brigade Shoulders Heaviest Fighting

TOKYO, Feb. 26. (AP) — Canadian and other Commonwealth troops faced stiff resistance from an estimated 2,000 Chinese in the mountainous Chipyong area of Korea today while in another sector foot soldiers of the United States 7th Division knifed ahead.

Reuters News Agency said the Commonwealth forces shouldered the heaviest fighting of the United Nations offensive and the Chinese were resisting heavily.

The Commonwealth forces are operating on the Central front between Allied-held Chipyong and the important communications junction of Hoengsong.

(At Washington, the navy announced that South Korean Marines landed Sunday on a third island off the Korean east coast port of Wonsan. Two other islands previously had been occupied.

(The newest landing, following 12 days of continuous bombardment by American warships, was made without opposition from ground forces. Communist shore batteries fired at the U.S. bombardment force without scoring any hits, the navy said.)

On Right Flank

The U.S. 7th Division, identified in action for the first time since it withdrew from the Changjin reservoir to the Hungnam beachhead last December, moved ahead to a point six miles north of Pangnim. It is operating on the right flank of the Eighth Army offensive in the central sector.

Reuters said the Commonwealth troops called for heavy artillery barrages and air support Sunday to blast the Communists from the top of ridges which held up Commonwealth advance. But when night fell, the Communists were still there despite sustained pressure from the Commonwealth forces.

The American 2nd Division, slogging north through the mud-bound mountains on the left flank of the 7th, reached a point 18 miles north of Chechon, its jumping off place when "Operation Killer" began last Wednesday.

The 2nd and 7th were spearheading the cautious 10th Corps advance along the mountainsoines of Central Korea.

Dockers Refuse Obey Gov't

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Feb. 26 (Reuters). — Striking dockers here today rejected a government order to resume normal work.

Their week-old strike for wage increases—resulting in a government-declared national emergency—has held up food cargoes for Britain.

A mass meeting for Wellington dockers today:

1. Offered themselves for work on an 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to-Friday basis;
2. Condemned the government for not allowing dockers to work a 40-hour week.
3. Urged the government to summon parliament so that legislature could deal with the state of emergency declaration.

Trapped In Excavation Writes Will, Will Live

EDMONTON, Feb. 26 (CP). — A man who wrote out his will Saturday while trapped in an excavation for more than 1½ hours was still alive in hospital here today.

Vernon Wood, 30, suffered a broken back and leg and was given nine blood transfusions Sunday. Hospital authtorities said he is expected to recover.

The accident occurred as Wood walked into an excavation to drive out a bulldozer. The wall collapsed and crushed him against the machine.

With only his head and arms free, Wood asked for a pen and some paper to write his will while rescue workers dug feverishly at the dirt and gravel.

Bomb Manchuria If Reds Make Raid First

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP). —United States military leaders are determined to blast Communist-held China and Manchuria with massive air raids if the Communists dare to hurl air and sea attacks against the United Nations forces fighting in Korea.

Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins said in an interview that massed air or sea attacks by the enemy would trip the trigger of swift retaliation.

"We'll strike back," he said. "We'll hit their land and sea bases if they bring out air or sea forces to attack us."

Such attacks could be launched by fleets of B-36's striking from bases in Okinawa and the islands of Japan—and from carrier-based navy bombers.

Out of Bounds

Since the Chinese entered the war in October, China and Manchuria have been out of bounds to American airmen. Pilots have strick orders not to fly over the Chinese mainland or to cross over the Yalu River from Korea into Manchuria.

Gen. MacArthur on four occasions has made it clear he regards this situation as unrealistic. He has said this hands-off policy gives the enemy a privileged sanctuary from which to mount assaults against his army without fear of retaliation.

The allied leaders do not want the Korean War to spread beyond the boundaries of Korea if they can avoid it. This is a major reason why the U.S. Air Force has limited its attacks to hitting only those enemy targets in Korea.

But if the Reds bring out air and sea power in a desperation bid for victory—the lid will be blown off in the Far East and the boundaries will disappear.

"In such a case," Collins said, "there would no longer be a privileged sanctuary for the enemy. The war would enter an entirely new phase calling for new measures on our part. We would be forced to hit at enemy bases."

Steel Union Rejects Offer

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP). — The United Steel Workers of America (CIO) has turned down an offer by Steel Company of Canada for terms of a new contract covering 4,000 workers in the company's fabricating plants.

Rejection of the latest offer was decided upon Sunday at a meeting of a national committee of union representatives from the fabricating plants.

A meeting between the union's negotiating committee for Canada Works in Hamilton, largest plant in the group, and the management is scheduled for Tuesday.

A union spokesman declined comment on the company offer. Details of the terms were not made public.

TAKES SECOND PLACE

Second prize winner in the oratoric tenor solo competition at the Kiwanis Music Festival in Toronto Saturday night was William Perry of Lindsay. First place went to James Lamond of Calgary.

Revise Ideas On Chinese Pats Find Them Tough

By WILLIAM BOSS

ON THE CENTRAL FRONT, KOREA, Feb. 26. (CP)—A company of Princess Patricias, which saw the Canadians' bloodiest action of the Korean campaign to date, has revised its estimation of Chinese as fighters. The company, led by Major Jack George of Edmonton, withdrew after bitter fighting with a Chinese force entrenched in virtually impregnable positions on Hill 419, above Sogu.

"They're really aggressive," said Pte. Vic Mahood of Vancouver.

"And certainly not stupid," added Pte. Al Lynch of St. Catharines.

Both were members of the platoon led by Lieut. John Deegan of Vancouver, which was temporarily pinned down after making the first contact with the enemy strong points Friday.

Weary after the full-scale action which extricated Deegan's platoon, but determined to even up the losses suffered in the two-day action, George said his men had advanced within 10 yards, but could not dislodge the enemy.

Heavy Fire

"We were crawling on our bellies through briar and bramble underbrush which their machine-gun fire cut off at a waist level," he said.

Cpl. Joseph Fayent of Sintaluta, Sask., said the Canadians were unable to use grenades because of the thickness of the brambles, which afforded perfect concealment for the Chinese.

A stretcher-bearer, Pte. John Miles of Toronto, earned the company's acclaim by ignoring hazards to attend the wounded.

"He had no regard for his own life whatever," was George's tribute to Miles.

Pte. Roger Chartrand of Ottawa and Arthur Leblanc of Chatham, N.B., claimed they saw the Chinese get up and laugh when they had the Canadians pinned down.

Leblanc claimed he even heard one say, "Come and get it, Canada."

"Know what those Chinese are doing now? They're rubbernecking upwards, laughing—and will do so until they're killed."

He said the company reached within 200 yards of the summit by means of excellent fieldcraft combined with fire and movement.

Pinned Down

First to be pinned down was a patrol under Cpl. Don Markell, Brockville, which actually reached the objective.

Stutt sent the remainder of the company east to a ridge that should have commanded the enemy's position only to come under plunging fire from two higher spurs.

The company was unable to advance. Stutt said:

"Although we called down mortars, artillery and air rockets, the Chinese were still there when we attacked. If we had been fighting Germans, we would have been advancing today. Never in Italy or Germany were we under fire as intense as that. It was incredible! It chopped off bush briar at the six-inch level. Only fieldcraft carried us through."

Knock Out Post

Stutt pulled back Saturday to permit an air attack on the defenders, then had to fight his way back to his original position to launch an attack on the summit.

The initial assault, commanded by Sgt. Holigan, was pinned down 75 yards from the peak.

"We returned their fire and definitely knocked out one of their posts," said Holigan.

"But that fellow on the left—we called him Jackpot Jackson—boy, he could shoot! He hit our mortars after their second salvo. Then he shot two of our machine-gunners through the hand. We couldn't get him."

Closest to the Chinese were Pte. A. J. Sauve of Medicine Hat, Alta., L.-Cpl. Bill Nicholls of Toronto and Cpl. Bob Tuttle of Moose Jaw, Sask.

Meanwhile, Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone, the Patricia's commanding officer, decided the battalion was up against the enemy's principal defences and pulled back Stutt's company into a tight defence perimeter.

Selling Increases On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP). — Selling increased as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today and prices turned downward.

Industrials eased fractions after earlier mixed dealings. Papers led the way with a wide list of declines. Canadian Dredge, a strong gainer last week, was a standout with a $1 drop and Dominion Bridge was down $1.50.

Base metals completely reversed their broad advance of the forenoon and declined. Consolidated Smelters paced the list with a $2.50 drop and Hudson Bay was next with a loss of $1.25. Other losses were fairly small.

Western oils were mixed with small price changes.

Senior golds were mixed and narrow. Junior producers slipped pennies with little activity.

MORE ABOUT—
Reds Retreat

Retreating Reds fought only rearguard actions. Nevertheless, they lost another estimated 1,861 killed and wounded Sunday as United Nations forces advanced as much as 3½ miles.

Virtual Rout

The Red pullback from a threatened United Nations trap was so rapid that Lt.-Gen. Edward M. Almond, 10th Corps commander, called it "a virtual rout."

An estimated 14,000 Korean Reds escaped as a giant Allied pincers bogged down in deep mud left by heavy rains and an early thaw. They continued to flee northward Monday—in groups of 100 to 1,000—pounded by U.S. fighter-bombers.

Communists were also pressed by UN infantrymen, sometimes so far in advance of truck supply lines they had to get food and ammunition from air drops or Korean peasants with pack harnesses.

But Red Buildups, truck convoys slipping down from the north at night, and new entrenchments indicated the Communists were preparing to make a stand in the mountains ahead to halt the creeping advance of the 100,000-man UN army.

It is in this sector that the Canadian battalion, fighting alongside Australian and New Zealand infantrymen, face a force of about 2,000 Chinese. The Reds are entrenched along a ridge northeast of Allied-held Chipyong on the 9th Corps front between Seoul and Hoengsong.

The Reds reinforced their defences also on the far western front around battered Seoul, where two UN patrols were beaten back by heavy fire.

Send Reinforcements

From the north, the heaviest traffic in weeks was spotted rolling southward under cover of darkness, bringing new reinforcements and supplies.

One segment of the creeping advance by the 100,000 Allied force on the 60-mile central front was stopped cold by two counter-attacking Chinese battalions. The Chinese put up the fight, to keep UN forces from straddling a lateral road west of Hoengsong. Hoengsong, 50 miles east of Seoul, is the mid-section of the mired central front.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP). — Fairly heavy selling swept into wheat at the opening on the Board of Trade today and the bread cereal backed down a couple of cents. Other grains were weak.

Dealings were very active in wheat.

Wheat started 1⅜-2¼ cents lower, May $2.49½-¼; corn was ½-1½ lower, March $1.82, and oats were ¾-1⅛ lower, March $1.01. Soybeans were unchanged to 1½ cents lower, November $3.26-$3.25¼.

Gets Seven Days On Drunk Charge

A sentence of seven days was imposed on Lewers W. Deyell, 730 Monaghan Rd., when he pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of drunk driving.

Traffic Officer Harold Mesley said he investigated an accident with Constable Andre Dalton shortly after midnight Feb. 10 at Reid and Stewart Sts.

They found Deyell there is "a very drunken condition." Constable Mesley said Deyell nearly fell down two or three times and had to be suppoted. In the police station when he was left to stand alone, the accused staggered across the room against the wall. He smelled strongly of alcohol, he was bleary-eyed and his speech was thick.

Deyell's car was ordered impounded three months. A charge of careless driving against Deyell was withdrawn.

Escalator Clauses Likely In Contracts

OSHAWA, Feb. 26 — (CP).— Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), says he expects that when the United States announces wage controls this week, escalator clauses in contracts now in effect will enable future wage increases to be made.

"I predict that the new wage formula will allow us to keep our cost-of-living and improvement factor clauses," he told the union's Oshawa local Sundoy. "I have just come from Washington and we told them there in their own language that we would fight as hard to keep those benefits as we did to get them."

He said a guaranteed annual raise is the next goal of the UAW. The union also is working toward complete medical coverage for every member and his family and hopes to arrange $200-a-month pensions for retired automobile workers within 10 years.

The company offer and what further action is to be taken on it, will both be discussed at tonight's meeting.

DEER CROSSES HIGHWAY

Returning from a bantam hockey playoff game in Oshawa on Saturday afternoon, a busload of the McGillis Eaglets of this city had a thrill when a large doe crossed the highway in front of them about half mile the other side of Bailieboro. The deer easily cleared the fences on either side and trotted off toward a small wood, paying little heed to the highway traffic.

Artists' names will be announced as soon as the bookings are confirmed in New York.

Dollar Unchanged

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 — (CP)— The American dollar today opened at 4½ per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, unchanged from Saturday's close. That is, it took $1.04½ Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.92⅜, also unchanged.

Belisha Beacons

CALCUTTA — (CP). — This city is shortly to have pedestrian beacons similar to the "Belisha Beacons" in England. About 100 will be erected on Calcutta's busiest thoroughfares, Chowringhee, in addition to automatic traffic control lights at the important centres.

U.S. Prepared Defend Japan Against Reds

TOKYO, Feb. 26 (AP). — The United States served notice Sunday that it will fight to save Japan from any Communist threat.

This was the reaction in informed circles here to Washington's announcement that two American National Guard divisions will be sent to Japan next month to provide additional security.

The move marked swift implementation of promises made by Special Ambassador John Foster Dulles during his recent visit here to explore a peace treaty.

Dulles said that if Japan accepted American defence guarantees, an attack upon that country would be considered an attack upon the United States.

Not Replacements

The 40th and 45th Divisions, named as security troops for Japan, will be at least the first of the forces to be stationed in Japan under the projected agreement.

The informants made clear that the two divisions were assigned to Japan, not as replacements for troops in Korea.

They constitute merely a symbol of American power against the Soviet might arrayed in Asia but it is an important symbol. Until now the Japanese had only the careful words of Dulles as a defence assurance.

Assignment of these forces is part of the Western effort to protect against aggressive communism, informed sources said.

The effort to conclude defence agreements with Japan has been hastened by the Korean War.

Try To Foretell Doomsday Ever Since Noah's Forecast

By The Associated Press

Noah's forecast of one "End of the world," recorded in the Book of Genesis, really started something. Self-styled prophets have been trying to foretell doomsday ever since.

The latest, in British Columbia, was only one of a long series of such incidents. Mrs. Grace Agnes Carlson, grey-haired leader of the "Children of Light" who barricaded themselves in a farmhouse near Keremeos, B.C., expected the end of the world on Jan. 9. When it didn't end, they finally left to await "a manifestation from God."

Claas Epp, once leader of all the Mennonites in Russia, looked at his old wall clock one day in 1881 and noticed it had stopped with the hands pointing to eight and nine. That meant only one thing to Claas Epp, a man who had spent a lot of time thinking about the end of the world. The cataclysm, he decided, would come in 1889.

That year came and went, and the earth went on as before. Epp worried about this until he had a vision in which he was told the clock on the wall leaned to one side slightly. He straightened it and the hands pointed to nine and one. Epp announced the world would end in 1891. Again, nothing happened.

Ancients Too

The end of the world was anticipated as early as the second century. The Montanists, a sect of that era, made preparation for the approaching end the entire purpose of life.

They endured rigorous fasts, observed strict rules of chastity, and encouraged martyrdom as the best ways to get ready. They arbitrarily branded men and women suspected of being sinners and excluded them from their churches so that the buildings would be pure. The Montanists eventually split up and dwindled out of existence.

A lot of Bohemians expected the end of the world during the Hussite wars in the 15th century. Five cities were selected as favored places because, according to visions, they were to be spared. The movement gradually petered out after the religious furor of the Hussite wars simmered down.

Expected It

The Plymouth Brethren in Massachusetts specified no exact date for the end of the world, but they expected it. Their historian writes that the first Brethren considered it the wildest fantasy to think that the church would still be on earth three-quarters of a century later.

Americans got pretty stirred up about the end of the world in 1843 when William Miller, an earnest preacher, predicted the end would come sometime between March 21, 1843 and March 21, 1844.

More than 50,000 people took Miller at his word, sold their property for rock-bottom prices and lived in dread of the approaching doom. When the last day of March 1844 passed without untoward event, Miller expressed his disappointment.

"I confess my error," he said, "and acknowledge my disappointment, yet I still think the day of the Lord is near."

Lad Smashes Window

COBOURG, Feb. 26—(ENS)—Police have apprehended an 11-year-old lad who last week broke a store window and snatched an air rifle. The lad, after looking the situation over, secured a rock, broke the window and took the gun. Value of the air rifle was around $7 but a new window will cost $45. The boy was turned over to the children's welfare authorities.

Fix Up Deal Court Tells Man

COBOURG, Feb. 26 (ENS). — Garnet Stillman, aged resident of Castleton district, who was remanded until Saturday with instructions to get a job or go to the Home for the Aged, appeared in court on his remand date with the situation somewhat, but not entirely, improved.

He had been sleeping in near-zero weather in a barn at Castleton when picked up three weeks ago on a vagrancy charge and he was living on cakes and bologna bought at a country store. He told the magistrate that he would rather work than go to the Home for the Aged, and was advised to get a job and a decent place to stay.

"I've got a place lined up, but I don't know whether I want to sign on as hired hand for a year or not. I have got to make a deal on it," the old fellow reported on Saturday.

"I will give you another remand out of custody and you had better get your deal fixed up," the magistrate said.

Charge Russia Blocking Work

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 26 (AP)—The United States Sunday accused Russia and her satellites of using falsehoods, distortions and parliamentary tricks in the United Nations to block essential work, including relief for war-devastated Korea.

"The action of the Soviet delegates is another clear evidence that international co-operation for the benefit of human beings is not part of the Soviet program," said the U.S. Deputy Representative, Earnest A. Gross, in a formal statement.

The U.S. blast against the Soviet Union was prompted by reports reaching here of Russian delaying tactics at the meeting of the U.N. Economic and Social Council now going on in Santiago, Chile.

A spokesman said the U.S. delegation was especially disturbed because the Russian tactics had prevented the council from starting discussion of Korean relief which comes under its jurisdiction.

Norwood Eliminates Marmora In TVL Series

MARMORA, Feb. 26—(ENS)—The largest home crowd of the season, approximately 650, was on hand at Marmora arena Saturday evening when Marmora, through a third period rally, defeated Norwood 7-6.

The game was one of two to decide fourth position in the standing of the northern section of the Trent Valley League. Honors went to Norwood in the game on the previous night. Norwood will meet Campbellford on the latters' rink on Monday evening and play the second game in Norwood on Wednesday evening in the semi-finals.

For Norwood, Webb was outstanding with three goals and an assist. For Marmora, Trumble with two goals and three assists and Lavender with two goals and two assists led the scoring. Borland was taken out of the nets in the last minute in a vain effort to tie up the series.

Young Drinkers Nabbed In New Drive

KITCHENER, Feb. 26 — (CP) —Police, continuing their drive against youthful drinkers, arrested four youths here Saturday night. The quartet has been charged with drinking while under 21 years of age.

They are: William [illegible]ith, 19, Donald Bradd, 18, [illegible] Macauley, 18, Lawrence Bakin, 18, all of Hamilton.

Police said a 16-year-old girl decided to throw a party while her parents were away for the weekend and the four youths were arrested while the party was in progress.

It is understood police are contemplating charges against four girls and other charges against the youths. These may be laid later today.

Police called at the home and found a case of beer open on the living room floor. Police added that the group admitted having a "necking party" and dancing, with some of the boys having removed their shirts.

Police found two small children in bed at the time and police added that a 13-year-old boy had been allowed in the room where the beer was being consumed. Police said this may lead to juvjenile delinquency charges.

Police said another outcome of the raidwas the laying of a charge against Walter Oldenburg of Kitchener of keeping beer for sale. Two cases of beer and a case of port wine were seized at Oldenberg's home.

Unable To Swim Man Saves Son

NEW YORK, Feb 26—(AP)—Bruce Byrne, 6, fell into an open manhole, was swept through a 100-foot drainpipe into the East River, and was rescued Sunday by his 51-year-old father, Martin Byrne, who said he couldn't swim.

The father, walking with the boy, turned his head to say hello to someone. When he turned back, the boy had disappeared.

Looking down the manhole, he saw Bruce being pulled into the pipe by the rush of water.

He climbed down, but was unable to catch the boy before the current carried him through the pipe and out into the river.

Byrne waded through the three feet of water in the drainpipe and plunged from its opening in a retaining wall into the river.

Somehow he reached the boy and towed him back to the manhole, where bystanders pulled them out.

Does it cost much to "buy" a loan?	No. Niagara rates are reasonable, look at the chart and remember that on loans, up to $1,000, life insurance is included at no extra cost.
Does a friend have to "back" my loan?	No. Many Niagara friendly loans do not require endorsers or bankable security.
How many ways of borrowing are there?	You can use any of these four Niagara Loan plans: 1. On cars, trucks, etc.; only owner signs. 2. On husband-and-wife signatures. 3. On business equipment. 4. On farm stock and equipment.
Can I have a private interview with Niagara Finance?	Yes, your interview at Niagara will be private, courteous and above all, friendly.
Why do people borrow money?	A few of the reasons are: to consolidate a group of small debts; to meet special emergencies; for car and truck repairs; to repair or modernize homes; to enlarge a business; for seed, stock, fertilizer for farms; and to take advantage of low prices, when cash is paid.
Do many people borrow money?	Yes, 1 family in 7 every year.

Peterborough A Postal Centre

The statement last week by the Deputy Postmaster General, W. J. Turnbull, that the new Federal Building planned for Peterborough will be used as a training centre for new postal employees from many parts of east-central Canada is a puff for Peterborough. A Post Office which will be a staff college, no less! But local interest was roused chiefly by the implication in the announcement that really, at long last, the new post office and customs building would be built. Is that reading too much into Mr. Turnbull's statement?

* * *

Post Office officials at Ottawa would not commit themselves, even though the Department lists Peterborough's new building as "essential." Mr. Howe has already warned in the House of Commons that the shortage of steel and defence needs will severely restrict building projects. However, some assurance came Friday from Ottawa. An unnamed official of the Department of Public Works has suggested that tenders will be called for this summer. So we may still hope, and perhaps hope more brightly than we have done for the last forty years. It was nearly forty years ago that Peterborough was first promised a new building. That promise has been renewed time and again since. Last summer all was in readiness. Appropriations had been set aside in Parliament for the building. The site (long since bought) was cleared of its tenants, and any day we expected to see contractors at work. Then came the autumn and Korea.

* * *

Peterborough's new Post Office has always had a Korea: the first World War, the Great Depression, the Second World War, and in-between, M.P.'s to represent this riding who were on the wrong side of the House. It seems, in all fairness to Peterborough and its postal service, that if any public stone is laid anywhere in Canada except to put up a barrack it should be laid in Peterborough on the site of a new Federal Building. The Post Office should be built.

* * *

The Post Office department definitely has plans for it. It is to be a testing place for the newest of equipment (including some wonderful gadget called a "trans orma"—a huge robot which sorts letters quick as a wink). It is to be a proving ground for postal employees and a year's course of training will be instituted.

* * *

In the name of all that is right, proper and necessary, let us now, this year, have our new Federal Building. New? Actually, it is already about forty years old in local mythology.

Washington, C.D., and Washington, D.C.

On Thursday last, the Stars and Stripes of the United States flew over a little mining village in County Durham, England, in celebration of the birthday anniversary of the first President of the U.S. The incident could be regarded as celebration of a far earlier anniversary, when a man named William purchased the village of Washington, then styled himself William de Washington, and thus founded the family that gave George Washington to the United States and his name to its capital. And from devices on the coat of arms of the family came the United States flag, its seal and its national bird.

It was in 1183 that William of Hertbourne, a nearby village, bought Washington and leased Hertbourne to the Bishop of Durham. William then built a manor house of gray sandstone, and he and his descendants lived there for nearly two hundred years. They sold out in 1376, and on the deed of sale the Washington coat of arms appears: three Molets and two Stripes. A Molet represents the rowel of a spur, and thus appears as a five-pointed star. Earlier, the Washingtons had been granted their coat of an eagle with outstretched pinions.

The Washingtons then began to move around England, to Lancashire, Warwickshire, Westmoreland, to Kent, and finally to Northamptonshire, where they settled at Sulgrave Manor in 1540, about seventy miles from London. It was from there that John and Lawrence left for America in 1656, to settle in Westmoreland County, Virginia, where John's great-grandson George was born.

It seems strange that Washington, D.C., hasn't done more about Washington, C.D. There has been no lack of opportunity, for sixteen County Durham residents, who bought Washington Old Hall in 1935 have been working to restore it and present it as a living museum to the United States capital. Yet the Old Hall, which contains parts of William's manor house, remains virtually a ruin, open to wind and rain and protected only by the zealous men who have raised from both Americans and Britons about a tenth of the $80,000 estimated as the cost of restoring the Hall. It is true that Americans and Britons have far weightier matters on their minds today, but it is nevertheless regrettable that this magnificent link between their two nations remains unforged.

The Seaway Nearer?

Every President of the United States from Wilson to Truman has approved the extension of the St. Lawrence as a seaway from its gulf to the head of the Great Lakes. They have even urged that the seaway be completed. President Truman is no less energetic a proponent of the project than President Roosevelt. His Administration has been particularly urgent in the last two years. Recent remarks by the Secretary of State Mr. Acheson, the Secretary of Commerce Mr. Sawyer, and by the President himself, show their determination to do everything possible to get Congress to approve the Seaway without any further delay.

Canada has already given its official approval; its signature has been set down for a long time. Now that the U.S.A. is gearing for war in an impressively large and speedy way, and with the realization of the transport and hydro-electric defence uses of the Seaway, perhaps Congress will agree and work will begin. The exceedingly expensive Alaska Highway was built during war years, let it be remembered.

Peterborough's port, Port Hope, may indeed become a thriving and essential shipping centre. Our arguments against the tearing-up of the Port Hope-Millbrook line, based as some of them have been on the need for continued Peterborough rail connection with its port, have not been fanciful.

Has U.S. Defence Effort Been Greater Than Others?

The publicity, propaganda and Americanism which has been deluging across the Canadian border and flooding over even into Britain tends to make the Canadian reader feel that Uncle Sam has been providing the sweat and dollars to defend the bastions of western democracy and that by comparison Britain and Canada are shirkers. The London Economist has been moved to look into the camparative figures for 1950. The results are much less discreditable to the U.K. and even to Canada than American magazines would have us believe.

The salient figures are these, expressed as percentages of the national income of each country:

United States	6.9
United Kingdom	7.7

Another comparison worked out by the Economist relates to the ratio of men under arms. In this case the figures are of men in the armed forces as percentages of all men in each country between the ages of 18 and 44. Once again the figure is slightly in favor of the British:

United States	6.2
United Kingdom	7.0

If the Canadian figures are worked out, it will be noted that in both cases Canada lags behind its two great friends.

These figures are for 1950. Now that the great American industrial and war machine has begun to turn at full speed, the U.S. will be far in the lead. There let it remain.

Britain's and Canada's planned spending for defence this year is not as grandiose as the United States', but it is big enough, as we have already noted in these columns. In fact, according to a recent issue of Time magazine, the ubiquitous propagandist for war now, Canada heads the list of all other North Atlantic treaty countries in her projected defence spending: 40 per cent. of the total budget. Britain is spending, according to the Time report 21 per cent. of her budget. The United States, far ahead in actual money and in the percentage of their budget for defence, is dispensing 55 per cent. We do not know how Time arrived at the huge Canadian percentage, and suspect it is a higher figure than the fact warrants, but if it will salve the American readers, let them publish that figure abroad wherever they wish. We suspect that Canadians (whom Time terms "complacent" about the gravity of the international situation) are neither happy nor gratified to be even second to the U.S.A. in the budgetary percentage of spending for defence. The honour of top places in such a list is a mixed compliment.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The other day we heard a man speak straight from the shoulder. His speech would have sounded better if it had originated a little higher up.

News items tells of a man who claimed he didn't have enough money to buy a meal, but who was found to have three five-dollar bills concealed on his person. Well, it wasn't nearly as big a lie as it would have been a few years ago.

A Missouri court has ordered that a shipment of spinach be seized because it is defective. We have never eaten anything but the finest spinach, and the thought of what the stuff must be like when it is off colour appals us.

Musical Notes

by PETER PIPER

FIFTY years ago, on 27 January, 1901, at the ripe old age of eighty-seven, Guiseppe Verdi, one of the most important figures in opera, died. His father kept one of those drab little wineshops and general stores that one finds to the present day in any Italian village. His early life was a struggle against poverty, but his gifts soon secured him recognition and patronage. His output was copious and grew in mastery as the year went on. He was associated with the Risorgimento, the patriotic movement which converted Italy from a patchwork of states, some of them under foreign domination, to a modern kingdom. In fact his fame was so widespread at that time that his name was used as a slogan owing to the fact that it was composed of the initial letters of the phrase "Vittore Emmanuele Re D'Italia" (Victor Emmanuel King of Italy). Towards the end of his life he produced his two operas on Shakespearian themes "Otello" and "Falstaff". They represented a new advance and are generally recognized as his masterpieces. Apart from opera he composed a Requiem and some other religious music for chorus and orchestra, a string quartet and a few miscellaneous compositions.

❖ ❖ ❖

VERDI'S reputation has undergone a good deal of ups and downs in its time. He was recognized fairly early in his career in his native Italy, and his fame soon spread to other countries. Nevertheless there was some resistance at first to his idiom from audiences brought up on Bellini and Donizetti; they found his music noisy and brutal. Later in his career he was criticized by those superior souls who found his melodies banal, his orchestration too subservient to the voice ("like a guitar", and his critics), and his methods reactionary because he refused to be influenced, except in a very general way, by Wagner. At the present day, however, Verdi's stock is as high as it ever has been. The general public, of course, has accorded Verdi enthusiastic recognition all the time, but now the bulk of the "informed" critics have come to realize that Verdi stood for a saner and more balanced view of opera than Wagner, for all the towering genius of the latter.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE Italians, aided partly by their language, have always been pre-eminent in vocal music, though curiously enough they have never since the golden age of Palestrina distinguished themselves particularly in choral music. Instrumental music was much cultivated in Italy in the eighteenth century, but since that time interest in that branch has waned, and Italy has been singularly barren in instrumental composers. This interest in vocal music is centred round the opera, and Verdi, in the Italian tradition, retained the human voice as the focus of attention in the music drama. Wagner, who carried on the German tradition of instrumental music made the orchestra the main point of interest in his mature operas. It is true that he made heavy demands on vocal technique from his singers, but for most of the time they contribute very little to the musical texture. Passages such as the "Liebestod" from "Tristan und Isolde" are often played as orchestral pieces, the vocal part being simply omitted. It cannot be said that the Liebestod loses anything musically from the omission of the voice as such, though it does of course lose much through being wrenched from its context.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT is obvious to any student of Shakespeare that he was passionately interested in music. His plays are full of the most delightful songs, and background music is often required, especially in his comedies. Everybody knows the famous speeches in praise of the sister art, and although one should be always on one's guard in plays against attributing the sentiments of the characters to the author there is little doubt that these "purple passages" correctly express the views of Shakespeare himself. He uses quite a number of technical terms. The expression "dying fall", which is usually understood to be a piece of Shakespearian rhetoric is really the Elizabethan name for an appoggiatura—it is surely worth reviving. There are references also to well-known songs of the day such as "Greensleeves" and "The Carman's Whistle". There is no evidence to suggest that Shakespeare was skilled in music himself. Doubtless he would be able to sing a part in a madrigal after the fashion of most educated gentlemen of the period, but his attitude is more that of the enthusiastic amateur. He shows particular interest in the effect of music on the senses. It would be a mistake to attribute a profound knowledge of the art of music to Shakespeare on the grounds that he used certain technical terms. Anatole France ridiculed this type of criticism when he undertook in jesting mood to write a pamphlet of a hundred and fifty pages on Paul de Kock (a French novelist) as a tactician. France says, "I should find my text in 'Le Cocu' (one of de Kock's novels). In this novel there is an old soldier who trains a cockatoo to shout through its nose: 'Carry arms!... Present arms!... Shoulder arms!'... etc. My comments would be based thereon: Behold! What a marvellous warrior this Paul de Kock was. He was thoroughly acquainted with the military art. 'Carry arms!' is, in fact, the order given to a soldier when he must raise his rifle. I should continue as follows: On this matter we have collated a military manual of 1830; and on page 25, paragraph 3, we find the command. 'Carry arms!' This movement consists in raising the weapon with the right hand to the height of the shoulder, seizing it with the left hand, etc.... Thus I should exploit the whole psittacism of the learned bird."

❖ ❖ ❖

MUCH music for the films is worth listening to for its own sake alone. Music for the films by Vaughan Williams, William Walton and others features from time to time in orchestral programmes. My chief complaint about the use of music for the films is that there is usually too much of it. I do not particularly relish long conversations with a musical "background"—it sounds as though someone has carelessly left the radio on. The other day I saw Somerset Maugham's "Trio", which I found a most delightfully civilized entertainment. The music, however, was not very distinguished. In one scene, where the character is seen on arrival at a Scottish village railway station the orchestra plays a few bars of "Loch Lomond". I would have expected a more subtle touch than this. As the rest of the action took place in the same locality we were spared further musical signposting of this order!

Letters To The Editor

PROTESTS AGAINST NEW MARKET SITE

Sir: I would be pleased if you could find space to voice my objections, with reference to the city Council, who were elected by the citizens of Peterborough, in good faith that they do their best for the city and electors. But I feel how that they have disposed of the beautiful gift made by the Nicholls family, they now have turned their attention to the gift made to the city and farming community over 100 years ago; they now wish to drive the farmers off the market, but are willing to let them spend their money in town.

I think it is one of the smallest things they could do, to begrudge the farmer seven hours out of 168 per week, to sell their produce, and also the citizens the privilege of purchasing the same. Had they chosen a suitable place to transfer them to I would say quite alright, but the place they have chosen, a decent farmer wouldn't think of putting a pig pen on it; it is nothing but a dirty filled in dump, and I would like to draw the citizens' attention to the fact that it is not at George and Rink streets as we are led to believe, but back behind the lacrosse field and next to the old ice house; there are no sidewalks or conveniences of any kind. Now, Mr. John Public, raise your protests before it is too late, it is the interests of all of us at stake. If it goes through, it will be one of the meanest deals a city council could hand to the citizens' as a whole and also the farming community.

A PETERBOROUGH WELL WISHER

BUS DRIVERS' BLUES

Sir: Peterborough bus drivers may be provoking the ire of a majority of the bus riding public. But take it from a man of authority; a bus driver has a very busy job.

This was stated by Magistrate R. J. Gillen as he dismissed a charge of theft against a bus driver at Brantford.

Two detectives had testified that they had ridden on the bus and had not received ticket stubs after tendering their cash fares.

In summing up the case Magistrate Gillen said: "A bus driver has a very busy job . . . He has to stop, open doors, let people on and off and make change, and in the operation had two investigators making notes of his actions. . . I'm sure they had lots to see. . . The thought strikes me . . . How long could a driver continue on the job with an audience able to see his actions, and still be misconducting himself? . . . What would be in his mind? I don't like the picture of the whole thing. Charge dismissed."

No mention was made as to whether the buses were running on schedule or not.

BIBLE TRANSLATION

Sir: I do not agree with the editorial in your paper Feb. 21/51 entitled "Why Shouldn't the Bible be hard to Understand."

The Bible records that when Jesus spoke the people understood, for his speech was plain, simple, and to the point. The Bible was mainly written for the common people, for at Mark 12:37 it says, "And the common people heard him gladly." The majority of the higher ups with all their education heard but did not understand.

The Apsotles and Bible writers ranged from Kings down to uneducated fishermen, farmers, tentmakers, carpenters, etc.

Ever since the Bible was first written there have been many objections raised in having it brought up to date in modern language for the people.

Many religionists of the English speaking realm are inclined to think that the Bible as a book originated in a manner purely miraculous. They have a hazy notion that it was written in heaven, in English of course, divided there into chapters and verses, with cross references and marginal notes and then sent by an angel to the earth. They skittishly shy away from the American Standard Version and other modern translations of the Bible, thinking that their religiously venerated King James Bible is the only true Bible. They fail to realize that the King James Version is a comparative youngster, being in 1951 only 340 years old, whereas the first writing of Scriptures occurred as far back as 3463 years ago. An English language did not even exist then.

For you to charge modern Bible translation in such a manner means for you to indict also all the English translators from the fourteenth century translator John Wycliffe down till those today. Yes, you indict all Bible translation from the very beginning, and you set yourself in opposition to Jesus' prophetic command: "This gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations." Mat. 24:14. For this could be accomplished only by translating the Bible which God originally gave us.

At the present time King James' Version has a drawback which it did not have originally, in that some of the words used in it are now unintelligible, as Wot for know; or different in meaning today, as prevent for precede. Its style of translating is rather literal than free, which is an advantage for analystical study but a drawback for straight reading. No doubt the translators were hindered in their translating by the king's instruction to keep ecclesiastical words such as bishop, deacon, etc. The text from which the King James Version was made was the Masoretic Hebrew, and the Greek text represented largely the Ecclesiastical or Byzantine Recension. Another fault of the King James Version is the unnecessary number of words used to translate the same original word in different places.

You must remember that the truth is most important and should come closest to the orfginal understanding as possible given by Jehovah's God. King James is the most popular today, but among the Catholic, Dovay Version published two years before King James Version is the most popular. The American Standard Version, published 1901, is the most popular Modern English Bible.

All have their advantages and disadvantages but by diligent comparison you are able to increase your understanding "Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is." Eph. 5:17.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches. (Prov. 13: 7.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainty meats. For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he....

Apply thine heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge. (Prov. 23: 6, 7, 12.)

❖ ❖ ❖

O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me....If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light about me....

How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee....

Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting. (Ps. 139: 1, 11, 17, 18, 23, 24.)

COMMUNIST MEAT PLANS

Plan To Rebuild Sudbury Hotel

SUDBURY, Feb. 26—(CP)—Charles Davis, owner of the Frontenac Hotel whose second and third floors were gutted in a four-hour blaze Friday night and early Saturday, said Sunday rebuilding will start this wek.

Neither owner Davis nor manager S. J. Kingsley could give any estimate of damage to the structure which had an assessed value of $68,000. But inspection Sunday showed the entire third floor and roof as well as parts of the second floor would require rebuilding. Water damage to the rest of the structure appeared to be heavy.

More than three feet of water was pumped out of the basement of the building Saturday.

Tries Murder-Suicide Police Believe

SUDBURY, Feb. 26 (CP)—Felix Bourgeous, 42-year-old Sudbury man who received a bullet wound in the mouth with the slug lodging in the neck, was reported in good condition Sunday in hospital there.

Bourgeous was said to be "improving nicely" after what police call an attempted murder-suicide.

The shooting took place Friday night. Bourgeous managed to drag himself from his home, where the shooting took place, across the road to a neighbor's.

Police found Leon Roy, Bourgeous' stepfather, dead in the kitchen from an apparently self-inflicted bullet wound in the right temple.

Krupp Seeking Canadian Ally

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP)—A Montreal paper Saturday said it has learned that the German Krupp munitions empire soon will enter heavy equipment industry with an eye on the Canadian market.

The newspaper said reliable sources reported that Krupp is seeking to ally itself with a Canadian company which would act as a servicing and sales channel for large-scale manufacturing projects.

It quoted W. J. Keating, one-time head of Keating Forging and Foundry Company, of Montreal, as saying he had been negotiating with Krupp for "several months" and that the German company planned to concentrate on prefabricated bridges, heavy transport equipment and possibly a new-designed type of Diesel engine.

FIRST-TERM MAN—William Richard Kent, 45, is Liberal member of parliament for the Newfoundland constituency of Humber-St. George's. Mr. Kent is a lawyer, a former magistrate and one-time deputy secretary of justice for the island province. Married, with one daughter, he was first elected to the Commons in 1949.

Talks Avert Montreal Strike

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP) — A strike of more than 500 dressing and dyeing workers in five Montreal fur companies was averted by last-minute negotiations, Jack Brierley, Montreal manager of the International Fur and Leather Workers' Union, said Sunday.

The strike deadline was midnight, Saturday.

Mr. Brierley said the Canadian district director, Robert Haddow, hadn't returned to Montreal yet from Toronto, Winnipeg and Oshawa, where he went to sit in at 11th-hour negotiations during the weekend.

In all, 15 Canadian firms and some 1,400 workers were involved in the dispute for higher wages and improved working conditions. Major demands were a 25-cent hourly wage boost, three additional paid statutory holidays each year and a second week's vacation with pay after three years' service.

NEWFOUNDLAND M.P. — Gordon Francis Higgins is Progressive Conservative member of the House of Commons for the Newfoundland constituency of St. John's East. A lawyer, he was born in St. John's in 1905, the son of a former Newfoundland attorney-general. Mr. Higgins was a member of the Newfoundland delegation that went to Ottawa to discuss terms of confederation. He was first elected to the Commons in 1949.

Marmora Church WA Plans Bee

MARMORA, Feb. 26 —(ENS)— Almost the full number of members answered the roll call of St. Paul's Women's Auxiliary on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. R. Pearce. The president, Mrs. W. D. Lavender, was in the chair.

The special litany from the "Living Message" and the members' prayer were used after which Mrs. R. Frost took the scripture reading from the 12th chapter of St. John's gospel. The secretary, Mrs. F. Leal, read the report of the last Diocesan Board meeting and the treasurer, Mrs. W. M. Regan, gave the financial statement. Mrs. Don Ross reported for the Dorcas work.

Following discussion, it was decided to hold a quilting on Tuesday as a contribution to the bale to be setn in June.

A letter on the year's activities at New Life Sanatorium, Obuse, Japan, received from Miss Cellia A. Benns, Reg. N., of that hospital's staff, was read by Mr. W. J. Cottrill. Believe Marshal Tito's Army Can Defeat Russ Satellites

By RONALD PRESTON

BELGRADE, Feb. 26 —(Reuters)—Informed Yugoslav sources consider Marshal Tito's army—the largest in Europe outside Russia—capable of repulsing the combined forces of her Soviet satellite neighbors.

The 30-division army would not, however, be able to repel the four satellites backed by substantial Russian forces.

But Red army intervention, these same circles believe, would bring speedy Western reaction and world war. They discount the possibility of a Yugoslav Korea, at least during 1951.

They believe any attack would more likely come as part of a war against the West.

Faced with the combined forces of Russia and her southeast European satellites, the Yugoslavs would withdraw into the mountain strongholds in the south. Tito and his partisan guerrilla fighters held out there successfully against vastly-superior Axis forces in the Second World War.

Depend on Support

This would mean abandoning Belgrade and the country's breadbasket. Continued survival would depend on support in arms and supplies from the West.

Further, satellite rearmament with Russian aid is advancing rapidly, while that of Yugoslavia, which relies on its own small armaments industry, is falling slightly.

At present, the two sides are about level; but eventually the satellites will be ahead. Optimistic Western observers set the deadline at between one and two years.

Have 400,000 Men

Present Yugoslav forces are believed to total about 400,000 men. Full mobilization would raise this to about 900,000.

Tito estimates Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary have 660,000 men. Full mobilization might more than double this figure. Albania, the smallest of the Soviet satellites, would produce another 40,000 men.

The Yugoslav army's main weakness is armament. It possesses only a hodge-podge of wartime German, Soviet and Allied weapons and equipment.

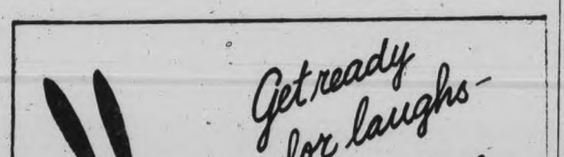
Says Best Memorial To Give Service

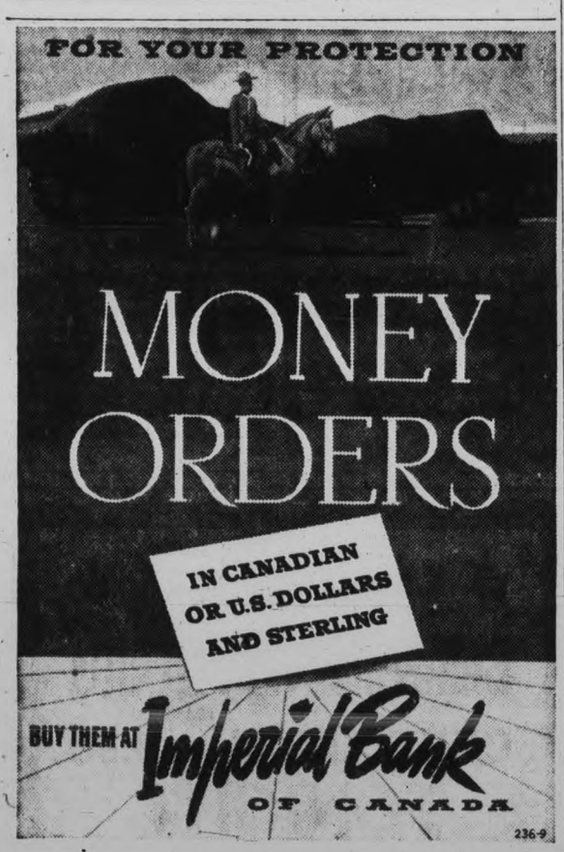
MONTREAL, Feb. 26—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said in an address Saturday that the best way to honor the memory of men who have died in Canada's armed forces is by service to the country and to the cause for which they gave their lives.

Speaking at the unveiling of a plaque honoring 97 former students of Thomas D'Arcy McGee High School here who died in the Second World War, the Defence Minister said:

"The freedom they fought for and won for us is the same freedom for which we must be prepared to work and fight for . . . give our lives."



100,000 Casualties



TOKYO, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Far East air force announced Sunday it has inflicted 100,000 casualties on the enemy since the start of the Korean war—more than two-thirds of them in the last three months. Air losses were listed as a total of 152 personnel killed, 206 missing, three captured and 178 wounded. Plane losses due to enemy action were given as 130 fighters, 15 bombers, eight transports, and 12 miscellaneous craft, making a total of 165.

Stresses Justification Of Seeking Sales Tax

MONTREAL, Feb. 26—(CP)—Justice Minister Garson said in an address here Saturday that the provinces of Canada were "more than justified" in seeking the right to impose an indirect sales tax because of the large increase in cost for satisfying demands for provincial and municipal services.

Addressing a Reform Club luncheon, Mr. Garson said another important reason justifying the provinces seeking such taxes was the recent development in federal-provincial relations.

"Some provinces and municipalities have a real need for the revenue which such a tax would produce for them. Provincial fiscal needs, of course, vary and it is possible and it is indeed probable that not all provinces will need to take advantage of this to levy the proposed tax."

Given Remand In Bat Slaying

INGERSOLL, Feb. 26—(CP)—Facing a manslaughter charge arising out of the death Saturday morning of 62-year-old William Wells, Charles A. Metcalfe, 27, was remanded to Woodstock jail Saturday to await preliminary hearing. It is alleged Wells died from a blow on his head Friday night by a baseball bat in the hands of the accused who occupied an adjoining apartment.

An autopsy on the body was performed Sunday by Dr. J. L. Penesten of Stratford.

Wells is survived by his widow, a son Harold Hayes, Toronto, and a sister, Elizabeth Wells, Cobourg.

3 Die In Crash

TOKYO, Feb. 26 (Reuters)—All three persons aboard were killed instantly Sunday night when an American Air Force Commando plane crashed into the hills in an attempted landing at an airfield in southwest Japan, it was announced today.

1 CUT DOWN SWEETS

2 TAKE BILE BEANS

NEW INGREDIENT TRYCOL* HELPS BILE BEANS DISPOSE OF FAT

EASY TO FOLLOW BILE BEAN PLAN

Bile Beans contain a therapeutic dose of Trycol (Sodium Tauroglycochol); this new ingredient in Bile Beans helps dispose of fat by stimulating biliary secretion.

An overweight condition can be caused by one of two reasons or a combination of both. (a) A glandular condition which only a competent physician is able to treat; (b) a person's inclination to eat too much starchy foods such as highly refined white bread, pies, cakes, candy and sugar.

Strict diets are hard to follow but many people can lose pounds merely by cutting out such trimmings as highly sweetened desserts, candy, etc. Eat your regular meals, meat, eggs, vegetables, etc., don't eat between meals and guard against irregularity.

1 CUT DOWN SWEETS
2 TAKE BILE BEANS

This plan has made it possible for thousands of people throughout the world to control bloat, flatulence, and irregularity. (Over five million boxes sold last year.)

Bile Beans should be taken only when needed, they are laxative in action as well as a biliary stimulating, fat disposing agent.

You may experience some discomfort for the first few days when cutting down sweets, but soon your regular meals will satisfy you without the necessity of sweets. Five days after you have started the plan you will wonder why you never tried it before.

NEW 25¢ SIZE MAKES PLAN POSSIBLE FOR EVERYONE

So that everyone may try this exciting plan we are offering for the first time a special 25c package of Bile Beans containing 16 pills.

Oddfellows Tie Up Series By Beating Lindsay, 8 To 4

By FRED MAYBEE.

Bun Kingdon's flying Oddfellows squared accounts with Lindsay Kinsmen here Saturday night in their best-of-five semi-final Junior B hockey series. The score was 8-4 and the locals deserved the verdict in a brilliant display.

More than 1,200 fans cheered as Oddfellows, playing in top form, came from behind midway in the first frame to overcome a two-goal advantage achieved by Ken Schinkel, star Kinsmen forward, and went on to completely subdue their game but weary opponents to the finish.

Fastest Yet

It was the fastest and hardest-fought game of the season, rugged throughout, with neither team asking nor giving quarter. A total of 18 penalties were meted out by Referees Wilson and Love, with iKnsmen drawing 11, including a match misconduct to Corley in the final for pushing Wally Wilson, as tempers grew hot in the torrid battle. There were no fights and though rough, the game was free of injuries on either team..

Bob Wyatt's return to full-time action after a recent serious shoulder injury, proved an inspiration to his mates, but first honors in a great showing must go to the Douglas-Doris-Floyd trio, who garnered 11 scoring points in this game. Floyd playing his finest game, tallied twice with a pair of assists, while crafty Lefty Doris potted one and assisted thrice. Smooth Ray Douglas hit the king-row once and set up two.

Started It Off

Gary Robinson, who chose a good time for his best showing of the season, started Links in the first as he banged in brother Brian's rebound near the left crease on a lightning thrust after Schinkel had given Kin the early lead. Doris next combined with Douglas and Floyd on a fast ganging attack to whisk a low one past McGuire and tie it up as the teams steamed up to a terrific clip on fast ice.

Dean West, who played his usual fine game, put Links ahead on a great play, set up by Jim Morrow, hard-working winger, who sailed over the line, passed back to West, who fired a long, low drive to the extreme left corner to bring the crowd to its feet.

Herb. Baker equalized two minutes later on a breakaway with Corley to give Wasson no chance on a high hard one, but Don Clapper fired a fast one from the left blue line seconds later from Doris that Kenny Floyd pasted into the mesh as the hectic two-way battle surged on. Near period's end West took Stewart's long pass to the right blue line and sailed in alone to beat McGuire on the short side. It was a pretty play.

Kept Hustling

The finale saw no let-up as Oddfellows outplayed the visitors by a wide margin, swarmed around the rival cage and rifled three for one past the harassed McGuire as Floyd, Stewart and Douglas each found the range, with Karry's long drive past Wasson early in the frame, the only Kin tally.

Links' defence foursome of Shearer, Wasson, Armstrong and Don Clapper gave an outstanding performance to earn praise from the large crowd. For Lindsay, the work of Ken Schenkel, Arnold Karrys, Herb Baker, Vic Corley, Don Sinclair, Dick Walling, and Jim Lucas was worthy of note, with every man giving his best.

Lindsay: Goal, McGuire; defence, Lucan, Shervington; centre, G. Vasey; wings, Hall, Dysart; alternates, Karrys, Corby, Baker, Schinkel, Powell, Sinclair, Green, Walling, Foshay.

IOOF: Goal, R. Wasson; defence, Clapper, Armstrong; centre, West; wings, Wyatt, Morrow; alternates, Douglas, Stewart, Floyd, B. Robinson, G. Robinson, Doris, D. Wasson, Shearer, Batley.

Bruins Bow Out To Mormons In Hoop Series

Clapper's Bruins were eliminated Saturday night at the YMCA from further OABA Intermediate "A" basketball for this year although they edged the youthful Hamilton Mormons 81-78. The Mormons took the first game of the points-to-count series in Hamilton a week ago 63-41 and therefore won the round 141-122.

Late in the first half when the Bruins' shooting was far off the mark, the Mormons lengthened their lead on the round from 22 to 34 points and at the half were up in the game 41-32 and on the round by 31. The Bruins only once failed to whittle the round lead under 19 points and then at the first of the game when they led the Mormons 15-8.

The first half was spoiled by the large number of fouls called. Bill Edger led the Bruins in the opening minutes for fast-breaking plays but their lead disappeared as their play became disorganized under pressure of poor shooting.

The Mormons then gave the Bruins a lesson in field shooting. Holmes, Gleave and Shepherd dropped in 27 points between the shooting from all angles with hook- bucket and one-hand shots. Holmes' specialty there was the layup shots, grabbing the rebounds out of the Bruins' hands.

Good Work

Doug. Plunkett at the start of the second half revived the Bruins with a stellar display of checking and offensive work. The Bruins with Joe Stewart, Warren Smith and Plunkett scoring finally overtook the Mormons at 51-50. From there in the lead changed hands eight times until the Bruins went up 64-60 as the foul shots counted in the close checking.

Plunkett continued to check close, sneaking the ball and dribbling in for points. But the Mormons' Gleave matched him as the score went 66-all, 68-all, and 72-all. Here Chum Gillespie came through with several long field baskets which dropped through the hoop without touching the rim. Joe Stewart made the score 77-76 and 79-76 with fast grab checks and quick breaks. He combined with Smith for the final basket.

Mormons' Gleave led the scoring with 20 points, one more than the Bruins' Plunkett who scored all in the second half. Warren Smith placed third racking up 16 points.

Last week the Bruins ended with only three men on the court for the last five minutes. Saturday night they had five but no alternates. Spark-plug in the early first half, Bill Edger, was first to leave. He was followed late in the second by Gord Burns. Neilson and Holmes left with five personals for the Mormons in the second half's close play.

Water on the knee forced the Bruins' leading scorer, Ab Stewart, to sit on the sidelines. This left the Bruins with only seven players to start. Lineup:

Hamilton Mormons (78) — Holmes 13, Neilson 5, Gleave 20, Anderson 7, Lauder 10, Shepherd 13, Redd 8, Bassett 2, Randall.

Clapper's Bruins (81)—Burns 9, Plunkett 19, Smith 16, Dibben 8, Edger 10, Gillespie 6, Stewart 13.

Local Players Just Miss In Badminton

Though finalists in ladies' singles, men's doubles, mixed doubles and senior men's doubles, Peterborough badminton players failed to take a crown in the Central Ontario championship tourney Saturday at Trenton 6 R.D. They did win the men's consolation doubles and the mixed consolation doubles. The tourney ladies' singles was won by E. Martin of Port Hope, as E. Neilson of Bowmanville took the men's event. Ladies' doubles went to Harvey and Armstrong of Port Hope, with Kent and Neilson of Bowmanville being men's doubles champion, while James and Slemon of Bowmanville captured the mixed doubles. Play was very keen throughout and the entry was large.

THE RESULTS:

Ladies Singles

Martin of Port Hope defeated Charlton of Peterborough.

Mens Singles

Neilson of Bowmanville won over Chambers of Oshawa.

Ladies Doubles

Armstrong and Harvey of Port Hope beat Martin and Martin also of Port Hope.

Mens Doubles

Kent and Neilson of Bowmanville defeated Baker of Peterborough and Harvey of Port Hope.

Mixed Doubles

Mrs. James and Slemon of Bowmanville defeated Baker and Baker of Peterborough.

CONSOLATION

The ladies singles was won by D. Jennings of Port Hope; mens singles by Tighe of Bowmanville; Ladies Doubles by Jennings of Port Hope and Candler of Bowmanville; Mens Doubles by Elmsley and Taylor of Peterborough and the Mixed Doubles by Mrs. Elmsley and Taylor of Peterborough.

The senior Mens Doubles an added event this year was won by James and Brough of Bowmanville who defeated Collingwood and E. Johnston of Peterborough.

Collegians Lose Tilt To Regiopolis, 37-26

PCVS' juvenile entry in the OABA lost the first game of its series with Regiopolis College of Kingson Saurday night 37-26. The Eastern Ontario representatives will bring the 11-point lead to PCVS Saturday night for the second game of the two-game points-to-count series. Two years ago PCVS won the Canadian championship.

In Lindsay a PCVS team, composed of senior "B," junior "B" and bantam "B" players, was edged by Lindsay collegiate 37-30. Toronto Earl Haig collegiate defeated Lindsay collegiate's seniors 39-20 in an exhibition game.

Coach Bev Goulding's team in Kingston fell behind with low-scoring efforts in the seond and third quarters, scoring only eight points in the 16 minutes. PCVS led at the quarter 7-5 but went behind at the half 19-10. Regiopolis again outscored PCVS in the third 11-5. The Garnet and Grey rallied in the fourth but only outpointed Kingston 11-7.

Scoring efforts by Regiopolis' Francis with 18 points and Martin with 11 were enough to down PCVS. Jim Hendry led the Garnet and Grey with six points.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Gordie Howe of Detroit is still in possession of first place in the National Hockey League individual scoring race, a full 17 points ahead of his nearest contender. But Montreal's Maurice Richard, who garnered two goals and two assists in Saturday night's game, now is tied for second spot with Howe's team-mate, Sid Abel.

Howe has 31 goals and 39 assists for a total of 70 points, Richard, the league-leading goal-getter, has 36 goals, 17 assists for a total of 53, while Abel has 20 goals and 33 assists for the same total—53.

The leaders:	G	A	Pts.
Howe, Detroit	31	39	70
Richard, Montreal	36	17	53
Abel, Detroit	20	33	53
Schmidt, Boston	19	32	51

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Toward the end of October in 1950, the OHA senior "B" schedule commenced—after a few earlier exhibition games here. The four-months grind winds up at Civic Arena tonight at 8.30 when Belleville Redmen play the Eagles. After that, the playoffs are set to go. The Eagles still have that mathematical chance of finishing second (for a series with Petes to declare an Allan Cup contender), but they must win here tonight, and Nylons must lose this eve to Queen's. The Quinte columnist calls tonight's tilt a preview of the group semi-final playoffs. In any case, Eagles will be doing their utmost to down Wally Bent's Redmen, and it should be a swell scrap.

* * * * * *

Convener Lorne Cook of Kingston has sent up the play-off schedule for the senior "B" grouping under his jurisdiction. It calls for Nylons (if they finished second) to play the Petes here in the opener of a best-of-five series Wednesday night, then back in Kingston on Friday and here again next Monday. If Eagles finish in third spot, they open their senior "B" group best-of-five semi-finals with Belleville here this Friday, back there next Monday and here again the following Wednesday. Every other day, barring Sundays, till a winner is declared. Top series sends the winner into "A" company and Allan Cup playdowns, the loser then returning to "B" group finals against the survivor of the other series.

* * * * * *

Oldtimers All Ready

Lest we forget, Red Creighton phoned to say the Oldtime Petes would challenge the junior Oddfellows to a game around the middle of March to aid the PMHA-ers. Red says he'll line up the old gents —they're not exactly broken-down relics yet—if the challenge is accepted. He'll have Ray Harding in goal; Don Crowe, Drake Jopling, Jim Ellis and Jack (Smoke) Gardner for defence; and Bun Kingdon, Art Heal, Honey Tompkins, Red himself, Don Coughlin and Les Burton up front. "With Ray in goal," the irrespressible Robert the Red remarked, "we'll show these juniors how hockey should be played." Okay, Les Mountney, this attraction is offered gratis if you want it.

* * * * * *

Fred Maybee has drawn up the official scoring standings of the leaders in the OHA junior "B" grouping up this way at the end of the schedule. We'll only mention a few here. Etcher of Oshawa led the way with 42 points, Campbell for Port Hope being next with 39. Dean West of the Oddfellows here was a close third with 38, and Bob Wyatt, despite being side-lined for a time, was right up there, also, with 36. Then it was Downey of the Ports, Corley of Lindsay and Jim Morrow of the Kingdon crew. West and Downey led in actual scoring with 21 goals as Etcher had most assists, 26. Tripp of Belleville had top average of 2.8, and the West-Wyatt-Morrow line was tops as a trio in the group. Some good boys coming up soon to senior "B" ranks here, if not a pro tryout, maybe.

* * * * * *

IOOF-ers Even It Up

More than 1,200 fans whooped it up at the junior "B" semi-final playoff Saturday eve in Civic Arena as Oddfellows downed Lindsay 8-4. It ties their best-of-five series at a game each, next one being in Scugogville on Tuesday and then back here for another Saturday night setto. The Links, bolstered with the return of Bob Wyatt, didn't fool—they hustled every minute in a speedy, rugged tilt, and earned the duke all the way. The Douglas-Doris-Floyd line was exceptionally good, but the whole crew played hard hockey and, if they keep that pace up, they'll oust the classy Kin and step blithely into group finals. But they'll have to give it all they have in the two playoffs this week.

* * * * * *

Our minor puckists came through in swell style down in Oshawa on Saturday, knocking three Motor City teams into the discard in OMHA series. Johnny Godfrey's juvenile "A" IOOF-ers won 7-1 to take the round 15-4, Ferguson, Gooley and Sullivan shining for the victors. Al Watkins' midget Marines drew 4-all to capture their series 11-6, as Kearns, McDougall, Corbett and Gardner stood out. The McGillis Eaglets (coached by Jack Byers) drew 2-2 in the bantam battle but yanked out the round score 6-3, Godfrey, Heffernan, Rusaw and Floyd being among the better ones of the winners. All three teams turned in smart, fast and real clean hockey as compared to a rough-house and futile 'ash-ion of play by the Oshawa outfits.

Marines Gain First Fray Over Sounders

With sights on the OABA Intermediate "B" basketball championship, the Marines outclassed the Owen Sound Royals Saturday night at the YMCA 80-55. This gives the Marines a 25-point lead in the two-game points-to-count series which is likely a quarter-final. The return game will be Saturday.

In the passing, checking and scoring, the Marines were supreme throughout. Owen Sound's passing was poor as they tossed without looking for a receiver and usually the Marines took possession. The short floor seemed to bother them especially in the first half.

Doug MacPherson was again the kingpin of the Marines' defence and offence. He controlled the backboard and was strong on interceptions during the game. Bill Trimm worked well on the defence near the end of the game.

Jim Led Way

Thorburn with a mixture of his famous hook and one hand shots easily led the scoring with 25 points while team-mate Ted Payne racked up 20. Rocky Kidd worked fiendishly on the defence, checking closely, and had massed 14 points when he left with five fouls at 60-38 for the Marines.

S. Hamilton led the Royals' scoring with 13 points. Teammates Faubert had 10 and Binkley 11. The remainder of the scoring was well spread between the other players.

Interception of passes by Doug MacPherson and sneak-checking by Ted Payne held the Royals down in the first half. Payne, Thorburn and Kidd worked the score up to 22-18 and then Payne with long shots and Kidd with close-in work put the Marines up 38-23 at the half.

Bill Trimm and Doug MacPherson stymied the Royals' offensive plays in the early second half. They drifted long floor-length passes to Thorburn and Payne in the clear. Kidd contined to plague Owen Sound with his close checks. S. Hamilton and W. Binkley brought Owen Sound closer with field baskets from the keyhole area.

Fred Plato, one of the Marines' top scorers, was away for this game but will return for Saturday's game in Owen Sound.

The Owen Sound Royals are Georgian Bay District winners, victorious over the Orillia Collegiate Grads in a two-game points-to-count series by one point. The winner of the Owen Sound-Marines game will advance into the semi-finals likely against the Toronto district winner.

Lineups:

Owen Sound (55)—Binkley 11, MacCallum 3, Faubert 10, Georgas 7, McLeroron 5, Murphy 3, Bonner, Hamilton 13, Matheson 4.

Marines (80)—Payne 20, MacPherson 5, Thorburn 25, Kidd 14, Büttcher, Dadson 8, Trimm 8.

Oddfellows Clip Oshawa 7-1,

In a lightning-fast juvenile tussle Johnny Godfrey's Oddfellows swamped Oshawa 7-1 to take the first playdown round 15 to 4. The game played Saturday morning at the Motor City arena produced clean, clever hockey, and labelled the winners as strong contenders for an Ontario title.

The winners have speed, weight, and a smooth-working system of teamwork that is hard to compete against effectively. They show good coaching and refused to be sucked into the corners or left flatfooted by fast-breaking plays.

One line of Ferguson, Pammett and Sullivan clicked well, and perhaps the outstanding individual player was Ab Caravaggie who appeared tireless. Mike Gooley, Spencer Hope and Mike Buchan had a share of the spotlight, and along with Sullivan should attract more than a passing glance from the senior coaches and scouts. Paul Doris, Cupoli and Kimball, a husky fellow all played fine hockey.

McTavish was the stand out player for Oshawa, with Woodnichy and Sutton showing up well. Knight in goal had a rough time, but despite the score gave a splendid performance.

The teams:

Oshawa—Knight, Burr, Johnson, Boneham, Woodnichy, Sutton, Shearer, Hewitt, Myles, Hughes, McTavish, King, Wilson, Keetch.

Oddfellows—Bryan, Brioux, Buchan, Hope, White, Doris, Ferguson, Pammett, Sullivan, Cupoli, Kimball, Jones, Gooley, Caravaggie.

Scoring summary:

First Period

Peterborough, Ferguson (Sullivan, Pammett); Ferguson (Pammett, Sullivan).

Penalties—Sutton, Shearer 2.

Second Period

Peterborough, Gooley (Buchan, Caravaggie); Gooley (Caravaggie), Sullivan (Pammett); Hope.

Third Period

Peterborough, Cupoli (Doris); Oshawa, Woodnichy.

Penalties—Gooley, Kimball.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

There is going to be a lot of curling this coming week—here and at other clubs in the district. Besides our own schedule games we have the Merchants' bonspiel, 28 rinks, all day Wednesday. And on Thursday, the Colts competition for this district is on.

Saturday afternoon it's the men's bonspiel and Saturday evening the first round of the annual mixed rink 'spiel for the Sturgeon triphy. Not bad for one week!

We understand that there are several rinks from this club taking in the all-week mixed rink bonspiel at Lindsay.

Mrs. O. M. Steer, Mrs. E. Welbourn, Mrs. R. Miller and Mrs. C. Elliott are curling today and tomorrow at Oshawa in the ladies' bonspiel

V. Brown, F. Rankin, C. Johnson and K. Bissett were the winning skips in Saturday's 'spiel.

The winning skips in the evening were Dr. M. McCartney and S. Lowe.

Just in passing—we are wondering how many curlers really know what marred stone is?

McGillis Eaglets Tie Oshawa 2-2, Take Round 6-3

Oshawa bantams threw a scare into the McGillis Eaglets Saturday morning when they came within one goal of tying the round before the locals started to click. They lacked the power however and the Petes held them to a 2-all tie to win the first playdown round in the Bantam OMHA 6-3. They had won the first game here 4-1.

Wallace got one in the first for Oshawa, and scored two minutes after the second period had started. Heffernan went in fast to tally on Floyd's rebound to get one back, and early in the third Godfrey teamed up with R. Brown to tie the score. The Petes kept up the pressure for the balance of the final period, and missed several scoring chances. They had an edge in the play in that frame, with Rusaw, Heffernan, Godfrey, Floyd and Garvey all playing fine hockey. Masterson in goal was hard to beat, and turned in a stellar performance.

The teams:

Marine Midgets Hurdle First Playdown

Flashing a dazzling display of team work backed up by superlative goal-tending by Delahaye, Outbord Marines hurdled the first OMHA Midget playdown round Saturday morning when they tied Oshawa 4-4 to win the home and home series 11-6. They had taken the first tilt 8-2 at Peterborough, and expected a rough passage at Oshawa, which they got. The Motor City squad drew 11 penalties, one a ten-minute misconduct to Gurney for fighting and arguing after the decision was given. The third period in particular was the roughest. Corbett, of the Marines was injured and carried off the ice, but a doctor said his injury was slight, although painful.

The Marines had strict instructions to play clean hockey, a theme that Albert Watkins has stressed all winter. They got the jump in the first period with two quick goals, Kearns getting the first, and Corbett and Turner teaming for the second.

McGrath played sensational hockey at centre, scoring on a lone rush, and the defence trio of Byrne, McCormick and McGillen was good. McDougall, Gardner, Frizzelle and Ball all starred, and never quit backchecking the speedy Oshawa crew. Brodie, Zeddic and Fitchett were the pick of the losers.

Marines will meet either Belleville or Kingston in the next round.

The teams:

Outboard Marines: Dalahaye, McGillen, Byrne, Kearns, Frizzelle, McDougall, Turner, Corbett, Ball, McGrath, Gardner, Strickland, McCormick, Holden.

Oshawa: Sione, Dykstra, Johnson, Scero, Fisher, Fitchett, Zeddic, Brodie, Grant, Spiers, Chaszawski, Gurney, O'Reilly, Mallatt.

Scoring summary:

First Period

Marines, Kearns; Turner (Corbett); Oshawa, Gurney.

Penalties—McGillen, Zeddic.

Second Period

Marines, McGrath.

Penalties—Dykstra, McGillen, Johnson, Holden, Spiers, Gurney (misconduct).

Third Period

Marines, McDougall; Oshawa, Brodie, Zeddic (Brodie).

Penalties—Johnson 3, Holden, Fisher, Brodie, Zeddic.

Atkins And Layton Match Promises Fast, Rugged Action

Lord Athol Layton, the impressive British wrestler, will face one of the toughest tests since his arrival on this continent when he opposes Fred Atkins, the oak-ribbed Australian grappler, in the feature wrestling bout in the Brock Arena on Tuesday night. While it will be an acid trial for Layton, Atkins being one of the roughest and, at the same, best wrestlers in the sport, the outcome will have considerable bearing on the future of both principals. Layton's strong, but aggressiveness and Atkins' 'anything-goes" effective tactics, should produce explosive mat action before the finish.

Timothy Geohagen, the powerful Irish strongman will meet Lee Henning, the punishing Iowan, in the semi-final. Sonny Kurgis, who made such a good impression here last week, will tackle Kaye Bell in the first bout.

Leafs Dump Boston 6-2 As Wings Bow To Rangers

By STEWART NEBBS
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The 1950-1951 National Hockey League schedule is rapidly drawing to a close, but the scramble for top place and for playoff spots continues unabated as the weekend games left the standing unchanged.

Toronto and Detroit are battling it out for first place and the Leafs gained ground on the league-leading Wings during the weekend dumping Boston 6-2 on Saturday. The Wings dropped a Sunday night game to the Rangers by a similar score.

Meanwhile, the scramble for the fourth and last playoff spot goes on.

Boston shaded the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 Sunday and now hold a one-point margin over the fourth-place Rangers. Montreal Canadiens, battling for a playoff spot, dumped the Rangers at Montreal by a 6-2 count Saturday and now have 50 points, two less than the Rangers and three down on the Bruins.

In Hopeless Position

Chicago, with but 36 points to show for the 58 games played to date, are hopelessly bogged in the league cellar.

At New York Sunday, the Rangers had built up a 5-0 lead over a disorganized Detroit squad before the Wings scored twice in the third period.

Little Buddy O'Connor paced the onslaught by scoring two goals. Eddie Kullman started the New York scoring parade early in the opening period and O'Connor brought the count to 2-0 before the period ended.

In the middle session, Reg Sinclair and Ed Slowinski made the score 4-0 while Pat Egan put the Rangers five up early in the third.

Vic Stasiuk broke the ice for Detroit but O'Connor came back with his second goal. Ted Lindsay sank Detroit's second marker near the end of the game.

Come From Behind

At Chicago, the Bruins had to come from behind to earn their victory.

Johnny Pierson, Bill Ezinicki and Max Quackenbush scored for the Bruins with veteran Milt Schmidt setting up all three goals.

A pair of goals by Bill Mosienko gave the Chicago team a 2-1 lead at the end of the second period after Pierson had counted for Boston in the opener. Ezinicki and Quackenbush scored in the third period.

In Saturday night's game, the Canadiens broke into one of their rare scoring rashes in the 6-2 victory over New York. Maurice Richard added to his scoring laurels with a pair of goals, boosting his season total to 36, starting him on his reported bonus of $100 a goal after 35. He also got two assists.

Other Canadiens scoring were Bert Olmstead with two and Elmer Lach and Kenny Mosdell with one apiece. Ranger goals were scored by Allan Stanley and Nick Mickoski.

In the Toronto-Boston Saturday night game the score was the same. Bill Barilko led the Leafs with two goals while Cal Gardner, Harry Watson, Tod Sloan and Flem Mackell goth the others. Loren Ferguson and Ed Sandford scored for the Bruins.

Cobourg Wins Lakeshore Title

COBOURG, Feb. 26.—Cobourg Pavs took the fifth and final game of the Lakeshore Hockey League best-in-five Intermediate A playoffs series here Saturday night, whipping Port Hope 7-2.

The biggest crowd ever in a rink in this district attended, with 2,572 paid. Several hundred were turned away, not even standing room being left at game time.

Cliff Maundrell and Bus Cane were the Pavs' scoring leaders, Cane getting two goals and an assist and Maundrell the same credits.

Wilcox, the second line star, scored one of the best goals of the season when he soloed end to end through the Port Hope team. Buchanan and Ferguson grabbed single goals.

Casey counted one Port Hope marker in the second and Hessin got the other in the third.

Clean most of the way, only one minor fight marked the tension between the bitter rivals, Port Jerry Forester and McMillan of the Pavs squaring off.

TCS Firsts Wallop Kappa Alphas 9-6

PORT HOPE, Feb. 26.—Trinity College School Firsts collected a 9-6 decision over Kappa Alpha Fraternity of the University of Toronto here Saturday in an exhibition hockey match.

TCS scored five goals in the last six minutes of the third period to win. They were trailing 6-4 at the 14-minute mark of the third period.

Jim MasGregor scored three goals for TCS, while Bob McDerment and Gord Currie had two each. Best for Kappa Alpha were Don Fullerton, former captain of the TCS hockey team, Gord Payne and Tom Lawson.

Playoffs March 3

TORONTO, Feb. 26 — (CP).—Round-robin playoffs among the three top clubs in the major series of the Ontario Hockey Association will start March 3, it was announced Saturday. Each team will play each of the others twice and the two top teams then will clash in a best-of-seven playoff for the major series title.

Tin Miners Don't Get Pimples

Because Cornish tin miners appeared to avoid skin blemishes, British chemists suggested the use of tin in treating Boils, Acne, Pimples.

Now convenient, tasteless tablets containing 42.5% metallic tin are available under the brand name "Tinoxid". Rapid, satisfactory results are claimed for this inexpensive treatment.

Tinoxid Tablets are sold without prescription at all drug stores, 75c.

Pope Pius Sets Many Records During Office

By FRANK BRUTTO

ROME, Feb. 26 —(AP)— Pope Pius XII, who March 2 celebrates his 75th birthday and the 12th anniversary of his Pontificate as the "Pope of Peace," has established many records.

But the one for which he may be most remembered years hence is this:

He has met more people than any Pontiff thus far in the nearly 2,000 years of the Roman Catholic Church.

Pope Pius has met millions—rulers and masses—in private and special audiences and in the greatest general audiences ever held by a Pontiff.

Nearly all the 4,000,000 Holy Year pilgrims who came to Rome last year were received in general, special or private audiences. Several times St. Peter's Basilica, the world's biggest church, was unable to hold the throngs and the Pope, carried on his portable throne, passed through the square to bless them.

During August and September at his Castel Gandolof summer residence, an impromptu audience developed into a regular five-day weekly event.

Appeared Daily

Sometimes the Pontiff appeared three times daily on the little Castel Gandolfo balcony, and it was here that his uncommon touch with the common man was most humanly shown.

"Excuse me," he said one day, "if I made you wait a little."

During the Holy Year, it is estimated that the Pontiff gave about 1,500 hours to more than 6,000 audiences of all kinds and spoke to them on subjects that ranged from philosophy to tobacco.

The Holy Year brought to a focus all the problems of a pontificate that has been one of the most arduous in the Church's history.

The day it began, March 2, 1939, war clouds shadowed the world. When war came the Pope turned his attention to alleviating the suffering of its victims. He organized relief and an information service for prisoners of war.

Meanwhile, the fight grew between the Church and materialistic Communism. The end of the war, leaving 50,000,000 Roman Catholics under Communist influence, emphasized it.

Urges Reforms

In his many speeches to representatives of governments and groups from all walks of life, the Pontiff urged social reforms as a necessary means of turning aside the threat of Communism.

The Holy Year, meanwhile, progressed to its most important ceremony: The announcement Nov. 1 of the dogma of the assumption into heaven, body and soul, of the Virgin Mary.

It was the first time that a dogma was proclaimed in St. Peter's Square, and the first in nearly 100 years proclaimed by a pontiff.

Thank Westwood WI For Decorating Hall

At the Westwood Women's Institute meeting Thursday it was decided to hold a hobby handicraft display at the April meeting, and to enter the quilt competition at the same meeting. A letter from the township Reeve and the members of the Community Centre Board thanked the Institute for its work in decorating the new addition to the hall.

During the program Mrs. Faux read a paper on the motto, "May this day and all the days of the New Year bring to you and to all those who are dear to you, the sunshine of happiness." Mrs. Thompson won Mrs. Post's tree contest, and current events of interest were given by Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. F. Neilson spoke on community activities and Canadian industries.

A committee of women, Mrs. H. Neilson, Mrs. Pulfer and Mrs. I. Graham were appointed to arrange for a bingo party to be held on Friday, March 9.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Wilson, and Mrs. Morris. Mrs. Post president, had charge of the meeting.

8 New Squatters

HAMBURG, Germany, Feb. 26 (AP)—Eight new squatters on forbidden Helgoland appealed Sunday for reinforcements to "prevent the island being used or destroyed to prepare for a new war." The eight "occupied" the island Friday and hoisted the flags of West Germany, East Germany and Helgoland. The island, a Nazi naval bastion during the Second World War, was cleared by Britain, which has been using it as a bombing rage.

To Get Honorary Degree

KINGSTON, Feb. 26 (CP)—Dr. Reginald Trotter, head of the Department of History, Queen's University, has been named one of three Canadian professors who will receive honorary degrees during the 500th anniversary celebration of Glasgow University next June.

Three Million Pilgrims

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church's 1950 Holy Year brought 3,100,000 pilgrims to Rome. Seven came from behind the Iron Curtain. Of the others, 97.3 per cent came from Europe, and 2.3 per cent from North America.
